

2005-2006 Calendar Update

June 2005

CHANGES

Anthropology

ANT440Y1 should be ANT440HI

East Asian Studies

EAS347HI title and description change:

EAS347HI Everyday Life in Modern Japan 26L

The history of modern Japan around the problem of "everyday life" and its relationship to capitalism. Using a range of literary, philosophical, economic and ethnographic materials that deal with the development of capitalism in Japan, as well as Japanese colonialism, imperialism and fascism, explores ways to specify and critique what is called "everyday life".

Recommended preparation: EAS247HI/281HI/Y1

EAS470Y1 should be EAS477Y1

East Asian Studies Major program requirements, #3, should read:

3. Three full EAS society-culture courses, one of which may be a non-EAS course as listed on the departmental website; one course must be at the 300/400-level. (total of 3 credits)

History

HIS492HI should be HIS492Y1

Human Biology

Life Science Major program requirements, First Year, #2, should read:

2. 1.0 FCE from: JMB170Y1; MAT135Y1/MAT137Y1/MAT157Y1; PHY110Y1/PHY138Y1/PHY140Y1; PSY100Y1; VIC 170Y1/171Y1

Physics

Note under "200-SERIES COURSES" should read:

Note

All 200-series PHY courses except PHY201HI and PHY205HI require a 100-series MAT prerequisite. See co-requisite entries under 100-series PHY courses above.

Political Science

POL215Y1 title change to "Politics and Transformation of the Asia-Pacific"

POL342Y1 should be POL342HI

POL349Y1 title change to "Globalization and Urban Politics"

POL414HI title change to "Nationalism, Identity and Politics in Ukraine and the Post-Soviet Space"

POL450Y1 should be POL450HI

UPDATE TO RULES AND REGULATIONS

This change replaces the section on "Courses of Other Campuses" under "Taking Courses Outside the Faculty".

Courses at UTSC and UTM

Students registered on the St. George campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science may enrol in most courses offered by UTM and UTSC, provided that they meet the enrolment controls and prerequisites established by those divisions. These courses count towards the 20 credits required for a St. George degree and are included in the CGPA. These courses may also count towards St. George program requirements; students should check with their program office before enrolling.

However, there are some courses offered by UTM and UTSC that may not be counted towards St. George degree credit or the CGPA. A full list of these courses is posted on the Arts and Science web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/ofr/calendar/utmutsc.htm.

A student who wishes to enrol in one of these courses should petition through his/her College Registrar's office. If the petition is granted the student will be permitted to enrol in the course but it will be marked as "EXTRA" on the transcript and will not be counted for degree purposes nor included in the CGPA calculation.

NEW COURSES

Geography

JG1454HI	The Role of the Planner: Making a Difference	26L
----------	--	-----

This course will introduce students to the contemporary history of urban and regional planning in the Toronto region, giving considerable attention to the social and cultural context in which this planning took place. Although the focus will be on the Toronto region, the course will also include discussion of certain aspects of the international history of planning that have particular local relevance -- such as the origins of suburban neighbourhood design, modernism and its rejection, the "freeway revolt", gentrification, and others.

Prerequisite: 15 credits

Recommended preparation: 5.0 GGR credits

This is a Social Science course

History

HIS319HI	Renaissance France and the Wars of Religion, 1483-1610	26L
----------	--	-----

Considers the expansion of the French state at the close of the 100 Years War, cultural and social change during the Renaissance, religious change and the Protestant Reformation, the emergence of religious conflict and the Wars of Religion. A range of primary sources and historiographical perspectives will be considered.

Prerequisite: HIS243HI/309HI/388HI/443HI or permission of instructor

Innis College

INI333HI	Ecological Worldviews	26S
----------	-----------------------	-----

Approaches to environmental concerns are often marked by assumptions that reflect distinct worldviews positing particular understandings of the role of the human with respect to nature. This course explores sundry economic, political, scientific, religious, and moral worldviews pertaining to the environment, including environmental ethics, Gaia, ecofeminism, scientific cosmology, and aboriginal perspectives.

Prerequisite: JJE 222Y1 or permission of Program Counsellor

Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations

NMC220HI	Elementary Coptic I	26L
----------	---------------------	-----

Introduces the student to the last stage of the Egyptian language, written mostly in Greek characters. The course will first concentrate on the grammar of the language and go on to read short texts.

NMC430HI	Advanced Biblical Hebrew	26L
----------	--------------------------	-----

Advanced Biblical Hebrew language.

Exclusion: NMC430Y1

Prerequisite: At least 2 years of Biblical Hebrew; permission of instructor

NMC442HI	Modern Persian Poetry	26L
----------	-----------------------	-----

A survey of modern Persian poetry using connected passages of Persian texts.

Prerequisite: NMC340Y1 or adequate reading knowledge

NMC443HI	Modern Persian Prose	26L
----------	----------------------	-----

A survey of modern Persian prose using connected passages of Persian texts.

Prerequisite: NMC340Y1 or adequate reading knowledge

Office of the Faculty
Registrar