FACULTY OF ARTS & SCIENCE

2008-2009 Calendar

Message from the Interim Dean

Welcome to the 2008-2009 academic year.

This Calendar is your guide to the wide range of academic choices available to you as a student in the Faculty of Arts & Science. With more than 2,000 courses in some 300 programs, the number and variety of options is unparalleled in Canada.

While such choice is exciting, it can also be a little intimidating trying to decide which courses to take. There are many people who work in Arts & Science whose job it is to answer your questions and assist you in getting the most out of your university experience. Your college registrar's office is your first stop for assistance, including advice about course selection, degree requirements and so on. I encourage you to take advantage of these services, whether you are at the beginning, middle or end of your university career.

The Faculty of Arts & Science is firmly committed to a top quality experience for our students. We value your feedback on all aspects of your student life. Let us know how you feel your courses and professors measure up by completing the Arts & Science Students' Union course evaluations. Pass along suggestions to your college registrar's office about ways in which services could be improved or drop a note in the Faculty of Arts & Science Registrar's office suggestion box. Take part in campus surveys measuring student satisfaction. Give us your feedback and ideas about this Calendar and our services in general by emailing ask@artsci.utoronto.ca. Or you might even decide to join fellow students on the Faculty Council—Arts & Science's main decision-making body. Through your engagement, we can ensure Arts & Science students get the educational experience they deserve.

With best wishes for a great academic year,

Meric Gertler, FRSC
Interim Dean

Important Notices

The undergraduate academic Calendar of the Faculty of Arts & Science is published in both online and printed editions. Every effort has been made to ensure the compatibility of both versions. In the case of any discrepancy, the online version shall apply. Any post-publication corrections and/or updates to the print edition of this Calendar will be posted on the Faculty Registrar's web site at <http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current>. Students are strongly advised to check back regularly to keep informed of changes.

While Departmental counsellors and the Registrars of the Colleges are always available to give advice and guidance, it must be clearly understood that THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with prerequisite, co-requisite requirements, etc., for completion of Program details, for proper observance of the Distribution Requirement and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc.

Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt; misunderstanding, or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, program or degree requirement.

Degrees Offered on the St. George Campus

Effective for students registering in a degree program in the Faculty for the first time in the 2001 summer session or later, the St. George Campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science has discontinued the 15-course (three-year) B.A. and B.Sc. degrees; ONLY 20-course (four-year) Honours B.A., B.Sc. and B.Com degrees will be available. Students registered in a degree program in the Faculty before the 2001 summer session may still choose a 15-course (three-year) degree.

Changes in Programs of Study and/or Courses

The programs of study that our Calendar lists and describes are available for the year(s) to which the calendar applies. They may not necessarily be available in later years. If the University or the Faculty must change the content of programs of study or withdraw them, all reasonable possible advance notice and alternative instruction will be given. The University will not, however, be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such changes might cause.

For each program of study offered by the University through the Faculty, the courses necessary to complete the minimum requirements of the program will be made available annually. We must, however, reserve the right otherwise to change the content of courses, instructors and instructional assignments, enrolment limitations, pre-requisites and co-requisites, grading policies, requirements for promotion and timetables without prior notice.

Regulations and Policies

As members of the University of Toronto community, students assume certain responsibilities and are guaranteed certain rights and freedoms.

The University has several policies that are approved by the Governing Council and that apply to all students. Each student must become familiar with the policies. The University will assume that he or she has done so. The rules and regulations of the Faculty are listed in this calendar. In applying to the Faculty, the student assumes certain responsibilities to the University and the Faculty and, if admitted and registered, shall be subject to all rules, regulations and policies cited in the Calendar, as amended from time to time.

All University policies can be found at www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies.htm. Some policies or portions of policies are published in the "Rules and Regulations" section of this Calendar. Those which are of particular importance to students are: the Policy on Access to Student Academic Records; the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters; the Code of Student Conduct; the Grading Practices Policy; and the Policy on Official Correspondence with Students.

More information about students' rights and responsibilities can be found at www.students.utoronto.ca/The\_Basics/Rights\_and\_Rules.htm.

Enrolment Limitations

The University makes every reasonable effort to plan and control enrolment to ensure that all of our students are qualified to complete the programs to which they are admitted, and to strike a practicable balance between enrolment and available instructional resources. Sometimes such a balance cannot be struck and the number of qualified students exceeds the instructional resources that we can reasonably make available while at the same time maintaining the quality of instruction. In such cases, we must reserve the right to limit enrolment in the programs, courses, or sections listed in the calendar, and to withdraw courses or sections for which enrolment or resources are insufficient. The University will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such limitations or withdrawals might cause.

Copyright in Instructional Settings

If a student wishes to tape-record, photograph, video-record or otherwise reproduce lecture presentations, course notes or other similar materials provided by instructors, he or she must obtain the instructor's written consent beforehand. Otherwise all such reproduction is an infringement of copyright and is absolutely prohibited. In the case of private use by students with disabilities, the instructor's consent will not be unreasonably withheld.

Person I.D. (Student Number)

Each student at the University is assigned a unique identification number. The number is confidential. The University, through the Policy on Access to Student Academic Records, strictly controls access to Person I.D. numbers. The University assumes and expects that students will protect the confidentiality of their Person I.D.'s.

Fees and Other Charges

The University reserves the right to alter the fees and other charges described in the Calendar.

Notice of Collection concerning Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

The University of Toronto respects your privacy. Personal information that you provide to the University is collected pursuant to section 2(14) of the University of Toronto Act, 1971. It is collected for the purpose of administering admission, registration, academic programs, university-related student activities, activities of student societies, financial assistance and awards, graduation and university advancement, and for the purpose of statistical reporting to government agencies. At all times it will be protected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

If you have questions, please refer to www.utoronto.ca/privacy or contact the University Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Coordinator at 416 946-7303, McMurrich Building, room 201, 12 Queen's Park Crescent West, Toronto, ON, M5S 1A8.

An expanded version of this Notice can be found at www.fippa.utoronto.ca/policy/nocx.htm.

Registration

Details of the procedures by which students of the Faculty of Arts and Science register and enrol in courses for which they are eligible, and pay or make arrangements to pay fees, are found in the Registration Handbook and Timetable, which students receive from their college. (Any student allowed to register one day after the end of the first week of classes is charged a late fee.)

Passed Courses May Not Be Repeated

Students may not repeat any course in which they have already obtained a mark of 50% or higher. The only exceptions occur when students require a course with a specific grade for entry to a limited-enrolment Program. Students may repeat such a course only once as an "extra" course, which will have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average. There are no supplemental examinations or provisions to "upgrade" a mark. All courses taken, except those officially cancelled, remain on the record.

Degree Courses and "Extra" Courses: Chronological Principle

Courses are credited towards a degree chronologically. For example, if a student has already passed six 100-series courses and then enrolls in further 100-series courses, the more recent courses are counted as "Extra" courses. An exception occurs when a student who has completed 5.5 100-series courses enrolls in a full course at the 100-level in a subsequent session; the most recently taken half-course becomes "extra."

Minimum Admission Requirements for Applicants from Ontario Secondary Schools

Applicants must be eligible to receive the Ontario Secondary School Diploma, present six Grade 12 U or M courses including ENG4U/EAE4U, and meet any prerequisites for their intended program of study.

Minimum Admission Requirements for Applicants from Outside Ontario Secondary Schools

The Faculty of Arts and Science is home to a rich and varied student body. Although most of our students are from Southern Ontario, we have students from every province of Canada and from over 90 foreign countries. We encourage application by qualified students from outside Ontario. Applicants must present a satisfactory academic record from recognized academic institutions and meet the requirements listed in the International Undergraduate Admissions Bulletin, available for download from the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm. The specific average or standing required for admission varies from year to year.

Canadian Students

Applicants from the Province of Quebec must present twelve academic C.E.G.E.P. courses including two terms of English/anglais. Applicants from all other provinces and territories in Canada must present grade 12 matriculation. For detailed information, check the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

American Students

Applicants from the United States must present Grade 12 matriculation and present good scores in SAT Reasoning or ACT examinations. Students must present the Writing Test. Applicants must also present at least three SAT Subject Test scores or AP scores in subjects appropriate to their proposed area of study. Those seeking admission to science or business/commerce programs are strongly advised to complete AP Calculus AB or BC or IB Mathematics. For detailed information, check the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

Other Applicants

Information on admission requirements for international applicants is available on the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

All Applicants from Outside the Ontario School System

In addition to meeting the Faculty of Arts and Science admission requirements, students intending to enrol in Commerce, Economics or Science programs must have completed, or must take, a full credit secondary school course or equivalent in Calculus which covers the geometric notion of a limit, the differentiation and integration of elementary functions and provides them with a geometric grasp of differentiation and integration in place of Grade 12 Calculus.

Please note that Commerce and Computer Science require a second math. As of 2008, Life Science and Physical and Mathematical Science will also require a second math.

For further information on acceptable mathematics courses or equivalents, please contact the Department offering the program in which you intend to enrol.

The Faculty of Arts and Science offers a special first-year calculus course entitled MAT 136Y - Calculus and its Foundations, limited to students from outside of Ontario interested in the biological, physical, commerce or computer sciences and commerce and whose high school mathematics preparation is strong but does not include calculus. For more information, consult the Mathematics listing starting on page 327 of this Calendar for a full course description as well as the Registration Handbook and Timetable.

PUMP (Preparing for University Math Program)

PUMP is a non-credit, intensive course specially designed to prepare students for entry-level mathematics courses, like calculus and linear algebra. It is designed primarily for students from outside Ontario who require additional pre-university mathematics background. The course costs $600.00 (subject to change). For more information, see the web site at www.math.utoronto.ca/pump.

English Facility Requirement

Applicants whose first language (language learned at home as a child) is not English may have to present proof of English facility. For details, see the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

Other Admission Categories

Admission with Transfer Credit

Candidates with acceptable standing at other universities, or at other divisions of this University, may be considered for admission with transfer credit provided that the content of the studies for which credit is sought is considered appropriate for inclusion in a degree program offered by the Faculty. Transfer credits are assessed after admission once the student has completed the online application and paid the assessment fee. Students who have completed a bachelor's degree: see section entitled "Admission of External Students to a Second Degree Program" in the next column. The Faculty grants up to a maximum of five credits to candidates who have completed a three-year diploma at Ontario Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology/Institutes of Technology and Advanced Learning, and a maximum of two generic credits to candidates who have completed a two-year diploma at Ontario Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology/Institutes of Technology and Advanced Learning. Otherwise a maximum of ten transfer credits may be granted. Students who have completed post-secondary studies are required to apply for on-admission transfer credit.

Regardless of the number of transfer credits granted, at least five of the six 300+ series courses required for an Honours degree must be completed with a passing mark in this Faculty. Newly admitted students have one year from the date of their transfer credit assessment, or from the date of their first registration in the Faculty, whichever is later, to request a reassessment or adjustment. The same time limit applies to all departmental interviews.

Candidates who have completed Arts & Science courses while enrolled in other Divisions of this university or while enrolled as non-degree students in this Faculty prior to degree studies will have these courses and grades included in the academic record.

Admission from the University of Toronto Mississauga and the University of Toronto Scarborough

Candidates admitted for transfer from the University of Toronto Mississauga and the University of Toronto Scarborough will have all University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough courses and grades included in their Arts & Science academic record, and will have Faculty rules and regulations applied to these; e.g., academic status, degree regulations, Dean's List. Note: a limit of six 100-level/A-level credits is applied. All 300+ level credits may apply to the 6.0 requirement for the degree in the Faculty of Arts & Science. Students admitted to Arts & Science may not retain University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough subject POSTs, whether complete or incomplete. Only Arts & Science subject POSTs may be used to complete degree requirements in the Faculty.

Admission Restricted to "Part-Time"

Students restricted to a reduced course load on admission may take no more than 2.5 courses over the Fall-Winter Sessions. They may take a maximum of 1.0 course in the Summer Session. If these students wish to transfer to full-time studies, they may apply through their College Registrar after the session in which they pass at least 4 courses in the Faculty with a minimum cumulative Grade Point Average of 2.50. (Transfer credits are not counted.) See also Number of Courses Taken ("Course Load").

Admission "On Probation"

Candidates who fail to satisfy the Faculty's admission requirements, but successfully appeal for special consideration of the circumstances which have affected their studies at other universities, or other Faculties or Schools of this University including the University of Toronto Scarborough and the University of Toronto Mississauga, may be admitted On Probation. The academic requirements that such students must meet are the same as those required of students who encounter academic difficulties while registered in the Faculty. The academic status will remain, "On Probation", until the session in which the student attempts his/her fourth course, at which time a further status will be assigned. Students who are admitted on probation and who have retained credits from previous courses in this Faculty will have the total number of retained credits and grades included in the four course attempts. Refer to Section Six, Rules and Regulations: Academic Status, in this Calendar. Students may be at risk of academic suspension from the Faculty and are strongly urged to consult their college registrar for appropriate counselling before registering and if necessary, during the course of their studies.

Admission as a Non-Degree Student

Non-degree students are registered in the Faculty but are not proceeding towards a degree offered by the Faculty. Most Non-degree students have completed a degree and are taking further courses for their own purposes, including admission to graduate studies. Students admitted as degree students cannot become Non-degree students unless they have completed an Honours or Four Year degree, or are returning to the Faculty as Non-degree students on a Letter of Permission from another institution. To apply for admission as a Non-degree student, download the application from the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm (click "Applications/Deadlines").

Admission of External Students to a Second Degree Program

Applicants with a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science or equivalent from another university who wish to complete a second undergraduate degree in the Faculty of Arts and Science may apply for admission to a second degree program. Before applying, external candidates are urged to determine whether a second degree is actually required for their purposes; for example, a "make-up" year as a non-degree student may satisfy admission requirements for a graduate program. The Faculty grants a maximum of five transfer credits—four at the 100 level and one at the 200 level. It is not possible to complete a second undergraduate degree in the same field as the first degree. Students who have completed post-secondary studies are required to apply for on-admission transfer credit. To apply, check the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm (click "Applications/Deadlines").

Admission as Non-Degree Visiting Students

Students with valid Letters of Permission from other accredited North American universities who have not been officially admitted to the Faculty of Arts and Science may register as visiting students at Woodsworth College, taking courses for transfer credit at their own home university. Non-degree visiting student registration does not imply acceptance as either a student proceeding towards a degree or a Non-degree student. Students will receive grade point averages and status as outlined in Section 6. Students must observe Faculty policies, including the prohibition on repeating a “passed” course. For application information and deadlines, check www.wdw.utoronto.ca/visit or contact Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9 (416-978-5880).

Students who have transferred to other universities, but wish to return to the Faculty on a Letter of Permission should re-register at their original college as non-degree students.

Admission as International Non-Degree Visiting Summer Students

Students with valid Letters of Permission from recognized International universities who have not been officially admitted to the Faculty of Arts and Science may register as visiting students through the International Summer Program (ISP) at Woodsworth College. Students would take summer courses for transfer credit at their own home university. Non-degree international visiting student registration does not imply acceptance as either a student proceeding towards a degree or a Non-degree student. Students will receive grade point averages and status (see page 496). Students must observe Faculty policies, including the prohibition on repeating a “passed” course. For application information and deadlines, check www.isprogram.utoronto.ca or contact Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9, (416-978-8713).

Admission as Non-Matriculants; Academic Bridging Program

Candidates at least twenty-one years of age who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada and who do not hold the published admission requirements, may apply for admission as non-matriculants. They must present proof of age, and must complete, with high standing, at least one of the Academic Bridging courses offered by Woodsworth College. All candidates should consult Admissions and Awards concerning their eligibility to qualify as a non-matriculant through the Academic Bridging Program. Information on the Academic Bridging Program is provided on page 53 of this Calendar. Further information is also available at www.wdw.utoronto.ca or by contacting Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9 (416-978-7487; email academic.bridging@utoronto.ca).

Admission of Senior Citizens

Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada who are at least sixty-five years of age by the first day of the term, may register in the Faculty at Woodsworth Colleges as part-time Special Students. They do not have to meet the academic requirements for admission. Applicants should contact Woodsworth College at 416-978-4444 for admission and tuition fee information.

Re-Registration in the Faculty

Students previously registered as degree or non-degree students in this Faculty who wish to return after an absence must submit a "Request for Re-registration Form" (charge $24) through their college registrar's office. Re-registration is necessary for students who have not registered in this Faculty within the previous 12 months.

Students with outstanding accounts may not re-register at the University until these accounts are paid. See page 490 for payment deadlines.

"Request for Re-Registration" forms should be submitted at least one week prior to the fall/winter enrolment window for your year of study (see the Registration Handbook & Timetable for details). Prior to course selection you will need to make sure you are enrolled in an appropriate combination of Subject POSTs (programs of study) for your degree. It is advisable for you to make arrangements to see a counsellor at your college to go over changes in policies and procedures as well as to clarify the degree requirements you are following.

"Request for Re-Registration" forms can be accepted until mid-August for Fall/Winter enrolment although space in courses will be limited at this point.

Students who previously studied as non-degree visiting students do not request re-registration. They must submit a new visiting student application and valid letter of permission through Woodsworth College (see "Admission as Non-Degree Visiting Students" in the previous column for details).

Admission to Other University of Toronto Faculties/Programs

Many professional studies require completion of one or more years of study in Arts and Science before you apply to them. For detailed admission and contact information on professional studies, please refer to www.artsci.utoronto.ca/prospective/programsofstudy/professprogs.

Academic & Personal Counselling

The Colleges

Every Arts and Science student is a member of a college. Think of your college as a familiar neighbourhood within the university. All the colleges provide advising and support services for students. Academic advising, as well as counselling on financial and personal matters, is available through your college registrar's office. Also, each college provides its students with academic support services such as writing skill centres, math aid centres, libraries and computer facilities. And remember, no matter which college you belong to, you have access to all the courses and programs offered in Arts and Science.

The Registrar's Office of each student's college is the focal point for information and advice of all kinds, and should be consulted as soon as any problems of an academic or personal nature are encountered.

Most of the Colleges offer academic support services, such as Writing Laboratories to provide students with assistance in writing assignments, essays and reports; Mathematics Aid Centres; tutorial services; etc. For further information, see the individual College listings (see page 494) or consult the College Registrar.

Students with problems relating to the teaching of courses (lectures, tutorials, evaluation, work-load, etc.) that they cannot resolve with the instructors concerned, can obtain advice and assistance either from the Undergraduate Secretary of the particular Department, or from their College Registrar.

The Departments and College Program offices should be consulted for advice on courses and programs they sponsor. They also have brochures giving more details of courses and programs than is possible in the Calendar. First-year students are particularly urged to consult program sponsors during the Fall-Winter Session for details on enrolling in programs. (All students must enrol in at least one Specialist or Major or two Minor program(s) upon passing four courses.)

Students registered in Divisions other than Arts and Science who have problems with Arts and Science courses should go for advice either to the departmental Undergraduate Secretary or to the registrar of their own Faculty or School.

Office of the Faculty Registrar

The Office of the Faculty Registrar works closely with departments and colleges concerning virtually all matters relating to Arts and Science students: it coordinates counselling, registration and enrolment, student records, transfer credit, petitions, final examinations and graduation. The Office of the Faculty Registrar, located in Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street, Room 1006, can provide general information about registration and enrolment, course listings, building and classroom locations, etc. It is also the location of the University of Toronto Transcript Centre, which produces transcripts for all divisions of the University.

University Commitment

The University's statement of institutional purpose states: "The University of Toronto is dedicated to fostering an academic community in which the learning and scholarship of every member may flourish with vigilant protection for individual human rights, and a resolute commitment to the principles of equal opportunity." The University's "Statement of Commitment Regarding Persons with Disabilities" is part of the UofT Ontarians with Disabilities Act Plan 2004-05 and can be found at www.accessibility.utoronto.ca.

Faculty and staff carry a responsibility for creating and maintaining a community that is inclusive of all persons and treats all members of the community in an equitable fashion, responding appropriately to requests for accommodation of a disability per the Ontario Human Rights Code "Guidelines on Accessible Education" (2004) <http://www.ohrc.on.ca/english/consultations/ed-consultation-report.shtml>.

Responsibilities of Students who have Disabilities

Students who request accommodations for their academic programs and related activities at the University are obligated to disclose their disabilities to the respective campus Service for Students with Disabilities, and request accommodations in a timely manner to facilitate the implementation of support and services. It is important that students discuss their needs as early as possible with the Service in order to put accommodations in place. Students must present relevant and up-to-date documentation, as outlined on our website, from an appropriate health care professional. Any information about a student's disability is confidential and is not shared outside the Service unless the student gives permission. Students are encouraged to meet and discuss their academic accommodation needs with their instructors.

Support Services for Students

There are offices on all three UofT campuses that work to facilitate the inclusion of students with disabilities into all aspects of university life. The focus is on skills development, especially in areas of self-advocacy and academic skills. Services are provided to students who have a physical, sensory, or learning disability, mental health disability, acquired brain injury or chronic health condition (e.g. epilepsy, cancer, bowel disease) as well as students who have temporary disabilities such as a broken arm.

The Service provides a wide range of support, including:

- Accommodation advice
- Assessments (e.g. learning disability, adaptive technology)
- adaptive equipment
- learning strategy support
- test and examination accommodations
- note taking services
- sign language interpreters; computer note-taking
- scribes; attendant care
- advice and information on disability issues
- liaison with university faculty and staff and off-campus agencies
- campus transportation

To access the Service, students make an appointment to meet with a Disability Advisor to discuss individual needs, appropriate accommodations, and strategies for academic success. There is a Bursary for Students with a Disability (BSWD) for students who have applied and established eligibility for OSAP. The BSWD assists student with disability related educational costs while attending post-secondary institutions. University alternate bursaries are also available for eligible students

Career Centre Services

Koffler Student Services Centre, 214 College Street

Counselling & Learning Skills Service

Personal Counselling

Personal Counsellors help students with a broad range of issues such as adjusting to university life, anxiety, depression, anxiety, relationship problems, sex and gender concerns, prolonged stress, and other personal difficulties. Attend a confidential initial consultation to determine what CALSS has to offer. Check our website or call for information about the daily walk-in times.

Assault Counselling and Education

Specialized counselling is provided to students who have experienced sexual assault, harassment, or physical or psychological abuse in a relationship. Call the Assault Counsellor directly at 416-978-0174 for an appointment. Workshops are also provided on healthy relationships and verbal self-defence skills for women.

Learning Skills & Academic Success Centre

Lectures, workshops and individual consultations are offered on the reading of course material; exam preparation; coping with writer's blocks & writing/exam anxiety; note taking; procrastination; motivation, concentration; memory strategies; time management; writing theses and comprehensive exams and other aspects of study.

Our Academic Success Centre (ASC) offers students the opportunity to walk-in for assistance in developing strategies for improving academic performance. Visit our website for walk-in hours, for information on booking individual appointments as well as dates and times of workshops and lectures. If your concerns involve academic difficulties then the learning skills program has many lectures on various aspects of study. Individual appointments for assistance with study problems can be arranged with our learning skills counsellors by calling CALSS reception. Check our website to see the variety of workshops are offered throughout the year.

Many students balance family obligations with their studies. The University of Toronto is committed to fostering a family-friendly learning environment. The Family Care Office is a service that provides information, guidance, referrals, educational programming, and advocacy for the University of Toronto community. Our office embraces an inclusive definition of family, and can assist students who require information on child care (facilities, programs, or subsidies), elder care, and other family matters. Additional services include family events, discussion and support groups, such as our Student Parents Group, Fathers' Group, etc. We also offer many workshops including "Choosing Child Care that Works for Your Family" and "Financial Survival for Student Families". The Family Care Office maintains a resource centre containing practical material on family issues ranging from pregnancy and infant care to lesbian and gay parenting and caring for elderly family members. The resource centre also contains information for student families on activities and facilities on campus and in the community. Our services are free and confidential. Please contact us by phone, e-mail, or simply drop-in. The Family Care Office is located in the Koffler Student Services Centre mall, on the northwest corner of College and St. George. Our office hours are Monday to Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m., and we are open late to 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday evenings.

First Nations House: Office of Aboriginal Student Services and Programs

"Leadership, Spiritual Growth & Academic Excellence"

First Nations House is a home away from home for students of Aboriginal ancestry to seek culturally supportive programs and services. Founded in 1992, First Nations House has welcomed the entire university community to participate and learn about Aboriginal people and their culture.

The Aboriginal staff at First Nations House assist all students by covering a wide array of supportive services which include: academic/financial aid counselling, personal counselling, scholarships and grants, Elders teachings, cultural events, Writer-in-Residence, tutoring, and community information/referral services. Students can also use the computer lab, photocopier, fax machine, study areas, lounge, library, and kitchen. The Native Students Association is also located at First Nations House.

<http://www.studentservices.utoronto.ca/fyi>

The First-Year Initiative Program is your front door to Student Services. FYI helps first-year students make a smooth transition into university through teaching effective study and learning skills, and providing workshops designed for first-year students on a variety of career, personal and psychological, housing, parenting, health, international and Aboriginal issues. A personalized web site is available to first-year students and provides a number of resources as well as discussion forums.

Health Service

Health Service offers U of T students the same services as a family doctor's office, and more. We provide confidential, student-centred health care including comprehensive medical care, travel education, immunization, counselling, and referrals. The multidisciplinary team includes family physicians, registered nurses, a health promotion coordinator, peer health educators, a community health coordinator and a lab technician.

Comprehensive sexual health care and counselling are available, and prescriptions and contraceptive products can be purchased at a reduced cost. Emergency contraception, pregnancy testing, pregnancy support as well as sexually transmitted infection testing, treatment, and education is also available. When you visit Health Service, bring your OHIP or UHIP card, or health card from another province, and your student card.

Health Service is located in the Koffler Student Services Centre at 214 College Street, Second Floor. To book an appointment, call 416-978-8030. Registered users can also book appointments online. If you feel you need to be seen more urgently, there is also a drop-in option. For hours and other information, please visit the Health Service Web site at www.utoronto.ca/health.

International Student Centre

At the International Student Centre (ISC) all students are welcome to take part in social and cultural programs with an international focus, or just take a break from the pressures of busy studies. ISC also offers special services to international students: pre-arrival information (sent with the admission offer), reception service and orientation events, University Health Insurance Plan (UHIP) registration and information, English language program, Newsletter, personal counselling and advice on non-academic concerns. ISC's Work and Study Abroad resource office, provides general information on opportunities overseas.

The Office of LGBTQ Resources & Programs

The Office of LGBTQ Resources & Programs office works with students, staff and faculty to provide programs, services, training, resources and outreach on issues related to the LGBTQ population at the University of Toronto. The office develops initiatives and programming which support the lives of individuals at the University of Toronto who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or queer, or questioning their sexual orientation or gender identity. Our initiatives also focus on providing a positive learning and work environment for all that is free of discrimination and harassment. Any member of the University community is welcome to contact the office with concerns, complaints, issues or ideas. Services are provided confidentially to anyone experiencing a problem related to heterosexism or homophobia, or who has questions, educational needs or other related concerns.

Office of the University Ombudsperson

As part of the University's commitment to ensuring that the rights of its individual members are protected, the University Ombudsperson investigates complaints from any member of the University not handled through regular University channels. The Ombudsperson offers advice and assistance and can recommend changes in academic or administrative procedures where this seems justified. In handling a complaint, the Ombudsperson has access to all relevant files and information and to all appropriate University officials. The Ombudsperson handles all matters in strict confidence, unless the individual involved approves otherwise. The Ombudsperson is independent of all administrative structures of the University and is accountable only to Governing Council.

The services of the office are available by appointment at all three UofT campuses (for an appointment, please telephone or e-mail us). For additional information, please visit our website at:

Sexual Harassment Office

Sexual harassment is unwanted sexual attention & includes any unwelcome pressure for sexual favours, or any offensive emphasis on the sex or sexual orientation of another person which creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or learning environment. The Sexual Harassment Office deals with complaints under the University's Policy & Procedures: Sexual Harassment. The policy covers complaints of harassment based on sex or sexual orientation, sets out a formal resolution procedure & provides for mediation, counselling & public education. Members of the University may also contact the office on an informal basis for information or assistance in resolving an issue.

Calls to the office, & the complaints procedure itself, are confidential.

You can contact the office just for advice or information: you are not committing yourself to any formal process.

Responsibilities of the Sexual Harassment Office include:

- providing information & advice to all parties regarding sexual harassment complaints;
- acting as a non-partisan mediator in complaints;
- providing referrals to other offices & resources when appropriate;
- initiating & conducting public education activities such as talks, workshops, & the distribution of resource materials.

The University of Toronto Student Housing Service is a year-round source of up-to-date housing information for off-campus, single-student residence, and student family housing.

Our online registry of off-campus housing is available to U of T students, providing listings for both individual and shared accommodations. Students interested in learning more about their housing options are encouraged to contact the Student Housing Service or visit www.housing.utoronto.ca.

Residence

First year Arts & Science students apply for residence by indicating their interest in residence on their application for admission. Do not wait until you have been admitted to apply for residence. For more information on University of Toronto residences visit our housing website at www.housing.utoronto.ca.

The Guarantee

For the 2008-2009 school year, a residence offer will be guaranteed for all full-time students entering their first year of university in an undergraduate program, whether they live outside or inside Toronto, provided they are offered admission by July 1st, and indicated their interest in residence on their application for admission.

If you wish to be considered for residence, but did not indicate your interest on the application form, and have not yet been accepted to the University, contact the Admissions and Awards office as soon as possible - do not wait until you have been admitted. If you have received your admission to the University, but did not indicate that you were interested in residence on your application form, contact the Manager, Residence Communications at res.communications@utoronto.ca or 416.978.8027. The University does not guarantee an offer of residence to students who did not indicate an interest in residence until after they were admitted to U of T, or to those who are new to U of T but with previous university experience, such as transfer students. However, if non-guaranteed students indicate an interest in residence, residence information and application procedures will be sent to them. The University will offer residence to this group of new students only once all students with the guarantee of residence have been accommodated.

Off-Campus Housing

The Student Housing Service maintains a registry of available off-campus housing advertised by private landlords, and by students seeking others to room with them. The registry of housing ads is available to students in the Housing office, as well as on the web. Students search the ads in the registry as they would the classifieds section of a newspaper, and make appointments to view potential units. Students coming to Toronto from outside the area should arrange to stay in temporary housing while conducting their housing search. The Student Housing Service will provide a list of temporary accommodations on request.

Housing in Toronto is usually advertised four to six weeks in advance of the date the unit becomes available for occupancy. If you will be looking for rental housing off-campus, please note that it generally takes one to three weeks to locate suitable accommodation, depending on the type of housing desired and one's budget. At the Student Housing Service, phones are provided free of charge for students to contact landlords. Since the accommodations listed are not inspected, the quality cannot be estimated or guaranteed therefore it is very important for students to meet with the landlord and inspect the premises before entering into any rental agreement.

Student Family Housing

Student Family Housing is available in 713 apartments on the St. George campus. Priority for these unfurnished apartments is given to student families. The term “family” refers to students residing with their dependent children and to childless couples in a permanent relationship.

While many students can be housed within 9 to 18 months of their application, this is only an average and depends on many variables, the most important of which is the supply of vacant apartments in any given month. However, if you are able to move with less than two months’ notice, then the waiting period can be significantly shorter. It is advisable to apply as soon as you are seriously considering attending the University – if possible before being given an offer of admission to the University. For more information, or to apply, contact the Student Family Housing offices or visit the web site.

Cost of Student Housing - Residence, Family Housing, and Off-Campus

As a guideline, in the 2007/2008 school term, the cost of residence with a full meal plan was approximately $7500 to $12,800 for the eight-month academic session. The cost of a shared apartment-style residence with no compulsory meal plan was approximately $5,500 to $5904. Please note, however, that residence fees for the upcoming school year are expected to rise. After paying an initial deposit, the balance of fees is usually paid in two instalments at the beginning of each of the four-month fall and spring terms.

As of September 1, 2007, rent for the bachelor, one- and two-bedroom units located in the Student Family Housing complex range from $598 to $981 depending on the size of the unit, and is payable monthly.

Students looking for rooms in shared houses or apartments off-campus should expect to budget $400 to $600 per month. A student requiring a private apartment off-campus usually pays $600 to $750, $750 to $900, or $900 to $1300 for a bachelor, one-bedroom, or two-bedroom unit respectively. A three-bedroom house or apartment will usually rent for $1300 to $1800.

Study Abroad and Student Exchange

The International Student Exchange Office (ISXO)

The World Could Be Yours!

Arts & Science students in all departments are encouraged to participate in the international and Canadian study abroad opportunities offered through the International Student Exchange Office. These exchanges allow you to experience new cultures and languages in an academic setting while earning credits towards your U of T degree. Exchanges may be for one term or a full year or summer, and most are open to both undergraduate and graduate students..

Cost: The cost of an exchange includes your U of T tuition plus incidental fees, along with the cost of living and studying abroad. While on exchange, you are still eligible to receive government assistance such as OSAP. There are also many specific scholarships and bursaries run by various U of T offices, and the ISXO itself administers a needs-based bursary program; for exchange students who qualify, this bursary will usually cover at least the cost of airfare.

Eligibility: In general, undergraduate or graduate U of T students who have completed at least one year of full-time studies, with a minimum CGPA of 2.25, are eligible to apply. You must also achieve a minimum annual GPA of 2.5 for the year during which you apply. A few exchange programs do have higher GPA cutoffs, and others have special language requirements.

Destinations: Arts & Science students may choose from over 135 universities in the following locations: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Czech Republic, Denmark, England, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, India, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Kenya, Korea (South), Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Scotland, Singapore, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, United States, Wales and the West Indies. Please check our website for an up-to-date list of listing of our exchange partners.

Application: Applications for most programs are due late February, but you should always check the ISXO website regarding the specific exchanges that interest you.

For more information, please contact the ISXO:

Summer Abroad Program

Where will you be next summer?

Prepare yourself for a future in the global village by participating in one of the highly rated Faculty of Arts & Science Summer Abroad programs. These programs are designed to enrich students’ academic lives by providing an exciting and educational international experience.

Locations: Administered through Woodsworth College, the 2008 programs are offered in:

- ◆ Australia (Sydney)
- ◆ Central Europe (based in the Czech Republic)
- ◆ China (Hong Kong)
- ◆ England (Oxford)
- ◆ Ecuador (Amazon & Galapagos)
- ◆ France (Tours)
- ◆ Germany (Berlin)
- ◆ Italy (Siena)
- ◆ Japan (Tokyo)
- ◆ Jordan (Madaba)
- ◆ Kenya (Nairobi, Masai Mara, Mombasa)
- ◆ Mexico (Guadalajara)
- ◆ Russia (Moscow)

Check the Summer Abroad web site in the fall to see the 2009 program list!

Courses: Students take specially designed University of Toronto undergraduate degree credit courses, relevant to the location, for a period of 4 to 6 weeks. The courses have field trips that complement and highlight the academic materials. Courses are taught predominantly by University of Toronto professors and, with the exception of language courses, are offered in English. Typically, full-year second and third year courses are offered in disciplines such as history, political science, management, literature, architecture, fine art, religion, and languages. Most courses do not have pre-requisites.

All Summer Abroad courses and grades show on students' transcripts as regular U or T credits and are calculated into their CGPA.

Application: All University of Toronto students in good standing are eligible to apply. Students from other universities are also welcome to apply.

Applications are available in early January. The application deadline for most programs is March 1, but spaces in some programs fill up well in advance. Late applications will be accepted if space and time permit.

Financial aid is available for most programs. The application deadline for awards offered through Woodsworth College is February 1.

Professional Experience Year

The Professional Experience Year (PEY) provides students an opportunity to gain work experience in fields related to their programs of study. Full-time students with a CGPA of at least 2.0, with a minimum of 10.0, and a maximum of 15.0 full course equivalents, may apply to spend a twelve-to- sixteen-month period working in a related industry. This internship period normally occurs after second year for students completing a B.A./B.Sc., or after second or third year for students enrolled in an Hon. B.A./Hon. B.Sc. The 12 to 16-month period of employment, normally beginning in May, gives students the opportunity to become fully acquainted with the work environment. PEY students are often involved in challenging work projects from inception to completion, and are paid at competitive workforce salaries. They gain new insights into their academic and professional goals and return to their studies with a greater understanding of their discipline from a practical, hands-on perspective.

Students pay a one-time-only registration fee at the time of application. If a position is accepted, a placement fee will be required from the student at the time of fall registration, no later than the first Friday after classes begin in September. Incidental fees granting part-time student status and allowing continued access to University facilities and services are also required at fall registration. The PEY Program strives to provide opportunities for all students registered in it, but cannot guarantee employment. For further information, contact the PEY Office at 416-978- 6649 or visit www.peyonline.com.

Co-op Japan Program

The Co-op Japan Program is a Canadian university/college based, international co-op/internship program linking some of the best engineering, science, business and arts discipline undergraduate students from across the country with highly committed Japanese businesses. The Co-op Japan Program formally integrates an undergraduate student's Canadian academic studies with valuable work experience in a Japanese company. The program is open to universities and colleges nationally and is currently administered from The University of British Columbia.

The Co-op Japan Program's mandate is to provide Canadian undergraduate students with career-related work experience within a Japanese company during their undergraduate curriculum and at the same time to provide Japanese companies with the opportunity to employ highly capable and motivated Canadian undergraduate students.

For more information check the website at www.thecoopjapanprogram.com.

Student Unions and Associations

The Arts and Science Students' Union (ASSU)

The Arts and Science Students' Union (ASSU) represents over 20,000 full-time undergraduates in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George Campus. ASSU is an umbrella organization with 40 student Course Unions. Getting involved with a Course Union is the best way to be directly involved in your education and it's an excellent way to meet other students in your discipline. Annually, ASSU publishes student evaluations of courses and instructors in the ANTI-CALENDAR, which is free to all students. Other services include past final exams, lockers, photocopying, faxing and pop. Also, if you have any problems with your courses or instructors go to the ASSU office and discuss your options in complete confidence. ASSU is in Room 1068 Sidney Smith Hall; telephone 416-978-4903.

E-mail: students.assu@utoronto.ca
Web site: assu.ca

The Association of Part-Time Undergraduate Students (APUS)

All part-time undergraduate students at the University of Toronto are members of APUS. The role of the Association is to ensure its members have access to a broad range of services, programs and resources within the University. This is achieved by representing part-time students throughout the decision-making process of the University, and of governments, as well as by acting as a voice for the concerns of its members. APUS also offers a number of scholarships and bursaries to part-time students throughout the year, and services such as final exams and photocopying. The APUS office, in Room 1089 of Sidney Smith Hall, is open days and evenings during the summer and winter sessions. For further information telephone 416-978-3993.

Jack McClelland Writer-in-Residence

Each year the University appoints a well-known Canadian writer to work with students, faculty and staff interested in creative writing. For further information, contact the Department of English, 416-978-3190.

Awards

For students with particularly noteworthy academic results, there are three specific forms of recognition:

Recognition of Exceptional Academic Achievement: “Dean’s List”

This designation is given to degree students in the Faculty having a Cumulative Grade Point Average of 3.50 or higher, at the end of the Fall-winter or Summer Session in which the fifth, tenth, fifteenth and twentieth course, offered by the Faculty and taken for credit, has been passed.

The Dean of the Faculty sends a signed certificate to each student. There is no monetary value. Students who satisfy these criteria but do not receive the certificate at the end of the appropriate session should write to the Faculty Registrar, Faculty of Arts and Science, Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George St., Toronto ON, M5S 3G3. Dean’s List certificates are not issued at the end of the Fall Session.

Recognition of Exceptional Academic Achievement: “High Distinction” and “Distinction”

Students who graduate with a Cumulative GPA* of 3.50 or above are described as graduates “With High Distinction”. This achievement is noted on the diploma and transcript.

Students who graduate with a Cumulative GPA* of 3.20 to 3.49 are described as graduates “With Distinction”. This achievement is noted on the diploma and transcript.

* Note: the Cumulative GPA must be based on at least 5.0 credits taken in the Faculty and used for degree credit.

Faculty Scholarships

The Faculty offers many academically-based scholarships and other awards to exceptional degree students. Full details of these scholarships are available on the Faculty web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation Program

The University of Toronto is an ideal place for students to pursue the advanced study of languages. Our students live in a country that promotes multiculturalism, and our university is located in one of the world’s most diverse cities. We offer significant language opportunities in both ancient and modern languages. We also offer a variety of international academic programs and the number of such programs will expand. As our students seek further international study, work opportunities, and post-graduate study, they may be assisted by a notation on their academic record of language proficiency.

The Language Citation in the Faculty of Arts & Science is official recognition on a student’s transcript that the student has progressed to an advanced level in the study of a language, and has been assessed as achieving “good” results in that study. In particular, to achieve the Language Citation, a student must complete two full courses or their equivalent beyond the first-year level of language instruction, and must achieve at least a

B- in each of the courses beyond the introductory level. The two full-course equivalents may be language instruction or may be those taught in the language to be assessed.

The Language Citation will consist of a notation on the transcript that reads: “Completed Requirements of Language Citation in [name of language].” This will appear in the Arts & Science sessional segment of the student’s academic record on the transcript describing the courses and marks for the session in which the Citation is assessed as complete.

Note that Language Citation is not a “program of study” or Subject Post, and will not satisfy the degree requirement that specifies the minimum programs of study to qualify for the degree. The Citation may be of interest to those who are completing programs involving language study, but it may also be of interest to those whose program interests lie elsewhere, but wish to have achievement in a language noted on their academic record.

The Language Citation will be available to students beginning with the graduating class of 2007. Students who have already graduated may be eligible if they return for further language study that contributes to the assessment of the Citation. The Citation will not be assessed for students who have completed their studies and have not re-enrolled.

To be assessed for the Language Citation, students should contact the department or program that will be assessing the language for the Citation. They should present a copy of their academic record, and indicate which courses they would like considered for the assessment. If students already have proficiency in a language and wish to move directly to courses beyond the introductory level, they should consult the relevant department about appropriate placement. Also, students wishing to include courses taken in the country where the language is spoken should consult the relevant department about appropriate study abroad options.

The Citation can be earned in any language, modern or ancient, which provides sufficient advanced training at the University of Toronto, provided the unit offering the instruction participates in the Citation. Courses taken at the University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough may also be eligible for assessment for Arts & Science students.

The list below identifies the departments which participate in the Language Citation program. For details, including the languages in which students may achieve a Citation, see the departmental entries in this Calendar.

First-Year Learning Communities

The First-Year Learning Communities (FLCs) program in the Faculty of Arts and Science is designed to improve the transitional experience for first-year students. Now in its third year, the FLC program offers FLCs in five broad areas of study: commerce, computer science, economics, life science, and two themed areas sponsored by the Department of Philosophy: "History of Ideas" and "Ethics & Society."

FLCs (pronounced "flicks") provide first-year students with the opportunity to meet classmates, develop friendships, form study groups, and develop academic and personal skills, as well as introduce you to the resources, opportunities, culture, and treasures of the campus and its surrounding community.

The 24 students in each FLC, who will be enrolled in the same core courses, will meet regularly outside of class time for useful and fun activities. Each FLC group is facilitated by an upper-year student Peer Mentor and an Assistant Peer Mentor, under the guidance of a Staff Advisor (from the college, department, or program) and a Faculty Advisor; these four individuals are the FLC Team. The content of FLC meetings will address three broad transition areas: academic, developmental, and social. Training in facilitation and programming for the Peer Mentors and advisors will be provided by FLC Program staff and the Office of Student Affairs. Each FLC group will have a modest budget to assist with planning recreational and social activities.

Some of the interesting and fun topics that may be covered in FLC meetings include: time management, study strategies, campus traditions and history, mastering tests and exams, choosing a program of study, and career explorations. There will also be recreational and social activities, and much more!

You can find more detailed information about the "flick" program on the FLC web site: www.flc.utoronto.ca.

Please note: in the requirements below the word “course” means one full-course equivalent.

To qualify for an Honours Bachelor of Arts (Hon.B.A.) or Honours Bachelor of Science (Hon. B.Sc.), you must:

- (a) Obtain standing (i.e., receive 50% or more) in at least 20 courses that meet the following criteria:
  1. No more than six courses may be 100-series.
  2. At least six courses must be 300+series courses (no more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six).
  3. No more than fifteen courses may have the same three-letter designator (“AST”, “ENG”, etc.).
- (b) Complete one of the following program requirements
  - One specialist program (which includes at least one course at the 400-level)
  - or
  - Two major programs, which must include at least 12 different courses
  - or
  - One major and two minor programs, which must include at least 12 different courses
  - or
  - Students registered in the Faculty before the 2000-2001 session may also complete three minor programs, which must include 12 different courses; this option is discontinued for students registering for the first time in 2000-2001 and thereafter.

Note: whether you receive an Hon. B.A. or an Hon. B.Sc. depends on the program(s) you complete; see Program Requirements, below.
- (c) Complete the Distribution Requirement (see page 26).
- (d) Obtain a Cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation. Students who meet all the requirements for the Hon.B.A./Hon.B.Sc. except for the GPA requirement may elect to graduate with a B.A./B.Sc. degree provided they are In Good Standing (i.e., CGPA is 1.50 or more).

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Science

Effective for all students registered for the first time in a degree program in the Faculty of Arts & Science for the summer 2001 session and thereafter, the St. George Campus of the Faculty has discontinued the 15 course (three-year) B.A. and B.Sc. degrees. Students registered in a degree program in the Faculty before Summer 2001 may still choose a 15-course (three-year) degree; these students should consult their college registrar’s office.

Students with a B.A. or B.Sc. who return to upgrade that degree to an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc. must exchange the B.A. or B.Sc. for an Honours degree. A B.A. leads only to an Hon. B.A.; a B.A. CANNOT be upgraded to an Hon. B.Sc., and a B.Sc. CANNOT be upgraded to an Hon. B.A. Students who upgrade to an Honours degree are not eligible to attend the convocation ceremony for the upgrade.

Different degree regulations apply to students who first registered in the Faculty before Winter Session 1992; these students should consult their College Registrar.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of a given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:

1. a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/early October) from the program sponsor;
2. a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);
3. a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/late October).

“Second Degree” Requirements

Students must petition through their college by June 30 to begin a second degree. Before applying, students are urged to determine whether a second degree is actually required for their purposes; for example, a “make-up” year as a non-degree student may satisfy admission requirements for graduate school. Students are governed by the rules of the Faculty in place at the time they commence their second degree. Students who already hold a degree from the Faculty of Arts & Science, the University of Toronto Scarborough or the University of Toronto Mississauga may complete a second degree only of an alternate type (i.e. if a student has a B.A. degree then he/she may not complete a second B.A. degree). The Faculty normally exempts students from the first year of the degree requirements (five (5.0) credits: four 100-level and one 200-level), regardless of the number of previous degrees held. Second degree candidates may not repeat courses taken in a previous degree; they may however, count such courses towards satisfying pre-requisite and program requirements, on approval of the department/programs office concerned. A new Grade Point average will commence with the second degree courses.

Program Requirements

Completion of a program of study (also known as a subject POST) is only one part of the general degree requirements. Variations made in program details for individual students do not in any way affect degree requirements.

Meaning of “Program”

Programs are groupings of courses in one or more disciplines; these groupings are listed with each college or department entry in the “Programs and Courses” section of this Calendar.

Types of programs are:

Specialist Program: a sequence of between 9 and 17.5 courses* in one or more disciplines. Specialist programs must include at least four 300+series courses, one of which must be a 400-series course.

Major Program: a sequence of between 6 and 8 courses* in one or more disciplines. Major programs must include at least two 300+series courses.

Minor Program: a sequence of 4 courses* in one or more disciplines. Minor programs must include at least one 300+series course.

PLEASE NOTE

Courses may have prerequisites not listed in the program but which must be taken. Programs which list optional courses do not necessarily list prerequisites. Students are responsible for fulfilling prerequisites; students enrolled in courses for which they do not have the published prerequisites may have their registration in those courses cancelled at any time without warning.

Program Requirements

1. You must enrol in at least one and no more than three subject POSTs (of which only two can be majors or specialists), in the session in which you pass your fourth course (see the Registration Handbook and Timetable for details). Students admitted with transfer credit for four courses or more must do this immediately upon admission.)
2. You must meet any enrolment requirements for a program as stated in the Calendar. If you do not meet these requirements, you may be removed from the subject POSTs.
3. The subject POSTs(s) you complete determine whether you receive a science or an arts degree upon graduation. In the "Programs and Courses" section, each program indicates the type of degree to which it leads. For example, in the English section, the English Specialist listing is followed by "Arts program"; the Geology Major is followed by "Science program", etc.

To receive an Hon. B.Sc., for example:

One Specialist in a science area leads to an Hon. B.Sc.;

One Major in a science area plus one Major in an arts area leads to either an Hon. B.Sc. or an Hon. B.A. - your choice (two Majors must include at least 12 different courses);

In combinations of one Major and two Minors, at least one Major, or both the Minors, must be in the Science area for an Honours Bachelor of Science (combinations must include at least 12 different courses).

Note:

In biological and science programs there may be occasions when scientific observations are made by students on themselves or on fellow students. These include common diagnostic or immunization procedures. Unless a valid reason exists, students are expected to participate in such exercises. If any investigative work involving student participation does not form part of the program, participation is voluntary.

Self-Designed Programs

Students may design their own Programs, which must be substantially different from any Program in this Calendar. Such a Program, if formally adopted by the student's College on the basis of its academic rigour and coherence, and if approved by the Committee on Academic Standards, will be accepted as fulfilling the degree requirement for certification in a Program (transcripts indicate only "Completed Self-designed Programs approved by 'X' College"). Since the approval process is necessarily a long one, students following this alternative must discuss this process with their College Registrar immediately after completion of the fourth course in the Faculty.

Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) Degree Requirements

For the complete Commerce degree, program and course listing, see page 26.

Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) Degree Requirements

This is a four-year Honours program.

To qualify for a Bachelor of Commerce degree, a student must:

- (a) Complete twenty full-course equivalents, including no more than six 100-series courses;
- (b) Complete one of the Specialist programs - Management, Finance and Economics, or Accounting;
- (c) Complete the Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. students (see below);
- (d) Complete ten full course equivalents from Management (RSM/MGT/COM) and ten full course equivalents from disciplines outside of RSM/MGT/COM which include Economics (ECO) and other Arts & Science courses.
- (e) Obtain standing (i.e., complete with a grade of 50% or more) in at least six 300- or 400-series courses, including at least one 400-series course. No more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six. (Students participating in an approved exchange program may count all 300+ transfer credits from the exchange towards the required six.)
- (f) Achieve a cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of a given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:

1. a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/late August) from the program sponsor;
2. a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);
3. a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/early September).

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. Students

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. Students

As part of the degree requirements for the B.Com., STUDENTS MUST COMPLETE ONE FULL COURSE EQUIVALENT IN EACH OF THE HUMANITIES, THE SOCIAL SCIENCES AND THE SCIENCES AREAS as defined below:

1. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Humanities (see page 26).
2. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Social Sciences (MGT/RSM courses may be used to meet this requirement with the exception of MGT120HI/MGT201HI, COM110HI, and RSM100Y which have NO Distribution Requirement status; see page 26).
3. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Sciences (see page 26), with the following exceptions: all 100-series courses in CSC, MAT, STA; STA250HI, STA255HI, STA257HI, STA352YI.
4. NOTE: transfer students from University of Toronto Mississauga or Scarborough must meet the St. George B.Com. Distribution Requirement.

Degree Requirements

The Distribution Requirement

---

On the St. George Campus Arts & Science courses fall into three areas:

- Humanities
- Social Science
- Sciences

To qualify for any degree you must complete at least one full course equivalent in each of these three areas, for a total of 3.0 full course equivalents.

Courses that you take as part of your Specialist, Major or Minor programs may also be used to count towards the Distribution Requirement.

To help you understand the Distribution Requirement, there is a sample student course enrolment on next page.

The courses in these three areas are as follows:

Humanities

Courses with the three-letter designators below are Humanities courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.)

- Architecture (ARC course designators)
- Art History (FAH course designators)
- Classics (CLA course designators)
- Drama (DRM course designators)
- East Asian Studies (EAS course designators)
- English (ENG course designators)
- Estonian (EST course designators)
- Finnish (FIN course designators)
- French (FCS, FRE, FSL course designators)
- German (GER course designators)
- Greek (GRK course designators)
- History (HIS course designators); except HIS 103Y1
- Humanities First-Year Seminars (HUM199 course designators)
- Hungarian (HUN course designators)
- Italian (ITA course designators)
- Latin (LAT course designators)
- Music (MUS, HMU, TMU course designators)
- Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations (NMC and NML course designators)
- Philosophy (PHL course designators), except PHL245H1, which has NO Distribution Requirement status)
- Portuguese (PRT course designators)
- St. Michael's College Courses (SMC course designators)
- Slavic Languages & Literatures (SLA course designators)
- Spanish (SPA course designators)
- Visual Studies (VIS course designators; listed with Art)

Social Science

---

Courses with the three-letter designators below are Social Science courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.)

- Archaeology (ARH course designators)
- Economics (ECO course designators)
- Mathematics: MAT 123H, 124H and 133Y are Social Science courses; ALL other MAT are Science courses
- Management (MGT/RSM course designators), except COM110H1, MGT120H1, MGT201H1, and RSM100Y1, which have NO Distribution Requirement status)
- Political Science (POL course designators)
- Sociology (SOC course designators)
- Social Science First Year Seminars (SSC 199 course designators)
- Woodsworth College (WDW course designators)

Science

Courses with the three-letter designators below are SCIENCE courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.) Some restrictions in the applicability of 100-series Science courses apply to B.Com. students; see the Commerce Programs listing starting on page 40 of this Calendar for more information.

- Actuarial Science (ACT course designators)
- Anatomy (ANA course designators)
- Applied Mathematics (APM course designators; listed with Mathematics)
- Astronomy (AST course designators)
- Biochemistry (BCB, BCH course designators)
- Biology (BIO course designators); except JBS 229H1
- Cell & Systems Biology (CSB course designators)
- Chemistry (CHM course designators)
- Computer Science (CSC course designators)
- Ecology & Evolutionary Biology (EEB course designators)
- Geology (GLG course designators)
- Human Biology (HMB course designators); all HMB courses except HMB303H1, HAJ453H1, and HMB498Y1, which are both Science and Social Science courses
- Immunology (IMM course designators)
- Laboratory Medicine & Pathobiology (LMP course designators)
- Mathematics (MAT course designators); all Mathematics courses except 123H, 124H, 133Y1, which are Social Science courses)
- Materials Science (MSE course designators)
- Molecular Genetics & Microbiology (MGY course designators)
- Nutritional Sciences (NFS course designators)
- Pharmacology (PCL course designators)
- Pharmaceutical Chemistry (PHC course designators)
- Physical Education & Health (PHE course designators)
- Physics (PHY course designators)
- Planetary Science (PLN course designators)
- Physiology (PSL course designators)
- Psychology (PSY course designators)
- Science First-Year Seminars (SC199 course designators)
- Statistics (STA course designators); all STA courses except 220H, 221H, 250H, 255H, 257H, JBS 229H which have NO Distribution Requirement status)

Courses Which Can Fall in More than One of the Three Areas

To find which area each course is in, check the individual course descriptions:

- Aboriginal Studies (ABS course designators)
- Anthropology (ANT course designators)
- Asia-Pacific Studies (ASI course designators)
- Diaspora & Transnational Studies (DTS course designators)
- Environment (ENV course designators)
- European Studies (EUR course designators)
- Geography (GGR course designators)
- History & Philosophy of Science and Technology (HPS course designators)
- Innis College (INI course designators)
- Interdisciplinary First Year Seminars (INX199HI/YI course designators)
- Joint courses (JXX course designators)
- Latin American Studies (LAS course designators)
- Linguistics (LIN course designators)
- National University of Singapore (NUS course designators; see entries for Chemistry and Life Science: Ecology & Evolutionary Biology for details)
- New College (NEW course designators)
- Religion (RLG course designators)
- Trinity College (TRN course designators)
- University College (UNI course designators)
- Victoria College (VIC course designators)
- Women and Gender Studies (WGS course designators)

Sample Student Course Enrolment Allowing for Distribution Requirements

Sokit wants to do a major in political science and a major in anthropology. She needs ANT 100Y1 for the first year of an anthropology major and POL 103Y1 or 105Y1 or 108Y1 for the first year of the political science major. She is also interested in sociology, so chooses SOC 101Y1.

The ANT, POL, and SOC courses are in Social Sciences, so they fulfill that part of the Distribution Requirement. She needs the following to fulfill the rest of her Distribution Requirement:

- One course from Humanities
- One course from Sciences

Sokit thinks that a History course would be a useful complement to her Political Science interest; at the same time it will fulfill the Humanities Distribution Requirement, so she enrolls in HIS 104Y1: Ten Days that Shook the World.

To fulfill the Science Distribution Requirement she chooses ENV 200Y1: Science and the Environment.

Sokit's first year courses (and their respective Distribution Requirement areas) are thus as follows:

ANT 100Y1	Introduction to Anthropology (Social Science)
ENV 200Y1	Assessing Global Change (Sciences)
HIS 104Y1	Ten Days that Shook the World (Humanities)
POL 105Y1	Ethics & the Public Sphere (Social Science)
SOC 101Y1	Introduction to Sociology (Social Science)

Sokit's course choices fulfill the first year course requirements for the programs she wants to pursue; they also fulfill all three Distribution Requirements, giving her lots of flexibility in future years.

Humanities Courses for Science and Social Science Students

These courses are especially designed for science and social science students to fulfill the Humanities Distribution Requirement; none of them has Grade 12 prerequisites.

CLA201HI Latin & Greek in Scientific Terminology [39L]

The study of technical and scientific terms derived from Latin and Greek: word elements, formation, analysis. The course is designed to give students in any field of specialization a better grasp of the derivation and basic meaning of English words derived from Latin and Greek elements.

CLA203HI Science in Antiquity [39L]

The first scientific traditions in the classical Mediterranean and the Near East, with emphasis on Greek science. Discussions of early physical science, biology, mathematics, and astronomy, and their place in ancient life and thought, based on primary sources in translation. Designed for students in both the sciences and humanities.

CLA204HI Introduction to Classical Mythology [39L]

A survey of the myths and legends of ancient Greece (and their extension to Rome) with some consideration of their role in ancient and modern literature and art.

Exclusion: CLA205Y1

CLA206HI Ancient Astronomy [39L]

The rise, development, and practical applications of the study of the heavens in Mesopotamia, Egypt, and the Greco-Roman world.

FCS195HI French Culture from Napoléon to Astérix [26S]

A multi-media course, analyzing the contributions the French have made to world culture in such domains as architecture, art, literature, and music, as well as some of the implications of the appropriation of French cultural icons by big business and the media.

FCS298HI French Culture and Asia [26S]

From the arrival, in the 17th century, of magnificent porcelain from the East to the borrowings of contemporary fashion designers, French culture has been exposed to Asian influences which have become part of the national fabric. This course explores some of these manifestations in literature, film and the arts.

HPS100HI Introduction to History and Philosophy of Science [26L, 13T]

An investigation of some pivotal periods in the history of science with an emphasis on the influences of philosophy on the scientists of the period, and the philosophical and social implications of the scientific knowledge, theory and methodology that emerged. This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS201HI Origins of Western Technology [26L, 13T]

Technology and its place in our culture from Antiquity to the beginnings of the Industrial Revolution. Relations between technology and science, religion, the arts, social institutions, and political beliefs.

This is a Humanities course

HPS202HI Technology in the Modern World [26L, 13T]

A survey of technical change and its social implications from the Industrial Revolution to the present.

Recommended preparation: HPS201HI

This is a Humanities course

HPS210HI Scientific Revolutions I (formerly HPS200Y1) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

Degree Requirements

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS211H1 Scientific Revolutions II (formerly HPS200Y1) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrödinger, Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS250H1 Introductory Philosophy of Science [26L, 13T]

This course introduces and explores central issues in the philosophy of science, including scientific inference, method, and explanation. Topics may include underdetermination, realism and empiricism, and laws of nature.

HUM199H1 First Year Seminar

HUM199Y1 First Year Seminar

The Faculty offers several different sections of HUM 199H1/Y1, open only to students newly-admitted to the St. George campus of the Faculty. Check the A&S web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/course for detailed course descriptions.

JEF100Y1 The Western Tradition [78L]

An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary "classic"? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition - human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny - been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostoevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French; see also JEF 100Y1 in the French program listings.)

Science Courses for Humanities & Social Science Students

These courses are especially designed for humanities and social science students to fulfill the Science Distribution Requirement; none of them has OAC/Grade 12 prerequisites.

AST101H1 The Sun and Its Neighbours [26L]

Our place in the Universe. Phenomena we see in the sky. What we know about the Sun, the planets and comets, and the formation of the solar system - and how we know it. What makes planets suitable for life. Finding out about the nearest stars and their planets.

This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.

Exclusion: AST121H1, 210H1, 221H1. Also excluded are CIV101H1, any 100- or higher-series CHM/PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100H1, 101H1, 201H1, 205H1, CHM200Y1)

AST201H1 Stars and Galaxies [26L]

What we know about the properties and life cycles of stars, of galaxies, and of the Universe itself - and how we know it. How astronomers develop methods for understanding phenomena that span such vast ranges in distance and time.

This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.

Exclusion: AST121H1, 210H1. Also excluded are CIV101H1 and any 100- or higher-series CHM or PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100H1, 101H1, 201H1, 205H1, CHM200Y1)

AST210H1 Great Moments in Astronomy [26L]

The history of Western astronomy: Copernican Revolution to twentieth century astrophysics. Emphasis is placed on the process of discovery which has led to major advances in knowledge about the Universe. The course ends with an outline of one of the most significant puzzles of our day and an examination of the potential for a new revolution in knowledge in our lifetime. This course is best suited to physical science students. Exclusion: AST101H1, 121H1, 201H1

CSB200Y1 Current Topics in Molecular Biology [52L, 26P]

This course is intended to provide non-science students with an understanding of basic concepts in molecular biology to allow them to explore, and analyze current scientific issues and controversies covered in the media and relevant to society at large.

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

Exclusion: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/250Y1/255Y1

CSC104H1 The Why and How of Computing [26L, 13T]

An introduction to computing for non-computer scientists. History of computing machinery; representation of data and their interaction with operations; hardware, software, operating systems; problem solving and algorithms; social issues in computing; a gentle introduction to programming. This course is an introduction to becoming actively engaged with computing, not a tutorial on using particular computer applications.

Exclusion: SMC104H1; VIC104H1; any CSC course.

EEB202H1 Plants and Society (formerly BOT202Y1) [26L]

The importance of plants to society. Plant biology, domestication of crop plants, plant breeding and genetic engineering, biological invasions, conservation, biodiversity and genetic resources. Evaluation of the ecological implications of advances in modern plant science.

Exclusion: BIO150Y/BOT202Y1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB214H1 Evolution and Adaptation (formerly ZOO214Y1) [26L, 12T]

Evolution and adaptation through natural selection. Concepts and application based on faunal life goals of habitat survival, food acquisition, predator avoidance, and reproduction. Topics include: speciation, mutation, co-evolution, symbiosis, pollination, cannibalism, parasitism, eusociality, and sexual and parental conflict. Essays, debates, and reading required.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1/323H1/EEB323H1/ZOO214Y1/324Y1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB215H1 Conservation Biology (formerly ZOO215H1) [39L]

Introduction to the scientific discipline that deals with endangered wildlife. Topics include: biodiversity, extinction, threats, demography, genetic diversity, nature reserves, and captive breeding. Also, endangered species laws, moral philosophies, and political, economic and social justice issues surrounding biodiversity. Essays and reading required.

Exclusion: EEB/BIO 365H1/ZOO215H1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB216HI Marine Mammal Biology and Conservation (formerly ZOO216HI) [26L, 12T]

Introduction to ecological, evolutionary, physiological, and anatomical adaptations of marine mammals to their aquatic environment. Issues of conservation and environmental biology will also be covered. In tutorials the use of anatomical specimens (skulls, teeth, etc.) will be supplemented with video and other teaching tools.

Prerequisite: Biology 12 or equivalent

Exclusion: Enrolment in a Science program; SC1199Y1: Marine Mammals in Their Environment

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

ENV200Y1 Assessing Global Change: Science and the Environment [52L, 12T]

The perspective scientists bring to the understanding and resolution of environmental concerns having global implications: atmospheric systems and climate change, the biosphere and conservation of biodiversity.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1 (applies only to students in Arts & Science)

This Science course is intended to fulfill the environmental literacy requirement for students in the BA programs of the Centre for Environment or the science distribution course requirement for Commerce, Humanities and Social Science students.

GLG103HI Geology in Public Issues [26L]

Geologic hazards: earthquakes, volcanoes, landslides, tsunamis. The distribution and politics of natural resources, including petroleum and ore deposits. Nuclear power and nuclear waste disposal. Global change: the geologic record of hot and cold climates, and how the earth survives.

GLG105HI Evolution of the Earth: Controversy over the Last 2300 Years [26L]

The evolution of ideas about the origin and development of the earth from the Athenians to the 20th Century. With attention on whether the earth has an infinite or a finite life; on the evolution and disappearance of species; on the origin of oceans, continents and mountains; on the forces that have shaped the earth's surface; and on the courage of scientists in confronting the religious and political views of their time.

GLG110HI Introductory Geology [26L]

The nature and evolution of the Earth; plate tectonics; rocks and minerals; volcanism; geological time; fossils; geology of Ontario; environmental issues.

GLG205HI Confronting Global Change [26L, 8T]

The emergence of society as a major geological force is considered in terms of the evolving debate about the consequences of human activity for the habitability of our planet. Major issues such as climate change, environmental pollution, and depletion of natural resources are examined.

GLG205HI is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students

HPS100HI Introduction to History and Philosophy of Science [26L, 13T]

An investigation of some pivotal periods in the history of science with an emphasis on the influences of philosophy on the scientists of the period, and the philosophical and social implications of the scientific knowledge, theory and methodology that emerged.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS210HI Scientific Revolutions I (formerly HPS200Y1) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS211HI Scientific Revolutions II (formerly HPS200Y1) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrödinger, Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

JUM202HI Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit (formerly JUM102HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM102HI

JUM202HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM203HI Mathematics as a Recreation (formerly JUM103HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM103HI

JUM203HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM205HI Mathematical Personalities (formerly JUM105HI) [26L, 13T]

An in-depth study of the life, times and work of several mathematicians who have been particularly influential. Examples may include Newton, Euler, Gauss, Kowalewski, Hilbert, Hardy, Ramanujan, Gödel, Erdős, Coxeter, Grothendieck. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM105HI

JUM205HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

PHY100HI The Magic of Physics [26L, 13T]

In 1915 Einstein presented a quartet of papers that revolutionized our understanding of gravity. He commented: "Hardly anyone who has truly understood this theory will be able to resist being captivated by its magic." The General Theory of Relativity is not the only theory of physics that is magical, and Einstein was not physics' only magician. We uncover the wonders of the classical and the quantum world courtesy of Galileo, Newton, Maxwell, Einstein, Heisenberg and others. Topics include planetary motion, chaos, the nature of light, time travel, black holes, matter waves,

Degree Requirements

Schrödinger's cat, and quarks. No mathematics is required, and any necessary elementary classical physics is reviewed.

Exclusion: PHY131H/132H/151H/152H /110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently

PHY100HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY101HI Emergence in Nature [26L, 13T]

The universe is not a rigid clockwork, but neither is it formless and random. Instead, it is filled with highly organized, evolved structures that have somehow emerged from simple rules of physics.

Examples range from the structure of galaxies to the pattern of ripples on windblown sand, to biological and even social processes. These phenomena exist in spite of the universal tendency towards disorder. How is this possible? Self-organization challenges the usual reductionistic scientific method, and begs the question of whether we can ever really understand or predict truly complex systems.

PHY101HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY201HI Concepts of Physics [26L, 13T]

A conceptual overview of some of the most interesting advances in physics and the intellectual background in which they occurred.

The interrelationship of the actual practice of physics and its cultural and intellectual context is emphasized.

PHY201HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY205HI The Physics of Everyday Life [26L, 13T]

An introduction to the physics of everyday life. This conceptual course looks at everyday objects to learn about the basis for our modern technological world. Topics may include anything from automobiles to weather.

PHY205HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

SCI199HI First Year Seminar Courses

SCI199YI First Year Seminar Courses

The Faculty offers many sections of SCI 199HI/YI, open only to students newly-admitted to the St. George campus of the Faculty. Check the A&S web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/course for detailed course descriptions.

Guide to Programs and Courses

Definition of “Course” in this Calendar

---

In these two pages the word “course” is used in two senses:

1. In reference to a single course (such as “standing in a course” etc.) “course” refers equally to a full course or a half course.
2. In reference to a given number of courses (such as the requirement of obtaining standing in at least 20 courses for an HBA or HBSc) “courses” refer to FULL courses OR the equivalent number in FULL AND HALF courses combined. To “pass a course” or “obtain standing in a course” normally means to obtain a mark of 50 or more in that course.

Codes used in the Program of Study Listings

“Specialist Program (X full courses or their equivalent); “X” is the number of courses required for that program out of the total of 20 courses needed for an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc.

“Major Program (X full courses or their equivalent); “X” is the number required for that program out of the total of 20 courses needed for an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc.

“First Year”, “Second Year”, etc.: Sequences of courses are given as guides, but need not be followed in the exact order listed, provided all pre- and co-requisites are observed.

Higher Years = Second, Third and Fourth Years

An oblique stroke (“/”) means “or”. A comma and a semi-colon both mean “and”.

200-series = courses numbered in the 200’s ONLY;

200+series = courses in the 200’s or 300’s or 400’s

300+series = courses numbered in the 300’s or 400’s

Approved = approved by the college or department sponsoring the program

Group = a group of related courses; Groups are at the end of the relevant program listings

Courses = full courses or the equivalent in full and/or half courses.

The code Y1 or H1 in a course code in this Calendar indicates the credit value:

Y1 = a full course, for which one credit is given, e.g., ANT 100Y1;

H1 = a half course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 321H1.

Choosing Courses

---

NOTE: While Departmental counsellors and College Registrars are always available to give advice, THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with exclusions, prerequisite and co-requisite requirements, for completion of Program details, for proper completion of the Distribution Requirement, and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc. Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt; misunderstanding, misapprehension or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, Program or Degree requirement.

Please Note:

1. The Faculty of Arts & Science Council reserves the right to change the content of, or to withdraw, any course. In such cases every effort is made to provide equivalent alternative instruction, but this cannot be guaranteed.
2. The Faculty reserves the right to limit the number of students in any course or any section of a course if the number wishing to take the course should exceed the resources available. Notwithstanding this, every effort is made to accommodate students in 100-series courses.

Key to Course Descriptions

Course descriptions, in alphabetical order by Department/ College, are listed in the “Programs and Courses” section starting on page 36 For an explanation of terms and abbreviations used in these descriptions, including prerequisites, co-requisites, exclusions, etc., see below. Students may choose from among these courses, subject to the following rules:

1. Students must satisfy the degree and program requirements and other regulations set out in the Calendar and its supplements.
2. Students must meet all prerequisite, co-requisite and exclusion requirements.
3. Students may take no more than six 100-series courses for degree credit.

Number of Courses Taken (“Course Load”)

Students may proceed towards the degree at a rate of their own choosing, except as provided below:

1. The recommended course load for full-time students in each of the Fall and Winter Sessions is no more than five courses.
2. The recommended course load during the Summer Session is a maximum of two courses.
3. Students “On Academic Probation” may take no more than five courses in each of the Fall and Winter Sessions except as provided under “students restricted to a reduced course load” (see 4. below).
4. Students restricted to a reduced course load on admission may take no more than 2.5 courses over the Fall-Winter Sessions. They may take no more than 3 course activities in a Fall or Winter Session unless approved by their College Registrar. They may take a maximum of 1.0 courses in the Summer Session. Students restricted to part-time studies who wish to transfer to full-time studies should consult with their College Registrar.)
5. Students should attempt to balance their course load between the Fall and Winter Sessions.

Guide to Programs and Courses

- To calculate course loads, students should consult this Calendar together with the Registration Handbook & Timetable.
The code "YI" or "HI" in a course code in the Calendar indicate the credit value:
YI = a full course, for which one credit is given, e.g., ANT 100YI
HI = a half-course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 332HI
- In the Timetable a section code is associated with a course code to indicate when the course is offered:
F = first half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Sept-Dec), or first half of the Summer Session (May-June), e.g., HIS322HI F
S = second half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Jan-Apr), or second half of the Summer Session (July-Aug), e.g., HIS322HI S
Y = Fall and Winter sessions, or First and Second subsessions of the Summer Session, e.g., ANTI00YI Y
- Students should note that courses designated as "...YIF" or "...YIS" in the Timetable are particularly demanding.
- Full-time students (except those in 3. and 11.) may select a sixth course after the priority period expires during the course enrolment cycle (see the Registration Handbook and Timetable for details).
- Students are advised to use discretion in adding any more courses to their program than the number recommended in 1. and 2. Students will not receive special consideration of any kind on account of a course overload. Examination schedules may be affected by a course overload.
- In each of the Fall and Winter Sessions, students who are in good standing may request to add additional courses, beyond six, through their College Registrar. In the Summer Session, students may request to add additional courses, beyond two, through their College Registrar. The College Registrar, following Faculty guidelines, has the discretion to approve such requests. Note: students enrolled in Commerce subject POSTs cannot add additional courses.
- Students are not allowed a sessional course activity overload in any session until they have completed four full courses in the Faculty. This applies to first year students and transfer students from other institutions.

Credit/No Credit

Effective beginning the 2008-09 Fall-Winter Session, degree students in the Faculty of Arts & Science may select up to 1.0 full-course equivalents of their degree credits to be assessed on a Credit/ No Credit basis. Students must choose this mode of assessment no later than the last day to enrol in the relevant course. Once the deadline has passed, students may not under any circumstances reverse this decision.

To achieve a status of CR (Credit), a student must achieve a final mark of at least 60%. Marks below that will be assessed as NCR (No Credit). Courses with a final status of CR will count as degree credits but will have no effect on the student's GPA. They will count as Distribution Requirements and degree credits, but cannot be used to satisfy subject POST requirements.

Courses with a final status of NCR will not count as degree credits but will not count as failures, and will also not be included in the GPA calculation.

Students may exercise this option to a total of 1.0 full-course equivalents within the total number of credits required for a degree. The choice is not restricted as to year or level of course. This option is not available to Arts & Science non-degree students or to students from other faculties/divisions of the University of Toronto.

"Extra" and "Supplemental" Courses

Each course counts for credit towards a degree unless:

- the course is a 100-series course and the maximum of SIX 100-series courses allowable for degree credit has already been completed; it will then be designated as an "Extra". "Extra" courses have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average; or

- advance permission has been given by petition for a course to be taken as an "Extra" course. Students may not petition to have completed courses designated as "Extra", nor will they be removed from the record. "Extra" courses have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average; or

- more than the maximum number of courses allowed with the same designator have been passed. These "supplemental" courses will count in the grade point average, program and distribution requirements.

Repeating a Courses as an "Extra"

A student may repeat 1.0 full-course equivalent in which he or she has received a passing mark for reasons other than to gain a required mark above passing to qualify for entry into a Subject POST or a course required for a prerequisite. Such a repeated course will be designated an "Extra" course: it will appear on the academic record, but will be marked "Extra" and will not be included in GPA calculations or in the degree credit count.

Students requesting to repeat a course in this way must do so at their college registrar's office, where they will receive appropriate advising and will be enrolled, provided there is space available, only after other degree students have had an opportunity to enroll.

Year of Study

The University of Toronto uses the following to define the year equivalency and therefore the academic status of a student:

- 4th year St. George degree student: has completed 14.0 full course equivalents or more;
- 3rd year St. George degree student: has completed 9.0 to 13.5 full course equivalents;
- 2nd year St. George degree student: has completed 4 to 8.5 full course equivalents;
- 1st year St. George degree student: has completed less than 4 full course equivalents.

Full/Part-Time Status

Part-time status

A student enrolled in 2.5 full course equivalents or fewer for the Fall-Winter sessions is considered to be part-time; a student enrolled in 1.0 full-course equivalents or fewer for the Summer session is considered to be part-time.

Guide to Programs and Courses

Full-time status

A student enrolled in 3.0 full course equivalents or more for the Fall-Winter sessions is considered to be full-time; a student enrolled in 1.5 full-course equivalents or more for the Summer session is considered to be full-time.

Canceling Courses, Courses Outside the Faculty and University

For information on cancelling courses, see page 491. For information on courses outside the Faculty and University, see page 490.

Codes Used in the Course Descriptions

---

Course Designators

---

Course designators are the three-letter codes which appear at the beginning of each course code (e.g., CHM is the designator for chemistry courses; PHL for philosophy courses).

All courses are listed in the following pages by sponsoring department in alphabetical order. See the Table of Contents for a complete listing of sponsoring departments, and page 37 for a full alphabetical list of programs available to students in the Faculty.

Course Number

The course number generally indicates the level of difficulty, e.g., a 100-series course normally indicates an introductory course, a 400-series course is an intensive course at the senior level. In some departments several courses may have the same general title; in these cases, the numbers are listed together, separated by “/” which means “OR”; for instance, “ECO 350Y1/351H1/352H1” = ECO 350Y1 OR ECO 351H1 OR ECO 352H1, each one being a seminar on a selected subject.

“YI” and “HI” Course Suffixes

The codes “YI” or “HI” in a course code in the Calendar indicate the credit value:

YI = a full course, for which one credit is given, e.g., ANT 100Y1

HI = a half-course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 322 HI

Types and Duration of Instruction

L= Lectures; S= Seminars; P= Practical work in laboratories or studios; T= Tutorials

In the Fall-Winter Sessions the normal period of instruction is 26 weeks; the Fall Session lasts 13 weeks, and the Winter Session lasts 13 weeks. The number preceding the instruction codes opposite the course number and title indicates the total number of hours of instruction given in the course. The number of hours listed is approximate only; the actual contact hours of a course, or of different sections of a course, may vary from the number indicated in the Calendar, due to the size of the class or section, and the use being made of the tutorial or practical components of the class. This variation is at the discretion of the “course sponsor” (the college or department sponsoring the course); any questions concerning the allotment of hours in a course should be addressed to the course sponsor.

Prerequisites, Co-requisites, etc.

Students are responsible for fulfilling prerequisites and co-requisites; students enrolled in courses for which they do not have the published prerequisites may have their registration in those courses cancelled at any time without warning. Students must also observe exclusions. Failure to meet these requirements may result in academic difficulties. If students withdraw from a course they must also withdraw from any course for which it is a co-requisite unless the Department giving the latter course agrees to waive the co-requisite.

Explanation of Symbols

The comma (,) the semi-colon(;), the ampersand (&) and the plus sign (+) all mean “AND”. The slash (/) means “OR”.

Exclusions

Students may not enrol in a course if that course lists as an exclusion a course they are currently taking or a course they have already passed. If allowed by special permission to enrol in an excluded course, the second course taken will be listed as an “Extra” course. Students will be required to withdraw from the course if discovered during the session of enrolment and will be refused degree credit in the excluded course if discovered at any time in a subsequent session.

Prerequisite

A course (or other qualification) required as preparation for entry to another course. If students consider that they have equivalent preparation, they may ask the Department concerned to waive the stated prerequisite.

Co-requisite

A requirement to be undertaken concurrently with another course. The co-requisite will be waived if a student has previously obtained standing in it, or if the Department consents.

Recommended Preparation

Background material or courses that may enhance a student's understanding of a course.

The next page shows a course description in diagram form, with explanations of all the various symbols.

Section Code

---

Section codes do not appear in the Calendar. In the Registration Handbook & Timetable, however, a section code is listed with a course code to indicate when the course is offered:

F = first half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Sept-Dec), or first half of the Summer Session (May-June), e.g., HIS 322H1 F

S = second half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Jan-Apr), or second half of the Summer Session (July-Aug), e.g., HIS 322H1 S

Y = Fall and Winter sessions, or First and Second subsections of the Summer Session, e.g., ANT 100Y1 Y

The Rotman Commerce Program is jointly offered by the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Rotman School of Management

Faculty from the Rotman School of Management who teach in the Rotman Commerce Program are listed below.

The Rotman Commerce Program at the University of Toronto offers an innovative and integrative curriculum with a global perspective for an enriched professional undergraduate experience. The program explores the role of commerce in modern society while developing skill and confidence in analysis, effective communications and decision making.

The Bachelor of Commerce degree builds on a common foundation of business and liberal arts courses. Rotman Commerce students go on to specialize in one of three programs: finance and economics, management, or accounting. Each stream combines career-oriented courses in management and applied economics with a variety of advanced courses in the Arts & Sciences. The balance assures graduates of a solid understanding of business and modern society along with a command of critical skills in decision-making and organizational leadership.

The Major in Commerce provides students with a foundation in business while allowing them to concentrate in another discipline within Arts & Science.

Rotman Commerce graduates frequently become economists, accountants, actuaries, financial analysts, marketing analysts, managers of firms and government, or proprietors of small businesses. Some commerce students elect to undertake post-graduate studies in the form of further university education: law schools and MBA programs have been particularly favoured destinations of recent graduates.

Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.)

Degree Requirements

This is a four-year Honours program.

To qualify for a Bachelor of Commerce degree, a student must:

- Complete twenty full-course equivalents, including no more than six 100-series courses;
- Complete one of the Specialist programs - Management, Finance and Economics, or Accounting (see below);
- Complete the Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. students (see below);
- Complete ten full course equivalents from Management (RSM/MGT/COM) and ten full course equivalents from disciplines outside of RSM/MGT/COM which include Economics (ECO) and other Arts & Science courses.
- Obtain standing (i.e., complete with a grade of 50% or more) in at least six 300- or 400-series courses, including at least one 400-series course. No more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six. (Students participating in an approved exchange program may count all 300+ transfer credits from the exchange towards the required six.)
- Achieve a cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of a given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:

- a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/late August) from the program sponsor;
- a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);
- a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/early September).

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. Students

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. Students

As part of the degree requirements for the B.Com., STUDENTS MUST COMPLETE ONE FULL COURSE EQUIVALENT IN EACH OF THE HUMANITIES, THE SOCIAL SCIENCES AND THE SCIENCES AREAS as defined below:

- ONE full course equivalent must be from the Humanities (see Page 26).
- ONE full course equivalent must be from the Social Sciences (MGT/RSM courses may be used to meet this requirement with the exception of MGT120HI/MGT201HI, COM110HI, and RSM100Y which have NO Distribution Requirement status; see Page 26).
- ONE full course equivalent must be from the Sciences (see Page 26), with the following exceptions: all 100-series courses in CSC, MAT, STA; STA250HI, STA255HI, STA257HI, STA352Y1.
- NOTE: transfer students from University of Toronto Mississauga or Scarborough must meet the St. George B.Com. Distribution Requirement.

Commerce Programs

Notes

- Tuition fees for students enrolling in the Commerce programs from 2001 onwards will be higher than for other Arts & Science programs.
- MAT133Y1/(MAT123HI, MAT124HI) are courses which satisfy the minimum Program requirements. Students who are likely to enrol in 200+ series MAT or CSC courses are advised to take MAT137Y1 instead, noting that MAT137Y1 is a theoretically-oriented course for Specialists in Mathematics and mathematically-based disciplines such as Actuarial Science.
- Enrolment in the Commerce and Finance Program is limited. The majority of spaces each year will be reserved for students admitted to First Year Commerce. A limited number of places will be available for other Arts & Science students not admitted to First Year Commerce; these students normally apply for admission in April of their first year. Such students must complete the First Year requirements with the minimum marks specified below, but must also meet a competitive standard established each year by the number of places available.

o First Year Commerce:

These students are offered on admission a guaranteed space in the Commerce Program after first year provided they complete the following--upon their first attempt:

- a minimum of four credits with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 (See the "Degree Requirements section of the Calendar);
- a minimum grade in the three required courses: ECO100Y1 and RSM100Y1 each with at least 67%, and MAT133Y1 or equivalent with at least 50%.

o All other students: Students not admitted to First Year Commerce with a guaranteed space must meet the following admission requirements

- Complete a minimum of 4.0 credits
- Complete RSM100Y1 and ECO100Y1, each with a mark of at least 67%, and complete one of MAT133Y1/MAT135Y1/MAT136Y1/MAT137Y1/(MAT123HI, MAT124HI)/(MAT125HI, MAT126HI), with a mark of at least 50%
- Obtain a CGPA to be determined each year on a competitive basis (CGPA based on all courses taken for credit in the Faculty of Arts & Science)
- Complete on-line applicant profile and pay applicant profile fee
- Admission will be based on marks, CGPA, and applicant profile
- Commerce students are limited to a maximum of 6.0 credits in any Fall/Winter session

Accounting (B.Com)

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent out of 20 courses, for a B.Com.)

First Year:

Commerce Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 27), all MGT/RSM courses (except COM110HI, MGT120HI, MGT201HI, and RSM100YI, which have NO distribution requirement status) are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

(Economics course descriptions begin on Page 138).

MGT201HI Introduction to Financial Accounting (formerly MGT120HI) [26L]

Introduction to financial reporting and analysis that is used by companies to organize and evaluate data in light of their organization's goal. Emphasis is on decision-making and interpretation of financial statements and how they can be used to plan a firm's overall business activities through the use of real-world companies.

Not open to Commerce students.

Exclusion: MGT120HI

This course has no status for distribution requirement purposes.

RSM100YI Introduction to Management [52L]

Introduction to management and its various subdisciplines-accounting, finance, marketing, organizational behaviour, operations management, and strategy.

Enrolment priority is given to students entering the University with an expressed interest in studying Commerce. Other Arts & Science students will be allowed to enrol, space permitting. Non-Arts & Science students are ineligible to enrol in this course.

Exclusion: COM110HI

Co-Requisite: ECO100Y1, MAT133Y1

This course has no status for distribution requirement purposes.

RSM220HI Financial Accounting (formerly MGT220HI) [26L, 26T]

This course introduces Commerce students to financial accounting including both conceptual and technical aspects.

Exclusion: MGT220HI

Prerequisite: MGT120HI/201H/RSM100Y1

RSM221HI Intermediate Financial Accounting I (formerly MGT224HI) [26L]

Covers topics such as income statement and balance sheet topics with an emphasis on quality of earnings.

Exclusion: MGT224HI

Prerequisite: MGT220HI/RSM220HI

RSM222HI Management Accounting I (formerly MGT223HI) [26L, 26T]

Covers the conceptual and analytical foundations of management accounting and the applications of cost accounting information. Costing and control concepts are analyzed to equip students with tools for establishing costing systems, making business decisions, and evaluating management performance. Materials are designed to help students understand strategic cost management principles.

Exclusion: MGT223HI

Prerequisite for students enrolled in Employment Relations or Human Resource Management: MGT201HI

Co-requisite for students enrolled in Rotman Commerce: RSM220HI

RSM225HI Legal Environment of Business I (formerly MGT393HI) [26L]

Exclusion: MGT393HI

Prerequisite: COM 110HI/RSM100Y1

RSM230HI Financial Markets [26L]

Introduction to Canadian and international financial markets. It provides an overview of the major financial institutions, their roles and some problems they face, the major types of financial securities and the mechanisms under which they are traded. It is a helpful preparation for students thinking of taking the Canadian Securities Course.

Exclusion: ACT349HI, ECO358HI, ECO359HI

Prerequisite: COM110HI/RSM100Y1

RSM250HI Principles of Marketing (formerly MGT252HI) [26L]

Students receive an introduction to the basic concepts, theories, and methods of contemporary marketing. The course offers a comprehensive framework to develop successful marketing efforts and allows students to create a marketing plan. Specific topics examined: market research, consumer behaviour, segmentation, product policy, pricing, distribution, communications, sales, and direct marketing.

Exclusion: MGT252HI

Prerequisite: COM110HI/RSM100Y1

RSM260HI Organizational Behaviour (formerly MGT262HI) [26L]

Theoretical ideas and practical applications concerning the behaviour of individuals and groups in organizations. We explore relevant problems confronting management: motivation, influence, communication, supervision, decision-making, work force diversity.

Exclusion: MGT262HI, PSY332HI, WDWV260HI

Prerequisite: COM 110HI/RSM100Y1

RSM295Y0 Special Topics [26L]

RSM296Y0 Special Topics [26L]

The areas of concentration depend on the instructor teaching the course. (Offered only during the summer through the Woodsworth Summer Abroad Program)

RSM320HI Intermediate Financial Accounting II (formerly MGT322HI) [26L]

Covers broader areas in financial reporting, drawing upon regulatory documents and corporate communications. Topics include corporate reporting quality, employee future benefits, employee compensation disclosure and analysis, income tax accounting, narrative reporting. Emphasis on the context of financial reporting including an organization's 'tone at the top' and the adoption of international standards.

Exclusion: MGT322HI

Prerequisite: MGT224HI/RSM221HI

RSM321HI Advanced Financial Accounting Topics (formerly MGT426HI) [26L]

This course covers accounting issues and practices relating to long-term investments, consolidations, foreign transactions and foreign investments. International accounting issues are also introduced.

Exclusion: MGT426HI

Prerequisite: MGT322HI/RSM320HI

RSM322HI Management Accounting and Decision Making (formerly MGT323HI) [26L]

The course focuses on making managerial decisions based on cost information. The relationship between strategy and costing systems is explored and as are the economic characteristics which form the context for business decisions.

Exclusion: MGT323HI

Prerequisite: MGT223HI/RSM222HI

RSM323HI Auditing I (formerly MGT321HI) [26L]

This course introduces students to the concepts and theory underlying audit practice. Practical examples are used to help students develop skills in exercising professional judgment.

Exclusion: MGT321HI

Prerequisite: MGT224HI/RSM221HI, MGT393HI/RSM225HI

RSM324HI Canadian Income Taxation I (formerly MGT423HI) [26L, 26T]

This course gives a basic understanding of the Income Tax Act and its administration. Topics covered include administration of the tax system, residence, and the sources of income included in the computation of net income for individuals, partnerships, and corporations, computation of taxable income and taxes payable for individuals.

RSM422HI Management Control (formerly MGT428HI) [26L]

This course considers the processes and systems, many accounting-based, by which key managers allegedly ensure that resources are acquired and used effectively and efficiently in the accomplishment of an organization's goals.

Exclusion: MGT428HI

Prerequisite: MGT323HI/RSM322HI

RSM423HI Auditing II (formerly MGT421HI) [26L]

The course focuses on the reasoning and evidence theory underlying audit decision making. Coverage includes professional judgment, statistical auditing, framework for assurance engagements, and responsibilities to detect fraud.

Exclusion: MGT421HI

Prerequisite: MGT321HI/RSM323HI

RSM424HI Canadian Income Taxation II (formerly MGT429HI) [26L, 26T]

This course is designed to give the student an understanding of more complex issues of Canadian income tax law and tax planning. Topics include computation of corporate taxes, integration, corporate reorganizations, business acquisitions and divestitures, partnerships and trusts.

Exclusion: MGT429HI

Prerequisite: MGT423HI/RSM324HI

RSM426HI Critical Thinking, Analysis and Decision Making (formerly MGT420HI) [26L, 13T]

This is a capstone case course stressing the pervasive competencies and critical thinking skills required from Commerce graduates, professional accountants and advisors. The course integrates the technical and practical knowledge obtained in previous courses by applying this knowledge to case type situations. Aimed at students seeking an accounting designation.

Exclusion: MGT420HI

Prerequisite: MGT426HI/RSM321HI, MGT323HI/RSM322HI, MGT321HI/RSM323HI, MGT423HI/RSM324HI

RSM427HI Auditing and Information Systems (formerly MGT422HI) [26L]

This course investigates strategies and procedures used to audit computerized accounting systems based upon their special control characteristics. Special attention is devoted to computerized statistical procedures.

Exclusion: MGT422HI

Prerequisite: MGT321HI/RSM323HI

RSM428HI Analysis of Banking Financial Institutions and Instruments (formerly MGT427HI) [26L]

Covers financial analysis of firms in the financial services industries: accounting and disclosure rules for financial instruments. Gives an in-depth understanding of how financial reports provide fairly accurate information about the risks and performance of banks and other financial services firms.

Exclusion: MGT427HI

Prerequisite: MGT337Y1/RSM333HI, MGT426HI/RSM321HI

RSM430HI Fixed Income Securities (formerly MGT430HI) [26L]

Describes important fixed income securities and markets. The course emphasizes traditional bond and term structure concepts crucial to understand the securities traded in these markets. Students are required to work in the Rotman Financial Research & Trading Lab to solve the assigned problems using real time data.

Exclusion: MGT430HI

Prerequisite: MGT337Y1/RSM333HI/ACT 349HI

RSM432HI Risk Management for Financial Managers (formerly MGT432HI) [26L]

This course examines the ways in which risks are quantified and managed by financial institutions. The principal risks considered include market risk, credit risk and operational risk. The course also covers the evolution of bank regulation and the regulatory limits on risk taking.

Exclusion: MGT432HI

Prerequisite: MGT337Y1/RSM333HI

RSM433HI Advanced Corporate Finance (formerly MGT431HI) [26L]

Applying fundamental finance ideas developed in RSM332HI, 333HI to real-life problems. The course will focus on business valuation and financial decisions in practical situations, on the assumption that students are already familiar with basic concepts from previous finance courses.

Exclusion: MGT431HI

Prerequisite: ECO204Y1/206Y1, MGT337Y1/RSM333HI/ACT 349HI

RSM435HI Futures and Options Markets (formerly MGT438HI) [26L]

This course covers the analysis of derivative instruments such as forwards, futures, swaps and options. By the end of the course, students will have good knowledge of how these contracts work, how they are used and how they are priced.

Exclusion: ACT370HI, MGT438HI

Prerequisite: ECO204Y1/206Y1, MGT337Y1/RSM333HI

RSM437HI International Finance (formerly MGT439HI) [26L]

International financial markets, exchange rates, forward markets, interest rate parity. International dimensions of investment, including both portfolio and foreign direct investment. International dimensions of corporate finance, including valuation and the cost of capital of foreign investments.

Exclusion: MGT439HI

Prerequisite: ECO 204Y1/206Y1, MGT337Y1/RSM333HI/ACT349HI

RSM451HI Consumer Behaviour (formerly MGT455HI) [26L]

Formulating successful marketing strategies requires an understanding of consumers' cultures, motivations, cognitions, and emotions. Students will learn how to use theoretical perspectives from psychology, economics, anthropology, and other disciplines to generate predictions about consumers, interpret consumer reactions to marketing stimuli, and develop rigorous skills in marketing analysis.

Commerce

Exclusion: MGT455HI

Prerequisite: MGT353HI/RSM350HI

RSM452HI Marketing Research (formerly MGT453HI) [26L]

Marketing research is studied from the perspective of the marketing manager. The course focuses on the initiation, design, and interpretation of research as an aid to marketing decision making. Case studies and projects are used to provide students with some practical research experiences.

Prerequisite: MGT353HI/RSM350HI, ECO220Y1/ECO227Y1/(STA250HI, STA255HI)/(STA257HI, STA261HI)

RSM458HI Branding Strategy (formerly MGT452HI) [26L]

Students will assume the role of senior marketing managers responsible for the design, implementation, and evaluation of branding strategies. Brands represent valuable assets that must be created, sustained, leveraged, and defended. This course will use case analysis and a group project to reinforce successful decision making and communication skills.

Prerequisite: MGT455HI/453HI/RSM451HI/452HI

RSM460HI Human Resource Management (formerly MGT460HI) [26L]

Human resource management is studied from the perspective of the manager/practitioner. The course focuses on current theory and practices in the major functions of human resource management. Class exercises and projects are used to provide students with some practical HR experience.

Prerequisite: MGT363HI/RSM360HI/WDW 260HI

RSM461HI Managerial Negotiations (formerly MGT461HI) [26L]

Students learn to recognize, understand, analyze, and practice essential concepts in negotiations required for understanding more complex relations within and between organizations. The main objective is to learn how to analyze the critical factors of a negotiation situation and then to be able to prescribe a course of action.

Prerequisite: MGT363HI/RSM360HI

RSM470HI Management Science (formerly MGT475HI) [26L]

The course presents quantitative methods of modeling business and other systems in order to objectively evaluate available alternatives and select the 'best' one with respect to pre-defined criteria. Topics include: Decision Analysis, Linear Programming, Integer Programming, Network Methods, Simulation and Waiting Line Models.

Prerequisite: MGT374HI/RSM370HI

RSM480HI Business in a Global Economy (formerly MGT480HI) [26L]

Application of the analytic framework of international trade, foreign investment and exchange rate economics to management of business. Special topics include the industrial effects of trade liberalization, the role of the World Trade Organization, foreign exchange risk management, competition policy and international taxation.

Prerequisite: ECO208Y1/209Y1, MGT337Y1/RSM333HI

RSM481HI Organization Strategies (formerly MGT481HI) [26L]

Explores the issue of outsourcing, broadly defined: which activities should a firm do "in house" and which should it take outside? Using a combination of cases and economic analysis, it develops a framework for determining the "best" firm organization.

Prerequisite: MGT337Y1/RSM332HI

RSM482HI Market Strategies (formerly MGT482HI) [26L]

Applies game-theoretic reasoning to analyze business strategy problems, focusing specifically on pricing, advertising, product positioning, product introduction, and relationships with upstream and downstream firms.

Prerequisite: ECO208Y1/209Y1, MGT337Y1/RSM332HI

RSM490HI International Business (formerly MGT491HI) [26L]

Focuses on developing an understanding of the fundamentals of doing business in an international environment. Based on the application of management theory (trade theory, modes of entry, foreign direct investment, theory of the multinational) to the strategic management problems of organizing business in the international arena.

Prerequisite: MGT337Y1/RSM333HI

RSM493HI Entrepreneurship (formerly MGT493HI) [26L]

Introduces essentials of starting a new business: how to evaluate new opportunities, craft strategy, obtain resources, manage growth, and distribute ownership. Applies concepts from strategic management to challenges facing new/small businesses. Examines the role of entrepreneurs in spurring technological innovation and economic growth, and the effect of government policy on entrepreneurial activity.

Prerequisite: MGT252HI/RSM250HI, MGT337Y1/RSM333HI

RSM494HI Technology Strategy (formerly MGT494HI) [26L]

Teaches about technological evolution and how evolutionary stages impact firms' strategic choices. Important issues in technological evolution are technological discontinuities, standards wars, dominant designs and patenting. Important strategic decisions concern innovation management, product versus process focus and intellectual property strategies. Project oriented coursework based on patent and business data bases.

Prerequisite: MGT492HI/RSM392HI

RSM499Y1 Integrated Management Course (formerly MGT499Y1) [52L, 26T]

An experiential business simulation in which students form the executive committee of a fictitious company and compete in a virtual computer simulation. Students interact and work together as a team, guide a company to success and communicate with stakeholders by reporting to a board of directors composed of business executives.

Exclusion: MGT499H1, 499Y1

First Year Seminars: 199HI/YI Courses

---

First-Year Seminars: 199HI and 199YI Courses

Coordinator: Professor Suzanne Stevenson, Vice-Dean, Students and First-Year Seminar Office (416-978-0359)

Web site: www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate

The 199YI and 199HI seminars are designed to provide entering undergraduates with the opportunity to work closely with an instructor in a class of no more than twenty-four students. Each Seminar focuses on specific disciplinary or interdisciplinary issues, questions or controversies of particular interest to the instructor, and introduces the students to the excitement of discovery inherent in academic work at the University of Toronto. In addition, students are encouraged to develop their ability to think analytically and to express ideas and logical arguments clearly and coherently, both orally and in writing.

These interactive seminars are not designed as introductory surveys to a discipline or program. Rather, they are intended to stimulate the students' curiosity and provide an opportunity to get to know a member of the professorial staff in a seminar environment during the first year of study. Thus, students are encouraged to experience material and methods that are outside the area in which they will eventually concentrate in order to benefit fully from the scope and diversity of the Faculty of Arts and Science. All 199YI and 199HI seminars are described within the First-Year Handbook that is distributed to every newly admitted first-year student.

NOTE: 198HI may be used in circumstances where a student enrolls in two 199HI seminars.

All 199YI and 199HI seminars have generic designators HUM (HUManities) or SCI (SCIENCE) or SSC (Social SCIENCE), or INX (Interdisciplinary), according to the disciplinary content of the seminar.

All 199YI and 199HI courses count for degree credit in the same way as any other course. STUDENTS MAY ENROL IN ONLY ONE 199YI SEMINAR OR TWO 199HI SEMINARS. These courses can under most circumstances fulfill breadth requirements. For details see the Calendar (under Distribution Requirements, page 26) and the First-Year Handbook.

Research Opportunity Program: 299YI Courses

Coordinator: Professor Suzanne Stevenson, Vice-Dean Students and Research Opportunity Program Office (416-978-0359)

Web site: www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate

The Research Opportunity Program ("ROP") provides an opportunity for students in their second year (i.e., after completing at least four but not more than eight and a half courses) to earn one 299YI course credit by participating in a faculty member's research project.

Descriptions of ROP projects are in the ROP 299YI Project Binder in the ROP Office (Room 1067, Sidney Smith Hall, 100

St. George Street), and on the Faculty's web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate course in late February.

Students wishing to apply (to a maximum of five) for places in the ROP should submit ROP Application forms (found online) to UGResearchOpps@artsci.utoronto.ca by mid-March. Students will be informed in early May whether or not they have been accepted. Successful applicants will be registered in their 299YI course by the Program office.

A student may accept only one 299YI course. Each 299YI course will bear the three-letter designator of the department or program sponsoring it, e.g., ANT 299YI, CSB 299YI, etc. Not all departments or programs will necessarily participate in the ROP each year.

Students will be expected to keep a journal recording meetings, progress, and what was learned about the project in particular and the nature of research in general. Full details of 299YI course requirements are in the ROP 299YI Project Binders and online. For further information contact the Coordinator.

Summer Research Opportunities

A limited number of ROP 299YI courses are offered each summer. Applications for summer 299YIs are due in mid-March at the same time as fall/winter 299YIs.

Independent Experiential Study Program: 398H0/399Y0 Courses

Coordinator: Professor Suzanne Stevenson, Vice-Dean Students and Program Office (416-978-0359)

A limited number of 398H0/399Y0 courses are available each year. Faculty supervisors propose the projects and choose the students who apply for the projects as they now do for the 299YIs. They also sign a contract with the successful candidates as with the 299YI projects. Students must also attend a Safety Abroad Seminar offered by the Safety Abroad Office.

Students must normally have completed a minimum of nine FCEs and a maximum of thirteen and a half FCEs of their studies by the time they begin a 398H0/399Y0 project. The 398H0/399Y0 would be eligible to count towards program completion if the program sponsor (Chair or Director) so chooses. The 398H0/399Y0 would normally have a program-specific designator, such as ANT, CLA, CSB, VIC, etc.

The projects normally run within the May-August period, when both Faculty and students would be able to make the time commitments necessary. Regular tuition fees apply. The practical, experiential component can take the form of research/learning under the supervision of a faculty member in archives, laboratories, libraries, or in a field camp, etc. - but not in a classroom at another university (that is covered by the Faculty's summer abroad and exchange programs).

Details of individual 398H0/399Y0 projects will be available in the Program office and online at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate after March 1 each year.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

Aboriginal Studies participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation Initiative for Ojibwa. The study of Ojibwa is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience. Successful study of this language demonstrates intelligence, discipline, analytical sophistication, and an excellent memory. The study of any language provides invaluable insights into the varieties of human culture and expression.

In each language the Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success. The Citation in Ojibwa is available to students who complete ABS 210Y1 and earn a grade of at least B- in ABS 310Y1 and ABS 301Y1.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Aboriginal Studies Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), ABS courses are classified in different categories; check individual course descriptions.

Prerequisite: ABS 220YI

This is a Humanities course

ABS330YI Aboriginal Music: Technical and Theoretical Aspects [52L]

ABS331HI Aboriginal Music: Technical and Theoretical Aspects [26L]

Contemporary and historical musical performance practices of Aboriginal people of North and South America.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI

This is a Humanities course

ABS341HI North American Indigenous Theatre [26L]

An introduction to the evolution of Indigenous theatre in North America, examining traditional oratory, ceremony, community responsibility, and social construct and their impact on current Indigenous theatre.

Prerequisite: ABS300YI/301YI/331HI/DRM100Y

This is a Humanities course

ABS350YI Aboriginal Health Systems [52L]

An overview of Aboriginal health systems, internationally, nationally, provincially and locally, with a focus on Ontario. Discussion of health models and strategies, policy, legislation, jurisdictional issues, Aboriginal health initiatives

Prerequisite: ABS201YI/(UNI200HI + UNI210HI)

This is a Social Science course

ABS351YI Aboriginal Legends & Teaching (formerly ABS351HI) [26L]

An introduction to laws of Aboriginal societies, focusing on the Nishnabe, as seen through legends and teachings.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI

Exclusion: ABS351HI

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS352HI The Indian Act 26L

The history of the Indian Act from its creation to the present.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS353HI Aboriginal Perspectives in Canadian Politics and Law I [26L]

A study of the development of Aboriginal/Western relations from a legal and political standpoint and the evolution of Aboriginal issues and Native rights since contact. Aboriginal perspectives, customary law, restorative justice initiatives and self-government, effects of Canadian law on Indigenous beliefs and life ways, political and economic development potential.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI

Recommended preparation: a course in Canadian history or politics

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS354HI Aboriginal Perspectives in Canadian Politics and Law 2 [26L]

A continuation of ABS353HI.

Prerequisite: ABS353HI

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ABS399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

ABS402HI Traditional Indigenous Ecological Knowledge [39L]

An overview of the relationships between Indigenous peoples and their environments, including an exploration of cultural, historical, and contemporary aspects of Indigenous environmental philosophies; the nature, control and transmission of Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK), and historical uses of TEK in managing the environment.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI plus one additional ABS designator course

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS403HI Aboriginal People in Urban Areas [26L]

An examination of Aboriginal peoples' experiences in urban centres, including an examination of increasing Aboriginal migration to Canadian and American cities, government policy affecting off-reserve Indians, and urban Indians' concerns and goals.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI plus two additional full-course equivalents in ABS

ABS404HI Politics of Aboriginal Nursing [26L]

An examination of the impacts of policies and practices on the health of Aboriginal people in Canada which honours Native world view and traditions and values cultural safety. Includes historical and social determinants of health, historical events, policies and social realities and their consequences.

Prerequisite: Two full ABS courses plus permission of the instructor.

This is a Social Science course

Aboriginal Studies

---

ABS405YI Indigenous Thought & Expression: Creative Non-fiction [52S]

An investigation of (Anishnaabe, Iroquoian, Athapaskan, Salish), examined through the study of research and writing of creative-nonfiction.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI plus one additional ABS designator course and permission of instructor

This is a Humanities course

JFP450HI First Nations Issues in Health and Healing [28L]

An examination of issues about the health of Aboriginal people in Canada, providing an understanding of present day health issues from the perspective of their historical and political context and effects of health care policy. (Offered by the Faculty of Pharmacy)

ABS460Y Methodology in Aboriginal Studies [78L]

Basic methods in research in Aboriginal Studies, including oral tradition and community-based research, as well as discussion of ethics, protocols, priorities, and comparative Indigenous methodologies.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI + permission of the instructor + 4th year status in Specialist or Joint Specialist program in Aboriginal Studies.

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS495YI Independent Research [TBA]

ABS496HI Independent Research [TBA]

ABS497HI Independent Research [TBA]

ABS498YI Independent Research [TBA]

Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and the supervisor before enrolment in the course.

Available only when someone is willing and able to supervise.

Prerequisite: ABS201YI plus one additional ABS designator full-course equivalent

Millie Rotman Shime Academic Bridging Program

The Academic Bridging Program enables many mature students who are at least 20 years of age to pursue degree studies at the University of Toronto. The courses in the program are designed for students who have been away from formal education for some time and are intended to bridge the gap between a student's prior secondary education and the requirements of first year university courses. They feature study skills, essay writing skills, library research skills and the methodology of the specific academic discipline involved. Students are admitted by Woodsworth College to one of three Academic Bridging courses: ENG 185Y (Introduction to the Study of Literature), JWH 100Y (Canadian History), and JWU 100Y (Contemporary Canada).

Enquiries: Millie Rotman Shime Academic Bridging Program,
Woodsworth College (416-978-7487)

Academic Bridging Program Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

1. For Distribution Requirement purposes, see classification listed after each course.
2. Only students admitted to the Academic Bridging Program may enrol in these courses.

ENG185YI Introduction to the Study of Literature 78L

A writing intensive course that introduces essential rhetorical and critical skills, focusing on how to recognize major literary forms; how to read critically, comprehend more fully, analyze outstanding literary works of drama, poetry and fiction; how to write more clearly and effectively, and how to use the library to do research.

JWH100YI Canadian History 78L

This course is a survey of Canada's political, social, and economic history from European settlement to the present, featuring Canada's native peoples, Anglophone-Francophone issues, Canada's relations with Britain and the United States, and the growth of national institutions. Other themes include regionalism, immigration and multiculturalism.

JWU100YI Contemporary Canada 78L

This interdisciplinary course provides an introduction to contemporary Canadian society. The course includes the study of geography, politics, literature and culture through a historical framework of the twentieth century. It also emphasizes particular themes including aboriginal issues, regionalism, French-English conflict, gender/women's issues and immigration/multiculturalism.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course.

Actuarial Science is based upon the application of mathematical techniques to reduce the impact of such hazards as loss of income through death, disability, or retirement, or loss of property through fire, accident, or theft. Actuaries are the chief architects of life, health, and property insurance plans, and pension plans, and bear the major responsibility for their financial soundness. By using concepts from the areas of probabilities and finance, actuaries model, forecast and value the costs of benefits that will be provided to the participants in such plans. Methods developed for modeling insurance risk can also be applied to modeling investment risk, and actuaries apply their expertise to the valuation of sophisticated investment vehicles such as options on equities, bonds and other investment derivatives.

ACT 240HI, though somewhat technical, is a course of interest to a wide audience, since almost every student will from time to time be either a saver or a borrower, and will be covered by insurance and pension plans.. Other actuarial courses deal with more specialized topics, and are generally taken by students with a more serious interest in the field or who want to pursue a career as an actuary.

Professional accreditation as an actuary is obtained via the Canadian Institute of Actuaries by passing a series of examinations set by the Society of Actuaries or the Casualty Actuarial Society. Some professional requirements can be satisfied through courses in the actuarial program. For more information about actuarial studies and careers, contact Professor Broverman or Professor Lin.

Actuarial Science Programs

Enrolment in these programs requires completion of four courses including MAT 137Y1(55%)/157Y1 and ECO100Y1(70%).

Actuarial Science (Science program)

Consult Department of Statistics.

NOTE: it is the student's responsibility to meet any prerequisites for courses offered by other departments.

Specialist program

(13 courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This program is designed to prepare a student for professional work as an actuary, and more generally in the financial risk management industry.

First Year:

1. ECO 100Y1 (70%)
2. MAT 137Y1(55%)/157Y1
3. MAT 223HI/240HI (should be taken in first year)

Second Year:

1. ACT 240HI, 245HI, 247HI
2. MGT 120HI/201HI
3. MAT 237Y1/257Y1
4. ECO 206Y1
5. STA (257HI, 261HI)

Higher Years:

1. ACT348HI, 349HI, 370HI, 451HI, 455HI, 460HI, 466HI
2. One of: ACT 470HI, 471HI, 472HI
3. STA 302HI, 347HI, 457HI

NOTE:

In order to enroll in any 300- or 400-level ACT course, the minimum grade of C must be obtained in each of ACT240HI, ACT245HI and ACT247HI. These prerequisites will be strictly enforced.

4. ECO 208Y1 (strongly recommended); STA 352Y1; MAT 244HI, 246HI are recommended
5. Students in the Actuarial Science Specialist program who have successfully completed ACT 348HI may be eligible to enrol in the following MGT courses (provided the appropriate prerequisites and co-requisites are met): MGT 430HI, 431HI, 439HI
6. CSC 108HI recommended

Major program:

(8-8.5 courses or their equivalent, including at least two full-course equivalents at the 300+-level)

First Year:

1. MAT 137Y1 (55%)/157Y1
2. ECO 100Y1 (70%)
3. MAT 223HI/240HI (should be taken in first year)

Higher Years:

1. MGT 120HI/201HI
2. ACT 240HI, 245HI, 247HI, 348HI, 370HI
3. MAT 237Y1/257Y1
4. STA (257HI, 261HI)
5. Two of: ACT349HI, 451HI, 455HI, 460HI, STA302HI, 347HI, 457HI

Actuarial Science Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), ACT courses are classified as Science courses

ACT230HI Mathematics of Finance for Non-Actuaries [26L, 13T]

Introduction to financial mathematics, interest measurement, present value calculation, annuity valuation, loan amortization, consumer financing arrangements, bond valuation. The course is aimed at a general audience who will not be continuing in the actuarial science program.

Prerequisite: First-year Calculus

Exclusion: ACT240HI

ACT240HI Mathematics of Investment & Credit [26L, 13T]

Interest, discount and present values, as applied to determine prices and values of annuities, mortgages, bonds, equities; loan repayment schedules and consumer finance payments in general; yield rates on investments given the costs on investments.

Prerequisite: MAT133YI/135YI/137YI/157YI

ACT245HI Financial Principles for Actuarial Science I [26L, 13T]

Term structure of interest rates, cashflow duration, convexity and immunization, forward and futures contracts, interest rate swaps, introduction to investment derivatives and hedging strategies.

Co-requisite: MAT237YI, STA257HI

ACT247HI Introductory Life Contingencies [39L]

Probability theory applied to survival and to costs and risks of life assurances, life annuities, and pensions; analysis of survival distributions; international actuarial notation.

Prerequisite: ACT240HI; MAT 137YI/157YI; STA257HI

Co-requisite: MAT237YI

ACT348HI Advanced Life Contingencies [39L]

Determination of benefit premium and benefit reserves for life insurance and annuities; analysis of insurance loss random variables; theory of life contingencies for multiple lives.

Prerequisite: ACT240HI (minimum grade C); ACT245HI

(minimum grade C); 247HI (minimum grade C);

(STA257HI, 261HI); MAT237YI

ACT349HI Corporate Finance for Actuarial Science Mathematics [26L, 13T]

Actuarial applications of financial mathematics and economics.

(minimum grade C); 247HI (minimum grade C); (STA257HI, 261HI); MAT237YI; ECO206YI

Exclusion: ECO358HI, 359HI, MGT331YI, 337YI

ACT370HI Financial Principles for Actuarial Science II [39L]

Mathematical theory of financial derivatives, discrete and continuous option pricing models, hedging strategies and exotic option valuation.

Prerequisite: ACT240HI (minimum grade C); ACT245HI

(minimum grade C); 247HI (minimum grade C);

(STA257HI, 261HI); MAT237YI

Exclusion: MGT438HI

ACT398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ACT399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

This is a Science course.

ACT451HI Loss Models [39L]

Loss models and their estimation, mixture distributions, compound distributions, partial insurance, stop-loss insurance, censoring and truncation of data, product-limit estimation, Cox proportional hazard model.

Pre- or co-requisite: ACT348HI; STA347HI, STA261HI

ACT452HI Loss Models II [39L]

Estimation of Loss and Survival Models using complete, censored and truncated data. Product-Limit estimation, empirical estimation, moment and percentile estimation, maximum likelihood estimation and simulation models.

Prerequisite: ACT451HI

ACT455HI Advanced Topics in Actuarial Science [39L]

Advanced life contingencies, multiple decrement theory, insurance policy expenses, multi-state transition models, Poisson processes.

Prerequisite: ACT348HI; STA347HI

ACT460HI Stochastic Methods for Actuarial Science [39L]

Applications of the lognormal distribution, Brownian motion, geometric Brownian motion, martingales, Ito's lemma, stochastic differential equations, interest rate models, the Black-Scholes model, volatility, value at risk, conditional tail expectation.

ACT466HI Credibility and Simulation [39L]

Limited fluctuation credibility, Bayesian estimation, Buhlmann credibility, non-parametric credibility methods, inverse transformation simulation method, specialized simulation methods for the normal and lognormal distributions, Monte Carlo methods, the bootstrap method.

Prerequisite: ACT451HI; STA347HI

ACT470HI Advanced Pension Mathematics [39L]

Topics in pension mathematics; funding methods for pension plans. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: ACT348HI or permission of instructor

Corequisite: ACT455HI

ACT471HI Actuarial Applications of Finance [39L]

Assets, liability and investment management for pension plans. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: ACT349HI / MGT337YI / (ECO 358HI, ECO 359HI) or permission of instructor

ACT472HI Issues in Actuarial Practice [39L]

Practical issues that arise for insurance, pension and casualty actuaries.

Prerequisite: ACT348HI

ACT496HI Readings in Actuarial Science [TBA]

ACT497HI Readings in Actuarial Science [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

Actuarial Science

ACT498Y1 Readings in Actuarial Science [TBA]

ACT499Y1 Readings in Actuarial Science [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member.

Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

American Studies (USA)

The American Studies Program is designed to provide students with a broad, yet deep, education about the United States. To ensure breadth, students are required to take an interdisciplinary core course that ranges widely both with respect to the themes covered and disciplinary perspectives applied. As well, the Program offers a wide selection of courses from participating departments and programs in the Faculty, giving students broad exposure to fundamental themes of American life. To ensure depth, the American Studies Program relies heavily on upper level courses, including its own capstone seminars at the 400-level.

American Studies Program

Enrolment in the programs listed below is open to students who have completed four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

American Studies (Arts program)

Consult Prof. Elspeth Brown, Room 327N, Munk Centre for International Studies (416-946-8011) for general program requirements.

Major program:

(6 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses and at least three disciplines)

Second year:

1. HIS 271YI/ENG 250YI/POL 203YI

Third year:

2. USA 300YI

Second, third, or fourth year:

3. Four courses from the following: ABS302HI, 341HI, 403HI, 405YI; ANT362YI, 365HI; DRM310HI; ECO 307HI, 423HI; ENG 254YI, 268HI, 275YI, 360HI, 363YI, 364YI, 368HI, 434HI/435HI/436HI, 437YI/438YI; FAH 375HI; GGR 240HI, 254HI, 336HI, 339HI; HIS 106YI, 202HI, 316HI, 327HI, 365HI, 369YI, 370HI, 374HI, 375HI, 376HI, 377YI, 378HI, 379HI, 389HI, 393HI, 401YI, 404HI, 408YI, 436HI, 447YI, 471HI, 473YI, 475HI, 476HI, 478HI, 479YI, 484HI; INI 225YI, 322HI, 324YI, 383HI, 429HI, 460HI, 463HI, 482YI, 483HI, 484HI; MUS 230HI, 306H, 315HI, POL 319YI, 326YI, 349YI, 420YI, 433YI; RLG 315HI, 442HI; USA 400HI, 401HI, 494HI, 495YI

NOTE: Other 300+ series courses with American content may be allowed; students should seek early approval of program credit for such courses.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course and at least two disciplines)

Second year:

1. HIS 271YI/ENG 250YI/POL 203YI

Third year:

2. USA 300YI

Second, third, or fourth year:

3. Two courses from the following: ABS302HI, 341HI, 403HI, 405YI; ANT362YI, 365HI; DRM310HI; ECO 307HI, 423HI; ENG 254YI, 268HI, 275YI, 360HI, 363YI, 364YI, 368HI, 434HI/435HI/436HI, 437YI/438YI; FAH 375HI; GGR 240HI, 254HI, 336HI, 339HI; HIS 106YI, 202HI, 316HI, 327HI, 365HI, 369YI, 370HI, 374HI, 375HI, 376HI, 377YI, 378HI, 379HI, 389HI, 393HI, 401YI,

404HI, 408YI, 436HI, 447YI, 471HI, 473YI, 475HI, 476HI, 478HI, 479YI, 484HI; INI 225YI, 322HI, 324YI, 383HI, 429HI, 460HI, 463HI, 482YI, 483HI, 484HI; MUS 230HI, 306H, 315HI, POL 319YI, 326YI, 349YI, 420YI, 433YI; RLG 315HI, 442HI; USA 400HI, 401HI, 494HI, 495YI

NOTE: Other 300+ series courses with American content may be allowed; students should seek early approval of program credit for such courses.

American Studies Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

The Distribution Requirement status (see page 26) is listed below each course description.

USA300YI Thinking about the U.S.A. [52L, 26T]

An interdisciplinary introduction to the practice of American Studies organized around key periods in the history of the United States in which Americans reinvented themselves, thought in novel ways about who they were, and redrew the boundaries that defined citizenship and membership in the nation. This course illustrates the multi-disciplinary nature of American Studies, creating a conversation about the United States using materials and approaches from history, literature, cultural studies, economics and political science.

Prerequisite: HIS 271YI/ENG 250YI/POL 203YI

Exclusion: USA 200YI

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA400HI Topics in American Studies I [26S]

In depth examination of specific themes relating to American Studies.

Prerequisite: At least two courses from the American Studies list

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA401HI Topics in American Studies II [26S]

In depth examination of specific themes relating to American Studies.

Prerequisite: At least two courses from the American Studies list

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA494HI Independent Studies

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA495YI Independent Studies

Anthropology is concerned with human biological, social, and cultural development. This broad mandate has led to the division of the discipline into four distinctive areas of research.

Archaeology studies surviving evidence of people's activities in the past. From the excavation of sites and the analysis of artifacts uncovered, archaeologists draw conclusions about the organization of social groups, their adaptations to environment, and their spatial and temporal relations. General research topics include the origins of culture and technology, adaptations to extreme climates, the peopling of the New World, development of food production and political inequality in the Old and New Worlds.

Linguistic and Semiotic Anthropology studies how language and other systems of human communication contribute to the reproduction, transmission, and transformation of culture. It is concerned with the role of language and other communicative systems in reproducing and transforming such aspects of society as power relations, ideology, subcultural expression, as well as class, gender and ethnic identity.

Biological Anthropology is the study of the biological diversity of humans, the history of this diversity, and the biological relationships between humans and non-human primates. Major foci in Biological (Physical) Anthropology include Human Biology, the study of modern humans; Osteology, the study of the human skeleton; Paleoanthropology, the study of human evolution; and Primatology, the study of non-human primates. Biological anthropologists integrate biological and social variables in their explanations of the effects of evolution on humans and other primates.

Social and Cultural Anthropology: traditionally, Social Anthropology dealt with non-literate and isolated societies, which could be observed in their totality. Today, many social anthropologists also study such aspects of complex societies as peasantry, ethnic minorities, and industrial work groupings. Institutions and models of social behaviour are compared cross-culturally to establish more general concepts and theories.

Careers in Anthropology emphasize either theoretical, academic aspects or practical applications. Most institutions involved in teaching and research require anthropologists with a Ph.D. For practical applications, at least an M.A. is usually required. The Undergraduate Program provides excellent preparation for business or public service careers in which international and human diversity issues are important. Courses in anthropology provide a unique grounding and can be fruitfully combined with courses in a wide variety of other disciplines.

Anthropology Building, 19 Russell Street, Room 258 (416-978-6414).

Anthropology Programs

Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Programs is limited to students with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above. Students may enroll at the end of First Year, or at any later time if they have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above.

PLEASE NOTE THAT NOT ALL COURSES ARE OFFERED EVERY YEAR. CONSULT THE CURRENT TIMETABLE FOR COURSE OFFERINGS.

* Note: ANT courses are those offered with the following prefixes: ANT, ABS, ARH, JAC, JAL, JAP and JPA.

Anthropology Courses

Anthropology offers Social Science and Science Courses; below are first, Social Science courses, then Science courses.

Anthropology Social Science Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

SSC199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

SSC199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first-year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

ANT100YI Introduction to Anthropology [52L]

Society and culture from various anthropological perspectives: socio-cultural, biological, archaeological, and linguistic.

ANT200YI Introduction to Archaeology (52L, 26P)

Cultures in the Old and New Worlds from an archaeological perspective. Principles of prehistoric research are applied to archaeological information, from the Early Pleistocene to the beginning of written history.

Recommended Preparation: ANT100YI

ANT204YI Social & Cultural Anthropology [52L, 26T]

Basic approaches to the understanding of social and cultural organization in societies of varying complexity. Comparative social institutions: economic, political, familial, and ritual. Belief systems and symbolic thought, the individual in society, sources of stability and change in socio-cultural systems. Anthropological perspectives on current social issues.

ANT 210HI Craft of Social/Cultural Anthropology [26S]

This course introduces students to the skills they need to read theory, conduct research, write essays, and do presentations in the field of social/cultural anthropology. The emphasis is on interactive, small group learning. The course is highly recommended for students pursuing a specialist in social/cultural anthropology.

ANT253HI Language & Society [26L]

This course introduces linguistic analysis with a view towards its application to the study of the relation between culture and social structure. The interplay of pronunciation, grammar, semantics, and discourse with rituals, ideologies, and constructions of social meaning and worldview are discussed in tandem with the traditional branches of linguistic analysis—phonology, morphology, grammar, syntax, and semantics. The objective of the course is to provide a broad framework for understanding the role of language in society.

Exclusion: JAL253HI

ANT299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

ARH305HI Archaeological Interpretation

See Archaeology

ANT311YI Archaeological Fieldwork [TBA]

Practical field training through six weeks of excavation on an archaeological site. Basic principles of artifact handling and classification. (Offered only in Summer Session)

Prerequisite: ANT200YI

ARH312YI Archaeological Laboratory

See Archaeology

ANT315HI Arctic Archaeology [26L]

Archaeology and ethnohistory of Arctic cultures. Emphasis is on variation in social organization, settlement pattern, economy, ideology, and interaction with the expanding European world-system.

ANT316HI Ancient Cultures of Mesoamerica [26L]

This course provides an introduction to the cultures of Mesoamerica, from the first arrival of indigenous peoples to the appearance of the Spaniards in the sixteenth century. Students will become acquainted with cultures including Olmec, Zapotec, Teotihuacan, Maya, and Aztec, while also considering issues of method and evidence.

Prerequisite: ANT200YI

This is a Social Science course.

ANT317HI Archaeology of Eastern North America [26L]

This course examines the precontact and early contact period culture history of eastern North America, including Ontario, through archaeological evidence. Topics covered include the earliest peopling of the region at the end of the Ice Age, diversity of hunter-gatherer societies, introduction of agriculture, and the development of the dynamic First Nations societies who eventually met and interacted with Europeans. Prerequisite: ANT 200Y

This is a Social Science course.

ANT319YI Archaeology of North America (formerly ANT 310YI) [52L]

This course examines human prehistory in North America, North of Mexico, from the time of earliest occupation to European contact. Special topics include Paleoindian and Archaic adaptations, the rise of complex hunter-gatherers, origins of farming and the evolution of complex chiefdoms.

ANT322HI Anthropology of Youth Culture [26L]

This course will present various perspectives on the nature and dynamics of youth culture. It will discuss the research accumulated over the past quarter century on youth lifestyles, from fashion and music to the formation and spread of slang. It will also look at the various critical and controversial aspects of adolescence in contemporary culture.

ANT323YI Social Theory through Contemporary Culture [52L, 26T]

Theories of culture and society, with examples from ordinary life and fantasy and their popular expressions.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI/ANT253HI/ one other 200+ course in ANT/SOC

ANT324HI Tourism & Globalization (formerly ANT443HI) [26L]

The course uses tourism as a lens to examine global connections. Particular focus will be on the politics of cultural encounters. Drawing examples from diverse ethnographic materials, the course explores how different visions of the world come into contact, negotiated and transformed, and how tourist encounters shape people's everyday lives.

Exclusion: ANT 443HI

Prerequisite: ANT204Y plus any 300-level course in Social-Cultural or Linguistic Anthropology

This is a Social Science course.

JAL328HI Writing Systems [26L]

Introduction to writing systems; their historical development, their relationship to language, and their role in culture and society. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: ANT100YI/LIN100YI

ANT329HI Language & Power Structure (formerly ANT329YI) [26L]

The role of language and symbolism in the representation and manipulation of ideology and power structure. Case materials drawn from the study of verbal arts, gender, law, ethnic relations, consumption patterns, advertising, and politics with a focus on North America.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI/ANT253HI/ one of 200+ series "YI" course in SOC/POL/Women's Studies

Exclusion: ANT329YI

ANT340HI Anthropology of Latin America [26L]

Provides a framework for understanding current anthropological issues in the different geo-political regions of Latin America. Special attention will be paid to historical/ conceptual development of the discipline in the region, and the course will introduce a debate about the death and "resurgence" of area studies.

ANT 341HI China in Transition (formerly ANT 341YI) [26L]

This course offers a general introduction to contemporary China in a global context from an anthropological perspective. This year-long course covers four major aspects of Chinese culture and society: Political Economy, Social Relations, Modernities and Modernization, and Overseas Chinese.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI

ANT343HI Social Anthropology of Gender (formerly ANT 343YI) [26L]

Social anthropological perspectives on variations in gender roles and systems. Examines, through comparison of ethnography, the relationship of gender to social organization, economic and political processes, belief systems and social change.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT346HI Anthropology of Food [26L]

Social anthropological perspective on the nature and meaning of food production, culinary cultures, industrial food, food as metaphor, and famine and hunger.

Prerequisite: ANT100YI/204YI

ANT347YI Metropolis: Global Cities [52L]

The role of culture, cultural diversity, space and performance in urban institutions and settings. The cultural context and consequence of urbanization.

ANT348HI Anthropology of Health (formerly ANT 348YI) [26L]

Aspects of health and disease in cross-cultural perspective. Critical views on the interface between conventional "western" medicine and alternative, indigenous, and traditional therapeutic systems.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT349HI Globalization & Underdevelopment [26L]

The contribution of ethnographic study to the understanding of regional disparities within Western and Third World nations. The inter-relationship between persistent economic underdevelopment, expressions of regional identity and class formation by reference to comparative ethnographic examples.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT350HI Globalization and the Changing World of Work [26L]

The course uses ethnographic material to examine the ways in which global forces have changed the nature of work in different sites since World War Two - North America, Europe, and the countries of the South are selectively included.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

Anthropology

ANT352YI South Asia: Practices, Theories, Representations [ 52L]

This course examines key themes in the constitution of South Asia as an area for ethnographic analysis. The first half analyzes classic texts in the anthropology of South Asia, examining the rise of gatekeeping concepts such as caste, the village, collectivity, and patriarchal social organization. The second half focuses on ethnographies of popular culture, sexuality and gender and political mobilizations.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

This is a Social Science course.

ANT 353HI Anthropology of Indigeneity, Primary Resources and Environment in Canada [26L]

The course will focus on the dynamic interplay between developments in Canadian Indigenous rights, contested understandings of the environment and primary resource exploration/development in mining, forestry and hydro. The changing relationship is challenging industry to re-think social/environmental responsibility, local vs national equity with implications beyond the Aboriginal community.

ANT354YI Japan in Global Context: Anthropological Perspectives [52L]

This course examines how what we know as Japan and its culture has been constructed through various types of global interactions. The course uses popular culture, travel encounters and transnational capitalism as lenses for analyzing the dynamics of Japanese society. Topics include gender and sexuality, race and ethnicity, social and family life, work and leisure, and Japanese identity amid changing global power relations. The focus will be on cultural politics: how competing ideas of Japanese society are expressed through particular cultural practices, and how people engage with these practices in order to negotiate their positions in the world.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

This is a Social Science course.

JAL355HI Language and Gender [26L]

An introduction to some of the principal questions of feminist theory, as viewed from sociolinguistics. Topics include: socialization into gendered discourse patterns, cultural and ethnic differences in gendered interactions; the role of language and gender in legal, medical and labour settings; multilingualism, migration, imperialism and nationalism; sexuality, desire and queer linguistics, language, gender and globalization.

ANT356HI Anthropology of Religion [26L]

This course introduces anthropological definitions of religion; debates on rituals and rites of passage; rationality, religion and modernity; belief and body; religion and the media. It also engages with studies in the anthropology of popular and transnational religion, and the politics of religious movements.

ANT357HI Cultures of U.S. Empire [26L]

Anthropological perspectives on how continental and overseas expansion and conquest have shaped the cultures of the U.S. and of those it has dominated within and beyond its borders. Topics include interventions into health and education of colonized groups, sport and imperial masculinity, culture of U.S. military bases/cities, living with "terror."

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT358HI Medical Anthropology and Social Justice [26L]

It is widely acknowledged that sharp disparities in disease burden and access to medical care characterize global patterns in health. These disparities affect the life chances of much of the world's population, based on class position, gender, and geographical region.

ANT359HI Culture and Difference [13L, 10T]

The concept of culture in historical and current debates about difference between human beings. The relationship between anthropological and other treatments of difference (psychoanalytical, philosophical, literary, and artistic). Political implications: multiculturalism, separatism, imperialism.

Prerequisite: At least two 200-level courses in the humanities or social sciences.

Recommended preparation: ANT 204YI

ARH360YI Prehistory of the Near East [52L]

See Archaeology

ARH361HI Field Archaeology TBA

See Archaeology

ANT362YI Anthropological Studies of Poverty, Social Inequality and the U.S. State [52L]

This course examines the growing field of U.S. anthropology through ethnographic studies focusing on state institutions and patterns of social inequality. Particular emphasis is placed on research examining local models of governance, policing, immigration reform, unionization and social assistance programs in the context of shifting governmental policies.

ANT363YI Anthropology of State Societies [52L, 26T]

Origins, history and internal dynamics of early and modern state societies, examined with a view to placing our own system in an historical and comparative perspective. Case studies include material from Africa, Asia, the Americas and Europe.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT364YI Environment & Globalization [52L]

This course will examine the relationships between humans and the environment in the context of contemporary efforts to 'develop' within or in opposition to the political economy of neoliberal globalization. We will critically examine the discourses of progress and environment within a broader theoretical inquiry of structure/agency and power.

ANT365HI Native America and the State (formerly ANT365YI) [26L]

Culture areas and types existing in precontact and early contact times in North America; problems arising out of contacts between North American Indians and Euroamericans.

Exclusion: ANT 365YI

ANT366HI Anthropology of Social Movements: Theory and Method (formerly ANT366YI) [26L, 13T]

Explores how anthropologists have traditionally studied social movements and how new social movements have challenged anthropologists to rethink some of their ethnographic methods and approaches. Some specific movements covered include those related to indigenous rights, environmentalism, refugees, gay and lesbian issues, biotechnology, new religions, and globalization.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

Exclusion: ANT366YI

ANT367YI Indigenous Spirituality [52L]

This course focuses upon religion and spirituality amongst peoples with a direct, experiential relationship to the world. The first term examines case studies from Australia, Native North America and Africa; the second term examines aspects of the "world religions".

Prerequisite: ANT204YI/RLG201YI

ANT395Y0 Special Topics in Anthropology [52S]

ANT396Y0 Special Topics in Anthropology [52S]

Studies in anthropology taken abroad. Areas of concentration vary depending on the instructor and year offered.

Recommended Preparation: ANT 100YI/204YI

ANT398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ANT399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

JAL401HI Field Linguistics [52P]

Practice in language analysis based on elicited data from a native speaker of a foreign language, emphasizing procedures and techniques. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: Completion of LIN322HI, 331HI except for students in their final year where LIN331HI is a corequisite.

ANT406HI Lithic Analysis [26L, 13P]

Core reduction strategies, replication, experimental archaeology, use-wear, design approaches, ground stone, inferring behaviour from lithic artifacts.

Prerequisite: ANT200YI, ARH312YI, 305HI

ANT409HI Archaeology of Landscapes & Regions [26L, 13P]

The survey and spatial analysis of archaeological evidence over territories larger than individual camps, villages or towns. Settlement systems, regional exchange and communication, rank-size analysis, nearest neighbour analysis etc.

Prerequisite: ARH305HI

Recommended preparation: GGR270HI

ANT410HI Hunter-Gatherers Past & Present [26S]

Examines the diversity of recent hunter-gatherer societies, as a source of analogues for understanding the archaeological record of past foraging peoples.

Prerequisite: ARH305HI

ANT411HI Advanced Archaeological Theory [26S]

Seminar in the critical examination of major schools of archaeological thought.

Prerequisite: ARH305HI

ANT412HI Historical Archaeology [26L, 13P]

Introduces the problems, methods and some of the material culture of colonial and industrial archaeology with emphasis on Canada and colonial America. Covers the use of documentary evidence, maps, architecture, and a variety of artifact classes.

Prerequisite: ANT200YI/HIS374HI/384HI

ANT415YI Laboratory in Faunal Archaeo-Osteology [52S, 52P]

Examination and interpretation of faunal material from archaeological sites as evidence for culture.

Prerequisite: ARH312YI

ANT417HI Archaeology of Settlements & Households [26L]

Methods for studying the socio-spatial aspects of the archaeological evidence for households and communities.

Prerequisite: ANT200YI, ARH305HI

ANT419HI Current Debates in Palaeolithic Archaeology [26S]

Current research in Palaeolithic Archaeology reflecting emerging issues.

Prerequisite: ANT 200YI or ANT 203YI

ANT420HI Archaeology of Inequality [26L]

How social complexity is manifested in the archaeological record. Origins and evolution of prehistoric complex societies, from small-scale chiefdoms to large-scale states.

Prerequisite: ANT200YI, ARH305HI

ANT421HI Royal Courts of the Ancient New World [26L]

This course examines the institution of the royal court in the ancient New World as a nexus for negotiation of power and assertion of cultural identity. Case studies concentrate on the Maya; Aztec and Inca cultures provide important comparative contexts. We also explore the integration of textual and material evidence in investigating ancient cultures.

Prerequisite: ARH305HI

This is a Social Science course.

ANT425HI Language in Anthropological Thought [26L]

How ideas about language fit into the overall views of humankind as expressed by selected anthropologists, linguists, sociologists, and philosophers.

Exclusion: ANT425YI

Prerequisite: ANT204YI/ ANT253HI

ANT426HI Orientalism: Western Views of of Muslims and Jews [39L]

Language and imagery representing the "oriental" in the West. Emphasis on representations of the "Semites", the Islamic peoples of North Africa, the Middle East and South Asia, as well as the Jews from the mid-nineteenth to the mid-twentieth century.

Prerequisite: ANT323YI/329HI/any 300-level course in INI/VIC/ NMC/Jewish Studies

ANT427HI Language, Ideology, & Political Economy [26S]

Theoretical and empirical studies on the role of language in the reproduction and transformation of ideology, hegemony and political economy. Topics may include language & colonialism, imperialism, globalization, nationalism, racism, sexism, bureaucratic interactions, environmentalism, migration, gentrification. Compares and contrasts critical discourse analytic and linguistic anthropological approaches to method and politics.

Anthropology

Prerequisite: ANT 253HI

Recommended Preparation: ANT 329HI

ANT431HI Mortuary Practices in the Archaeological Record [26L]

Death is the only rite of passage that leaves frequent archaeological traces, through burial and mortuary rituals. It provides us with a rare opportunity to move beyond material culture and look into the cognitive, ritual and ideological aspects of a past human group, bringing archaeology closer to addressing anthropological questions. As we learn how to examine cultural identity, represented through burial and ancestral ritual, and biological reality of demographic, occupational and pathological conditions, the course will provide students with an understanding of the interpretative potential of the human skeleton as a central feature of any burial. The course is of interest to archaeological and biological anthropology students but is not limited to these two fields..

Prerequisite: Any 300-level course from Group A or C

This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT440HI Society in Transition [26L]

An exploration of the conceptual tools used to understand reflexive modernity. Focus on the articulated web of global and local networks that produce simultaneously inequalities and potentially new identities and collectivities.

Exclusion: ANT440YI

Prerequisite: ANT204YI, at least one area course in anthropology

ANT442HI Anthropology and New Technologies [26L]

The relationship between technology and culture through a focus on reproductive, genetic and communications technologies.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI, a 300 level, or above, Social Cultural Anthropology course

ANT444YI Research Methods in Social & Linguistic Anthropology [52S]

Social and linguistic anthropological approaches to research in urban settings. Methodology, field techniques and research ethics. Students must formulate and complete a field research project.

ANT445HI Science as Culture and Practice [26S]

This course examines science and technology from an anthropological perspective. Throughout the course, in addition to introducing major concepts of science studies, we will examine multiple "concrete things," like computers as cultural artifacts, connected to wider social, political, economic, ideological, and cultural contexts.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI

Recommended Preparation: one science course

ANT446HI Anthropology of Western Europe: Issues and Ideas (formerly ANT 446YI) [26L]

Europe is a landmass and a (transnational) collection of people – in both cases rather vaguely defined. Europe is also an idea, one often closely associated with "western civilization". So if anthropology is a combination of the ethnographic study of a place and its people, and also the critical study of a culture, then certainly both of these perspectives could usefully be applied to a course on Europe. Both of these dimensions are also of pressing concern to within Europe today.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT447HI Aboriginal Australia [26S]

The course investigates the nature and significance, in history and the history of ideas, of the ways of life of the Australian Aborigines. The emphasis is on the influence of religion and music on the economic, political and social organization of the people.

Prerequisite: ANT 367YI/permission of the instructor

ANT448HI Ethnicity & Nationalism [26S]

An examination of theories and critique of ethnicity and nationalism from an anthropological perspective. The problem of the cultural context of ethnicity. Case studies.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI, one 300-level course in Social Cultural or Linguistic Anthropology

ANT450HI Anthropological Approaches to Environmentalism [26S]

Comparative examination of human ecological adaptations, livelihood strategies, spiritual and cultural values and their relation to environmental maintenance or degradation. Explores contemporary "grass roots" environmental movements and ideologies.

ANT452HI Anthropology & Human Rights [26S]

The concept of human rights in its universal claims rises fundamental questions for anthropology as it challenges a central value of the discipline: cultural relativism. Students are asked to consider epistemological and theoretical questions and case studies (e.g. claims of rights by ethnic collectivities).

Prerequisite: ANT204YI, one 300 level social-cultural/linguistic ANT course

ANT454HI The Anthropology of Music & Art (formerly ANT360YI) [26S]

This course investigates the connection between religion, music and society from an anthropological point of view. The primary focus is on societies where music is seen by people as the principal vehicle for religious expression. Examination of religions and musics of Australian aboriginal, Melanesian, Native North America, African societies, others.

Prerequisite: ANT367YI

Exclusion: ANT360YI

ANT455YI International Health: Anthropological Perspectives [52L]

This course examines international health, focusing on the health problems of "third world" populations and the contributions and critiques provided by medical anthropology. Topics include: the political ecology of infectious disease, disease eradication campaigns, population policy and reproductive health, the AIDS pandemic, and the quest for culturally appropriate interventions.

Prerequisite: ANT348HI

ANT456HI Sexuality, Culture and Movement [26L]

This course explores, first, how and where forms of desire and sexual practice have become sites of anthropological inquiry and exemplars of particular cultural logics. Tracing, then, the "transnational turn" in the anthropology of sexuality, the course engages important debates about culture, locality, and globalization. By focusing on the transnational movement of desires, practices, and pleasures through activism, mass media, and tourism, the course asks how sex is global and how globalization is thoroughly sexed. Course material will stress, but not be limited to, forms of same-sex or otherwise “queer” sexualities.

Exclusion: ANT343HI/YI

Prerequisite: ANT 204Y plus any 300-level course in Social-Cultural or Linguistic Anthropology

This is a Social Science course.

ANT459HI Maps and Places [26L]

A study of the cross-cultural meaning of two-dimensional representations of space and the socio-political relevance of place.

ANT460HI Global Perspectives on Women’s Health [26S]

This fourth-year seminar examines how female gender shapes health and illness. Using case studies of sexual health, fertility and its management, substance use/abuse, mental health, and occupational/labor health risks, the course investigates the material, political, and socio-cultural factors that can put women at risk for a range of illness conditions.

Prerequisite: ANT 343HI/348HI

ANT461YI The History of Anthropology and the Limits of Theory [52L]

History and development of theories which underlie contemporary anthropology.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI

ANT462HI Anthropology and the Intimate: Studies in Affect and Action [26S]

This course examines how anthropologists have studied the way that people hope, imagine, love, and despise. Ethnography of “the intimate” realms of affect raises important questions about knowledge production and methodology as well as offering insight into how people come to act upon the world and what the human consequences of such action are. The course will also examine how “the intimate” is socially produced and harnessed in the service of politics and culture. Topics will include grief and its lack; dreams and activism; love and social change; memory and imperialism; sexuality and care; and violence and hope.

ANT463HI Native Rights, Canadian Law [26S]

Drawing on ethnographies, anthropological theories of social change and case law, the course will explore recent Canadian legal decisions dealing with Native issues and review how the Indigenous argument for Aboriginal difference (land and treaty rights, customary law, self-governance) is shaped in legal contexts and affects changes to the practice of Aboriginality in Canada.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI

ANT464HI Anthropology of Oral History and Narrative [26S]

This course reviews the issues in theory and practice of oral history and narratives, examining the multiple forms of oral evidence, its reliability, and strategies for compilation and analysis of oral data. One important component of the course will be the conducting of interviews.

Prerequisite: ANT 204Y and one other anthropology course from Group D

ANT465HI Anthropology of Subjectivity [26S]

This course explores themes such as the emergence of political and religious imaginaries; the relationship between anthropology and psychoanalysis; anthropology of transnational and diasporic subjectivity; affect and violence; subjectivity and the state.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI and at least one other 300+ social-cultural anthropology course

ANT466HI The Philippines and the Filipino Diaspora [26S]

This seminar studies the Philippines and in the Filipino diaspora. It draws on anthropological, historical, and literary perspectives on culture and social practices, with an eye to considering the ways “the Philippines” as an object of inquiry is differently understood in a real/anthropological studies, feminist, North American ethnic studies and transnational studies.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI or permission of instructor

ANT471HI Human Nutritional Ecology [26S]

Approaches from various sub-fields within anthropology are combined with others from zoology, ecology, community nutrition, and global health to enrich our understanding of the evolved nutritional needs of humans across time and space and their changing relationship to culture. Through intensive reading and discussion of a wide range of recent primary research articles, we explore ways in which the study of foodways, food systems, and human ecology can help us design better strategies for improving health in different settings.

Prerequisite: ANT 203YI/204YI

This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT480HI Special Topics in Anthropological Research [26S]

Unique opportunity to explore a particular anthropological topic in-depth. Topics vary from year to year.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course

ARH482HI Special Topics in Archaeology [26S]

See Archaeology

Unique opportunity to explore a particular archaeological topic in-depth. Topics vary from year to year.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course

ANT483HI Special Topics in Linguistic Anthropology [26S]

This course will focus on an advanced topic in Linguistic Anthropology. Topic will vary from year- to-year.

Prerequisite: ANT204YI/ANT253HI/300 Level course in Linguistic and Semiotic anthropology

ANT490YI Field Course in Social and Cultural Anthropology [26L, 52P]

An instructor-supervised experiential study project in social and cultural anthropology. Course takes place in an off-campus setting.

Prerequisite: ANT 204YI and two additional social-cultural anthropology courses

ANT497YI Independent Research [TBA]

ANT498HI Independent Research [TBA]

ANT499HI Independent Research [TBA]

Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course. Open in exceptional circumstances to advanced students with a strong background in Anthropology. Course Supervisor must be a member of the Anthropology faculty. Application for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding term. A maximum of one year of Independent Research courses is allowed per program.

Prerequisite: A minimum of 10 credits, permission of Supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator.

Anthropology Science Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

ANT203YI Human Biology & Evolution [52L, 26P]

Introduction to Biological Anthropology, investigating various lines of evidence for human evolution including our primate relatives and an exploration of the relevance of human origins to contemporary human biology and variability.

Recommended preparation: ANT100YI/BIO150YI

JPA305HI Introduction to Archaeometry [26L, 13P]

Introduction to methods for remote sensing of buried archaeological remains, dating, and analysis of ancient materials. Application of methods and interpretation of results in archaeological contexts. (Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

Exclusion: JPA300YI

JPA310HI Physics and Archaeology [26L, 13P]

Introduction to the principles behind archaeometric methods for remote sensing, dating, and analysis of archaeological materials, and interpretation of results. Offered in conjunction with JPA305HI. (Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

Exclusion: JPA300YI

Prerequisite: Any 1st-year Physics course/permission of instructor
Co-requisite: JPA305HI

ANT326YI Human Evolutionary Anatomy (formerly ANT 332YI) [26L, 39P]

A detailed examination of human musculo-skeletal anatomy from the comparative and evolutionary perspectives. Allometry, basic biomechanics, functional anatomy, and the structure and function of human mastication, the brain, the forelimb and bipedalism. Labs make use of the large collection of primate skeletal material and fossil human casts.

Prerequisite: ANT203YI

ANT330YI Paleoanthropology Field School (Offered on an irregular basis) [26L, 78P]

This course provides background in the practical and theoretical aspects of fieldwork in Paleoanthropology. Students are trained in the treatment and analysis of fossil vertebrates, plant macro- and micro-fossils and sediments. Excursions to paleoanthropological localities of Homo erectus and Homo sapiens, and excavation at a hominoid site. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)

ANT333YI Living Primate Adaptations [52L, 26P]

A survey of living primates, this lab-oriented course describes and compares the diverse behavioural and anatomical adaptations that are characteristic to this order of mammals. The understanding of the biological diversity and evolutionary history of primates is important for further understanding of human adaptation and evolution.

Prerequisite: ANT203YI

Recommended preparation: ANT326YI, 334YI; BIO150YI

ANT334YI Human Skeletal Biology [39L, 39P]

Exploration of the development and maintenance of the human skeleton and dentition, with emphasis on application to archaeological, forensic and biomedical sciences.

JPA400YI Advanced Physics & Archaeology [156P]

An introduction to research in archaeometry and archaeological prospecting. Possible projects: magnetic and resistivity surveying of archaeological sites; thermoluminescence measurements; neutron activation analysis and x-ray fluorescence analysis of artifacts; radiocarbon dating by atom counting; lead isotope analysis.

(Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

Prerequisite: JPA300YI/(JPA305HI, 310HI)

ANT415YI Laboratory in Faunal Archaeo-Osteology [52S, 52P]

Examination and interpretation of faunal material from archaeological sites as evidence for culture.

ANT429HI Palaeoanthropology (formerly ANT429YI) [26L, 52P]

Method and theory in paleoanthropology focusing on reconstructions of human evolutionary history and the behaviour of fossil hominids. Identification and analysis of fossil human material and hominid systematics. Includes an extensive lab component using a large collection of primate skeletons and fossil human casts.

Exclusion: ANT429YI, ANT 332Y5 (University of Toronto Mississauga), ANTC17H3 (Scarb)

Prerequisite: ANT203YI, ANT326YI

ANT430HI Primate Conservation Biology [26L]

The focus of this course is on the science of primate conservation biology in an anthropological context. Topics will include primate biodiversity and biogeography, human impacts, and conservation strategies/policies. The effects of cultural and political considerations on primate conservation will also be discussed.

ANT431HI Mortuary Practices in the Archaeological Record [26L]

Death is the only rite of passage that leaves frequent archaeological traces, through burial and mortuary rituals. It provides us with a rare opportunity to move beyond material culture and look into the cognitive, ritual and ideological aspects of a past human group, bringing archaeology closer to addressing anthropological questions. As we learn how to examine cultural identity, represented through burial and ancestral ritual, and biological reality of demographic, occupational and pathological conditions, the course will provide students with an understanding of the interpretative potential of the human skeleton as a central feature of any burial. The course is of interest to archaeological and biological anthropology students but is not limited to these two fields.

Prerequisite: Any 300-level course from Group A or C

This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT434HI Health, Diet & Disease in the Past [26L, 13P]

Advanced exploration of the life histories of past populations, through the application of palaeodietary analyses, palaeopathology and other appropriate research methods.

ANT436HI Primate Ecology & Social Behavior [26L]

This course will provide an overview of the ecology and social behavior of extant nonhuman primates. Topics will include socioecology, conservation biology, biogeography, aggression and affiliation, community ecology, communication, and socio-sexual behavior. There will also be extensive discussions of methods used in collecting data on primates in the field.

Prerequisite: ANT203Y1

ANT471HI Human Nutritional Ecology [26S]

Approaches from various sub-fields within anthropology are combined with others from zoology, ecology, community nutrition, and global health to enrich our understanding of the evolved nutritional needs of humans across time and space and their changing relationship to culture. Through intensive reading and discussion of a wide range of recent primary research articles, we explore ways in which the study of foodways, food systems, and human ecology can help us design better strategies for improving health in different settings.

Prerequisite: ANT 203Y1/204Y1

This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT481HI Special Topics in Biological Anthropology [26S]

Unique opportunity to explore in-depth a particular topic in Biological Anthropology. Topics vary from year to year.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course

Archaeology

The Archaeology Program focuses on the study of past human societies primarily through their material remains, or "material culture." Archaeologists explore the nature of and changes in past cultures around the world through survey, excavation and analyses of stone tools, pottery, bones, plant remains, architecture and other cultural residues. Some of the major research foci of archaeologists are the nature of hunter-gatherer technology and economy in the Pleistocene, the origins of agriculture, pastoralism, urbanism and politically complex states, the workings of ancient exchange systems, and the development of class-based and gender-based political and economic inequalities in complex societies. Working archaeologists often specialize geographically, chronologically or thematically. Classical archaeologists, for example, specialize in the cultures of the ancient Greco-Roman world, while palaeoethnobotanists explore ways that botanical residues of ancient and prehistoric cultures can inform us about their economies and social systems. The specialist programs allow students to explore archaeology in a multidisciplinary setting.

Students in either specialist program should consult the program coordinator or faculty members in their intended areas of specialization for advice on the selection of courses. Those intending to go on to graduate studies in departments such as Fine Art History and Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations should pay particular attention to language requirements at the graduate level.

The Archaeology Specialist (Arts program) is designed for students in the Social Sciences or Humanities, who may be interested in such fields as prehistoric, Aegean, Classical, historical and Near and Middle Eastern archaeology. See details below. Students interested in pursuing graduate studies should combine it with study of the ancient and modern languages relevant to their primary area of interest.

The Prehistoric Archaeology Major (Arts program) is designed for students whose interests are in prehistoric archaeology, and who want to combine it with a Major in a field not traditionally associated with archaeology. See details below.

The Archaeological Science Specialist (Science program) allows students with science backgrounds to obtain training in areas of study related to archaeometry, geoarchaeology, osteoarchaeology, paleoethnobotany, and other archaeological sciences. See details below.

The Archaeological Science Major (Science program) allows students doing a Major in the mathematical or life sciences to combine that Major with training in archaeological sciences. See details below.

Students are encouraged to seek counselling and information about this program from the Anthropology Undergraduate Administrator/Student Counsellor, Anthropology (416-978-6414).

Archaeology Programs

1. Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Programs is limited to students with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above. Students may enroll at the end of First Year, or at any later time if they have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above.
2. Only ONE Archaeology Program may be selected.

Specialist Program:

(10.5 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

First Year:

1. ANT 200Y1
2. One of: ANT 100Y1/CLA 160H1/GGR (100H1, 101H1)/NMC 101Y1. If CLA 160H1 is taken, an additional half course from Archaeology group A, B or C is required.

Second Year:

1. ARH 305H1
2. GGR 270H1* (or a half-course from STA 220H1, 221H1, 247H1, 248H1, 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 261H1, ANT C35H3***)
3. Two full course equivalents from ANT 203Y1/204Y1; CLA 230H1, 231H1; FAH 206H1, 207H1; NMC 260Y1

NOTES:

* Geography pre- or co-requisites waived for Anthropology students.

** To be taken at the Scarborough Campus

Third and Fourth Years:

1. One full course equivalent from Group A
2. 2.5 courses from Groups B-C
3. Field Requirement: ANT 311Y1/ARH 361H1/NMC 261Y1. If ARH 361H1 is taken, an additional ANT half-credit is required.
4. Lab Requirement: ARH 312Y1/JPA (305H1, 310H1)

Prehistoric Archaeology (Arts program)

2. One of: ANT 100Y1/GGR (100H1, 101H1)/GLG (102H1, 110H1)
3. One of: BIO 150Y1/CHM (138H1, 139H1)/MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PHY (131H, 132H)/ (151H, 152H)

Second Year:

1. ARH 305H1
2. ENV 236Y1
3. One full course equivalent from: BIO251Y1/EEB202H1; BIO (240H1, 241H1)/EEB214H1/263Y1; CHM 217H1; GGR 201H1, 205H1/270H1/272H1, 273H1; GLG 206H1/207H1/216H1/217H1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. One course from Group A
2. One course from Group C
3. 2.5 courses from Group B
4. Field Requirement: ANT 311Y1/ARH 361HI/NMC 261Y1. If ARH 361HI is taken, an additional ANT half-credit is required.
5. Lab Requirement: ARH 312Y1/JPA (305HI, 310HI)

Major Program:

(7 full courses or equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

First Year:

1. ANT 100Y1
2. At least one of: GGR (100HI, 101HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1; BIO 150Y1; CHM (138HI, 139HI); PHY (131H, 132H)/(151H, 152H)

Second Year:

ANT 200Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. ARH 305HI
2. One 300+series course from Groups A or C
3. 1.5 courses from Group B
4. Field and Lab Requirement: 1.0 course equivalent from: ANT 311Y1/ARH 361HI/NMC 261Y1 or ARH 312Y1/JPA (305HI, 310HI)

Archaeology Groups

Group A: Advanced Theory

ANT 409HI, 410HI, 411HI, 417HI, 420HI; HIS 425HI

Group B: Method and Interpretation

1. Archaeometry: CHM 317HI, 414HI, 416HI; ENV 315HI; GGR 337HI; JPA 400Y1; NMC 369Y1
2. Ceramic and Lithic Analysis: ANT 406HI; NMC 369Y1, 462Y1, 465HI, 466HI, 469Y1
3. Geoarchaeology: ANT 409HI; ENV 315HI; GGR 301HI, 302HI, 307HI, 337HI, 373HI, 390HI, 413HI; GLG 340HI, 360HI; NMC463Y1
4. Osteoarchaeology and Zooarchaeology: ANT 326Y1, 334Y1, 415Y1, 429HI, 434HI; EEB 318HI, 323HI, 324HI
5. Paleoethnobotany: EEB 330HI, 337HI, 340HI; GGR 302HI, 305HI, 331HI, 390HI; HIS 318Y1

Group C: Area Courses

1. Classical and Aegean Archaeology: CLA 230HI, 231HI, 232HI, 233HI, 362HI, 389HI; FAH 206HI, 207HI, 300HI, 304HI, 403HI
2. Egyptian Archaeology: JAL 328HI; NMC 343HI, 344HI, 362Y1, 368HI, 382Y1, 461Y1, 467HI, 468HI
3. European and Celtic Archaeology: HIS 322Y1; SMC 344Y1, 345Y1
4. Historical Archaeology: ANT 412HI, GGR 336HI, 366HI, 421HI; HIS 456Y1
5. Islamic Archaeology: NMC 348Y1, 365Y1, 366Y1, 374HI, 376HI, 393HI, 394HI, 396Y1, 464HI
6. Near Eastern Archaeology: JAL 328HI; NMC 346HI, 347HI, 360HI, 361HI, 363HI, 364HI, 370HI, 461Y1, 466HI
7. North American Prehistory: ANT 315HI, 316H, 317H, 319Y1, 365HI, 421H
8. Old World Prehistory: ANT 419HI; ARH 360Y1

Archaeology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), ARH courses are classified as Social Science courses

ARH305HI Archaeological Interpretation [26L]

Transforming archaeological results into statements about people and their life ways. Covers basic archaeological theory, including research design, sampling, stratigraphy, seriation, formation and testing or evaluation of hypotheses, regional analyses. Introduces some of the major schools of archaeological theory, including New Archaeology and Post-Processual Archaeology.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1

ARH312Y1 Archaeological Laboratory [26L, 52P]

Techniques for making archaeological data meaningful after excavation or survey. Archaeological measurements, compilation of data, database design, archaeological systematics, and sampling theory in the context of lithics, pottery, floral, faunal and other archaeological remains.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1, a half statistics course (e.g.

GGR270HI*, STA220HI, 221HI, 250HI, 257HI, 261HI, ANTC35H3**.

Note:

*Geography pre- or co-requisites waived for Anthropology and Archaeology students;

** to be taken at the Scarborough Campus

This is a Social Science course

ARH360Y1 Prehistory of the Near East [52L]

From earliest times through the rise of complex hunter-gatherers, and the food producing revolution to politically complex societies in Southwest Asia.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1/NMC260Y1

This is a Social Science course

ARH361HI Field Archaeology [TBA]

Opportunity for students participating in non-degree credit archaeological digs to submit reports, field notes and term papers for degree credit.

Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Co-ordinator and Supervisor

ARH398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ARH399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

ARH482HI Special Topics in Archaeology [26S]

Unique opportunity to explore a particular archaeological topic in-depth. Topics vary from year to year.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course

Architecture is both a profession and a discipline of study, offering a broad variety of career opportunities. As a profession it plays a pivotal role in the production of the built environment, bridging the technical and social, practical and theoretical. It is a cultural and artistic practice that is critically engaged with the forces of urbanization and technological change, the challenges of environmental sustainability, and the struggle for cultural expression. It involves the design, production, and organization of material culture from the scale of domestic objects to the scale of the metropolitan region. As such, studies in architecture interact with numerous related disciplines in the social sciences and humanities, as well as engineering, technology, and media. These studies may lead to professional graduate programs in architecture, landscape architecture, planning, and urban design, as well as careers in related design disciplines, the arts, history, business, journalism, and public policy.

The Architectural Studies programs provide Major degree options for students wishing to study architecture as part of a liberal arts education. The program serves as an introduction to the discipline of architecture, focusing on the state of the art, current issues and emerging practices, all considered from critical, theoretical, and historical perspectives. Studio courses in design and visual communication provide opportunities to learn practical, formal, and analytical skills.

The Architectural Studies Major Programs (Hon. BA) contain concentrations in Architectural Design or in History, Theory, Criticism. The Architectural Design concentration is intended for students wishing an intensive exposure to architectural design within a broad liberal arts education; the History, Theory, Criticism concentration is intended for students wishing a broad interdisciplinary education in architectural studies but not wishing to pursue design. Introductory courses begin at the first-year level and lead into a sequence of courses in architectural design and representation, history, theory, and technology. Emphasis is placed on advanced theory and interdisciplinarity, since contemporary architecture is intimately tied to knowledge and practice in urbanism, environmentalism, literature, media, cultural theory, art, science and technology, as well as philosophy, economics, and political science. This program could usefully be combined with a major in another discipline, such as fine art, urban studies, or computer science.

Graduates who have completed the Architectural Studies Major program and have an Honours B.A. degree may apply to graduate professional programs in architecture or landscape architecture. For further information regarding the BA Architectural Studies program, contact: enquiry.ald@utoronto.ca.

Students who are interested in pursuing graduate professional studies in architecture or landscape architecture and wish to apply to the Faculty's Master of Architecture or Landscape Architecture programs are advised that for the Master of Architecture the following specific courses are required: secondary school calculus (OAC Calculus, or MCB4U Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus, Grade 12, University Preparation, or equivalent); secondary school physics (OAC Physics, SPH4U Physics, Grade 12, University Preparation, or equivalent); and, a university level half-credit course in architectural history. For the Master of Landscape Architecture the following specific courses at the undergraduate level are highly recommended: biology/ecology, geography, English, and history. For further information regarding admission to these programs, visit www.ald.utoronto.ca or contact the Faculty of Architecture, Landscape, and Design at 416-978-5038. The Faculty sponsors a variety of lectures, exhibitions and other special events for members of the architectural community and the general public.

Architectural Studies Programs

NOTE: The Architectural Studies Specialist Program has been discontinued effective the 2006/07 academic year. The Specialist option will not be available to incoming students when choosing a Major. The Program will however honour those Specialist students currently in the Program. Program requirement courses will be offered to ensure students graduate from the program. If you are in the Specialist Program and wish to complete your Program, please consult with the Program Office for further details.

Architectural Studies (Arts program)

Major programs:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including 2.0 FCEs at the 300+series)

Enrolment in the Architectural Studies Major Programs is limited. Students must have completed 4.0 full courses or their equivalent, including ARC 131HI and ARC 132HI. Minimum marks of at least 70% in both ARC 131HI and ARC 132HI are required. The student's Cumulative Grade Point Average will also be considered. Achieving minimum levels above does not guarantee admission.

NOTE: The Major programs include the 4.0 Core FCEs below plus 4.0 FCEs from one of the Concentrations below. Students must check all required prerequisites and co-requisites for courses before registering.

Core Courses for Architectural Studies programs (4.0 FCEs):

First Year:

1. Theory/Criticism: ARC 131HI, 132HI

Second Year:

1. Design: ARC 213HI
2. Visual: ARC 221HI
3. Theory/Criticism: ARC 231HI, and one of ARC 232HI, 233HI, 234HI, 235HI, 236HI, 237HI, 238HI or 239HI
4. History: FAH 270HI, FAH 272HI

Major with Concentration in Architectural Design (4.0 FCEs):

1. Design: ARC 313HI, 314HI
2. Visual: ARC 321HI
3. History:
1.0 FCE from: ARC 333HI, 337HI, 338HI; FAH 206HI, 207HI, 215HI, 216HI, 230HI, 231HI, 246HI, 300HI, 309HI, 316HI, 328HI, 330HI, 362HI, 364HI, 370HI, 371HI, 372HI, 373HI, 374HI, 375HI, 376HI, 380HI, 391Y0, 392Y0, 393Y0, 394Y0, 395Y0, 396Y0, 397Y0, 400HI, 404HI, 405HI, 410HI, 413HI, 421HI, 442HI, 470HI, 471HI, 477HI; NMC 366YI, 368HI, 393HI, 394HI
4. Technics: one of ARC 341HI/342HI
5. 1.0 FCE from any of the courses in Groups A, B, C, D, E listed below. Students are encouraged to take additional courses from these Groups beyond the Major to fulfill degree requirements.

Major with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism (4.0 FCEs):

1. Theory/Criticism: one additional of ARC 232HI, 233HI, 234HI, 235HI, 236HI, 237HI, 238HI, 239HI

2. History:
0.5/1.0 FCE from: FAH 206HI, 207HI, 215HI, 216HI, 230HI, 231HI, 246HI

1.0/1.5 FCEs from: ARC 333HI, 337HI, 338HI, 431HI, 432HI; FAH 300HI, 309HI, 316HI, 328HI, 330HI, 362HI, 364HI, 370HI, 371HI, 372HI, 373HI, 374HI, 375HI, 376HI, 380HI, 391Y0, 392Y0, 393Y0, 394Y0, 395Y0, 396Y0, 397Y0, 400HI, 404HI, 405HI, 410HI, 413HI, 421HI, 442HI, 470HI, 471HI, 477HI; NMC 366YI, 368HI, 393HI, 394HI
3. 1.5 FCEs from any of the courses in Groups A, B, C, D, E listed below. Students are encouraged to take additional courses from these Groups beyond the Major to fulfill degree requirements.

Group A (Literary):

ENG 280HI, 285HI, 290YI, 389YI; JEF 100YI; VIC 201YI, 210YI, 300YI, 309HI, 310HI, 320YI, 410YI, 411HI/YI; PHL 285HI; WLD 300YI

Group B (Urban):

ARC 331Y0, 333HI, 334HI, 335HI, 436HI; FAH 391Y0, 392Y0, 393Y0, 394Y0, 395Y0, 396Y0, 397Y0; GGR 124HI, 220YI, 339HI, 354Y0, 357HI, 361HI, 363HI, 366HI; HIS 304HI; INI 235YI, 306YI, 430YI, 446HI; JGI 216HI, 346HI, JJE 307YI; JPF 455YI

Group C (Environ):

ENV 200YI, 321YI, 332HI, 335HI, 450HI; GGR 107YI; INI 446HI; JGE 221YI; JJE 222YI

Group D (Sci/Tech):

HPS 201HI, 202HI, 306HI, 430HI, 431HI

Group E (Media):

INI 115YI, 322HI, 325YI, 428HI; VIC 220YI, 320YI, 323YI (formerly 420YI); VIS 120HI

Architectural Studies Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), ARC courses are classified as Humanities courses

ARC131HI Introduction to Architecture [26L]

A comprehensive introduction to the discipline, art and profession of architecture using case studies, both historical and contemporary, local and international.

ARC132HI Contemporary Architecture [26L]

An introductory survey of contemporary international architecture that examines how design is responding to technological change, environmental degradation, accelerating globalization of economy and media, and the politics of regional and cultural identity.

ARC213HI Architectural Design I [39P]

Introduction to architectural design conducted in a studio setting using a series of design projects that develop students' understanding of and skills with fundamental aspects of designing buildings and their environments.

Prerequisite: ARC221HI; Enrolment in an ARC program

Architectural Studies

ARC221HI Architectural Representation I [39P]

An introduction to architectural drawing and representation in various media.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in an ARC program

ARC231HI Architecture and Technology [26L]

A selected survey of projects in the history of architecture exemplary for exploring the relationship between architecture and technological change.

ARC232HI Architecture, Media and Communication [26L]

An introduction to the interrelationship between architectural theory and studies in media and communications during the twentieth century.

ARC233HI Post-Colonial Studies in Architecture [26L]

An introduction to the emerging field of research in history and theory concerning the role of architecture, urban design and allied design areas in the relationship between western and non-western nations during and after the period of colonialism.

ARC234HI Architecture & Cultural Difference [26L]

An introduction to contemporary issues in architecture pertaining to cultural difference, the politics of cultural identity, and possible structures and strategies for heterogeneity.

ARC235HI Architectural Criticism [26L]

An introductory course in architectural criticism that reviews the writings of major critics, the history of criticism in architecture and the use of alternative critical perspectives.

ARC236HI Design and Cultural Transformation [26L]

A survey of the social, economic, technological and cultural factors that have been instrumental in transforming material culture since the Industrial Revolution.

ARC237HI Topics in the History and Theory of Landscape Design [26L]

An introduction to the history and theory of urban landscape design.

ARC238HI Topics in Urban Design History and Theory [26L]

An introduction to projects and practices, theories and issues in contemporary urban design considered from a historical perspective and in the context of changing forces and paradigms or urbanization, technology, ecology and culture.

ARC239HI Introduction to Architectural Theory [26L]

An introduction to the history and current state of architectural theory.

ARC313HI Architectural Design II [39P]

A second introduction to architectural design conducted in a studio setting using a series of design projects that develop students' understanding of and skills with fundamental aspects of designing buildings and their environments.

Prerequisite: ARC213HI, ARC221HI; Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

Co-requisite: ARC321HI

ARC314HI Architectural Design III [39P]

A third introduction to architectural design conducted in a studio setting using a series of design projects that develop students' understanding of and skills with fundamental aspects of designing buildings and their environments.

Prerequisite: ARC313HI; Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC321HI Architectural Representation II [39P]

An introduction to the history, theory and present state of building technology in the context of architectural design.

Prerequisite: ARC213HI, ARC221HI; Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design
Co-requisite: ARC313HI

ARC331Y0 Studies in International Architecture [52L]

For students in the International Summer Program.

Documentation and analysis of architecture and urbanism in the city where the programme is based. Topics may include building types, urban morphology and development, public spaces, urban precincts, and ways of life supported by them. Cities may vary each year.

Prerequisite: One half course in architectural history/theory

ARC333HI Urban Design History, Theory Criticism [26L]

An introduction to selected projects and practices, theories and issues in contemporary urban design considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing forces and paradigms of urbanization, technology, ecology and culture.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in an ARC Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC334HI Urban Design History, Theory Criticism II [26L]

A selective survey of the interrelationships between theories and practices of landscape, ecology, and urbanism from the mid-eighteenth century to the late twentieth.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC335HI History/Theory of Urban Landscape Architecture Design I [26L]

Study of landscape architecture elements in gardens, public open space, parks, and urban development. Fosters an understanding of landscape architecture considering examples from ancient to modern times. Places historical positions in landscape architecture within a more contemporary context. Landscape architectural design from the standpoint of: a work of art, a manifestation of cultural ideologies, and an act of humans in "nature".

ARC337HI Housing Design: Theory & Practice [26L]

Urban housing forms and processes since 1800. Contemporary housing theories and policies in the context of world issues. Design principles, criteria and practice investigated through case studies.

ARC338HI Mies van der Rohe [26L]

An in depth examination of the work and thought of German-American architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe.

Prerequisite: FAH 270HI/281HI/372HI, 272HI/282HI/373HI; Enrolment in the ARC Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC341HI Building Technology-Ecology I [26L]

An introduction to building technology considered historically, in its relation to design theory, and its relation to the history and theory of technology.

Prerequisite: ARC231HI; Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC342HI Building Technology-Ecology II [26L]

A topic-based course in the history and theory of building science and structures.

Prerequisite: ARC231HI; Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ARC399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC431HI Historical Perspectives on Topics in Architecture [26L]

An introduction to selected projects, writings and issues in contemporary world architecture considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing technologies, ecologies and cultural formations.

Prerequisite: ARC Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC432HI Historical Perspectives on Topics in Architecture II [26L]

A second introduction to selected projects, writings and issues in contemporary world architecture considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing technologies, ecologies and cultural formations.

Prerequisite: ARC Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC436HI History/Theory of Contemporary Urban Landscape Design II [26L]

The nature and origin of theories and principles in contemporary landscape architecture through lectures, seminar discussions and workshops. Design problems and the historic relationship to landscape issues; alternative design methods and characteristics of design motivations, constraints and expression in landscape as a media of practice.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

Courses in the Department of Art are offered in two basic areas: lecture courses or seminars in the History of Art (FAH) and practical studios or seminars in Visual Studies (VIS). Minor, Major and Specialist programs are offered in both the History of Art and Visual Studies.

The FAH curriculum covers the Bronze Age to the present in several global regions: the Mediterranean area, Europe and North America, and Asia. FAH101H1 is an overview of the major periods and monuments in the history of art and architecture, and FAH102H1 serves as a practical and critical introduction to the practice of art history and is an integral component of the curriculum; students are encouraged to take this class early in their progress toward an FAH degree. Half courses at the 200 level are more comprehensive surveys that thematically introduce the material from specific chronological periods, regional areas, or the history of architecture. Many of these courses, which are offered on a regular basis, serve as "gateway" prerequisites for courses at the 300 and 400 level; students are advised to check the prerequisites for each upper-level course carefully.

Visual Studies is the studio component of the Department of Art. Visual Studies Foundation courses are designed for Humanities and Social Science students who intend to seriously pursue Visual Studies upper level courses. There is a two-stage enrolment process. Humanities and Social Science students who have been accepted into a Visual Studies Program of Study may register for Visual Studies courses from mid-July until early August. First-year students and other upper-year students may apply for available spaces in late August.

Foundation courses: VIS 120H1, Visual Concepts, a lecture-based course that investigates a wide range of topics situated in Modernism and Post-Modernism. This course rigorously examines diverse art concepts in order to prepare students for interdisciplinary perspectives on art practice and critical theory in upper level courses. VIS 130H1, Visual Strategies, an H course taught throughout the Fall and Spring sessions, is an intensive interdisciplinary course that stresses the formulation and communication of visual ideas, primarily through a variety of media and must be taken in conjunction with VIS 120H1, Visual Concepts.

Visual Studies emphasizes a strong commitment to the social, cultural and theoretical issues embodied in contemporary art practice. Some Visual Studies courses are credits in other programs, for example, Women in Visual Art, and Performance in the Women's Studies program, Video for Artists in the Cinema Studies program and the Sexual Diversity program. Students in these programs will need to fulfill the VIS120 and VIS130 prerequisites for upper level VIS courses and might consider entering a VIS Minor POS. The scope and variety of available courses will provide students with preparation for careers in teaching, museum and gallery work, conservation and complementary fields, though further professional training will normally be necessary.

Courses in the history of art (FAH) and in the practice of art (VIS) are useful to students in other departments or faculties; history, literature, music, and philosophy are likewise concerned with systems of thought and imagery. Fundamental concepts in such disciplines are embodied or reflected in related works of art of the same general period and area. Students in architecture, geography, or city planning will find courses in the history of architecture of benefit. Those with a special interest in the practice of architecture will find studio courses of value.

At the same time, the Department directs the attention of its students to the wide range of offerings in other departments and urges them to acquire the broad cultural background essential to an understanding of the arts. Of special importance are familiarity with history, a knowledge of the various traditions of literature and mythology, and an acquaintance with philosophy. Courses in cultural, historical or urban geography may also be relevant in programs that include the history of architecture. It is imperative that students interested in pursuing an advanced degree in art history acquire the foreign languages necessary for such work. Although the choice of languages will be dependent on an individual's program of study, it is generally recommended that students learn German and at least one other European language. The Department web site provides a list of courses in other departments that can be counted toward an art history degree.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the Department offers courses during the summer term at the University of Siena, Italy, and at other locations abroad. For information about these degree-credit courses, please consult the Department of Art web site or contact the Summer Abroad Program at Woodsworth College, 119 St. George Street (416-978-8713).

The Fine Art Student Union (FASU) sponsors a variety of lectures and other activities for members of the departmental community.

Many courses in the Department, whether history or studio, are offered in alternate years only, or on a three-year cycle. The studio program requires no prerequisite at the secondary school level, but enrolment is limited in all studio courses. For more detailed information on courses and degree programs, consult the Department of Art web site and Undergraduate Handbook at www.art.utoronto.ca. Counselling is available, by appointment, from the Undergraduate Coordinators.

Art Programs

History of Art (Arts program)

Students may enroll in the Major or Minor program in Art History after completing at least four courses; there is no minimum GPA required. Students may enroll in the Specialist Program in Art History after completing at least four courses, including four half FAH courses with a mark of at least 70% in each and must also have obtained a cumulative GPA of at least 2.5.

Specialist program:

(11 FCEs)

At least nine FAH FCE's, and two FCE's in one or more languages (including at least one German, French, or Italian), fulfilling the following distribution requirements:

First Year:

FAH 102H1

Higher Years:

1. At least one half course in each of Groups A, B, C, and D (see below for definitions).
2. One additional half course in Group A and Group B.
3. No more than 3.5 FCEs may be taken at the 200-level.
4. 3.5 FCEs at the 300+level
5. 1 FCE at the 400 level.
6. No more than 1.5 FCEs at the 400-level will be counted toward fulfilling program requirements.
7. No more than 10 FCEs of FAH courses may be taken in total.

Notes:

1. It is strongly recommended that students acquire a reading knowledge of German, French, or Italian by the end of the Third Year.
2. No more than 13 FAH and VIS FCEs may be taken in combination.
3. Approved courses in other programs may be substituted for up to two FAH FCEs. See Department web site for details.

Major program:

(6 FCEs)

At least six FAH FCEs fulfilling the following distribution requirements:

First Year:

FAH 102H1

Higher Years:

1. At least one half course in three of the four FAH Groups (see below for definitions).
2. Three FCEs at the 300+ level.
3. At least one half-course at the 400-level.
4. No more than 1.0 FCE at the 400-level will be counted toward fulfilling program requirements.
5. No more than 7.5 FCEs of FAH courses may be taken in total.

Notes:

1. No more than 13 FAH and VIS FCEs may be taken in combination; of these, no more than 7.5 may be FAH FCEs.
2. Approved courses in other programs may be substituted for up to one FAH FCE. See Department web site for details.

Minor program:

(4 FCEs)

At least four FAH courses fulfilling the following distribution requirements:

1. FAH102H1
2. At least one half course in two of the four FAH Groups (see below for definitions)
3. At least one FCE at the 300-level.
4. No more than 5 FCEs of FAH courses may be taken in total

FAH Course Groups

Group A: Ancient, Medieval

FAH courses numbered 200–229, 300–329, 400–429

Art

---

Group B: Renaissance–Baroque, Modern–Contemporary–Canadian

FAH courses numbered 230–59, 330–59, 430–59

Group C: Asian

FAH courses numbered 260–69, 360–69, 460–69

Group D: History of Architecture

FAH courses numbered 270–79, 370–79, 470–79, plus FAH300, 309, 328, 362, 364, 404, 421

Note:

1. Certain courses, including FAH101HI, do not satisfy the requirement for any group, but do count toward any FAH degree program.
2. Students who have already taken FAH100Y1 are encouraged, but not required, to take FAH102HI for the fulfillment of degree requirements.
3. Courses used to satisfy one group requirement, e.g., FAH300, cannot be counted toward another group requirement.

Visual Studies Program (Arts program)

Enrolment in the VIS program is limited. To apply to the program, students must have completed at least four full course equivalents including VIS 120HI and VIS130HI; must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.80; and must have at least a B in each of VIS 120HI and 130HI. Achievement of these minimum marks does not guarantee enrolment in the program.

Specialist program:

(Ten full courses or their equivalent, including four 300/400 VIS half courses, two of which must be VIS401HI and VIS402HI, and two FAH full courses or their equivalent including FAH102HI and three other FAH half courses)

Requirements as follows: at least eight VIS and two FAH full courses or their equivalent including FAH102HI and three other FAH half courses

First Year:

VIS 120HI, FAH 102HI and VIS 130HI

Higher Years:

1. 14 half-courses in VIS
2. Thesis Text/Critique VIS401H; Thesis project VIS402H

Notes:

1. A full 400-series course is mandatory
2. Prerequisites for all courses beyond first year will be VIS 120HI and VIS130HI
3. No more than 13 FAS/VIS and FAH full courses may be taken in combination

Major program:

(Six Visual Studies full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ half courses)

First Year:

VIS 120HI and VIS 130HI

Higher Years:

Ten half-courses in VIS

Notes:

No more than 13 FAH and FAS/VIS courses may be taken in combination

Minor program:

(No more than four Visual Studies full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full 300-level course or its equivalent.)

Note:

No more than 4 full courses may be taken in a Minor Subject POST

1. VIS 120HI and VIS 130HI
2. Six half-courses in VIS
3. Note: VIS minors are not permitted to take any Independent VIS courses

Art History Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all FAH and FAS/VIS courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

FAH101HI Monuments of Art History [26L]

Consideration of the stylistic and contextual significance of representative monuments in the history of art.

Exclusion: FAH100Y/FAH105H5

FAH102HI The Practice of Art History [26L, 13T]

An investigation of the intellectual foundations of the discipline and an introduction to working methods in the study of art history.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

---

Note

The recommended preparation for all 200 level courses is FAH102HI

FAH206HI Prehistoric Aegean and East Mediterranean Art and Archaeology [26L, 11T]

An overview of the major monuments, artifacts, themes and problems in the study of the archaeology, art and architecture of the Aegean region and the east Mediterranean to 1000BC.

FAH207HI Greek and Roman Art and Archaeology [26L, 11T]

An overview of the major monuments, artifacts, themes and problems in the study of the archaeology, art and architecture of the civilizations of Greece and Rome.

FAH215HI Early Medieval Art and Architecture [26L, 11T]

An overview of major monuments and themes in the art and architecture of Western Europe and the Byzantine East from the third until the eleventh century.

FAH216HI Later Medieval Art and Architecture [26L, 11T]

An overview of major monuments and themes in the art and architecture of Western Europe and the Byzantine East from the eleventh until the fifteenth century.

FAH230HI Renaissance Art and Architecture (formerly FAH274HI) [26L, 11T]

A selective survey of the major art centres and types of artistic and architectural production in Italy and northern Europe, from the early fifteenth century to the mid-sixteenth. Themes include the relations--artistic, economic and ideological--between northern and southern Europe during this period, the changing role of art in religious life, the emergence of secular themes, and the legacies left by Renaissance art to modern life and culture.

Exclusion: FAH200Y5/274H/274H5 I

FAH231HI Baroque Art and Architecture (formerly FAH279HI) [26L, 11T]

Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies

The Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies welcomes students who wish to combine concentrated study in a traditional academic discipline with an interdisciplinary major program that focuses on contemporary developments in this rapidly changing region. A broad survey course offered by the Department of Political Science provides students with a solid understanding of the complex political, economic, social and cultural life of the region. An additional range of optional courses that span the humanities and the social sciences allow students to develop more specialized knowledge of the region. Finally, a fourth-year capstone course allows students in the program to synthesize what they have learned in various optional courses while undertaking independent research on a topic of special interest.

Study of a major language of the region is an important component of the program. In many cases, this can be achieved by taking two courses in one of the three main languages taught in the Department of East Asian Studies: Chinese, Japanese or Korean. All possible efforts will also be made to assist and support students who wish to achieve basic fluency in another language of the region, such as Indonesian, Vietnamese, Malay, Tagalog or Thai. Students who are already fluent in a language of the region are allowed to substitute optional courses for the language course requirements.

Students may consult the Director of the Program at the Munk Centre for International Studies, Room 265S. For general inquiries contact the Program Administrator at 416-946-8996, Munk Centre for International Studies, Room 227N or munk.aps@artsci.utoronto.ca. For current developments, please check the Program's University web site (www.utoronto.ca/davidchu).

Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies

Enrolment in the Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies is open to students who have successfully completed four full courses. A minimum CGPA of 2.5 is required. Those who seek advanced language standing must receive permission from the Program Director, and will be required to complete recommended substitute courses. Formal admission to the program is achieved by completing a required enrolment form. The required form is available from the Director, the Program Administrator, or the Program's web site.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

1. POL 215Y1; ASI 400Y1. These courses must be taken in sequential order.
2. Two sequential Y1 courses in an East Asian or Southeast Asian language. Students may choose to study one of three languages - Chinese, Japanese, Korean - offered by the Department of East Asian Studies. For other languages, such as Thai, Vietnamese, Malay and Indonesian, students should consult with the Program Director. Generally two sequential courses are required for these languages as well but the Program will consider other arrangements including study abroad and intensive summer courses at other universities.

3. Three additional full course equivalents on appropriate Asia-Pacific topics from offerings in the following departments: ANT, EAS, GGR, HIS, PHL, POL, RLG, SOC. Students are invited to select any courses on the Asia Pacific region that are offered by the above departments (or by other departments not listed here). Please consult with the Program Director if you have any questions about your course selection.

ASI400Y1 Seminar in Asia-Pacific Studies 52L (formerly ASI300Y1)

This seminar course examines diverse postwar experiences and realities of the Asia Pacific region, which comprises a range of countries that differ in cultural, ethnic, and religious backgrounds, in levels of social and economic developments, and in political regimes. Unlike Europe, which has gone through a steady process of integration since WWII, regional links among Asia Pacific countries have been rather weak and often limited. Attempts to forge regional economic cooperation within the Asia Pacific region, such as ASEAN, have been fraught with political and historical tensions. As a result, much of the linkage has been limited to investment, trade, and production networks. This seminar will examine the various social, economic, and political experiences and realities of the countries in this region and their implications.

Prerequisite: POL215Y1 and enrolment in the Asia Pacific Studies major/permission of the Program Director

Exclusion: ASI300Y1

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

Astronomy is the quest to explore the universe beyond the earth and to understand the physical processes that describe its contents. Essentially all civilizations have developed astronomy to some degree, with records extending back to the Babylonians. The modern development of astronomy began with Galileo turning a telescope to the sky and has undergone a revolution in the past fifty years as telescopes ranging from the radio to the gamma ray have discovered the relic radiation from the Big Bang, planets around other stars and the time and which the first stars were just beginning to form. Astronomy as a discipline is a distinctive integration of many of the sciences. At the introductory level it is used to provide a non-technical overview of the scientific approach to questions and our current understanding. At the more advanced level a quantitative physical understanding of astrophysical systems is developed. A graduate in astronomy has a wide grounding in modern physical science which is important for a wide range of roles in society.

Several courses are offered to suit persons of diverse backgrounds and depths of interest. Two beginning courses (AST 101H, 201H) require no special knowledge of mathematics or other sciences and are best suited to students taking non-science programs. These courses develop an understanding of the universe in a qualitative way and in terms of natural laws familiar to us on Earth. Audiovisual demonstrations are used extensively. AST 121H is an introductory astronomy course for science students. The course AST 210H1 is intended for students in other areas of the physical sciences. AST 251H1 is best suited to life science students. The remaining courses are designed for physical sciences and astronomy program students. The first physics and math based astronomy courses normally start in the second year. In some of these courses, the objective is to provide for practical involvement by the student. This is achieved by the use of the remotely-controlled telescopes at the St. George and Scarborough Campus observatories by day as well as by night.

Astronomy & Astrophysics Programs

Enrolment in the Astronomy and Astrophysics programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Astronomy & Astrophysics (Science program)

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two courses at the 300+ level)

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 131H/132H or PHY 151H/152H1

Second Year:

1. AST 221H1, 222H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1
2. PHY 252H1 and one of PHY 225H1, 251H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

1. AST 320H1, 325H1/326Y
2. One course from: CSC 336H1, 350H1, 351H1, 418H1, 456H1; ECE 385H1; PHY 305H1, 307H1/308H1, 315H1, 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1, 358H1, 359H1

3. One additional course or half course in APM/AST/CSC/MAT/PHY/STA, to make up the total of 8 full-course equivalents.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. AST 221HI, 222HI, 320HI, 325HI/326YI
2. PHY 138YI/140YI
3. PHY 252HI and one of PHY 225HI, 251HI, 255HI, 256HI

Please note:

PHY138YI/140YI requires MAT135YI/137YI/151YI and PHY252HI requires MAT235YI/237YI/257YI.

Astronomy & Physics (Science program)

Consult Departments of Astronomy & Astrophysics and Physics.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 137YI, 223HI/240HI; PHY 151HI, 152HI

Second Year:

AST 221HI, 222HI; MAT 237YI, 244HI; PHY 251HI, 252HI, 256HI

Third Year:

1. APM 346HI; AST 320HI, 325HI/326Y; PHY 225HI, 255HI, 351HI, 355HI
2. One of MAT 224HI, 327HI, 334HI, 363HI, STA 257HI

Fourth Year:

1. AST 425YI; PHY 352HI, 353HI
2. One half course from each of groups A and B
3. One additional half course from either group A, group B or group C

Group A:

PHY 357HI, 358HI, 359HI, 495HI

Group B:

PHY 457HI, 459HI, 460HI, 483HI, 484HI

Group C:

PHY 407HI, 408HI, 409HI

Planetary Sciences Specialist Program - See Planetary Sciences

Astronomy & Astrophysics Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all AST courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

SC1199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SC1199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

AST101HI The Sun and Its Neighbours [26L]

Our place in the Universe. Phenomena we see in the sky. What we know about the Sun, the planets and comets, and the formation of the solar system - and how we know it. What makes planets suitable for life. Finding out about the nearest stars and their planets.

This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.

Exclusion: AST121HI, 210HI, 221HI. Also excluded are CIV101HI, any 100- or higher-series CHM/PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100HI, 101HI, 201HI, 205HI, CHM200YI)

AST121HI Origin and Evolution of the Universe [26L]

The origin of the Universe, the origin of the chemical elements, the origin of stars and galaxies, the origin of life in the Universe. This course is intended for students who are enrolling in science courses.

Exclusion: AST101HI, 201HI, 210HI. Also excluded are

AST221HI, 222HI if taken previously or concurrently

Prerequisite: OAC Physics/ SPH4U and OAC Calculus/MCB4U

AST201HI Stars and Galaxies [26L]

What we know about the properties and life cycles of stars, of galaxies, and of the Universe itself - and how we know it. How astronomers develop methods for understanding phenomena that span such vast ranges in distance and time.

This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.

Exclusion: AST121HI, 210HI. Also excluded are CIV101HI and any 100- or higher-series CHM or PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100HI, 101HI, 201HI, 205HI, CHM200YI)

AST210HI Great Moments in Astronomy [26L]

The history of Western astronomy: Copernican Revolution to twentieth century astrophysics. Emphasis is placed on the process of discovery which has led to major advances in knowledge about the Universe. The course ends with an outline of one of the most significant puzzles of our day and an examination of the potential for a new revolution in knowledge in our lifetime. This course is best suited to physical science students. Exclusion: AST101HI, 121HI, 201HI

AST221HI Stars and Planets [39L]

Concepts of basic physics applied to a treatment of the solar system and stars. Telescopes and instrumentation are introduced.

Exclusion: AST101HI/201HI

AST222HI Galaxies and Cosmology [39L]

Concepts of basic physics applied to a treatment of stellar systems and the structure of the Universe.

Exclusion: AST201HI

Prerequisite: AST221HI

AST251HI Life on Other Worlds [26L]

Scholarly discussion of the probability that there are planets with life elsewhere in the universe, from the perspective of current ideas concerning the origin and evolution of the universe, the solar system and life Search techniques and possibilities for interstellar travel and space colonies are discussed. This course is best suited to life sciences students.

Prerequisite: OAC Biology/OAC Chemistry/OAC Physics/SBI4U/SCH4U/ SPH4U

Astronomy & Astrophysics

---

AST299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

AST320HI Introduction to Astrophysics [26L]

The formation, equilibrium and evolution of structure on all astronomical scales from the largest to the smallest: universe, clusters of galaxies, galaxies, clusters of stars, gas clouds and stars.

Prerequisite: AST222HI, PHY252HI

AST325HI Introduction to Practical Astronomy [39P]

Observational projects in astrophysics involving work with telescopes and CCD detectors. Principles of photometry. Use of standard software packages for data reduction and analysis. Students will be required to use UNIX/Linux operating systems. Exclusion: AST 326YI

Prerequisite: AST221HI/222HI, PHY251HI/252HI/255HI/256HI

AST326YI Practical Astronomy [78P]

Observational projects in astrophysics involving work with telescopes and CCD detectors. Principles of photometry and spectroscopy. Use of UNIX/Linux-based software packages for data reduction and analysis. This course is an expanded version of AST 325HI designed to give students a wider exposure to practical astronomy.

AST398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

AST399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

AST425YI Research Topic in Astronomy [TBA]

A research project done in consultation with an individual staff member in the Department leading to a detailed written report and oral presentation. This course is intended for students in the final year of the Astronomy and Physics specialist program. Students must enrol with the Undergraduate Secretary of the Department.

Prerequisite: Two of PHY 307HI, 308HI, 309HI, 351HI, 352HI, 353HI, 355HI, 357HI, 358HI, 359HI, AST325HI/326YI

Chemistry is a challenging intellectual pursuit and a dominant force in shaping our civilization. Chemistry places strong emphasis on an understanding of the structures and properties of individual atoms and molecules, and on using this understanding to interpret and predict the behaviour of matter. Many of the concepts of physics, and the methods of mathematics, are basic to chemistry. Chemistry is of fundamental importance to many other subjects including astrophysics, biological sciences, environmental science, geology, materials science, and medical sciences. These and other aspects of the subject are reflected in the courses offered, and the programs recommended by the Department.

The Department has made extensive changes to its course and program offerings in the last few years. These changes included a revision of first year courses, substantial modifications to later-year courses, the introduction of new specialist programs in Biological Chemistry, Materials Chemistry, and in Environmental Chemistry, and more flexibility for students choosing areas of specialization both within chemistry and in combination with other disciplines.

Students can choose between two first year options according to their intended area of specialization.

CHM151Y1 is the course that is strongly recommended for all students who will be following one of the specialist programs involving chemistry, including Biological Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their degree (such as those following a chemistry major program).

The combination of CHM138H1 and CHM139H1 is recommended for students who intend to take programs in the Life or Health Sciences that do not require a large amount of chemistry. These courses may be taken in any order, and not in the same session.

The outlines of these first year courses, together with those for later-year offerings, are shown in this Calendar. More detailed information is available from the Department, and is posted on the World Wide Web at www.chem.utoronto.ca/undergraduate/courses/1st.html. Students who are following programs that contain a substantial number of chemistry courses are strongly advised to take courses in the proper year (i.e. 200-series in second year, etc.). Following the correct sequence will enhance the level and balance of preparation for all later year courses, and timetable conflicts will be avoided.

Students whose current programs may be affected by the introduction of new or revised chemistry courses are advised to consult the Department at the earliest possible opportunity. Students requiring more information about Chemistry programs and courses are invited to visit or phone the Undergraduate Office, Lash Miller Chemical Laboratories, Room 151 (416-978-6033).

Chemistry Programs

Biological Chemistry (Science program)

---

Consult Professor M. Nitz, Department of Chemistry.

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)

First Year: BIO 150Y1; (CHM 151Y1 strongly recommended)/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Second and Higher Years:

1. BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1/(BIO 240H1, BIO 241H1); CHM 217H1, 225Y1/(220H1, 221H1), 238Y1, 247H1/249H1 (CHM249H1 strongly recommended); 0.5 MAT/CSC/STA credit
2. CHM 347H1, 348H1, 379H1.

3. At least one of the following: CHM 317H1, 327H1, 338H1, 343H1, 410H1, 438H1, 499Y1
4. Further 300/400-series courses in BCH or CHM, including CHM 437H1, 447H1, and 479H1 to make a total of 14 full courses. CSB 450H1 is also acceptable.

Chemical Physics (Science program)

Consult Professor J. Schofield, Department of Chemistry.

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 400-series courses)

First Year: (CHM 151Y1 strongly recommended)/(138H1, 139H1), MAT 137Y1/157Y1; PHY 140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Higher Years:

1. APM 346H1; CHM 225Y1, 326H1, 327H1, 328H1; MAT 223H1/240H1, 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1, 334H1; PHY 251H1, 255H1, 351H1, 352H1; CHM 423H1/PHY (355H1, 457H1)
2. Two full course equivalents from CHM 217H1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1 (CHM249H1 strongly recommended), 310H1, 317H1, 338H1, 348H1, 415H1
3. Further 400-series half-courses in CHM/PHY to make a total of 14 full courses

Chemistry (Science program)

Consult Dr. A. Dicks, Department of Chemistry.

Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Chemistry programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

First Year: (CHM 151Y1 strongly recommended)/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Second Year: BCH 210H1, CHM 217H1, 225Y1/(220H1 with minimum grade of B, 221H1), 238Y1, 249H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. CHM 326H1/328H1, 327H1
2. Further 300/400-level full course equivalents in CHM/MAT/another science, including at least three of CHM 317H1, 338H1, 343H1/346H1, 379H1, 410H1, 438H1, 499Y1 and at least three 400-level CHM full course equivalents to make a total of 14 full courses.

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year: (CHM 151Y1 strongly recommended)/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1

Second Year: At least two of CHM 217H1, 220H1/225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1 (CHM249H1 strongly recommended)

Third Year: At least two of CHM 317H1, 327H1, 338H1, (343H1/346H1)/348H1, 379H1

Fourth Year: Further 200/300/400-level CHM courses to make a total of seven CHM full course equivalents (CHM 299Y1 excluded)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level))

First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138HI, 139HI)

Second Year: At least one of CHM 217HI, 220HI/225Y1, 238Y1, 247HI/249HI (CHM249HI strongly recommended)

Third Year: At least one of CHM 317HI, 327HI, 338HI, 343HI/346HI, 348HI, 379HI

Fourth Year: Further 200/300/400-level CHM courses to make a total of four CHM full course equivalents (CHM 299Y1 excluded)

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)

Consult Professor J. Abbatt, Department of Chemistry

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Chemistry, this program focuses on analytical theory, instrumentation and mechanistic understanding of organic and inorganic contaminants in soil, water, air and biological tissues.

Enrolment in this program is limited. It requires prior completion of 4 courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Three courses must be from the First Year list. Apply through the Centre for Environment by: 1st Round: TBA; 2nd Round: TBA at: www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate.

Second Year: CHM 217HI, 225Y1/(220HI, 221HI), 238Y1, 247HI/249HI (CHM249HI strongly recommended); ENV 235Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. CHM 310HI, 410HI, 415HI; ENV 234Y1, ENV321Y1/(JGE 221Y1/JIE222Y1)
2. One additional FCE from 300/400-series CHM courses
3. (ENV 410HI, 421HI)/CHM 499Y1

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

Environmental chemistry is the study of the chemical impacts of humankind's activities on the soil, air, and water. This minor provides a balanced fundamental background in chemistry as well as an introduction to the major issues associated with environmental chemistry. It is a Type I program.

1. CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1
2. One full course equivalent from CHM 217HI, (220HI, 221HI)/225Y1, 238Y1, 247HI/249HI
3. ENV235Y1
4. Any two of CHM 310HI, 317HI, 410HI, 415HI

Nanoscience Minor Program (offered jointly with the National University of Singapore)

This physical science-based Type 3 minor program represents a unique opportunity to study chemistry and physics in a different cultural environment. Students take core subjects at the first-year level in Toronto and spend the spring semester of their second or third year at the National University of Singapore, where they are enrolled in lecture courses and undertake a faculty-supervised research project.

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level)

1. CHM 151Y1/139HI, PHY 140Y1/(151HI, 152HI)
2. NUS 227H0, 228H0, 328H0, 398H0*
3. Further CHM courses to make a total of four full course equivalents

*NUS courses must be taken at the National University of Singapore during either the spring semester of second year studies or the spring semester of third year studies.

For more information, contact the Undergraduate Office (LM 151, 416-978-6033, undergrd@chem.utoronto.ca), and the International Student Exchange Office (ISXO, www.utoronto.ca/student.exchange).

Nanoscience Minor Program Courses (offered jointly with the National University of Singapore)

NUS227H0 Science at the Nanoscale [52L, 13T]

Students are introduced to fundamental principles of physics and chemistry important to the nanoscale. Some basic physical tools that can be used to explore structures at this length scale are discussed. Linkages between the fundamental sciences and practical applications in nanotechnology are also made.

NUS228H0 Principles of Spectroscopy [39L, 39P, 13T]

Topics discussed include microwave spectroscopy, infrared spectroscopy, Raman spectroscopy, electronic spectroscopy, electron and nuclear spin resonance spectroscopy. The fundamental principles such as energy quantization, rigid rotors and harmonic oscillators are discussed, the techniques and instrumentation are studied, and the practical applications are emphasized.

NUS328H0 Nanochemistry [52L, 13T]

The synthesis, characterisation and application of nanostructures using chemical routes, incorporating various concepts from colloidal chemistry, supramolecular chemistry, polymer chemistry and electrochemistry. Applications of nanostructures such as quantum dots, nanoparticles, nanorods and nanowires in the areas of biosensors, bioimaging, LEDs and photonic crystals are highlighted.

Corequisite: NUS 227H0

NUS398H0 Nanoscience Research [130P]

An experimental or theoretical research problem in nanoscience under the supervision of a faculty member.

Chemistry Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all CHM courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

SC1199HI First Year Seminar [26L]

SC1199YI First Year Seminar [52L]

CHM138HI Introductory Organic Chemistry I [39L, 18P, 12T]

An introduction to principles of structure and their relation to reactivity of organic molecules: molecular structure, stereochemistry, functional groups, and reactions. Recommended for students in life and health science programs that involve a small amount of chemistry

NOTE: CHM138HI and 139HI may be taken in either order, but not both in the same session.

Exclusion: CHM 151YI, CHM242H5, CHMB4IH3

Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics (MHF4U + MCV4U) or (MCB4U + MHF4U/MDM4U/MCV4U) or (MCV4U + MDM4U/MGA4U)

Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 2nd year Chemistry courses; PHY138Y1/140Y1/(131H, 132H)/(151H, 152H) recommended

CHM139HI Chemistry: Physical Principles [39L, 18P, 12T]

Structure of matter; gases, liquids and solids; phase equilibria and phase diagrams; colligative properties; chemical equilibria; electrolyte solutions and electrochemistry; reaction kinetics; introduction to thermodynamics. Recommended for students in life and health science programs that involve a small amount of chemistry

NOTE: CHM138HI and 139HI may be taken in either order, but not both in the same session.

Exclusion: CHM 151YI, CHMA10H3, CHMA1IH3, CHM140Y5

Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics (MHF4U + MCV4U) or (MCB4U + MHF4U/MDM4U/MCV4U) or (MCV4U + MDM4U/MGA4U)

CHM151YI Chemistry: The Molecular Science [78L, 35P, 26T]

An introduction to the major areas of modern chemistry, including organic and biological chemistry; physical chemistry and chemical physics; and inorganic/materials chemistry. The course is intended for students who will be following one of the chemistry specialist programs (including Biological Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry) or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their degree (such as those following a chemistry major program). The combination of CHM151YI and CHM249HI serves as a full year introductory course in organic chemistry with laboratory. Note: Students taking Chemistry and Physics may schedule the labs on alternate weeks. CHM151YI has a unique "Course Community" where the undergraduate experience in chemistry is greatly enhanced through a series of workshops, research seminars, tours, outreach opportunities and social activities. Two hour biweekly Course Community meetings, during laboratory class hours (3:00 - 5:00 p.m.) will alternate weeks with the CHM151YI lab classes. The lab time is reserved for CHM151YI activities every week of each semester.

Exclusion: CHM (138HI, 139HI), CHM140Y5, CHMA10H3, CHMA1IH3

Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics (MHF4U + MCV4U) or (MCB4U + MHF4U/MDM4U/MCV4U) or (MCV4U + MDM4U/MGA4U); Physics SPH4U recommended

Co-requisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1/(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI) recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 2nd year courses; MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

CHM217HI Introduction to Analytical Chemistry [26L, 52P, 13T]

Introduction to the science of chemical measurement, from sampling through analysis to the interpretation of results, how water, food products, pharmaceuticals, and dietary supplements are analysed for content, quality, and potential contaminants. Also how to interpret experimental measurements, compare results and procedures, and calibrate analytical instrumentation. Through closely integrated lectures, laboratories, and tutorials, this highly practical course will introduce you to a variety of analytical techniques including volumetric methods, potentiometry, uv/visible and infrared spectrophotometry, flame atomic absorption spectrometry, and chromatography.

Prerequisite: CHM(138HI, 139HI)/151YI with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department

CHM220HI Physical Chemistry for Life Sciences [39L, 13T]

Introduction to thermodynamics; phase equilibrium, properties of mixtures, chemical equilibrium, electrochemistry; introduction to quantum mechanics and spectroscopy. This course is recommended for students in life and health science programs that involve a small amount of chemistry. Students enrolled in any chemistry specialist programs (including Biological Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry) or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their degree (such as those following a chemistry major program), are strongly encouraged to take CHM225Y1.

Recommended co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM221HI Physical Chemistry: The Molecular Viewpoint [26L, 13T]

A continuation of CHM220HI for students wishing to take some additional material in Physical Chemistry. The course covers topics in quantum mechanics and spectroscopy as well as an introduction to reaction kinetics.

Exclusion: CHM 225Y1, 221H5

Prerequisite: CHM220HI with a minimum grade of B, or permission of the department

Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1 recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 3rd year Chemistry courses

CHM225YI Introduction to Physical Chemistry [52L, 26T]

Topics: introductory thermodynamics, first and second law and applications; chemical equilibrium; chemical kinetics; introductory quantum mechanics; spectroscopy. The course is intended for students who will be following one of the chemistry specialist programs (including Biological Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry) or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their degree (such as those following a chemistry major program).

Exclusion: CHM 220HI, 221HI, 221H5

Prerequisite: [CHM(138HI, 139HI)/151YI with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department], MAT135YI/137YI/157YI, PHY138YI/140YI/(131H, 132H)/(151H, 152H)

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI

ENV235YI Physics and Chemistry of the Evolving Earth [52L, 26T]

(see Centre for Environment)

This course considers the fundamental chemical and physical processes of the Earth's natural environment. The first semester of the course focuses primarily on the atmosphere: its evolution, structure, composition and dynamical character. Particular emphasis is given to a discussion of global climate and the underlying physical, chemical and biogeochemical factors that drive climate change. Within this context, stratospheric ozone depletion, ocean chemistry, urban air pollution, acid rain and water quality are also discussed. The second semester focuses on the solid Earth: its formulation and evolution, internal dynamics, mantle-core differentiation, volcanism, tectonics and paleoclimate/ice ages. Throughout the course, the operation of the Earth as a coupled physico-chemical system over a range of timescales is emphasized.

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151YI, MAT 135YI/137YI/137YI/157YI, PHY 138YI/140YI or permission of the department

CHM238YI Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry [52L, 52P]

The first part (with CHM338HI) of a two-year sequence in Inorganic Chemistry, designed to illustrate and systematize the rich variety of structures, physical properties and reactions of compounds of the elements across and down the Periodic Table. Introduction to structure, symmetry and bonding of molecules and lattices; acid-base and redox reactions; d-metal complexes; systematic chemistry of metals and elements of the s and p blocks; inorganic materials and solid state chemistry with applications in advanced technologies.

CHM247HI Introductory Organic Chemistry II [39L, 22P, 12T]

Reactions of organic compounds. Principles of mechanism, synthesis, and spectroscopy, continuing from CHM 138HI. This course is recommended for students in life and health science programs that involve a small amount of chemistry. Students enrolled in any chemistry specialist programs (including Biological Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry) or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their degree (such as those following a chemistry major program) are strongly encouraged to take CHM249HI. Tutorial (12T) is optional.

Exclusion: CHM249HI, CHM243H5, CHMB42H3

CHM249HI Organic Chemistry [39L, 52P]

An introductory course in organic chemistry, based around the themes of structure, bonding, reaction mechanism and synthesis. Reactions are discussed with a view to understanding mechanism and how they are useful in the multi-step synthesis of medicinally and industrially important compounds. An introduction to the spectroscopy of organic molecules is also given, as well as discussion of topics relating to the biological behaviour of organic molecules and medicinal chemistry. This course continues from CHM 151YI or CHM 138HI and is designed for students in the chemistry specialist and major programs. This course is highly recommended for students in the Biological Chemistry program.

Exclusion: CHM247HI, CHM242H5, CHM243H5, CHMB41H3, CHMB42H3

Prerequisite: CHM151YI/(138HI, 139HI) with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department

CHM299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

CHM310HI Environmental Chemistry [26L]

Major chemical pollutants and their sources, the environmental reactions they undergo, and how they become distributed throughout the environment. Focus is on the principal routes of chemical and biological degradation of toxicants; oxidation, photodegradation, hydrolysis, reduction, biotic metabolism, and microbial degradation. The principal physical processes by which chemicals move, concentrate, and dissipate.

Prerequisite: CHM247HI/249HI

CHM317HI Introduction to Instrumental Methods of Analysis [26L, 52P]

Scope of instrumental analytical chemistry; Fourier transform IR absorption spectroscopy; molecular luminescence; emission spectroscopy; mass spectroscopy, electrochemical techniques; sensors; gas and high performance liquid chromatography; instrument design principles and applications in industry and the environment.

Prerequisite: CHM217HI with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department

Recommended preparation: CHM (220HI, 221HI)/225YI

CHM325HI Introduction to Inorganic and Polymer Materials Chemistry [26L]

Fashioned to illustrate how inorganic and polymer materials chemistry can be rationally used to synthesize superconductors, metals, semiconductors, ceramics, elastomers, thermoplastics, thermosets and polymer liquid crystals, with properties that can be tailored for applications in a range of advanced technologies. Coverage is fairly broad and is organized to crosscut many aspects of the field.

Prerequisite: CHM220HI/225YI, 238YI, 247HI/249HI

CHM326HI Introductory Quantum Mechanics and Spectroscopy [26L]

This course introduces the postulates of quantum mechanics to develop the fundamental framework of quantum theory. A number of exactly soluble problems are treated in detail as examples. Perturbation theory is introduced in the context of understanding many body problems. Various applications to chemical bonding and molecular spectroscopy are covered in detail.

Prerequisite: CHM225YI/(CHM 220HI, 221HI), MAT235YI/237YI

CHM327HI Experimental Physical Chemistry [13L, 52P]

Students are exposed to experiments to help them experience modern physical chemistry. Labs designed to illustrate physical chemistry principles and practical techniques as well as their real world state of the art applications. The course also involves some lecture material to broaden the laboratory experience.

Chemistry

---

Prerequisite: CHM225Y1/(CHM220H1, 221H1) with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department
Recommended co-requisites: CHM326H1 or CHM328H1

CHM328H1 Modern Physical Chemistry [26L]

This course explores the microscopic description of macroscopic phenomena in chemistry. Statistical mechanics is introduced as the bridge between the microscopic and macroscopic views, and applied to a variety of chemical problems including reaction dynamics. More advanced topics in thermodynamics are introduced and discussed as required.

CHM338H1 Intermediate Inorganic Chemistry [26L, 52P]

Further study of the structures, physical properties and reactions of compounds of the main group elements and the transition metals. Introductions to spectroscopy and structural analysis, reaction mechanisms, d- and f- block organometallic compounds, catalysis, structures of solids and bioinorganic chemistry. The weekly laboratory demonstrates aspects of transition metal chemistry.

Prerequisite: CHM238Y1 with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department

Recommended Preparation: CHM217H1, 247H1/249H1

CHM342H1 Modern Organic Synthesis (formerly CHM345H1) [26L]

An overview of the preparation of various classes of organic compounds. Strategies and tactics of synthetic organic chemistry using examples from natural products and pharmaceuticals. C-C bond formation, functional group reactivity, structure, stereochemistry and selectivity.

Exclusion: CHM345H1, CHM346H1

CHM343H1 Organic Synthesis Techniques [26L, 52P]

This laboratory course showcases modern organic synthesis techniques and introduces chemical research principles. It provides excellent preparation for a CHM499Y1 project in organic chemistry. Associated lectures teach theory and problem-solving approaches from a practical perspective.

Exclusion: CHM346H1

Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1 with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department

CHM347H1 Organic Chemistry of Biological Compounds [26L, 13T]

An organic chemical approach to the structure and reactions of major classes of biological molecules: carbohydrates, amino acids, peptides and proteins, phosphates, lipids, heterocycles, vitamins, nucleotides and polynucleotides. This is achieved through studies of advanced stereochemistry, chemical modification, reactions and synthesis. In addition to lectures and reading from texts, there will be opportunities for independent written assignments on several of the topics.

Recommended preparation: CHM217H1

CHM348H1 Organic Reaction Mechanisms [26L, 26P]

An advanced survey of principles and methods that deal with organic chemical structure and reactivity: advanced stereochemistry, conformational analysis, reaction kinetics, isotope effects, mechanistic approaches, applications of free energy relationships, orbital transformations, systematization of mechanisms, testing hypotheses.

CHM379H1 Biomolecular Chemistry [26L, 52P]

This course provides an opportunity to learn core techniques in biological chemistry in a small group laboratory setting. Lectures will discuss the theory behind the techniques and highlight how they are used in current biological chemistry research and practice.

Exclusion: BCH370H1, BCH 371H1

Prerequisite: (CHM247H1/249H1, with a minimum grade of 63%, or permission of the department), 347H1, BCH 210H1

Recommended preparation: CHM217H1

CHM398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

CHM399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

CHM410H1 Analytical Environmental Chemistry [26L, 44P]

An analytical theory, instrumental, and methodology course focused on the measurement of pollutants in soil, water, air, and biological tissues and the determination of physical/chemical properties including vapour pressure, degradation rates, partitioning. Lab experiments involve application of theory.

Prerequisite: CHM310H1

CHM414H1 Biosensors and Chemical Sensors [26L]

The development, design, and operation of biosensors and chemical sensors, including: biosensor technology, transducer theory and operation, device design and fabrication, surface modification and methods of surface analysis, flow injection analysis and chemometrics.

Prerequisite: CHM217H1/220H1/225Y1

CHM415H1 Atmospheric Chemistry [26L]

This course considers the chemistry occurring in the Earth's atmosphere, with emphasis on developing molecular-level understanding of the photochemistry, free-radical kinetics, and heterogeneous chemistry that occurs. Topics include stratospheric ozone depletion, trace gas oxidation, urban air pollution, acid rain, and the connections between aerosols and climate.

Prerequisite: CHM220H1/225Y1/310H1

Recommended preparation: MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY

138Y1/140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

CHM416H1 Separation Science [26L]

Principles of separation in analytical chemistry. Fractionation processes and solvent extractions; theory of chromatography, retention time, column efficiency and resolution. Principles of gas-liquid chromatography; instrumentation for gas chromatography. High performance liquid chromatography - practice and equipment design. Ion exchange, size-exclusion and affinity chromatography. Electrophoretic techniques.

CHM417H1 Instrumentation for Chemists [26L]

Basic understanding of components used in machines conventionally applied to chemical analysis and research. Electronic circuits and measurement; optical components; analog-digital conversion; lock-in amplifiers and frequency counters; interfaces for data acquisition and LabView; signal control.

Prerequisite: CHM317HI

CHM421HI Chemical Kinetics & Dynamics [26L] (Not offered in 2008-09)

The course provides an introduction to 1) molecular reaction dynamics (potential energy surfaces, bimolecular collisions, dynamics of bimolecular and unimolecular reactions, transition state theory) and to the modern tools (often laser based) to explore such dynamics, 2) relation of dynamics to classical chemical kinetics (rate, rate laws and mechanisms), 3) modern methods to control molecular processes.

CHM423HI Applications of Quantum Mechanics [26L]

Applications of time independent and time dependent perturbation theory to atomic and molecular problems, selection of topics from WKB approximation and the classical limit; the interaction of light with matter; elementary atomic scattering theory; molecular bonding.

Prerequisite: CHM326HI

Recommended preparation: MAT223HI

CHM426HI Polymer Chemistry [26L]

Scope of polymer chemistry. Classification of polymers. Synthesis and characterization. Polymers in solution. Thermodynamics of polymer solutions and blends, Flory-Huggins theory. Polymers in the solid state. Crystalline and amorphous polymers. Glass transition and melting temperature. Mechanical properties. Polymers as advanced materials.

Prerequisite: CHM325HI; two of CHM328HI, 338HI, 348HI/permission of the department

CHM427HI Statistical Mechanics [26L]

Ensemble theory in statistical mechanics. Applications, including imperfect gases and liquid theories. Introduction to non-equilibrium problems.

CHM432HI Organometallic Chemistry and Catalysis [26L]

Structure, bonding, and reactions of organometallic compounds, with emphasis on basic mechanisms, and industrial processes. Addition, metalation, substitution, elimination, important catalytic cycles, electrophilic, and nucleophilic reactions are considered on a mechanistic basis. Properties of s and p block organometallics.

Recommended preparation: CHM348HI

CHM434HI Advanced Materials Chemistry [26L]

A comprehensive investigation of synthetic methods for preparing diverse classes of inorganic materials with properties intentionally tailored for a particular use. Begins with a primer on solid-state materials and electronic band description of solids followed by a survey of archetypical solids that have had a dramatic influence on the materials world, some new developments in materials chemistry and a look at perceived future developments in materials research and technology. Strategies for synthesizing many different classes of materials with intentionally designed structures and compositions, textures and morphologies are then explored in detail emphasizing how to control the relations between structure and property of materials and ultimately function and utility. A number of contemporary issues in materials research are critically evaluated to appreciate recent highlights in the field of materials chemistry - an emerging sub-discipline of chemistry.

CHM437HI Bioinorganic Chemistry [26L]

Essential elements in biology; naturally occurring and medicinal ligands; transport, uptake and control of concentration of metal ions; physical methods of characterization of metal binding sites. Roles of metal ions: as structural and signaling elements in proteins, nucleic acids and DNA-binding complexes and proteins; as Lewis-acid centres in enzymes; as carriers of electrons, atoms and groups in redox proteins and enzymes; as sources of biominerals; as radiopharmaceuticals.

Prerequisite: CHM238YI

Recommended preparation: CHM338HI (strongly recommended), CHM347HI/379HI

CHM438HI Advanced Inorganic and Materials Chemistry Laboratory [130P]

The 4-week format of the lab bridges the gap between typical undergraduate labs and the realities of academic and industrial research and provides an exceptional educational opportunity for students intending to do CHM499YI research and/or considering going on in graduate studies. The lab is open throughout the day for the first four weeks of the fall term and instructional staff are available during this time to provide guidance on an individual basis. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session.

Prerequisite: Chemistry Specialist students: CHM238Y, CHM338HI and permission of Department. Materials Science Specialist students: CHM238Y, CHM325H and permission of department

CHM440HI The Synthesis of Modern Pharmaceutical Agents [26L]

This course provides an overview of reactions and synthetic strategies that are being used at different stages of the drug development process. Using representative examples from the literature, we will concentrate on synthesis of complex heterocyclic compounds.

Prerequisite: CHM342HI/345HI/346HI

CHM441HI Spectroscopic Analysis in Organic Chemistry [26L, 16P]

Structure and stereochemistry determination using modern spectroscopic techniques. Several techniques are discussed but particular emphasis is given to NMR (1H and 13C NMR) and mass spectrometry. The approach taken emphasizes applications of these spectroscopic methods to organic problems. Students are trained to run their own spectra (IR, UV, NMR, GC-MS).

CHM443HI Physical Organic Chemistry [26L]

Noncovalent binding forces, solutions, and molecular recognition. Electronic structure theory and computational techniques. Reaction mechanisms: experimental probes and reactive intermediates, including carbenes and radicals. Photochemistry and photochemistry of organic compounds.

Prerequisite: CHM220HI/225YI, 348HI

CHM447HI Bio-organic Chemistry [26L]

Applications of principles of physical organic chemistry to the study of biologically important processes: principles of catalysis, acceleration mechanisms, enthalpy and entropy barriers, magnitudes of enzymatic rate constants, enzyme kinetics, mechanisms of inhibition, pH-dependence, stereochemical analysis, reaction patterns, selected cofactor mechanisms, case studies of enzymes, additional topics.

Chemistry

Prerequisite: CHM347HI, CHM348HI or permission of the department

CHM479HI Biological Chemistry [26L]

An in depth examination of biological systems at the molecular level. Several complex, multi-component molecular machines with a central role in life will be examined. For each system studied, the focus will be on understanding the chemical mechanisms that underlie the biological activities, and how these processes fit into a cellular context.

Prerequisite: CHM447HI, BCH210HI/242YI

CHM499YI Introduction to Chemistry Research [260P]

An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a faculty member. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session.

Projects in the areas of environmental, analytical, physical, inorganic, materials, organic and biological chemistry are offered*.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. Research positions are limited. Students with strong background in courses in the sub-discipline of research interest will be given preference.

*students wishing to enrol in CHM 499YI in the fields of inorganic or inorganic materials chemistry must enrol in CHM 438HI as a co-requisite.

The field of Classics is concerned with the languages, literature, philosophy, myth, religion, politics, and history of Greece and Rome. For the linguist, Greek provides an unbroken tradition from the earliest to modern times, while Latin is the parent of the Romance languages.

Students and lovers of literature are introduced to works in every genre which have contributed form, content, and critical standards to every European literature. The philosopher encounters the seminal ideas of European philosophy clearly and simply expressed. The political scientist observes a people passionately interested in the theory and practice of politics who explored the possibilities of elitist governing groups, despotism, and democracy, singly and in a variety of combinations, in national, federal, and imperial contexts. The student of religion discovers a rich variety of religious experience, interesting in itself and for its formative influence upon Christianity and Islam. The historian surveying an entire civilization can compare it with our own and can trace the evolution of a great social experiment from its first creative phase through its mature achievement to its final period of consolidation and obsolescence. Our understanding of the present is enhanced by understanding these formative influences from the past.

The Department of Classics welcomes students of all academic backgrounds who wish to take courses in the field but do not wish to specialize in Classical Studies. Even without knowing Greek or Latin, students can profitably study Greek and Roman history or Greek and Latin literature in translation - two areas combined under the designation CLA (for Classical Civilization courses) below. Similarly, the Major and Minor Programs in Classical Civilization presuppose no knowledge of the classical languages.

Advanced work in Greek and Latin does require study of the basic language courses in sequence. These are listed below under the designations GRK (for Greek courses) and LAT (for Latin courses).

The Department of Classics publishes an undergraduate handbook which may be obtained from the departmental office and is published on the internet; this and other information about the Department is available at: <http://www.chass.utoronto.ca/classics>.

Department of Classics Programs

Enrolment in Classical Civilization programs is limited to students who have completed 2 CLA half-courses with a grade of 65 or above; enrolment in the language programs listed below (Classics, Greek, Latin) is open to students who have completed 4 full course equivalents (FCEs) of any kind; no minimum grade is required. PLEASE NOTE THAT NOT ALL COURSES ARE OFFERED EVERY YEAR. CONSULT THE CURRENT TIMETABLE OR UNDERGRADUATE HANDBOOK FOR CURRENT COURSE OFFERINGS

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

The Department of Classics participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Ancient Greek and Latin. The study of Ancient Greek and Latin is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience which makes available to the modern student the rich resources of classical texts in the original languages. Successful study of these languages demonstrates intelligence, discipline, analytical sophistication, and an excellent memory. The study of any foreign language provides invaluable insights into the varieties of human culture and expression.

In each language the Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success. The Citation in Latin is available to students who complete LAT 100Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in LAT 201HI, 202HI and any two LAT courses at the 300 level.

The Citation in Ancient Greek is available to students who complete GRK100Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in GRK 201HI, 202HI and any two GRK courses at the 300 level.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Department of Classics Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all CLA, GRK, and LAT courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses. See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

What is Computer Science?

Despite the name, Computer Science is not really a “science of computers” at all. Computers are quite remarkable electronic devices, but even more remarkable is what they can be made to do: simulate the flow of air over a wing, manage communication over the Internet, control the actions of a robot, synthesize realistic images, play grandmaster-level chess, and on and on. Indeed the application of computers in activities like these has affected most areas of modern life. What these tasks have in common has little to do with the physics or electronics of computers; what matters is that they can be formulated as some sort of computation. This is the real subject matter of Computer Science: computation, and what can or cannot be done computationally.

In trying to make sense of what we can get a computer to do, a wide variety of topics come up. There are, however, two recurring themes. The first is the issue of scale: how big a system can we specify without getting lost in the design, or how big a task can a computer handle within reasonable bounds of time, memory and accuracy. A large part of Computer Science deals with these questions in one form or another. In the area of programming languages and methodology, for example, we look for notations for describing computations, and programming methodologies that facilitate the production of manageable and efficient software. In the theory of computation area, we study resource requirements in time and memory of many basic computational tasks.

The second theme concerns the scope of computation. Computers were originally conceived as purely numerical calculators, but today, we tend to view them much more broadly. Part of Computer Science is concerned with understanding just how far computational ideas can be applied. In the area of artificial intelligence, for example, we ask how much of the intelligent behaviour of people can be expressed in computational terms. In the area of human/computer interaction, we ask what sorts of normal day-to-day activities of people might be supported and augmented using computers.

Many of our Programs combine another field with computer science, such as Information Systems, Economics, Mathematics, Physics or Statistics. The Programs in Software Engineering and Human-Computer Interaction focus on developing areas of computing.

Some Computer Science courses are offered in the evening, to allow part-time students to pursue our Programs. Introductory courses and some higher-level courses are offered in the summer.

The Professional Experience Year Program (PEY) offers students the opportunity to gain valuable work experience in industry, over a twelve to sixteen-month period. It, and the Co-Op Japan Program, are available to eligible, full time students pursuing their first degree. Please refer to Page 20 for more information.

Computer Science Programs

Enrolment is restricted in all CSC Programs. You may request a CSC subject POST in April-June or July-August depending on when you have completed the required 100-level courses listed below. Consult the 2008-2009 Registration Handbook & Timetable for details of how to apply. Admission to restricted Programs depends on performance in the required 100-level courses (listed in Program descriptions) and on cumulative GPA.

Tuition fees for students enrolled in Computer Science Major or Specialist Programs are higher than for other Arts and Science Programs.

Course Categories

A number of Computer Science Programs are described based on the following course categories: English Writing Requirement, Basic Courses, Core Courses, and Additional Courses. Also, all CSC courses and a few related ECE/MAT/STA courses are further grouped into subject areas and sub-areas.

English Writing Requirement

Students in any Specialist Program sponsored by the Department of Computer Science (including Combined Specialist Programs) must complete one credit requiring substantial written work in English. The courses accepted for this purpose are listed below. Courses not on this list do not satisfy the requirement without departmental approval. Students in the Major Program in Computer Science must take one-half credit from the same list. Departments offering these courses have agreed to accept our students, but will not give you special preference in admission. You must satisfy the prerequisite and other requirements listed in this Calendar. Make sure to check that the course you want to take is offered in the year you want it, and to follow the enrolment requirements stated in the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable. A Transfer credit, whether it is for a specific course on the list below (e.g., “RLG100Y1”) or is a generic credit (e.g., “RLG1**Y1”), must be approved by the Department in order to count towards the writing requirement. Please contact the Department for approval. In order to accept such a course, we must assess the role of written work in the course, and determine that it was taught in English, at an English-speaking university.

Computer Science

ANT204Y1; CLA160Y1, any 200- or 300-level except CLA201H1; CSC290H1, CSC300H1; ENG – any 100- or 200-level; GER235Y1, GER251Y1; HIS – any 100- or 200-level; HPS – all courses; HUM101Y1, HUM199H1/Y1; INI115Y1, INI202Y1, INI203Y1, INI204Y1, INI224Y1, INI225Y1, INI235Y1, INI300Y1; ITA240Y1, ITA245Y1, ITA340Y1; JAL328H1; JEF100Y1; NEW150Y1, NEW160Y1, higher-level courses in the “Humanism” grouping; NMC101Y1, NMC185Y1, higher-level courses in the “History” grouping; PHL100Y1, any 200- or 300-level PHL except PHL245H1, PHL246H1, PHL247H1, PHL344H1, PHL345H1, PHL346H1, PHL347H1, PHL348H1, PHL349H1, PHL356H1; POL100Y1, POL102Y1, POL103Y1, POL104Y1, POL108Y1, any 200-level except POL242Y1; RLG100Y1, RLG101Y1, any 200-level; TRN200Y1, UNI130Y1, UNI201H1, UNI202H1, UNI250Y1; UNI310Y1; VIC120Y1; WRT300H1.

Courses not accepted to satisfy the writing requirement include SC1199H1/Y1, SSC199H1/Y1, and the “Research Opportunity Program” courses numbered 299Y1 in any Department. INX199H1/Y1 is not automatically accepted towards the writing requirement. Students may, however, request Department approval for a particular INX199H1/Y1 course.

In addition to completing their English Writing Requirement, Computer Science students do significant writing in a number of their CSC courses. The quality of their writing, as well as its content, is important and is normally part of the grading scheme.

Basic Courses (5.5 full courses): Courses required in the Major and most Specialists

First Year:

CSC 108H1/150H1 [Software Engineering sub-area]
CSC 148H1/150H1 [Software Engineering sub-area]
CSC 165H1/240H1 [Logic and Complexity sub-area]
MAT 137Y1/157Y1 [Mathematics sub-area]

First or Second Year:

CSC 207H1 [Software Engineering sub-area]
CSC 236H1/240H1 [Logic and Complexity sub-area]
CSC 258H1 [Core Systems sub-area]
MAT 223H1/240H1 [Mathematics sub-area]

Second Year:

CSC 263H1/265H1 [Logic and Complexity sub-area]
STA 247H1/257H1 [Mathematics sub-area]

Notes:

1. Students with a strong background in Java or C++ may omit CSC108H1 and proceed directly with CSC 148H1.
2. CSC 150H1 is an accelerated alternative to CSC108H1 and CSC 148H1, intended for students with previous programming experience in a procedural language.

3. CSC 240H1 is an accelerated and enriched version of CSC 165H1 plus CSC 236H1, intended for students with a strong mathematical background, or who develop an interest after taking CSC 165H1.
4. Students may not omit CSC 165H1 and proceed directly to CSC236H1. Either (CSC 165H1 and CSC236H1), or CSC240H1 is required for Program completion. CSC165H1 is different from CSC108H1 in this respect.
5. Consult the Undergraduate Office for advice about choosing among CSC108H1, CSC148H1, and CSC150H1, and between CSC165H1 and CSC240H1.

Core Courses (3.5 full courses): Courses required in most Specialists

CSC 209H1 [Core Systems sub-area]
CSC 324H1 [Software Engineering sub-area]
CSC 336H1/350H1 [Numerical Analysis sub-area]
CSC 343H1 [Information Systems sub-area]
CSC 363H1/365H1 [Logic and Complexity sub-area]
CSC 369H1 [Core Systems sub-area]
CSC 373H1/375H1 [Logic and Complexity sub-area]

Notes

1. CSC 350H1 is required in the Computer Science Specialist Program – Foundations Option; students who take CSC 336H1 and later decide to enrol in the Foundations Option will be required to take extra credits as determined by the Undergraduate Program Director.
2. MAT 237Y1/257Y1 is a direct or indirect prerequisite for a number of CSC courses. MAT 237Y1/257Y1 is also required in most Computer Science Programs. Students are advised to take MAT 237Y1/257Y1 unless they have planned their Program and course selection carefully and are certain that they will not need it.

Additional Courses

Systems Area

- I. Core Systems*
CSC 354H1, 358H1/458H1, 372H1; ECE 385H1
CSC 458H1, 469H1, 488H1; ECE 489H1
- II. Software Engineering*
CSC 301H1, 302H1
CSC 410H1, 404H1, 465H1
- III. Information Systems*
CSC 443H1

Human Factors and Graphics Area

- I. Human Factors*
CSC 300H1, 318H1
CSC 428H1, 454H1
- II. Graphics*
CSC 320H1
CSC 418H1

Artificial Intelligence Area

- I. Reasoning*
CSC 384H1
CSC 486H1
- II. Language*
CSC 401H1, 485H1
- III. Vision*
CSC 420H1, 487H1
- IV. Learning*
CSC 321H1
CSC 411H1, 412H1

Foundations Area

- I. Logic and Complexity
CSC 330HI
CSC 438HI, 448HI
- II. Numerical Analysis
CSC 351HI
CSC 446HI, 456HI
- III. Mathematics
MAT 224HI/240HI, 237YI/257YI; STA 248HI

Computer Science (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in the Specialist and Major Programs is limited. Specialist Program admission requires (1) 65% in CSC 148HI/150HI, (2) either 60% in MAT 137YI/157YI or 65% in CSC 165HI/240HI, and (3) a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Major Program admission requires (1) 50% in CSC 148HI/150HI, (2) either 50% in MAT 137YI/157YI or 50% in CSC 165HI/240HI, and (3) a minimum CGPA of 1.5. Students who not meet these requirements on the first attempt will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Specialist Program

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. MAT 237YI/257YI.
4. Six half courses from the Additional Courses, with at least two 400-level half courses.

Notes:

1. This flexible Program allows students to concentrate in one or more areas for which there is currently no other Program. Students are strongly encouraged to seek advice from a faculty member in the Department of Computer Science in order to ensure that their course selection meets their academic goals. This is particularly important for students planning to apply to graduate school.

Major Program

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)

1. One half course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses (5.5 full courses).
3. Four 300+ level half courses from the Core Courses and/or Additional Courses.

Notes:

1. CSC 209HI is a direct or indirect prerequisite for a number of CSC courses. Students who intend to take one of these courses will also have to take CSC 209HI as an additional half course.

Computer Science – Artificial Intelligence Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. One full credit from MAT 237YI/257YI, MAT 224HI/240HI/247HI, STA 248HI/261HI.
4. Five half courses from the Artificial Intelligence area, with at least one half course from each of three different Artificial Intelligence sub-areas.

Notes:

1. Students may be interested in taking UNI250YI to satisfy their English Writing Requirement. This course can be taken in first year.
2. The additional half course CSC 320HI is recommended for students interested in taking CSC 420HI.
3. The additional half course CSC 330HI is recommended for students interested in taking CSC 486HI.

Computer Science – Foundations Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses), except that students must take CSC 350HI rather than CSC 336HI.
3. MAT 224HI/240HI, 237YI/257YI.
4. MAT 301HI/315HI/334HI/344HI/401HI.
5. CSC 351HI.
6. CSC 438HI/448HI/465HI.
7. Two half courses from the Additional Courses, with at least one 400-level half course – these may include any half course not taken to satisfy the requirement CSC 438HI/448HI/465HI.

Computer Science – Information Systems Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. MAT 237YI/257YI.
4. CSC 309HI, 310HI, CSC 301HI/318HI.
5. CSC 443HI.
6. (CSC 384HI, 486HI) / (STA 248HI, CSC 411HI)

Computer Science – Software Engineering Option (Science Program)

---

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. CSC301HI, CSC302HI, CSC 318HI.
4. Two of CSC 354HI, 372HI, 320HI/321HI/330HI/384HI, 401HI, 410HI, 454HI, 465HI; ECE385HI.
5. Two of CSC 309HI, 404HI, 418HI, 443HI, 358HI/458HI, 469HI; CSC 488HI/ECE 489HI.
6. The courses chosen from groups 4 and 5 must include at least two half courses at the 400 level.

Notes:

1. This Program does not lead to certification as a Professional Engineer.
2. Students in this Program are strongly encouraged to consider participating in the Professional Experience Year (PEY) Program.
3. It is recommended, although not necessary, to take CSC 301HI and 302HI in sequence in third year. Students who do so will likely defer some other third year course until fourth year.

Computer Science & Economics (Science Program)

Consult the Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics or Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requires: (1) 70% in ECO 100Y1, (2) 65% in CSC 148HI/150HI, (3) either 60% in MAT 137Y1/157Y1 or 65% in CSC 165HI/CSC240HI, and (4) a minimum CGPA of 2.0. The requirements of the two Departments, Computer Science and Economics, must both be met.

Specialist Program

(17 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

CSC 165HI/240HI, (108HI, 148HI)/150HI; ECO 100Y1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1 (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)

Higher Years:

1. One full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)
2. CSC 207HI, 236HI/240HI, 258HI, 263HI/265HI, 324HI, 336HI/350HI.
3. ECO 206Y1, 208Y1, 325HI, 326HI, 327Y1, 416HI/418HI.
4. APM 236HI, MAT (223HI, 224HI)/240HI, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1.
5. ECO 227Y1/STA (257HI, 261HI).
6. One and a half courses from the following groups, of which at least one half-course must be from each of Groups A and B:

Group A:

CSC 343HI, 358HI, 369HI

Group B:

Any 300+ series ECO course

Group C:

APM 462HI; CSC 301HI, 302HI, 351HI, 354HI, 363HI/365HI, 373HI/375HI, 401HI, 454HI; ECE 385HI; STA 322HI, 347HI, 437HI, 457HI

Note: The courses chosen from groups A, B and C must include at least one half credit at the 400 level.

Computer Science & Mathematics (Science Program)

---

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science or Professor S.A. Cook, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(15.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

CSC (108HI, 148HI)/150HI; MAT 157Y1, 240HI (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)

First or Second Year:

CSC 240HI, 258HI, 207HI; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)

Second Year:

CSC 265HI; MAT 247HI, 257Y1, 267HI; STA 257HI/352Y1

Third Year:

CSC 324HI, 365HI, 375HI

Third or Fourth Years:

1. MAT 327HI, 347Y1, 354HI, 357HI.
2. One of CSC 438HI, 448HI, 465HI; MAT 443HI.
3. CSC 350HI, 351HI.
4. One of CSC 401HI, 418HI, 420HI, 428HI, 443HI, 456HI, 458HI, 469HI, 485HI, 486HI, 487HI, 488HI; ECE 489HI.
5. APM 351Y1/MAT 457Y1.
6. One of APM 461HI; MAT 344HI, 464HI, 477HI.

Notes:

1. It is recommended that PHY 151HI, 152HI be taken.

Computer Science & Physics (Science Program)

---

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science, or Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science. NOTE: Students in this Program should consult one or both Departments during the spring of each year, to ensure that they choose courses appropriate to their intended careers.

Specialist Program

(17.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

CSC (108HI, 148HI)/150HI; MAT 137Y1/157Y1, 223HI/240HI; PHY 151HI, 152HI (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)

First or Second Year:

CSC 240HI, 207HI; STA 247HI; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)

Second Year:

CSC 263HI/265HI; MAT 237Y1/257Y1, 244HI/267HI; PHY 225HI, 251HI, 252HI, 255HI, 256HI

Third Year:

APM 346HI; CSC 324HI, 350HI; MAT 334HI; PHY 351HI, 352HI, 355HI

Third or Fourth Years:

1. CSC 351HI, 363HI/365HI/373HI/375HI
2. PHY 457HI/459HI/460HI
3. CSC 401HI/418HI/420HI/428HI/443HI/458HI/469HI/485HI/486HI/487HI/488HI/ECE 489HI
4. 1.5 courses from the 300-/400-level lab courses as described in the Notes to the Physics Specialist Program.

Computer Science & Statistics (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science, or Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Statistics.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program

(14.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

CSC (108HI, 148HI)/150HI, 165HI/240HI; MAT 137Y1/157Y1 (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)

First or Second Year:

1. CSC 236HI/240HI, 258HI, 207HI
2. MAT (223HI, 224HI)/(240HI, 247HI)
3. One full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)

Second Year:

CSC 263HI/265HI; STA 257HI, 261HI; MAT 237Y1/257Y1

Third Year:

CSC 324HI, 350HI, 351HI, 363HI/365HI, 373HI/375HI; STA 302HI, (347HI, 447HI)/352Y1

Third or Fourth Years:

1. One of CSC 418HI, 443HI, 456HI, 458HI, 469HI, 487HI; MAT 443HI
2. STA 437HI/442HI/457HI
3. Two of CSC 310HI, 321HI, 354HI, 401HI, 411HI, 412HI; STA 410HI

Human-Computer Interaction (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requires (1) 65% in CSC 148HI/150HI, (2) either 60% in MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 or 65% in CSC 165HI/CSC 240HI, and (3) a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Students who do not meet these requirements on the first attempt will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Specialist Program

(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

1. CSC 165HI/240HI, (108HI, 148HI)/150HI (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)
2. MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1,
3. SOC 101Y1,

First or Second Year:

CSC 207HI, 236HI/240HI; PSY 100HI; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)

Second Year:

1. CSC 258HI, 263HI/265HI; STA 247HI
2. MAT 223HI/240HI; SOC 200HI

Third Year:

1. CSC 300HI, 301HI, 318HI
2. CSC 324HI/343HI
3. STA 248HI/PSY (201HI, 202HI)/SOC (202HI, 300HI)
4. PSY 270HI, 280HI

Third or Fourth Year:

1. CSC 363HI/365HI/373HI/375HI, 428HI
2. Two of CSC 302HI, 418HI/487HI/420HI, 401HI/485HI/486HI/411HI, 443HI/458HI/469HI
3. WDW 260HI

Notes:

1. Students in this Program should consult the Department of Computer Science at least annually to discuss their choice of courses, especially if they plan on graduate study.
2. Students who may be interested in other Programs sponsored by the Department of Computer Science must take MAT 137Y1/157Y1 and not MAT 135Y1.
3. It is recommended that you take a physical science course such as PHY (131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)1.
4. It is strongly recommended that you take at least one half-course in Human Factors or Ergonomics offered by the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering, such as MIE 343HI, 448HI, 449HI.
5. Other recommended courses include: CSC 309HI, 369HI, 454HI, 469HI; SOC 387Y1; PSY 305HI, 312HI, 370HI, 371HI, 372HI, 375HI, 312HI; JLP 374HI

For advice on course choice and assistance in enrolment consult the Department of Computer Science.

---

Minor subject POSt is not recognized as a restricted CS subject POSt for St. George courses enrolments.

NOTE: No late registration is permitted in any CSC course after the first two weeks of classes.

Enrolment in most CSC courses above 100-level is restricted. Consult the Calendar or the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

Prerequisites and exclusions

Prerequisites and exclusions are enforced. Please refer to the 2006-2007 Registration Handbook and Timetable for prerequisite waiver deadlines.

Dropping down from enriched to regular courses

Students may go to their college to drop down from enriched courses to regular courses. The courses are as follows: from CSC148HI to CSC108HI, from CSC150HI to CSC108HI, from CSC240HI to CSC165H (or to CSC236HI if you have already passed CSC165HI), from CSC265HI to CSC263HI, from CSC365HI to CSC363HI, and from CSC375HI to CSC373HI.

Drop down deadlines:

Fall session – October 3, 2008

Winter session – February 6, 2009

Students with transfer credits

If you have transfer credits in Computer Science or a similar subject for courses done at another university or college, contact our Undergraduate Office (BA4252/4254) for advice on choosing courses. Ask for advice also even if you don't have transfer credits yet but are considering degree study at the University of Toronto. Without advice, you risk poor course choice or other adverse consequences.

INX199HI First-Year Seminar [26S]

INX199YI First-Year Seminar [52S]

SCII99HI First-Year Seminar [26S]

SCII99YI First-Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

CSC104HI The Why and How of Computing [26L, 13T]

An introduction to computing for non-computer scientists. History of computing machinery; representation of data and their interaction with operations; hardware, software, operating systems; problem solving and algorithms; social issues in computing; a gentle introduction to programming. This course is an introduction to becoming actively engaged with computing, not a tutorial on using particular computer applications. Exclusion: SMC104HI; VIC104HI; any CSC course.

Choosing first year courses:

To help you select the programming course that is right for you, see www.cs.toronto.edu/dcs, click Current students, select Choosing your First Year Courses.

CSC108HI Introduction to Computer Programming [39L, 12T, 12P]

Structure of computers; the computing environment. Programming in a language such as Python. Program structure: elementary data types, statements, control flow, functions, classes, objects, methods, fields. Lists; searching, sorting and complexity. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computing laboratory. These sections are offered when facilities are available, and attendance is required.

Exclusion: CSC107HI, 120HI, 139HI, 148HI, 149HI, 150HI.

NOTE: You may not take this course after or concurrently with CSC148HI, but you may take CSC148HI after CSC108HI.

CSC120HI Computer Science for the Sciences [26L, 12P]

An introduction to computer science for students in other sciences, with an emphasis on gaining practical skills. Introduction to programming; web programming; database design; software tools; examples and exercises taken from the sciences. At the end of this course you will be able to develop computer tools for scientific applications, such as the structuring and analysis of experimental data. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computer laboratory. No programming experience is necessary. Students who wish to do more can progress directly to CSC150HI.

Exclusion: any CSC course.

CSC148HI Introduction to Computer Science [26L, 13T, 12P]

Abstract data types and data structures for implementing them. Linked data structures. Encapsulation and information-hiding. Object-oriented programming. Specifications. Analyzing the efficiency of programs. Recursion. This course assumes programming experience in a language such as Python, C++, or Java, as provided by CSC108HI.

Students who already have this background may consult the Computer Science Undergraduate Office for advice about skipping CSC108HI. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computing laboratory. These sections are offered when facilities are available, and attendance is required. Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC148HI to CSC108HI. See above for the drop down deadline.

Exclusion: CSC139HI, 149HI, 150HI; you may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: CSC108HI; MHF4U(advanced functions)/ MCV4U(calculus and vectors)

CSC150HI Accelerated Introduction to Computer Science [39L, 13T, 12P]

An accelerated course covering object-oriented topics from CSC108HI (classes, objects, methods and fields, and program design), as well as all the material of CSC148HI. Suitable for students with a solid programming background in Turing, C, Scheme, or a similar language, who are willing to accept a heavier workload than in CSC108HI and CSC148HI.

Exclusion: CSC107HI, 108HI, 139HI, 148HI, 149HI; you may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: MHF4U(advanced functions)/MCV4U(calculus and vectors). Students should thoroughly understand arrays, searching, sorting, functions/procedures/subprograms, arguments and parameters, and modular design.

Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC150HI to CSC108HI. See above for the drop down deadline.

CSC165HI Mathematical Expression and Reasoning for Computer Science [39L, 26T]

Introduction to abstraction and rigour. Informal introduction to logical notation and reasoning. Understanding, using and developing precise expressions of mathematical ideas, including definitions and theorems. Structuring proofs to improve presentation and comprehension. General problem-solving techniques. Unified approaches to programming and theoretical problems. Representation of floating point numbers and introduction to numerical computation.

Exclusion: CSC236HI, 238HI, 240HI; MAT102H5 (University of Toronto Mississauga); You may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: CSC108HI/(CSC148HI/150HI taken concurrently); MHF4U(advanced functions)/MCV4U(calculus and vectors). Recommended preparation: first term of MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1.

NOTE: It is recommended that CSC148HI/150HI and CSC165HI/240HI be taken at the same time, since each course relies on material from the other. If you take one before the other, it is preferable to take CSC148HI/150HI first. In any case, you will be at a modest disadvantage in the first of the two courses, and will be expected to pick up the relevant material from the other course on your own.

Note

To enrol in any CSC course at the 200-level or higher, you must have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.50 (3.00 for 300- and 400-level courses) or be enrolled in a restricted subject POSt sponsored by the Department of Computer Science. The University of Toronto at Mississauga Computer Science Minor is not a restricted subject POSt. If you are in your first year of degree studies, the GPA requirement does not apply.

CSC207HI Software Design [26L, 13T]

An introduction to software design and development concepts, methods, and tools using a statically-typed object-oriented programming language such as Java. Topics from: version control, build management, unit testing, refactoring, design patterns, advanced IDE usage, regular expressions, markup languages, parsing using finite state machines, and reflection.

Prerequisite: CSC148HI/150HI; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC209HI Software Tools and Systems Programming [26L, 13T]

Software techniques in a Unix-style environment, using scripting languages and a machine-oriented programming language (typically C). What goes on in the operating system when programs are executed. Core topics: creating and using software tools, pipes and filters, file processing, shell programming, processes, system calls, signals, basic network programming.

Exclusion: CSC372HI, 408HI, 369HI, 468HI, 469HI.
Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI/enrolment in Bioinformatics and Computational Biology (BCB) subject POSt; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC236HI Introduction to the Theory of Computation [26L, 13T]

The application of logic and proof techniques to Computer Science. Mathematical induction; correctness proofs for iterative and recursive algorithms; recurrence equations and their solutions (including the “Master Theorem”); introduction to automata and formal languages.

Exclusion: CSC238HI, 240HI.

Prerequisite: CSC148HI/150HI, 165HI/(148HI as given before Fall 2003); CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC240HI Enriched Introduction to the Theory of Computation [26L, 13T]

The rigorous application of logic and proof techniques to Computer Science. Propositional and predicate logic; mathematical induction and other basic proof techniques; correctness proofs for iterative and recursive algorithms; recurrence equations and their solutions (including the “Master Theorem”); introduction to automata and formal languages. This course covers the same topics as CSC236HI, together with selected material from CSC165HI, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs and theoretical analysis. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC165HI or CSC236HI may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered.

Exclusion: CSC236HI, 238HI.

Prerequisite: OAC Calculus and one of Algebra & Geometry or Finite Mathematics OR U Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus, and one of U Geometry and Discrete Mathematics or U Mathematics of Data Management, with high grades.

Recommended preparation: first term of MAT137Y1/157Y1.

Co-requisite: CSC148HI/150HI; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC240HI to CSC165HI (or to CSC236HI if you have already passed CSC165HI). See above for the drop down deadline.

CSC258HI Computer Organization [26L, 9P, 10T]

Computer structures, machine languages, instruction execution, addressing techniques, and digital representation of data. Computer system organization, memory storage devices, and microprogramming. Block diagram circuit realizations of memory, control and arithmetic functions. There are a number of laboratory periods in which students conduct experiments with digital logic circuits.

Exclusion: CSC257HI as given before 1985.

Prerequisite: CSC148HI/150HI, 165HI/240HI/(148HI as given before Fall 2003); CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC260HI Introduction to Scientific, Symbolic, and Graphical Computation [26L, 13T]

Problems in transforming continuous mathematical models to discrete computational models. Inadequacy of naive computer solutions, and techniques to remedy inadequacies. Symbolic computation, plotting, 3-D graphics, and conventional programming languages. Intended for students from computer science, sciences and mathematics: for computer scientists, introduction to design and implementation of robust algorithms; for scientists, techniques in transforming scientific problems into computational solutions; for mathematicians, insight into differences between mathematical models and computational solutions.

Exclusion: CSC160HI as taught in Spring 1992; after taking CSC270HI/CSC263HI/265HI and any 300-/400-level CSC course, you may not take CSC260HI without Departmental permission in writing.

Computer Science

Prerequisite: CSC108HI/computing experience, as from a good high school programming course; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1, 223HI/240HI.

CSC263HI Data Structures and Analysis [26L, 13T]

Algorithm analysis: worst-case, average-case, and amortized complexity. Standard abstract data types, such as graphs, dictionaries, priority queues, and disjoint sets. A variety of data structures for implementing these abstract data types, such as balanced search trees, hashing, heaps, and disjoint forests. Design, implementation, and comparison of data structures. Introduction to lower bounds.

Exclusion: CSC265HI, 378HI.

Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI, 236HI/238HI/240HI; STA247HI/255HI/257HI; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC265HI Enriched Data Structures and Analysis [26L, 13T]

Algorithm analysis: worst-case, average-case, and amortized complexity. Standard abstract data types, such as graphs, dictionaries, priority queues, and disjoint sets. A variety of advanced data structures for implementing these abstract data types, such as AVL trees, self-adjusting data structures, perfect hashing, and binomial heaps. Design and comparison of data structures. This course covers the same topics as CSC263HI, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs, theoretical analysis, and creative problem-solving. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC263HI may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered. Students without the exact course prerequisites but with a strong mathematical background are encouraged to consult the Department about the possibility of taking this course.

Exclusion: CSC263HI, 378HI.

Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI, 240HI; CGPA 1.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Co-requisite: STA247HI/255HI/257HI

NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC265HI to CSC263HI. See above for the drop down deadline.

CSC290HI Communication Skills for Computer Scientists [39L]

Targeted instruction and significant practice in the communications required for careers in computer science. The curriculum covers written, oral, and interpersonal communication. Students will hand in short pieces of writing each week, will make oral presentations several times in the semester, and will work together in simulated project meetings and other realistic scenarios of pair and small group interaction. Prerequisite: enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC300HI Computers and Society [26L, 13T]

Privacy and Freedom of Information; recent Canadian legislation and reports. Computers and work; employment levels, quality of working life. Electronic fund transfer systems; transborder data flows. Computers and bureaucratization. Computers in the home; public awareness about computers. Robotics. Professionalism and the ethics of computers. The course is designed not only for science students, but also those in social sciences or humanities.

Exclusion: PSCD03H (University of Toronto Scarborough)

Prerequisite: Any half-course on computing; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC301HI Introduction to Software Engineering [26L, 13T]

An introduction to agile development methods appropriate for medium-sized teams and rapidly-moving projects. Basic software development infrastructure; requirements elicitation and tracking; estimation and prioritization; teamwork skills; basic UML; design patterns and refactoring; security, discussion of ethical issues, and professional responsibility.

CSC302HI Engineering Large Software Systems [26L, 13T]

An introduction to the theory and practice of large-scale software system design, development, and deployment. Project management; advanced UML; reverse engineering; requirements inspection; verification and validation; software architecture; performance modeling and analysis.

CSC309HI Programming on the Web [26L, 13T]

An introduction to software development on the web. Concepts underlying the development of programs that operate on the web; survey of technological alternatives; greater depth on some technologies. Operational concepts of the internet and the web, static client content, dynamic client content, dynamically served content, n-tiered architectures, web development processes, and security on the web. Assignments involve increasingly more complex web-based programs. Guest lecturers from leading e-commerce firms will describe the architecture and operation of their web sites.

CSC310HI Information Theory [26L, 13T]

Measuring information. The source coding theorem. Data compression using ad hoc methods and dictionary-based methods. Probabilistic source models, and their use via Huffman and arithmetic coding. Noisy channels and the channel coding theorem. Error correcting codes, and their decoding by algebraic and probabilistic methods.

Prerequisite: CSC148HI/150HI/260HI; STA247HI/255HI/257HI/107HI; MAT135Y1/137Y1, MAT223HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC318HI The Design of Interactive Computational Media [26L, 13T]

User-centred design of interactive systems; methodologies, principles, and metaphors; task analysis. Interdisciplinary design; the role of graphic design, industrial design, and the behavioural sciences. Interactive hardware and software; concepts from computer graphics. Typography, layout, colour, sound, video, gesture, and usability enhancements. Classes of interactive graphical media; direct manipulation systems, extensible systems, rapid prototyping tools. Students work on projects in interdisciplinary teams. Enrolment limited, but non-computer scientists welcome.

Prerequisite: Any CSC half-course; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: CSC300HI provides useful background for work in CSC318HI, so if you plan to take CSC300HI then you should do it before CSC318HI.

CSC320HI Introduction to Visual Computing [26L, 13P]

A unified introduction to image synthesis and image analysis aimed at students with an interest in computer graphics, computer vision or the visual arts. Focus on three major topics: (1) visual computing principles - computational and mathematical methods for creating, capturing, analyzing and manipulating digital photographs (raster algorithms, image acquisition, basic image processing, image warping, anti-aliasing); (2) digital special effects - applying these principles to create special effects found in movies and commercials; (3) visual programming - using C/C++ and OpenGL to create graphical user interfaces for synthesizing and manipulating photographs. Prerequisite: CSC209HI/270HI/(207HI, proficiency in C or C++); MAT137Y1, MAT223HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC321HI Introduction to Neural Networks and Machine Learning [26L, 13P]

Supervised neural networks: the perceptron learning procedure, the backpropagation learning procedure and its applications. Elaborations of backpropagation: activation and error functions, improving speed and generalization, Bayesian approaches. Associative memories and optimization: Gibbs sampling, mean field search. Representation in neural networks: distributed representations, effects of damage, hierarchical representations. Unsupervised neural networks: competitive learning, Boltzmann machines, sigmoid belief nets. Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI; MAT137Y1, MAT223HI/240HI; STA247HI/255HI/257HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC324HI Principles of Programming Languages [26L, 13T]

Major topics in the development of modern programming languages. Syntax specification, the evolution of programming languages (including abstract data types and object orientation, and contributions of C++ to language design) design and implementation of subprograms (including parameter passing techniques, and scope and lifetime of variables), run-time storage management (including garbage collection), and programming paradigms. Two non-procedural programming paradigms: functional programming (illustrated by languages such as Lisp, Scheme, ML or Haskell) and logic programming (illustrated by languages such as Prolog, XSB or Coral). Exclusion: CSC248HI. Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI, 236HI/238HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC330HI Logical Specifications [26L, 13T]

Logic and its use as a declarative language in computer science. Syntax and semantics of propositional and predicate calculus. Proving entailment and non-entailment rigorously. Formal derivations. Satisfiability. Applications, including information systems, program verification, artificial intelligence, software engineering. Computational tools, including Prolog. Other logics. Exclusion: CSC230HI. Prerequisite: CSC236HI/238HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC336HI Numerical Methods [26L, 13T]

The study of computational methods for solving problems in linear algebra, non-linear equations, approximation, integration, and ordinary differential equations. The aim is to give students a basic understanding of both floating-point arithmetic and the methods used to solve numerical problems as well as a familiarity with the types of subroutines found in typical software packages.

Exclusion: ACT323HI, 335HI; CSC350HI, 351HI.

Prerequisite: CSC207HI/270HI/(260HI, 148HI/150HI);

MAT133Y1(70%)/135Y1/137Y1/157Y1, 223HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC343HI Introduction to Databases [26L, 13T]

Introduction to database management systems. The relational data model. Relational algebra. Querying and updating databases: the query language SQL. Application programming with SQL. Integrity constraints, normal forms, and database design. Elements of database system technology: query processing, transaction management.

Exclusion: CSC434HI.

Prerequisite: CSC 263HI/265HI/(228HI, 238HI)/378HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC350HI Numerical Algebra and Optimization [26L, 13T]

Floating-point arithmetic. The efficiency and stability of solution techniques for systems of linear equations and least squares problems, including LU- and QR-based methods. Eigenvalue and eigenvector calculations. Algorithms for systems of non-linear equations and optimization problems, including linear programming.

Exclusion: CSC336HI; ACT323HI, 335HI.

Prerequisite: CSC 207HI/270HI/(260HI, 148HI/150HI);

MAT223HI/240HI, 237Y1/257Y1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC351HI Numerical Approximation, Integration and Ordinary Differential Equations [26L, 13T]

Analysis of methods for approximation, integration and the solution of ordinary differential equations. Emphasis on the convergence and stability properties of the algorithms, rather than on their implementation.

Exclusion: ACT323HI, 335HI; CSC336HI.

CSC354HI Discrete-Event Simulation and Modelling [26L, 13T]

Simulation and mathematical analysis of models of queuing systems. Concentration on dynamic, stochastic, discrete-event systems. Simulation topics: selecting input probability distributions, generating random numbers and random variates, output data analysis for one or more system configurations, variance reduction techniques. Analysis topics: queuing characteristics, transient and steady-state behaviour, performance measures, the M/M/1 queue in detail, some non-Markovian queues.

Prerequisite: CSC 209HI/270HI; MAT137Y1; STA

247HI/255HI/257HI, 248HI/250HI/261HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC358HI Introduction to Computer Networks [26L, 13T]

Introduction to computer networks with an emphasis on fundamental principles. Basic understanding of computer networks and network protocols. Topics include network hardware and software, routing, addressing, congestion control, reliable data transfer, performance analysis, local area networks, and TCP/IP.

Prerequisites: CSC209HI, CSC 258HI, CSC263HI, STA 247HI/STA257HI/ECO227Y1

Computer Science

CSC363HI Computational Complexity and Computability [26L, 13T]

Introduction to the theory of computability: Turing machines, Church's thesis, computable and noncomputable functions, recursive and recursively enumerable sets, reducibility.

Introduction to complexity theory: models of computation, P, NP, polynomial time reducibility, NP-completeness, further topics in complexity theory.

Exclusion: CSC364HI, 365HI.

Prerequisite: CSC236HI/238HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

NOTE: Although the courses CSC363HI and CSC373HI can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC373HI be taken first.

CSC365HI Enriched Computational Complexity and Computability [26L, 13T]

This course covers the same topics as CSC363HI, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs, theoretical analysis, and creative problem-solving. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC363HI may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered. Students without the exact course prerequisites but with a strong mathematical background are encouraged to consult the Department about the possibility of taking this course.

Exclusion: CSC363HI, 364HI.

Prerequisite: CSC240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC365HI to CSC363HI. See above for the drop down deadline.

NOTE: Although the courses CSC365HI and CSC375HI can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC375HI be taken first.

CSC369HI Operating Systems [26L, 13T]

Principles of operating systems. The operating system as a control program and as a resource allocator. The concept of a process and concurrency problems: synchronization, mutual exclusion, deadlock. Additional topics include memory management, file systems, process scheduling, threads, and protection.

Exclusion: CSC468HI.

Prerequisite: CSC258HI, 209HI, 207HI/270HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC372HI Microprocessor Software [26L, 13T, 39P]

Development of reliable efficient software for controlling and monitoring an environment. Concurrent programming techniques, such as interrupt handling, buffer management, polling and time outs. Projects use microprocessors to control equipment (such as a robot arm) and to read sensors. Design, implementation and testing of software using a language such as C.

CSC373HI Algorithm Design & Analysis [26L, 13T]

Standard algorithm design techniques: divide-and-conquer, greedy strategies, dynamic programming, linear programming, randomization, network flows, approximation algorithms, and others (if time permits). Students will be expected to show good design principles and adequate skills at reasoning about the correctness and complexity of algorithms.

Exclusion: CSC375HI, 364HI.

Prerequisite: CSC263HI/265HI/378HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

NOTE: Although the courses CSC373HI and CSC363HI can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC373HI be taken first.

CSC375HI Enriched Algorithm Design & Analysis [26L, 13T]

This course covers the same topics as CSC373HI, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs, theoretical analysis, and creative problem-solving. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC373HI may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered. Students without the exact course prerequisites but with a strong mathematical background are encouraged to consult the Department about the possibility of taking this course.

Exclusion: CSC373HI, 364HI.

Prerequisite: CSC 265HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC375HI to CSC373HI. See above for the drop down deadline.

NOTE: Although the courses CSC375HI and CSC365HI can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC375HI be taken first.

CSC384HI Introduction to Artificial Intelligence [26L, 13T]

Theories and algorithms that capture (or approximate) some of the core elements of computational intelligence. Topics include: search; logical representations and reasoning, classical automated planning, representing and reasoning with uncertainty, learning, decision making (planning) under uncertainty. Assignments provide practical experience, both theory and programming, of the core topics.

Exclusion: CSC484HI.

Prerequisite: CSC324HI; STA247HI/255HI/257HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

ECE385HI Microprocessor Systems [26L, 39P]

A hardware-oriented course dealing with microprocessor systems. Microprocessor components, memory devices, input/output techniques, bus structure, peripheral device controllers, hardware system and programming considerations. Laboratory experiments provide "hands-on" experience.

Prerequisite: CSC258HI; 209HI/proficiency in C; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC401HI Natural Language Computing [26L, 13T]

Introduction to techniques involving natural language and speech in applications such as information retrieval, extraction, and filtering; intelligent Web searching; spelling and grammar checking; speech recognition and synthesis; and multi-lingual systems including machine translation. N-grams, POS-tagging, semantic distance metrics, indexing, on-line lexicons and thesauri, markup languages, collections of on-line documents, corpus analysis. PERL and other software.

Prerequisite: CSC207HI/209HI/228HI; STA 247HI/255HI/257HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: MAT223HI/240HI is strongly recommended.

CSC 404HI Introduction to Video Game Design [26L, 13T]

Concepts and techniques for the design and development of electronic games. History, social issues and story elements. The business of game development and game promotion. Software engineering, artificial intelligence and graphics elements. Level and model design. Audio elements. Practical assignments leading to team implementation of a complete game.

Prerequisites: Two of CSC 301HI, 318HI, 384HI, 418HI ; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST

CSC410HI Software Testing and Verification [26L, 13T]

Concepts and state of the art techniques in quality assessment for software engineering; quality attributes; formal specifications and their analysis; testing, verification and validation.

Prerequisite: CSC301HI..

CSC411HI Machine Learning and Data Mining [26L, 13T]

An introduction to methods for automated learning of relationships on the basis of empirical data. Classification and regression using nearest neighbour methods, decision trees, linear models, and neural networks. Clustering algorithms. Problems of overfitting and of assessing accuracy. Problems with handling large databases.

Prerequisite: CSC263HI/265HI/270HI; MAT137YI, STA 247HI/255HI/257HI, 248HI/250HI/261HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: CSC 336HI/350HI.

CSC412HI Probabilistic Learning and Reasoning [26L, 13T]

An introduction to probability as a means of representing and reasoning with uncertain knowledge. Qualitative and quantitative specification of probability distributions using probabilistic graphical models. Algorithms for inference and probabilistic reasoning with graphical models. Statistical approaches and algorithms for learning probability models from empirical data. Applications of these models in artificial intelligence and machine learning.

CSC418HI Computer Graphics [26L, 13T]

Identification and characterization of the objects manipulated in computer graphics, the operations possible on these objects, efficient algorithms to perform these operations, and interfaces to transform one type of object to another. Display devices, display data structures and procedures, graphical input, object modelling, transformations, illumination models, primary and secondary light effects; graphics packages and systems. Students, individually or in teams, implement graphical algorithms or entire graphics systems.

Prerequisite: CSC336HI/350HI/351HI/363HI/364HI/365HI/373HI/375HI/378HI, MAT137YI, CSC209HI/proficiency in C or C++ ; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: MAT237YI, MAT244HI.

CSC420HI Introduction to Image Understanding [26L, 13P]

Introduction to fundamental concepts in image understanding, the subdiscipline of artificial intelligence dealing with the automation of visual tasks by computer. Exploration of a number of real-world image interpretation problems, as motivation for key low- and intermediate-level vision algorithms.

A course project will include the construction of a number of practical vision systems.

Prerequisite: CSC260HI/263HI/265HI, MAT135YI/136YI/137YI/157YI, 223HI/240HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: CSC320HI.

CSC428HI Human-Computer Interaction [26L, 13T]

Understanding human behaviour as it applies to user interfaces: work activity analysis, observational techniques, questionnaire administration and unobtrusive measures. Operating parameters of the human cognitive system, task analysis and cognitive modelling techniques and their application to designing interfaces. Interface representations and prototyping tools. Cognitive walkthroughs, usability studies and verbal protocol analysis. Case studies of specific user interfaces.

Prerequisite: CSC318HI; STA247HI/255HI/257HI, STA(248HI/250HI/261HI)/(PSY201HI, 202HI)/(SOC 202HI, 300HI); CSC 209HI/proficiency C++ or Java; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

Recommended preparation: A course in PSY; CSC209HI, 407HI.

CSC438HI Computability and Logic [26L, 13T]

Computable functions, Church's thesis, unsolvable problems, recursively enumerable sets. Predicate calculus, including the completeness, compactness, and Lowenheim-Skolem theorems. Formal theories and the Gödel Incompleteness Theorem.

Exclusion: MAT309HI; PHL344HI.

CSC443HI Database System Technology [26L, 13T]

Implementation of database management systems. Storage management, indexing, query processing, concurrency control, transaction management. Database systems on parallel and distributed architectures. Modern database applications: data mining, data warehousing, OLAP, data on the web. Object-oriented and object-relational databases.

Prerequisite: CSC343HI/434HI, 369HI/468HI, 364HI/373HI/375HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC446HI Computational Methods for Partial Differential Equations [26L, 13T]

Finite difference methods for hyperbolic and parabolic equations; consistency, convergence, and stability. Finite element methods for 2-point boundary value problems and elliptic equations. Special problems of interest.

Prerequisites: CSC351HI/(336HI (75%)/equivalent mathematical background; MAT237YI/257YI; APM346HI/351YI/(MAT244HI/267HI and exposure to PDE's); CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC448HI Formal Languages and Automata [26L, 13T]

Regular, deterministic, context free, context sensitive, and recursively enumerable languages via generative grammars and corresponding automata (finite state machines, push down machines, and Turing machines). Topics include complexity bounds for recognition, language decision problems and operations on languages.

Prerequisite: CSC236HI/238HI/240HI, 363HI/364HI/365HI/MAT247HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC454HI The Business of Software [26L, 13T]

Overview of the software industry, and principles of operation for successful software enterprises. Software business definition and planning; market and product planning; management of innovation, research and software development; software marketing and sales management; software manufacturing and support; financial management of high-technology ventures; human resource management and development in high-technology industries. (Ordinarily offered in alternate years.)

Computer Science

Prerequisite: Five CSC half-courses at the 200-level or higher; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.
Recommended preparation: MGT120HI.

CSC456HI High-Performance Scientific Computing [26L, 13T]

Computationally-intensive applications in science and engineering are implemented on the fastest computers available, today composed of many processors operating in parallel. Parallel computer architectures; implementation of numerical algorithms on parallel architectures. Topics from: performance evaluation; scientific visualization; numerical methods; applications from science and engineering. For students in computer science, applied mathematics, science, engineering.
Prerequisite: CSC350HI/(336HI (75%)/equivalent mathematical background; CSC209HI/proficiency in C, C++ or Fortran; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC458HI Computer Networks [26L, 13T]

Computer communication network design and implementation. Packet switching systems; socket programming; network software, hardware, and protocols; congestion control schemes; traffic generation and measurement; network security; wireless networks. Emphasis on programming and experimental analysis of real network components.
Prerequisite: CSC 258HI, 354HI/363HI/364HI/365HI/372HI/373HI/375HI/378HI/ECE 385HI; STA 247HI/255HI/257HI/(80% in STA 220HI/ECO 220Y1); CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC465HI Formal Methods in Software Design [26L, 13T]

The use of logic as an aid to programming. Formal semantics of programming languages: imperative programs, functional programs, parallel processes, communicating processes. Partial and total correctness. Refinement theorems: by steps, by parts, by cases. Semantics of recursion and the least-fixed-point construction; monotonicity, continuity. Semantics of data types; data refinement.
Prerequisite: CSC236HI/238HI/240HI/MAT309HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.
Recommended preparation: CSC363HI/364HI/365HI.

CSC469HI Operating Systems Design and Implementation [26L, 13T]

An in-depth exploration of the major components of operating systems with an emphasis on the techniques, algorithms, and structures used to implement these components in modern systems. Project-based study of process management, scheduling, memory management, file systems, and networking is used to build insight into the intricacies of a large concurrent system.
Exclusion: CSC468HI.
Prerequisite: CSC369HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC485HI Computational Linguistics [26L, 13T]

Computational linguistics and the understanding of language by computer. Possible topics include: augmented context-free grammars; chart parsing, statistical parsing; semantics and semantic interpretation; ambiguity resolution techniques; discourse structure and reference resolution. Emphasis on statistical learning methods for lexical, syntactic and semantic knowledge.

Prerequisite: STA 247HI/257HI or familiarity with basic probability theory; CSC 209HI or proficiency in C++, Java, or Python; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC.subject POST.
Suggested preparation: CSC 324HI/330HI/384HI.

CSC486HI Knowledge Representation and Reasoning [26L, 13T]

Representing knowledge symbolically in a form suitable for automated reasoning, and associated reasoning methods: first-order logic, entailment, the resolution method, Horn clauses, procedural representations, production systems, description logics, inheritance networks, defaults and probabilities, tractable reasoning, abductive explanation, the representation of action, planning.
Prerequisite: CSC384HI, CSC363HI/365HI/373HI/375HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.
Recommended preparation: CSC330HI.

CSC487HI Foundations of Computer Vision [26L, 13T]

Introduction to vision, visual processes, and image understanding. Brief biological motivation for computational vision. Camera system geometry and image acquisition, basic visual processes for recognition of edges, regions, lines, surfaces. Processing colour, stereo images, and motion in image sequences. Active vision methods such as visual attention and interpretation-guided imaging system geometry changes. Object recognition. Applications of visual systems.
Prerequisite: CSC320HI/420HI; MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC488HI Compilers and Interpreters [26L, 13T]

Compiler organization, compiler writing tools, use of regular expressions, finite automata and context-free grammars, scanning and parsing, runtime organization, semantic analysis, implementing the runtime model, storage allocation, code generation.
Prerequisite: CSC258HI, 324HI, 263HI/265HI/378HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.
Recommended preparation: Proficiency in C such as from CSC209HI.

ECE489HI Compilers II [26L, 39P]

Theoretical and practical aspects of building modern optimizing compilers. Topics: intermediate representations, basic blocks and flow graphs, data flow analysis, partial evaluation and redundancy elimination, loop optimizations, register allocation, instruction scheduling, interprocedural analysis, and memory hierarchy optimizations. Students implement significant optimizations within the framework of a modern research compiler. (This course is a cross-listing of ECE540HI, Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.)
Prerequisite: CSC488HI; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.
Recommended preparation: ECE385HI, proficiency in C.

CSC490HI Capstone Design Project [52L]

This half-course gives students experience solving a substantial problem that may span several areas of Computer Science. Students will define the scope of the problem, develop a solution plan, produce a working implementation, and present their work using written, oral, and (if suitable) video reports. Class time will focus on the project, but may include some lectures. The class will be small and highly interactive. Project themes change each year. In 2006/07 the theme was User interfaces for video games. At the time of printing, the theme for 2007/08 had not been chosen but see www.cs.utoronto.ca/~csc490h for information about this year's topic themes and required preparation.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POST.

CSC494H1/495H1 Computer Science Project [TBA]

This half-course involves a significant project in any area of Computer Science. The project may be undertaken individually or in small groups. The course is offered by arrangement with a Computer Science faculty member.

Prerequisite: Three 300-level Computer Science half-courses, a CGPA of 3.00 (2.50 for students in a CSC Program), and permission of the Program Director, Undergraduate Studies.

Diaspora & Transnational Studies

Interdisciplinary program

Where is home? Need it be in one place? Is it always attached to territory? Diaspora and transnational studies examines the historical and contemporary movements of peoples and the complex problems of identity and experience to which these movements give rise as well as the creative possibilities that flow from movement. The program is comparative and interdisciplinary, drawing from the social sciences, history and the arts. Students are required to take two linked half-courses that offer an introduction to a broad array of themes and disciplinary methodologies. The program offers a wide selection of additional courses, giving students the opportunity to learn about a range of diasporic communities as well as key debates in the field.

Diaspora and Transnational Studies Programs

---

Major program

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)

1. DTS200Y1
2. Five full-course equivalents (FCEs) from Group A and B courses, with at least two FCEs from each group. Coverage must include at least two diasporic communities or regions, to be identified in consultation with the program advisor.
3. DTS401HI, DTS402HI

Minor program

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course)

1. DTS200Y1
2. Three full-course equivalents (FCEs) from Group A and B courses, with at least one FCE from each group.
3. Either DTS401HI or DTS402HI

Group A (Humanities) Courses

---

Students are responsible for checking the co- and prerequisites for all courses in Groups A and B.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all DTS courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE or HUMANITIES courses.

DTS200YI Introduction to Diaspora and Transnational Studies I (formerly DTS201H1, 202H1) 52L

An interdisciplinary introduction to the study of diaspora, with particular attention to questions of history, spatiality, globalization, cultural production and the creative imagination. Material will be drawn from Toronto as well as from diasporic communities in other times and places.

Exclusion: DTS201H1, 202H1

DTS401H1 Advanced Topics in Diaspora and Transnationalism (Postcolonialism and Diaspora) 26S

This will be a course using the intersections between Postcolonialism and Diaspora Studies to explore issues of place, memory, and identity. The course will be comparative and interdisciplinary with a focus on literature, anthropology, political science and cultural studies.

DTS402H1 Advanced Topics in Diaspora and Transnationalism (Critical Approaches to Diaspora Studies) 26S

Course critically examines theoretical and methodological approaches adopted by different disciplines to the subject of Diaspora and Transnational Studies. Classes will engage with community actors and organizations and will be comparative and interdisciplinary with a focus on literature, anthropology, political science and cultural studies.

The Drama Program (Specialist, Major, Minor) offers students the opportunity to combine high standards of practical, professional theatre training with a rich and rigorous academic program. The Program offers courses in dramatic literature, dramaturgy, stage theory, theatre history, production, design, direction, and performance. Students are required to take structured combinations of courses interrelated so as to lead to a broad knowledge of the field as a whole. The Combined Specialist programs in English and Drama also provides a specialist alternative to Drama alone, while a Drama Major or Minor may be valuably combined with programs in a wide variety of other fields, as offered both by language and literature departments (English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese, etc.) and other departments and programs such as Anthropology, Canadian Studies, Cinema Studies, Classics, Commerce, Fine Art, History, Music, Psychology, Religion, Sociology, and Women's Studies.

The Drama Program is housed in the Helen Gardiner Phelan Playhouse at University College. Besides providing instruction in theatre studies, the Drama Program has mounted international theatrical events and conferences, and its students have toured Europe and Asia. The Program has also forged links with leading Canadian theatres and has regular contact with world-renowned international theatre artists. More details on the Drama Program, including application forms, can be found on the web site at: www.ucdp.utoronto.ca. The Program Director and Academic Administrative Assistant are also available for consultation. For enquiries or an appointment call the Drama Program Administrative Assistant at 416-978-8099 or send an e-mail to uc.drama@utoronto.ca

DRM courses are staffed by a combination of theatre professionals, members of other university departments, and specific DRM staff members. Some courses are restricted to students in a Drama Specialist, Major, or Combined Specialist program; some are open to all students of the University.

Drama Programs

Drama (Arts program)

Consult the Director, Room 300, 79A St. George St., University College.

Enrolment in the Specialist and Major programs is limited and selection is made after a personal interview and audition. ## Drama Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all DRM courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

DRM100Y1 Drama: Form and Style [78L]

An introduction to the study of dramatic literature, with particular reference to the realization of plays upon the stage. Plays from a variety of periods and countries are studied in terms of the use of theatrical space, plot and generic structure, characterization, theme, and language.

DRM200Y1 Introduction to Performance [104P]

Emphasis is initially on ensemble, non-verbal, and improvisational work. Students proceed to the application of their acquired skills to scripted material.

Pre- or Co-requisite: DRM100Y1 or DRM230Y1

Co-requisite: DRM201Y1

DRM201Y1 Voice for the Actor I [52P, 2T]

Movement for the Actor I [52P, 5T]

A voice and movement component, taken in conjunction with DRM200Y1: Introduction to Performance. Work consists of both theory and practice of voice and movement as they relate to the development of the actor.

Co-requisite: DRM200Y1

DRM230Y1 Concepts of Twentieth-Century Theatre [78L]

(Drama Minors are not eligible to enroll)

The work of selected theorists and practitioners of the 20th century and their contrasting ideas on the kind of expression and communication possible through the medium of the theatre. A study of how the interrelationship between director, actor, playwright and text influences the style of performance and the nature of audience response.

Prerequisite: DRM100Y1

DRM254Y1 Production [56L, 100P]

A detailed analysis of the production element of theatre: the conceptual and practical problems of design, production personnel and organization, production facilities, business management, publicity, sound and lighting equipment.

Prerequisite: DRM100Y1

DRM260HI History of the Greek and Roman Theatre [39L]

The physical structures of the Greek and Roman theatre and the major conventions of production and staging, based on the evidence of art, archaeology, and the texts of the plays themselves, from the origins and development of the drama at Athens in the 6th century B.C. to the decline of stage drama in Rome in the 1st century B.C. (Not offered in 2007/2008)

DRM262HI Experimentation and Innovation: A Comparative History of World Theatre from Ancient Times Until the Present [39L]

An intercultural and comparative analysis of innovative processes within world theatre. Focusing on selected periods, the course explores the cultural backgrounds of key events or turning points in pre-modern and modern theatre and their indications for post-modern theatre developments in a globalized world.

Recommended Preparation: DRM364

The Department of East Asian Studies offers instruction to students who wish to learn about the historic and contemporary cultures of China, Japan and Korea, their interaction with one another, and their encounters with Western cultures. The disciplines pursued in the Department fall mostly within the humanities; additional courses on Asia are given by other departments in the Faculty of Arts and Science (Anthropology, Economics, Geography, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and others). The Department of East Asian Studies recommends such courses to its students and will count many towards program requirements.

Courses offered by the Department of East Asian Studies fall into two main categories:

a) Courses that can be taken by students in other disciplines who wish to broaden their horizons. These encompass a variety of topics in the cultures of East Asia. They require no knowledge of East Asian languages.

b) Language and specialized courses for those in East Asian Studies programs. A full range of courses is available in Chinese, Japanese and Korean areas from the first year onwards, along with some instruction in Vietnamese.

Students seeking counseling should first contact the Undergraduate Co-ordinator, and in addition, all members of the Department provide advice and information, and the Undergraduate Co-ordinator or Program Administrator may direct students to them. In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the Department offers courses during June and July at the University of Hong Kong and in conjunction with the International Student Exchange Office, offers opportunities for exchanges with universities in China, Korea, Japan, Taiwan and Singapore. Students should also check the web page of the Asian Institute and the Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies.

East Asian Studies Programs

East Asian Studies Specialist, Major, Minor (Arts programs)

1. Enrolment in the program is open to students who have completed four full courses or their equivalent. Students who were enrolled in any EAS program prior to 2004-2005 may either switch to this new program, or may follow the criteria in place for the year in which they enrolled.
2. Students with an adequate knowledge of Mandarin Chinese, Japanese, or Korean should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator about the possibility of applying for a "language requirement waiver". This waiver allows students to substitute non-language courses for the language courses required by the program.
3. The department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their skill level. See Timetable for information on placement tests and interviews.
4. Students may count toward an EAS program those courses with East Asian content offered by other departments provided they appear in the Department web site or they have the permission of the Undergraduate Coordinator of EAS.

Non-EAS Courses on East Asia

Please see EAS Department web site

---

NOTE on Language Requirements: The Major and Specialist programs require a certain level of language proficiency. If students can demonstrate during their placement interviews for language courses that they have already attained this level, they will be given a language requirement waiver and will be free to complete their programs with EAS society-culture courses. Although the language requirement for the Major and Specialist program is 2nd and 3rd year level, respectively, it does not prevent students from continuing to study language at higher levels. However, only two credits for major and three credits for specialist will be counted toward the fulfillment of the program regardless of the numbers of language courses students may take.

Specialist program:

EAS specialists are especially urged to explore the avenues for study abroad in East Asia offered by the Faculty of Arts and Science Exchange Program.

12 full courses

1. EAS 102Y1, EAS 209Y1 (total of 2 credits)
2. Three full EAS language courses in one language. (total of 3 credits of any levels)
3. Seven full EAS society-culture courses, three of which may be non-EAS courses as listed on the departmental website; four courses must be at the 300/400-level. (total of 7 credits)

Major program:

7 full courses

1. EAS102Y1, EAS 209Y1 (total of 2 credits)
2. Two full EAS language courses in one language. (total of 2 credits of any levels)
3. Three full EAS society-culture courses, one of which may be a non-EAS course as listed on the departmental website; one course must be at the 300/400-level. (total of 3 credits)

Minor program:

4 full courses (Language courses are not subject to the requirement of the minor program.)

1. EAS 102Y (1 credit)
2. Three full EAS society-culture courses, one of which must be 300/400-level; one of which may be a non-EAS course as listed on the departmental website. (total of 3 credits)

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of East Asian Studies participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Chinese, Japanese, and Korean. The study of any of these languages is a challenging and time consuming endeavour, which offers rich rewards for students interested in the cultures, societies, and economies of East Asia.

In each language the Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success. The Citation in Chinese is available to students who complete EAS 100Y1 or EAS 101Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in EAS 200Y1 or EAS201Y1 and EAS300Y1. The Citation in Japanese is available to students who complete EAS120Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in EAS220Y1 and EAS 320Y1. The citation is Korean is available to students who complete EAS110Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a B- in EAS210Y1 and EAS310Y1.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

East Asian Studies Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, (see page 26) all EAS courses are classified as HUMANITIES COURSES except for JMC 301Y1 which is classified as both a Humanities and Social Science course.

---

EAS Language Courses:

Note 1.

The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their level of language skill. For EAS 290Y1 and all language courses at the 100-level, preference is given to students who need these courses to fulfill the requirements for Specialist and Major programs in the Department.

Note 2.

Students who enroll in any EAS language courses and are subsequently discovered to have prior background and/or have higher language competency than is appropriate for enrolment in that course may be removed at any time at the discretion of the Department.

Chinese

EAS100YI Modern Standard Chinese I [52T, 52S]

Intended for students with no or minimal background in any Chinese dialect, this course is an introduction to Modern Standard Chinese as a foreign/second language in listening, speaking, reading, writing and translation. Minimum of 550 Chinese characters will be covered.

EAS318H1 Rethinking Modernism: The Perspectives of Mainland China, Taiwan and Hong Kong [26L]

Modernism is one of the important cultural heritages of the last century that call for critical reflections in light of novel perspectives and new methodologies. Postmodern critical thinking and postcolonial scholarships have in particular made significant impact on ways of rethinking modernism across national histories. This course takes various forms of modernism(s) across China, Taiwan and Hong Kong as the object of study, and the postcolonial and postmodernist approaches to modernism as the refashioned methodological possibilities. Readings of main modernistic writings, studying cinema and arts originated from the above different localities. Discussions on such questions as how can theoretical generalizations about modernism be adequately grounded in interconnected histories, languages, as well as experiences of colonialism and modernity? How does the temporality of modernism get translated across different locations of writing? How do we understand the lines of solidarity and tension among artists and writers of different camps or localities? The goal of this course is not to find a better definition for modernism but to release modernisms to fresh ways of thinking and imagination.

400-Series Courses

EAS406YI Thinking about things: Material Culture in East Asia [52S]

Intensive seminar exploring theories of the object, the histories of objects in East Asia, and critical thinking about the process of research. Through theoretical readings, class and individual research projects, the seminar asks how to formulate research questions, use the internet and other resources, and present discoveries in a class conference.

EAS407HI Textual Analysis of Classical Chinese Philosophy [26S]

Readings of texts from ancient and medieval Chinese philosophy. Beginning by linguistic (especially semantic) analysis of key words, structure and meaning of sentences, paragraphs and text as a whole. Philosophical analysis proceeds from linguistic analysis.

Prerequisite: PHL237HI, EAS306YI

EAS408HI Modern Taiwanese Literature [26S]

A general survey of modern Taiwanese literature from 1949 until today. It attempts to examine issues such as historical/cultural context, oral/written language, self-identification, gender, human rights, etc., central to understanding the Taiwanese experience. Readings are available in translation and in the original.

EAS411HI Art and Archaeology of Early China I [52L, 26P]

With extensive introduction to recent archaeological discoveries in China, this course explores development of ancient societies from prehistory to the Bronze Age of China, and to offer students with an understanding of the origins and formation of Chinese civilizations.

Prerequisite: Only for third or fourth years Art and Science students.

EAS412HI Technology and Material Cultures of Ancient China [52L, 26P]

This course introduces prehistoric and Bronze Age technology and material cultures of early China. The course is designed for students to have an understanding of the development of ancient technologies (e.g. bronze, jade, and lacquer) and associated life of ancient China from archaeological perspectives.

Prerequisite: EAS411HI

EAS418HI Topics in Chinese Art Theories [26S]

This course will focus on theories of Chinese arts by critically analyzing various theoretical texts on music, painting, calligraphy, literature, in the form of special treatises and documents recorded in the Classics.

Prerequisite: PHL237HI, EAS306YI

EAS431HI Advanced Topics in Japanese Cinema [26S]

The focus ranges from the examination of cross-cultural theoretical problems (such as Orientalism) to a director based focus, from the examination of genre (such as documentary or the category of genre itself) to the way film intersects with other cultural forms and technologies (such as Video and New Media)

Prerequisite: EAS237YI

EAS439HI The Global Bildungsroman: Narratives of Development, Time and Colonialism [26L]

Through a sustained reading of several novels this course studies Bildungsroman, the story of an individual's "coming of age," in the context of twentieth-century political, cultural, and social developments of imperialism, anti-colonialism, human rights discourse, and globalization. Our focus will be novels from the (post)colonial world and theoretical essays on the Bildungsroman form. The course aims to provide a model for rethinking literary history and literary genres within a global context. We will thus not read these novels as copies of European Bildungsroman, but consider how their form relates to social formations of colonialism and globalization. This will entail, for example, exploring the temporal structure which undergirds both the form of the novel and the notion of self-development that is then aligned with development of the nation, colony, or otherwise. Attention will be paid both to how these novels instantiate, resist or otherwise engage creatively with the novelistic conventions of human development, and to our own desire to read novels as Bildungsroman. Authors may include Yi Kwangsu Wu Zhuoliu Pramoedy Ananta Toer, Kang Younghill, Tsitsi Dangarembga, Camara Laye, amongst others.

EAS444HI The City, Body and Text in Modern Japanese Literature [26S]

Examines how the city and body exert formative forces on the text, and how the practice of writing and reading texts might inform the ways we, corporeal beings, experience the city as manifested in the nineteenth century Japanese literature. Required readings are available in English.

Prerequisite: Successful completion with the minimum grade of 75% in EAS235, EAS237, EAS327, EAS330, EAS431, EAS456 or one of the humanities program at U of T (e.g., English, art history, philosophy, etc.)

EAS452HI The Construction of Gender in Traditional China [52L, 26P]

This course examines the philosophical, societal and cultural influences which defined woman/female/femininity and man/male/masculinity in China before the seventeenth century. Some attention is devoted to sexual diversity.

Recommended Preparation: EAS102Y1Y

EAS453HI Gender, Sexuality & Modernity in China, Korea and Japan [52L, 26P]

This course focuses on the changing sexual mores and the challenges to the traditional gender systems of East Asia brought by the processes of modernization and globalization/westernization.

EAS456HI Japan as seen by ?: Reference, Apparatus, Operation [26S]

Discusses how images of Japan, charged with varied degrees of desire for empirical knowledge, have contributed to contemporary novels and plays by David Mitchell, Ruth L. Ozeki, David Mamet, Joy Kogawa, Kazuo Ishiguro, Marguerite Duras, and David Hwang. All the readings, including Japanese literary and theoretical, are available in English.

EAS457HI Special Topics in Modern Japanese History [26S]

Analyzing contemporary monographs on modern Japanese history. This course will offer a critical survey of existing methodologies and approaches to writing about Modern Japan.

EAS462HI Ethnographic Literature on Korea: Class, Gender & Family [26L]

This is a seminar course for upper level undergraduate students who are interested in reading ethnographic literature. This course introduces contemporary ethnographic literature written in English on South Korea. Despite the textual focus on anthropological writing, it covers interdisciplinary inquiry into cultural and historical concepts that have shaped people's lives in South Korea. This class is run as a dynamic seminar course with class discussions structured around students' presentations, and with writing and rewriting research paper.

Prerequisite: EAS209YI for EAS students

EAS468YI Mahayana Buddhist Philosophy (formerly EAS360YI) [52S]

Close study of selected Indian and Chinese Mahayana texts in translation, with emphasis on Madhyamaka and Hua-yen.

Exclusion: EAS360YI

Recommended preparation: RLG206YI

EAS469YI Chinese Sectarian Buddhism [52L]

This course examines one or more schools of Chinese Buddhism depending upon the expertise of the instructor.

EAS473HI Modern Korean History Seminar [26S]

An examination of recent research results in the modern Korean history field, focusing especially on the late 19th and 20th centuries

Prerequisite: EAS271YI

EAS475YI Issues in East Asian Historiography [52L]

This course analyses select topics in the historiography of East Asian. Students are expected to write a major research paper of 30-40 pages in the second semester.

Recommended preparation: EAS209YI

EAS476YI Democracy and History in Korea [52S]

This course examines approaches to the history of the south Korean democracy movement and the role of history within the democracy movement itself.

Recommended preparation: EAS271HI

EAS477YI Missionaries in Korea [52L]

This course examines the works of missionaries in Korea and the socio-political situation of the Choson Dynasty.

EAS482HI Advanced Sanskrit II (formerly EAS482YI) [26S]

Technical Sanskrit: readings from alamkarsastra, dharmasastra, darsana and other non-literary texts.

Prerequisite: EAS382YI

EAS485HI Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit [26S]

This course will study Buddhist narrative literature written in a particular kind of Sanskrit which actually is a Sanskritized version of vernacular languages. Its vast literature, such as the Mahāvastu, the Sukhāvatīyūha, the Saddharmapundarīka and the Jātaka belongs mainly to Mahāyāna Buddhism. These texts have been translated into Chinese, Japanese and Tibetan.

Prerequisite: EAS282YI, EAS381HI and 383HI or equivalent

EAS486HI Aspects of Classical and Medieval Indian Culture Through Sanskrit Texts [26S]

This course presents diverse mundane aspects of Indian social and culture life through selected texts on music, dance, agriculture, medicine, theatre, sports and games, hunting, cuisine, gardening, and so on. Although these texts illuminate and explain classical and medieval Hindu culture, they have rarely been translated into English.

Prerequisite: EAS282YI, EAS381HI and 383HI or equivalent.

EAS488HI/YI Hinduism and Politics [52L/26L]

The political expression of Hinduism begins with religious reform movements in the 19th century, and develops into a Hindu nationalism. Although independent India is a secular state, Hindu “fundamentalism” remains a powerful political force. This course analyzes modern Hindu political ideology.

EAS490HI Introduction to Japanese Linguistics: Syntax and Semantics [78L]

This course introduces Japanese grammatical items in a scientifically and theoretically oriented manner. The goals of the course are: to gain knowledge of the basic characteristics of sentence structure and meaning in Japanese; to become familiar with selected theoretical analyses; and to develop a repertoire of linguistic vocabulary.

Prerequisite: EAS349HI

Recommended Preparation: LIN100YI, LIN204HI

EAS493HI Theory and Practice of Japanese Language Instruction [39S]

This course provides an overview of theories and issues in second language teaching for those who are or will be involved in Japanese language teaching. The class discussion includes the theory and history of teaching methods and their theoretical implications. Students will also practice actual teaching in real classroom settings.

Prerequisite: EAS460HI/461HI

EAS495YI Topics in East Asian Studies [52S]

A guided research course on a common topic of the student's choice. Students are required to produce a 20-30 page paper based on the selected topic.

EAS496HI Topics in East Asian Studies [26S]

An in-depth study of Chinese, Japanese or Korean culture, history and/or literature. Content in any given year depends on the instructor.

Recommended preparation: Varies from year to year

EAS497HI Beyond Orientalism [26S]

This course will confront the 'Orientalist' view of the world by looking at one Asian nation regularly exempted from that paradigm-Japan. By examining, among other topics, Japan's emperor system, its construction of a national history, and its own imperialism, this course hopes to point toward other ways of thinking about East and West.

Recommended Preparation: EAS202YI/204YI/247YI/374HI

Economics is a social science that encompasses a broad range of human behaviour and has a strong influence on the structure, well-being and development of a society.

Much of human activity is directed towards the satisfaction of material wants. In many areas of the world, the greater part of human effort must be directed towards meeting the most elemental demands for food, clothing, and shelter. Even in technologically advanced societies, where these basic requirements can be met with comparative ease, the desire for more goods and services never appears to be fully satisfied. In consequence, every society - regardless of whether it is capitalist, socialist, or communist in political orientation - is both competitive and cooperative. It is competitive because its members contend with one another to satisfy their individual wants from a limited supply of productive resources. It is cooperative because the greatest supply of goods is available when the activity of producing them is coordinated and organized. Economics deals with any issue arising out of the conflict between the demand for goods and services, and a limited supply of resources to satisfy those demands.

Undergraduate training in economics is intended to familiarize students with the discipline of economic thinking, and to equip them for intelligent appraisal of contemporary economic problems. It is also intended to make students aware of the nature of economic science, and of the directions in which economic theory is moving.

Economic theory now makes considerable use of mathematics in some of its enquiries. A student who chooses to specialize in economics should take at least one basic course in mathematics. More such courses may be taken, and several economics courses draw on mathematical analysis.

Because of advances in economic theory, an undergraduate degree is not sufficient to become a professional economist. For this or other reasons, graduate work may be necessary.

Students who wish to do graduate work should seek advice from the Department concerning their choice of courses.

Economics Programs

Enrolment in Economics programs is based on grades in ECO 100Y, completion of MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y/157Y and a minimum CGPA (please read entry requirements for each program carefully). Consult the Registration Handbook & Timetable for details.

Economic History (Arts program)

Enrolment in the Economic History Programs is limited to students with 67% in ECO100Y or 80% in ECO105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0.

Major program

(6 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

Higher Years:

1. ECO 200Y/206Y
2. Three full Economic History courses from: ECO 301Y, 302H, 303Y, 307H, 308H, 309H, 321Y, 342Y, 353Y, 354H, 355H, 423H, 429Y, 435H

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y
2. ECO 200Y/206Y
3. One full Economic History course from: ECO 301Y, 302H, 303Y, 307H, 308H, 309H, 321Y, 342Y, 353Y, 354H, 355H, 423H, 429Y, 435H

NOTE: Students enrolled in the Minor Program in Economic History cannot be enrolled in the Minor Program in Economics or in the Minor Program in Environmental Economics.

Economics (Arts program)

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrolment in the Specialist Program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y, and 63% in MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/, or 60% in MAT 135Y or 55% in MAT 137Y/157Y, and a CGPA of 2.3.

First Year:

ECO 100Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

Higher Years:

1. ECO 206Y, 208Y, ECO 220Y(70%)/227Y/STA(257H, 261H), ECO325H, 326H, 375H, 429Y
2. One full course in Economic History from: ECO301Y, 302H, 303Y, 307H, 308H, 309H, 321Y, 342Y, 353Y, 354H, 355H, 423H, 435H
3. 4.5 full additional 300+ series ECO courses (cannot be in Economic History)

4. NOTES:

- Strongly recommended: ECO376H;
- MAT223H/240H is strongly recommended as preparation for ECO375H. Students taking one of these MAT courses can have it count in lieu of one half 300+ ECO credit required for this program;
- Additional recommended preparation: MAT235Y/237Y/ECO210H

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y or 80% in ECO 105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0.

First Year:

ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

Higher Years:

- ECO 200Y/204Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO 220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H)/(257H, 261H)
- Two full additional 300+ series ECO courses (cannot be in Economic History)

NOTE: Students in the Major program in Economics cannot be enrolled in the Minor program in Environmental Economics.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y or 80% in ECO 105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0.

- ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y
- ECO 200Y/206Y
- One full 300+ series ECO course (cannot be in Economic History)

NOTE: Students enrolled in the Minor Program in Economics cannot be enrolled in the Minor Program in Economic History or in the Minor Program in Environmental Economics.

3. 2.5 courses from: JGE221Y, 347H, GGR249H, 252H, 254H, 256H, 323H, 324H, 332H, 333H, 334H, 344H, 357H, 436H, JGI 346H, other choices from 5. and 6. below
4. Two full 300+ ECO courses including at least one of ECO313H, 314H, 425H
5. One of GGR 271H, 272H, 273H, 371H, 373H, 462H, 473H
6. GGR 491Y/two of GGR 415H, 431H, 450H, 458H, 459H, 499H, JFG 470H

Economics & Mathematics (Science program)

Consult Professor N.A. Derzko, Department of Mathematics, or Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y, 55% in MAT 137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course)

First Year:

ECO 100Y; MAT 137Y/157Y

Second Year:

ECO 206Y, 208Y, ECO 227Y/STA(257H,261H); MAT(223H/
240H,237Y,246H)/257Y

Second or Third Year:

APM 236H; MAT 244H/267H

Third Year:

MAT 315H/337H/(327H,357H) (MAT 357H may be taken in Fourth Year)

Third or Fourth Year:

1. APM 462H; ECO 325H/326H
2. Two full 300+series ECO courses
3. One full course from: MAT 309H/315H/334H/337H/344H/
363H/464H/any 400-series MAT course/another 300+level
STA course, subject to the approval of the advisors.

Economics & Philosophy (Arts program)

Consult the Undergraduate Coordinator, Department of Philosophy.

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y or 80% in ECO 105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course)

First Year:

ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

Higher Years:

1. ECO 200Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y, ECO 220Y/227Y/ STA (250H,255H)/(257H,261H), ECO 429Y
2. Two additional full ECO courses
3. PHL265H1/275H1, PHL273H1/PHL295H1, PHL323H1/
365H1/394H1/395H1
4. Additional PHL courses to a total of seven

Note:

At least four 300+ series courses must be completed for this program.

Economics & Political Science (Arts program)

Consult Director of Undergraduate Studies, Department of Political Science.

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y or 80% in ECO 105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0. Students must also meet the requirements of the Political Science Department (see the Political Science listings).

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full 400-series course)

NOTE: The 15 courses must include 8 in ECO, two of which must be 300+ series; and 7 in POL or JPE, including one 300+ series course and one 400-series course. At least one POL course must be in the area of Canadian politics.

First Year:

ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y;
POL103Y/105Y/108Y/214Y

Higher Years:

1. POL200Y
2. ECO200Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H)/(257H, 261H), ECO 429Y
3. One full course in Economic History from: ECO 301Y, 302H, 303Y, 307H, 308H, 309H, 321Y, 342Y, 353Y, 354H,
355H, 423H, 435H
4. One additional full 300+ ECO course (cannot be in Economic History)
5. One full course from any of the following three fields in Political Science (see Departmental Handbook for breakdown of courses into fields):
Comparative Politics (Developing)
Comparative Politics (Industrial)
International Relations
6. One full course equivalent from: POL 401, 408, 409, 418,
435, 439, 447, 458, 463, 472, 474, 475, 476, 477, 488, 489, JPF
455, JPJ 494
7. Three additional courses in POL or JPE

Economics & Sociology (Arts program)

Consult Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y or 80% in ECO 105Y, MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.0. Students must have 65% in SOC 101Y, and 70% in each of SOC 200H, 202H, 203Y, and 204H. Students must also have completed 8 full courses and be enrolled in the Sociology Major program.

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y;
SOC 101Y

Higher Years:

1. ECO 200Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y, ECO 220Y/227Y/SOC 300H/STA(250H, 255H)/(257H, 261H)
2. SOC 200H, 202H, 203Y, 204H, 376H, 377H, 387H, 401Y
3. Two of the following pairs of courses: ECO 321Y & SOC 220Y; ECO 310Y & SOC 317Y; ECO 333Y & SOC 205Y; ECO 339Y & SOC 207Y/370Y; ECO 340H plus a second ECO half-course & SOC 301Y; ECO 425H plus a second ECO half-course & SOC 312Y

Note: At least four 300+ series courses must be completed for this program

Economics & Statistics (Science program)

---

Consult Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y, 55% in MAT 137Y/157Y and a CGPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course)

First Year:

CSC 148H/150H/260H; ECO 100Y; MAT 137Y/157Y

Second Year:

ECO 206Y, 208Y; MAT 223H/240H, 237Y; ECO 227Y/STA(257H, 261H)

Third Year:

1. ECO 325H, 326H, 375H, 376H; STA 347H
2. One full 300+ series ECO course
3. STA 352Y

Fourth Year:

1. ECO 416H/418H
2. A 300+ series ECO half-course
3. STA 437H, 457H; one STA half-course from STA 414H/422H/442H/447H
4. One additional half-course from ACT 335H/MAT 244H/267H/a 300+ series ECO or STA half-course

Economics Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all ECO courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

SSC199HI First Year Seminar 26S

SSC199YI First Year Seminar 52S

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

Note

Enrolment in most Economics courses above the 100-level and, therefore, in all Economics Programs, is based on grades in ECO 100Y or ECO 105Y and, in most cases, MAT 133Y or MAT 135Y or MAT 137Y or MAT 157Y. Additional information is contained in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. Not all courses are offered each year.

ECO100YI Introduction to Economics [52L, 26T]

An introduction to economic analysis and its applications: price determination; the role of competition; international trade and finance; the theory of production and employment; the role of money and the banking system; monetary and fiscal policy. NOTE graphical and quantitative analysis are used extensively. Exclusion: ECO105Y

Recommended preparation: MCB4U, MGA4U/MDM4U or equivalent secondary school mathematics credits

ECO105YI Principles of Economics for Non-Specialists [52L, 26T]

An introduction to the principles and methods of economics in association with policy issues. Lectures cover a variety of topics, including economic growth, the importance of productivity, international trade, competitive markets, macroeconomic issues and more specific topics such as rent controls, OPEC, the international debt crisis, trade restrictions, the national debt and sustainable development. Students who intend to complete a minor, major, or specialist program in Economics are advised to take ECO100Y.

Exclusion: ECO100Y

ECO200YI Microeconomic Theory [52L, 26T]

Theory of markets and prices. Determination of prices through the interaction of the basic economic units, the household as consumer and as supplier of inputs and the business firm as producer and as employer of inputs. The pricing system as the mechanism by which social decisions and allocation of goods are made in a market economy.

Exclusion: ECO204Y, 206Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%); MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO202YI Macroeconomic Theory and Policy [52L, 26T]

Theory of output, employment and the price level; techniques for achieving economic stability; central banking and Canadian financial institutions and markets; foreign exchange markets and the exchange rate. This course is not intended for students enrolled in the B.Com program; please see ECO209Y.

Exclusion: ECO208Y, 209Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)

Co-requisite: MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO204YI Microeconomic Theory and Applications (for Commerce) [52L, 26T]

The use of microeconomics to analyze a variety of issues – from marketing and finance to organizational structure. Consumer preferences and behavior; demand, cost analysis and estimation; allocation of inputs, pricing and firm behavior under perfect and imperfect competition; game theory and public policy, including competition policy. Business cases are used to connect theory and practice and to highlight differences and similarities between economics and accounting, marketing and finance. This course is restricted to students in the B. Com program.

Prerequisite: ECO100YI(67%), MAT 133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO206YI Microeconomic Theory [52L, 26T]

This course deals more rigorously and more mathematically with the topics included in ECO200Y and is intended primarily for students in certain Economics Specialist programs.

Exclusion: ECO200Y, 204Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(70%); MAT133Y(63%)/
(123H(63%),124H(63%))/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)/157Y(55%)

ECO208YI Macroeconomic Theory [52L, 26T]

This course deals more rigorously and more mathematically with the topics included in ECO 202Y and is intended primarily for students in certain Economics Specialist programs.

Exclusion: ECO202Y, 209Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(70%); MAT133Y(63%)/
(123H(63%),124H(63%))/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)/157Y(55%)

ECO209YI Macroeconomic Theory and Policy (for Commerce) [52L,26T]

Macroeconomic issues relevant for commerce students. Analytical tools are used to examine policy issues: Canadian government budgets, Bank of Canada monetary policy, exchange rate policy, foreign trade policy and government regulation of financial intermediaries. This course is restricted to students in the B. Com program.

Exclusion: ECO202Y, 208Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)

Co-requisite: MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO210HI Mathematical Methods for Economic Theory [26L, 13T]

An introduction to mathematical methods commonly used in economic theory. Topics include unconstrained multivariate optimization, multivariate optimization subject to equality or inequality constraints and differential equations.

Exclusion: MAT235Y/ 237Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%); MAT133Y(63%)/
(123H(63%),124H(63%))/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)/157Y(55%)

Co-requisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y

ECO220YI Quantitative Methods in Economics [52L, 26T]

Numerical and graphical data description techniques; data collection and sampling; probability; sampling distributions; statistical inference; simple and multiple regression analysis. Study methods, the basis for these methods, when each is or is not appropriate, and how to correctly interpret and understand results.

Exclusion: ECO227Y, GGR270Y, 270H, PSY201H, 202H,
SOC300Y, STA107H, 220H, 221H, 247H, 248H, 250H, 255H,
257H, 261H

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%); MAT133Y/
(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO227YI Quantitative Methods in Economics [52L, 26T]

A rigorous introduction to probability and mathematical statistics intended for economics specialists. Probability and estimation theory, sampling distributions, hypotheses testing, multiple regression analysis. Students will learn the tools used in economics and finance to model and address randomness and uncertainty.

Exclusion: ECO220Y, GGR270Y, 270H, PSY201H, 202H,
SOC300Y, STA107H, 220H, 221H, 247H, 248H, 250H, 255H,
257H, 261H

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(70%); MAT133Y(63%)/
(123H(63%),124(63%))/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)/157Y(55%)

Recommended Co-requisite: MAT223H/240H, MAT235Y/237Y/
ECO210H

ECO230YI International Economic Institutions and Policy [52L, 26T]

This course is intended primarily for students in the International Relations and in the Peace & Conflict Studies programs. The key concepts of international trade and finance are reviewed with an eye to understanding contemporary issues and recommending policy initiatives. Attention is given to empirical assessment of alternative trade theories and to broader international relations issues.

Exclusion: ECO328Y/364H/365H

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)/enrolment in the International Relations Specialist or Major Programs, or the IR/Peace and Conflict Studies joint Specialist Program.

ECO239YI Labour Markets and Policies [52L, 26T]

This course is intended primarily for students in the Employment Relations programs. Application of economic analysis to current issues in labour policy: immigration, retirement, education, unemployment, earnings differentials, employment and pay equity, labour unions, minimum wage, income policies.

Exclusion: ECO339Y

Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)

WDW244HI Labour Relations

See Woodsworth College

ECO250YI Special Topics in Economics [52L]

ECO251HI Special Topics in Economics [26L]

ECO252HI Special Topics in Economics [26L]

Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details). Prerequisite: TBA

ECO299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

ECO 301YI European Economic History, 1250 – 1750 (formerly ECO201YI) [52L, 26T]

The development of the West European economy from the apogee of the Commercial Revolution in the mid-13th century and the ensuing economic crises of the later Middle Ages to the eve of the modern Industrial Revolution, in the mid-18th century, focusing on Italy, Spain, Portugal, France, Germany, the Low Countries and England. Major topics: feudalism, serfdom and other barriers to economic growth; demographic, monetary and other macroeconomic forces; the development of market economies; structural changes in and interactions among the agrarian, commercial, financial, and industrial sectors; overseas expansion and colonization; the role of Church, state, warfare, and social/political institutions; Mercantilism.

Exclusion: ECO201Y

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y

ECO302HI Comparative Economic Institutions in History [26L]

Contrasting ways in which the factors of production - land, labour and capital - are organized in human society. Tribal, feudal, mercantilist and market economies are considered. A conceptual framework related to both market and non-market economies, based on the work of Karl Polanyi.

Exclusion: ECO302Y, ECO354H(2001-02 and 2002-03)

ECO303YI The Economic History of Modern Europe to 1914 [52L, 26T]

The economic development of modern Europe, focusing on urban industrialization in the Netherlands, Great Britain, France, Germany, and Russia, up to World War I. Major topics: technological, institutional, and social factors in economic growth; demographic and monetary forces; structural changes in and interactions among the agrarian, commercial, financial, and industrial sectors; international trade and capital flows; the role of the state; the role of economic theory and ideology; theories of post-1850 imperialism.

Exclusion: ECO203Y

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y

ECO307HI Issues in Canadian and US Economic History to 1914 [26L]

The evolution of North American markets, with emphasis on the pre-Civil War period. Labor markets are examined, including those for indentured servants and apprentices, as well as the economics of slavery. The timing and impact of technological change and the evolution of manufacturing production. The U.S. economy and the role of Canadian economic activity within the broader North American context.

Exclusion: ECO221Y, 321Y, 354H (North American Economic History to 1850), ECO423H

ECO308HI The Economics of Life: A Historical Perspective [26L]

Demographic economic history within a North American context. Topics include changes over time in marriage markets, fertility, mortality and stature. The impact of property rights within marriage, illegitimacy, the decline of fertility in the nineteenth century and the puzzling inter-temporal divergence between height and wealth during the early nineteenth century.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; ECO220Y/227Y/STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)

Exclusion: ECO355H (The Economics of Life: A Historical Perspective)

ECO309HI Economic Growth and Development in Southeast Asia [26L]

An evaluation of economic development strategies in Southeast Asia and their implications for growth, industrialization, and income inequality. A review of trade and development theory that can explain the economic development of Southeast Asia, followed by an explanation of the initial conditions provided by resource endowments, geographical location, trade-international economic relations, and domestic economic development policies, and how these conditions have affected the process of development. A focus on the five most populous and resource abundant countries of the region: Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand and Vietnam.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO202Y/208Y/209Y

Exclusion: ECO355H (Economic Growth and Development in Southeast Asia)

ECO310YI Industrial Organization and Public Policy [52L, 26T]

Study of how firms compete and structure of markets. Emphasize oligopoly markets and use game theory. Study differentiated goods, price discrimination, barriers to entry, vertical relationships, advertising, strategic behaviour, and empirical industrial organization including estimation of demand and costs. Applications to competition policy emphasizing evaluation of horizontal mergers.

Exclusion: ECO380H

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)

ECO313HI Environmental Economics and Policies [26L]

This course demonstrates the way that a rigorous application of microeconomic techniques can inform our responses to various environmental problems. Topics may include: air and water pollution and renewable resource management.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO314HI Energy and Resource Economics [26L]

An investigation of the way that a rigorous application of microeconomic techniques can 1) improve our understanding of how resources like oil, minerals, fish, and forests are extracted in equilibrium, and 2) lead to improved management policies.

ECO320HI Economic Analysis of Law [26L]

The practical application of microeconomic theory to common legal problems: torts, contracts, property and crime, and the limitations of economic analysis. No previous familiarity with the law is assumed. (This is an economic analysis of legal issues, not a course in law.)

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO321YI Canadian Economic History since 1500 [52L]

Canadian economic growth and development as viewed through the staples thesis of Harold Innis. Reference to United States economic history throughout the course.

Exclusion: ECO221Y1, 323Y5

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y

ECO324YI Economic Development [52L]

Economic development theory and policy related to the economic transformation of the developing countries, including industrial and agricultural sector strategies, international trade policy, public sector activities and the importance of productivity growth and poverty reduction programs.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)

ECO325HI Advanced Economic Theory - Macro [26L, 13T]

A development of the microeconomic foundations of macroeconomic theory to expand students' analytic skills by constructing and solving macroeconomic models. Topics may include: dynamic choice, neoclassical growth theory, uncertainty and rational expectations, business cycles, as well as fiscal and monetary policy.

Prerequisite: ECO208Y/202Y/209Y(70%), ECO220Y(70%)/227Y/STA247H((70%),248H(70%))/(250H(70%),255H(70%))/(257H,261H)

Recommended preparation: MAT223H/240H, MAT235Y/237Y/ECO210H

ECO326HI Advanced Economic Theory - Micro [26L, 13T]

Game theory and applications. Topics include: strategic and extensive games, with applications to economics.

Exclusion: ECO372H5, 372Y5

Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/204Y(70%)/206Y, ECO220Y(70%)/227Y/ STA247H((70%),248H(70%))/(250H(70%),255H(70%))/(257H,261H); MAT133Y(63%)/(123H(63%),124H(63%))/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)/157Y(55%)

Recommended preparation: MAT223H/240H, MAT235Y/237Y/
ECO210H

ECO329HI Topics in Monetary Economics [26L]

Theories and techniques in monetary economics, including the equilibrium asset-pricing theory and modeling money as a medium of exchange, the Lucas supply curve, the choice of monetary policy rules versus discretion, and the liquidity effect of open market operations. Emphasis on the interactions between macroeconomic phenomena and individual decisions.
Exclusion: ECO349H5, ECO352H (2002-03)
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO202Y/208Y/209Y,
ECO220Y/227Y/STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/
(257H,261H)

ECO332HI Economics of the Family [26L]

A use of microeconomics to study the behaviour of the family, including marriage, divorce, intra-family allocations, investment in children and gender roles.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/
135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO333YI Urban Economics [52L]

Spatial economic theory and urban public policy: firms and individuals in partial and general equilibrium, land development and land-use controls, urban transportation, efficiency and equity in spending and taxing.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/
135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO336YI Public Economics [52L]

Theory of public goods, externalities, and the politics of government policy. Analysis of equity, incidence and incentive effects of taxes. An analytical treatment of the public sector.
Exclusion: ECO236Y
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; MAT133Y/(123H,124H)/
135Y/137Y/157Y

ECO339YI Economics of Labour [52L, 26T]

The operation of labour markets; determinants of supply and demand for labour; wage differentials; discrimination; investment in schooling and training; unemployment; economics of unions.
Exclusion: ECO239Y, 361Y5
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; ECO220Y/227Y/
STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)

ECO340HI Economics of Income Distribution [26L]

The personal distribution of income and wealth; measurement of inequality and poverty. The distributional effects of the tax system, government spending and economic regulation (including policies such as minimum wages, pay equity and employment equity).
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y; ECO220Y/227Y/

ECO342YI Twentieth Century Economic History [52L]

Economic development of Europe and certain overseas areas, particularly Japan and the United States. Special attention to globalization before 1914, problems of the interwar years, the Great Depression of the 1930's, the period since 1945, international trade, the balance of payments and exchange rate mechanisms, growth performance of the major industrial countries.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y/(ECO230Y, POL208Y)

ECO350YI Special Topics in Economics [52L]

ECO351HI Special Topics in Economics [26L]

ECO352HI Special Topics in Economics [26L]

Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details).
Prerequisite: TBA

ECO353YI Special Topics in Economic History [52L]

ECO354HI Special Topics in Economic History [26L]

ECO355HI Special Topics in Economic History [26L]

Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details).
Prerequisite: TBA

ECO356HI Special Topics in Financial Economics [26L]

Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details).
Prerequisite: TBA

ECO358HI Financial Economics I [26L]

An introduction to economics of financial assets and financial markets. Topics: inter-temporal choice, expected utility theory, security valuation, selected asset pricing models, market efficiency, and the term structure of interest rates - essential materials for an understanding of the role and operation of financial markets.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/
STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)
Exclusion: ACT349HI, MGT331YI, 337YI, RSM332H, 333H

ECO359HI Financial Economics II: Corporate Finance [26L]

Agency and incomplete information problems inherent in financial transactions; the role of contractual arrangements in overcoming them. Financial constraints on investment decisions of firms; the financial system in economic growth; the legal system in the functioning of financial markets. A look at theoretical and empirical literature covering these issues.
Prerequisite: ECO358H
Exclusion: ACT349HI, MGT331YI, 337YI, RSM332H, 333H

ECO360YI Economic Growth and Technological Change [52L]

With emphasis on the United States, Japan and Canada, this course examines theories of capitalism; Long Wave Cycle, the importance of productivity growth and Solow's residual, the economics of technological change, the Japanese/U.S. trade interface, the economic slowdown since 1973 and the current Canadian productivity challenge.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/
227Y/ STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)
Exclusion: ECO362H5

ECO364HI International Trade Theory [26L, 13T]

An examination of the causes and consequences of international trade. The first half develops traditional models of comparative advantage, with the second half examines more recent theoretical and empirical work on trade & wages, the political economy of trade, outsourcing, and firm heterogeneity.
Prerequisites: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/
STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)
Exclusion: ECO230Y/328Y

Economics

ECO365HI International Monetary Economics [26L, 13T]

Introduction to open economy macroeconomics and international finance. The core objective of the course is to develop macroeconomic models of open economies that can be applied towards gaining an understanding of recent events such as US deficits, financial crises, China's exchange rate policy and the Euro.

Prerequisites: ECO202Y/208Y/209Y

ECO369YI Health Economics [52L]

The provision of health care provides many special problems of informational asymmetry, regulation, insurance and redistribution. A consideration of the demand and supply side problems. Alternative reform proposals for health care are explored.

ECO370YI Economics of Organizations [52L]

An introduction to the economic analysis of the firm that highlights how organizations and special contractual relationships emerge as alternative institutions to the market for allocating resources. Incentive problems and informal relationships, within and between firms, are important components of this analysis

ECO374HI Applied Econometrics (for Commerce) [26L, 13T]

An introduction to econometrics similar to ECO 375H, with greater focus on applications drawn from business and financial economics. The course is built around the statistical foundations and economic applications of the multiple regression model. Using statistical software, students will also learn how to conduct, present, and critique empirical research.

Prerequisites: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO220Y(70%)/ECO227Y/STA(257H,261H)

Recommended preparation: MAT223H/240H

Exclusion: ECO327Y/375H, STA302H

ECO375HI Applied Econometrics I [26L, 13T]

An introduction to econometrics, theoretical and practical, focusing on the multiple regression model. Statistical assumptions, theory, and results are carefully developed, as are the necessary conditions for the valid application of regression analysis to economic data. Students apply these techniques to economic data using statistical software.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, ECO220Y(70%)/ECO227Y/STA(257H,261H)

Recommended preparation: MAT223H/240H

ECO376HI Applied Econometrics II [26L, 13T]

A research-oriented course continuing from ECO375H. The regression model is extended in several possible directions: time series analysis; panel data techniques; instrumental variables; simultaneous equations; limited dependent variables. Students will complete a major empirical term paper, applying the tools of econometrics to a topic chosen by the student.

Prerequisite: ECO375H(60%)/ECO374H(70%), NOTE: STA302H is not adequate preparation

Exclusion: ECO327Y, STA302H

ECO380HI Managerial Economics I: Competitive Strategy [26L]

This course in applied microeconomics is concerned with the functioning of markets and the behaviour of firms within these markets. The focus is on strategic relationships between organizations, including competitive relationships among firms in the same market and cooperative relationships between a firm and its suppliers and distributors.

Exclusion: ECO310Y, MGT310Y

ECO381HI Managerial Economics II: Personnel Economics [26L]

An examination of selected material on compensation and incentives in organizations. Topics include recruitment and hiring, training, turnover, downsizing, motivating workers, teams, allocating authority and task assignment.

Exclusion: ECO370Y,426H, MGT310Y

ECO382HI Population Economics and Business Strategy [26L]

Strategic business in any organization depends crucially on people – the customers using the products and the employees executing the strategy. Using population economics as a foundation, topics covered include strategic management, consumer behaviour, life cycle models, generational analysis, trend analysis, marketing, risk analysis, global competitive analysis, diversification strategy, human resource planning, government relations, change management and sustainability.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/204Y(70%)/206Y(60%), ECO202Y/209Y(70%)/208Y(60%)/ECO220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)/STA247H,248H(70%)/250H,255H(70%)/257H,261H(60%)

ECO398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ECO399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

---

Note:

Many 400-level courses are offered as joint undergraduate and graduate courses. Students interested in any of these courses should consult with the instructor before enrolling.

ECO416HI Macroeconometric Models for Policy Analysis and Forecasting [26L, 13T]

The construction and operation of macroeconomic models. The use of models for conducting policy simulations and for generating quantitative forecasts of economic activity.

Prerequisite: ECO325H

Co-requisite: ECO327Y/375H,376H

ECO418HI Empirical Applications of Economic Theory [26L]

Topics class in applied econometrics, emphasizing empirical industrial organization. Emphasis on a balanced treatment of theory and econometric techniques used in empirical research in industrial organization (the study of firms and markets). How firms behave, how market equilibriums arise and how economic policies are used to affect market equilibriums.

Prerequisite: ECO327Y/375H,376H

ECO419HI International Macroeconomics [26L]

Contemporary issues in international monetary economics and macroeconomic policy formulation in open economies like Canada. A study of forces determining interest rates and exchange rates, inflation and unemployment; analysis of government policy in relation to financial markets.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y/204Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(247H,248H)/(250H,255H)/(257H,261H) permission of instructor

ECO420YI Special Topics in Economics [52S]

ECO421HI Special Topics in Economics [26S]

ECO422HI Special Topics in Economics [26S]

Seminars or workshops may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department. (See the Undergraduate Secretary for details.) Prerequisite: TBA, permission of instructor

ECO423HI Topics in North American Economic History [26L]

Themes are incentives, contracts, and the impetus for change. Topics include indigenous people of North America; indentured servitude; slavery; apprenticeships; the evolution of production from artisan shop to the factory; invention and the diffusion of technological innovations; institutions and growth.

Prerequisite: ECO206Y(70%),227Y(70%)/STA257H(70%),261H(70%), or permission of the instructor. Exclusion: ECO307HI

ECO425HI Economics and Demographics [26S]

A research-oriented course exploring the interrelationships between economics and demographic change, both historical and projected, with attention to the microeconomic foundations, macroeconomic performance, and policy in areas such as fertility, migration, education, labour markets, housing, crime, recreation, leisure, marketing, health, retirement and pensions. The Canadian experience, with some international comparisons.

Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/ECO204Y(70%)/206Y(60%),202Y(70%)/209Y(70%)/208Y(60%)/220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)/STA(250H(70%),255H(70%))/STA(257H(60%),261H(60%)) Co-requisite: ECO327Y/375H,376H/STA302H

ECO426HI Economics inside Organizations [26L]

An examination of selected research on compensation, incentive issues, cooperation and allocation of authority in hierarchical organizations.

Exclusion: ECO370YI, ECO381HI Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/204Y(70%)/206Y(60%), 220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)/STA(250H(70%),255H(70%))/STA(257H(60%),261H(60%))

ECO429YI History of Economic Thought [52L]

Development of analytical economics from the 18th century with emphasis on Adam Smith and the British Classical School (David Ricardo, T.R. Malthus, and J.S. Mill), Karl Marx, the Marginalists and their successors to 1939, including Keynes. Exclusion: ECO322YI, 322Y5

ECO430YI Reading Course or Thesis [TBA]

ECO431HI Reading Course or Thesis [TBA]

Intended for advanced Specialist students who have exhausted course offerings in a particular area. Open only when a faculty member is available and willing to supervise. Students must obtain the approval of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies before enrolling.

ECO435HI The Economics of Modern China (formerly ECO335YI) [26L]

A focus on post-1949 Chinese economy, and the PRC's economic legacy. Economic development during the Maoist period, particularly post-1979 reforms. China's experience is compared to Eastern Europe's and the role of China in the rapidly growing East Asian economy. This a limited enrolment seminar requiring extensive reading.

Exclusion: ECO335Y

Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/ECO204Y(70%)/ECO206Y(60%)

ECO451HI Macroeconomic Growth [26L]

An introduction to modern theories of the determinants of macroeconomic growth that examines the important question of why some countries are rich and others are poor. Topics include: investigation of empirical literature pertaining to international comparisons of recent and past rates of economic growth across countries.

Prerequisite: ECO325H, ECO327Y/375H,376H

ECO456HI Special Topics in Financial Economics [26L]

Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details). Prerequisite: TBA

ECO459HI International Trade Regulation [26L]

The theory and political economy of international trade, with examination of specific trade institutions: Bretton Woods, WTO, NAFTA, tariff administration, most-favoured nation treatment, antidumping regulation, subsidies and countervailing duties, agriculture, trade in services, trade-related intellectual property, trade and environment, trade and developing countries.

Prerequisite: ECO328Y/364H, permission of instructor

ECO461HI The Economics of Financial Risk Management [26L]

This course is intended primarily for students in the Financial Economics specialist program and is not open to students in the B.com program. The role of risk management in both private and public sectors, a discussion of why firms and government should hedge financial risks; individual and social gains of financial risk management; identification and quantification of financial risks (including Value-at-Risk measures); how derivative securities can be used for financial risk management.

Exclusion: ACT349HI, MGT331YI, 337YI, 438HI, RSM332H, 333H, 435H

Prerequisite: ECO358H(70%)/ECO460H5(70%)

ECO462HI Financial Econometrics [26L]

This course is intended primarily for students in the Financial Economics specialist program. An introduction to the econometrics used in empirical finance, with an emphasis on estimation and inference using computer based applications. Topics will include parametric and nonparametric models of volatility, evaluation of asset pricing theories and models for risk management and transactions data.

Prerequisite: ECO358H(70%),327Y(70%)/375H(70%),376H(70%)

J. Levine, MA, Ph D (V)

Literature in English has a long history and is now written around the world. The Department of English offers a wide range of courses which engage many aspects of this vast subject: courses in theory, language, and method, in Canadian and indigenous North American literature, in American and transnational literatures, in British literature from its beginnings to the 19th century, and in literature from the 18th century to the present. Some courses deal with historical periods, some examine particular genres or individual authors, some have a national or transnational focus, and some deal more exclusively with theory and critical methods. The Department's objective in every course is to deepen the student's awareness and appreciation of the complex and constantly evolving literary traditions of English around the world. More broadly, studying English develops skills of critical thinking, analysis, and expression that are required in all areas of research, business, and professional activity.

Courses are arranged in four series: this gradation indicates the level of work expected at each stage. In the 100 series, the emphasis falls on introducing students to the study of English at the university level through broad courses in a variety of literary forms. In the 200 series, courses are also introductory, but they focus on more specific areas. In the 300 series, courses are taught at a more advanced level. In the 400 series, the Department offers its most advanced studies in seminar format.

The Department of English offers several Programs of Study: these programs provide students with different frameworks in which to explore the field, while balancing the demands of breadth and depth. The Specialist Program constitutes the most intensive form of study, requiring a minimum of 10 English courses in a 20-course degree. Students should note that the Specialist Program is not designed to meet the requirements for admission to any graduate program: those students who are interested in proceeding to graduate school should seek advice on course selection from their professors and from the undergraduate and graduate counsellors. Similarly, students considering a teaching career in Ontario should consult the admission counsellors at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/UT. The Major Program in English requires a minimum of 7 English courses in a 20-course degree and is often combined with other Major Programs in different subject areas. Finally, the Minor Program requires a minimum of 4 English courses in a 20-course degree. The Department also offers joint Specialist Programs in Drama and English, English and Linguistics, and English and Philosophy. Students with questions about the requirements of the various programs in English should consult the Office of the Associate Chair.

The Department of English publishes an Undergraduate Brochure each year: it is usually available by mid-April, on line. The Brochure provides detailed course descriptions and reading lists for the particular courses being taught the following year. The general policy of the Department is to regulate class size in order to achieve the best conditions possible for teaching and learning. Enrolment in many sections is therefore limited. Students are urged to consult the Undergraduate Brochure at www.utoronto.ca/english before enrolment begins.

English (Arts program)

Enrolment in any English Program of Study requires completion of four previous courses or their equivalent. Students are responsible for completing all the requirements of the English Program in which they are enrolled. No minimum GPA is required. For programs in English prior to 2007, please refer to the appropriate Arts & Science Calendar.

Specialist program:

Ten ENG/JEF full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 300+series full-course equivalents and one 400-series full-course equivalent. Only one 100-series ENG/JEF course may be counted toward program requirements. ENG100HI, ENG185YI, HUM199YI, MEJ204HI, JUM204HI may not be counted.

Courses must fulfill the following requirements:

1. At least 1 full-course equivalent from Group 1 (Theory, Language, Methods)
2. At least 1 full-course equivalent from Group 2 (Canadian and Indigenous North American Literatures)
3. At least 1 full-course equivalent from Group 3 (American and Transnational Literatures)
4. At least 3 full-course equivalents from Group 4 (British Literature to the 19th Century)

100-Series Courses

Note

100-series courses are designed to introduce students to the study of English at the university level. They aim to foster interpretive skills and to promote effective writing. ENG100HI examines basic writing skills relevant to a wide range of university subject areas. ENG110YI focuses on elements of narrative writing in a variety of fictional and non-fictional forms. ENG125YI explores the theatrical aspects of various literary forms. ENG140YI ranges over modern and contemporary literature, considering drama, fiction, and poetry from various regions of the world. JEF100YI explores some of the major works of the Western literary tradition from Homer to the twentieth century. Students should note that only ONE of ENG110YI, 125YI, 140YI, and JEF100YI may be counted towards English program requirements. ENG100HI, ENG185YI, HUM199YI may not be used to meet the requirements of any English program. First-year students may enrol in a 200-series ENG course, if they are concurrently enrolled in one of ENG110YI, 125YI, 140YI or JEF100YI.

ENG100HI Effective Writing [39L]

A course designed to improve competence in writing expository and persuasive prose for academic and other purposes. It aims to teach the principles of clear, well-reasoned prose, and their practical applications; the processes of composition (drafting, revising, final editing); the conventions of various prose forms and different university disciplines. The course does not meet the needs of students primarily seeking to develop English language proficiency. This course may not count toward any English program.

ENG110YI Narrative [78L]

This course explores the stories that are all around us and that shape our world: traditional literary narratives such as ballads, romances, and novels, and also non-literary forms of narrative, such as journalism, movies, myths, jokes, legal judgements, travel writing, histories, songs, diaries, biographies.

ENG125YI The Performance of Literature [78L]

Considering major dramatic genres such as comedy and tragedy, this course explores how performance affects our engagement with literature by focusing on the theatrical aspects of various literary forms—plays, novels, poems, sermons, essays—as well as adaptations of these texts into other forms and media—television, film, musical recordings.

ENG140YI Literature for our Time [78L]

An exploration of how the literature of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries responds to our world through major forms of poetry, prose, and drama in texts drawn from a variety of national literatures. At least nine authors, such as Eliot, Frost, Heaney, Page, Plath, Rich, Wayman, Walcott, Yeats, Faulkner, Gordimer, Joyce, Morrison, Munro, Naipaul, Rushdie, Woolf, Beckett, Highway, O'Neill, Shaw, Soyinka, Stoppard.

ENG185YI The Study of Literature [52L]

See Academic Bridging Program.

Only for students registered in the Academic Bridging Program. This course may not count toward any English program.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first-year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48. This course may not count toward any English program.

JEF100YI The Western Tradition [78L]

An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary "classic"? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition - human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny - been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostoevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French; see also JEF100YI in the French program listings.)

This course will offer a focused exploration of a particular genre, national literature, literary period or thematic thread in modern Jewish literature and culture in English.

ENG380HI History of Literary Theory 39L

Literary theory from classical times to the nineteenth century. Topics include theories of the imagination, genre analysis, aesthetics, the relations between literature and reality and literature and society, and the evaluation and interpretation of literature.

Exclusion: ENG467YI

ENG382YI Contemporary Literary Theory (formerly ENG366YI) [78L]

This course explores literary theory from the early twentieth century to the present. Schools or movements studied may include structuralism, formalism, phenomenology, Marxism, post-structuralism, reader-response theory, feminism, queer theory, new historicism, psychoanalysis, postcolonial theory, and cultural and race studies.

Exclusion: ENG366YI

ENG383HI Critical Methods (formerly ENG468HI) [39L]

Sustained study of one school, movement, or approach in literary theory, history, or criticism. Content varies with instructors.

Exclusion: ENG468HI

ENG385HI History of the English Language [39L]

This course explores English from its prehistory to the present day, emphasizing Old, Middle, and Early Modern English and the theory and terminology needed to understand their lexical, grammatical, and phonological structure; language variation and change; codification and standardization; literary and non-literary usage.

Exclusion: ENG367YI

ENG389YI Creative Writing (formerly ENG369YI) [52S]

Restricted to students who in the opinion of the Department show special aptitude for writing poetry, fiction, or drama. For application procedure, see Department Brochure by May 15. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor and the Associate Chair

Exclusion: ENG369YI

English

ENG390YI Individual Studies [TBA]

ENG392HI Individual Studies [TBA]

ENG393HI Individual Studies [TBA]

ENG394YI Individual Studies [TBA]

A scholarly project chosen by the student and supervised by a member of the staff. The form of the project and the manner of its execution are determined in consultation with the supervisor. All project proposals should be submitted by May 15. Proposal forms are available from the Department offices.

Exclusion: ENG490YI

Prerequisite: Three courses in English, permission of the instructor and the Associate Chair

ENG391YI Individual Studies (Creative) [TBA]

A project in creative writing chosen by the student and supervised by a member of the staff. The form of the project and the manner of its execution are determined in consultation with the supervisor. All project proposals should be submitted by May 15. Proposal forms are available from the Department offices.

Prerequisite: Three courses in English, including ENG389YI, permission of the instructor and the Associate Chair

ENG398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ENG399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

400-Series Courses

Note

400-series courses are open to students who have obtained standing in at least nine full-course equivalents, including at least five full-course equivalent ENG or JEF courses. Students who require a 400-series course to satisfy their program requirements have enrolment priority in the first round of course enrolment. 400-series courses are taught in a seminar format: enrolment is limited to 25 and students are expected to attend regularly and participate fully. Not all 400-series courses are offered every year: please consult the Department's Brochure for further information.

Centre for Environment

The Faculty of Arts and Sciences offers students a number of opportunities to study environment on the St. George campus. Students are encouraged to investigate the following environmental program options, as well as those of the new Centre for Environment (www.environment.utoronto.ca). See below.

Environment & Resource Management (Arts program):

(See program details under Geography or at <http://www.geog.utoronto.ca/>)

These Specialist and Major programs can be linked with either the Centre's Arts or Science programs for an Honours Degree. This program focuses on resource and environmental planning, environmental assessment, water resources, waste management and Canada's forests from the perspective of Geography.

Forest Conservation (Arts or Science programs):

(See program details under Forestry or at www.forestry.utoronto.ca.)

These Specialist, Major and Minor programs can be linked with the Centre's science or arts programs for an Honours degree. Core subjects include world's forests, forest products in sustainable forestry, forest conservation practices, forest management and resource allocation, and forests and society. Other topics include biodiversity, sustainability, international policy, certification, intensive forest management, community management, forest health and forest fragmentation.

Physical & Environmental Geography (Science program):

(See program details under Geography or at <http://www.geog.utoronto.ca/>)

These Specialist and Major programs can be linked with the Centre's science or arts programs for an Honours Degree. Core subjects include geomorphology, climatology, soil science and hydrology. Other topics include biogeography, remote sensing, climate assessment, biogeochemistry and environmental contaminants modeling.

The Faculty of Arts and Science established the Centre for Environment to help students focus the diverse strengths of the Faculty's environmental scholars into an academic program. In addition, the Centre's programs offer students access to environmental scholars in other units of the University.

Core Programs:

The Centre offers HBA and HBSc minor, major and specialist programs: Environment and Science (Science), Environment and Society (Arts), and Environmental Policy and Practice (Arts) which are often taken in conjunction with another program(s) in a traditional academic field (e.g. Physics, Sociology, etc.). We consider this an ideal combination of disciplinary depth and interdisciplinary breadth.

The Centre's B.Sc. Environment and Science program is intended for students who are interested in studying and working in the environmental sciences with a focus on one of the Faculty's many scientific disciplines, from Actuarial Science through Psychology. The science program is a demanding one with a requirement for a number of 100-level science courses in Biology, Chemistry, Earth Sciences, Mathematics and Physics. This foundation is necessary to give students the degree of cross-disciplinary scientific literacy necessary for our 200-level science courses; ENV234Y (Environmental Biology), ENV235Y (Physics and Chemistry of Planet Earth) or ENV236Y (Human Interactions with the Environment). In most cases, students will be combining Environment and Science with another science option (a Specialist or Major or two Minors) for an Honours B.Sc. degree program.

The Centre's B.A. Environment and Society program is a broad general program intended for students interested in studying and working in an environmental area within the social sciences or humanities, e.g. geography, economics, ethics, or international relations. Environment and Society may also be appropriate for students taking a B.Sc. program who do not wish to also enroll in Environment and Science. In most cases students will be combining Environment and Society with another option (a Specialist or Major or two Minors) for an Honours B.A. or B.Sc. degree. Companion programs for students in Environment and Society could come from any of the Faculty's social sciences or humanities disciplines (including Commerce). NOTE: Students may not take both an Environment and Society program and an Environmental Policy and Practice program, unless one of them is not required to meet degree requirements.

In the Centre's Environmental Policy and Practice program (formerly Environmental Studies), understanding leads to action. This program offers rigorous academic study of the economic, social and political forces driving today's issues - globalization, species extinction, the Kyoto Protocol on climate change, the fight for sustainable cities, smog, toxic pollution and human health. The program links intellectual understanding of the environmental crisis with opportunities to use this knowledge to help solve these problems - here in the Toronto area, nationally and globally. Students study in small classes with extensive faculty contact. The faculty include both academic scholars and professional practitioners, which means students gain both academic skills and knowledge, and practical skills and experience, both in the class-room and in the community. The program specializes in environmental policy and governance, and gives students a grounding in scientific literacy and evolving cultural attitudes toward nature. Together, the academic and applied experience students gain in this program provides a solid foundation for graduate studies and professional careers. NOTE: Students may not take both an Environment and Society program and an Environmental Policy and Practice program, unless one of them is not required to meet degree requirements.

Interfaculty Combination: Environmental Policy and Practice and International Development Studies

The program combination of Environmental Policy and Practice and International Development Studies is for students enrolled in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George campus wishing to pursue a Specialist or Major program in Environmental Policy and Practice at the Centre in conjunction with a Major program in International Development Studies at the Scarborough campus, or for students enrolled at the Scarborough campus wishing to pursue a Specialist program in International Development Studies at Scarborough in conjunction with a Major program in Environmental Policy and Practice at the Centre (for the latter option, Scarborough students should consult the University of Toronto Scarborough Calendar for 2008-09).

Collaborative Specialist Major and Minor Programs:

The Centre offers six Science specialist programs: Environment & Health; Environmental Chemistry; Environmental Geosciences; Earth Systems: Physics and Environment; Past Environments; and Environment & Toxicology. The Centre also offers a collaborative major program in Environmental Geosciences, and a collaborative Environmental Ethics B.A. major program. New this year are collaborative minor programs in Energy and Environment, and Environment and Behaviour. These programs combine the Centre's interdisciplinary core with a deliberately focused set of discipline-specific courses.

Directed Environmental Minor Programs:

Environmental minor programs are offered by a number of departments. Five are science and four are arts minors. These programs are intended for students interested in acquiring a hierarchical body of environmental knowledge in a specific discipline.

These minors are open to any student irrespective of program. As with any minor, these programs can be combined with other programs of study (i.e., minors and majors) to meet the requirements for a degree. (See page 24 of the Calendar for program requirement details).

All Science programs in the Centre include a very strong first-year science component with core interdisciplinary science courses in subsequent years. Students intending to pursue Environment and Science or any of the Science specialist programs are advised to choose first year courses from BIO 150Y1 and CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1, MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1, PHY(131H1,132H1)/(151H1,152H1, GGR (100H1, 101H1). Students should compare specific program requirements and the prerequisites for ENV235Y1, 236Y1 when selecting specific courses.

Arts programs in the Centre build on a base of social science and humanities courses. Environment and Society, as well as Environmental Policy and Practice, do not require specific First Year courses. Students intending to follow arts programs in the environment might find it helpful to take ENV200Y1 in first year and to include some First Year course choices from the 100-level offerings in Anthropology, Biology, Economics, Geography, History, Philosophy, Political Science or Sociology.

Note: Majors and specialists in Centre for Environment programs are eligible for the Douglas Pimlott scholarships and awards, the new Robert Hunter Scholarship, and several other Centre-based scholarships (see <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/Scholarships/>)

Students interested in Centre for Environment programs should refer to the program listings on the following pages. Students should be aware that numerous programs not explicitly labeled as environmental have relevance for the study of the environment (e.g. Forestry Conservation, Ecology). For further information, see <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/> or contact David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor and Placement Coordinator, Centre for Environment at 5 Bancroft, room 1049A, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca. Email contact is recommended.

Centre for Environment Programs

Core programs

Environment & Science (Science program)

Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students already in a two major program, one major of which is Environment and Science (see Major program note below). Students must also have completed 8 credits including JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, one of ENV234Y1, 235Y1 or 236Y1. This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. Not all qualified applicants may be admitted. As part of the application process to the Specialist program, a proposal for ENV490Y1 must be approved by the Centre and must identify a three-course transdisciplinary theme. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/> ApplicationProcedures.

First Year:

Successful enrolment in the Environment and Science Specialist program requires prior enrolment in the Environment and Science Major. Consequently, students must complete the first year requirements as listed in the Major program below. These courses are part of the 13 required courses for the Specialist.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 234Y1, 235Y1/236Y1, 321Y1, 490Y1; ENV 410H1/JIE 410H1/an alternative approved research course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college independent research project
3. ECO 220Y1/GGR (270H1, 271H1)/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/SOC 300Y1/STA (220H1, 221H1/EEB 225H1)/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1) or an approved alternative
4. Three 300+-level full courses contributing to a transdisciplinary theme for the ENV490Y1 course

Major program:

(6 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement; must include at least two full-course equivalents at the 300+-level)

This program must be taken in conjunction with another science major towards fulfillment of an Honours B.Sc. degree. The student must complete at least 3 courses from the first-year list before enrolling in the Environment and Science Major. The six full course equivalents that constitute the Major Program are those listed below under "Higher Years." This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Students must complete BIO 150Y1 and at least two of CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; GGR 100Y1/(100H1, 101H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1) (PHY 138Y1/(131H1, 132H1) recommended) before applying to enrol in the Major program.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 234Y1, 235Y1/236Y1, 321Y1; ENV 410H1/JIE 410H1/an alternative approved research course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college independent research project
3. ECO 220Y1/GGR (270H1, 271H1)/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/SOC 300Y1/STA (220H1, 221H1/EEB 225H1)/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1) or an approved alternative

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

Students must complete at least 3 of the first-year courses before applying to enrol in the Environment and Science Minor. The four courses that constitute the Minor Program are those listed below under "Higher Years." This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Students must complete BIO 150Y1 and at least two of CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; GGR 100Y1/(100H1, 101H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/(131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1) before applying to enrol in the Minor program.

Higher Years:

JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 234Y1, 235Y1/236Y1, 321Y1

Environment & Society (Arts program)

---

Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement ; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students already in a two major program, one major of which is Environment and Society (see Major program note below). Students must also have completed 8 credits including JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, and their science literacy requirement (see 3. below). This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. Not all qualified applicants may be admitted. As part of the application process to the Specialist program, a proposal for ENV490Y1 must be approved by the Centre and must identify a three-course transdisciplinary theme. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Successful enrolment in the Environment and Society Specialist program requires prior enrolment in the Environment and Society Major. Consequently, students must complete the first year requirements as listed in the Major program below.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 223H1, 321Y1, 490Y1, 410H1/JIE 410H1/or an approved alternative research skills course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college-based independent research project
3. ENV 200Y1 or one full course equivalent from Group A below or any Life Science course
4. 1.5 full course equivalents from Group B below or alternatives approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre
5. Three 300+-level courses contributing to a transdisciplinary theme for the ENV490Y1 course

Major program:

(6 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement ; must include at least two full-course equivalents at the 300+-level)

This program must be taken in conjunction with another major towards fulfillment of an Honours degree program. However, the Major program in Environmental and Society cannot be combined with a Major or Minor program in Environmental Policy and Practice. The six courses that constitute the Major Program are those listed below under "Higher Years." This is a Type 2 program requiring completion of 4 full courses with a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Students must complete at least four full courses or their equivalent before applying to enrol in the Major program

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 223H1, 321Y1, 410H1/JIE 410H1/or an approved alternative research skills course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college-based independent research project
3. ENV 200Y1 or one full course equivalent from Group A below or any Life Science course

- 1.5 full course equivalents from Group B below or alternatives approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement ; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

The Minor program in Environmental and Society cannot be combined with a Major or Minor program in Environmental Policy and Practice. The four courses that constitute the Minor Program are those listed below under "Higher Years." This is a Type 2 program requiring prior completion of 4 courses with a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Students must complete at least four full courses before applying to enrol in the Minor program

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 321Y1
2. ENV 200Y1 or one full course equivalent from Group A below or any Life Science course
3. One full course equivalent from Group B below or an alternative approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre

Group A (Environment & Society):

ENV 200Y1; AST 121H1, 201H1; EEB/BOT 202Y1; CHM 200Y1; FOR 200H1; 201H1; GLG 102H1, 103H1, 105H1, 110H1, 205H1; JPU 200Y1; PHE 110H1; EEB/ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1

Group B (Environment & Society):

ABS 250H1, 402H1; ANT 200Y1, 204Y1, 315H1, 349H1, 353H1, 364Y1, 366H1, 450H1; APS 203H1, 302H1 (App. Sci. & Eng.); ECO 313H1, 314H1, 324Y1, 333Y1; ENV 223H1, 234Y1, 235Y1, 236Y1, 332H1, 333H1, 335H1, 340H1, 341H1, 350H1, 395Y1, 420Y1, 422H1, 423H1, 424H1, 440Y1, 441H1, 442H1, 443H1, 444H1, 445H1, 446H1, 447H1, 481H1, 482H1, 483Y1, 491Y1, 492H1, 493H1; FOR 300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1, 400Y1, 401H1; GGR 233Y1, 330H1, 314H1, 331H1, 332H1, 333H1, 334H1, 335H1, 338H1, 393H1, 403H1, 409H1, 415H1, 418H1, 435H1, 451H1; HIS 318Y1, 404H1; HPS 202H1, 307H1, 313H1, 328H1; JAG321H1; JIE 307Y1; JUG 320H1; UNI 460Y1; PHL 273H1, 373H1; POL 201Y1, 318H1, 341H1, 346H1, 347Y1, 413H1, 469H1; PSY 335H1; RLG 228H1, 311H1, 345H1, 484H1; SOC 205Y1, 385H1; UNI 260Y1, 360Y1; or an alternative approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre

Environmental Policy and Practice (Arts program)

Environmental Policy and Practice is designed to be taken on its own, or in combination with either a BSc program (such as Biology, Geology, or Chemistry) or another BA program (such as Geography, Political Science, or Economics). However, a Major or Minor program in Environmental Policy and Practice cannot be combined with a Major or Minor program in Environment and Society. It is recommended that students give serious consideration to combining one of these Environmental Policy and Practice programs with another program. Students are advised to consult with the Undergraduate Student Advisor about combining programs when enrolling in these programs - David Powell (416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca).

Specialist program:

(11 full courses or their equivalent including at least one 400-level course)

First Year:

Successful enrolment in the Specialist requires prior enrolment in the Environmental Policy and Practice Major or Minor and completion of at least 10 full-course equivalents, with a minimum mark of 70% in JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1. The CGPA and other relevant factors will also be a consideration.

Higher Years:

1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 223H1, 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1, 423H1
2. Statistics: 0.5 full-course equivalent statistics course or its equivalent in a course with significant statistics content (approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor)
3. Applied Professional Experience: ENV 340H1, 440Y1 and ENV410H1, 420Y1/(443H1, 444H1)/one full-course equivalent of equivalent applied research course(s) approved by the Undergraduate Coordinator.
4. ENV Electives: 2 full-course equivalents from Group A below
5. Electives: 1 full-course equivalent from among Groups A, B, C and D below approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

First Year:

Students must complete at least four full courses or their equivalent before applying to the Major, and have a minimum CGPA of 2.3, although exceptions may be made based on excellent performance in a relevant course(s), improved performance in the most recent academic year, or job and/or volunteer experience. Enrolment in this Type 2 program is limited.

Higher Years:

1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1; ENV 223H1, 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1, 423H1
2. Applied Professional Experience: ENV 340H1, 440Y1 or ENV410H1, 420Y1/(443H1, 444H1)/ one full-course equivalent of equivalent applied research course(s) approved by the Program Director
3. ENV Electives: 1 full-course equivalent from among Groups A and B below, of which at least 0.5 full-course equivalent must come from Group A

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent including at least one 300+ series course)

Centre for Environment

---

First Year:

Students must complete at least four full courses or their equivalent before applying to the Minor, and have a minimum CGPA of 2.0, although exceptions may be made based on excellent performance in a relevant course(s), improved performance in the most recent academic year, or job and/or volunteer experience. Enrolment in this Type 3 program is limited.

Higher Years:

1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1/423H1
2. ENV Electives: 0.5 full-course equivalent from Group A or B below

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Group A (Environmental Policy and Practice):

ENV 350H1, 422H1, 423H1, 424H1, 441H1, 445H1, 446H1, 447H1; JIE 307Y1

Group B (Environmental Policy and Practice):

ENV 223H1, 234Y1, 235Y1, 236Y1, 315H1, 332H1, 333H1, 335H1, 340H1, 395Y1, 420Y1, 440Y1, 442H1, 443H1, 444H1, 481H1, 482H1, 483Y1, 491Y1, 492H1, 493H1; GGR338H1; IDSBO2H1 (University of Toronto Scarborough)

Group C (Social Science and Humanities - Environmental Policy and Practice):

ABS 250H1, 402H1; ANT 353H1, 364Y1, 450H1; APS 203H1, 302H1 (App. Sci. & Eng.); ECO 313H1, 314H1; FOR 302H1, 303H1, 400Y1, 401H1; GGR 233Y1, 272H1, 273H1, 314H1, 330H1, 331H1, 332H1, 334H1, 335H1, 393H1, 415H1, 418H1, 435H1, 473H1; HIS 318Y1, 404H1; HPS 307H1, 313H1, 324H1, 328H1; JAG321H1; UNI 460Y1; PHL 273H1, 373H1; POL 346H1, 347Y1, 413H1; RLG 228H1, 311H1, 345H1, 484H1; SOC385H1; UNI260Y1, 360Y1; other approved courses*

Group D (Life & Physical Science - Environmental Policy and Practice):

EEB/BIO 301H, 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 306H1, 307H1, 308H1, 319H1, 321H1, 328H1, 365H1, 428H1, 440H1, 465H1, 468H1, 469H1, 471H1, 495Y1, 496Y1; CHM 310H1, 409Y1, 410H1, 415H1; FOR 200H1, 201H1, 300H1, 301H1, 400Y1, 401H1, 412H1, 413H1, 416H1; GGR 303H1, 305H1, 307H1, 310H1, 333H1, 373H1, 403H1, 409H1, 413H1, 462H1; GLG 351H1, 436H1, 450H1; JFG 470H1, 475H1; JGE 347H1, 348H1; PCL 362H1, 473Y1, 474Y1, 481H1; PSY335H1; EEB/ZOO 265Y1, 304H1, 309Y1, 373H1, 375H1; other approved courses*

*NOTE:

Some courses offered by other Faculties or at the University of Toronto Mississauga or Scarborough may be eligible for inclusion in Groups C and D above.

Interfaculty Combination: Environmental Policy and Practice (Specialist, Major) and International Development Studies (Major) (Arts program)

Consult the Undergraduate Student Advisor, David Powell (416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca).

This is a limited enrolment combination. Students already enrolled in the Environmental Policy and Practice Specialist or Major may ballot for the International Development Studies (IDS) Major. Note: St. George students cannot enroll in the IDS major without first enrolling in the Environmental Policy and Practice Major or Specialist; nor can they get academic credit for the IDS major without successfully completing the Environmental Policy and Practice Major or Specialist.

Students enrolled in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the St. George Campus who wish to complete the interfaculty combination, must concurrently complete all requirements for the Environmental Policy and Practice Specialist or Major program outlined above. In addition, they must fulfill the requirements of the International Development Studies Major program or its equivalent as outlined below (for details, consult the University of Toronto Scarborough Calendar for 2008-09 (http://www.uts.utoronto.ca/courses/calendar/Alphabetic\_Index.html) or the IDS Undergraduate Assistant, Janet Roopnarinesingh, at 416-208-2683 or janetr@uts.utoronto.ca).

International Development Studies (H.B.A./H.B.SC.)

Major Program

Students must complete eight full-credits for the Major Program in International Development Studies. In choosing courses, students must pay careful attention to the prerequisites for higher level courses.

1. Introduction to social sciences (1 full credit from among the following)
  - ANTA02H Introduction to Anthropology: Culture, Society and Language or ANTI00Y1
  - [ECMA01H Introduction to Microeconomics or ECMA04H Introduction to Microeconomics: A Mathematical Approach]
  - [ECMA05H Introduction to Macroeconomics or ECMA06H Introduction to Macroeconomics: A Mathematical Approach]
  - ECO100Y1/ECO105Y1
  - GGRA02H The Geography of Global Processes or GGR107H1
  - Any one A-level courses in Political Science, including POL 103Y1, 105Y1, 108Y1
  - SOCA01H Introduction to Sociology I
  - SOCA02H Introduction to Sociology II
  - SOC101Y1
2. Introduction to Development Studies (2.0 full credits from among the following)
  - DTSB01H Introduction to Diaspora and Transnational Studies I
  - DTSB02H Introduction to Diaspora and Transnational Studies II
  - DTS200Y1
  - GGRB20H Environmental Conservation and Sustainable Development
  - IDSB01H International Development Studies: Political Economy
  - IDSB02H International Development Studies: Development and Environment
  - POLB90H Comparative Development in International Perspective
  - POLB91H Comparative Development in Political Perspective
3. Introduction to Environmental Science (0.5 full credits)

EESA01H Introduction to Environmental Science or ENV 200Y1

4. Students must take 4.5 full course equivalents,* with at least one full credit, from two of the following groups (see courses listed under each of these groups in the Scarborough 2008-09 Calendar):
- Social/Cultural Perspectives
  - Policy Perspectives
  - Environmental Perspectives

* Students may substitute equivalent courses given in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George Campus, but must get permission of the IDS Supervisor of Studies. Contact Undergraduate Assistant, Janet Roopnarinesingh, at 416-208-2683 or janetr@utsc.utoronto.ca

Collaborative Programs

The Centre offers a number of programs in collaboration with participating departments.

Earth Systems: Physics & Environment (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the Department of Physics, this program focuses on the solid earth, the oceans and the atmosphere at planetary scales emphasizing the Earth as a unified, dynamic system. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Dr. D. Bailey, Department of Physics, Room 328, McLellan Physical Labs, 416-978-6674.

Specialist program:

(16 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirements ; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list before enrolling in the program. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1; BIO 150Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI) (140Y/(151HI, 152HI) recommended)

Second Year:
JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1, 244HI; PHY 251HI, 255HI (Note that MAT 237Y1 and 244HI have MAT 223HI or 240HI as a prerequisite)

Third Year:
APM 346HI; ENV 234Y1, 235Y1, 321Y1; PHY 351HI, 352HI

Third and Fourth Years:

- ENV 410HI/JIE 410HI, ENV 421HI
- Three FCE from: PHY 305HI/307HI/308HI/315HI/326HI/346HI/359HI/407HI/408HI/426HI/478HI/479Y1/493HI/494HI/JGP438HI or any other PHY4XXH course. At least one FCE must be from the fourth year Physics options

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)

Consult Professor J. Abbatt, Department of Chemistry (416-946-7358 or jabbatt@chem.utoronto.ca)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Chemistry, these programs focus on the development of a fundamental background in chemistry as applied to understanding the chemical impacts of humankind's activities on the soil, air, and water. Emphasis is given to developing analytical skills and mechanistic understanding of the subject.

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Chemistry, this program focuses on analytical theory, instrumentation and methodological aspects of organic and inorganic contaminants in soil, water, air and biological tissues.

Enrolment in this program is limited. It requires prior completion of 4 courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Three courses must be from the First Year list. Apply through the Centre for Environment by: 1st Round: TBA; 2nd Round: TBA at: www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate

First Year: BIO 150Y1; (CHM 151Y1 strongly recommended)/(138HI, 139HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)

Second Year: CHM 217HI, 225Y1/(220HI, 221HI), 238Y1, 247HI/249HI (CHM249HI strongly recommended); ENV 235Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

- CHM 310HI, 410HI, 415HI; ENV 234Y1, ENV321Y1/(JGE 221Y1/JIE222Y1)
- One additional FCE from 300/400-series CHM courses
- (ENV 410HI, 421HI)/499Y1

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

Environmental chemistry is the study of the chemical impacts of humankind's activities on the soil, air, and water. This minor provides a balanced fundamental background in chemistry as well as an introduction to the major issues associated with environmental chemistry. It is a Type 1 program.

- CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1
- One full course equivalent from CHM 217HI, (220HI, 221HI)/225Y1, 238Y1, 247HI/249HI
- ENV235Y
- Any two of CHM 310HI, 317HI, 410HI, 415HI

Environmental Geosciences ( Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Geology. Topics include earth materials, sedimentary geology, aqueous geochemistry, hydrogeology and biogeochemistry. For more information, please contact David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Professor J. Mungall, Department of Geology, mungall@geology.utoronto.ca Students should note that under the Professional Geoscientists Act of 2000, individuals practising Environmental Geoscience in Ontario require education equivalent to the Specialist Program listed below or a PEng.

Specialist program:

(16 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirement ; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list before enrolling in the program. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

Students must complete BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1/139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131H1,132H1)/(151H1,152H1)

Second Year:

GLG 202H1, 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, (ENV 234Y1/GLG217H1, EEB214H1); MAT 235Y1/(MAT 223H1, GLG 204H1), STA220H1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. GLG 345H, 351H1, 360H1, 436H1, 448H1, 450H1; JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 235Y1, 315H1, 321Y1
2. ENV 410H1/JIE401H1; ENV 421H1/GLG471H1

Note: GLG 340H1 is recommended but not required for this specialist program.

Major program:

(8.5 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least two full-course equivalents at the 300+-level)

CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131H1,132H1)/(151H1,152H1)

Second Year:

Third and Fourth Years:

ENV 315H1; GLG 351H1, 436H1, 448H1

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. ENV 235Y1
2. GLG 202H1, 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, 351H1; ENV 315H1

Environment and Behaviour (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Psychology, this program will focus on understanding issues of psychological motivation and attitudes that underlie environmental decision making. Little positive environmental change can occur in the absence of broad-based behaviour changes.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full course equivalent at the 300+-level.

Enrolment in the Minor program is limited to students also enrolled in the Psychology Minor/Major/Specialist.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1; PSY220H1, PSY335H1
2. One FCE from ENV 332H1, 333H1, 335H1, 424H1; SOC 385H1
3. One FCE from PSY 320H1, 321H1, 327H1, 336H1

Environment and Energy (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Geography, this interdisciplinary program addresses the scientific, technological, environmental and policy aspects of energy use and supply, with a focus on the reduction of environmental impacts.

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 1.7. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list before enrolling in the program. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

Minor Program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1
2. ENV346H1, 350H1, 450H1
3. JGE347H1, 348H1
4. 0.5 FCE from one of the following: CHM310H1/CHM415H1/ENV235Y1/GGR203H1/GGR314H1/GGR303H1/GGR330H1/GGR403H1/HPS313H1/PHY238Y1/PHY251H1/PHY315H1

Environment & Health (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by New College, the Human Biology Program, and the Basic Medical Science Departments of the Faculty of Medicine. Provides a basic understanding of the behaviour of Planet Earth, the workings of the human body, and the complex relationships between the two. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Office of the Registrar, New College, 300 Huron Street, 416-978-2460.

Specialist program:

(14.5 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirements; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses, including three from the First Year list below before enrolling in the program. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures>.

First Year:

Students must complete BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y and one of GGR 100Y1/(100H1,101H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/(131H1,132H1)/(151H1,152H1) (PHY 138Y1/(131H1,132H1) recommended); PSY100H1.

*Students are encouraged to select an FCE from ANT/ECO/GGR/HIS/SOC to maximize elective course choice in later years.

Second Year*:

(BCH 210HI, CHM 247HI); BIO 250Y1/255Y1/CSB (240HI, 241HI); JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1; ENV 234Y1/(235Y1/236Y1)**; PHL 273HI; BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

Third Year*:

CSB/BIO 349HI/JLM 349HI/LMB 363HI/NFS 284HI/PSL 302Y1; ENV 321Y1, 341HI; the other of ENV 234Y1/(235Y1/236Y1)**; (STA 220HI, 221HI/EEB225HI)

Fourth Year:

1. ENV 410HI/JIE410HI
2. ENV 421HI or a minimum of 0.5 FCE from any approved departmental or college independent research project
3. JEH455HI

Elective:

One FCE, approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre, including at least one 300-series course from ANA/ANT/BCH/(CSB/BIO)/(EEB/BIO)/(CSB/BOT)/(EEB/BOT)/CHM/HMB/IMM/JBI/JZM/LMP/MBY/NFS/PCL/(CSB/ZOO)/(EEB/ZOO)/ECO 369Y1/(GGR 333HI, 409HI, 450HI, 451HI)/(HIS 460HI, 463HI)/NEW 367HI/(SOC 242Y1/(243HI, 244HI)/255Y1/(256HI, 257HI)/309Y1/312Y1/363HI) or any other approved course for which the student has appropriate prerequisites. The two FCE should reflect the particular academic interests of each student.

Notes:

1. * Some second and third year courses in this program have specific prerequisites. Students should check prerequisites for the higher level courses they are interested in prior to making first year course selections
2. ** In choosing between ENV 235Y1 and ENV 236Y1, students should pay particular attention to their respective prerequisites

Past Environments (Science program)

A multi-disciplinary program focused on the changing nature of the relationship between the environment and humans over the past 2 million years. Co-sponsored by the Centre, the Department of Anthropology, and the Program in Archaeology. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Undergraduate Program Administrator/Student Counsellor, Department of Anthropology, Room 1030, Sidney Smith Hall, 416-978-6414.

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirements; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to <http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/> ApplicationProcedures.

First Year:

ANT 100Y1; BIO 150Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; GGR 100Y1/(100HI,101HI)

Second Year:

1. ANT 200Y1; JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1
2. One FCE from: GGR 201HI/203HI/205HI/206HI
3. One FCE from: ENV 234Y1/236Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. ANT 203Y1, 311Y1/(ARH361HI and 0.5 FCE 400-level course from Group A of Archaeology Calendar entry on page 64); ARH 305HI; ENV 321Y1
2. The other of ENV 234Y1/236Y1; GGR 302HI/GLG 436HI
3. One FCE from: ANT 409HI/410HI/434HI/436HI/471HI;
4. ENV 410HI/JIE410HI, ENV 421HI/ANT 415Y1/497Y1/498HI/499HI

Environment & Toxicology (Science program)

Toxicology is the study of the harmful effects of chemicals. The Environment and Toxicology program examines the adverse effects of chemicals at the ecological level. This program prepares students for advanced graduate study and research in environmental toxicology, and for consultative positions in governmental agencies and industry. Students interested in biomedical toxicology (the adverse effects of chemicals on human health) should consider enrolling in the Specialist Program in Toxicology offered by the Department of Pharmacology. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 1049A, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Dr. C. Woodland, Department of Pharmacology, Medical Sciences Building, 416-946-3102

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirements; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a Type 2 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list before enrolling in the program. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures.

(Program enrolment in 2005 and after)

First Year:

Students must complete BIO 150Y1; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1 and at least two of GGR 100Y1/(100HI,101HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/(131HI,132HI)/(151HI,152HI) (PHY 138Y1/(131HI,132HI) recommended). In selecting courses, students should consider prerequisites for courses they intend to take later.

Second Year:

1. BCH 210HI/BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1/255Y1/CSB (240HI, 241HI); JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1; CSB/ZOO 252Y1/PSL 201Y1/PSL 302Y1; PCL 201HI
2. CHM 217HI/220HI, CHM 247HI/249HI

Third and Fourth Years:

1. ENV 234Y1/235Y1/236Y1, 321Y1
2. PCL 302HI, 362HI; PCL 376HI/STA 220HI/STA 221HI/EEB225HI (see NOTE 1, below)
3. CHM 310HI/GGR 409HI/PCL 470Y1/481HI/LMP 301HI/363HI (see NOTE 2, below)
4. PCL 473Y1

Centre for Environment

---

5. (ENV 410HI/JIE410HI, ENV 421HI)/PCL 474Y1 (see NOTE 3, below)

(Program enrolment in 2004 and earlier)

Students must complete BIO 150Y1 and at least three of CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1; GGR 100Y1/(100HI, 101HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI) (PHY 138Y1/(131HI, 132HI) recommended). In selecting 100-series courses, students should consider prerequisites for courses they intend to take later, i.e., ENV 235Y1/236Y1.

Second Year:

1. BIO 250Y1/255Y1/CSB (240HI, 241HI); ENV 221Y1/JIE 222Y1; CSB/ZOO 252Y1/PSL 201Y1/PSL 302Y1
2. CHM 220HI, PCL 376HI/STA 220HI/ STA 221HI/EEB225HI (see NOTE 1, below)

Third and Fourth Years:

1. (BCH 310HI, JLM 349HI/CSB/BIO349HI)/BCH 242Y1/(BCH 210HI, PCL 201HI); ENV 321Y1
2. PCL 302HI, 362HI; and one of ENV 234Y1/(235Y1/236Y1)
3. CHM 310HI/GGR 409HI/PCL 470Y1/481HI/LMP(301HI/363HI) (See NOTE 2, below)
4. PCL 473Y1
5. The other of ENV 234Y1/(235Y1/236Y1), (ENV 410HI/JIE410HI, ENV 421HI)/PCL 474Y1 (See NOTE 3, below)

Notes:

1. PCL 376HI is a pre- or co-requisite for students intending to take PCL 474Y1. Students taking PCL 474Y1 must also take PCL 201H and PCL 302Y1 as prerequisites.
2. Students taking PCL481HI must take BCH 210HI, LMP 363HI, and PCL 362HI as prerequisites.
3. Students intending to take PCL 474Y1 instead of (ENV 410HI/JIE410HI, ENV 421HI) must obtain permission from the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre for Environment 3 months prior to the intended date of enrolment in PCL 474Y1. Students must also consult with the Department of Pharmacology at least 3 months prior to the intended date of enrolment as the student is responsible for arranging for a supervisor.

Environmental Ethics (Arts program)

---

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Philosophy, this program explores how value judgments and worldviews affect environmental decision making. For more information, contact David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Earth Science Centre, Rm. 1049A (416-946-8100, or david.powell@utoronto.ca).

Major program:

(6.0-6.5 full courses or their equivalent)

This Type 2 program requires a minimum CGPA of 2.0.

1. JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1; PHL 273HI; ENV 321Y1
2. One FCE from PHL 373HI, ENV 332HI, 333HI
3. ENV 491Y1/(492HI, 493HI)/ (410HI, 421HI)
4. 1.5 FCE's from Group A below.

Group A:

ABS 402HI; ANT 450HI; ECO 105Y1; ENV 335HI; 424HI, 442HI, 447HI; FOR 302HI; GGR 331HI; HIS318Y1; HPS 202HI, 307HI; JAG 321HI; PHL 275HI, 295HI, 375HI, 394HI, 395HI, 413HI; PSY 335HI; RLG 228HI, 311HI, 345HI, 484HI

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. PHL273HI
2. One of PHL 373HI, ENV 332HI, 333HI
3. JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1
4. Two additional FCE's in PHL, with at least one half course at the 300+ level. It is recommended that one course be in the History of Philosophy and the other in the Problems of Philosophy, including one half-course in ethics.

Directed Environmental Minors

Environmental Anthropology (Arts program)

---

A program focused on understanding the diverse nature of interactions between humans and their environments, both in the past and in modern global society. Consult the Undergraduate Office, Department of Anthropology (416-978-6414), Sidney Smith Hall, Rm. 1030

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. ANT 100Y1/JGE 221Y1/JIE 222Y1
2. ANT 200Y1/204Y1
3. Two FCE's from: ABS 250HI/402HI; ANT 315HI/333Y1/349HI/364Y1/365Y1/420HI/ 429Y1/450HI/453HI/471HI

Environmental Biology (Science program)

---

Consult the Undergraduate Office in the Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. BIO 150Y1; ENV 234Y1
2. Two FCE's from: EEB/BIO 319HI, 321HI, 323HI, 324HI, 328HI, 362HI, 365HI, 370HI; EEB/ZOO 322HI (a course in ecology and a course in evolution are recommended)

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)

---

See Environmental Chemistry Minor under Collaborative Programs above.

Environmental Economics (Arts program)

---

Consult Ms. R. Innes, Undergraduate Administrator, Department of Economics (416-978-8616)

Enrolment in the Environmental Economics Minor program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y1 or 80% in ECO 105Y1, who have completed MAT 133Y1/135Y1/137Y1, and who have a CGPA of 2.0.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. ECO 100Y1/105Y1
2. MAT 133Y1/135Y1/137Y1
3. ECO 200Y1/206Y1
4. One full ECO course at the 300+ level, including at least one of ECO 313HI and/or ECO 314HI

Note:

Students enrolled in this Minor program cannot be enrolled in the Minor program in Economics or the Minor program in Economic History.

Environmental Geosciences (Science program)

See Environmental Geosciences Minor under Collaborative Programs above

Geographic Information Systems (Arts program)

GIS is the analysis and management of spatial data. It focuses on the mapping, modeling, and monitoring of the earth's surface, its resources, and its natural and socio-economic processes. Consult Susan Calanza, Department of Geography (416-978-6455)

Note:

Students combining this program with a Specialist/Major sponsored by the Department of Geography will normally be allowed to count only 1.5 (of the 4.0) credits towards both programs.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. 1.0 courses from GGR 100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI or 1.0 other courses with permission of Geography department
2. GGR 270HI, 272HI, 273HI, 373HI
3. One half course from GGR 462HI, 473HI
4. One of GGR 337HI, 371HI, 413HI, 462HI, 473HI; JFG 470HI, 475HI

Life, Environment and General Physics (Science program)

Basic understanding of physics for students focusing their academic studies in Life Sciences and/or the Environment. Consult Physics Undergraduate Office, Room MP301 (416-978-7057/416-978-6674)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131HI,132HI)/(151HI,152HI)
2. ENV 235Y1/ PHY 238Y1 or any other 1 full course equivalent from PHY courses at the 200+ level
3. One full course or equivalent from: CSB/BIO472HI/JPA 305HI/310HI/JGP 438HI/PHY 315HI/346HI/445HI or any other PHY300+ course. JBO302Y may count as 0.5 FCE towards this requirement.

Physical and Environmental Geography (Science program)

Consult Susan Calanza, Department of Geography (416-978-6455)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

1. 1.0 courses from GGR 100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI (GGR 100HI, 101HI strongly recommended) or 1.0 other courses with permission of the Geography department
2. One full course or equivalent from: GGR 201HI/203HI/205HI/206HI
3. GGR 390HI, (301HI/302HI/305HI), (272HI/307HI/310HI/312HI)
4. A half-course from Group C in the Geography listings of the Calendar

Environment Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

To find ENV course categories for Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), see entry at end of each course.

NOTE: Many ENV courses are limited in enrolment and require specific prerequisites. Preference is given to students meeting the ROSI deadlines.

ENV200Y1 Assessing Global Change: Science and the Environment [52L, 12T]

The perspective scientists bring to the understanding and resolution of environmental concerns having global implications: atmospheric systems and climate change, the biosphere and conservation of biodiversity.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1 (applies only to students in Arts & Science)

This Science course is intended to fulfill the environmental literacy requirement for students in the BA programs of the Centre for Environment or the science distribution course requirement for Commerce, Humanities and Social Science students.

JGE221Y1 Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Environment [52L, 5P, 10T]

The foundation for students in the Centre for Environment programs and the Environment and Resource Management Program in Geography, this course examines the social, ethical and biophysical dimensions of one or more selected environmental issues such as air pollution and climate change, why these issues need to be addressed, and some approaches for doing so. Draws from relevant interdisciplinary domains in an examination of environmental degradation, the responses of various actors and models for a more sustainable future. The environmental issues discussed vary from year to year.

Recommended Preparation: GGR 100Y1/(100HI,101HI)/107Y1/(107HI,124HI)

This is a Social Science course.

ENV223HI Fundamental Environmental Skills (formerly INI223HI) [26L, 13T]

The practical, interdisciplinary and controversial nature of environmental issues, as well as the uncertainty that surrounds measures to address them demand mastery of a particular range of skills by environmental students. This course teaches the fundamental research, analysis and presentation skills required for effective environmental work.

Co-requisite: JGE221Y1 and enrolment in a Centre Major program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Exclusion: INI 223HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV234Y1 Environmental Biology [52L, 39P]

A broad-based science course drawing on elements from geology, systematics, soil science, and ecology to understand past and present environments and how humans are altering the environment. Emphasis is placed on examination of ecological phenomena in relation to population, community and ecosystem processes with particular reference to the biomes of Ontario. Descriptive and experimental laboratory studies including a weekend field trip (total cost about $15.00). (Provided by the Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, Department of Geology, and the Faculty of Forestry).

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 (recommended) or GGR100Y1

ENV235Y1 Physics and Chemistry of the Evolving Earth [52L, 26T]

This course considers the fundamental chemical and physical processes of the Earth's natural environment. One semester of the course focuses primarily on the atmosphere: its evolution, structure, composition and dynamic character. Particular emphasis is given to a discussion of global climate and the underlying physical, chemical and biogeochemical factors that drive climate change. Within this context, stratospheric ozone depletion, ocean chemistry, urban air pollution, acid rain and water quality are also discussed. The other semester focuses on the solid Earth: its formulation and evolution, internal dynamics, mantle-core differentiation, volcanism, tectonics and paleoclimate/ice ages. Throughout the course, the operation of the Earth as a coupled physico-chemical system over a range of timescales is emphasized. Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1/157Y1, MAT135Y1/137Y1/JMB170Y1, PHY138Y1/140Y1/(131H1,132H1) or permission of the department

This is a Science course.

ENV236Y1 Human Interactions with the Environment [52L]

A course emphasizing both the role of the environment in shaping human behaviour, and the impact of humans on the environment. Coverage includes human biological and cultural evolution, environmental and climatic obstacles over come by early civilizations, and human impacts on marine and terrestrial ecosystem processes. Topics may vary from year-to-year depending upon instructor interests and research specialty. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1/GGR100Y1 or permission of instructor

ENV299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

JIE307Y1 Urban Sustainability (formerly INI307Y1) [52L, 26P]

This course critically examines the concept of urban sustainability in theory and application. Case studies of ongoing urban sustainability programs in the developed and developing world help students assess the successes and failures of these programs. The course also examines the current state of research and implementation efforts toward urban sustainability.

Prerequisite: One of the following: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program OR INI235Y1 OR permission of the instructor (particularly for students who have completed JGE221Y1/GGR233Y1/POL209Y1/SOC 205Y1/260Y1)

Exclusion: INI 307Y1

This is a Social Science course.

ENV315H1 Chemical Analysis of Environmental Samples [26L, 39P]

Instrumental analysis techniques for environmental scientists of all disciplines. In addition to a solid grounding in the theory of each analytical technique, particular emphasis is placed on the laboratory work, which is worth 50% of the final grade. In each lab, groups of two students receive instruction from an experienced analyst and acquire hands-on experience using state-of-the-art analytical equipment. Where possible, samples supplied by the students are analyzed. Techniques covered include Neutron Activation, X-ray Fluorescence, X-ray Diffraction, Scanning Electron Microscopy, Gas Chromatography, Ion Chromatography, Atomic Absorption, Inductively Coupled Plasma Optical Emission Spectrometry and Inductively Coupled Plasma Mass Spectrometry. Exclusion: CHM217H1, 314Y1; GLG335H1

Prerequisite: SCH4U and any second year ENV or GLG courses
This is a Science course.

ENV320Y1 National and International Environmental Policy Making (formerly INI 320Y1) [52L, 26T]

Examination of federal-provincial negotiation of Canadian contributions to international environmental agreements such as the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Exclusion: INI 320Y1

This is a Social Science course

ENV321Y1 Approaches to Environmental Issues (formerly ENV221Y1) [52L, 24T]

Diverse approaches to environmental issues from a variety of perspectives are introduced, compared and analyzed, using topical case studies. Perspectives explored in previous years include aboriginal, scientific and psychological.

Exclusion: ENV221Y1

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1

This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV332H1 Culture and Nature (formerly INI332H1) [26S]

Critical analysis of western attitudes and values respecting nature, as found in various art and popular culture genres; significance for action on the ecological crisis.

Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3

Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1

Exclusion: INI332H1

This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV333H1 Ecological Worldviews (formerly INI333H1) [26S]

Approaches to environmental concerns are often marked by assumptions that reflect distinct worldviews positing particular understandings of the role of the human with respect to nature. This course explores sundry economic, political, scientific, religious, and moral worldviews pertaining to the environment, including environmental ethics, Gaia, ecofeminism, scientific cosmology, and aboriginal perspectives.

Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3

Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1

Exclusion: INI 333H1

This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV335H1 Environmental Design (formerly INI335H1) [39S]

Introduction to understanding the complexity of relationships among people, built forms, and natural systems; systematic review of examples of environmental design at various scales.

Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3

Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1

Exclusion: INI 335H1

This is a Social Science course.

ENV336H1 Ecology in Human-Dominated Environments

A two week course offered at a Southern Ontario field station during late summer. Introduction to im-pacts of humans on semi-natural and human-dominated environments of southern Ontario and over-view of the most commonly used assessment tools for states of ecosystems. These environments play important roles in terms of ecosystem services.

Prerequisite: first year biology and permission of the instructor
This is a Science course.

ENV340HI Informed Environmental Practice (formerly INI340HI) [26S, 13T]

This course will prepare students for challenging careers in the environmental field. Students will develop professional and research skills that will assist in the development of a challenging and meaningful career. Emerging social, economic, environmental, and ethical issues in the workplace will be explored.

Prerequisite: Eight full courses or their equivalent and enrolment in an environmental program at the University of Toronto
Exclusion: INI 340HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV341HI Environment and Human Health (formerly INI341HI) [26L, 13T]

Examination of the linkages between human health and environment. Addresses basic principles and scientific knowledge relating to health and the environment and uses case studies to examine current environmental health issues from a health sciences perspective.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program; or BIO 250Y1/BIO 255Y/CSB (240HI, 241HI) and enrolment in a Human Biology program; or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 320Y1, if taken before the 2003-04 academic year; INI 341HI

This is classified as BOTH a Social Science and Science course.

ENV 346HI Terrestrial Energy Systems [36L, 24T]

Various earth systems for energy transformation, storage and transport are explored. Geological, hydrological, biological, cosmological and oceanographic energy systems are considered in the context of the Earth as a dynamic system, including the variation of solar energy received by the planet and the redistribution of this energy through various radiative, latent and sensible heat transfer mechanisms. It considers the energy redistribution role of large-scale atmospheric systems, of warm and cold ocean currents, the role of the polar regions, and the functioning of various hydrological systems. The contribution and influence of tectonic systems on the surface systems is briefly introduced, as well the important role of energy storage processes in physical and biological systems, including the accumulation of fossil fuel reserves.

Recommended Preparation: GGR203HI

This is a Science course.

JGE347HI Efficient Use of Energy [26L, 6T]

The course examines the options available for dramatically reducing our use of primary energy with no reduction in meaningful energy services, through more efficient use of energy at the scale of energy-using devices and of entire energy systems. Topics covered include generation of electricity from fossil fuels and energy use in buildings, transportation, industry and agriculture.

Exclusion: GGR333HI

Recommended Preparation: First year Math and/or Physics

This is a Science course.

JGE 348HI Carbon-Free Energy [25L, 6T]

The course examines the options available for providing energy from carbon-free energy sources: solar, wind, biomass, hydro, oceanic, geothermal energy, as well as through sequestration of carbon from fossil fuel sources. The hydrogen economy is also discussed.

Exclusion: GGR333HI

Recommended Preparation: First year Math and/or Physics

This is a Science course.

ENV350HI Energy Policy and Environment [26L]

The course addresses: (1) physical, technological and economic aspects of energy and electricity systems and their associated environmental impacts; (2) current international, Canadian and Ontario energy policy; (3) technological, economic and political factors influencing policy which could significantly reduce environmental impacts of energy use.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, or permission of undergraduate student advisor

This is a Social Science course.

ENV395YI Special Topics Field Course [52S]

This course explores interdisciplinary environmental issues in the field. Project work involves students in investigating, developing and proposing sustainable practices and approaches to topical local problems. Suitable for all CFE programs.

Recommended preparation: ENV200Y1 or BIO150Y1

This is a Science or Social Science course

ENV398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

ENV399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

ENV410HI Environmental Research Skills (formerly JIE410HI) [26L]

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the perspectives and methods used for quantitative and qualitative research on humans, done for both academic and professional purposes. The focus is on qualitative research on current environmental issues.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in an environmental program and completion of at least 10 full courses

Co-requisite: ENV420Y1/421HI/444HI/a recognized alternative

Exclusion: JIE410HI

This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV420YI Environmental Research (formerly INI420Y) [TBA]

Advanced environmental research on environmental topics of current relevance, involving information sources and resources outside the University. Students work in teams to investigate and report on a specific environmental issue for an off-campus environmental agency.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1; ENV 320Y1/321Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of instructor

Co-requisite: ENV410HI if taken as a program requirement

Exclusion: INI 420Y1

This is a Social Science course.

ENV421HI Environmental Research [26S]

A research course for all students in the Centre combining report writing, independent and group-based research on an interdisciplinary topic. Application of skills learned in ENV410HI.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 320Y1/321Y1 or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor

Centre for Environment

---

Corequisite: ENV410HI

This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV422HI Environmental Law (formerly INI422HI) [26S]

An introduction to environmental law for students in Environmental Studies; legal methods available to resolve environmental problems and the scope and limits of those methods; common law and statutory “tools” as well as environmental assessment legislation; the problem of “standing to sue” and the limits of litigation.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
This is a Social Science course.

ENV423HI Public Policy and Environment (formerly INI421HI) [26S]

Introduces students to public policy and institutional foundations of public policy in Canada, with an emphasis on environmental policy in Ontario. Provides an “insider’s” perspective on how environmental policy has been developed in Ontario.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 421HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV424HI Environment and Community Engagement [26L]

This course integrates theoretical and practical perspectives on patterns of community engagement in environmental change. Students will address theoretical perspectives on environmentalism as a social movement, and learn about key aspects of planning and implementing environmental change from veteran environmental advocates.

Prerequisite: ENV222Y1/JIE 222Y1, or permission of undergraduate student advisor

This is a social science course.

ENV440YI Professional Experience Course (formerly INI440YI)

Regular academic seminars complement off-campus work on an environmental project. The course enables students to gain practical experience of the needs and demands of professional environmental agencies. Students are given a choice of placements in a variety of sectors (such as government, NGOs, industry).

Prerequisite: ENV340HI; 10 full courses or their equivalent, including three environmental courses in the student’s environmental program completed before ENV440YI taken; permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 440YI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV441HI Politics of the Environment (formerly INI494HI) [26S]

Provides students with increased understanding of (1) the political conflicts which surround the development and implementation of environmental policy in Canada; and (2) the ways environmentalism is transforming Canadian and global politics. Examination is made, through secondary readings and case studies, of the values, perspectives, and strategies of the various actors, and the context of ideas and institutions within which they operate.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 494HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV442HI Corporate Perspectives on the Environment (formerly INI442HI) [39S]

How business in Canada and elsewhere is responding to the post-war emergence and evolution of the values of environmentalism. The corporate “perspective” includes: the external world of governments, markets, environmental pressure groups, investors, insurers, and lenders; and how the firm responds to these external pressures and manages its environmental issues.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 442HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV443HI Applied Environmental Research Course (formerly INI443HI)

ENV444HI Applied Environmental Research Course (formerly INI444HI)

Advanced applied environmental research on environmental topics of current relevance, involving information sources and resources outside the University. Students work in teams to investigate and report on research conducted for an off-campus environmental organization.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 320Y1/ENV321Y1 and completion of at least 10 FCE and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Exclusion: INI 443HI/444HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV445HI US Environmental Politics (formerly INI445HI) [26S]

Study of the factors which determine US federal environmental decisions which in turn both heavily influence international environmental politics and, in an integrated North American economy, comparable domestic decisions made in Ottawa.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 445HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV446HI Cities & Urban Environmentalism in a Global Context (formerly INI446HI) [26S]

Provides an opportunity for in-depth exploration of the implications for urban governance and environmental protection of three inter-connected phenomena: globalization of the political economy; restructuring of the state; emergence of the city as a global actor.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 446HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV447HI The Power of Economic Ideas (formerly INI447HI) [26S]

From Keynesianism to trading in greenhouse gas permits, the principles of economics have had far greater impact on policy than those of any other discipline; the course examines that power in the field of environmental policy, including the struggle of ecological economics with mainstream economics to introduce new ideas such as scale, place, and inherent value.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 447HI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV450HI Energy and Environment Solutions [26S, 13T]

This is an interdisciplinary course in which students address current energy problems while incorporating technical, environmental, economic, social, and political concerns.

Prerequisite: ENV346HI, 350HI; JGE347HI, 348HI

This is a Science course.

JEH455HI Current Issues in Environment and Health [26S]

This course introduces students to complex issues at the interface between environment and health where health is broadly defined. Each year a current and controversial case study is explored from scientific, medical, political and policy perspectives. The course takes students from the molecular to individual to population and societal levels.

Prerequisite: ENV341HI/HMB302HI and permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor

This is a Science course.

ENV481HI Special Topics in the Environment [26S]

ENV482HI Special Topics in the Environment [26S]

Special topics course designed for advanced Specialist and Major students in Centre for Environment programs.

Prerequisite: JGE221YI/JIE222YI and completion of at least 10 FCE and enrolment in a Centre Environmental program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor.

These are Social Science courses.

ENV483YI Special Topics in the Environment (formerly INI497YI) [52S]

Special topics course designed for advanced Specialist and Major students in Centre for Environment programs.

Prerequisite: JGE221YI/JIE222YI and completion of at least 10 FCE and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor

Exclusion: INI 497YI

This is a Social Science course.

ENV490YI Senior Essay

Open only to Specialists in the Environment and Science, and Environment and Society programs, who have completed 15 courses. A major scholarly essay demonstrating the student's ability to integrate the individual course elements from their theme.

Prerequisite: JGE221YI/JIE222YI and completion of 14 FCE and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program

Co-requisite: ENV421HI

ENV491YI Independent Studies Project (formerly INI491YI)

ENV492HI Independent Studies Project (formerly INI492HI)

ENV493HI Independent Studies Project (formerly INI493HI)

A research project or selected topic in an area of environment not otherwise available in the Faculty, meant to develop skills in independent study of interdisciplinary topics. A written proposal cosigned by the student and supervisor must be submitted for approval by the Undergraduate Coordinator of the Centre normally by 31 May of the previous academic year, or three months prior to commencing the course.

Prerequisite: A CGPA of 3.0, JGE221YI/JIE222YI, completion of at least 14 FCE, and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program

Exclusion: INI491YI/492HI/493HI

European Studies

The European Studies Program is designed to develop an interdisciplinary expertise on modern Europe. Students in the Program can acquire a working fluency in one of the following languages (in addition to English) of the European Union: Croatian, Czech, Estonian, Finnish, French, German, Hungarian, Italian, Macedonian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Serbian, Spanish, or Ukrainian. Language instruction emphasizes written and oral communication. To ensure that graduates in European Studies have the historical understanding and specialized knowledge, as well as linguistic competence, necessary to comprehend contemporary Europe, a balanced syllabus is presented: core courses on the political evolution of Europe and on the economics and politics of European integration are complemented by choices from courses offered by the twelve academic departments participating in the Program.

European Studies Program

This is a limited enrolment program open only to those who earn a mark of at least 70% in one of the required first-year language courses (for the major) or in a first-year history or political science course (for the minor) and who also successfully complete at least 4 full courses in first year. Visit the European Studies Program web site for updated information about requirements, course offerings, and events: www.utoronto.ca/esp.

European Studies (Arts program)

The Finno-Ugrians are a diverse group of peoples related by an ancient common linguistic heritage distinct from that of the Indo-Europeans who surround them. Of the approximately 25 million Finno-Ugrians, the best known are the Estonians and Finns on the Eastern Baltic Littoral and the Hungarians in the Carpathian Basin. But they also include the Sámis (Lapps) in the northern Fenno-Scandian and Kola Peninsulas, the Erzas, Moksas, Maris, Udmurts, and Komis of the northern woodland zone of European Russia and the Khantys and Mansis of Western Siberia. Distantly related to the Finno-Ugrians are the various Samoyed peoples of Siberia, the Nenets, Enets, Nganassans and Selkups.

Finno-Ugric Studies at the University of Toronto is devoted to the languages, literatures and cultures of the three main groups, the Estonians, Finns and Hungarians. These areas are of interest in themselves but also because of their role in shaping the histories and cultures of their respective geographic space. Because of their centuries-long association with the Slavic peoples, in particular the Russians, Finno-Ugric Studies can be of value to students of Slavic studies. The language courses offered by the three Finno-Ugric programs will be of interest to students of general linguistics who desire to acquire knowledge of a non-Indo-European language.

Undergraduate Coordinator:

Professor Leonid Livak, 121 St. Joseph Street, Room 407, leo.livak@utoronto.ca, 416-926-1300, ext. 3143.

Estonian Studies

Estonian is spoken by approximately one million people in present-day Estonia and some 72,000 in other parts of the world, including 18,000 in Canada. Closely related to Finnish and more distantly to Hungarian, Estonian is one of the few Finno-Ugric languages to exist surrounded by speakers of Indo-European languages.

An ancient people, the Estonians have preserved their language and culture despite centuries of domination by other nations. Not only is their heritage enormously rich in folk epics and songs, but Estonians enjoy a vigorous and diversified literary tradition which continues in Estonia proper and in their adoptive countries.

Estonian studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the language, literature, and culture of Estonia. The language courses will be of interest to those wishing to improve their language skills, as well as to students of general linguistics who desire to acquire a knowledge of a non-Indo-European language.

Finnish Studies

A nation of five million people, Finland is situated between West and East, between Sweden and Russia, sharing for thousands of years religious, historical, political, social, and cultural influences and experiences with its neighbours and the different worlds they represent.

Finnish, a Finno-Ugric language related to Estonian and Hungarian, is spoken by 94% of Finland's population, by 300,000 in Sweden, and by large numbers in Canada, the United States, and other countries. The other constitutionally recognized group, the Finland-Swedes, comprises over six percent of the population. The Finns have a strong commitment to their languages and to their culture. Their national epic, the Kalevala, compiled in the 19th century from old Finnish epic narrative poems and incantations, soon became a national symbol and continues to this day to inspire the growth and development of the country's creative force. Today the entire world responds to Finnish achievements in music, literature, the arts and architecture, and celebrates the work of such outstanding figures as Jean Sibelius, Aki Kaurismäki, Alvar Aalto, and Eiel and Eero Saarinen.

Finnish studies at the University of Toronto are presently engaged in teaching the Finnish language - a three-year sequence - and in offering other courses on the literature and culture of Finland.

Hungarian Studies

Hungarian is spoken by ten and a half million inhabitants of present-day Hungary, about three million people in the neighbouring countries, and perhaps as many as an additional two million around the world. These figures make Hungarian, which is related to Finnish, Estonian, and Lappish, but virtually no other language in Europe, by far the largest minority language in a vast sea of Indo-European speakers.

Preserving their national identity by keeping their unique language alive has been a major concern for Hungarians ever since they settled in the Carpathian Basin over a thousand years ago. Yet far from secluding themselves, they have actively engaged in European history and politics and thereby have shaped their country into a highly cultured and, at times, quite powerful and influential nation. Many Hungarians settled abroad and contributed to the civilizations of their adopted countries. Those who achieved fame in recent decades include Bartók, Moholy-Nagy, Ormandy, Szentgyörgyi, Szilárd, and Vasarely.

Hungarian studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the language, literature, and culture of Hungary and with the international role of the country, including the particular problem of Hungarian immigration to Canada.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative. Students may achieve this Citation in Finnish and Hungarian.

Language study is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience. Our students learn to communicate both orally and in writing in other languages and are thus able to experience other parts of the world in more intimate ways.

Their access to other cultures opens doors for further study and employment. Students in our department also have the opportunity to read a vast array of world-renowned authors in the original languages, as well as works – normally not available in English – in other areas of study, for example, cinema studies, drama, folklore, history, intellectual history, philosophy, mathematics, and political science.

The Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study. For course selection students should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator as early as possible since not every language course is offered each year. Students who begin language study at the Intermediate level should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator for approval of advanced literature and culture courses that may satisfy the requirements for the Language Citation.

The Language Citation in Finnish is available to students who complete FIN200Y1, FIN300HI, and FIN305HI with a grade of at least B-.

The Language Citation in Hungarian is available to students who complete HUN200Y1 and HUN310Y1 with a grade of at least B-.

Students should note that, as explained on the page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Estonian, Finnish and Hungarian Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all EST, FIN and HUN courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

Estonian Courses

Note

The Department reserves the right to assign students to courses appropriate to their level of competence in Estonian.

EST100Y1 Elementary Estonian I 30P

The basics of Estonian: elementary phonology, morphology, and syntax. Emphasis on reading and speaking as well as writing skills. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: Native Speakers

EST200Y1 Intermediate Estonian I 04P

Continued emphasis on basic language skills, on acquisition of both active and passive vocabulary. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: EST100Y or permission of instructor

EST210HI Introduction to Baltic Folklore 26L

A comparative survey of oral traditions of peoples on the eastern shore of the Baltic Sea (Finns, Carelians, Estonians, Livonians, Latvians) and their impact on these national cultures (e.g. Kalevala, Kalevipoeg, Lacplesis). No knowledge of Finnic or Baltic language required.

EST300Y1 Advanced Estonian 78P

Advanced grammar and stylistics through study of a variety of texts; problems of composition; translation; oral and written practice. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: EST200Y or permission of instructor

EST400YI Estonian Literature from 1700-26L, 26S

A survey of the major writers and literary periods in Estonian literature. From Käsü Hans', Lament of Tartu to the National Awakening, Republican, Soviet, expatriate literature, and the New Awakening. Readings in Estonian or English. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Recommended preparation: EST300Y

EST420YI Independent Study TBA

A reading and research project of significant depth in a major topic in Estonian language, literature or culture approved and supervised by an instructor.

Prerequisite: EST300Y/400Y; permission of instructor

EST421HI Independent Study TBA

A reading and research project of significant depth in a major topic in Estonian language, literature or culture approved and supervised by an instructor.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Finnish Courses

Note

The Department reserves the right to assign students to courses appropriate to their level of competence in Finnish.

FIN100YI Elementary Finnish I04P

An introductory language course for students with no knowledge of Finnish. The acquisition of a basic vocabulary and of an understanding of elementary structural features through practice in comprehension, speaking, reading and writing. (Offered in alternate years)

FIN200YI Intermediate Finnish I04P

The four language skills (speaking, listening, reading and writing) honed by discussion of Finnish literary texts as well as by compositions in Finnish about these texts, by a series of conversation exercises, and by analysis of morphology, syntax and word formation. Translation is used to aid in language learning. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: FIN100Y or permission of instructor

FIN220HI Introduction to Finnish Linguistics 13L, 13S

A survey of the linguistic structures of the Finno-Ugric languages including Estonian, Finnish and Hungarian with special emphasis on Finnish. Focus is to gain insights into workings of non-Indo-European languages. No prior knowledge of Finno-Ugric languages or linguistics required.

FIN230HI Finnish Culture 1800 to Present (formerly FIN210YI) 13L, 13P

FIN230H offers an introduction to Finnish society, history and culture 1800 to present. The course examines the rise of Finnish nationalism in the 1800s, its main manifestations, particularly the developments of its cultural, educational and social institutions, its economic structures, its demographics, as well as the nation's bilingual status.

Exclusion: FIN210YI

FIN235HI Finnish Literature 1800 to Present (formerly FIN210YI) 13L, 13P

FIN235H surveys the major works in Finnish literature 1800 to present by examining its role in the implementation of the agenda of Finnish nationalism in the 19th and the 20th century. The major genres and periods in Finnish literature are studied.

Exclusion: FIN210YI

Recommended preparation: FIN230HI

FIN240HI Masterpieces of Scandinavian Literature 13L, 13S

Introduction to the greatest authors of Scandinavian literature and their greatest works, particularly August Strinberg, Henrik Ibsen, H.C. Anderssen, Knut Hamsun, Selma Lagerlöf, Pär Lagerkvist, Aleksis Kivi, Sigrid Undset and Halldor Laxness, etc. These are situated in their Scandinavian context and in world literature. (Offered every two or three years)

Recommended preparation: Some background in literature

FIN250HI Finnish Cinema 26S, 13P

Development of Finnish cinema from its parochial beginnings to its international recognition. The great pastoral tradition; the war memories (Laine, Kassila, Parikka); socio-political engagement of the 60s (Donner, Jarva), the paucity of the 70s (Mollberg); the universal outsider themes of the 80s (Aki and Mika Kaurismäki). Readings and subtitles in English. (Offered in alternate years)

FIN260HI Scandinavian Cinema 26S, 13P

Major developments of cinema in Scandinavia in the 20th century with concentration on the major film makers of Denmark, Sweden, and Finland. # Finno-Ugric Studies have their definitions in the regional diversity of the area now called Finland. It focuses on the main divisions into western and eastern Finland, but also explores the Swedish and the Sami (Lappish) heritage in the context of old cultural regions. The sources used are cultural history texts as well as Finnish literature.

---

FIN340HI Finland-Swedish Literature and Culture 13L, 13S

An examination of the major Finland-Swedish authors (Rune Coerg, Tgrelicks, Sodergran, Tove Jansson) and the linguistic reality of Finland as it has changed over time. The distinctly Finland-Swedish culture is explored, analysed and assessed in its Finnish and Scandinavian context. Cultural giants are studied (Sibelius, etc.).

FIN350HI The Finnish Short Story 26S

Historical, structural, and thematic study of the short fiction of Finland from the Romanticism of the 19th century to contemporary post-structuralism and post-modernism. Works of Runeberg, Topelius, Kivi, Canth, Aho, Jotuni, Lehtonen, Schildt, Sillanpää, Haanpää, Meri, Hyry, Salama, Mukka, Liksom, Huldén, and others. Readings in English. (Offered in alternate years)

FIN410HI Finnish Literature 1700-1900 26S (in Finnish) (formerly FIN410YI)

A chronological study of the development of Finnish literature, emphasizing outstanding writers, significant movements and trends, the emergence and transformations of the major genres and their relationship to Finnish folklore and to the national awakening. Readings in Finnish. (Offered as needed)

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Exclusion: FIN410YI

Recommended preparation: FIN300Y

FIN415HI Finnish Literature in the 20th Century 26S

This course examines the main literary works and genres of 20th Century Finland, especially Jotuni, Sillanpää, Haanpää, Meri, Manner, Linna, Tuuri and a sample of contemporary writers. The readings are in Finnish.

Prerequisite: Reading ability in Finnish

Exclusion: FIN410YI

Recommended preparation: FIN410HI

FIN420YI Independent StudyTBA

A reading and research project

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

FIN430YI Independent StudyTBA

This course offers students, primarily Finnish Studies majors and minors, an opportunity to design together with the instructor an individualized course of study in Finnish literature or language. Registration requires the permission of the appropriate instructor and the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Recommended preparation: At least two years of university studies

---

Hungarian Courses

Note

The Department reserves the right to assign students to courses appropriate to their level of competence in Hungarian.

HUN100YI Elementary Hungarian I 30P

The basic features and logic of the language. Development of conversational skills and the reading of easy texts. Open only to students with little or no knowledge of Hungarian.

HUN200YI Intermediate Hungarian I 04P

Review of descriptive grammar; studies in syntax; vocabulary building; intensive oral practice; composition; reading and translation.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

HUN310YI Advanced Hungarian 52S

A synchronic and diachronic survey of the Hungarian language. Conceptualized summary of grammar, syntax, and stylistics; studies in the genesis and historical stages of the language. Brief consideration of living dialects, the basics of poetics; selected problems in translation and language teaching. Readings in Hungarian.

HUN320YI A Survey of Hungarian Literature 52S

A chronological study of the development of Hungarian literature since the 12th century; emphasis both on outstanding writers and on significant movements or themes. Transformations of ideas and changes in language and style. No knowledge of Hungarian required.

HUN335HI Urban vs. Rural: Cities and Country in Hungarian Literature and Culture 13L, 13S

This survey of Hungarian literature and culture uses the dichotomy of rural and urban traditions to explore the history of Hungarian literature and art, including poetry, short stories, novels, and folklore. Readings in English (also available in Hungarian).

HUN345HI The Dynamic of Hungarian Culture, Ethnography, and Folklore 13L, 13S

Explore the cultural traditions, historical processes, myths, and figures that have shaped and redefined Hungarian civilization and national identity. Theoretical and practical classes on ethnogenesis, anthropology, and folklore. Readings in English (also available in Hungarian).

HUN351HI Conformism and Subversion: Hungarian Cinema 39S

Developments until the sixties; auteurism of the sixties (Jancsó, Szabó); documentarism of the seventies (Mészáros); new trends since the eighties. Relations with the European cinema; contributions to the international film world and to film theory.

HUN355HI From Totalitarianism to Democracy: History of the Past Decades and Reflections of a Changing Society in Hungarian Culture 13L, 13S

Explore Hungary's rapidly changing place in Europe. Focus on political, sociological, and historical understandings of nationalism and identity as they manifest themselves in literature, history, and culture. Knowledge of Hungarian not required.

HUN356HI Hungary, 1956–2006: The Past 50 Years 26S

On the 50th anniversary of the 1956 Hungarian Revolution, this course investigates the cultural and literary history of Hungary in the past five decades: how art and literature existed in a totalitarian regime, how they changed in the years of "goulash communism" and later, and how they manifest political, sociological, and historical understandings of national and European identity and the place of Hungary within a dynamic Europe. Knowledge of Hungarian not required.

HUN440HI The Roots of Modernism: Hungarian 20th Century Fiction 26S

Continuity and change in form and content studied from the perspective of the native literary and social tradition and in relation to the evolution of modern European fiction; analogies with other genres and arts; survey of criticism. No knowledge of Hungarian required.

HUN450HI Hungary On-Stage: A History of Hungarian Drama in Social Context 26S

Hungarian theatre prior to the 19th century; birth of the national drama (Katona, Madách); populism and cosmopolitanism; post-war tendencies (Hubay, Orkény, Sütő). Hungarian drama in the European context; the theatre as a social institution. No knowledge of Hungarian required.

HUN451HI Three Hungarian Film Directors 39S

The course scrutinizes the oeuvre of Miklós Jancsó, Márta Mészáros, and István Szabó, tracing changes in their style and outlook.

Prerequisite: At least 10 full course credits with; at least one of these in film

HUN455HI Hungary and Europe: Cultural Adaptation in the Late 20th Century 13L, 13S

Focus on literature, art, mass media, and popular culture in post-1990 Hungary with special emphasis on the past ties to European culture and the impact of European integration. Readings in English (also available in Hungarian).

HUN497YI Independent Study (Hungarian)

Translation course concentrating on Hungarian prose translation
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

HUN498HI Independent Study (Hungarian)

Translation course concentrating on Hungarian prose translation.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

Forests have traditionally been managed primarily as sources of timber and revenue. However, there is increasing recognition of their immense cultural, social and environmental role, focused particularly by recent United Nations conferences in Rio De Janeiro and Johannesburg. Increasingly the focus of forest management has shifted to include biodiversity maintenance, ecological sustainability, and the protection of wildlife and their habitats. Canadians, as custodians of 10% of the remaining global forest cover, and 25% of the undisturbed frontier forest, have both the option and the responsibility to provide global leadership in forest conservation and sustainable forest management. Forest conservation programs prepare students for this critically important role by combining traditional ecological (biology, zoology) and physical (soil science, hydrology) sciences with social sciences. Forest conservationists increasingly focus on complex, emerging social and community issues, such as aboriginal rights and land tenure, protection of wilderness parklands, preservation of urban green space, and the use of forests for carbon sequestration.

Canada is not only a key player in global forest conservation, but is also more economically dependant on forests than any other major developed country. Responsible stewardship of our forests and the changing focus from industrial timber production to forest conservation has greatly expanded the range of expertise necessary. Graduates can pursue a wide range of new career opportunities developing in private, government and non-government environmental organizations where forest conservationists increasingly work as members of multidisciplinary teams of environmental and resource managers. Graduates from forest conservation programs can also pursue graduate programs in a wide range of disciplines, including forest conservation, forestry, environmental sciences and international development.

Students may take a specialist 4-year degree leading to an H.B.A. in Forest Conservation or an H.B.Sc. in Forest Conservation Science. The arts program focuses on communal forest management, development of forest policies, forest economics and forest product trade, with electives in social sciences, while the science program concentrates on forest biology and ecology with electives in life and physical sciences.

The specialist programs provide a grounding in forest conservation with emphasis on breadth as well as research depth, and can particularly meet the needs of individuals who are considering graduate level education in forestry (M.F.C., M.Sc.F. or Ph.D.).

The major programs in Forest Conservation are intended to build on a student's interest in forestry and related issues. Students should consider combining these programs with a major in another related discipline such as environment, geography, botany, zoology, chemistry, urban studies or architecture.

A minor in Forest Conservation Science in the science stream and a minor in Forest Conservation in the arts stream are also available. Students should consider combining these programs with a minor in other related disciplines.

The major and minor in Forest Biomaterials Science will be of interest to students interested in conserving the forest through good design, application and utilization of forest based products.

Wise management and use of renewable forest-based materials can help solve many of the world's environmental problems. Forest-based materials are renewable, have low life cycle environmental costs and have potential to contribute significantly to carbon sequestration as well as serve as carbon neutral fuels and alternatives to non-renewable feed-stocks for polymers and other bio-materials. To derive the greatest environmental benefits from forest materials, a thorough understanding is needed of: forest sustainability; material science of wood and other forest based materials; biotechnology as related to bio-materials conversion to feed stock, energy and other value added products; and optimal use and maintenance of the materials. Thus it is an interdisciplinary program, combining aspects of forestry, biology, chemistry, chemical and mechanical engineering and building science.

Graduates can pursue a wide range of new career opportunities developing in industry, research organizations, and government and non-government organizations where new opportunities for use of the forest resource are of interest. Graduates from forest biomaterials programs can also pursue graduate programs in a wide range of disciplines, including forestry, wood sciences, and environmental sciences.

Forest Conservation Programs

Forest Conservation Science (Science program)

Enrolment in the specialist program is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Enrolment in the major and minor programs is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+series courses and 2.5 400-series courses; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties, University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough may be eligible for inclusion.)

First Year:

BIO150Y1; Two Science FCEs (GGR100Y1; CHM138H1, I39H1 recommended)

Second Year:

1. ENV 234Y1; FOR 200H1, 201H1
2. One FCE from: ECO 220Y1, 227Y1; GGR 270H1; JBS 229H1/STA 221H1; STA 220H1
3. One FCE from: BIO 260H1; BIO 251Y1; EES C20H1 (University of Toronto Scarborough); GGR 205H1, 206H1, 272H1, 273H1; PHL 273H1; ENV236Y1; JGE221Y/JIE222Y1

Third Year:

1. FOR301H1, 305H1. At least One FCE from FOR 300H1, 302H1, 303H1, 306H1, 307H1; EEB321H1
2. 0.5 FCE from: EEB 307H1, 319H1, 323H1, 328H1, 341; CSB 340H1
3. At least 1.5 FCE from: BIO 302H1, 303H1, 306H1, 308H1, 324H1, 465H1; GGR303H1, 305H1, 310H1; EEB324Y1, 360H1, 361H1, 386H1, 388H1, 389H1

Fourth Year:

1. FOR 400Y1, 401H1
2. One FCE from: FOR 403H1, 404H1, 405H1, 412H1, 413H1, 416H1, 417H1; GGR403H1; ENV 442H1, 447H1; JFG 470H1, 475H1

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 2.0 300+series courses and one 400-series course; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties, University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough may be eligible for inclusion.)

First Year:

BIO150Y1; Two Science FCEs (GGR100Y1; CHM 138H1, I39H1 recommended)

Second Year:

FOR 200H1, 201H1; One FCE from ENV236Y1, 234Y1; JGE 221Y/JIE222Y1

Third Year:

FOR305H1; 1.5 FCE from: FOR 300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1, 306H1, 307H1; EEB321H1

Fourth Year:

FOR 400Y1

Minor Program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.0 300+series course and one 400-series course)

First Year: BIO150Y1/ GGR100Y1/ENV200Y1

Second Year: FOR200H1, 201H1

Third Year: One FCE from: FOR300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 306H1, 307H1

Fourth Year: FOR400Y1

Forest Conservation (Arts program)

Enrolment in this program is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Enrolment in the major and minor programs is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:

(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 3.5 300+series courses and 2.5 400-series courses; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties, University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough may be eligible for inclusion.)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; GGR107Y1 or One Social Science FCE

Second Year:

1. ENV 234Y1; FOR 200H1, 201H1
2. One FCE from: ECO 220Y1, 227Y1; GGR 270H1; JBS 229H1/STA 221H1; STA 220H1/250H1/255H1
3. One FCE from: ABS 201Y1; ANT 204Y1; JGE 221Y/JIE222Y1; PHL 273H1

Third Year:

1. FOR301H1, 305H1; At least One FCE from: FOR 300H1, 302H1, 303H1, 306H, 307H1; EEB 321H1
2. At least One FCE from: ANT 365Y1; GGR 331H1, 393H1; HIS 318Y1; ENV 320Y1, 321Y1, 332H1; UNI 302H1, 315Y1, 317Y1; JAG321H1

Fourth Year:

1. FOR 400Y1, 401H1
2. One FCE from: ANT 450H1; FOR 403H1, 412H1, 416H1, 417H1; ENV 410H1, 421H1, 422H1, 423H1, 440Y1, 442H1, 447H1, 494H1; JFG 470H1, 475H1

Major program

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 2.0 300+series courses and one 400-series course; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties, University of Toronto Mississauga or University of Toronto Scarborough may be eligible for inclusion.)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; GGR 107Y1 or One Social Science FCE

Second Year:

1. ENV 234Y1; FOR 200H1, 201H1
2. One FCE from: ABS 201Y1; ANT 204Y1; ECO 220Y1, 227Y1; GGR 233Y1, 270H1; JBS 229H1/STA 221H1; JGE221Y; PHL 273H1; STA 220H1/250H1/255H1

Forest Biomaterials Science (Science program)

The Forest Biomaterials major or minor may be strengthened by accompanying major or minor(s) in Biology (major, minor), Biochemistry (major), Forest Conservation (major, minor), Chemistry (major, minor), Environmental Chemistry (minor), Materials Chemistry (minor) or Environment and Science (major, minor).

Consult the Program Coordinator, Professor Paul Cooper, Room 2012, Earth Sciences Centre (416-946-5078)

Enrolment in the major and minor programs is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3.

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 2.0 FCE 300+series courses and 2.0 FCE 400-series courses; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties may be eligible for inclusion.)

1. BIO150Y; One FCE (MSE 101H, ECO 100Y/ECO 105Y, CHM 138 H, CHM 139H, ARC 132H recommended)
2. FOR 200H; 1.5 FCE from CHM 220H, ENV 234Y, MSE 207H, BCH 210H, STA 220H, STA 221H/EEB 225H
3. FOR 300H; FOR 310H, 1.0 FCE (FOR 302H, FOR305H, ENV 315H, ENV 350H, MSE 330H, MSE 316H, FOR 305H, ARC 341H, ARC 342H, BCH 370H recommended).
4. FOR 401H; FOR 410H; one FCE from FOR 403H, FOR 405H, FOR 420H, FOR 423H, CHE 575H

Minor Program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 FCE 300+series course and one FCE 400-series courses)

1. 1.5 FCE from BIO 150Y, MSE 101H, ECO 105Y, CHM 138H, CHM 139H, ARC 132H, FOR 200H, CHM 220H, ENV 234Y, MSE 207H, MGT 201H
2. FOR 300H; FOR 310H; 0.5 FCE from ENV 315H, ENV 350H, MSE 330H, MSE 316H, FOR 305H, ARC 341H, ARC 342H, BCH 370H
3. 1.0 FCE from FOR 401H, FOR 405H, FOR 410H, FOR 423H

Forest Conservation Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26) FOR courses are classified as either Science or Social Science courses; please check individual course listings.

FOR200HI Conservation of Canada's Forests [26L]

Development of forest management philosophy in Canadian and temperate forest regions; the sustained-yield paradigm and concepts of sustainability. Techniques for more sustainable forest management: structural retention; viable park and reserve networks; old growth; value-added and non-traditional forest products.

Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/GGRI00Y1

FOR201HI Conservation of Tropical and Subtropical Forests [26L]

The world's major tropical and subtropical forest biomes; prospects for conservation and sustainable management; consequences of different forest development strategies; tropical deforestation and selective logging; biodiversity and non-timber forest products; the fuelwood crisis; fire management and large carnivore conservation; ecological, economic and social perspectives.

Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/GGR100Y1

FOR300HI Forest Products in Sustainable Forestry [26L, 26P]

Traditional and non-traditional forest products; wood structure; properties and material attributes; functional characteristics and logistics of wood product industry. Contribution of innovative product development to conservation; adding value; residue use; biorefinery; under-utilized species; wood protection. Forest product certification; eco-labelling; life cycle analysis.

Recommended preparation: FOR200HI, 201HI

FOR301HI Field Methods in Forest Conservation [TBA]

A practical introduction to the field methods used by forest conservationists in Ontario. This field course will last 10-days from September 1 – 10 approximately. Field exercises will provide students with practical training in tree identification, forest ecosystem classification, forest inventory, stand management prescriptions, tree marking, and silvicultural systems. Each student is required to pay an ancillary fee of $600 to cover the costs of their transportation and accommodation. Students must contact the Faculty to register – we strongly recommend that you do so by the end of May, but later registrations will be considered if class size permits.

Recommended preparation: ENV234Y1; FOR200HI, 201HI, GGR205HI

FOR302HI Societal Values and Forest Management [26L]

The course will provide diverse perspectives about forests, such as Aboriginal perspective, ecosystem services and human health, climate change and carbon sequestration, and forest management systems, such as community-based forest management and adaptive management systems; and will develop and understanding of the need of integrative approach to address the social, cultural, economic, and scientific issues associated with forest management.

Recommended preparation: FOR200HI, 201HI

This is a Social Science course

FOR303HI Human Dimensions of Global Forests [26L]

Global forest resources; global and regional production, consumption and trade of timber and non-timber products; relationships between societies and forests; international forest policy; economic value of forests; forests and development.

Recommended preparation: FOR200HI, 201HI

This is a Social Science course

Forest Conservation

FOR305HI Biology of Trees and Forests [26L, 40P]

An overview of the biology of trees and the ecological principles that govern the structure and function of forests. Topics in tree biology will include tree identification, wood anatomy, tree architecture, resource acquisition and allocation, tree growth and mortality. Topics in forest ecology will include resource competition, stand development, species succession, and the cycling of nutrients and energy. This course will include a substantial field and lab component.

Recommended preparation: FOR200HI/201HI, BIO150YI/ENV234YI

FOR306HI Tropical Forest Ecology and Conservation Field Course [26P]

This course will provide practical experience in tropical forest conservation, introducing tools for rapid assessment of biodiversity, analysis of human use and natural disturbance impacts on forest structure and diversity, and the development of effective forest conservation strategies. The 10-day course spanning Reading Week will be field-based in the country of Dominica, West Indies. Four additional 2-hour lectures at the university are associated with the course.

Prerequisite: FOR201HI, FOR301HI or FOR305HI

FOR307HI Forest Insect Ecology & Management [26L, 26P]

Insect identification and ecology, biodiversity and conservation, insect-tree interaction, exotic introductions, biological control, pesticide use, and integrated pest management. (Offered in alternate years.)

Recommended preparation: FOR301HI or FOR305HI, EEB 360HI or EEB 361HI

FOR310HI Bioenergy from Sustainable Forest Management [26L, 13T]

Socio-economic, technical, political and environmental issues associated with the utilization of forest biomass (e.g., harvesting residues, thinnings, salvage, short rotation woody crops) for a source of renewable energy.

Recommended Preparation: Completed at least 6 Science FCE's

This is a Science course.

FOR400YI Advanced Seminar in Forest Conservation [52S]

Examination of current and emerging critical issues affecting sustainable management and conservation of global forests. Seminars led by students, faculty and visiting speakers.

Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300HI, 301HI, 302HI, 303HI, 305HI, 306HI, 307HI

This is classified as BOTH a Science and a Social Science course

FOR401HI Research Paper/Thesis in Forest Conservation [TBA]

Individual in-depth student research projects on significant forest conservation projects, based on field and/or laboratory research, or literature survey.

Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300HI, 301HI, 302HI, 303HI, 305HI, 306HI, 307HI (minimum of 15 FCEs)

This is classified as BOTH a Science and a Social Science course

FOR403HI Directed Readings [26T]

Provides opportunities for students to carry out individual in-depth study of current forest conservation issues, under the direction of a faculty member.

Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300HI, 301HI, 302HI, 303HI, 305HI, 306HI 307HI, (minimum of 15 FCEs)

FOR404HI Soil Fertility & Tree Nutrition [26L, 26P]

Determining physical, chemical, and biological properties of soils. Soil fertility testing and plant chemical analysis. Mineral nutrition of trees and seedlings, diagnosis and interpretation of soil and foliar analyses. Prescription of soil amendments for intensive forest management. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: GGR205HI (minimum of 15 FCEs)

Recommended preparation: GGR307HI

This is a Science course

FOR405HI Forest Products & Processing [26L, 12P]

Processing of wood into commercial products including wood adhesion and composites manufacturing; specifications and testing; sawmilling; wood drying; wood deterioration and protection; life cycle analysis of wood-based products.

Prerequisite: FOR300HI (minimum of 15 FCEs)

FOR410HI Bioenergy and Biorefinery Technology [26L, 26T]

Technological advances and approaches in deriving biofuels and chemical feedstocks from forest and other biomass and fundamental chemical attributes of biomass, as they affect the fuel value and potential for deriving liquid, solid and gaseous fuels and valuable chemicals for other applications from the biomass will be discussed.

Recommended Preparation: Completed at least 10 Science FCE's

This is a Science course.

FOR412HI Ecology, Management and Conservation of Tropical Forests [12L, 14S]

The nature of the tropical biome; climate; ecology; carbon sequestration potential. Emerging critical ecological and social issues related to utilization, management and conservation of tropical forests.

FOR413HI Wildlife Ecology & Conservation [26L]

Temperate and tropical wildlife ecology and conservation; roles of wildlife in forest conservation; impacts of forestry practices and landscape modification on wildlife; ecology and viability of wildlife populations; human uses and abuses of game and non-game species.

Prerequisite: BIO319HI/321HI/323HI/324HI/ENV234YI/ FOR200HI/201HI/EEB 22HI (minimum of 15 FCEs)

FOR416HI Urban Forest Conservation [26L]

Current research and practice in the conservation and enhancement of urban forests. Reviews the role of trees and woodlands in providing environmental and socio-economic benefits to urban and peri-urban residents. Examines approaches to the characterization of urban forest ecosystems, and their planning and management to contribute to sustainable communities.

Prerequisite: FOR200HI, 201HI

This is a Science course

Forest Conservation

FOR417HI Ecological Principles of Agroforestry [26L]

This course introduces students to the roles of trees and forests in agricultural land-use systems primarily in the third world. It deals primarily with the biological and management aspects of agroforestry, within the socio-economic constraints of the developing world. The sustainability of particular agroforestry systems will be a theme throughout.

FOR418HI Urban Forest Conservation Field Camp [45L 15P]

The course consists of ten days examining urban forestry issues in the GTA, southern and eastern Ontario, Quebec and northern New York State. Topics include: urban forest inventories, nursery production, arboricultural techniques, urban woodland management, urban forest health, urban forest administration, urban dendrology, and urban forestry research.

Prerequisite: FOR200HI/FOR201HI/permission of the instructor.

This is a Science course.

FOR419HI Forest Fire Behaviour and Management [26L, 26P]

Understanding forest fire activity is important for predicting fire's impact on forests and the wildland-urban interface, as well as the impacts of climate change. Basic principles of fire occurrence and behaviour are explored. Considerable emphasis is placed on application of these models to real fire management problems.

Prerequisite: ECO220Y1/ECO227Y1/GGR270HI/PSY201HI/

SOC300Y1/STA220HI/STA250HI/STA248HI/STA261HI

This is a Science course.

FOR420HI Chemistry of Lignocellulosics [26L/13T]

This course provides an overview of the chemistry of wood and wood materials involving cellulose, hemicellulose, lignin, extractives. It also covers some reaction chemistry associated with these chemical components.

Recommended Preparation: Completed at least 10 Science FCE's

This is a Science course.

FOR423HI Design and Manufacturing of Biomaterials [26L, 26T]

This course focuses on the manufacturing processes, properties and uses of wood and agricultural fibre based products including wood based composites, ligno-cellulosic/thermoplastic composites and structural or engineered composites.

Recommended Preparation: Completed at least 10 Science FCE's

JFG470HI Forest Management [26L]

Application of operational research and information technology to develop decision support systems for forestland management planning. Basic principles of mathematical programming, simulation and decision analysis, and their application to planning for forest conservation and sustainable development, policy analysis and other land management planning problems.

Prerequisite: One course in quantitative methods or linear algebra

Recommended preparation: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/

MAT133Y1/223HI

JFG475HI Emergency Response Systems Planning [26L, 26T]

Use of operational research and information technology to develop mathematical models and decision support systems to design and evaluate the performance of emergency response systems. Forest fire management systems are used to illustrate the basic principles of emergency response system planning that can also be applied to urban fire, police and ambulance services.

Prerequisite: One course in quantitative methods or calculus

Recommended preparation: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/

MAT133Y1/135Y1/137Y1

This is a Science course

French studies in the University of Toronto provide varied and flexible approaches to one of the world's major international languages and the diversity of cultures expressed in it.

The courses listed here fall into six main sequences: Literature, Linguistics, French as a Second Language, French Culture, Translation and Second Language Learning. Through modular programming, students enjoy the freedom to concentrate or diversify their interests in these areas. The skills and knowledge acquired will lay the groundwork for careers in teaching, journalism, translation, publishing, and government service, as well as research in a variety of fields.

Literature (FRE): 200-level courses introduce students to literary analysis and present Québécois and French literature in their cultural and historical contexts. 300-level courses encompass the full range of major works of French and Québécois literature. 400-level courses raise questions about notions of literary tradition and mainstream methods of study; the scope of literature is stretched further back or ahead in time, further away in space from traditional centres (France and Québec) and away from dominant sensibilities (to include women's voices and non-traditional modes of writing); and connections are made to other disciplines. The actual content of most 400-level courses varies considerably according to the instructor. Students should consult the Department of French Undergraduate Brochure (which is also available on-line at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under) for content specific to a given year.

Linguistics (FRE): A 100-level course introduces students to the study of grammatical concepts. 200-level courses initiate students into analysis of contemporary French and into the history of its development. 300-level courses break the discipline of linguistic analysis into its chief component parts. 400-level courses extend the study of the French language back in time or out from the idealized standard form; and connections are made to other disciplines (including second language acquisition).

Translation (FRE): Courses on French and English translation at the 300/400-level may be used in a Minor in French Translation that may be added to any other Minor, Major or Specialist program. Such courses are, however, not limited to students taking this program. Certification for this program should not be viewed as the equivalent to a professional diploma in translation but may stand students in good stead should they seek admission to such a program following graduation.

French as a Second Language (FSL): The FSL program is designed to accommodate the widest possible range of previous learning, special needs, and particular interests of students. Emphasis is placed on both written and spoken language; at higher levels, half-courses allow for specialized study of one or the other. The on-line placement test (www.lang.utoronto.ca/placement/french) is mandatory for all students who register in an FRE or FSL course for the first time. The test must be taken prior to registration and at the latest by the end of the first week of classes in order to ensure enrolment in the appropriate course. Based on students' results, the Department reserves the right to place students in the language course most suitable to developing their French reading, writing, listening and speaking skills. Note that, given 100, 200, 300 and 400-level FSL courses correspond to levels of competence in French, a student may be recommended to enroll in a course at a level higher than his/her year of study. Students not having access to a computer capable of managing sound files should write to french.placement@utoronto.ca to arrange to take the test at the Multimedia Centre. For students in Major and Specialist French programs, emphasis is on precise academic writing and speech approximating as closely as possible that of native speakers. For students not in Major and Specialist French programs, emphasis is on listening and reading skills in varying social and cultural contexts and on the acquisition of vocabulary.

French Cultural Studies (FCS): Courses on French and Francophone culture, taught in English, may be used in a Minor in French Cultural Studies program that may be added to any other Minor, Major or Specialist program. These courses may also be used to fulfil distribution requirements.

Second Language Learning: A Major program in Second Language Learning may be combined with a similar Major program in Italian to produce a Combined Specialist program. The core course for this program is JFI 225Y1 which instructs students in the methodology of second-language learning and will be of particular interest to those planning a career in teaching. It will be taught alternately by instructors from the Departments of French and Italian Studies.

Study Elsewhere: To be entitled to participate in the Department's Third Year Study Elsewhere Program, a student must satisfy the following requirements: overall average of at least 70% in courses completed in second year; and an average of 70% in at least two French courses (FRE) required in a Major or Specialist program. Information on these programs and on the Second Language Summer Program is available on-line at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under/else.htm. For further counselling on these programs, contact the Study Elsewhere Advisor at 416-926-1300 ext. 3141 or french.elsewhere@utoronto.ca.

Exclusions and prerequisites: Students must abide by all requirements stated in the exclusions and prerequisites to register in a course. Students who do not have the co- or prerequisites for a given course must obtain the permission of the Department, prior to registration. The Department will assess the students' admissibility to the course in consultation with the instructor. For FSL courses, exclusions ensure that students follow the best progression in language learning.

Further Information: The Department of French Undergraduate Brochure, available at the Department, contains more detailed information about all the courses and programs listed below. It is also available in an electronic form, which is regularly updated, at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under.

French Programs

---

Enrolment in all French programs requires the completion of four courses. No minimum GPA is required.

Note:

FRE 172H1 provides useful basics for further studies in Linguistics and Second Language Learning, and for students who feel they would benefit from a better understanding of the grammatical structure of the language.

French Language and French Linguistics (Arts programs)

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent)

1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 172H1 and an additional FRE Linguistics half-course.
2. FRE 272H1, 273H1, 274H1
3. FRE 210Y1/240Y1
4. FSL 341Y1, 442H1, 443H1. Students exempted from FSL 341Y1 may replace it with any FRE course. Students with 77% in FSL 341Y1 may replace FSL 442H1, 443H1 with a 300+ series FRE course.
5. FRE 376H1, 378H1
6. Four additional FRE Linguistics courses. At least two of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including one at the 400-level. FRE 375Y1 may be substituted for one of these four courses.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 172H1 and an additional FRE Linguistics half-course.
2. FRE 272H1, 273H1, 274H1
3. FRE 210Y1/240Y1

4. FSL 341Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with any FRE course.
5. FRE 376H1, 378H1
6. 1.5 additional FRE Linguistics courses. At least one of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including one half-course at the 400-level. FRE 375Y1 may be substituted for one of these two courses.

Second Language Learning (French) (Arts Program)

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent including at least 2 FRE courses at the 300+ level)

1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with higher-level FSL courses of their choice.
2. JFI 225Y1, FRE 272H1, 273H1, FSL 277Y1, 341Y1
3. FRE 210Y1/240Y1
4. Two additional FRE courses among the following: FRE 375Y1/384H1/385H1/473H1

French as a Second Language (Arts Program)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with higher-level FSL courses of their choice.
2. One 300-level FSL course
3. One 400-level FSL course
4. One other FSL course or FRE 375Y1 or any 200+-level FRE course, except FRE 480Y1. (FSL 121Y1 may be included if taken before FSL 221Y1).

French Translation (Arts Program)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. FRE 375Y1
2. FRE 480Y1, 481Y1
3. An additional FRE course at the 200+level

French Studies (Arts Program)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. FSL 221Y1
2. Three FRE courses at the 200+ level including one at the 300/400-level (FSL 121Y1 may be included if taken before FSL 221Y1)

French Cultural Studies (Arts Program)

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Any four FCS full course equivalents including at least one course at the 300/400-level.

Note: For students meeting prerequisites set by other departments/programs, up to 1.5 courses from the following list may be substituted for FCS courses: FAH 245H1, 345H1, 346H1, 445H1, 446H1, 447H1; FRE literature courses; HIS 314Y1, 387H1, 388H1, 457H1; JEF 100Y1; JFV 323H1; INI 385Y1, 386H1; SMC 228Y1

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

The Department of French participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for French.

In order to receive a language citation in our Department students should have completed any two course among the following with a minimum mark of B-: FSL 300+, FRE200+.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

For other programs in French, see also: Modern Languages and Literatures; Linguistics and Languages.

French Courses

See "Guide to Programs & Courses" section for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes all FCS, FRE, and FSL courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

Note: STUDENTS ENROLLED SIMULTANEOUSLY IN TWO OR MORE FRENCH PROGRAMS ARE ALLOWED TO DOUBLE-COUNT ONLY ONE COURSE TOWARDS THEIR FRENCH PROGRAMS.

Courses Taught in English (see also all FCS courses below)

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminars that focus on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. May serve as a distribution requirement course; see the First Year Handbook for details.

JEF100YI The Western Tradition [78S]

An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary "classic"? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition - human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny - been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostoevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French; see also JEF 100YI in the English program listings.)

---

NOTE: FCS, JFI, JFL and JFV courses are taught in English with reading and written assignments in English. No knowledge of French is required. However, students can count these courses towards a program in French (Major or Specialist) if they submit all written work and tests in French. These students must, during the first week of class, inform the instructor of their intent to do so.

---

FCS: French Cultural Studies Courses

FCS courses are taught in English with written and reading assignments also in English. Some half-courses at the 200/300/400-level have variable contents and may not be offered every year. Please consult the Department website (www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under) or the Department of French Undergraduate brochure for more details.

FCS195HI French Culture from Napoléon to Astérix [26S]

A multi-media course, analyzing the contributions the French have made to world culture in such domains as architecture, art, literature, and music, as well as some of the implications of the appropriation of French cultural icons by big business and the media.

FCS 290HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies I: Pleasures of Versailles: Music in the Grand Century of France [26S]

A survey of the rich musical heritage of France between 1650 and 1740, focusing on the composers, performers and instruments in the court of Louis XIV. Intended especially for non-musicians who are passionate about music and wish to explore French cultural history through one of its most dynamic and celebrated facets. Focus on in-class listening, including live performances on historical instruments.

FCS 291HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies I: The Art and Culture of the Networked Society [26S]

The concept of the Networked Society, with a historical perspective on the development of networking technologies, emphasizing their social and cultural consequences. The actions and the role of artists and cultural activists in various countries. Illustrated with films and other documents, the various dimensions of the Francophone digital culture in and out of Canada, including Africa and Asia.

FCS 292HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies I: Sex, Love, Desire, etc. [26S]

This course will explore the themes of love, sex and desire in French literature through close reading and interpretative analysis of novels from the eighteenth to the twentieth century. A comparative approach using various examples taken from literary texts and film adaptations will explore the concept of love and its many definitions.

FCS297HI Comic Books and French Culture [26S]

An examination of the historical, social and cultural status of French comic books ("bandes dessinées" or "BDs"), based on English translations of Astérix, Tintin and other contemporary works. Analysis of thematic and narrative structures compared with traditional genres (folktales, myths, plays, novels). (Not offered in 2008-2009).

FCS298HI French Culture and Asia [26S]

From the arrival, in the 17th century, of magnificent porcelain from the East to the borrowings of contemporary fashion designers, French culture has been exposed to Asian influences which have become part of the national fabric. This course explores some of these manifestations in literature, film and the arts.

FCS310YI French Cinema [26L, 52P, 26S]

Cinema in France with emphasis on theory and practical criticism, on auteurs and movements such as the avant-garde of the twenties and the New Wave of the late fifties. Films shown are subtitled.

Prerequisite: At least 5 course credits in any subject

Recommended preparation: INI 115Y1

FCS331HI Cinema and Literature in France [26S]

Film adaptations of plays and fiction from the origins of cinema to the present time.

Prerequisite: At least 5 course credits in any subject

FCS369Y0 The Culture of Touraine (formerly FCS399Y0) [52S]

Various aspects of culture in the region of Tours, e.g. novels by Balzac; Renaissance architecture and gardens as motifs in art, literature, cinema, music or advertising; from Tours to Québec; or Anne Hébert's Touraine. (Offered in Tours only during the summer)

Prerequisite: At least 5 course credits in any subject

Exclusion: FCS399Y0

FCS 390HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies II: Cultural Studies in France: Foucault and after [26S]

Introduction to the French tradition of cultural studies through a survey of some of the great French thinkers on culture and history (Foucault, de Certeau, Barthes, Baudrillard, Bourdieu, Derrida, Lyotard, Metz, etc.). The historical and philosophical debates that define the Humanities today.

Prerequisite: At least 5 courses in any subject.

FCS 391HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies II (Not offered in 2008-09)

Prerequisite: At least 5 courses in any subject.

FCS 392HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies II (Not offered in 2008-09)

Prerequisite: At least 5 courses in any subject.

FCS395HI Sensuality and the French [26S]

An investigation of the French reputation for the systematic indulgence of all the senses, from the growth of sensuality-based industries and services to the discussion of works of high art and popular culture. Also focussing on elements of gender definition and exoticism within the cult of sensuality.

Prerequisite: At least 5 course credits in any subject

FCS490HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies III [26S]

FCS491HI Special Topics in French Cultural Studies III [26S]

FCS492H Special Topics in French Cultural Studies III [26S]

In depth study within narrowly focussed topics. (Not offered in 2008-2009).

Prerequisite: At least 10 course credits in any subject

FCS497HI Contemporary Feminisms in France and Québec [26S]

Various forms of recent feminist thought, theory, and artistic practice, from the 1970s, focussing on the current situation, characterized by plurality and heterogeneity, and the concern with the intersection of gender, ethnicity and class. (Not offered in 2008-09)

Prerequisite: At least 10 course credits in any subject

FRE: French Literature Courses

Some half-courses at the 300/400-level have variable contents and may not be offered every year. Please consult the Department website (www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under) or the Department of French Undergraduate brochure for more details.

FRE210YI Introduction to Québec Literature and Culture [78S]

A study of aspects of Québec culture (art, cinema, language, literature and music) and their role in the evolution of a distinct society. This survey course familiarizes students with the socio-historical context and way of life of the Québécois in order to better understand and appreciate Québec literature.

Co- or prerequisite: FSL161Y1 (with minimum

77%)/181Y1/221Y1 or, upon first FRE/FSL enrolment, equivalent as determined by the French Placement Test

FRE240YI Introduction to Literary Analysis [78S]

Techniques of literary criticism and analysis, based on a detailed study of selected novels, drama, and poetry from the 17th century to the present.

Co- or prerequisite: FSL161Y1 (with minimum

77%)/181Y1/221Y1 or, upon first FRE/FSL enrolment,

FRE304HI Women and Literature I: Women Writers [26S]

An analysis of selected texts by women writers, emphasizing particular themes and textual strategies used to represent the female subject, her relationship to language, her reality and world view.

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

FRE305HI Women and Literature II: Women Writers of the Twentieth Century [26S]

This course will examine French prose fiction by women written in the latter quarter of the twentieth century, during which an unprecedented number of texts by women writers were published. Texts representing different women's issues in contemporary society will be analyzed. (Not offered in 2008-2009; offered in alternate years)

FRE308HI From Manuscript to the Printed Word [26S]

With a view to understand the process that transforms "texts" into "books", this course will contrast the French and Anglo-Saxon schools of book history and material bibliography, and analyze the evolution of various technical innovations and their impact on the emergence of mass culture since the 1500s.

FRE309HI Reading, Writing and Publishing in Nineteenth-Century France [26S]

This course will investigate the social history of the context and the construction of the literary text in nineteenth-century France: how and why one writes, reads and/or publishes will be the focus of this course. The history of reading and publishing, as well as the history of the 19th-century press will be examined. (Not offered in 2008-09).

FRE311HI Advanced topics in Quebec Literature I: Story Telling with Words and Images (formerly FRE410HI) [26S]

The relationship between literary texts and images in Québécois literature is an important narrative strategy used by numerous writers to "tell stories". The focus will be on the use of photography, illustrations, paintings and cinematographic images by a number of 20th-century Québécois authors. (Not offered in 2008-2009; offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1 or FRE 210Y1

Exclusion: FRE 410H/411H

FRE313HI Advanced topics in Quebec Literature II: Diaries of Women Writers (formerly FRE411HI) [26S]

This course aims to investigate the textual strategies which support the construction of autobiographical subjects in the diaries of certain well-known contemporary French and Québécois writers.

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1 or FRE 210Y1

Exclusion: FRE 410H/411H

FRE314HI From Modernism to Postmodernism: Contemporary Québec Literature [26S]

Québec postmodern literature speaks of vitality, liberating forces, and creativity. This course explores the textual forms and themes that challenge tradition and authority in contemporary writing. (Not offered in 2008-2009; offered in alternate years)

FRE319HI Literature of the Renaissance (formerly FRE419HI) [26S]

Rabelais' carnivalesque vision of the world, Ronsard's worship of Beauty, the cruel and bloody tragedy of Garnier, Montaigne's exploration of the self. A study of selected writers of the 16th century, an age of crucial epistemological shifts and of exploration by poets, artists, and humanists.

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

Exclusion: FRE 419HI

FRE320HI The 17th Century: The Rise of Classicism (formerly FRE320Y1) [52S]

Essential works of literature from the "Grand Siècle," including court poetry, plays by Corneille, Molière and Racine and some of the earliest narratives written for and by women, explored within the social framework of Europe's most highly refined cultural period. (Not offered in 2008-2009; offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

Exclusion: FRE 320Y1

FRE321HI Ardour and Armour in Medieval France (formerly FRE420HI) [26S]

Religious fervour, war, chivalry, romance and ribald humour are just some of the themes found in selected texts from the French Middle Ages; readings in modern translations with appropriate reference to the original language. (Not offered in 2008-2009; offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

FRE322HI The 18th Century: The Age of Enlightenment (formerly FRE322Y1) [52S]

At the forefront of the present cultural and political organization of the West, 18th-century France defined individual and collective subjectivities (individualism, gender roles, democracy). This course explores these issues in their original context through the work of authors such as Rousseau, Voltaire, Sade, Laclos, Graffigny, and Beaumarchais.

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

Exclusion: FRE 322Y1

JFV323HI Semiotics and Literature I [26S]

The study of readings from major French literary semioticians will be combined with the practical application of theory to the analysis of selected literary texts. This course is taught in English. (Not offered in 2008-09).

Prerequisite: At least 5 course credits in any subject.

Recommended preparation: FRE240Y1/VIC120Y1

FRE324HI The 19th Century: 19th-Century France (formerly FRE324Y1) [26S]

The course will cover the period from the French Revolution to the Dreyfus Affair; that is from the romantic movement to the naturalist and decadent movements. Combining socio-intellectual history, the study of literary movements and their major authors, and the analysis of literary forms and genres, the course will examine the fundamental changes which took place in the literary imagination and in its expressions throughout the century.

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

Exclusion: FRE 324Y1

FRE325HI The 18th Century: The Book in the French Enlightenment [26S]

This course will provide an overview on the history of the book in France in the 18th Century in order to allow for a closer inquiry into the publishing adventure of the Encyclopédie of Diderot and D'Alembert, arguably the biggest publication undertaking of its time. (Not offered in 2008-09).

Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

FRE326HI The 20th Century: From Surrealism to Post-modernism and Beyond (formerly FRE326YI) [52S]

Characterized by experimentation and by the crisis of representation, 20th-century French literature has undergone numerous transformations in form, content, and generic boundaries. This course studies these literary movements, trends, and transgressions in poetry, prose, and theatre.
Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1
Exclusion: FRE 326Y1

FRE332HI Francophone Literature I [26S]

An introduction to francophone literature through different approaches - textual, ideological, historical. Students will be introduced to the works of francophone writers.
Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

FRE340HI Literature and Society [26S]

Lectures and discussions in this course will focus on the conceptualizations of the multifaceted relationship between literature and society, both from an external perspective (study of the cultural fields, of the institutions, of the social networks, of the sociology of edition and reading) and an internal perspective (the inscriptions of the social world in text and in discourse). (Not offered in 2008-09).
Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1

FRE364HI The 19th Century: The Golden Age of the Novel (formerly FRE364YI) [26S]

The ways in which such writers as Balzac, Stendhal, Flaubert, Maupassant, and Zola developed the techniques of the novel while exploring such themes as ambition, alienation, and class struggle.
Prerequisite: FRE 240Y1
Exclusion: FRE 364Y1

French as a Second Language Courses (FSL)

Note

The following is a guide for beginners in French.

1. No knowledge of French: FSL 100HI. Students enrolled in FSL 100HI, whose command of French raises doubt about their bona fides as beginners, will be asked to do the online placement test and may be moved to a higher level FSL course.

2. Very limited knowledge of French (Placement Test required): FSL 102HI

The on-line placement test (www.lang.utoronto.ca/placement/french) is mandatory for all students who register in an FRE or FSL course for the first time. The test must be taken prior to registration and at the latest by the end of the first week of classes in order to ensure enrolment in the appropriate course. Based on students' results, the Department reserves the right to place students in the language course most suitable to developing their French reading, writing, listening and speaking skills. Note that, given 100, 200, 300 and 400-level FSL courses correspond to levels of competence in French, a student may be recommended to enroll in a course at a level higher than his/her year of study. Students not having access to a computer capable of managing sound files should write to french.placement@utoronto.ca to arrange to take the test at the Multimedia Centre.

FSL100HI French for Beginners [39L, 13P]

Geography is the study of the environments created on the earth's surface by nature and people. The physical and biological elements of these environments, as well as their economic and social structure, historical development, spatial organization, interrelationships, management and planning form the subject matter of Geography. Geography, therefore, relates closely to other fields in natural science, social science and the humanities, and geographers take courses in these related fields along with their geography courses. Students specializing in other subjects often select one or more geography courses to deepen their understanding of the resource base, culture and economy of those parts of the world in which they are interested.

Employment opportunities for geographers exist in many branches of international organizations, government, industry, and education. Geographers work at all levels of government service, especially in agencies responsible for environmental management; land and resource analysis; development of historic districts and sites; urban transportation planning; regional economic planning; trade promotion; geographic systems design and data analysis; transport network design and the processing of archival, survey, and cartographic information. In business, geographers work in marketing, locational analysis, resource development, and in consulting firms engaged in project evaluation, land use planning and natural heritage conservation.

Students studying Geography may take either an H.B.A. or H.B.Sc., depending upon the subjects they wish to emphasize. The Department offers several Specialist, Major and Minor Programs in Geography, cooperates in offering a combined program with Economics, shares with Ecology and Evolutionary Biology a program in Biogeography, and contributes courses to various departmental and college programs including American Studies; Anthropology; Archaeology; Canadian Studies and Peace and Conflict Studies; Equity Studies; Centre for Environment; Environmental Geosciences; and Urban Studies; Ethics, Society and Law and International Relations; and European Studies. Counselling and advice may be obtained from the Undergraduate Coordinator or the Undergraduate Counsellor.

Geography Programs

Enrolment in Minor, Major and Specialist programs sponsored by the Department of Geography requires the completion of four courses, including one of GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, or 124HI. Entry requirements to all Specialist programs is a CGPA of 2.5. Entry requirements for all Major programs is a CGPA of 2.0 or 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level. Double majors in Geography must complete at least 13 different GGR/JAG/JFG/JGF/JGI/JUG/JGE credits (only 1.0 overlap). Students combining any of our Minor programs with a Specialist/Major program would normally be allowed to count only 1.5 credits (of the 4.0 courses in the Minor program) towards both programs. Generally, students may only take 1.0 Independent Research Project credits toward their program requirements..

Note

The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Biogeography (Science program)

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirements:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:

1. BIO150Y1; GGR100HI, 101HI; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1/CSC (108HI, 148HI)
2. At least one of: JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/137Y1/PHY131HI, 132HI/151HI, 152HI

Higher Years:

1. Two of: GGR201HI, 203HI, 205HI, 206HI
2. BOT251Y1/ZOO252Y1; GGR270HI/STA220HI

3. ENV234Y1/two of BIO319HI, 321HI, 323HI, 324HI, 328HI
  4. One full course equivalent from: BOT300HI, 307HI, 310HI; ZOO265Y1, 304HI, 309Y1, 361HI, 373HI, 384HI, 387HI, 389HI
  5. GGR305HI, 310HI
  6. Two full course equivalents from BIO/BOT/ZOO at the 300+ level
  7. 1.5 full course equivalent from GGR at the 300+ level
- Note:

Of the 3.5 courses from BIO/BOT/ZOO and GGR, 1.0 must be at the 400-level

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirements:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:

- 1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI (GGR107HI recommended) or 1.0 other courses with permission of department.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1; GGR270HI, 271HI, 272HI, 393HI
2. GGR491Y1/two of GGR409HI, 415HI, 418HI, 450HI, 451HI, 492HI, 498HI, 499HI
3. One additional half course from Group B
4. 4.5 courses from: GGR220HI, 221HI, 256HI, 305HI, 307HI, 314HI, 331HI, 332HI, 333HI, 334HI, 335HI, 338HI, 342HI, 343HI, 390HI, 391HI, 409HI, 415HI, 418HI, 421HI, 439HI, 450HI, 451HI, ENV236Y1/ENV440Y1/JUG320HI/JAG321HI/JGE347HI, 348HI.
Of the 4.5 courses, additional options include: up to 1.5 courses from Group C; up to 1.0 courses from Group B.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:

The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography

Entry Requirements:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or obtain 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

First Year:

- 1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI (GGR107HI recommended) or 1.0 other courses with permission of department.

Higher Years:

1. JGE221Y1; GGR270HI, 271HI
2. 4.0 courses from last option list in Specialist program above

Geography (Arts program)

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:

1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI or 1.0 other courses with permission of department.

Higher Years:

1. GGR270HI, 271HI, 272HI
2. GGR491YI/two of GGR409HI, 413HI, 415HI, 418HI, 431HI, 439HI, 446HI, 450HI, 451HI, 452HI, 457HI, 458HI, 459HI, 492HI, 498HI, 499HI
3. One additional half course from Group B
4. 6.0 GGR/JAG/JFG/JGF/JGI/JUG/JGE/ENV236YI

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:

The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Entry Requirement:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or obtain 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

First Year:

1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI or 1.0 other courses with permission of department.

Higher Years:

1. GGR270HI, 271HI
2. 5.0 GGR/JAG/JFG/JGF/JGI/JUG/JGE/ENV236YI courses of which at least 3.0 must be at the 300-400 level

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. 1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI
2. Three other higher level GGR/JAG/JFG/JGI/JUG/JGE/ENV236YI courses, including at least one 300/400-series course

Geographic Information Systems (Arts program)

Note:

Students combining this program with a Specialist/Major sponsored by the Department of Geography will normally be allowed to count only 1.5 (of the 4.0) credits towards both programs.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. 1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI or 1.0 other courses with permission of department
2. GGR270HI, 272HI, 273HI, 373HI
3. One half course from GGR462HI, 473HI
4. One of GGR337HI, 371HI, 413HI, 462HI, 473HI, JFG470HI, 475HI

Geography and Economics - See Economics

Historical and Cultural Geography (Arts program)

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:

1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI (GGR107HI, 124HI recommended) or 1.0 other courses with permission of department

Higher Years:

1. GGR240HI, 270HI, 271HI, 272HI, 336HI, 360HI
2. 1.0 courses from: GGR216HI, 241HI, 246HI, 249HI, 254HI
3. 1.5 courses from: GGR421HI, 431HI, 439HI, 452HI, 457HI, 4912YI
4. 3.5 courses from: GGR320HI, 327HI, 328HI, 339HI, 342HI, 343HI, 346HI, 350HI, 361HI, 366HI, 391HI, JUG320HI, JAG321HI

Higher Years:

1. GGR240HI, 270HI, 271HI
2. GGR336HI, 360HI
3. 3.5 courses from lists #2, #3 and #4 in Specialist program above

Physical and Environmental Geography (Science program)

Specialist program:

(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:

Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:

1. 1.0 courses from GGR100HI, 101HI, 107HI, 124HI A (GGR100HI and 101HI strongly recommended) or 1.0 other courses with permission of department
2. MAT135YI/137YI/PHY131HI, 132HI/151HI, 152HI
3. One course from: BIO150YI/CHM137YI/(138HI, 139HI)/151YI

Higher Years:

4. Three of: GGR201HI, 203HI, 205HI, 206HI
5. GGR270HI, 272HI, GGR390HI

Geography Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), GGR courses are classified in various categories; see entry at end of each course.

INX199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SSCI99HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SCII99HI First Year Seminar [26S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

NOTE

Prerequisites: In some cases prerequisites may be waived if equivalent background exists. Please consult the Undergraduate Coordinator or instructor.

GGR100HI Introduction to Physical Geography [26L, 4P]

Introduction to physical geography, with an earth systems approach. Topics include the atmosphere, weather and climate, Earth materials and plate tectonics, geomorphic processes and the genesis of landforms, glaciers, soils, and world biomes. Emphases placed on processes, energy flows, cycles and scale. Lab exercises and a local field trip provide practical experience with each major topic.

Exclusion: GGR100YI

GGR101HI Ancient Civilizations and their Environments [26L, 4T]

This course focuses on the rise and fall of ancient civilizations (i.e. Mesopotamia, China, India, Inca, Aztec) within the context of (1) environmental barriers encountered during the development of city-states, (2) the technology advancement made to overcome physical and climate barriers, and (3) the ways in which natural resources were exploited by ancient cultures.

Exclusion: ENV236YI

This is a Science course

GGR107HI Environment, Food and People [26L, 5T]

Examines the relationship between population growth, agricultural development and the natural environment, from the origin of agriculture to the present day. Focuses on environmental change due to human activity, and the prospects for a sustainable human society.

Exclusion: GGR101YI, 110YI, 107YI

GGR124HI Urbanization, Contemporary Cities and Urban Life [36L, 3T]

Introduction to the urban process. From the origin of cities to global urbanization; the evolution of systems of cities; uneven growth and the functional specialization of cities; globalization and economic restructuring, migration, public policies. World cities. Dynamics of urban property markets, population and demography, job location, housing, mobility and neighbourhood change, social structure and spatial inequalities. Planning, politics and policy issues in U.S. and Canadian cities.

Exclusion: GGR124YI

GGR201HI Geomorphology [26L, 4P]

An introduction to the principles of geomorphology; earth materials; major features of crustal morphology; landforming processes of water, wind, waves and ice; human impact on earth surface processes. One hour laboratory session approximately every other week; a local field trip.

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI

This is a Science course

GGR203HI Introduction to Climatology [34L, 4T]

Introduction to the large scale processes responsible for determining global and regional climate and atmospheric circulation patterns, as well as the small scale processes responsible for determining the microclimates of specific environments.

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI; MAT135YI/137YI;

PHY131HI, 132HI/151HI, 152HI

This is a Science course

GGR205HI Introduction to Soil Science [26L]

Introduction to soil science dealing with the chemical, physical, and biological properties of soils; soil formation and development; the classification of soils, and the application of soil science to environmental, agricultural and forestry issues.

Recommended preparation: CHM137YI/(138HI, 139HI);

GGR100HI

This is a Science course

GGR206HI Introduction to Hydrology [30L, 4T]

An introduction to the hydrologic cycle with emphasis on the physical processes, including precipitation, interception, evaporation, runoff, ground water and soil water. Basic hydrological models will be practised.

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI; MAT135YI

GGR216HI Global Cities [26L]

With films, fiction and critical theory, this course explores global cities from around the world by looking at their everyday life: the people of these cities; how they got to be there; what they do; and how their lives are being shaped by increasingly globalized political, economic and cultural forces.

JGI216HI Urbanization & Global Change [26L]

In this course, we examine the processes of globalization, mass urbanization and economic change that are taking place in cities around the world. This includes an interdisciplinary exploration of the industrial and economic changes that have ensued as a result of globalization, as well as the social and cultural manifestations associated with the emergence of global cities.

Recommended preparation: GGR124HI

GGR220HI The Spatial Organization of Economic Activity [26L, 2T]

This course focuses on theoretical and empirical topics aimed at describing, analyzing and explaining the spatial distribution of economic activity at macro- and micro-spatial-scales. Topics covered could include theories of regional economic growth and change, issues surrounding uneven development in space, the empirical definition of regional economic systems, and the measurement of economic growth and structural change.

Exclusion: GGR220YI

GGR221HI New Economic Spaces [26L]

This course provides an introduction to economic geography and economic geography theory from the 1970s on, illustrating the different ways that geographers have conceptualized the restructuring of resource industries, manufacturing and services. The crisis of Fordism and the rise of new production models will be given particular attention, along with the reorganization of finance, the rise of cultural industries and the globalization of commodity chains. New regimes of governance of the economy will also be considered.

Exclusion: GGR220YI

JGE221YI Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Environment [52L, 5P, 10T]

The foundation for students in the Centre for Environment programs and the Environment and Resource Management Program in Geography, this course examines the social, ethical and biophysical dimensions of one or more selected environmental issues such as air pollution and climate change, why these issues need to be addressed, and some approaches for doing so. Draws from relevant interdisciplinary domains in an examination of environmental degradation, the responses of various actors and models for a more sustainable future. The environmental issues discussed vary from year to year.

Exclusion: JIE 222Y1/GGR 233Y1

Recommended Preparation: GGR 100Y1/(100HI,101HI)/107Y1/(107HI,124HI)

This is a social science course.

GGR240HI Historical Geography of North America [26L]

An introduction to the historical geography of North America from the pre-Columbian period to the present. Topics include European imperialism, staple economies, colonial settlement, railroads and the West, industrialization and urbanization, sovereignty and security, environmental and agricultural change, and regional identities.

GGR241HI Historical Geographies of Urban Exclusion and Segregation [26L]

An introduction to the historical geography of urban social exclusion and segregation after 1750. Using a selection of cities from around the world (such as Berlin, Lagos, Los Angeles, Manchester, Mumbai, Shanghai and Toronto), the course examines the impacts and implications of urban social inequalities.

GGR246HI Geography of Canada [26L]

An historical, topical, and regional introduction to the geography of Canada. Primary emphasis is on the resource base, regional differences and disparities, urbanization, industrialization, social and economic policy and population change.

GGR249HI Contemporary Latin America [26L]

Conflict between the conservatism of long-established patterns of settlement and land use and the drive for economic development. Agricultural reform; colonization of the interior; emergence of industrial regions; growth of large cities. Case studies of the problems of regional development. Latin America in world trade. Trade relations with Canada. (Offered in alternate years)

GGR252HI Marketing Geography [26L, 4T]

The problem of retail location. The spatial structure of consumer demand and retail facilities. Shopping centres and retail chains. Techniques for site selection and trade area evaluation, location strategies, retail planning.

GGR254HI Geography USA [26L]

After a brief historical overview, focuses on contemporary issues in American society: economy, politics, race, regional distinctions and disparities, urban development and the U.S. as world power.

This is a Social Science course

GGR256HI Recreation and Tourism [26L]

Introduction to spatial organization and environmental impact of recreation. Prediction of demand, problems of over-use, ecological risks, conflicts of interests, planning perspectives, Canada's tourist trade.

This is a Social Science course

GGR270HI Introductory Analytical Methods [39L, 13T]

Theory and practical application of elementary quantitative techniques in geography emphasizing descriptive, inferential and spatial statistical analysis, probability, and sampling.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/ECO227Y1/GGR270Y1/PSY201HI/SOC202HI/SOC200Y1/SOC300Y1/STA220HI/STA250HI/STA248HI/STA261HI

Pre- or Co-requisite: Two courses in Geography

This is a Social Science course

GGR271HI Social Research Methods [26L]

Practical course on field methods designed to enable students to carry out their own research projects. Behavioural observation, interviewing, questionnaire design, sampling theory, content analysis of written and graphic material, data coding and focus groups.

Exclusions: SOC200HI/SOC204HI/POL242/WDW350

Prerequisite : GGR270HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR272HI Geographic Information and Mapping I [26L, 24P]

Introduction to digital mapping and spatial analysis using geographic information systems (GIS). Students learn how to use GIS software to find, edit, analyze and map geographic data to create their own maps, analyze geographic problems and use techniques that can be applied to a variety of subject areas.

This is a Social Science course

GGR273HI Geographic Information and Mapping II [26L, 24P]

Builds on GGR272HI by providing students with practical spatial analysis methods and the underlying theory needed to understand how to approach various geographic problems using geographic information system (GIS) software and a variety of data types and sources.

Prerequisite: GGR272HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

GGR300HI Special Topics in Geography I [26L]

Content in any given year depends on instructor. The program in which the course can be used depends on its content. Consult Department Office in April.

GGR301HI Fluvial Geomorphology [26L, 4P]

Elements of drainage basin morphology and hydrology, classification of rivers, stream patterns and hydraulic geometry. Elements of open channel flow, sediment transport and the paleohydrology of river systems. River channel adjustments to environmental change, human impact and the management/design of river habitats. Exercises include experimentation in a laboratory flume.

Prerequisite: GGR100HI or GGR201HI, 270HI (or equivalent)

GGR302HI Quaternary Paleoclimatic Reconstruction [26L, 4P]

Principles underlying use of ice cores, marine sediments, lake sediments, tree rings, coral reefs, and pollen to reconstruct past climates. Exercises involve downloading, plotting, and analysing proxy climatic data that are available over the Internet. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite : GGR201HI/203HI

GGR303HI Climate-Biosphere Interactions [26L]

Discussion of the exchange of energy and matter (carbon, water) between the Earth's biosphere (terrestrial vegetation) and atmosphere, with a focus on processes underlying key feedbacks on regional climate. Examples will be taken from research on contemporary as well as paleoclimate systems. Case studies to include how human disturbances like land-use change or future climate change may alter these processes. Prerequisite : Equivalent of one full-year science course at the 200-level, or permission from the instructor.

GGR305HI Biogeography [26 L]

The course identifies and explains plant and animal distributions through space and time. Topics covered include ecological and evolutionary dynamics, disturbance, dispersal, migration, continental drift, paleoenvironments and island biogeography. We will also examine terrestrial and marine biomes, microbial ecosystems and address recent biogeographic changes associated with human impact.

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI or BIO150Y

GGR307HI Soil and Water: Landscape Processes [26L, 10P]

An introduction to physical and chemical processes operating at micro- to landscape scales and their effects on soil and water quality. Discussion of anthropogenic impacts and management and conservation issues. Local and international case studies.

Recommended preparation: GGR205HI, GGR206HI

GGR310HI Cultural Biogeography [26L]

The changing relationship between people and the biosphere from the emergence of hominids to the present. Environmental constraints on human evolution, hunter-gatherer societies and their environmental impacts, evolution of agriculture and consequences of increasing population and technology, including deliberate and inadvertent introductions of plants and animals and forest fragmentation. (Offered in alternate years)

Recommended preparation: ANT200Y1/BOT430HI/GGR305HI

GGR314HI Global Warming [26L]

A comprehensive examination of the greenhouse warming problem, beginning with economic, carbon cycle, and climate model projections; impacts on and adaptive responses of agriculture, forests, fisheries, and water resources; abatement options; technical and institutional issues.

This is a Social Science or a Science course

GGR320HI Geographies of Transnationalism, Migration, and Gender [26L]

This course examines recent changes in global migration processes. Specifically, the course addresses the transnationalization and feminization of migrant populations and various segments of the global labor force. The coursework focuses on analyzing classical paradigms in migration studies, as well as emerging theoretical approaches to gender and migration. In addition, it traces the shifting empirical trends in gendered employment and mobility patterns. It uses in-depth case study material to query the frameworks employed in migration studies and to understand the grounded implications of gendered migration. It pays particular attention to the interventions made by feminist geographers in debates about work, migration, place, and space.

JUG320HI The Canadian Wilderness [26L]

The idea of wilderness permeates narratives of Canadian national identity, while policy-makers seek to manage and contain natural areas. This course compares and contrasts historical and contemporary wilderness narratives in literature, painting and film with policies in areas such as conservation, urban planning, land claims and tourism.

JAG321HI Aboriginal People and Environmental Issues in Canada [26L]

This course explores Aboriginal views of environment and resource management from pre-European contact times through to the present from an Aboriginal perspective. Emphasis will be placed on the emerging role of Aboriginal people in environmental and resource management in Canada. Topics to be covered include: history of Aboriginal/non-Aboriginal relations, Aboriginal world view and philosophy, Aboriginal environmental ethics and principles and current environmental issues confronting Aboriginal people.

Prerequisite: Two credits in Geography or Aboriginal Studies

This is a Social Science course

GGR323HI Issues in Population Geography [26L]

Explores issues in geographies of population at a variety of scales from global to local. Issues include demographic patterns and population change, fertility, families and cohorts, mortality, and migration and immigration.

GGR324HI Transportation Geography and Planning [26L]

An introductory overview of major issues in interurban and intraurban transportation at both local and national scales. Topics include causes of spatial interaction, graph theory and network analysis, gravity and entropy-maximizing models, urban transportation and land use, congestion, public transit and transport policy.

Prerequisite: GGR124HI/220HI/221HI or permission of instructor

Recommended preparation: GGR270HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR327HI Geography and Gender [26L]

An introduction to the work of feminist geographers. The course will explore the relationship between gender and space, emphasizing spatial cognition, architecture, and layout of the city.

Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography

This is a Social Science course

GGR328HI Labour Geographies [26L]

This course explores changes in the nature of work and the structure and geography of labour markets. Topics will include globalization, lean production, flexibility and risk, industrial relations, workfare, the body at work, and gender and work.

Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography

This is a Social Science course

GGR330HI Atmosphere and Human Health [26L]

Human activities are altering the Earth's climate and changing the chemistry of the Earth's atmosphere. Globally, climate change and stratospheric ozone depletion, and regionally,

Geography

acid precipitation, air toxics, particulate matter, and smog are receiving much attention. This course discusses these air quality issues, the human health impacts of these problems, and possible solutions

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI or equivalent
This is a Social Science course

GGR331HI Resource and Environmental Theory [26L]

Introduction to and critical evaluation of major social theoretical paradigms applied to environmental and natural resource politics and regulation. Topics include: neo-classical approaches, eco-Marxism, political ecology, social constructivism, production of nature, ecological modernization, tragedy of the commons, staples theory, science and administrative rationalism. Prerequisite: GGR100HI/107HI/JGE221YI

This is a Social Science course

GGR332HI Urban Waste Management [26L]

This course examines 1) factors affecting the spatial distribution of wastes; and 2) models and policy implications inherent in all aspects of waste management, from waste generation through recycling and waste disposal. Contrasting waste management practices in the developed and the developing world is a central theme.

Prerequisite: JGE221YI/200-level environmental course
This is a Social Science course

GGR333HI Energy Supply and Use [26L, 7T]

Examines the technical and economic potential of advanced fossil-fuel-supply technologies, renewable energy (solar, wind, biomass, geothermal, ocean, hydro), and the potential for more efficient end use of energy in the residential, commercial, industrial, and transportation sectors. Also discusses: innovative energy systems, global scenarios, policy implications.

Exclusion: JGE347HI, 348HI

GGR334HI Water Resource Management [26L]

Managing demand and supply; linkages between water quality and human health. Case studies from the industrial world and from developing countries, rural and urban. Implications of population growth and climate change for water resource management.

Recommended preparation: GGR100HI/107HI, JGE221YI

This is a Social Science course

GGR335HI Business and Environmental Change [26L]

Steadily increasing pressure on biospheric resources (eg. water) and sinks (eg. the atmosphere) requires business to adapt and innovate, while simultaneously responding to globalization and the information revolution. Examples include the financial services sector, as well as energy, transportation, tourism and resource-based industries.

Recommended preparation: JGE221YI

This is a Social Science course

GGR336HI Urban Historical Geography of North America [26L]

Processes of urbanization; development of urban systems; changing internal patterns: central area, residential districts, housing, transportation, reform and planning movements. Emphasis on the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century.

Recommended preparation: GGR124HI/SOC205YI

GGR337HI Environmental Remote Sensing [26L, 26P]

Principles of optical, active and passive microwave remote sensing; satellite orbit and sensor characteristics; image processing and analysis techniques and software; and environmental remote sensing principles.

Prerequisite: GGR272HI

GGR338HI Environmental Problems in Developing Countries [26L]

Describes and analyses a broad range of the key environmental issues currently facing developing countries from geographical perspectives. Emphasis is on air pollution, water contamination and treatment, residential and industrial solid waste collection and management, with multimedia and written examples drawn from throughout the developing world.

Prerequisite: 200-level environmental course

This is a Social Science course

GGR339HI Urban Geography, Planning and Political Processes [26L]

The interdependence of political processes and institutions, public policy and urban geography. The political economy of federalism, urban growth, planning and public services as they shape the urban landscape. The spaces of the city as the negotiated outcomes of variously empowered people and the meanings they ascribe to localities and places. Approaches informed by post-colonial, post-modern, and feminist perspectives. Canadian, U.S. and European comparisons.

Prerequisite: GGR124HI, 246HI/254HI

GGR341HI Arctic Canada [26L]

An introduction to Canada's arctic and subarctic regions 'north of 60', an examination of physical processes that have shaped the region, as well as environmental, social, economic and political themes covering topics such as exploration and settlement, aboriginal land claims, wildlife and resource management, economic development and other current issues.

Recommended Preparation: Two courses in Geography

GGR342HI The Changing Geography of Southeast Asia [26L]

Examines changes in the social, political and economic geography of Southeast Asian countries. Examples drawn from Thailand, Singapore, Indonesia, Vietnam and the Philippines as these emerging newly industrialized countries enter the 21st century. Emphasis on political-economy, urbanization and environment since 1950.

Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography

GGR343HI The Changing Geography of China [26L]

The evolving physical, social, political and economic landscape of China. Focus on development strategies, industry, agriculture, urbanization and the environment since 1949. Special attention paid to the character and impact of China's on-going transition from a planned to market economy.

Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography

This is a Social Science course

GGR344HI Changing Geography of Russia and Ukraine [26L]

Overview of the physical environment and historical geography; changes in population distribution during the Soviet period; current demographic and ethnic problems; the rural economy; urbanization, industrial location, and regional development issues.

Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

JGI346HI The Urban Planning Process [26L]

An overview of how planning tools and practice shape the built form of cities. This course introduces twentieth century physical planning within its historical, social, legal, and political contests. Community and urban design issues are addressed at local and regional scales and in both central cities and suburbs. The focus is on Toronto and the Canadian experience, with comparative examples from the other counties, primarily the United States.

Recommended preparation: GGR124HI

JGE347HI Efficient Use of Energy [24L, 6T]

The course examines the options available for dramatically reducing our use of primary energy with no reduction in meaningful energy services, through more efficient use of energy at the scale of energy-using devices and of entire energy systems. Topics covered include generation of electricity from fossil fuels and energy use in buildings, transportation, industry and agriculture.

Exclusion: GGR333HI

Recommended preparation: First year math and/or physics

This is a Science course

JGE348HI Carbon-Free Energy [26L, 6T]

The course examines the options available for providing energy from carbon-free energy sources: solar, wind, biomass, hydro, oceanic, geothermal energy, as well as through sequestration of carbon from fossil fuel sources. The hydrogen economy is also discussed.

Recommended preparation: First year math and/or physics

Prerequisite: JGE347HI or permission of instructor

Exclusion: GGR333HI

GGR350HI Canada in a Global Context [26L]

This course considers geographic relationships between Canada and the world in the era of globalization, from the colonial period to the present. Local and regional sites will be linked to cultural, economic, environmental, and political processes occurring at a global scale. Key themes will include trade and investment, nationalism and identity, and Canadian geopolitics.

Prerequisite: 1.0 GGR courses

GGR357HI Geography of Housing and Housing Policy [26L]

An introduction to housing in context: as a commodity, a political process and social necessity. The analysis of housing markets in an urban and spatial context, emphasizing the allocation mechanism, residential location and tenure choice, the role of the state, social housing and the relationships of housing changes to mobility, neighbourhood transition, and social equity. Case studies of specific policy issues and alternative housing strategies.

Recommended Preparation: GGR124HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR360HI Culture, History, and Landscape [26L]

The history of approaches to the idea of landscape. A consideration of the origins and uses of the term in geographical inquiry will be followed by a series of case studies, global in scope, from the Early Modern period to the present. Emphasis will be placed on the representational aspects of landscapes, as well as struggles over their definition, interpretation, and use.

Prerequisite: 1.0 GGR courses

This is a Humanities course

GGR361HI Understanding the Urban Landscape [26L]

Three related themes are discussed: the underlying social, cultural and economic forces that have given cities their form and image; various aesthetic and political philosophies that have been put into practice in constructing the urban landscape; and recent European and North American attempts to control the landscape of the contemporary metropolis by the application of urban policy and planning.

Recommended Preparation: GGR124HI and one of GGR216HI, GGR240HI, GGR246HI, GGR249HI or GGR259HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR363HI Critical Geographies: An Introduction to Radical Ideas on Space, Society and Culture [39L]

This course introduces a diversity of critical perspectives in human geography, spanning anarchism, Marxism, feminism, sexual politics, 'postcolonialism' and anti-racism. In so doing it illustrates how such a range of radical ideas about space, society and culture have emerged and influenced our thought and action.

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

GGR366HI Historical Toronto [26L]

Toronto's development compared to other large North American cities. Culture, social life, economy, politics, and planning process.

Recommended preparation: GGR336HI

This is a Humanities course

GGR368HI Geography of Language [26L]

Topics in the distribution and spread of languages and dialects, including dialect atlases, innovation diffusion, measures of dialect distance, and linguistic consequences of urbanization and mobility. Rudiments of phonetics and grammar are integrated in the geolinguistic content.

Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

GGR371HI Advanced Quantitative Methods in Geography [26L]

This course is designed to give students exposure to advanced quantitative techniques including inferential applications of the simple regression model, multiple regression analysis (MRA), data screening for MRA, model building issues in MRA, qualitative independent variable models, discrete choice models, cluster analysis and forecasting methods.

Prerequisite: GGR270HI

GGR373HI Advanced Geographic Information Systems [26L, 24P]

Advanced theory, techniques, and applications in geographic information systems (GIS), including interpolation, geostatistics, modeling, and raster and vector analysis. GIS project design and implementation.

Prerequisite: GGR273HI

GGR390HI Field Methods [TBA]

Introduction to field methods in vegetation mapping/analysis, soils, hydrology and geomorphology. The course includes exercises and a project during a one-week field camp early in September, a little preparation during the preceding summer, and complementary practical work and/or seminars during the Fall Term. Each student is required to pay the costs of their transportation and accommodation. Students must register with the Department by April. Course may be limited by size.

Prerequisite: GGR100HI and 0.5 from GGR201HI, 203HI, 205HI, 206HI, 305HI

GGR391HI Research Design [26S]

A seminar course in which each student prepares a research proposal incorporating relevant theory, published research, sources of data, and methods of enquiry and analysis. A proposal prepared in this course may be used to plan research for GGR 491Y1.

Prerequisite: 3.0 300/400-series GGR courses

This is a Social Science course

GGR393HI Environmental Impact Assessment [26L, 4T]

Environmental impact assessment as a mechanism for avoiding or mediating the costs of development. Emphasis on the institutional development of EIA in Canada, and EIA in the context of environmental regulation. Includes case studies of EIA statements and processes at various levels of government. Prerequisite: GGR100HI/107HI/JGE221Y1

GGR398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

GGR399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

GGR400HI Special Topics in Geography II [26S]

Content in any given year depends on instructor. The program in which this course can be used depends on its context. Consult Departmental Office in April.

GGR403HI Global Ecology and Biogeochemical Cycles [26L]

Seminar course on biogeochemical cycling of carbon, water, nitrogen, phosphorus, sulfur, and iron between the Earth's atmosphere, oceans, and biosphere. Focus will be placed on the global carbon cycle, including how other biogeochemical cycles feedback on carbon-based processes and mechanisms. Examples and case studies will be taken from research on contemporary as well as paleoclimate systems.

Prerequisite: Equivalent of two full-year courses at the 300 or 400 level, or permission from the instructor.

GGR409HI Contaminants in the Environment [26L, 11T]

The environmental behaviour and toxicology of inorganic and organic chemical contaminants is discussed in order to understand the scientific basis of pollution concerns. Theory is illustrated with qualitative and quantitative examples and case studies that extend from chemical emissions to health effects. Faculty is gained with simple mathematical models. The interface between science and policy are discussed throughout.

Prerequisite: CHM137Y1/(138HI, 139HI)/151Y1/GGR205HI

GGR413HI Watershed Hydroecology [26L]

Modern developments in hydrology and ecology, including form and process models, interactions of hydrology, ecology and geomorphology; the course emphasizes use of computer simulation models of drainage basin processes.

Prerequisite: GGR201HI/206HI/270HI

This is a Science course

GGR415HI Resource and Environmental Planning [26L]

The policy and institutional aspects of resource and environmental planning in Canada. Overview of the evolution of resource and environmental management and the examination of selected planning techniques; community involvement in planning; the ecosystem approach to planning; emphasis on environmental planning in the urban context.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/200-level environmental course

This is a Social Science course

GGR418HI Political Economy of Natural Resources [26S]

Examines political aspects of the appropriation of natural resources, including policy and regulation, environmental impacts, and social justice. Emphasis is placed on reading contemporary literature on the politics of resource access and control from geography and other social science disciplines.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1

GGR421HI History & Philosophy of Geography [26S]

The history of geography as an intellectual subject, focusing primarily on the modern period, and on the genealogy of central concepts such as region, landscape, and place. Disciplinary developments will be situated next to broader contexts, including imperialism and militarism, the relationship between culture and nature, and the shifting social role of the academy.

Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography

GGR431HI Regional Dynamics [26L]

Theory and analysis of regional economic change with emphasis on North America and Western Europe. Export-base, neoclassical, increasing returns, and political-economic explanations of regional growth and decline, globalization, knowledge-based economy and the role of regions. Geography of technological change, labour-markets and labour relations. Objectives and approaches for local and regional development policy, including talent-based strategies for enhancing local creativity.

Prerequisite: GGR220HI, 221HI, 270HI

GGR439HI Global Political Geography [26S]

Introduction to geopolitical theories. Emphasis on the development of the nation state, theories of land claims and the territorial manifestations of nationalism. Will examine recent theoretical as well as empirical challenges to many of the conventional geopolitical assumptions about scale, space, and power in global politics. Please note that this course is open to students who have taken GGR239HI (formerly Global Political Geography).

Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography or permission of instructor.

Recommended preparation: This course should not be attempted until you have completed two years of full-time study or the equivalent number of credits part-time.

This is a Social Science course

GGR450HI Medical Geography [26L]

This course is an introduction to medical geography. It includes the following topics: concepts and techniques of medical geography; human ecology of disease; regional patterns of diseases; biometeorological influences on health and disease; health effects of environmental modification and contamination; disease diffusion; spatial distribution of health care resources; and emerging and re-emerging infections.

Prerequisite: GGR270HI

Recommended preparation: BIO 150Y1 or equivalent

This is a Social Science course

GGR451HI Health and Place [26L]

An exploration of the aspects of health in which place or location matters. Particular attention will be paid to the role of environments (physical, social, etc.) in explaining differences in health between places, the structuring of health-related behaviour in place, and the development of health policy for places.

Prerequisite: JGE221Y1

Recommended preparation: GGR270HI

This is a Social Science course

GGR452HI Space, Power, Geography: Understanding Spatiality [26S]

The changing nature of space and our thinking about it, centering on works of contemporary geographers and spatial theorists such as Lefebvre, Soja, Gregory, Harvey, Massey and challenges to this thinking. Explores changing concepts of spatiality that inform geographic thought and help us understand the ways political, economic and social power is constituted and contested.

Prerequisite: At least one (or an equivalent) of GGR327HI, 328HI, 339HI, 360HI, 362HI, 363HI

JGI454HI The Role of the Planner: Making a Difference [26L]

This course will focus on the role of a planning practitioner in contemporary society using a wealth of examples drawn from recent issues and debates in Canadian cities and regions. The course will walk students through the demands made of planners in terms of both technical expertise as well as political necessity and ask them to think actively about how to prepare for the extraordinary growth of cities during the next century. Examples of issues that will be discussed in some detail include the myths surrounding the city vs. the suburbs, the creativity and passion involved in planning work and the need to see Toronto's future from a regional perspective.

Prerequisite: 15 credits, 5.0 of which must be GGR/INI Urban Studies

GGR457HI The Post-War Suburbs [26L]

This course investigates post-war suburbs, beginning with an examination of their competing contemporary meanings. It considers images of prosperous private enclaves, of declining and difficult to access places, of racialized and segregated areas, of banality and homogeneity, of precarity and polarization, and of creative social struggles. It assesses these different visions through an analysis of urban growth and change since WWII. The course will focus on themes of public and private space; class, race and segregation; gender and suburban space; immigration; 'urban sprawl', and the changing social and economic geography of the suburbs. It examines North American areas, with examples from Australia and Europe.

Prerequisite: 10 FCEs

GGR458HI Advanced Topics in Urban Geography [26L]

Though there is some debate about the actual moment, we have either already surpassed or will very soon exceed the point when over 50 percent of the earth's inhabitants live in cities. In most developed countries, the rate of urbanization is well over 70 percent already. In short, the twenty-first century is rapidly shaping up as the urban century. The social, economic and political significance of cities is thus increasingly important to understand. This course will cover advanced work on the geography of cities to further this understanding. The first third of the course will cover foundational ideas in urban geography while the final two thirds will cover two separate contemporary topics in the field. The course will be useful for those broadly interested in the topic or more particularly interested in preparing for a career in urban planning or policymaking.

Prerequisite: 10 FCEs

GGR462HI GIS Research Project

Students work in groups to develop their own research project and then acquire, organize and analyze geographic data to complete it. Emphasis is placed on research design, project management and the application of GIS concepts and skills learned in previous courses to a practical problem.

Prerequisite: GGR272HI, 373HI, and two other GGR courses

JFG470HI Forest Management [26L]

Application of operational research and information technology to develop decision support systems for forest land management planning. Basic principles of mathematical programming, simulation and decision analysis, and their application to planning for forest conservation and sustainable development, policy analysis and other land management planning problems.

Prerequisite: One course in quantitative methods or linear algebra

Recommended preparation: GGR270HI/ECO220Y1/227Y1/MAT133Y1/223HI

GGR473HI Cartographic Design [13L, 26P]

The design and production of maps using GIS cartographic and graphics software packages. Map perception and map use, principles and elements of cartographic design, data acquisition and manipulation, production and reproduction of maps and atlases. Practical exercises culminate in a major project in thematic map design.

Prerequisite: GGR272HI, 273HI

JFG475HI Emergency Response Systems Planning [26L]

Use of operational research and information technology to develop mathematical models and decision support systems to design and evaluate the performance of emergency response systems. Forest fire management systems are used to illustrate the basic principles of emergency response system planning that can also be applied to urban fire, police, and ambulance services.

Geography

Prerequisite: One course quantitative methods or calculus

Recommended preparation: GGR270HI/ECO220YI/227YI/
MAT133YI/135YI/137YI

GGR490HI Advanced Field Research- Physical Geography [TBA]

A two-week course emphasizing the use of advanced field methods for analyzing the pattern of variations in vegetation, soils, surface hydrology and geomorphology in montane and alpine environments. Course is offered in August at the University of Calgary's field station, Kananaskis, Alberta. Students are responsible for the cost of board, lodging and transport to and from the field. Students must register with the Department in March. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: Two Physical/Environmental courses or permission of instructors

Recommended preparation: GGR390HI

This is a Science course

GGR491YI Research Project

A course specially designed for students wishing to gain experience in conducting research in their area of specialization. Of particular value for geographers interested in graduate study, or positions in government, planning and consulting firms where research skills may be an asset. Students select a research problem and complete a project under the supervision of a faculty member. Enrolment requires written permission from a faculty supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator; early discussion with a likely supervisor is encouraged. Enrolment may be completed at any time up to September; open to students in a Specialist or Major Program sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Prerequisite: 10 credits

GGR492HI Senior Practicum

Students design and implement an independent applied geography/planning project in consultation with an NGO or government organization, who will act as their "client." Enrolment requires written permission from a staff supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.

GGR498HI Independent Research I

An independent research extension to one of the courses already completed in Physical Geography. Enrolment requires written permission from a faculty supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who have completed 10 credits and who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.

GGR499HI Independent Research II

An independent research extension to one of the courses already completed in a social science or humanities branch of Geography. Enrolment requires written permission from a faculty supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who have completed 10 credits and who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.

This is a Social Science or Humanities course

Geology means "Study of the Earth." This covers everything from the origin of the Earth and its position in the Solar System, to the physical, chemical and biological processes which have brought the Earth through its 4.5 billion year history to the present time, when society itself can be seen as an agent of geological change. Besides the fundamental studies of rocks, minerals and fossils, Geology is concerned with the exploration and responsible recovery of vital resources such as metalliferous ores, coal, petroleum, natural gas, industrial minerals and groundwater. An understanding of the way the Earth works is important to achieve effective protection of the environment. Hence, geologists are widely employed in problems of urban development, water and soil pollution, waste disposal, earthquake and volcanic risk assessment, public policy and resource management. Under the Professional Geoscientists Act of 2000, individuals practising Geoscience in Ontario require education equivalent to the one of the Specialist Programs listed below or a P.Eng.

Four Specialist Programs are offered: Geology, Environmental Geosciences, Geology and Physics, and Chemistry and Geology. Major and Minor programs are offered in Geology as well as a Major program in the Environmental Geosciences. Students are encouraged to discuss their plans on program and course selection with the Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies) or Program Supervisor. Students wishing to enter a Geology Specialist program should have taken the following courses in Grade 12: English ENG4U, Chemistry SCH4U, Physics SPH4U, and Functions MCB4U or equivalent.

The Professional Experience Year (PEY) program (see Student Services and Resources in this Calendar) is available to eligible students after their third year of study. The PEY program is an optional 16-month work term which provides industrial experience; its length gives students the opportunity to enjoy the rewarding experience of initiating and completing a major project.

More information about undergraduate studies in Geology is contained in a booklet which is available from the departmental office (ESC 1066). Additional courses with geological content are listed in the Calendar of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.

Geology Programs

The introductory 100-level course GLG102HI is strongly recommended for enrolment in all programs in the Department of Geology. No minimum GPA is required.

Geology (Science program)

Consult the Undergraduate Coordinator, Department of Geology, Earth Sciences Centre

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
required: CHM 151YI/(138HI, 139HI); MAT 135YI/137YI; PHY (131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI);
recommended: BIO 150YI and GLG102HI
Second Year:

Geology

---

GLG 202HI; GLG204HI; GLG 206HI, GLG207HI, GLG216HI, GLG217HI; MAT 223HI

recommended: STA220HI

Third Year:

GLG 318HI, 340HI, 345HI, 351HI, 360HI; ENV 315HI

Fourth Year

1. GLG 445HI, GLG470YI
2. 3.0 full 400-series GLG or JGP courses

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

required: CHM 151YI/(138HI, 139HI); MAT 135YI/137YI; PHY
(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)

recommended: BIO 150YI and GLG102HI

Second Year:

GLG 206HI, 207HI, 216HI, 217HI

Higher Years:

1. GLG 340HI
2. 2.5 courses from 300/400-series GLG courses/ENV 315HI/
JGP 438HI

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Four full course equivalents of which one full course or equivalent is at the 300/400-level

First and Second Years:

Two full course equivalents from 100-series or 200-series GLG courses including no more than one full course equivalent at the 100 level; GLG102 is recommended; one full course equivalent of 100-series CHM, BIO, or PHY courses

Third Year:

One full course equivalent from 300/400-series GLG courses/
ENV 315HI/JGP 438HI

NOTE:

Some GLG courses have CHM/MAT/PHY prerequisites

Environmental Geosciences - See Centre for Environment

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent with at least one course at the 400-level)

First Year:

CHM 151YI; MAT 137YI; PHY (151HI, 152HI); GLG102HI is recommended

Second Year:

GLG 206HI, 207HI, 216HI, 217HI; MAT 237YI, 244HI; PHY
251HI, 255HI

Third Year:

APM 346HI; GLG 345HI; PHY 225HI, 308HI, 351HI, 352HI

Fourth Year:

1. GLG 340HI
2. 1.5 300/400-series GLG courses
3. 1.5 300/400-series PHY courses

Note:

1. Students are encouraged to select courses on the basis of a coherent theme such as Exploration Geology and Geophysics, Global Tectonics, or Environmental Geodynamics.
2. Students are required to register with the Departments and have their programs approved.

Geology Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all GLG courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

SC1199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SC1199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

GLG102HI Earth Science [26L, 26P]

Introduction to the functioning of the Earth as a chemical and physical system. Topics include formation of the Earth from the solar nebula, radioactive decay and age dating, meteorite impacts, melting and crystallization of rocks, erosion and sedimentation, the carbon cycle and its effects on climate, and the transport and remediation of pollutants in the environment.
Prerequisites: Grade 12 Chemistry SCH4U, Physics SPH4U, and Functions MCB4U or equivalent.

GLG103HI Geology in Public Issues [26L]

Geologic hazards: earthquakes, volcanoes, landslides, tsunamis.
The distribution and politics of natural resources, including petroleum and ore deposits. Nuclear power and nuclear waste disposal. Global change: the geologic record of hot and cold climates, and how the earth survives.

GLG103HI is primarily intended as a science Distribution
Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science.

GLG105HI Evolution of the Earth: Controversy over the Last 2300 Years [26L]

The evolution of ideas about the origin and development of the earth from the Athenians to the 20th Century. With attention on whether the earth has an infinite or a finite life; on the evolution and disappearance of species; on the origin of oceans, continents and mountains; on the forces that have shaped the earth's surface; and on the courage of scientists in confronting the religious and political views of their time.

GLG105HI is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science
students.

GLG110HI Introductory Geology [26L]

The nature and evolution of the Earth; plate tectonics; rocks and minerals; volcanism; geological time; fossils; geology of Ontario; environmental issues.

GLG110HI is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science
students

GLG130HI Exploration of the Solar System [26L]

Scientific findings of the solar system exploration program and their application to the origin of the earth and solar system; space resources; search for life on other planets.

Prerequisite: Grade 12 U Chemistry or Physics

GLG202HI Introductory Geochemistry [26L, 39P]

An introduction to thermodynamics, phase diagrams and solution chemistry, with application to geological and environmental processes.

Prerequisite: CHM151Y1/(138HI, 139HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1

GLG204HI Quantitative Methods in Geology [26L, 39P]

An introduction to quantitative approaches to geological problems: use of scalars, vectors and tensors in stress and strain analysis, statistical treatment of geological datasets, heat and mass transfer in earth materials.

Prerequisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1; MAT223HI; PHY (131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)

GLG205HI Confronting Global Change [26L, 8T]

The emergence of society as a major geological force is considered in terms of the evolving debate about the consequences of human activity for the habitability of our planet. Major issues such as climate change, environmental pollution, and depletion of natural resources are examined. GLG205HI is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students

GLG206HI Materials of the Earth [26L, 39P]

An overview of the structural, chemical and optical properties of minerals. Laboratories on the identification of minerals in hand specimen and thin section. A mandatory 2 day field trip in late September.

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1 is recommended

GLG207HI Rock-forming Processes [26L, 39P]

Origin and classification of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks and their associated ore deposits. Emphasis is placed on formation of rock types in the context of plate tectonic theory, and the practical aspects of rock identification in hand sample and thin section.

Prerequisite: GLG206HI

GLG216HI Dynamic Geology [26L, 39P]

A survey of principal physical, biological and chemical processes shaping the Earth. Laboratories will explore these processes in more detail through a series of problem sets.

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI/139HI)/151Y1 is recommended.

GLG217HI Earth Evolution [26L, 39P]

An introduction to the evolution of the biosphere from the earliest stabilization of the Earth's crust. Patterns of evolution and extinction are related to physico-chemical and biologically-mediated changes at the Earth's surface. Laboratories cover major groups of invertebrate fossils, microfossils, their classification and living analogues.

Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1 is recommended

ENV234YI Environmental Biology

See "Centre for Environment"

GLG299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

ENV315HI Chemical Analysis of Environmental Samples

See "Centre for Environment"

GLG318HI Igneous and Metamorphic Processes [26L, 39P]

An overview of the nature and origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks, with particular emphasis on the interpretation of textures and mineral assemblages as they reflect conditions of rock formation. Laboratory exercises familiarise students with the most common igneous and metamorphic rock types, and provide practical examples of the theoretical principles discussed in lectures. This course also has a mandatory weekend field trip to view igneous and metamorphic rocks and structures. The venue for the trip alternates yearly between Bancroft and the Montreal area.

Prerequisite: GLG 202HI, 206HI, 207HI

GLG319HI Metamorphic Processes [26L, 39P]

Descriptive petrography and classification of metamorphic rocks; metamorphic processes and evolution of metamorphic rocks; interpretation of metamorphic rocks.

Prerequisite: GLG 202HI, 206HI, 207HI

GLG340HI Field Course I: White Fish Falls Manitoulin Island [TBA]

A ten-day field course in mid-May or late August. Students are introduced to field geology and to basic field measurement, mapping and documentation techniques in the Espanola - Manitoulin Island area, west of Sudbury. Students are responsible for the cost of board and lodging and transport to and from the field area.

This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department in the preceding term
Prerequisite: GLG207HI, 216HI, 217HI or permission of instructor

GLG345HI Structural Geology [26L, 39P]

The development of geological structures at a variety of scales is examined using the concepts of stress, strain, material behaviour and tectonic setting. Laboratory work focuses on modern methods of structural analysis and their applications in geotechnical engineering and economic geology.

Prerequisite: GLG216HI or MIN 185HI

GLG351HI Geochemical and Biological Regulation of Aqueous Systems [26L, 26P]

An introduction to aqueous environmental geochemistry emphasising the importance of chemical equilibria, mass transport, and microbiological activity in regulating the chemical composition of natural and contaminated systems.

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1; and any 2nd year science course. GLG 202HI is recommended.

GLG360HI Sedimentary Geology [26L, 39P]

An introduction to the methods for studying sedimentary rocks in surface and subsurface. Petrographic description and classification of sedimentary rocks are dealt with in lectures and laboratory exercises, followed by a treatment of the principles of stratigraphic documentation and correlation, facies-analysis methods, and a brief description of depositional systems.

Prerequisite: GLG207HI, 216HI/MIN 185HI

GLG371HI Directed Studies

GLG372YI Directed Studies

An individual study program chosen by the student with the advice of, and under the supervision of, a staff member. Such work may involve obtaining data in the field or lab and analysing it, an interdisciplinary research project, and supervised readings.

Geology

Prerequisite: enrolment in a Geology Major or Specialist Program of Study; completion of at least two full course equivalents of 200-series GLG courses.

GLG398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

GLG399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

GLG423HI Mineralogy [39L]

Crystal chemistry of the major rock forming minerals. The course covers the underlying concepts behind the behaviour of minerals as solid-state materials including: Structure and bonding of minerals, chemical substitutions and solid-state transformations, high temperature and pressure behaviour, chemical weathering and kinetics.

Prerequisite: GLG206HI

GLG430HI Basin Analysis [39L, 13P]

Architecture and evolution of sedimentary basins in relation to plate-tectonic setting and crustal properties. Sequence stratigraphy: sequence models and sequence forcing mechanisms tectonism, eustasy, climate change. The global-cycle-chart controversy. World-wide review of basins in the context of plate tectonics.

Prerequisite: GLG360HI

GLG436HI Paleocological Assessment of Environmental Change [26L, 39P]

The use of proxy data (terrestrial and aquatic microfossils) to infer past environmental conditions. The nature and extent of Quaternary environmental change is considered in the context of assessing current issues such as acidification, metal pollution, eutrophication and global climate change. Paleoenvironmental techniques are applied in the laboratory.

Prerequisite: A 200-level course from one of BIO, GGR, GLG
Recommended preparation: BIO468HI/469YI/GLG217HI

JGP438HI Shallow Crust Geophysics [26L, 39P]

An introduction to the geophysical exploration of the subsurface. Topics include gravity, seismic, magnetic, electrical and electromagnetic surveying and their application in prospecting, hydrogeology, and environmental assessments.
Exclusion: PHY496HI

Prerequisite: GLG345HI or permission of instructor

GLG440HI Advanced Petrology [26L, 39P]

Integrated field, experimental and theoretical approaches to understanding the petrological diversity of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Topics include development of thermobarometers for igneous and metamorphic rocks, the importance of oxygen fugacity in petrogenesis, melting/solidification and metamorphism and igneous activity in the context of global tectonics.

Prerequisite: GLG318HI

GLG441HI Remote Sensing of Earth and the Terrestrial Planets [26L, 39P]

Remote sensing of Earth and terrestrial planets; introduces theory and principles of optical and radar remote sensing. Applications to new planetary data, including those from Earth, Mars, and the Moon, are emphasized. Practical components of the course involve GIS applications for the synthesis and analysis of multiple datasets.

Prerequisite: At least two full course equivalents from any 200-series Science courses.

GLG442HI Mineral Deposits [26L, 39P]

Geology and geochemistry of ore deposits. Origin and interpretation; systematic ore mineralogy, in hand specimen and reflected light microscopy.

Prerequisite: GLG 207HI

GLG443HI Ore Genesis and Exploration Geochemistry [26L, 39P]

Genesis of ore deposits. The basic tools for studying ore genesis such as stable isotopes, fluid inclusions and sulfide mineralogy and their applications to selected types of ores.

Prerequisite: GLG 442HI

GLG445HI Field Course II: Benny Belt [TBA]

Advanced geological mapping project in a challenging field environment. Students learn to compile existing geoscience data, create a geological map and prepare a professional final report on their activities and findings. Students are responsible for the costs of board, lodging and transportation for a 14-day field trip.

This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department during the preceding term.

Prerequisite: GLG207HI, GLG340HI/MIN240F, GLG 345HI or permission of instructor

GLG448HI Field Course III: Chalk River [TBA]

A two-week course in late summer designed to familiarize students in a variety of hydrogeological and biogeochemical field techniques; based at Atomic Energy Canada Laboratories, Chalk River, and includes a mixture of lecture, laboratory and field exercises. Students are responsible for the cost of board and lodging and transport to and from the field area.

This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department during the preceding term.

Prerequisite: GLG351HI or permission of instructor

GLG450HI Contaminant Fate and Transport in Subsurface Environments [26L, 26P]

Drawing primarily on examples from hydrogeology, this course explores physical, chemical and isotopic constraints on contaminant source transport and attenuation

Prerequisite: GLG351HI or permission of instructor

GLG465HI Geodynamics [26L, 39P]

Exploration of physical Earth processes and their relationship to large-scale geological phenomena. Mantle convection as plate tectonic engine; intraplate/plate boundary lithospheric deformation including orogenesis and crustal subsidence. Focus on reconciling geodynamic theory/modelling with geological/geophysical observations.

GLG470YI Research Project [TBA]

Laboratory research emphasizing methods and experimental techniques applicable to geology. Students must obtain the consent of an instructor and register with the Undergraduate Coordinator before enrolling and are urged to do so toward the end of their Third Year. Students are required to give an oral presentation of research results to an open meeting of the Department.

Exclusion: GLG471HI

Prerequisite: Completion of the required 300-level courses in a specialist program involving Geology and permission of the Department

GLG471HI Research Project [TBA]

German-speaking countries enjoy a long tradition at the cultural and political core of Europe. During the last two hundred years their importance has steadily increased, and with the recent developments in eastern Europe their influence seems certain to expand even more.

The importance of the German language has grown correspondingly: it is the second foreign language after English in the countries of central and Eastern Europe, and its use is spreading within the European Community. Learning German opens the door to many fields of intellectual, technical and politico-economic endeavor. German scholars have been leaders in philosophy, the sciences, history, archaeology, sociology and political science. German literature is equally distinguished: writers like Goethe, Kafka, Rilke, Brecht, Mann, Wolf, Grass, Jelinek, etc., have dealt with the widest possible range of human problems and concerns, and have been recognized worldwide.

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures offers courses on literature from the Middle Ages to the present, so that the student may acquire an overview of this significant element of German life and culture. We offer language courses from beginning and intermediate to advanced levels, with practice in reading, writing, comprehending and speaking German, as well as stylistics, linguistics, and the specialized vocabulary and concepts of business. Language and literature instruction is integrated as far as possible, with the aim of teaching students advanced critical literacy in German. The department offers a minor in Yiddish, with instruction offered from beginning and intermediate to advanced levels. German combines well with other modern languages and literatures, and double-majors are encouraged. Students in a variety of programs, such as Cinema Studies, European Studies, Literary Studies, Drama, and others, will benefit from courses in German language, literature and culture.

The Department supports opportunities for students to study and work in Germany, by encouraging participation in programs established by the German government, by Canadian universities, and by our own Arts and Science Faculty's "Study Elsewhere Program." One of these is the exchange program under which Toronto students can spend the academic year at the Humboldt University in Berlin.

A knowledge of German is a virtual necessity for specialists in many disciplines; it is also very useful in certain career areas (e.g., the foreign service, interpretation and translation, librarianship, business and commerce, music, tourism, and of course teaching). The successful completion of a four-year program, including seven approved courses in German, may entitle the student to enter the M.A. or Ph.D. program in the Graduate Division of the Department.

Students entering with some previous knowledge of German but without an OAC or equivalent qualification may be asked to write an initial assessment test and will then be advised to take courses at the appropriate level. Students who have taken German in high school to OAC or equivalent level will normally begin with GER200Y1.

Information on studies in German Language and/or Literature can be obtained from the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies.

German Programs

German Studies (Arts program)

---

Enrolment in the Specialist and Major programs is open to students who have successfully completed four courses and who have the required competence in German. Students without OAC German or equivalent should arrange their courses in consultation with the Department. Students who have any prior experience with German and are taking any GER language course for the first time should contact the Department for details on placement tests.

Specialist program:

(10 full courses or their equivalent)

The Specialist Program requires that at least four of the ten courses must be at the 300+ level and a minimum one full course at the 400+ level.

1. GER100Y1, 150HI
2. GER200Y1, 205HI
3. GER300Y1, 305HI, 310HI
4. GER400HI
5. The remainder of the courses must be chosen from: GER courses at the 200+ level. Of these courses not more than 2 full courses may be taken in English. Permission may be granted to count cognate courses from other departments.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

The Major Program requires that at least three of the seven courses must be at the 300+ level.

1. GER100Y1, 150HI
2. GER200Y1, 205HI
3. GER300Y1, 305HI, 310HI
4. The remainder of the courses must be chosen from GER courses at the 200+ level. Permission may be granted to count cognate courses from other departments. No more than 1.5 full courses may be taken in English.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Four GER full course equivalents, which must be approved by the Department before enrolment in the Second Year. One of these courses must be a 300-level course. No more than 0.5 full courses may be taken in English.

Business German (Arts program)

---

Minor Program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Four GER full course equivalents, including GER370HI and GER470HI. The remainder of the four courses or equivalent must have a GER designator.

German and Linguistics (Arts program)

---

Specialist Program

This specialist program consists of 13 or 14 courses in linguistics and German

Linguistics

For the linguistics requirement, see "Linguistics and Languages Other than English."

German:

(6 full courses or their equivalent)

1. GER100Y1
2. GER200Y1
3. GER300Y1
4. GER400 HI
5. The remainder of the six courses must have a GER designator.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of German participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for German. The study of German is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience, providing students with excellent resources for understanding the culture of the German speaking world. German is now the second foreign language after English in the countries of central and Eastern Europe, and its use is spreading within the European Community. Learning German opens the door to many intellectual, technical, political, and economic fields. Successful study of German demonstrates intelligence, discipline, analytical sophistication, and an excellent memory. The study of any foreign language provides invaluable insights into the varieties of human culture and expression.

The Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success. The Citation in German is available to students who complete GER100Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in GER200Y1 and GER300Y1.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

German - See also Modern Languages and Literatures: Linguistics and Languages

---

Al and Malke Green Yiddish Program (Arts Program)

---

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. GER260Y1
2. GER360HI
3. GER361HI/362HI/363Y/364HI
4. GER462HI
5. The remaining courses should be taken from: GER490HI/490Y1, ENG256Y1, GER100Y1, HIS208Y1/433HI, SLA202HI or other approved cognate courses.

German Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all GER courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

Notes

Students with German-speaking background are expected to consult the Department about their programs. The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their level of language skill.

Reading lists for the various courses are available from the instructor.

Students intending to specialize in German may also consult the Calendar of the University of Toronto Mississauga for additional course offerings which may be counted for specialization.

History is both an art and a science. Historians study the past to understand it in its own terms, to gain insight into how our world has developed, and in order to influence the present. Historical inquiry is a response to the need for information and an understanding of the broad patterns of social, economic, cultural and political development.

The study of history is a crucial part of any liberal arts program. To understand our own society and the forces for change that are propelling it towards an uncertain future, it is necessary to understand something of the past. Every political institution, social value and economic custom is itself the result of past change and is simultaneously being transformed. It is as difficult for us to appreciate our own society without some sense of how different things were in the past as it is for individuals to understand themselves without the aid of personal and family memory.

The Department of History offers a wide range of courses that are tailored to meet the needs of students at every stage of their undergraduate careers. The 100-series courses are designed for students who are new to the University. They cover a wide chronological period and a wide geographical area. The 200-series courses are designed to introduce students to specific national or geographic histories over a broad period of time. Although they are designated as 200-series courses they are open to first-year students, have no prerequisites, and students without previous university experience should be able to complete them without difficulty. The 300-series courses, not open to first-year students, usually deal with more specialized subject-matter and frequently have prerequisites. The 400-series courses represent the culmination of an undergraduate's study of history and consist of seminars with a maximum enrolment of 14.

There are courses at most levels in American, Asian, African, and Latin American, British, Canadian, East European, Russian, European, International Relations and Medieval history. The fifty-five full-time professional historians who constitute this Department offer a greater variety of courses in history than can be found at any other university in Canada, and to study with any of them is certain to be an enriching experience.

More detailed information concerning the department, history programs and particular courses can be found on our website: www.chass.utoronto.ca/history. There is a History Students' Association in the Department and there is student participation in the Department meetings and major standing committees.

(Joint undergraduate-graduate)

Prerequisite: HIS334YI/353YI/permission of the instructor

HIS466HI Topics in Canadian History (formerly HIS466YI) [26S]

Selected topics in a specific period of Canadian history. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Please see the History Department website for complete description.

Prerequisite: HIS262YI/263YI

HIS467HI French Colonial Indochina: History, Cultures, Texts, Film (formerly HIS467YI) [26S]

Examines French colonial Indochina through several different lenses. Themes include the cross-cultural "contact zones" between colonial and colonized societies, gender perceptions, imperial culture, expressions of colonial power, and forms of opposition. Colonial novels, translated resistance literature, documentaries, and films are utilized as primary sources to be examined critically.

Prerequisite: ANT344YI/EAS 204YI/GGR342HI/HIS104YI/107YI/280YI/282YI/283YI/315HI/388YI/NEW369YI

Exclusion: HIS467YI

HIS468HI Atlantic Canada [26S]

The emphasis in this course is on Native peoples, settlement issues and settler society; economic development; women; reform movements; other distinctive aspects of the history of the Maritime region and Newfoundland. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)

Prerequisite: HIS262YI/263YI

HIS469HI Religion, Culture and Society in Canada [26S]

This course examines the interaction between religion and culture in Canada from colonial times to the present with emphasis on primary documents. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)

Recommended preparation: A course in Canadian history

HIS470HI History, Rights, and Difference in South Asia [26S]

Addressing South Asian history after 1750, this course examines ideas of rights, contract, and the rule of law in colonial and postcolonial contexts. Attention is paid to the intellectual history of rights and the central place of colonial and postcolonial questions within that history. Topics include rights and questions concerning indigenous culture, caste and customary practice, gender and capitalist development.

Prerequisite: A mark of 73% or higher in HIS 282YI or instructor's permission

Recommended preparation: Background in political and social theory and some background in South Asia

HIS471HI United States and Globalization [26S]

This course considers the origins and evolution of U.S. experiences with globalization: attention is paid to economic, technological, cultural, and institutional developments during the past century.

Prerequisite: HIS271YI/377YI

Recommended preparation: HIS377YI

HIS472HI Topics in Aboriginal History (formerly HIS472YI) [26S]

Major themes in the history of Aboriginal-White relations in Canada. Topics included are: role of native people in the creation of British North America and in the Western fur trade; the emergence of the Métis; analysis of colonial Indian policy; the Red River Resistance; the making of treaties; the North West Rebellion; the struggle for survival in post-treaty Canada; the emergence of "red power"; contemporary and feminist issues. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)

Exclusion: HIS472YI

Prerequisite: HIS262YI/263YI

HIS473YI The United States and Asia in the Cold War Era (formerly HIS 473HI) [52S]

This seminar examines strategic, economic, ideological, and cultural factors in U.S. relations with East and Southeast Asia. Major themes include the role of cultural and informal diplomacy and the effect of perceptions and misperceptions on both sides of U.S.-Asian interactions.

Prerequisite: HIS344YI/372YI/377YI

Exclusion: HIS 473HI

History

---

HIS475HI Race, Segregation, and Protest: South Africa and the United States [26S]

This course explores the origins, consolidation, and unmaking of segregationist social orders in South Africa and the American South. It examines the origins of racial inequality, the structural and socio-political roots of segregation, and the twin strategies of accommodation and resistance employed by black South Africans and African Americans. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)
Recommended preparation: HIS271Y1/295Y1

HIS476HI Voices from Black America (formerly HIS476Y1) [26S]

The history of Black Americas seen through the eyes of some of the men and women who experienced it. Attention is given to slavery but emphasis is on the twentieth century. Students examine autobiographical works, novels, and film.
Prerequisite: HIS271Y1
Exclusion: HIS476Y1

HIS477HI Topics in the Social and Cultural History of Victorian Britain (formerly HIS477Y1) [26S]

Examination of the impact of industrialism on Victorian society and values. Concentration on Victorian social critics including Engels, Owen, Maynew, Dickens and Morris.
Recommended preparation: A course in modern British History/Victorian literature
Exclusion: HIS477Y1

HIS478HI Hellhound on my Trail: Living the Blues in the Mississippi Delta, 1890-1945 [26S]

This course examines black life and culture in the cotton South through the medium of recorded blues music. It seeks to restore a voice and a sense of agency to black southerners in the age of Jim Crow. Topics include the plantation economy, agricultural life, mobility, migration, and urban subcultures.
Recommended Preparation: HIS 271Y1/USA 300HI

HIS479HI American Foreign Policy Since World War II (formerly HIS479Y1) [26S]

An in-depth study of U.S. behaviour in the global arena since World War II. Particular attention will be paid to the origins and evolution of the Cold War, the Vietnam War, the initiatives of the Nixon-Kissinger years, the end of the Cold War, and the relevance of "globalization."
Prerequisite: HIS271Y1/377Y1
Exclusion: HIS479Y1

HIS480HI Modernity and its Others: History and Postcolonial Critique [26S]

Engaging with influential perspectives in postcolonial historiography, this seminar tracks three major themes in the history of the idea of modernity from the late 18th through the 20th centuries: political freedom, citizenship and the nation-state; capitalism and its critique; and the relationship of history, memory, and identity. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)
Prerequisite: a mark of 73% or higher in HIS 282Y1, or instructor's permission
Recommended preparation: History of colonialism, political theory, or postcolonial literatures

HIS481HI Elite Women, Power, and Modernity in Twentieth-Century Africa [26S]

The role of elite women in twentieth-century Africa has been overshadowed by studies of non-elite women so much so as to suggest that all women lacked power. This course aims to show how a very limited but important group of women negotiated power in a century of increasing patriarchy. It combines gender with class analysis.

Prerequisite: HIS 295HI/296Y1/383HI/396HI or permission of instructor

HIS482HI History of the Body from Antiquity to the Renaissance [26S]

This course will explore the cultural history of the body from ancient Greece to Renaissance Italy. From an examination of both bodily practices and discourses about the body we will attempt to gain an understanding of premodern experiences of and attitudes towards the human body.
Prerequisite: one course in pre-modern History

HIS483HI Men, Women and Gender in Europe, 1400-1800 (formerly HIS483Y1) [26S]

This research seminar builds on work done in lower-level gender history courses. It focuses on intensive study of sources and methodologies for the history of masculinities and women in early modern Europe. The main assignment is an independently-designed major research project.
Prerequisite: HIS245Y1/306Y1/354HI
Exclusion: HIS483Y1

HIS484HI The Car in North American History (formerly HIS484Y1) [26S]

This seminar examines the history of the car in North America from the perspective of technology, business, landscape and popular culture. Particular attention is paid to issues of production, consumption, geography, and daily life, and to the importance of class race, gender, region, and age in shaping the meaning and experience of car culture.
Prerequisite: HIS263Y1/271Y1
Exclusion: HIS484Y1

HIS485HI Topics in Late Imperial and Modern Chinese History (formerly HIS485Y1) [26S]

A seminar on aspects of Chinese history from 1368 to the present, with emphasis on social history. Topics vary and include: social structure in Ming-Qing China; religion and ritual in Chinese society; Chinese popular culture. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)
Exclusion: HIS485Y1
Prerequisite: EAS102Y1/HIS280Y1, HIS380Y1/JMC201Y1

HIS487HI Animal and Human Rights in Anglo-American Culture [26S]

Examines the parallel discourses of animal and human rights in Anglo-American culture from the eighteenth century to the present. The course explores issues of subjectivity and consciousness as well as cruelty and pain. Topics include slavery and abolition, animal welfare and antivivisection, anti-colonial liberation movements, and animal rights campaigns.
Recommended Preparation: HIS296Y1

HIS488HI The Secret War, 1939-1945 (formerly HIS488Y1) [26S]

The development of intelligence techniques and operations in wartime conditions; the role of espionage, cryptanalysis and deception in deciding the battles and campaigns of the Second World War.
Prerequisite: Any two courses from: EUR200Y1/HIS103Y1/241HI, 242HI/343Y1/344Y1
Exclusion: HIS488Y1

HIS489H1 The History of Psychiatry and Psychiatric Illness [26S]

Introduces students to some of the main issues in the history of psychiatry. Readings from the secondary historical literature are distributed and discussed in class, covering such topics as changes in the nature of psychotic illness, the psychoneuroses, disorders of the mind/body relationship, and the psychiatric diagnosis and the “presentation” of illness. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)

Prerequisite: a minimum of one course in HIS/PSY/SOC

Exclusion: HIS423Y1

HIS492Y1 Britain and the French Revolution, 1785-1801 (formerly HIS492H1) [52S]

Britain’s response to the French Revolution and revolutionary wars studied through selected topics in political theory, the history of popular movements, the experience of industrialization and foreign policy.

Prerequisite: Any course in Western European or British History

Exclusion: HIS492H1

HIS495H1 Topics in History (formerly HIS495Y1) [52S]

An in-depth examination of historical issues. Content in any given year depends on instructor. See Undergraduate Handbook or History website for more details.

Exclusion: HIS495Y1

Recommended preparation:Varies from year to year

HIS496H1 Topics in History [26S]

An in-depth examination of historical issues. Content in any given year depends on instructor. See Undergraduate Handbook or History website for more details.

Recommended preparation:Varies from year to year

HIS498H1 Independent Studies [TBA]

HIS499Y1 Independent Studies [TBA]

These courses assume the form of an undergraduate thesis. Students must find an appropriate supervisor from the Department, receive approval for the project, and submit an Independent Studies ballot. Students must be enrolled in either a History Specialist or Major program, with a B+ average in no less than 4 HIS courses, or with special permission of the instructor. Applications must be received in September for first session courses; in December for second session courses.

The history and philosophy of science and technology cuts across traditional disciplines of the sciences and the humanities. HPS courses treat the sciences and technology, including mathematics and medicine, as being historically and philosophically significant in themselves, and also as being integral components of the general development of knowledge, culture, and society. The undergraduate courses serve to introduce the student to this discipline, and also to provide a wider context for understanding science and technology. All courses have a substantial historical component, and many deal with philosophical, sociological and related issues. For example, students of history will find courses in the history of science to be an important part of social and intellectual history, while students of economic history may be especially interested in the history of technology. For philosophy students, history of science courses form a natural adjunct to issues in the theory of knowledge, philosophy of science and history of philosophy. Students of the humanities with particular interests in the physical or biological sciences, technology, engineering, mathematics, or medicine will naturally be interested in HPS courses, and students in these scientific disciplines will benefit from the broad historical and philosophical perspective on their studies that HPS courses can provide.

Some students may wish to plan their entire programs around a core of HPS courses. The Major program in HPST listed is suitable training for medical school, the law, elementary and secondary school teaching, museum and library work, science writing and editing, and other fields where competence in both science and humanities is valuable. Students considering graduate study in this field should seek direction from an IHPST faculty member. For more information consult the IHPST Undergraduate Handbook, available at the Institute.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology Programs

---

Enrolment in the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology programs requires the completion of four courses; GPA of 1.7 required.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology (Arts program)

---

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Admission requires GPA of 1.7 and continuation in the program requires maintenance of a GPA of 2.3

1. One course in science, choices subject to the approval of the Under Graduate coordinator. It is recommended that it include a laboratory or practical component; HIS109Y1
  2. HPS210H1; HPS211H1; HPS250H1; HPS350H1; HPS201H1/202H1
  3. One additional course at HPS300+ level
  4. One 200+H science half course; one 300+ science half course; HIS200+ series half course/CLA203H1/CLA206H1
- Recommended preparation: HPS100H1. It is further recommended that the first HPS courses taken (other than HPS100H1) be HPS210H1 and HPS211H1

---

All the specialist, major, and minor programs listed below will no longer be offered.

Students admitted to these programs prior to September 2004 may complete their programs as described below.

---

History and Philosophy of Science (Arts program)

---

Specialist program:

(11.5 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Three 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HPS 200Y1/(210H1 + 211H1), 250H1; PHL 210Y1, 245H1

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

3. 2.5 additional HPS courses. Students may substitute courses in the history of science or the history of thought offered in other departments for up to two courses, with approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
4. Four PHLI/PHI half-courses in epistemology, logic and formal semantics, philosophy of science
5. One additional 400 series HPS/PHL course. Of the other HPS/PHL courses, three must be 300+ series

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Two 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HPS 200Y1/(210HI + 211HI), 250HI, PHL 210Y1, 245HI
3. One 300+ series PHL course in epistemology, logic and formal semantics, philosophy of science
4. One other HPS 300+ series course

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. HPS 200Y1/(210HI + 211HI), 250HI; PHL 210Y1, 255HI
2. One HPS/PHL 300+ series course

History of Science and Technology (Arts program)

Specialist program:

(11 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Two 100+ series and three 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HIS 109Y1 plus one other course in history, choice subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
3. Three HPS courses, of which two may be courses in history of science offered by another department, subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Secretary. CLA 203HI will be treated as an HPS course
4. One HPS 400-series course

Note:

At least three of the above ten courses must be 300+series

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Two 200+ series courses in science or technology, choices subject to approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. Five HPS courses, at least two of which must be 300+ series courses; up to two courses in history or the history of science offered in other departments may be substituted with the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator

Minor program:

(4 HPS full courses or their equivalent)

Four HPS courses, of which at least one must a 300+ series course. One course may be replaced by a course in the history of science offered by another department, but requires approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), some HPS courses are cross-listed; check individual course descriptions.

HPS100HI Introduction to History and Philosophy of Science [26L, 13T]

An investigation of some pivotal periods in the history of science with an emphasis on the influences of philosophy on the scientists of the period, and the philosophical and social implications of the scientific knowledge, theory and methodology that emerged.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS201HI Origins of Western Technology [26L, 13T]

Technology and its place in our culture from Antiquity to the beginnings of the Industrial Revolution. Relations between technology and science, religion, the arts, social institutions, and political beliefs.

This is a Humanities course

HPS202HI Technology in the Modern World [26L, 13T]

A survey of technical change and its social implications from the Industrial Revolution to the present.

Recommended preparation: HPS201HI

This is a Humanities course

HPS210HI Scientific Revolutions I (formerly HPS200YI) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200YI

HPS211HI Scientific Revolutions II (formerly HPS200YI) [26L, 13T]

Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrödinger, Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200YI

HPS250HI Introductory Philosophy of Science [26L, 13T]

This course introduces and explores central issues in the philosophy of science, including scientific inference, method, and explanation. Topics may include underdetermination, realism and empiricism, and laws of nature.

This is a Humanities course

HPS299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

HPS300HI Topics in History and Philosophy of Science and Technology [TBA]

Topics vary year to year.

This is a Humanities course

HPS306HI Technology and War [26L, 13T]

An examination of the tools of war in the Western world from the Middle Ages to World War II, including not only weapons but the means of transportation, communication, and organization used in violent conflict. The effects of war on the development of science and technology.

Exclusion: HPS417HI

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

---

Recommended preparation: HPS201HI/202HI or any HIS course

This is a Humanities course

HPS307HI History of Energy [26L, 13T]

The history of human control of various sources of energy, including technical developments, scientific theories, and impact on culture and society. Recent debates on fossil fuel and nuclear power examined in historical context.

Recommended preparation: HPS201HI/202HI or any HIS course

HPS311HI History of Physics [13S]

Topics in the history of physics from antiquity to the 20th century, including Aristotelian physics, Galileo, Descartes, electromagnetism, thermodynamics, statistical mechanics, relativity, quantum physics, and particle physics. The development of theories in their intellectual and cultural contexts.

Prerequisite: At least one PHY course at university level

This is a Humanities or Science course

HPS312HI History of Chemistry [13S]

The emergence of the modern discipline of chemistry from 1785 to 1939. Seminar discussions focus on key papers of important historical analysis of the interplay between theory and practice, and of the dynamics of scientific communities

Prerequisite: At least one CHM course at university level

This is a Humanities or Science course

HPS313HI Two Hundred Years of Electricity [26L]

A history of the science and technology of electricity in the 19th and 20th centuries in its social, economic, and cultural context.

Prerequisite: At least one CSC/PHY or Electrical Engineering (ECE) course

This is a Humanities or Science course.

HPS318HI History of Medicine I [26L, 13T]

A survey of medical theory and practice from Antiquity to the Renaissance, with emphasis on medicine's social, cultural and political setting.

Exclusion: HPS314YI

This is a Humanities course

HPS319HI History of Medicine II [26L, 13T]

A survey of medical theory and practice from the 17th century to the modern welfare state, with emphasis on medicine's social, cultural and political setting.

Exclusion: HPS314YI;315HI

HPS322HI Complexity, Order, and Emergence

A survey of the history of and recent developments in the scientific study of complex systems and emergent order. There will be particular emphasis on the biological and cognitive sciences. Topics covered may include: mechanism and teleology in the history of science, 19th and 20th century emergentism, complex systems dynamics, order and adaptiveness, self-organisation in biology and cognitive development.

This is a Humanities course.

HPS324HI Natural Science and Social Issues [26L, 13T]

Historical examination of the interactions of science (both as body of knowledge and as enterprise) with ideological, political and social issues. The impact of science; attacks on and critiques of scientific expertise as background to contemporary conflicts. Subjects may vary according to students' interests.

HPS326HI History of Science and Religion [13S, 13T]

From its origins in the Renaissance, modern science has developed in the context of European religious beliefs and institutions. Although cases of conflict like Galileo or the "Monkey Trial" are famous, more common are cases of scientists like Newton or Faraday whose religious convictions were crucial to their scientific success.

HPS343HI History of Pre-Electronic Computing [26L]

Computing technology from Chaldean astronomy to the advent of British and U.S. mass production of electronic mainframes in 1953. Emphasis will be on uses and users, especially on great figures from Babbage through von Neumann, but hardware descriptions will also be featured.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

HPS344HI History of Mainframe Computing [26L]

Covers the period from mass production in 1953 to the emergence of minicomputers around 1969. Beginnings of software and services industries, networking, university computer science. Emphasis on international developments.

HPS350HI Revolution in Science [26S]

An investigation into the nature and development of scientific knowledge, inspired by Kuhn's notion of revolutions. Topics may include incommensurability, the rationality of theory choice, and social constructivism.

Prerequisite: HPS250HI or permission of the instructor

This is a Humanities course

HPS352HI History and Philosophy of the Social Sciences [26L]

This course explores central developments, ongoing controversies, and major figures in the social sciences: sociology, economics, political science, anthropology, and the behavioral sciences. It concentrates on such prominent individuals as: Rene Descartes, Thomas Hobbes, John Locke, Adam Smith, Karl Marx, Franz Boas, Sigmund Freud, and Gunnar Myrdal.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

HPS353HI History of Evolutionary Biology (formerly HPS323HI) [26L, 13T]

An examination of major ideas about biological evolution from the 18th century to the 1930's and of their impact on scientific and social thought. Topics include the diversity of life and its classification, the adaptation of organisms to their environment, Wallace's and Darwin's views on evolution by natural selection, sexual selection, inheritance from Mendel to T.H. Morgan, eugenics, and the implications of evolution for religion, gender roles, and the organization of society.

Exclusion: ZOO354YI/HPS323HI/EEB353HI

Prerequisite: 6 full courses or equivalent including one HPS half course or BIO150Y.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS355HI History of Evolutionary Biology II (formerly HPS333HI) [26L, 13T]

An examination of ideas about biological evolution from the 1930's to the present. Topics include the Modern Synthesis, population genetics, the concept of biological species, ecology, sociobiology, and creationism.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

Exclusion: ZOO354Y1/HPS333HI/EEB355HI
Prerequisite: HPS323HI/HPS353HI/EEB353HI
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

PHL355HI Philosophy of Science
See "Philosophy"

HPS360HI History of Modern Cosmology [26L, 13T]
Conceptions of the universe since 1800 with attention to observational sources of changing ideas. History of large telescopes, stellar spectroscopy and radio astronomy. Relativistic conceptions of space and time, models of stellar evolution, discovery of extra-galactic nebulae, Hubble red-shift and microwave background radiation. Philosophical and religious implications are examined.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS375HI Science and Technology in The Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part I: The Mathematical Sciences and their Practical Applications (formerly HPS275HI) [26L, 13S]

First part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of the exact sciences, including mathematics, astronomy, optics, and cartography.
Prerequisite: At least one MAT or Science course at university level

Exclusion: HPS275HI, NMC379HI
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS376HI Science and Technology in the Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part II: The Life Sciences (formerly HPS276HI) [26L, 13S]

Second part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of biological and life sciences, including history of medicine, botany, agriculture, and alchemy.
Prerequisite: At least one MAT or Science course at university level

Exclusion: HPS276HI, NMC379HI
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS390HI History of Mathematics up to 1700 [26L, 13T]

A survey of ancient, medieval, and early modern mathematics with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years)
Exclusion: 310Y1; MAT220Y1
Prerequisite: At least one full course equivalent at the 200+level from CSC/MAT/STA

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS391HI History of Mathematics after 1700 [26L, 13T]

A survey of the development of mathematics from 1700 to the present with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: HPS310Y1; MAT220Y1, MAT391HI
Prerequisite: At least one full course equivalent at the 200+level from CSC/MAT/STA

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS410HI History of Mathematics [26S]

An historical survey from pre-Greek to the present. Various themes are emphasized year to year, to show mathematics as changing and evolving. A student could expect to gain an historical overview as well as a sense of the unity of the mathematical sciences.

Prerequisite: HPS309Y1/310Y1/390HI/391HI/MAT220Y1 and permission of instructor
This is a Humanities course

HPS412HI History of the Biological Sciences [26S]

Advanced level survey of biological science from ancient Greece to the 20th century emphasizing primary sources analyses.
Prerequisite: HPS 200Y1/(210HI + 211HI)/ZOO354Y1/HPS323HI;HPS333HI and permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/European history/Philosophy

This is a Humanities course

HPS427HI Historical Foundations of Chemistry [26S]

The development of chemistry from the Chemical Revolution of Lavoisier to the periodic table of Mendeleev: electro-chemistry, the rise of organic chemistry, classification, valency, structural chemistry.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

This is a Humanities course

HPS430HI History of Technology I [26S]

An advanced survey of the history of technology from Antiquity to the Industrial Revolution.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: HPS201HI/202HI

The courses offered at Innis College are integral to three academic programs: Cinema Studies; Urban Studies; Writing and Rhetoric.

Cinema Studies

Cinema Studies treats film primarily as a unique and powerful art form with its own traditions, history, conventions, and techniques. Understanding film, its properties, methods, aesthetics, and its impact on culture and society, is the basis of Cinema Studies. The Program provides a wide variety of approaches: the history and development of cinema; film theory and critical analysis; the study of genres, national cinemas, and the works of individual masters of cinema; and the examination of film in relation to other arts and academic fields.

Further details are available on the Cinema Studies website [www.utoronto.ca/cinema].

Enquiries: Undergraduate Program Assistant, 416-978-5809, cinema.studies@utoronto.ca.

Urban Studies

Urban Studies at Innis College provides students with the tools to make sense of their urban world. The Program examines the complex and dynamic relations among institutions, people, and physical form that create, sustain, or destroy cities.

The Program is suited for those students who wish to study cities using several disciplinary approaches. It is also of interest to those students who wish to become involved in urban issues in Toronto. The Program offers an internship in the office of either a municipal politician, non-profit research group, or other government organization as part of its experiential learning program. Because urban issues are so varied, Urban Studies combines well with many other Subject POST areas. Students are advised to consult the Program Director when designing programs that meet their particular interests. The Program encourages students to take advantage of the Study Elsewhere Program at the University of Toronto to broaden their knowledge of cities.

Writing and Rhetoric

The Minor Program in Writing and Rhetoric is built on a foundation of Innis College courses that cover academic essay writing, rhetoric, critical thinking, creative writing, media analysis, and writing in the workplace. The Program also draws on relevant University of Toronto courses in a range of disciplines. The Program's design reflects three interrelated themes.

Writing:

This discipline involves more than instruction in composition skills. Writing is related to rhetoric, logic, reasoning, and critical thinking. One of the main goals of the Program is to ensure that students graduate with a solid grounding in various modes of writing and with highly developed transferable skills.

Rhetoric:

Classical rhetorical terms and methods of argumentation and persuasion are central to the study of rhetoric. One of the oldest disciplines in the liberal arts, rhetoric as a contemporary discipline focuses on the influence of discourse on social forces. For the purposes of this Program, rhetoric will, broadly speaking, be used to signify both rhetoric in the classical sense of the term and the patterns of communication identifiable in a variety of disciplines and environments.

Critical Analysis:

One of the tenets of the Program is shared by many of the University's Arts and Science disciplines: that problem-solving and creative, persuasive, and effective writing depend on the ability to analyze discourse critically.

INI397HI Special Topics in Cinema Studies: B Movies and Cult Cinema [26S, 39P]

Study of cult and exploitation cinema both as an institutional category (e.g., "B" movies) and as camp appropriation (e.g., fanzines, "cult" audiences), focusing on contexts of production, exhibition, and reception.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor

INI398HI Special Topics in Cinema Studies: American Animation after 1950 [26S, 39P]

This course looks at American animation--the industry, the art form, the cultural phenomenon--after World War II. It considers animation's place in the rise of television and television's place in changing animation aesthetics and practices. It will also examine the role of animation in the emerging counterculture of the 1960s and 1970s, the transnationalization of the American industry at around the same time, and, finally, how animation's move into the digital has changed animation practices, audiences, and aesthetics. Along the way we will pay close attention to animation's always troubled and troubling relationship to something we call the real.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

Recommended preparation: INI383H1

400-Series Courses

INI423HI Melodrama in Film [26S, 26P]

Intensive study of theoretical issues raised by melodrama, including gender, class, and spectatorship; emotion and the non-representational. Psychoanalytical and historical factors shaping the "melodramatic imagination" are emphasized.

Exclusion: INI423Y1

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI426HI Film Comedy [26S, 26P]

A study of international film comedy, including its historical development, and the difficulties that comedy poses for genre and auteur approaches.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI428HI The Cinematic City [26S, 39P]

Film's emergence from urban culture of the nineteenth century: the modern industrial city and the cinematic imagination between the world wars; the critical alignment of urbanism and the cinema.

Exclusion: INI321H1

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI429HI The Revolution Will/Will Not Be Televised [26L, 26P]

Examining the mediation of political struggle from 1964-1974, this course analyzes both how specific political issues were represented in popular media, and attempts to politicize and question representational regimes. Its primary focus will be cinematic and televisual, but by necessity it will also touch upon radio and the recording industry.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI460HI Film Noir [26S, 26P]

Consideration of film noir's roots, its status as a genre, and its enduring appeal, the latter evidenced by continued critical interest and neo-noir offshoots.

Prerequisite: At least full-course equivalents, including INI115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI461HI Models of Film Analysis [26S, 26P]

Advanced survey of a variety of approaches to the filmic text, including structuralist variants, textual analysis, and neo-formalism.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI462HI Theory, History and German Cinema [26S, 26P]

Historiographic and theoretical issues raised by German Cinema.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI463HI Early Cinema [26S, 26P]

Investigation of film from the beginnings of the medium until the advent of the feature film in the mid-teens: early cinema's technological, formal, economic, and cultural dimensions; questions of audience composition, spectatorial address, and intermediality.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI465HI Cinema and Technology (formerly INI483HI) [26S, 26P]

How technology influences the operations and study of cinema. Includes technology's relationship to realism, apparatus theory, and cinematic style; study of widescreen, sound, colour, and emergent technologies.

Exclusion: INI483HI

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI475HI Advanced Studies in Cinema [TBA]

Seminars in special topics designed for advanced specialist and major students in Cinema Studies.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI476YI Independent Studies in Cinema [TBA]

INI477HI Independent Studies in Cinema [TBA]

INI478HI Independent Studies in Cinema [TBA]

Independent research projects devised by students and supervised by Cinema Studies faculty. Open to advanced Specialist and Major students in the Program. Applications must be submitted to the Program Office by June 1 for a Fall course, by November 1 for a Spring Course, and by April 1 for a summer course.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of the Cinema Studies Committee

INI482YI Advanced Studies in Cinema [TBA]

Seminars in special topics designed for advanced specialist and major students in Cinema Studies.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI483HI Advanced Studies in Cinema: Children in Movies: Actors, Characters, Audience [26S, 39P]

In its audiences, its theory, and its workers, film has a long and intimate association with children and childhood. This class examines that complex relationship, exploring arguments about the effects of movies on children, child stars and their place in arguments about culture and society, and the historically specific representation of childhood in films.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

INI484HI Advanced Studies in Cinema: International Film Festivals [26S, 26P]

This is a fourth-year seminar course on major international film festivals. The course will study the industrial formations of dissemination of film texts, production of authorship by film festivals, and the history and structures of film festivals as para-industrial organizations in a geo-political circuit of cultural transnationalism.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents, including INI 115Y1, 212Y1, 214Y1 or permission of instructor.

Urban Studies Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all INI Urban Studies courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

JGI216HI Urbanization and Global Change [26L]

Examines the process of globalization, mass urbanization and economic change taking place in cities around the world. Includes interdisciplinary exploration of the industrial and economic changes that have ensued as a result of globalization, as well as social and cultural manifestations associated with the emergence of global cities.

Recommended Preparation: GGR124Y1

INI235YI A Multidisciplinary Introduction to Urban Studies [52L]

Explores the culture, thoughts, institutions, policies, and processes shaping our urban areas. Emphasis is placed on understanding the problems and prospects associated with growth and change in the city. Disciplines used to provide various interpretations include Economics, Environmental Studies, Geography, History, Political Science, Sociology, Urban Design and Planning.

Prerequisite: Four courses with at least two from: ECO100Y1, ECO105Y1, GGR124Y1, a 100-level POL course or POL214Y1, SOC101Y1 or permission of the instructor

JIE307YI Urban Sustainability (formerly INI307YI) [52L, 26P]

This course critically examines the concept of urban sustainability in theory and application. Case studies of ongoing urban sustainability programs in the developed world help students assess the successes and failures of these programs. The course also examines the current state of research and implementation efforts toward urban sustainability.

Prerequisite: One of the following: JEG221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program OR INI235Y1 OR permission of the instructor (particularly for students who have completed JEG222Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1/POL209Y1/SOC205Y1/260Y1)

Exclusion: INI307Y1

This is a Social Science course

INI308HI The City of Toronto [26L]

Examines the struggle to create a civic society within Toronto as it becomes a global city. Sample topics include: the neighbourhood and the city, the outer city and the urban region, planning and sprawl, public and private transportation, the natural and the urban environment, housing and homelessness, levels of government, civic culture and multiculturalism.

Prerequisite: One of the following: a 100 level Political Science, GGR124Y1, INI235Y1, SOC101Y1, or permission of the instructor.

INI309HI Urban Infrastructure [26L]

Examines the importance of infrastructure to urban societies from a technical, environmental, political, historical, and social perspective. Students study energy and communications systems, transportation, water, solid waste disposal, parks and recreation facilities, schools, hospitals, and community facilities and services. Key issues include growth management, financing and maintenance, public-private partnerships, and international development.

INI335YI The Changing Dynamics of Cities [26L]

In this course, students develop an understanding of the city as a dynamic organism that is constantly changing as a result of economic, social and political pressure. The course material is organized around a series of industry cluster case studies including: automotive, culture, information technology and health care. The emphasis of the course will be on the extension and refinement of theories and arguments developed in INI235Y.

Prerequisite: INI235Y. Priority is given to students enrolled in the Urban Studies Minor, Major, or Specialist Programs.

However, consideration may be given to students with suitable course background as determined by the Program Director. Note: INI335Y cannot be taken concurrently with INI235Y.)

INI336YI Creative Cities [52L]

A prominent thesis in the fields of planning and economic geography is that the presence of creative occupations in a city correlates positively with the overall health of urban regions. This course will investigate the nature of this link from theoretical and empirical perspectives and examine its potential usefulness in a planning/policy context.

Prerequisite: GGR124Y, INI235Y Recommended Preparation: GGR220Y

INI337HI Studies in Contemporary Urban Problems [26L]

This course will focus on an examination of the immediate difficulties facing Toronto and by extension all Canadian cities. Instruction will consist of a combination of lectures by the instructor and by noted experts/practitioners in a range of topic areas including urban governance, finance, planning, environmental sustainability and social welfare.

Recommended preparation: GGR124Y1 and/or INI235Y1

JGI346HI The Urban Planning Process [26L]

Urban planning mechanisms, the legislation, and its goals. Planning issues from negotiation to legislation to appeal. Urban and regional problems facing planners in Ontario compared with those emerging in other provinces; Ontario's legislative solutions contrasted with those developed elsewhere. (Given by the Department of Geography and Innis College)

INI430YI Urban Policy Seminar [52S]

Examines contemporary urban problems and policy issues through seminar discussions, readings and field research. Emphasis is placed on developing an interdisciplinary approach to urban problem solving.

Prerequisite: INI235Y, enrolment in a minor, major or specialist program in Urban Studies, or permission of instructor.

INI431YI Special Topics in Urban Studies [TBA]

INI432HI Special Topics in Urban Studies [TBA]

INI433HI Special Topics in Urban Studies [TBA]

From time to time, the Urban Studies Program organizes community outreach and information sessions. At the discretion of the Director, students may enroll in a special topics course and investigate these issues more deeply under the supervision of an agreeable faculty member. Proposals including a letter from an agreeable faculty member should be submitted to the Director by June 1 for a Fall or Year-long course, or by November 1 for a Spring course.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in a major or specialist program in Urban Studies.

Recommended Preparation: INI235Y, INI306Y.

INI434YI Independent Research in Urban Studies [TBA]

INI435HI Independent Research in Urban Studies [TBA]

INI436HI Independent Research in Urban Studies [TBA]

Designed to allow strong students in the Major and Specialist programs to extend a piece of urban research under the supervision of a faculty member from any aligned departments. Choice of 'H' or 'Y' session pursuant to the scope of the research envisioned, the proposed supervisor's assessment of depth of the inquiry, and the approval of the program director. Proposals including a letter from an agreeable supervisor should be submitted to the program director by June 1 for a Fall or Year session course and by November 1 for a Spring session course.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Urban Studies Major or Specialist Program

Recommended Preparation: INI235Y1, INI306Y1

INI437Y Urban Experiential Learning in Toronto & the GTA (formerly INI306Y1) [78S]

A method of studying city issues that combines readings, seminar discussions, and lectures with an internship in the office of a municipal politician, local government, or non-profit research/community organization. Readings focus on community development, urban planning, economic development and local government. Students must fill out a ballot for the course (available from the College Secretary) by June 1. Enrolment in this course is competitive and at the discretion of Dr. Shauna Brail (Director, Urban Studies Placement Program).

Prerequisite: INI235Y1, enrolment in minor, major or specialist programs in Urban Studies or permission of instructor
Exclusion: INI306Y1

JGI454HI The Role of the Planner: Making a Difference [26L]

This course will focus on the role of a planning practitioner in contemporary society using a wealth of examples drawn from recent issues and debates in Canadian cities and regions. The course will walk students through the demands made of planners in terms of both technical expertise as well as political necessity and ask them to think actively about how to prepare for the extraordinary growth of cities during the next century. Examples of issues that will be discussed in some detail include the myths surrounding the city vs. the suburbs, the creativity and passion involved in planning work and the new City of Toronto Act.

Prerequisite: 15 credits, 5.0 of which must be GGR/INI Urban Studies

Writing and Rhetoric Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), Writing and Rhetoric courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses, except for INI 103H, 104H, 300Y1, 301H1, 304H, 405Y1/406H1/407H1, and 408Y1/409H1/410H1 which are classified as both HUMANITIES and SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

INI103H1 Writing Essays (formerly INI200Y1) [39S]

Introduces the fundamentals of essay writing within an interdisciplinary context. Includes the history of the essay and its various rhetorical modes (narrative, descriptive, expository, argumentative), with a focus on humanities and social sciences essays. Both non-academic essays and essays from across the academic disciplines are examined in terms of purpose, audience, and persuasive strategies.

INI104H1 Writing Reports (formerly INI200Y1) [39S]

Introduces the fundamentals of report writing within an interdisciplinary context. This writing intensive course focuses on improving writing skills appropriate to report writing genres. Informal, formal, research, and professional workplace reports are examined in terms of purpose, audience, structure, style, persuasive strategies, and use of visual rhetoric (tables, charts, graphs). This course also examines qualitative and quantitative research methods.

Exclusion: INI200Y1 and INI300Y1

INI203Y1 Foundations of Written Discourse [78S]

Designed to teach students to write persuasively and to recognize persuasive strategies at work in writing they analyze. Classical rhetorical terms, elements of style, and modes of argument are central to the course. Assignments include a rhetorical analysis, in-class essays, and a term essay. Readings include prose from a variety of disciplines, excluding fiction and poetry. Students who enrol in the course must demonstrate competence in the English language.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI204Y1 The Academic Writing Process [78S]

The strategy necessary to write complete pieces of non-fictional prose, especially exposition and argument. Concepts of planning and organization include: focusing, research, outlining, patterns of logical development, introduction, paragraph development, conclusion, argumentation and persuasion, documentation, and revision. Students for whom English is a second language should have an advanced level of fluency in English before enrolling.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI300Y1 Strategic Writing in Business and the Professions: Theory and Practice [78S]

Aims to teach students to recognize the rhetoric of the professional workplace and to communicate strategically and ethically using written and oral discourse appropriate to business, government, and not-for-profit organizations. Case study analysis using ethical reasoning models is a central component of the course.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI301H1 Contemporary Issues and Written Discourse: Rhetoric and the Print Media [39S]

Examines how the language and rhetoric of print media shape social issues. Rhetorical strategies at work in the media reporting of such controversial issues as international crises and military actions are examined. The construction of the columnist's persona and the role of editorials are also examined.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI304H1 Critical Thinking and Inquiry in Written Communication [26L]

This seminar in critical reading, analysis, and writing focuses on the nature, the evaluation, and the use and abuse of evidence in the process of formulating and supporting an argument. The case study method will be employed to assess the level of authority, credibility, and objectivity evident in public discourse, official sources, and academic inquiry.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI305H1 Word and Image in Modern Writing [39S]

The rhetorical term Ekphrasis, which refers to writing that is about visual art, is central in the examination of the persuasive power of the "conversation" or discourse that is produced when the written word attempts the evocation of visual images. Course readings will include ekphrastic texts drawn from several disciplines and genres: journalism, informal essays, poetry, and scholarly writing.

Prerequisite: Completion of 4.0 full-course equivalents and CGPA of 2.3 or higher.

INI311Y1 Seminar in Creative Writing [78S]

This workshop course examines methodological approaches to literary fiction from the perspective of the creator. Through course readings, discussion, and creative writing assignments, student writers will learn how prose writers combine stylistic techniques, point-of-view, setting, character, scenes, and structure to produce literary effects.

Prerequisite: Experience or strong interest in writing fiction. 4.0 full-course equivalents, fluency in English. CPA 2.3 minimum.

INI405Y1 Independent Studies in Writing and Rhetoric [TBA]

INI406H1 Independent Studies in Writing and Rhetoric [TBA]

INI407H1 Independent Studies in Writing and Rhetoric [TBA]

Independent research projects devised by students and supervised by the Writing and Rhetoric staff. Open only to students who are completing the Minor Program in Writing and Rhetoric Program. Applications should be submitted to the Program Director by June 1 for a Fall session course or by November 1 for a Spring session course.

Prerequisite: At least ten full-course equivalents including INI 203Y1 or 204Y1 and INI 300Y or 301H or 304H or 305H or 311Y; permission of Program Director

To study Italian is not only to acquire a language, but also to study a rich literature and many-sided culture which have played an important, and sometimes dominant, role in Western civilization. For Canadians, the Italian contribution bears a special significance: the vast influx of Italians has brought changes in our way of life and a living presence to reinforce traditional Italian influences, thus enriching the meaning of the term Canadian.

Italian combines well with other modern languages and literatures, and other programs such as European Studies, Literary Studies, and Mediaeval and Renaissance Studies, but is by no means restricted to these. Students may choose from Specialist, Major and Minor programs in Italian Studies.

Italian courses are offered for beginners as well for students with an Italian background. Oral practice is included in all language courses. Students well qualified in the Italian language may be excused from language courses in First Year (please see the Undergraduate Coordinator). 300- and 400-series courses are available to qualified third- and fourth-year students and may be taken concurrently. These courses offer a wide range of options in language, literature and linguistics. Except for specialists and majors, it is not necessary to take language courses in the 300- and 400-series, but language courses may be taken without literature courses. In addition, there are courses in culture, cinema and theatre that have no language requirement.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, ITA courses may be taken in Italy at the University of Siena during July and August. A number of bursaries are available. Students may apply to take their Third Year in Italy under the Study Elsewhere program in conjunction with the International Student Exchange Office.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of Italian Studies participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Italian. Proficiency in Italian is an invaluable asset for those wishing to pursue a career in social work, business, applied science, government, law, medicine or education. A knowledge of Italian complements undergraduate studies in other areas, such as music, fine art, literary studies, European history or political science, to name a few.

The Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success. The Citation in Italian is available to students who, having completed a first year language course in Italian (ITA100YI/101YI/152YI) (or the equivalent prerequisite training), earn a grade of at least B- in a second-year language course (ITA250YI/251YI/252YI) and in one FCE in Italian language at the 300 or 400 level.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Italian Studies Courses

---

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all ITA courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar 26S

HUM199YI First Year Seminar 52S

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

---

Note

Guidelines for the selection of first-year language courses:

ITA152YI: for students who have completed OAC/4U Italian at the high school level (or equivalent).

ITA101YI: for students who have some passive knowledge of Italian (or an Italian dialect) or some secondary school training in Italian (but not at the senior level OAC/4U).

ITA100YI: for students who have neither passive knowledge nor any secondary school training in Italian.

Students with an adequate knowledge of Italian may substitute for the language courses and half-courses in the First and Second years another course or half-course, subject to the permission of the Department. The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their level of language skill.

ITA493HI Italian-Canadian Literature II: Identity and Voice [26L]

Critical investigation of works by Italian-Canadian authors, focusing on themes linked to the second-generation experience, such as intergenerational conflict, gender relations, the return journey, and the quest for identity. Special attention is given to the most recent production, new narratives and artistic forms. This course includes a component designed to enhance students' research experience. (Texts are available in Italian and English)

Recommended preparation: One of ITA233YI/334HI

ITA494HI The Artist as Writer [26S]

Writings by Italian artists through the ages, including Michelangelo in the Renaissance. This course includes a component designed to enhance students' research experience. (Given in English)

Exclusion: ITA494YI

ITA495HI Directed Research

Based on a professor's research project currently in progress, this course will enable an undergraduate student to play a useful role in the project while receiving concrete training in research. This course is mandatory for all students enrolled in the specialist's program.

ITA496HI Research Methods

This course, linked to the instructor's research project, will provide training in a variety of research methods.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

These inter-disciplinary and inter-departmental programs study both traditional and modern Jewry. The courses provide an opportunity to study the religion, languages, literature, history and philosophy of the Jewish people from biblical times to the present.

Jewish Studies Programs

Jewish Studies (Arts program):

Jewish Studies Program is divided into three main areas of concentration:

- A: Judaism and Jewish Thought;
- B: Jewish History and Society;
- C: Jewish Language and Literature.

Specialist program:

(12 full courses or equivalent, including 4 300+series and 1 400-series courses)

1. One Hebrew course: NMC 136Y or NMC 230Y (or written equivalency examination)
2. Eight courses from one of the areas of concentration listed above
3. Four courses from at least two other Areas

Major program:

(6 full courses or equivalent, including two 300-series courses)

1. Four courses from one area of concentration listed above
2. Two further courses from at least one other area
3. Two courses must be at the 300+ level.

Minor program:

(4 full courses or equivalent, including one 300-series course)

Courses Offered by the Jewish Studies Program

The following is a list of courses typically offered by the Jewish Studies Program. For detailed information on courses offered in the current academic year, please check the 2006-2007 Jewish Studies Undergraduate Handbook. If your division does not carry the handbooks, please call 416-978-8118.

Latin American Studies at the University of Toronto (LAS@UofT) is a programme for students in the social sciences, humanities and sciences who seek a deeper understanding of the Latin American regions, their histories, cultures and societies. LAS@UofT seeks to inspire knowledge and experience across the University's three-campus community and beyond. The programme's courses encourage students to complement special interests in fields such as Anthropology, Political Science, Geography, History or Sociology with a broader interdisciplinary framework, while at the same time committing themselves to an emphasis upon the languages and the historical and cultural experiences of Spanish and Portuguese America.

LAS@UofT exists to bring together the energy and insights of a multi-disciplinary collection of individuals and units, to develop innovative courses and to stimulate exchange. The programme's research and pedagogical mission encompasses everything from the ancient American civilizations and the ideas, peoples and commodities that came together and emerged within a wide Iberian world, through the archaeology, geography, history, languages, literatures, politics, societies and cultures of the Latin American regions and countries, to the natural sciences and transnational investigation of Latin Americans and their descendants in Canada and elsewhere.

Latin American Studies Program

Latin American Studies (Arts program)

Major program

(7 full courses or equivalent including at least two courses at the 300+ level)

1. Course work: Students must successfully complete seven full courses or their equivalents sponsored or approved by LAS@UofT, as well as satisfy the requirements of their departmental specialization. The requirement is six full courses for students who begin their language study in PRT220Y1 or SPA220Y1/SPA319Y1, or who demonstrate language proficiency by exam.

Of the required courses:

- One course must be LAS200Y1
- At least one course must be LAS300HI or LAS301HI. Note that if the subject matter and/or instructor has changed, it will be possible to take, and be credited for, LAS300HI or LAS301HI more than once.

Courses eligible for programme credit

Courses eligible for programme credit include those appearing below. Please note that some of the courses have pre-requisites; in all cases, and for updates on courses being offered, check individual department websites.

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), LAS courses are classified in different categories; check individual course descriptions.

LAS200YI Latin America: History, Civilization and Culture [52L, 26P]

An introductory course that studies the development of societies in the Latin American region from its pre-Columbian past to its heterogeneous present. Cultural, geographical, historical, literary, political and social topics will be examined combining traditional historical narratives and supporting documents with art, cinema, music and other texts from popular culture and mass media. This course is open to students in at least their second year of undergraduate study. It provides both a broad foundation, and an invitation to delve deeper in further courses and in different disciplinary concentrations.

Exclusion: IAS200YI

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

LAS300HI Topics in the Social Sciences (Latina/o Identity in Canada) [26S]

This issue-oriented seminar explores the construction of Latina/o identity in Canada from an interdisciplinary perspective. We look to generate knowledge and understanding about: 1) the manner in which Latina/o diasporas have been constructed through historical and socio-political processes such as exile, migration, immigration, and the ways in which they are articulated within transnational processes of capital accumulation and the redefinitions of 'authentic' national subjecthood and, 2) the ways in which Latinidad emerges both within Latina/o communities and in relation to the Canadian nation and transnational realities.

Prerequisite: IAS200YI/LAS200YI

This is a Social Science Course

LAS301HI Topics in the Humanities (Latin America and the Caribbean Through Film) [26S]

Please see LAS@UofT web site for more details on this course.

Prerequisite: IAS200YI/LAS200YI

This is a Humanities course.

LAS302HI Topics in Latin American Studies (The Hispanic Caribbean) [26S]

Note: please see LAS@UofT web site for more details on this course.

LAS400HI Topics in Latin American Studies

Note: please see LAS@UofT web site for more details on this course.

The following Life Science departments and programs are included in this section:

- Biochemistry
- Biology
- Cell & Systems Biology
- Ecology & Evolutionary Biology
- Human Biology
- Immunology
- Laboratory Medicine & Pathobiology
- Molecular Genetics & Microbiology
- Neuroscience (see Human Biology)
- Nutritional Sciences
- Pharmacology & Toxicology
- Pharmaceutical Chemistry
- Physiology
- Psychology

Many of the Life Science programs listed in this section are collaborative programs given by the Faculty of Arts and Science and departments in the Faculty of Medicine. The Life Sciences all focus on the scientific study of life. The study of biological processes has enormous importance for:

Understanding one's own body and those of other organisms sharing our planet, both in health and sickness;

Analysing the behaviour of humans and other organisms;

Understanding the interdependent web of living organisms on the planet, and their evolutionary relationships;

Preparing for ethical, social and political questions arising from our increasing ability to modify living systems;

Enhancing our ability to protect the delicate and complex ecological balance that sustains this world.

Today, the biological sciences are experiencing a revolution. Important discoveries occur almost weekly as scientists and students around the world develop and use techniques, theories and approaches. Increasingly, we need people with advanced knowledge and training who can contribute to these discoveries and their application. Equally, we need people who know enough about life sciences generally to make informed judgements about critical issues such as global warming, population growth, the emergence of drug resistance and new diseases, and the degradation of the environment.

On the St. George campus, undergraduate education, graduate education and research in the Life Sciences is carried out in departments within the Faculty of Arts and Science and the Faculty of Medicine.

The programs offered in the Life Sciences are listed below. Admission to all programs occurs after completion of 4.0 credits. Admission to some programs is limited. Please see individual program listings for admission criteria and procedures. Also check the Registration Handbook and Timetable's "Enrol in a Subject POSt" section for further details about programs.

For students with career goals in the health sciences, please see the "Admission to Other University Faculties/Programs" section under "Admission" in this Calendar.

Animal Use in Laboratories

Laboratory investigations are part of life science programs at the University of Toronto. Programs in life sciences at the University of Toronto include courses that involve observation, handling, or experimentation on animals or on samples derived from animals. The use of animals in teaching and research is regulated by ethical and procedural guidelines and protocols. These are approved on an ongoing basis by the University Animal Care Committee, and follow provincial and federal government rules. We recognize, however, that some students may have strong reservations about personal exposure to any use of animal material in teaching. Students who want to avoid registration in programs or courses that include such labs are, therefore, encouraged to check in advance with the departments involved.

Anatomy Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

NOTE: For Distribution Requirement purposes, all ANA courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

ANA300Y1 Human Anatomy and Histology [86L, 18P]

Structure of the human body and its relationship to function. Basic Human Cytology, Histology, Gross Anatomy, and Neuroanatomy.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ANA301H1 Human Embryology [52L]

Human embryology from fertilization to the end of the fetal period. Current concepts in mammalian morphogenesis applied to the development of the various organ systems; etiologies and pathogenesis of some of the more common human congenital abnormalities.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ANA498Y1 Project in Anatomy [TBA]

A research project in Histology, Cellular or Molecular Biology, Developmental Biology, Neuroanatomy or Gross Anatomy.

Prerequisite: Permission of a professor to supervise the project

Biochemistry is the study of the chemistry of living organisms. Biochemists seek a molecular explanation of life by attempting to understand its underlying principles. Biochemistry is concerned with the relevance of a molecule to an organism and the correlations between its structure and its function. Modern biochemistry grew out of the application of chemical techniques to biological problems and is the foundation of biological science and medicine. In many ways it combines biology and chemistry but the subject now covers such a broad range of activity that it is difficult to draw a neat border around biochemistry. Some of the most exciting areas of current biochemistry research include:

- * structural biology
- * enzyme mechanisms
- * signal transduction and regulation
- * biotechnology
- * molecular cell biology
- * gene expression and development
- * metabolic diseases
- * proteomics and bioinformatics
- * molecular evolution
- * protein folding
- * membranes and transport

The Biochemistry Specialist Program is academically oriented

Life Sciences: Biochemistry

and designed to provide students with a fundamental understanding of the theoretical and practical aspects of the discipline. The program offers training in problem solving specifically using a molecular approach. Biochemistry specialists will gain experience in critical thinking and the skills required to evaluate scientific rationale. The Biochemistry Major Program offers students fundamental training in the science and gives each student in the program the chance to combine Biochemistry with another relevant Major Program. This may be within the Life Sciences or Basic Sciences, or may be within the arts. For example, the combination of Biochemistry with Economics or with English could provide students with training relevant to the fields of investment within biotechnology or scientific journalism. Students who excel within the Biochemistry Major Program may be offered the chance to enter the Specialist Program at the third year. Frequently students who have completed a B.Sc. in the Specialist Program continue their studies in graduate programs in Biochemistry and other Life Sciences. Graduates from either the Specialist or Major Programs may find employment in research and teaching. Employers include universities and colleges, government laboratories, clinical biochemistry laboratories, forensic laboratories, pharmaceutical companies, biotechnology companies, and many other industries. Skills learned in the Biochemistry Specialist and Major Programs are also helpful in other areas such as marketing, finance, and law. Some biochemistry graduates continue their studies in medicine, dentistry or other health related programs.

Biochemistry Programs

Biochemistry (Science Program)

---

The Biochemistry Specialist Program is a Type 3 program. Enrolment is limited and selection is based on performance in First Year courses. Typically, students considered for entrance into the Specialist Program have a GPA greater than 3.0. Students apply via the Faculty's Subject POSt web site. See the departmental web site at www.biochemistry.utoronto.ca for more information.

Specialist Program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1/(CHM 138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; (PHY 131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 [PHY 131H1, 132H1 recommended]

Second Year: BCH 242Y1; (BIO240H1, 241H1) / BIO 250Y1; CHM 220H1, 247H1/249H1

NOTE:

BIO260H1 is a recommended preparation for MGY311Y1.

Third Year:

1. BCH 335H1, 340H1, 371H1; MGY 311Y1
2. 1.5 full-course equivalents from the following list:
Any 300-level course(s) in BIO/BOT/CHM/HMB/IMM/LMP/MGY/PCL/PSL/ZOO/BIO260H1/CHM217H1/345H1/347H1/BCH304H1 (departmental approval required).

Fourth Year:

1. BCH 471Y1
2. Four of: BCH 422H1/425H1/426H1/440H1/441H1/444H1/445H1/CHM 447H1/JBI 428H1/MGY 420H1/425H1

Major Program

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 400-series half-year courses as noted below)

The Biochemistry Major program is a Type 3 program. Only students with a GPA of 2.5 or higher will be considered for entrance into the Major program. Enrollment is limited and selection is based upon performance in First Year courses. Students may combine this Biochemistry Major with another suitable Major within Science, Humanities, or Social Sciences. In order to be admitted into the program you must have taken a full course load in first year (five full courses) and the enrollment is limited. For more information, refer to the Biochemistry web site at www.biochemistry.utoronto.ca

First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1 (CHM 138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1

Second Year: BCH 210H1;(BIO240H1, 241H1) / BIO 250Y1; CHM 247H1/249H1

Third Year:

1. BCH 370H1
2. BCH311H1
3. One full-course equivalent from the following list:
Any 300-level course(s) in BIO/BOT/CHM/HMB/IMM/LMP/MGY/PCL/PSL/ZOO/BIO 260H1/CHM 217H1/CHM 220H1/BCH 304H1 (departmental approval required)

Fourth Year: Two of: BCH 422H1/425H1/426H1/440H1/441H1/444H1/445H1/CHM 447H1/JBI 428H1* (*NOTE JBI 428H1 has IMM 334Y/335Y1 as prerequisite)

Bioinformatics and Computational Biology

If we were to choose the single most important scientific advance of the last century, it would be iconified in the image of the double helix of DNA and its implied duality: life propagates as pure information, which is encoded in physical molecules. Molecular biology is an information science as much as it is a physical science. Bioinformatics devises methods to make biological information computable - to abstract properties of molecules, cellular systems and biological organisms, to efficiently store and retrieve the very large volumes of data that are being accumulated, to support sensitive comparisons and to mine the data with sophisticated statistical tools. Computational biology is bioinformatics' goal: to advance our understanding of life through computational analysis, modeling, and prediction. However, integrating the two cultures of computer science and life science has been a challenge, and a bottleneck for progress has emerged from a lack of dually qualified researchers. The Bioinformatics and Computational Biology specialist program is designed to provide a balance between its foundational subjects and to cover advanced topics in both the theoretical and the life-sciences. It aims to train the generalist, who will become creative at the intersection of two fields, rather than pursue their subspecialization. The program draws on the University's state-of-the-art facilities across several departments, as well as being firmly embedded in a comprehensive landscape of graduate and postgraduate research in one of the University's priority areas. Graduates of the program would typically pursue graduate studies in any of the participating departments: Computer Science (from the biocomputing stream, see below), Biochemistry, Botany or Zoology (from the bioanalyst stream). Important advances in the computer sciences have been motivated by these needs and there is virtually no field in the life-sciences and in molecular medicine that does not critically depend on insightful data analysis.

Bioinformatics and Computational Biology (Science Program)

The Bioinformatics and Computational Biology Program is jointly sponsored by the Departments of Biochemistry, Botany, Computer Science and Zoology. Enrollment is limited and selection is based on performance in the required first year courses.

Specialist program:

(16.5 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year: MAT135Y1/MAT137Y1/MAT157Y1; (CSC107H1/CSC108H1, CSC148H1)/CSC150H1; CSC165H1; CHM151Y1 / (CHM138H1, CHM139H1); BIO150Y1; writing requirement (0.5 credit, see Note 2 to Comprehensive Program in Computer Science)

Second Year: MAT223H1/MAT240H1; STA247H1; STA248 H1; CSC207H1; CSC236H1/CSC240H1; BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1

Third Year: CSC263H1 / CSC265H1; CSC321H1 / CSC343H1; CSC373H1 / CSC375H1; BCH441H1 / BIO472H1; MGY311Y1 / (BIO260H1, BIO349H1)

Fourth Year:

Bio Analyst Stream (preparation for life-science graduate programs)

BCB410H1; BCB420H1; CSC411H1; five half credits from (BCB430Y1, BCH335H1, BCH340H1, MGY420H1, MGY425H1, MGY428H1, BCH422H1, BCH426H1, BCH440H1, MGY460H1, BIO460H1, BIO473H1, BOT421H1, BOT450H1, BOT458H1)

Bio Computing Stream (preparation for computer-science graduate programs)

BCB410H1; BCB420H1; CSC411H1; CSC336H1/CSC350H1; one half credit from (MGY420H1, MGY425H1, MGY428H1, BCH422H1, BCH426H1, BCH440H1, MGY460H1, BIO460H1, BIO473H1, BOT421H1, BOT450H1, BOT458H1); three half credits from (BCB430Y1, CSC324H1, CSC363H1, MAT244H1, CSC310H1, CSC321H1, CSC343H1, CSC412H1, CSC456H1)

Bioinformatics & Computational Biology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions. For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BCB courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26). For details on BCB courses, see www.biochemistry.utoronto.ca/bcb

BCB410H1 Applied Bioinformatics [26L, 13P]

Practical introduction to concepts, standards and tools for the implementation of strategies in bioinformatics and computational biology.

Prerequisite: CSC263H1, CSC373H1, MGY311Y1 / (BIO260H1, BIO349H1) or special permission

BCB420H1 Computational Systems Biology [26L]

Current approaches to using the computer for analysing and modeling biology as integrated molecular systems. The course complements an introductory Bioinformatics course such as BCH441H1. (Enrolment limited).

Prerequisite: MGY311Y1 / (BIO260H1, BIO349H1), BCB441H1/CSB472H1 or special permission,

BCB430Y1 Special Project in Bioinformatics and Computational Biology [TBA]

An opportunity for specialized individual research in bioinformatics and computational biology by arrangement with the course coordinator and a supervisor.

Prerequisite: GPA 3.0 and written acceptance by coordinator and supervisor. Corequisite: BCB410H1, BCB420H1

Exclusion: Any other 4th year special project course taken at the same time.

Molecular Biophysics (Science Program): See Physics

Biochemistry Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions. For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BCH courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

BCH299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

BCH210H1 Biochemistry I: Proteins, Lipids and Metabolism [39L, 26T]

Proteins, enzymes, membranes and the metabolism of carbohydrates and lipids. This course is intended for students who are NOT taking BCH 242Y1 as part of their program.

Exclusion: BCH242Y1/310H1/320Y1/321Y1/CHM265H5(UTM)/361H5(UTM)/362H5(UTM)

Prerequisite: (CHM138H1, 139H1)/CHM151Y

NOTE: CHM1** WITH COURSE EXCLUSION TO CHM138H AND CHM139H meet the prerequisite requirement for BCH210H. SCII** DOES NOT COUNT AS A PREREQUISITE. CHM140Y1 (UTM) is equivalent to CHM139H1 ONLY. Students that have an SDF for CHM138/139 are not permitted to take BCH210H1 until a final mark appears on the transcript.

BCH242Y1 Biochemistry [78L]

An introduction to biochemistry for students specializing in biochemistry and related specialist programs. The major topics include protein structure, enzyme mechanisms, carbohydrates, metabolism and bioenergetics, lipids, membranes, structure of DNA and RNA.

Exclusion: BCH210H1/310H1/320Y1/321Y1/CHM265H5(UTM)/361H5(UTM)/362H5(UTM)

BCH304H1 Cell Dynamics & Interactions [28L, 11T]

Principles and concepts of cell biology; structure, molecular organization and dynamic cell-cell and cell-extracellular matrix interactions during cell migration, cell adhesion, cell polarity and tissue organization and the role of cytoskeletal components and cell surface receptors in these processes. Approaches and imaging techniques used; contributions of cell biology to advances in medicine. cGPA of 2.5 is required for non-Biochemistry Major and Specialists.

Life Sciences: Biochemistry

Exclusion: ANA304Y1

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210HI/242Y1

BCH311HI Biochemistry II: Nucleic Acids and Biologic Information Flow [26L, 26T]

Nucleic acids and flow of information in biological systems. Information storage and transmission by nucleic acids, as well as new molecular technologies will be discussed.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, CHM247HI/249HI

Exclusion: BIO349HI/CSB349HI, PSL350HI

BCH335HI Nucleic Acids and Recombinant DNA Technology [39L]

Structure of DNA and RNA. Catalytic RNAs (ribozymes). Aspects of DNA topology and chromatin structure. Restriction/modification and fundamentals of recombinant DNA technology.

Exclusion: BCH430HI

Prerequisite: BCH242Y1

BCH340HI Proteins: from Structure to Proteomics [39L]

Proteins are the main functional units of the cell. In this course, a detailed overview of protein structure, stability, folding, and protein-ligand interactions will be given with strong emphasis on discussing the basic principles in the field. Biophysical methods as well as theoretical approaches to studying protein stability and folding will be pre-sented. Finally, proteomics approaches to map protein-protein interactions will be discussed. Priority will be given to students in the specialist programs listed in the Arts & Science Registration Handbook & Timetable.

Exclusion: BCH421HI

Prerequisite: BCH242Y1

BCH370HI Laboratory Course in Biochemical Techniques [13L, 39P]

This course reinforces theoretical principles through experiments that encompass pH and buffers, spectrophotometry, chromatography, electrophoresis and enzyme kinetics. Intended for students who are not proceeding further in biochemistry. It is highly recommended that students take this course in their third year as space is limited and priority will go to third-year students. cGPA of 2.5 is required for non-Biochemistry Major and Specialists.

No enrolment will be permitted five days after the start of class. (Enrolment limited)

Exclusion: BCH371HI, CHM379HI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI

BCH371HI A Laboratory Course in Biochemistry [75P]

An introduction to laboratory techniques of modern biochemistry. Experiments illustrate and develop the concepts described in lecture courses, and prepare the student for advanced training in biochemical laboratory techniques.

(Enrolment limited)

Exclusion: BCH370HI, CHM379HI

Prerequisite: BCH242Y1

---

Note

Students who have completed University of Toronto at Mississauga's CHM361H5 and 362H5 may enroll in 400-series lecture courses if they obtain permission of the Department

BCH422HI Membrane Proteins: Structure, and Function [26L]

Structural features of membrane proteins and methods of analysis. Function of membrane proteins as transporters, channels, pumps and receptors. Molecular aspects of disease processes linked to membrane proteins.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242Y1, MGY311Y1/BIO349HI/PSL350HI

BCH425HI Structural Biology: Principles and Practice [26L]

Theory and practice of modern biophysical techniques as applied in the study of structure and function of macromolecules; emphasis on protein X-ray crystallography, NMR, and other spectroscopic methods; discussion of selected examples.

Prerequisite: BCH 210HI/242Y1, CHM220HI. Analytical problem solving skills are highly recommended for this course.

BCH426HI Regulation of Signalling Pathways [26L]

A variety of questions relating to signal transduction are investigated. How is calcium regulated in the cell and how does calcium regulate cell function? How are extracellular signals received and transmitted by intracellular proteins to control cellular proliferation and differentiation? What signaling paths are triggered by insulin?

BCH427HI Advanced Molecular Biophysics [26L]

This course provides a focused study of concepts in thermodynamics, statistical mechanics and quantum mechanics through examples dealing with important current problems in molecular biophysics. Concepts in thermodynamics and statistical mechanics will be surveyed through applications to protein folding, while principles of quantum mechanics will be emphasized through a study of nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy.

Prerequisite: CHM326HI/PHY355HI, CHM328HI

JB1428HI Molecular Immunology [26L]

Molecular mechanisms involved in innate and adaptive immunity including the structure and function of immunoglobulins, the complement system, antigen processing and presentation and membrane signalling events. Emphasis is on experimental approaches and quantitative aspects. (Given jointly by the Departments of Biochemistry and Immunology)

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242Y1, IMM334Y1/335Y

Recommended preparation: BIO349HI/MGY311Y1/PSL350HI

BCH440HI Protein Biosynthesis [26L]

Mechanisms of translation initiation and translational control, ribosome assembly and structure. Protein folding and molecular chaperones. Protein targeting and transport. Regulation of protein degradation.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242Y1, MGY 311Y1/BIO 349HI/PSL350HI

BCH441HI Bioinformatics [26L, 13T]

This course covers computational methods and internet resources in modern biochemistry and molecular biology. The main topics include: sequence and genome databases, sequence alignment and homology search, use and interpretation of molecular structure, and phylogenetic analysis. Assignments focus on competence building with essential, web-based bioinformatics tools. Tutorials are optional and will be offered based on needs.

Exclusion: CSB472HI, BIO472HI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242YI, MGY311YI/(CSB349HI/
BIO349HI)/PSL350HI or special permission

BCH444HI Protein Trafficking in the Secretory & Endocytic Pathways [26L]

This course examines the molecular details of the secretory and endocytic pathways in the cell. Some of the specific topics covered will include protein translocation into the ER, chaperones and protein folding in the ER, retrotranslocation and protein degradation, the Unfolded Protein Response (UPR), vesicle biogenesis and ER-Golgi transport, regulated secretion, basic concepts in endocytosis and protein sorting in polarized cells.

Prerequisite: BCH 242YI/210HI, MGY311YI/PSL 350HI/
BIO349HI

BCH445HI Organelles and Cell Function [26L]

Principles and concepts of cell biology are covered including structure, biogenesis, and dynamic behaviour of cell organelles. The roles of sub-nuclear structure in DNA replication and of vesicular transport in endocytosis, exocytosis and phagocytosis are emphasized, as are modern imaging techniques and contributions of cell biology to advances in medicine.

**Please note in the past academic session this course was presented as BCH 305HI

Exclusion: ANA304YI, BCH305HI

Prerequisite: BIO250YI, BCH210HI/242YI, MGY311/BIO349/
PSL350

BCH471YI Advanced Biochemistry Laboratory [168P]

Experiments demonstrating modern concepts of biochemistry and molecular biology. (Enrolment limited)

Prerequisite: (BCH335HI + 340HI + 371HI)/(CHM361H5 [UTM] + 362H5 [UTM] + 371H5 [UTM]) + MGY311YI

BCH473YI Advanced Research Project in Biochemistry [154P]

Research in a particular area of biochemistry, by arrangement with the Department and the instructor concerned. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0.

Prerequisite: BCH335HI + 340HI + 371HI, and permission of Department

Co-requisite: BCH471YI

Life Sciences: Biology

---

Given by Members of the Departments of Cell & Systems Biology and Ecology & Evolutionary Biology

Students are advised to consult courses listed by these Departments.

Biology is the scientific study of life. At no time in history has biology been more visible and important to human life and the future of our planet. The study of biology has vast applications – in understanding one's own body, in grappling with the ethical questions that face humanity, and in understanding the interdependent web of living organisms on the planet. Today the biological sciences are experiencing a revolution. Important discoveries occur almost weekly as scientists and their students around the world develop and use new techniques, theories, and approaches.

The University of Toronto has many faculty conducting research and teaching courses in the biological sciences. Within the Faculty of Arts and Science, St. George campus, there is no single biology department. Biology courses once taught by the departments of Botany and Zoology are now taught by members of the departments of Cell & Systems Biology and Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. Each of these departments offers its own programs and courses, but also jointly offers the Biology, Botany, and Zoology programs. Courses are available in the subject areas of behaviour, evolution, ecology, cell and molecular biology, genetics, physiology, and developmental biology. In addition, there are courses offering a field experience for students. Students should consult the Cell & Systems Biology and Ecology & Evolutionary Biology entries in this Calendar.

Because many areas of biology draw on mathematics and the physical sciences, background preparation in mathematics and chemistry (and sometimes physics) is recommended for students pursuing programs in biology.

Students entering their first year in the life sciences take BIO150Y1. BIO150Y1 is taken by students who have successfully completed grade 12 Biology (or an equivalent course) and is a prerequisite for almost all further courses in the life sciences.

Note that courses prior to 2007-08 that were listed in Calendars under Botany and Zoology are now listed under Cell & Systems Biology or Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. All students, regardless of campus or Faculty, must abide by the stated course prerequisites and exclusions.

Biology Programs

Biology (Science program)

---

The Biology Specialist, Major, and Minor programs are administered through the Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. After completing 4.0 FCEs (four full courses or their equivalent), students in these programs are encouraged to discuss their course selections each year with the Department. Contact: undergrad@eeb.utoronto.ca

Enrolment in the programs listed below requires completion of 4.0 FCEs; no minimum GPA is required.

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.0 400-series FCE)

First Year: BIO150Y1; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1; JMB170Y1/
MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Higher Years:

- 2.0 FCEs from: chemistry, CHM 220HI, 247HI/249HI; physics, PHY 131HI, 132HI, 151HI, 152HI; or statistics, EEB 225HI, PSY 201HI, 202HI, STA 220HI, 221HI, 250HI, 255HI, 257HI, 261HI
NOTE: One of the two courses selected here could also be taken in First Year

Biology Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all BIO courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

Biology courses are offered by the Departments of Cell & Systems Biology and Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. The courses below have BIO designators. Other biology courses have either CSB or EEB designators.

BIO150YI Organisms in Their Environment

See Life Sciences: Ecology & Evolutionary Biology

BIO240HI Molecular Biology

See Life Sciences: Cell & Systems Biology

BIO241HI Cell and Developmental Biology

See Life Sciences: Cell & Systems Biology

BIO251YI Biology of Plants and Micro-organisms (formerly BOT251YI)

See Life Sciences: Ecology & Evolutionary Biology

BIO255YI Cell and Molecular Biology with Advanced Laboratory

See Life Sciences: Cell & Systems Biology

BIO260HI Concepts in Genetics

See Life Sciences: Cell & Systems Biology

BIO270HI Animal Physiology I

† Cross-appointed

The study of life, biology, has been transformed in recent decades by powerful new ways of asking fundamental questions about how living organisms work. In particular, molecular approaches are revealing both the incredible complexity of organization at the cellular level, and the underlying principles drawn from chemistry, physics and information science that will eventually enable us to understand that complexity.

Life Sciences: Cell and Systems Biology

The Department of Cell and Systems Biology brings together biologists who study life at the level of molecules to functioning individual organisms. Cell Biology is a vibrant and broad discipline that seeks to understand the underlying molecular processes that control cell behaviour in a developmental and physiological context. In this broad sense, cell biology comprises molecular biology, developmental biology, genetics and physiology and their sub-disciplines. Systems biology is an exciting new discipline that studies dynamic networks in biological systems through the integration of large datasets arising from the genomics revolution. Computer modeling and bioinformatics are integrated with the study of detailed information about genomes (genomics), the temporal and spatial distribution of all gene transcripts (transcriptomics), cellular proteins and their physical interactions (proteomics), and small molecules that cells assimilate or synthesise (metabolomics).

Cell and Systems Biology Programs

Animal Physiology (Science program)

---

Enrolment in this program requires completion of 4.0 FCEs; no minimum GPA is required.

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Higher Years:

1. BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1
2. BIO (270H1, 271H1)
3. 1.5 FCEs from: CSB 325H1, 332H1, 343H1, 346H1, 347H1
4. 1.5 FCEs (at least 0.5 FCE must be at the 300+level) from: BCH 210H1; BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1; CSB 299Y1, 325H1, 327H1, 330H1, 331H1, 332H1, 343H1, 346H1, 347H1, 352H1, 425H1, 430H1, 445H1, 497H1/498Y1, 499Y1; EEB 263Y1; PSY 397H1; STA 220H1

Cell and Molecular Biology (Science program)

---

Enrolment in the Specialist program is limited, and requires a minimum CGPA of 2.7. Enrolment also requires the completion of four courses, including BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1.

Enrolment in the Major requires the completion of 4.0 FCEs; no minimum GPA is required.

Specialist program:

(12.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Higher Years:

1. BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO (270H1, 271H1), BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1; BCH 210H1; CSB 349H1
2. CSB 330H1/350H1, CSB 331H1/BCH 304H1, CSB 428H1
3. 0.5 FCE from the following: BCH 422H1, 426H1, 445H1, CSB 327H1, 347H1
4. 3.0 FCEs from the following: BCH 440H1, BCH 441H1/CSB 472H1, CSB 299Y1, 328H1, 332H1, 340H1, 351Y1, 357H1, 427H1, 429H1, 430H1 450H1, 452H1, 458H1, 459H1, 473H1, 497H1/498Y1, 499Y1

Major program:

Cell and Systems Biology Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BIO and CSB courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

BIO240H1 Molecular Biology [26L, 18P]

An introduction to the structures and functions of DNA, RNA and proteins, exploring how the molecular information contained within an organism's genome is converted into cellular function. Accompanying laboratories reinforce the concepts introduced in lecture and teach relevant techniques

Exclusion: BIO 250Y1, 255Y1

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

Recommended preparation: BCH 210H1 (taken concurrently or previously)

BIO241H1 Cell and Developmental Biology [26L, 18P]

An introduction to the structure and function of cells focusing on the molecular bases of cell and developmental biology. Lecture topics include membrane transport, protein sorting and cell communication plus cellular architecture and the formation of tissues. Accompanying laboratories reinforce the concepts introduced in lecture and teach relevant techniques.

Prerequisite: BIO 240H1

Recommended preparation: BCH 210H1 (taken concurrently or previously)

BIO255Y1 Cell and Molecular Biology with Advanced Laboratory [52L, 36P]

An introduction to the structure and function of cells at the molecular level: key cellular macromolecules; transfer of genetic information; cell structure and function; cellular movement and division. The Enhanced Laboratory provides the opportunity for greater laboratory skill development in modern investigative techniques and is intended for students interested in conducting their own laboratory research.

Exclusion: BIO 240H1, 241H1, 250Y1

Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1, CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1, cGPA 3.0

Recommended preparation: BCH210H1 (taken concurrently or previously)

BIO260H1 Concepts in Genetics [39L, 13T]

This is a problem based course which discusses classical, molecular, developmental, and population genetics and genomics with emphasis on model organisms for genetic analysis.

Exclusion: HMB 265H1

Prerequisite: BIO 240H1

Co-requisite: BIO 241H1/255Y1

BIO270H1 Animal Physiology I [26L, 9P]

The main ideas of physiology and the contribution of experimentation to our understanding of life processes. Uses examples from throughout the animal kingdom, and includes the physiology of homeostasis and the endocrine system. Accompanying laboratories reinforce the concepts introduced in lecture and teach relevant techniques.

Exclusion: BIO/ZOO 252Y1

BIO271H1 Animal Physiology II [26L, 9P]

The main ideas of physiology and the contribution of experimentation to our understanding of life processes. Uses examples from throughout the animal kingdom, and includes the physiology of the nervous and cardiorespiratory systems. Accompanying laboratories reinforce the concepts introduced in lecture and teach relevant techniques.

CSB200Y1 Current Topics in Molecular Biology [52L, 26P]

This course is intended to provide non-science students with an understanding of basic concepts in molecular biology to allow them to explore, and analyze current scientific issues and controversies covered in the media and relevant to society at large.

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

Exclusion: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/250Y1/255Y1

CSB299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

CSB310H1 Crustacean Aquaculture in Thailand: Physiological and Molecular Approaches (formerly BIO 310H1) [TBA]

Successful farming of tiger shrimp faces a number of biological, environmental and economic challenges. Some of these challenges are being met by gathering information pertaining to nutrition, growth, reproduction and disease resistance. During two weeks of field time in Thailand, students will learn the basic techniques in crustacean aquaculture and undertake individual projects related to these areas by using physiological and molecular biological techniques. Students must attend a one-day orientation in Toronto in May.

Exclusion: BIO 310H1

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO (270H1, 271H1)

CSB325H1 Endocrine Physiology (formerly ZOO 325H1) [26L]

The regulation of physiological processes by hormones and other signalling molecules in chordates. An integrated genes-to-environment approach is used to examine aspects of hormonal evolution, physiological information flow, behaviour and neuroendocrinology, and xenobiotic endocrine disruptors.

Exclusion: ZOO 325H1

Prerequisite: BIO (270H1, 271H1)/PSL 302Y1

Recommended preparation: EEB 265Y1

CSB327H1 Extracellular Matrix Biology and Pathology (formerly ZOO 327H1) [39L]

Examines expression, structure and function of the four major classes of ECM macromolecules: collagen, proteoglycans, non-collagenous structural proteins and glycoproteins. In addition to forming elaborate networks that give tissues and organs their unique architectural design and biophysical properties, ECM molecules act as potent regulators of all cellular activities. Emphasis is placed on the morphoregulatory contribution(s) of ECM molecules to normal and pathological development.

---

Exclusion: ZOO 327H1

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1

CSB328H1 Developmental Biology (formerly ZOO 328H1) [26L, 26T]

Basic concepts in developmental biology. Early development of invertebrates and vertebrates will be discussed with emphasis on experimental and molecular analysis of developmental mechanisms. Tutorials demonstrate examples of descriptive and experimental embryology and discuss primary literature of selected topics in developmental biology.

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1

CSB329H1 Evolution of Development (formerly ZOO 329H1) [26L, 26T]

This course begins with a comparison of embryonic development in the major animal taxa. The evolution of developmental mechanisms is then considered with emphasis on the molecular and genetic basis of these mechanisms. Subsequent discussion examines the impact of developmental processes on the evolution of animal diversity. Tutorials feature the study of embryos representing diverse animal taxa.

Exclusion: ZOO 329H1

Prerequisite: CSB 328H1/(BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1 and permission of instructor)

Recommended preparation: CSB 328H1

CSB330H1 Techniques in Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology (formerly ZOO 330H1) [13L, 39P]

A laboratory based course in current research techniques, employing animal model organisms (fruit fly and zebrafish) and experimental methods including basic molecular and cell biology techniques.

Exclusion: MGY 432H1, ZOO 330H1

CSB331H1 Advanced Cell Biology I: Cell Adhesion and Migration (formerly ZOO 331H1) [39L]

The development of multicellular organisms is dependent on a broad variety of different cell-cell and cell-matrix adhesive mechanisms. The course examines the molecules and mechanisms involved and how they act in concert to regulate distinct developmental and physiological events. Emphasis is placed on the experimental approaches and technology used to study the molecular interactions and dynamics and alter structure-function relationships in cells and organisms.

Exclusion: BCH 304H1, ZOO 331H1

CSB332H1 Neurobiology of the Synapse (formerly ZOO 332H1) [26L]

Examination of all aspects of the synapse in both the peripheral and central nervous systems of invertebrates and vertebrates. Topics include: synapse formation, synaptic transmission, synaptic plasticity, learning and memory, and neurological disorders.

Prerequisite: BIO (270H1, 271H1)/PSL 201Y1/302Y1

CSB340H1 Plant Development (formerly BOT 340H1) [26L]

Plant developmental genetics at the molecular, cellular and organismal level, generation and use of genomic resources in plant model organisms. Questions address the genetic dissection of plant embryo and meristem development, plant stem cell specification and tissue patterning. Genomic approaches applicable to plant biotechnology are also covered.

Exclusion: BOT 340H1

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1 with a minimum grade of 73%

CSB343H1 Animal Energetics [13L, 13S, 13T]

Animal structure and function, at all levels from molecule to whole animal, are dependent on energy. This course describes how the supply, consumption, transformation, exchange and storage of energy can facilitate, constrain and limit animal function. Emphasis is placed on systems level physiological function and whole animal performance.

Recommended preparation: BCH 210H1/242Y1

CSB346H1 Neurobiology of Respiration (formerly ZOO 346H1) [26L, 13T]

Integrated control of cardio-respiratory physiology and metabolism in mammals. Topics include exercise, diving, sleep and hibernation.

Exclusion: ZOO 346H1

Prerequisite: BIO (270H1, 271H1)/PSL 302Y1

CSB347H1 Comparative Cellular Physiology (formerly ZOO 347H1) [26L]

In-depth survey of unique cellular adaptations of different tissues and organisms to overcome environmental stresses such as hypoxia. Emphasis is placed on cellular strategies, particularly second messenger responses, although systematic and whole organism responses will be investigated. Broad-ranging common strategies among diverse organisms are examined.

Prerequisite: BIO (270H1, 271H1)/PSL 302Y1

CSB349H1 Eukaryotic Gene Expression (formerly BIO349H1) [22L, 18T]

Genome structure and the regulation of gene expression in eukaryotic cells. Topics include gene duplication, repetitive DNA, transcription, RNA interference and expression profiling. Tutorials emphasize problem based learning exercises that relate to recent advances in the broad field of eukaryotic gene expression.

Exclusion: BIO 349H1, BCH 311H1, MGY 311Y1, 420H1, PSL 350H1

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1

Recommended preparation: BCH210H1/320Y1

CSB350H1 Laboratory in Molecular Plant Biology (formerly BOT 350H1) [26L, 39P]

Laboratory methods used in plant molecular biology research. Topics include vector construction, plant transformations, PCR, DNA blots, high-throughput screens, genetic mapping, and bioinformatic analyses.

Exclusion: BOT 350H1

Prerequisite: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1

Recommended preparation: BIO 251Y1 or higher level plant biology course; CSB 349H1/MGY 311Y1 concurrently

Life Sciences: Cell and Systems Biology

CSB351Y1 Introductory Virology (formerly BIO 351Y1) [52L, 104T]

An introduction to basic and medical virology. Attendance in tutorials is optional.

Exclusion: BIO 351Y1

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255Y1

CSB352HI Bioinformatic Methods (formerly BIO 352HI) [26L]

Use of available programs for analyzing biological data. This is an introductory course with a strong emphasis on hands-on methods meant for Biology and Human Biology/GGB specialists/majors. Some theory is introduced, but the main focus is on using extant bioinformatic tools to analyze data and generate biological hypotheses.

Exclusion: BCB Specialist program students, BIO 352HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255Y1, BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

CSB353HI Introduction to Plant-Microbe Interactions (formerly BOT 351HI) [26L]

Plants have co-evolved with microbes ever since their first appearance on land, resulting in sophisticated strategies of pathogenicity, symbiosis, commensalisms and mutualism. This course presents an overview of these strategies with examples of bacteria, fungi, oomycetes and viruses that have evolved intimate associations with plants.

Exclusion: BOT 351HI

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Recommended preparation: BIO 251Y1

CSB357HI Biology of Vector-Borne Parasitic Diseases (formerly ZOO 357HI) [26L, 24P, 10T]

The biology of malaria and other medically important vector-borne parasitic diseases. Topics include history of medical parasitology, parasite development in human and invertebrate hosts, epidemiology, adaptations to intra- and extracellular life and switching between hosts, effects on host physiology, immunity and behaviour, implications for vaccine and vector control and lessons regarding zoonoses and emergent infectious diseases. Laboratories and discussions complement formal lectures.

Exclusion: ZOO 357HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255Y1

CSB398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

CSB399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

400-Series Courses

CSB425HI Endocrinology of Transformation (formerly ZOO 425HI) [26L, 13T]

The student will investigate the endocrine and paracrine signalling mechanisms that act to coordinate the reorganization of tissues in animals in special situations. The topics covered will include metamorphosis in agnathans and amphibians, sex change in teleost fishes, limb and regeneration in reptiles and amphibians, and neural regeneration in birds and mammals.

Exclusion: ZOO 425HI

Prerequisite: CSB 325HI/PSL 424HI; CGPA 2.7

CSB427HI Plant Cells and Their Uses [26L]

This course will consider some of the polymers and smaller molecules produced by plants, including their biosynthesis, their involvement in plant growth and survival, and their use by humans. The course will have a strong biochemistry, genetics and molecular biology emphasis, and an applied component, examining human uses of plants.

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/CHE 354HI

Recommended preparation: BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI, CSB 350HI/459HI

CSB428HI Advanced Cell Biology II: Cell Polarity and Cytoskeletal Dynamics [13L, 13S, 13T]

This advanced course covers cell polarity and cytoskeletal dynamics emphasizing current literature. For each topic, the course examines (1) the proteins involved, (2) their interactions and regulation, and (3) how they organize specific cellular structures. The coordination of these complexes required for orchestrating complex cellular processes are addressed.

Prerequisite: CSB 349HI/MGY 311Y1, BCH 304HI/CSB 328HI/331HI/340HI

CSB429HI Germ Cell Biology (formerly ZOO 429HI) [13L, 13S, 13T]

This course will discuss the genetic and cell biological aspects of the development of gametes, gonads, and sex related traits in animals, including invertebrates and vertebrates. In the accompanying seminar, primary literature is used to discuss selected topics in germ cell biology.

Exclusion: ZOO 429HI

Prerequisite: CSB 328HI/329HI/340HI/349HI/MGY 312HI

CSB430HI Developmental Neurobiology (formerly ZOO 430HI) [26L, 13T]

An examination of the molecular genetic basis of nervous system formation. Experimental evidence from recent studies in selected invertebrate and vertebrate model systems will be discussed.

Topics include the evolution of neural development, neural cell fate determination, neurogenesis, pattern formation, and axon guidance.

Exclusion: ZOO 430HI

Prerequisite: CSB 328HI/(NRS 201HI/HMB 204HI/PSY 290HI, NRS 202HI/HMB 320HI)

CSB445HI Biology of Sleep (formerly CSB 345HI) [13L, 13S, 13T]

Covers theories on the biological function of sleep-wake states – why and how animals sleep. Integrates all levels of organization, including molecular biology, homeostasis, bioenergetics, neurophysiology, endocrinology, behaviour and evolution, with comparisons across phyla.

Exclusion: CSB/ZOO 345HI

Prerequisite: BIO (270HI, 271HI)/PSL 302Y1

Recommended preparation: CSB 332HI

CSB450HI Plant Proteomics in Systems Biology (formerly BOT 450HI) [26L]

This course introduces students to proteomics and metabolomics approaches, such as mass spectrometry, structural biology, 2D gel electrophoresis, in understanding the regulation of metabolic pathways in plants.

Exclusion: BOT 450HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255Y1, BCH 210HI

CSB452HI Plant-Microorganism Interactions (formerly BOT 452HI) [26L]

This course explores the molecular strategies that microbes and plants have evolved to live with each other. The variety of strategies will be summarized with emphasis on the molecular mechanisms of pathogenic relationships.

Exclusion: BOT 452HI

Prerequisite: CSB 349HI/MGY 311Y1

Recommended preparation: BIO 251Y1

Life Sciences: Cell and Systems Biology

CSB457HI Vector Biology [26L, 26T]

Biology of vectors, primarily hematophagous insects, of human parasitic, microbial and viral diseases. Emphasis is on the cellular and molecular interactions between the vectors and the pathogens they transmit and on vector defense/immunity mechanisms mounted against them.

Prerequisite: CSB 349HI/MGY 311YI, CSB 357HI

Recommended preparation: A course in entomology

CSB458HI Epigenetics (formerly BIO 458HI) [39S]

A seminar course exploring non-Mendelian phenomena in plants, fungi and animals that reveal aspects of genome organization and regulation that may provide insight into genome function and evolution.

Exclusion: BIO 458HI

Prerequisite: BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI, CSB 349HI/MGY 311YI

Recommended preparation: HMB 321HI

CSB459HI Plant Molecular Biology and Biotechnology (formerly BOT458HI) [26L]

This course introduces students to major features of gene expression and signal transduction in plants. Topics include strategies for generating transgenic plants and regulating gene expression, as well as the importance of signal transduction in plant growth and survival. How plants sense and respond at the molecular level to environmental stresses such as drought, salinity, cold and disease will be discussed. The application of this basic scientific information in biotechnological strategies for improving agronomic traits will also be addressed.

Exclusion: BOT 458HI

Prerequisite: CSB 349HI/MGY 311YI

CSB460HI Plant Signal Transduction (formerly MGY 460HI) [26L]

Plant development, ecological adaptation and crop plant productivity depend on the sophisticated potential of plants to sense and compute signals to regulate their responses. An arsenal of genetic and genomic tools is employed to elucidate these plant signal transduction pathways. Examples from the original literature will be used to introduce general concepts of plant signal transduction, molecular biology and genomics and their application in understanding and influencing plant growth and development.

Exclusion: MGY 460HI

Prerequisite: BCH 321YI/CSB 349HI/MGY 311YI or permission of instructor

CSB461HI Chromosome Biology (formerly BIO461HI) [26L, 26T]

Exploration of the relationships between chromosome structure, function and behaviour. This is an upper level genetics course with considerable cell/molecular biology content. Topics include chromatin structure, essential chromosomal elements, control of mitotic and meiotic segregation, chromosome evolution, genomic imprinting. Tutorials emphasize student discussion of recent primary research papers.

Exclusion: BIO 461HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255YI, BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI, CSB 349HI/HMB 321H/MGY 311YI

CSB472HI Computational Genomics and Bioinformatics (formerly BIO472HI) [26L, 13T]

Computational analyses of DNA and RNA expression data. Understanding biological databases, sequence alignment, sequence annotation, gene prediction, computational analysis of function, motif analysis, phylogenetic analysis, and microarray analysis. Applied, theoretical and statistical issues will be addressed.

Exclusion: BCH 441HI, BIO 472HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255YI

Recommended preparation: BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

CSB473HI Chemical Genomics (formerly BIO473HI) [26L]

This course surveys the field of Chemical Genomics, focusing on the analysis of biological problems using chemical approaches. Topics covered include chemical genetics, combinatorial chemistry and combinatorial strategies in molecular biology. Examines both the underlying biological and chemical concepts; however, the focus is primarily biological.

Exclusion: BIO 473HI

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255YI, CHM 247HI

Recommended Preparation: BCH 210HI, BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

CSB474HI Methods in Genomics and Proteomics [60P]

This hands-on, laboratory based course, offered through the Centre for the Analysis of Genome Evolution and Function (CAGEF), will teach students how to produce and analyze data that are central to the fields of genomics and proteomics. Techniques taught include DNA and RNA extraction, PCR, DNA sequencing, quantitative PCR, transcript profiling using microarrays, 2D-gel proteome analysis, and associated bioinformatics analyses.

Prerequisite: BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI, BIO 255YI/CSB

330HI/350HI or by permission of the instructor

Recommended Preparation: CSB 349HI/MGY 311YI

CSB482YI Developmental Biology Seminar (formerly BIO 482YI) [52S]

A class directed seminar analyzing the major problems in developmental biology from cellular, genetic, and molecular perspectives.

Exclusion: BIO 482YI

Prerequisite: CSB 328HI and/or CSB 340HI

CSB497HI/498YI Project in Cell and Systems Biology I (formerly ZOO 498YI) [TBA]

An original research project (a literature review alone is not sufficient) requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be one mutually agreed on by the student and supervisor. They must arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials and submit to the Undergraduate Office a signed form of agreement outlining details prior to being enrolled. This course is normally open only to Fourth Year students with adequate background in Cell and Systems Biology. All students are required to make written and, perhaps, oral presentations of the results of their projects and participate in a poster session. A copy of a written report must be submitted to the Undergraduate Office.

Exclusion: BOT 460YI/461HI/462YI/463HI/ZOO 498YI/499YI

CSB499YI Project in Cell and Systems Biology II (formerly ZOO499YI) [TBA]

Allows students to do a second independent project, supervision of which must be different from CSB 497HI/498YI. Operates in the same manner as CSB 497HI/498YI.

Exclusion: BOT 462YI/463HI/ZOO 499YI

Prerequisites: CSB 497HI/498YI

Ecologists and evolutionary biologists recognize that all life has evolved and that an understanding of the central question of the origin and maintenance of diversity – from genomes to ecosystems – underlies all life sciences and is critical to our stewardship of life. Society needs to make informed decisions about sustainable development, global temperature change, control of invasive species, the preservation of genetic diversity and ecosystem integrity, and the control of emerging infectious diseases such as SARS and drug-resistant malaria. These are fundamentally evolutionary and ecological problems.

Research and teaching in the Department covers all life forms (microbes, fungi, plants, animals) and is aimed at an understanding of the diversity of life and all aspects of organismal biology in the natural world. Research faculty use a broad array of approaches in their studies, including molecular studies, laboratory experiments, computer and mathematical modeling, and field studies in many different areas of the world. Instruction provides opportunities for research projects conducted in the laboratory and the field. We offer a very wide range of courses that deal with molecular evolution, population and quantitative genetics, genomics, animal behaviour, population, community, and landscape ecology, evolutionary and ecological theory, biodiversity, conservation biology, and systematics. Students exposed to these subjects come to realize that the ecological and evolutionary underpinnings of life present a host of scientific problems that are both intellectually challenging and critical to our future.

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

---

The Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology offers six programs: Specialist programs in Behaviour, Ecology, and Evolutionary Biology; a Major program in Ecology & Evolutionary Biology; and two Minor programs in Environmental Biology. The Department also jointly offers, with the Department of Cell & Systems Biology, Specialist, Major, and Minor programs in Biology, Botany, and Zoology. The Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology (EEB) arose, along with its sister department, the Department of Cell & Systems Biology (CSB), from a reorganization in 2006 of the previous departments of Botany and Zoology.

Students entering their first year in the life sciences take BIO150Y1. BIO150Y1 is taken by students who have successfully completed grade 12 Biology (or an equivalent course) and is a prerequisite for almost all further courses in the life sciences.

Students requiring more information about Ecology & Evolutionary Biology programs and courses please visit the departmental website or contact the Undergraduate Office, Earth Sciences Centre (25 Willcocks St.), Room 3055, undergrad@eeb.utoronto.ca.

Ecology & Evolutionary Biology Programs

---

After completing 4.0 FCEs (four full courses or their equivalent), students in these programs are encouraged to discuss their course selections each year with the Department. Contact: undergrad@eeb.utoronto.ca

Enrolment in the programs listed below requires completion of 4.0 FCEs; no minimum GPA is required.

Behaviour (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.0 400-series FCE)

First Year: BIO150Y1; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1; JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Higher Years:

- 2.5 FCEs: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255Y1; BIO260HI/HMB265HI; PSY (290HI, 260HI/280HI)/BIO (270HI, 271HI)
- 1.0 FCE in statistics from: PSY (201HI, 202HI); (STA220HI, EEB225HI) (recommended); STA (220HI, 221HI); STA (250HI, 255HI); STA (257HI, 261HI)
- 1.5 FCEs: EEB322HI; EEB318HI/323HI; EEB324HI
- 0.5 FCE field course from: EEB301HI/302HI/303HI/304HI/305HI/306HI/307HI/308HI/309HI/310HI/311HI/360HI/361HI/469HI/ FOR306HI
- 1.0 FCE 400-series seminar course: EEB494Y1/495Y1/496Y1 (496Y1 is recommended)
- 3.5 FCEs (at least 1.5 must be 300+ series) from: ANT436HI; BIO; EEB (excluding EEB 202HI, 214HI, 215HI, 216HI); ENV234Y1; HMB321HI; HPS 353HI, 355HI; JZP; PSY (excluding PSY300HI); ZOO (excluding ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215HI, 216HI)

NOTE: EEB 319HI, 321HI, 362HI; PSY397HI/JZP326HI, PSY497HI/JZP428HI; PSY 260HI, 280HI, 362HI, 369HI, 390HI, 392HI, 393HI, 396HI, 399HI, 460HI, 490HI are recommended for this program. Students wishing to take PSY courses to fulfill the requirements of this program should take PSY100HI. To take additional PSY courses, students must be enrolled in a PSY program or have obtained a minimum of 70% in PSY100HI.

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Environmental Biology (offered jointly with the National University of Singapore) (Science program)

This Type 3 minor program represents a unique opportunity to study environmental biology in a different cultural environment. For more information, contact the Undergraduate Office and the International Student Exchange Office (ISXO, www.utoronto.ca/student.exchange).

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. 2.0 FCEs (at U of T): BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1
2. 1.5 FCEs (at National University of Singapore) from: NUS341H0, NUS342H0, NUS344H0, NUS345H0, NUS346H0 (see below)
3. 0.5 FCE field course: NUS343H0

NUS341H0 Marine Biology [26L, 24T]

Scientific study of marine life and the marine environment. Physical characteristics of oceans, marine habitats and ecosystems, diversity of marine life and their adaptations to marine environments, impact of human activities and management systems. (Co-listed as LMS 4261 at National University of Singapore)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1/(EEB319H1, 321H1)

Exclusion: EEB/BIO 301H1

NUS342H0 Conservation Biology [26L, 24T]

The impact of habitat loss on biodiversity, conservation management strategies, ecological theory of conservation, socio-economic issues, and conservation options and challenges, especially in SE Asia. (Co-listed as LMS 4262 at National University of Singapore)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1/(EEB319H1, 321H1)

Exclusion: EEB/ZOO 215H1; EEB/BIO 365H1

NUS343H0 Field Studies in Biodiversity [12L, 8P, TBA]

Introduction to field biology, including sampling design and execution, data management and analysis. Includes a 7-day field experience (currently on Pulau Tioman, Malaysia) with trips to coastal, mangrove and freshwater habitats, and primary and secondary forests. Students will work in small groups to conduct mini-projects. (Co-listed as LMS 4263 at National University of Singapore)

NUS344H0 Behavioural Biology [26L, 24T]

The relationships that organisms have with each other and with the environment. Key concepts and ultimate and proximate explanations of animal interactions and other life history characteristics, with examples from diverse animals and ecological systems. Students also evaluate contemporary literature on relevant current issues. (Co-listed as LMS 4253 at National University of Singapore)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1/(EEB319H1, 321H1)

Exclusion: EEB/ZOO 322H1

NUS345H0 Forest Ecology [26L, 24T]

Fundamental principles of forest ecology, primarily focusing on tropical regions. Diversity and distributions of forests, soils and nutrient cycling, animal-plant interactions, disturbance ecology and succession, energy flow and food webs, population biology. Emphasis on how humans are affecting these processes. (Co-listed as LMS 3271 at National University of Singapore)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1/(EEB319H1, 321H1)

Exclusion: FOR305H1

NUS346H0 Global Change Biology [26L, 24T]

Aspects of current environmental change and its effects on biological systems, including rising carbon-dioxide concentrations, climate change, loss of biodiversity, and eutrophication. Global warming, land-use changes, invasive species, fire, carbon sequestration, carbon mitigation, and global (macro) ecology. Classroom projects, discussions, and debates. (Co-listed as LMS 3272 at National University of Singapore)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, ENV234Y1/(EEB319H1, 321H1)

Exclusion: EEB/BIO 428H1

Evolutionary Biology (Science program)

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.0 400-series FCE)

First Year: BIO150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; JMB170Y1/
MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Higher Years:

1. 2.5 FCEs: BIO (240H1, 241H1)/255Y1; BIO260H1/HMB 265H1 (BIO260H1 recommended); BIO251Y1/ BIO (270H1, 271H1)
2. 1.0 FCE in statistics from: PSY (201H1, 202H1); (STA220H1, EEB 225H1) (recommended); STA (220H1, 221H1); STA (250H1, 255H1); STA (257H1, 261H1)
3. 2.0 FCEs: EEB 319H1, 323H1, 324H1, 362H
4. 0.5 FCE field course from: EEB301H1/302H1/303H1/304H1/305H1/306H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/310H1/311H1/360H1/361H1/469H1/ FOR306H1
5. 1.0 FCE 400-series seminar course: EEB494Y1/495Y1/496Y1 (494Y1 is recommended)
6. 3.0 FCEs (at least 1.0 must be 300+ series) from: ANT436H1; BIO; BOT (excluding BOT202Y1); CHM 220H1, 247H1/249H1; CSB 351Y1, 352H1, 357H1, 452H1, 458H1, 460H1, 472H1; EEB (excluding EEB 202H1, 214H1, 215H1, 216H1); ENV234Y1; GLG 110H1, 216H1; HMB321H1; HPS 353H1, 355H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1; PHY 131H1, 132H1, 151H1, 152H1; PSY100H1/100Y1; ZOO (excluding ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1)

NOTE: EEB 321H1, 365H1, 370H1, 459H1, 460H1, 461H1, 462H1 are recommended for this program.

Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BIO and EEB courses, ENV234Y1, and JMB170Y1 are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26). All students, regardless of campus or Faculty, must abide by the stated course prerequisites and exclusions.

100-SERIES COURSES

BIO150Y1 Organisms in Their Environment [52L, 36P]

Principles and concepts of evolution and ecology examined through examples at the level of individuals, populations, communities and ecosystems. Includes the application of ecological and evolutionary approaches to behaviour, genomics, evolutionary medicine, global environmental change, and conservation biology. A prerequisite for advanced work in biological sciences.

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Prerequisite: Biology 12 or equivalent. Students without high school Biology must consult the BIO150 Office (bio150@utoronto.ca)

JMB170Y1 Biology, Models, and Mathematics [78L]

Applications of mathematics to biological problems in physiology, genetics, evolution, growth, population dynamics, cell biology, ecology, and behaviour. Mathematical topics include: power functions and regression; exponential and logistic functions; binomial theorem and probability; calculus, including derivatives, max/min, integration, areas, integration by parts, substitution; differential equations, including linear constant coefficient systems; dynamic programming; Markov processes; and chaos. This course is intended for students in Life Sciences.

Co-requisite: BIO150Y1

SC1199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

---

200-SERIES COURSES

BIO251Y1 Biology of Plants and Micro-organisms (formerly BOT251Y1) [52L, 39P]

An introduction to the biology of plants, fungi, and algae. Diversity of forms, reproductive patterns, structure, and physiology are emphasized. Labs demonstrate major species groups and the relationship between structure and function of plants.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: BOT251Y1

EEB202HI Plants and Society (formerly BOT202Y1) [26L]

The importance of plants to society. Plant biology, domestication of crop plants, plant breeding and genetic engineering, biological invasions, conservation, biodiversity and genetic resources. Evaluation of the ecological implications of advances in modern plant science.

Exclusion: BIO150Y/BOT202Y1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB214HI Evolution and Adaptation (formerly ZOO214Y1) [26L, 12T]

Evolution and adaptation through natural selection. Concepts and application based on faunal life goals of habitat survival, food acquisition, predator avoidance, and reproduction. Topics include: speciation, mutation, co-evolution, symbiosis, pollination, cannibalism, parasitism, eusociality, and sexual and parental conflict. Essays, debates, and reading required.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1/323HI/EEB323HI/ZOO214Y1/324Y1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB215HI Conservation Biology (formerly ZOO215HI) [39L]

Introduction to the scientific discipline that deals with endangered wildlife. Topics include: biodiversity, extinction, threats, demography, genetic diversity, nature reserves, and captive breeding. Also, endangered species laws, moral philosophies, and political, economic and social justice issues surrounding biodiversity. Essays and reading required.

Exclusion: EEB/BIO 365HI/ZOO215HI

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB216HI Marine Mammal Biology and Conservation (formerly ZOO216HI) [26L, 12T]

Introduction to ecological, evolutionary, physiological, and anatomical adaptations of marine mammals to their aquatic environment. Issues of conservation and environmental biology will also be covered. In tutorials the use of anatomical specimens (skulls, teeth, etc.) will be supplemented with video and other teaching tools.

Prerequisite: Biology 12 or equivalent

Exclusion: Enrolment in a Science program; SC1199Y1: Marine Mammals in Their Environment

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines.

EEB225HI Biostatistics for Biological Sciences (formerly BIO225HI) [26L, 26P]

A statistics course designed especially for life science students, using biological examples where appropriate. Students learn to choose and use statistics that are appropriate to address relevant biological questions and hypotheses. Lectures and computer labs will be used to cover the following methods: sampling and experimental design, data exploration, correlation, regression, ANOVA, Chi-square, and non-parametric tests.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, STA220HI

Exclusion: BIO225HI/ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270HI/JBS229HI/PSY202HI/SOC300Y1/STA221HI/250HI

EEB263Y1 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy (formerly ZOO263Y1) [26L, 78P, 26T]

The ontogeny and phylogeny of vertebrate structure are considered within the context of evolutionary theory. Functional aspects of the various organ systems are examined. Representative fish and mammals are dissected in detail and other forms are dealt with briefly to illustrate selected anatomical features and to provide practical exposure to vertebrate construction.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: ZOO263Y1

EEB265Y1 Animal Diversity (formerly ZOO265Y1) [52L, 78P]

Diversity of animals in the world. Focusing on the special attributes and biological requirements of different groups of organisms and what makes each group vulnerable to human-based exploitation.

Labs emphasize recognition of major groups, and use living organisms when possible, but involve no invasive procedures.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: ZOO265Y1

EEB299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

ENV234Y1 Environmental Biology [52L, 39P]

A broad-based science course drawing on elements from geology, systematics, soil science, and ecology to understand past and present environments and how humans are altering the environment. Emphasis is placed on examination of ecological phenomena in relation to population, community, and ecosystem processes with particular reference to the biomes of Ontario. Descriptive and experimental laboratory studies including a weekend field trip (total cost about $15.00). (Offered by the

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology, Department of Geology, and the Faculty of Forestry)
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 (recommended) or GGR100Y1
This is a Science course.

300-SERIES COURSES

EEB301HI Marine Biology (formerly BIO301HI) [TBA]

Offered in the summer at Huntsman Marine Laboratory, St. Andrews, New Brunswick, of about 14 days duration. Informal lectures and seminars with intensive field and laboratory work on different marine habitats and the animals and plants associated with them. Student projects included.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO301HI

Recommended preparation: EEB265Y1 or any 200+ series organismal biology course with a lab.

EEB302HI Arctic Ecosystems (formerly BIO302HI) [TBA]

Two-week summer field course offered in Churchill, Manitoba. Instruction combines lectures with field trips to local tundra and boreal forest sites. Students are responsible for completing an independent project based on local field work. Dates, instructors, and material covered vary from year to year. (Not offered in summer 2008)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO302HI

Recommended preparation: At least one course in ecology

EEB303HI Tropical Ecology and Evolution (formerly BIO303HI) [TBA]

A field course during Reading Week introduces students to the diversity of biological communities in the tropics focusing on ecological and evolutionary interactions. Plant and animal communities of the New World tropics are compared and contrasted with temperate communities. Students conduct small-scale research projects in the field. Lectures will be given on Friday afternoons prior to departure.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, any other Life Science course with a lab, and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO303HI

EEB304HI Field Botany (formerly BOT304HI) [TBA]

A two-week course that aims to introduce students to the diversity of plants that can be found in southern Ontario, not only in the wild but also in botanical gardens or other living collections. The course studies field, herbarium, and laboratory methods used in plant organismic biology research. Topics include: plant collecting, plant identification, preparation of voucher specimens, plant reproductive biology, and plant diversity and phylogeny.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BOT304HI

Recommended preparation: EEB 330HI/337HI

EEB305HI Experimental Ecology and Evolution in Southern Ontario (formerly BIO305HI) [TBA]

A field course offered at a Southern Ontario field station for two weeks in August. Students learn the natural history of the region and conduct a research project in the field. Projects focus on terrestrial plant ecology, plant-insect interactions, and other topics in evolutionary ecology selected by the students.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 or any other Life Science course with a lab, and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO305HI

Recommended preparation: a second- or third-year ecology, evolution or environmental science course

EEB306HI Inter-University Field Course (formerly BIO306HI) [TBA]

Inter-university selections from the offerings of the Ontario Universities Program in Field Biology. Courses, of one or two weeks duration at field sites, are announced each January. Consult the Ecology & Evolutionary Biology Undergraduate Office or website.

Prerequisite: Varies by module

Exclusion: BIO306HI

EEB307HI Alpine Ecosystems (formerly BIO307HI) [TBA]

A field course at a high mountain field station for two weeks in the summer. Students learn the natural history of alpine and subalpine biomes and investigate major abiotic and biotic interactions. Required projects catalogue natural diversity, examine species interactions, or assess abiotic influences and stresses on high-altitude organisms and their environment. (Not offered in summer 2008)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, BIO251Y1 or BIO (270HI, 271HI), and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO307HI

EEB308HI Biodiversity and Ecology in Southeast Asia (formerly BIO308HI) [TBA]

Offered in early or late summer for approximately two weeks. Students conduct independent research projects and will be introduced to the biodiversity and ecology of southeast Asia. Projects will be tailored to each student's interests and background. (Not offered in summer 2008).

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO308HI

Recommended preparation: EEB 360HI/384HI/386HI/388HI

EEB309HI Field Ornithology (formerly ZOO304HI) [TBA]

Lectures on the biology of birds, and intensive field work emphasizing field identification, census techniques and habitat preferences. Student projects included. Offered for two weeks in the spring or summer at a field station. (Not offered in summer 2008).

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

Exclusion: ZOO304HI

EEB310HI Lake Ecosystem Dynamics [TBA]

Two-week summer field course in Algonquin Park, Ontario. Field and laboratory exercises will demonstrate how interactions between physical, chemical and biological parameters are crucial in understanding lake ecosystems. Students collect, analyse, and interpret data, and complete a class project and independent project. (Offered in alternate years; offered in summer 2008)

Prerequisite: An introductory biology or introductory physical geography course, and permission of instructor

Recommended preparation: 200+ series course in ecology, environmental biology or physical geography

EEB311HI Field Biology in Mexico [TBA]

Two-week field course in Oaxaca, Mexico. Students will learn the natural history of Mexican flora and fauna and apply core concepts of ecology and evolution to observations and experiments in the field. Habitats visited include coastal lagoons, dry scrub forests, and cloud forests. Evaluation includes an independent project. (Offered in summer 2008)

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

---

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1Y or equivalent, and permission of instructor

Recommended preparation: One or more courses in ecology and/or evolution

EEB318HI Principles of Evolution [26L]

Principles and practice of evolutionary biology since Darwin. Topics may include: phylogeny, speciation, mutation and neutral evolution, population genetic variation, quantitative genetics, molecular evolution, natural selection and adaptation, evolutionary conflict and cooperation, and levels of selection.

Exclusion: EEB323HI/324HI/362HI

EEB319HI Population Ecology (formerly BIO319HI) [26L, 39P]

Distribution of species; population growth and regulation; interactions within and among species; food webs; harvesting of natural resources; diseases; pest control. Basic ecological principles and applied issues discussed. Labs include experiments and computer simulations.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Exclusion: BIO319HI/320Y1

Recommended preparation: a course in statistics

EEB321HI Community Ecology (formerly BIO321HI) [26L, 39P]

A comprehensive survey of community and ecosystem ecology emphasizing current developments and controversies. There will be two or three required day field trips held on weekends early in the fall term. Both the field trips and computer exercises provide training in sampling, simulation, and data analysis.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and a course in statistics

Exclusion: BIO320Y1/321HI

Recommended preparation: ENV234Y1

EEB322HI Behaviour and Behavioural Ecology (formerly ZOO322HI) [26L, 39P]

A broad introduction to animal behaviour emphasizing concepts from ethology and behavioural ecology, including foraging, predation, mating systems, parental care and behaviour genetics. Field and laboratory studies are undertaken.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, PSY201HI/STA220HI/250HI/257HI/GGR270HI

Exclusion: ZOO322HI

EEB323HI Evolutionary Genetics (formerly BIO323HI) [26L, 26T]

Evolutionary biology rests on a foundation of evolutionary genetics. This course focuses on the core ideas in population genetics and extends to evolutionary genomics. Students are exposed to the mathematical theory underlying evolutionary genetics and are expected to learn the mathematical foundations underlying these ideas. Topics include the population genetics of mutation, migration, drift, and selection, analysis of sequence variation, and the evolution of sexual reproduction.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, BIO260HI/HMB265HI, JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Exclusion: BIO323HI

Recommended preparation: a course in statistics

EEB324HI Evolutionary Ecology (formerly BIO324HI) [26L, 13T]

Empirical and theoretical approaches to key areas of research including natural and sexual selection, and life histories. Other topics may include phenotypic plasticity, speciation, co-evolution, and quantitative genetics.

Prerequisite: EEB323HI; or EEB318HI and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO324HI/ZOO324Y1

EEB328HI Physiological Ecology (formerly BIO328HI) [26L, 26T]

An advanced treatment of the physiological mechanisms controlling plant and animal distribution and ecological success. Topics of focus include photosynthesis and resource balance, water and nutrient relations, temperature effects, and adaptations to abiotic stress.

Prerequisite: BIO251Y1 or BIO (270HI, 271HI) or equivalent

Exclusion: BIO328HI

EEB330HI Systematic Botany (formerly BOT300HI) [26L, 39P]

The theoretical foundations of taxonomy and the types of evidence used in constructing plant classifications. Labs emphasize taxonomic characters and their uses. Includes an independent taxonomic project.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: BOT300HI

Recommended preparation: EEB337HI

EEB331HI Introduction to the Fungi (formerly BOT301HI) [26L, 39P]

Topics include fungal systematics, morphology, physiology, and ecology. The roles of fungi in the environment and their importance to man. A field trip explores the natural occurrence of fungi. Labs introduce the techniques used for morphological and molecular identification, and for isolation in pure culture. Students use fungal cultures to conduct an independent experimental research project.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: BOT301HI

Recommended preparation: BIO251Y1

EEB337HI Families of Vascular Plants (formerly BOT307HI) [26L, 39P]

Variation in morphology, predominant breeding systems, dispersal syndromes, and other features between families of vascular plants in the Ontario flora are examined. Students learn key characteristics for identification of important families of free-sporing and seed-producing plants.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: BOT307HI

EEB340HI Comparative Plant Morphology (formerly BOT310HI) [26L, 39P]

Evolution of vegetative and reproductive morphology of land plants is examined. Lecture topics cover evolution of meristems, shoot architecture and vascular tissue as well as evolution of the land plant life cycle, the ovule habit, fertilization processes, and pollination biology.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Exclusion: BOT310HI

EEB341HI Plant Anatomy (formerly BOT341HI) [26L, 39P]

The microscopic structure of plants with emphasis on the characteristics of cells and tissues, how they are formed from plant meristems and how they function in transport, photosynthesis, transpiration, absorption, and reproduction. (Not offered in 2008-2009)

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Prerequisite: BIO251YI

Exclusion: BOT341HI

EEB353HI History of Evolutionary Biology I (formerly ZOO354YI; also listed as HPS353HI) [26L, 13T]

An examination of major ideas about biological evolution from the 18th century to the 1930s and of their impact on scientific and social thought. Topics include the diversity of life and its classification, the adaptation of organisms to their environment, Wallace's and Darwin's views on evolution by natural selection, sexual selection, inheritance from Mendel to T.H. Morgan, eugenics, and the implications of evolution for religion, gender roles, and the organization of society.

Prerequisite: 6 full courses or equivalent including BIO150YI

Exclusion: ZOO354YI/HPS323HI/353HI

This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

EEB355HI History of Evolutionary Biology II (formerly ZOO354YI; also listed as HPS355HI) [26L, 13T]

An examination of ideas about biological evolution from the 1930s to the present. Topics include the Modern Synthesis, population genetics, the concept of biological species, ecology, sociobiology, and creationism.

Prerequisite: 6 full courses or equivalent including BIO150YI

Exclusion: ZOO354YI/HPS333HI/355HI

Recommended preparation: EEB353HI/HPS353HI

This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

EEB356HI Insect Biology (formerly ZOO356HI) [26L, 18P]

Lectures provide an introduction to the morphology, physiology, development, behaviour, evolutionary history and biological significance of insects. Practicals will include demonstrations, multimedia, and group discussions. (Offered in alternate years; offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Exclusion: EEB/ZOO 360HI, ZOO356HI

EEB360HI Entomology (formerly ZOO360HI) [26L, 39P]

Introduction to the morphology, physiology, development, behaviour, ecology, evolutionary history, and biological significance of insects. Labs include making an insect collection. Mandatory one week of fieldwork in Algonquin Park at the end of August. EEB360HI can be used to fulfil a program's field course requirement. (Offered in alternate years; not offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Exclusion: EEB/ZOO 356HI, ZOO360HI

EEB361HI Field Entomology (formerly ZOO361HI) [TBA]

A field and laboratory course to provide practical experience in techniques for collecting and studying insects. Students will each prepare an insect collection and/or conduct a small-scale research project.

Prerequisite: EEB356HI/360HI, and permission of instructor

Exclusion: ZOO361HI

EEB362HI Introduction to Macroevolution (formerly ZOO362HI) [26L, 26T]

Explores patterns of large-scale evolutionary change, played out over large geographic expanses and extended periods of time. Integrates patterns with field and experimental studies to clarify evolutionary processes. Topics include: origins of species and their adaptations, historical biogeography, co-evolution, radiations and extinctions, fossils and macroevolutionary patterns, and the role of evolutionary information in conservation and biodiversity initiatives. Tutorials emphasize methods used to reconstruct phylogenetic relationships and the sequence of character evolution.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Exclusion: ZOO362HI

EEB365HI The Biology of Conservation (formerly BIO365HI) [26L, 26P]

Introduction to the study and conservation of biodiversity at all levels – genes, species, populations, habitats and ecosystem functions. Includes threats to biodiversity and approaches to maintaining biodiversity. Practicals include small group discussions of lecture topics and computer labs.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI and one of EEB318HI/319HI/321HI/322HI/323HI/324HI/362HI

Exclusion: BIO365HI

EEB370HI Theoretical Ecology and Evolution (formerly BIO370HI) [26L, 26P]

Introduction to mathematical modeling techniques used in ecological and evolutionary theory. Applications include understanding the dynamics of populations and ecological communities and the evolution of ecologically important characteristics within species. Includes applied linear algebra, dynamic systems models, optimization techniques, and game theory. Requires good knowledge of first-year calculus, but not extensive mathematical background. Computer lab once a week.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI, JMB170YI/MAT135YI/137YI/157YI

Exclusion: BIO370HI/470HI

EEB375HI Environmental Factors (formerly ZOO375HI) [39L]

A lecture and seminar course dealing with the effects of physical and chemical environments on animals.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Exclusion: ZOO200YI, ZOO375HI

Recommended preparation: BIO (270HI, 271HI)

EEB384HI Biology of Amphibians (formerly ZOO384HI) [13L, 39P]

Introduction to the natural history, evolution, and diversity of amphibians. (Offered in alternate years; offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: EEB263YI

Exclusion: ZOO384HI

Recommended preparation: EEB 323HI, 362HI

EEB386HI Avian Biology (formerly ZOO386HI) [13L, 39P]

Avian diversity and evolution; adaptations for flight; physiology; migration and navigation; reproduction and social behaviour; species, speciation, and hybridization; population trends and conservation. Local field trips. An activity fee may be collected.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Exclusion: ZOO386HI

Recommended preparation: an additional course in evolution, ecology or behaviour

EEB388HI Biology of Mammals (formerly ZOO388HI) [13L, 39P]

Natural history of mammals emphasizing ecology, community structure, behaviour, reproduction, and life history strategies; form and function related to different modes of life and physical environments. Labs include a survey of Ontario mammals. (Offered in alternate years; offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: EEB318HI/322HI or BIO (270HI, 271HI)

Exclusion: ZOO388HI

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

---

EEB389HI Mammalian Diversity (formerly ZOO389HI) [13L, 39P]

The origin, evolution, zoogeography, phylogenetic relationships, and diversity of mammals; speciation, extinction, and current issues in conservation biology. Labs survey mammalian orders, their characteristics, identification, and systematic relationships. (Offered in alternate years; not offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: EEB 318HI/362HI

Exclusion: ZOO389HI

EEB398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

EEB399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

400-SERIES COURSES

NOTE: EEB 494YI, 495YI, 496YI are seminar courses that are advanced in level and broad in scope, emphasizing the integration of related sub-disciplines, critical thinking, and the synthesis of ideas often crossing disciplinary boundaries. Fundamental to these courses are group discussions among peers, facilitated by faculty, and student presentations. Students can normally enrol in only one of these courses, typically in their 4th year; students wishing to take more than one should contact the Ecology & Evolutionary Biology Undergraduate Office.

EEB428HI Global Change Ecology (formerly BIO428HI) [39L]

An examination of organism, population, and ecosystem responses to long-term environmental change occurring at the global scale, with emphasis on human caused perturbation to climate and the carbon, nitrogen, and hydrologic cycles and their ecological effects.

Prerequisite: 1.0 FCE course from EEB/BIO/BOT/CSB/ZOO at the 300+ series

Exclusion: BIO428HI

Recommended preparation: ENV234YI

EEB440HI Ecology and Evolution of Plant-Animal Interactions (formerly BIO440HI) [26L, 13T]

Major concepts in ecology and evolution from the perspective of plant-animal interactions. The richness of interactions between plants and animals are explored, including antagonistic interactions (e.g., herbivory, carnivorous plants), mutualistic interactions (e.g., seed dispersal and ant-plant associations), and interactions involving two to many species and across trophic levels. (Not offered in 2008-2009).

Prerequisite: EEB 301HI/302HI/303HI/304HI/305HI/306HI/307HI/308HI/309HI/310HI/311HI/318HI/319HI/321HI/323HI/324HI/328HI or equivalent

Exclusion: BIO440HI

EEB459HI Population Genetics (formerly BIO459HI) [26L, 13T]

A focus on theoretical population genetics, using mathematical models to understand how different evolutionary forces drive allele frequency change. Students learn how to mathematically derive classic results in population genetics. Topics include: drift, coalescence, the relationship between population and quantitative genetics, selection in finite populations, and mutation load. (Offered in alternate years; not offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: BIO260HI/HMB265HI, EEB323HI

Exclusion: BIO459HI

Recommended preparation: a solid understanding of basic algebra and calculus

EEB460HI Molecular Evolution (formerly BIO460HI) [26L, 13T]

Processes of evolution at the molecular level, and the analysis of molecular data. Gene structure, neutrality, nucleotide sequence evolution, sequence evolution, sequence alignment, phylogeny construction, gene families, transposition.

Prerequisite: BIO (240HI, 241HI)/255YI, BIO260HI/HMB265HI

Exclusion: BIO460HI

EEB461HI Advanced Evolutionary Genomics (formerly BIO463HI) [26L, 26T]

Study of the evolution of genes and genomes. Topics include: gene and genome duplication, molecular phylogenetics, methods of detecting selection, adaptive evolution of proteins, genome size evolution, comparative genomics.

Prerequisite: EEB460HI

Exclusion: BIO463HI

EEB462HI Advanced Applications of Phylogenetic Systematics (formerly ZOO462HI) [13L, 39P]

Computer-assisted methods for constructing and testing phylogenetic hypotheses are introduced through lectures and labs. Molecular data are emphasized although morphological data may also be considered. Character coding, maximum parsimony, maximum likelihood, Bayesian inference, and nested clade analyses are discussed. Students prepare a comprehensive term paper based on analysis of individual data sets. (Offered in alternate years; offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: EEB362HI

Exclusion: ZOO462HI

Recommended preparation: basic computer literacy

EEB465HI Conservation Biology in Theory and Practice (formerly BIO465HI) [39L]

Conservation biology from a Canadian and global perspective, including targets for conservation, methods of assessment, tools for recovery and key philosophical issues and legislation. This course teaches theory and methodology and provides practical in-class training using real-world conservation issues. Opportunities include preparing assessments of species at risk, presenting analyses, and possible publication of reports.

Prerequisite: One of EEB 318HI/319HI/321HI/322HI/323HI/324HI/365HI, plus one other course in behaviour, ecology, evolution or genetics

Exclusion: BIO465HI

EEB468HI Lectures in Limnology (formerly BIO468HI) [26L, 6T]

Interactions between biological, chemical and physical processes in lake/stream ecosystems. Waves, currents; temperature, light, oxygen dynamics; microbes, algae, plants, invertebrates and fish; food web interactions; water-land-air landscapes. Basic ecological principles and lake management issues discussed. Assignments and a major paper are required. (Offered in alternate years; offered in 2008-2009)

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151YI, EEB 319HI/321HI, or ENV234YI and permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO368HI/468HI/469YI, EEB469HI

EEB469HI Limnology (formerly BIO469HI) [26L, TBA]

Basic ecological principles and applied issues of physical, chemical, and biological (microbes, algae, plants, invertebrates, fish) interactions in lakes and streams. Same lectures as EEB468HI. Mandatory field trip(s) to learn sampling techniques and data analysis and integrate principles learned in class. An activity fee may be collected. (Not offered in 2008-2009)

Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151YI, EEB 319HI/321HI or ENV234Y, or permission of instructor

Exclusion: BIO368HI/468HI/469HI/469YI/EEB468HI

EEB471HI Quantitative Ecology (formerly BIO471HI) [26L, 39P]

This course examines aspects of quantitative ecology including approaches to ecological sampling, multivariate analysis of ecological communities and environmental conditions, null models, and spatial ecology.

Prerequisite: EEB 319HI/321HI and a course in statistics

Exclusion: BIO471HI

EEB494YI Seminar in Evolutionary Biology (formerly BIO494YI) [52S]

Topics include evolutionary ecology and genetics, biodiversity, and behavioural ecology. Primary literature and research seminars form the basis for class discussion and short seminars. Discussions are led by students.

Prerequisite: EEB323HI, 324HI; one of EEB319HI/321HI/322HI; and permission of instructor (minimum cGPA may be required)

Exclusion: BIO494YI

EEB495YI Seminar in Ecology (formerly BIO495YI) [52S]

Analysis and discussion of current topics in ecology. The topics vary from year to year. The seminar activities include both oral and written analyses of current research articles, and may include group projects. Critical discussion of research methods is an important component of the course.

Prerequisite: EEB 319HI/321HI; one of EEB 319HI/321HI/324HI/365HI/ ENV234YI; and permission of instructor (minimum cGPA may be required)

Exclusion: BIO495YI

EEB496YI Seminar in Behaviour and Behavioural Ecology (formerly BIO496YI) [52S]

Topics in behavioural ecology including predator-prey interactions, mate choice, and foraging. May include general discussions about animal consciousness, culture and welfare. Evaluation is based on presentations, participation in class discussions and written assignments.

Prerequisite: EEB322HI; one of EEB 323HI/324HI/362HI, PSY397HI/JZP326HI, PSY362HI/369HI, or a biology field course; and permission of instructor (minimum cGPA may be required)

Exclusion: BIO496YI

EEB497HI Project in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology I [TBA]

EEB498YI Project in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology I [TBA]

An original research project (a literature review alone is not sufficient) requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be one mutually agreed on by the student and supervisor. They must arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials and submit to the Undergraduate Office a signed form of agreement outlining details prior to being enrolled. This course is normally open only to Fourth-Year students with adequate background in ecology, evolutionary biology or behaviour. A copy of the final written report is submitted to the Undergraduate Office. Students are also required to give an oral presentation of the results and/or participate in a poster session. Students should contact their potential supervisor no later than April/May for projects that commence in September.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

Exclusion: If EEB497HI is taken then EEB498YI may not be taken for credit; BOT460YI/461HI/462YI, ZOO498YI/499YI

EEB499YI Project in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology II [TBA]

Allows students to do a second independent project, supervision of which must be different from EEB497HI/498YI. Operates in the same manner as EEB498YI.

Prerequisites: EEB497HI/498YI or BOT460YI or ZOO498YI and permission of Department

Exclusion: BOT462YI; ZOO499YI

The Human Biology Programs are available to students entering their second year of study. Our multi-disciplinary programs integrate courses from the medical sciences, biological and social sciences, as well as the humanities. The goal of each program is to provide a broad education focused on an area of biological science relevant to humans. Students will receive a solid foundation in life science courses together with insight from the humanities and social sciences. Graduates will be equipped with a broad range of knowledge and skills to go into the job market or pursue further study in research, health sciences, biotechnology, law, education, and administration (check our web site at <http://www.hmb.utoronto.ca> for more career paths).

Humans are first and foremost animals, living organisms. As such, they share fundamental characteristics with all life - structure, chemistry, control mechanisms, behaviour, an ecological context, and an evolutionary history. Thus the study of human biology must entail a sound knowledge of basic life science. Humans have also developed unique characteristics, emergent properties, arising from their highly complex brains - their intricate behaviour, communication and conceptual abilities, and social structures. So a fuller appreciation of their biology also needs an understanding drawn from disciplines such as psychology, anthropology, and sociology. The Human Biology Programs are designed to do this.

We offer multiple Specialist programs as well as a Major program. The Genes, Genetics & Biotechnology Specialist program focuses on various aspects of genetics, including options in molecular and population genetics, and how genetics applies to the emerging fields of bioengineering and of biotechnology. The Global Health Specialist program provides worldwide perspectives on health and medicine encompassing social, political, and economic environments. The Health and Disease Specialist program examines the functioning of living organisms and how they respond to environmental conditions (both internal and external) that cause disease. The Neuroscience Specialist program, relevant to all aspects of the nervous system covers topics as diverse as mechanisms of learning and memory, pain, Alzheimer's disease and movement disorders such as Parkinson's disease and Lou Gehrig's disease. The Human Biology Major program provides a broad and flexible course of studying the basic medical sciences as well as other life sciences. The Environment & Health Specialist program provides a basic understanding of the complex relationships between the behaviour of Planet Earth and the working of the human body.

The first year for both Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology and the Health and Disease programs consists of 100-level courses in Biology, Chemistry and either Calculus or Physics, plus an introductory course in one of Anthropology, Philosophy, Psychology, Social Geography, or Sociology. This choice should be influenced by which of these areas students want to pick courses from in the upper years. The first year for Neuroscience is similar in requiring Biology, Chemistry and either Calculus or Physics, but students will need an introductory course in psychology for this program. For these three specialist programs, you are strongly recommended to take both calculus and physics in either first or second year. Both are important for higher-level life science courses and other life science programs. The first year of the Global Health program consists of a biology and physical science core and establishes an environment or resources management stream, complemented by a social science or humanities course.

Each of the specialist programs has core courses in second and third years tailored to meet the specific needs of its students. These courses concentrate on an area important to the program theme, and/or emphasize the interdisciplinary nature of the program theme by showing connections between its different subject areas. Each program requires a laboratory half course in third year; students may take either the appropriate HMB lab course, or one of the others listed. To complete the program, students will be able to choose from a range of options in third and fourth years, depending on their interests and which courses students have already taken, as well as availability. Options include 400-level advanced seminar courses and advanced research "project" courses.

The Human Biology Programs also includes a Human Biology Major, which provides a foundation of study in the life sciences. This program builds on a background in biology, chemistry and a choice of psychology, physics or mathematics. The upper years provide exposure to several disciplines within the life sciences. Students acquire a broad knowledge base which is valuable not only for those intending to pursue a career in science, but also for those with career interests in other areas such as business or education. ## Human Biology Programs

Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(14.5 to 15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)

Enrolment in this program is limited, and will be based on cGPA. Enrolment requires completion of four courses including the first year prerequisite courses.

First Year:

1. BIO 150Y1
2. CHM 138H1, 139H1
3. 1.0 FCE from: MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1; PHY 110Y1/(131H1+132H1)/138Y1/140Y1/(151H1+152H1)

Life Sciences: Human Biology

4. 0.5 to 1.0 FCE from: ANT 100Y1; ECO 100Y1; GGR 107HI/124HI; PHL 100Y1/102Y1; PSY 100HI; SOC 101Y1; VIC 170Y1/171Y1

Second Year:

1. HMB 201HI, 265HI/BIO 260HI, BCH 210HI, BIO (240HI+241HI)/250Y1/255Y1, CHM 247HI
2. 1.0 FCE from: ANT 203Y1/204Y1; ENV 236Y1; GGR 220HI/246HI/256HI/270HI; JGE221Y; WGS 261Y1; PHL 240HI/245HI/255HI/273HI/275HI/281Y1; SOC 205Y1/207Y1/210Y1/212Y1/213Y1/214Y1/220Y1/242Y1/243HI/244HI/246HI/247HI/260Y1/263HI

Higher Years:

1. HMB 301HI, 321HI, CSB 349HI
2. 0.5 FCE science laboratory from: HMB 311HI; BCH 370HI; CSB 330HI/350HI; MGY 376HI; PSL 372HI
3. 2.0 FCE from the sciences: ANA 301HI; BCH 300-series (see Note 1 below); CSB 310HI/325HI/327HI/328HI/329HI/331HI /332HI/340HI/345HI/347HI/351Y1//352HI/353HI/357HI; EEB 323HI/324HI/341HI; IMM 334Y1; JZP 326HI; LMP 301HI/363HI; MGY 377HI/378HI; NFS 284HI/386HI; PCL 201HI/302HI; PSL 302Y1
4. 1.0 FCE from a Bio-Social or Social perspective: ANT 300-series; GGR 314HI/331HI/333HI/334HI/335HI/338HI/393HI; HPS 318HI/319HI/324HI/326HI/350HI/353HI/355HI; WGS 365HI/366HI/367HI/368HI/372HI/373HI; PHL 341HI/342/344HI/345HI/347HI/349HI/381HI/383HI/384HI; SOC 303HI/306Y1/309Y1/312Y1/317Y1/320Y1/327Y1 /339HI/344Y1/347HI/355Y1/356Y1/363HI/365Y1/366HI/369Y1/370Y1/373HI/374HI/375Y1/381Y1/382Y1/385Y1/386Y1/388HI
5. 1.0 FCE from a 400-level science series (see Note 3 below): HMB 421HI/435HI; BCH 400-series (see Note 1 below); CSB 428HI/429HI/430HI/452HI/458HI/459HI/460HI/461HI/472HI/474HI/482Y1; EEB 459HI/460HI/463HI; LMP 400-series; MGY 400 Series (see Note 2 below); NFS 400-series; PCL 477HI; PSL 400-series
6. 1.0 FCE from a 400-level Science, Bio-social or Social Perspective (see Note 3 below): ANT 428HI/429HI/433HI/448HI/450HI; GGR 415HI/416HI/439HI/450HI; PHL 407HI/440HI/470HI/475HI/482HI/483HI; JFG 475HI; NEW 425Y1/465HI; HMB 400-series; BCH 400-series (see Note 1 below); CSB 428HI/429HI/430HI/452HI/458HI/459HI /460HI/461HI/472HI/474HI/482Y1; EEB 459HI/460HI/463HI; LMP 400-series; MGY 400-series (see Note 2 below); PHC 400-series; PSL 400-series

Notes:

1. Students who have completed BCH210HI with high standing may enrol in 300-series or 400-series lecture courses with permission of the Department of Biochemistry program coordinator.
2. Students who have completed BIO 349HI/CSB 349HI with high standing may be eligible to enrol in other MGY 400-series courses with permission from the instructor.
3. An independent research or reading course may be used towards the 1.0 FCE 400-series course. Students will need the approval of the program committee to be eligible for a research or reading course.

Human Biology (Science program)

Major program:

(7.5 to 8 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

First Year:

1. BIO 150YI, CHM 138HI, 139HI
2. 0.5 to 1.0 FCE from: JMB 170YI; MAT 135YI/136YI/137YI/157YI; PHY 110YI/(131HI+132HI)/138YI/140YI/(151HI+152HI); PSY 100HI; VIC 170YI/171YI

Second Year:

1. HMB 265HI/BIO 260HI, BCH 210HI, BIO (240HI+241HI)/250YI/255YI

Third Year:

1. 1.0 FCE from: BIO 251YI/252YI/(270HI+271HI); PSL 302YI
2. 1.0 300+level FCE from: BIO; BOT; EEB; CSB; HMB; PSY; ZOO
3. 1.0 300+level FCE from: ANA; BCH; HMB; IMM; LMP; MGY; NFS; NRS; PCL; PSL (see Note 1 below)

Human Biology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all HMB courses are classified as SCIENCE courses, with the following exceptions: HMB303HI, HAJ453HI, and HMB498YI. Please see course descriptions below for information.

HMB200HI Introduction to Neuroscience (formerly NRS201HI/HMB204HI) [26L, 13T]

A survey of brain systems, including evolution and development of the nervous system, brain stem system for defensive and approach responses, limbic and cortical systems for learning, and higher brain functions. Techniques for study of brain systems including pharmacology, gene targeting and human brain imaging are introduced.

Exclusion: PSY290HI/NRS201HI/HMB204HI

Prerequisite: BIO150YI; PSY100HI/101YI

Pre- or co-requisite: PSL300HI/BIO252YI/BIO(270HI+271HI)/PSY391HI

HMB201HI Introduction to Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology [26L, 13T]

Interdisciplinary course consisting of three parts: the genetic basis, tools and techniques of biotechnology; medical, environmental and agricultural applications; and ethical, legal and social aspects of biotechnology (including approaches to risk assessment, reduction and acceptance). A prime example used in the third part is the controversy over genetically modified foods.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Co-requisite: BIO250YI

HMB202HI Introduction to Health and Disease [26L, 13P]

An introductory course in Health and Disease using an interdisciplinary approach that integrates developmental human biology with perspectives from the Social Sciences. An exploration of the key concepts and approaches that is necessary for understanding the dynamic nexus of human health and disease.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

HMB203HI Introduction to Global Health [26L, 13T]

An introductory course covering the theories, operational components and strategies of implementing primary health care in developing countries. Topics include education, control of vector borne diseases, essential drug provision, maternal and child health and nutrition and incorporation of alternative and complementary technologies, community participation and deployment of health service providers.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

HMB204HI Introduction to Human Behavioural Biology (formerly HMB200HI) [26L, 13T]

An introductory course in Human Behavioural biology covering topics and concepts from behavioural genetics and evolutionary psychology.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI, PSY100HI

Exclusion: HMB200HI

HMB210HI Scientific Controversies and Misconception [10L, 16S]

Students engage in a variety of current, high profile misconceptions in human biology to change and extend incorrect common beliefs; to become familiar with the process of scientific inquiry; and to develop thinking, analytical and communication skills. Scientific misconceptions will be sourced from current issues.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Pre- or co-requisite: BIO250YI; BCH210HI

HMB265HI General and Human Genetics [26L, 13T]

An introduction to classical and modern methods of genetic analysis. Topics include Mendelian genetics, the genetics of human population and disease, genomics, and applications of genetics to human society.

Exclusion: BIO260HI, BIO207H5

Prerequisite: BIO150YI

Co-requisite: BIO250YI

Life Sciences: Human Biology

---

HMB300HI Human Behavioural Biology [26L, 13T]

Intermediate course for the Specialist program in Neuroscience. Consult web page for more information: <http://hmb.utoronto.ca/hmb300h>.

Prerequisite: HMB200HI/204HI/NRS201HI

HMB301HI Biotechnology [26L, 13T]

Intermediate course in biotechnology; topics vary but include the use of vectors, and biochemical pathways in biotechnology.

Prerequisite: HMB201HI

HMB302HI Vertebrate Histology and Histopathology [26L, 39P]

Laboratory and lecture course studying the structure of the cell, various tissues and organ systems. Emphasis is on functional morphology and the adaptive response (including the inflammatory reaction) by comparing histological sections of normal tissues and organs with common diseases including neoplasia, respiratory, and liver disease.

HMB303H Global Health and Human Rights [24L, 15S]

A multidisciplinary emphasis on the economic, historical, social and cultural determinants of health and human rights, and how structural violence prevents progress towards human rights. Case studies reflecting global aspects of health and human rights will form a framework for approaching these issues.

This is a SCIENCE or SOCIAL SCIENCE course.

HMB304HI Biomedical Visualization [13L, 26T]

This course covers the analysis and development of visual media as it relates to the study of human biology. Lectures include: light/form; proportion/scale; conventions in human biology visualizations; media appropriate for target audience and reproduction. Topics may include: human anatomy and physiology, genetics, and issues in public health. Classes consist of lectures with computer lab explorations.

Exclusion: HSC302H5

Prerequisite: BIO250YI

HMB305HI Personalized Modern Science [26L]

Learn about the people behind the last century of scientific discovery. Select scientists, chosen in part for the impact of their discovery on human biology, will be used to illustrate the process of scientific research. Source material will range from interviews available from Nature and Science to written biographies.

Prerequisite: BIO250YI; BCH210HI; HMB265HI

HMB310HI Laboratory in Neuroscience (formerly NRS302HI) [13L, 39P]

A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Neuroscience and Human Behavioural Biology. Lab topics include brain anatomy and imaging, immunocytochemistry, startle reflex analysis, human neuropsychology, and animal behaviour.

Exclusion: PSY399HI, NRS302HI, HMB314H

Co-requisite: HMB300HI

HMB311HI Laboratory in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology [13L, 39P]

A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology. Lab topics include basic microbiology techniques, Southern blot, immunocytochemistry, nutrigenomics, and principles of fermentation.

Exclusion: HMB314H

Co-requisite: HMB301HI

HMB312HI Laboratory in Health and Disease [13L, 39P]

A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Health and Disease. Lab topics include basic microbiology techniques, Southern blot, immunocytochemistry, nutrigenomics, and histological techniques.

Exclusion: HMB314H

Prerequisite: HMB202HI, HMB302HI

HMB314HI Laboratory in Human Biology [13L, 39P]

A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Human Biology Major program. Laboratory topics include basic physiological techniques (blood/urine analysis, glucose tolerance), genetic analysis and investigation of biological processes using current molecular biology techniques. Students are engaged in supervised research projects on their research interests.

Exclusion: HMB310HI/311HI/312HI

Prerequisite: BIO250YI/BIO255YI, HMB265HI/BIO260HI

HMB320HI Neuroanatomy (formerly NRS202HI) [26L, 26P]

This is a rigorous, introductory course that presents the functional and comparative anatomy of the vertebrate brain. It is designed for students who intend to continue with studies in the Neurosciences and related areas.

Exclusion: NRS202HI

Prerequisite: HMB204HI

HMB321HI Topics in Genetics [26L, 13T]

Lectures and tutorial discussions on three or four selected topics in Genetics. Emphasis is on building in-depth understanding of classical and current problems from their historical roots to recent molecular genetic results. Topics vary yearly. Consult web page for more information: <http://hmb.utoronto.ca/hmb321h>.

Prerequisite: BIO260HI/HMB265HI

HMB322HI Human Diseases in Our Society [26L]

Explore the scientific basis, interdisciplinary healthcare practices, and social implications of several diseases common in our society (e.g., STD, skin cancer, diabetes, and periodontal disease). Discuss current issues. Shadow a healthcare professional.

Prerequisite: BIO250YI, HMB200HI/201HI/202HI/203HI/204HI

HMB397HI Scientific Communication [4L, 22S]

Delve into topic(s) of human biology of your choice! Read science as it's published. Listen to scientific talks. Be mentored by your own individual professor; a basic or clinical researcher. Assignments guide you to read, write, and speak effectively about science.

Prerequisite: BIO250YI, HMB200HI/201HI/202HI/203HI/204HI/HMB Major

HMB399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project [TBA]

An Independent Experiential Study Project for students in Human biology. An instructional-supervised group project in an off-campus setting.

Prerequisite: 10 FCE and permission of the Human Biology Programs Office; enrolled in a Human Biology program.

HMB400Y1 Project in Neuroscience (formerly NRS400Y1) [TBA]

Laboratory research project on a neuroscience topic; supervised by a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science or the Faculty of Medicine. Requires approval from the Human Biology Programs office from which application forms may be obtained.

Exclusion: NRS400Y1

Prerequisite: An approved 300+ series science laboratory course and permission of the Human Biology Programs office.

Life Sciences: Human Biology

HMB420HI Seminar in Human Behavioural Biology [20L, 6S]

Interdisciplinary seminar course that integrates the study of biological sciences with a psychological, sociological, anthropological, and philosophical perspective.

Prerequisite: HMB300HI

HMB421HI Seminar in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology [13L, 13S]

Theme based lecture and seminar course underlining current medical research in relation to the areas of genes, genetics and biotechnology. Topics vary yearly.

Prerequisite: HMB301HI

HMB422HI Seminar in Health and Disease [16L, 10S]

Lecture and seminar course underlining current medical research related to human disease. Topics vary yearly.

Prerequisite: HMB202HI, 302HI

HMB430HI Trends in Neuroscience [20L, 6S]

Current research covering the breadth of neuroscience will be show cased by members of the Collaborative Program in Neuroscience. These topical reports will cover the spectrum from molecular through genetic, cellular, developmental, systems, behavioural and modelling. As well, approaches to studying neurodegenerative diseases and clinical neurophysiology will be introduced.

HMB431HI Biotechnology: Interface between Science & Industry [13L, 13S]

Students will use case studies facilitated by biotechnology experts to explore the integration of biological science with business. The focus will be on vision and strategies of newly established ventures as well as existing companies that promote significant achievement in scientific discovery, commercial application, and public awareness.

HMB432HI Topics in Histology and Histopathology [13L, 13S]

Lecture and seminar course emphasizing current research. Topics may include the digestive system, cardiovascular system, respiratory system, and neoplasia. Topics will vary depending on class interest.

Prerequisite: HMB302HI

HMB433HI Topics in Global Health [18L, 8S]

Seminar and theme based course based on topics in health and human rights in a global setting.

Prerequisite: HMB303HI

HMB434HI Complementary and Alternative Medicine [20L, 6S]

Integrative health care is a phenomenon that is developing in health care systems in North America, China, India, and Vietnam, among others. It involves the coordination of multi-disciplinary and culturally-specific health services in the treatment of illness and disease, and an expanded concept of health, illness, and wellness.

Prerequisite: HMB302HI/303HI or permission from the Human Biology Programs office.

HMB435HI Selected Topics in Molecular Cell Biology [16L, 10S]

Theme based lecture and seminar course underlining current basic science research in the area of molecular biology and cell biology as related to human disease. Topics vary yearly depending on student interest.

Prerequisite: BIO349HI/PSL350HI

HMB442HI Epidemiology of Health & Disease [20L, 6S]

Engages students in the fundamental science of epidemiology applied to health and disease. After an introduction to various measures of health and disease, the scientific methods used to investigate, analyze, prevent and control population health problems will be illustrated using biomedical and public health studies.

HMB443HI Global Hidden Hunger [20L, 6S]

Vitamin and mineral deficiencies, termed 'hidden hunger', affect about half the world's population. We explore the global nature, catastrophic consequences, and causes of these deficiencies. We also discuss formulation and implementation of international, national, and local policies to alleviate 'hidden hunger' especially in infants and young children.

Prerequisite: HMB303HI or NFS382HI

HMB444HI Human Biology and Human Destiny: Science, Popular Science, and Science Fiction [26S]

Seminars explore the interactions of biological sciences, social issues, and literature. Through reading of classic "SF" novels and popular writings by prominent twentieth century biologists in their historical, scientific, and thematic contexts, we will examine how biological concepts and their development affected life, society, and the future of humanity.

Prerequisite: HMB300HI/301HI/302HI/303HI/305HI

HAI453HI AIDS: A Global Perspective [8L, 18S]

Seminars explore the global AIDS crisis, adopting the medical-anthropological perspective of Paul Farmer's "Infections and Inequalities". Varying epidemiological profiles of AIDS are placed in broader social, cultural, and political-economic frameworks. The impact of globalization and structural inequality on local cultures and lifestyles will provide an essential backdrop to the discussions.

Prerequisite: HMB300HI/301HI/302HI/303HI or 0.5 FCE 300-series ANT course

This is a SCIENCE or SOCIAL SCIENCE course.

JEH455HI Current Issues in Environment & Health [16L, 10S]

This course introduces students to complex issues at the interface between environment and health where health is broadly defined. Each year a current and controversial case study is explored from scientific, medical, political and policy perspectives. The course takes students from the molecular to individual to population and societal levels.

Prerequisite: ENV341HI/HMB302HI

HMB470HI Exercise and Sports Medicine [20L, 6S]

This course introduces biomechanics and builds on knowledge of the biomechanics of injury and dysfunction to develop a systematic understanding of risk, injury prevention, and initial management of injuries in sports and physical activities. Some additional topics include "doping" in sport, travel issues in competitive sport, and ethical issues in clinical sport medicine.

Prerequisite: HMB300HI/301HI/302HI/303HI

HMB471HI Performance Enhancement [20L, 6S]

This course presents the links between stress and performance. Current research will provide the theoretical and scientific bases for this mind-body link. Various stress management skills will be introduced to maintain focus in the face of distractions such as writing an examination, making a public presentation or being interviewed for a job

Prerequisite: HMB300HI/301HI/302HI/303HI

Life Sciences: Human Biology

HMB472HI Exercise Physiology [20L, 6S]

Examine the physiological and biochemical responses of the human body to both acute and chronic bouts of physical activity. The impact of activity on health, and health on physical activity, is explored by examining adaptations from the cellular to the systemic level of bodily function.

Prerequisite: PSL302Y1/CSB252Y

HMB473HI Exercise and Mental Health [20L, 6S]

Mental well being is a critical element of total health. We will explore the evidence underpinning the role of physical activity in the avoidance of mental disorders, recovery from mental disorders, and the well being and quality of life of those with or without mental disorders.

Prerequisite: PSL302Y1/BIO252Y1/BIO(270HI+271HI), PSY100HI, 15 FCE

HMB498Y Research Project in Global Health [TBA]

A research project on issues surrounding global health and human rights to be supervised by a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science or the Faculty of Medicine. Requires approval from the Human Biology Programs office from which application forms may be obtained.

Prerequisite: HMB203HI, HMB303HI and permission of the Human Biology Programs office.

This is a SCIENCE or SOCIAL SCIENCE course.

HMB499YI Research Project in Human Biology [TBA]

A research project supervised by a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science or the Faculty of Medicine. Requires approval from the Human Biology Programs office from which application forms may be obtained.

Prerequisite: An approved 300+ series science laboratory course and permission of the Human Biology Programs office.

Immunology is an integrative branch of the medical sciences that draws upon the more traditional disciplines of Molecular Biology, Microbiology, Pathology, and Biochemistry. In essence, Immunology is the study of the physiological responses that result when foreign (i.e. non-self) materials are introduced into a vertebrate organism such as man. Traditionally, the discipline has focussed on the body's response to infectious micro-organisms, with the purpose of developing effective vaccines. However, the scope of modern Immunology now encompasses all aspects of self vs. non-self recognition phenomena including organ transplantation, tumour immunology and autoimmune diseases. Recent major advances in our understanding of the cellular and molecular basis of the immune response promise to provide us with a new generation of prophylactic, therapeutic and diagnostic reagents of relevance to human and animal health.

The Department of Immunology in collaboration with Trinity College co-ordinates a specialist program in Immunology. The emphasis of this program is to provide students with a sound theoretical understanding of the cellular and molecular basis of non-self recognition, together with sufficient laboratory experience to enable the students to consider embarking on a career in the discipline. Immunologists may have careers in universities and other centres of learning and research, as well as in the biotechnology industries, diagnostic laboratories and various government agencies.

Courses in this specialist program are drawn from offerings by the Department, together with courses from other Departments, taught in some cases by members of the Department of Immunology. As enrolment in the specialist program is restricted, please consult specific requirements outlined in the program description section.

Immunology Programs

Immunology (Science program)

---

Sponsored by the Department of Immunology, Faculty of Medicine, and Trinity College

The Immunology Specialist Program is a Type 3 program. Enrolment is limited and selection is based on performance in First year required courses, only students with a CGPA of equal to or over 3.5 will be considered for acceptance into the program. Students apply via the Faculty's Subject POSt web site.

Specialist program

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1) (PHY 131H1, 132H1 recommended)

Second Year:

BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1, BIO260H1/HMB265H1; CHM 220H1, 247H1

Third Year:

BCH 371H1; IMM 335Y1; MGY 311Y1, 377H1, 378H1

Fourth Year:

1. IMM 429H1, 430H1, 435H1; JBI 428H1
2. IMM 450Y1 or one full course equivalent at the 400-series level in ANA, BCH, IMM, LMP, MGY, or ZOO

Immunology Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all IMM courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

IMM250H1 The Immune System and Infectious Disease [39L]

Students will be introduced to the basic concepts of immunity to infectious disease. We will trace the history of current ideas in immunology and the immune response by examining how bacteria and viruses cause disease and the initial discoveries that led to such developments as vaccination. Current topical and newsworthy infectious diseases (HIV, tuberculosis, SARS, avian flu) will be used as examples of how the immune system copes with microbial infections.

Recommended Preparation: BIO150Y1

IMM299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

IMM334Y1 Introductory Immunology [52L]

The basic principles of immunology; tissues and cells of the immune system; cell biology of the humoral and cell-mediated immune responses; immunogenetics; immunoglobulin structure, function and biosynthesis; immunological techniques; immunopathology; infection and immunity; transplantation, autoimmunity and tumour immunology.

IMM335Y1 Introductory Immunology [52L, 26T]

The fundamental principles of immunology; tissues and cells of the immune system; humoral and cell-mediated immune responses; immunogenetics; immunoglobulin structure, function and biosynthesis; immunopathology; infection and immunity; transplantation, autoimmunity and tumour immunology. Intended for students specializing in immunology and related programs, and requiring a more intensive background in biochemistry and molecular biology than IMM334Y1.

Prerequisite: BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1
Co-requisite: MGY311Y1

JBI428H1 Molecular Immunology [26L]

Molecular mechanisms involved in innate and adaptive immunity including the structure and function of immunoglobulins, the complement system, antigen processing and presentation, and membrane signalling events. Emphasis is on experimental approaches and quantitative aspects. (Given by the Departments of Biochemistry and Immunology)

Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, IMM334Y1/335Y1

Recommended preparation: BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/PSL350H1

IMM429H1 Developmental Immunology [26L]

Hematopoiesis, myelopoiesis, lymphopoiesis, a study of the development of cells involved in the immune system including their ontogeny, physical, molecular, and biochemical characteristics, regulation of differentiation and maturation, positive and negative selection of lymphocytes, DNA rearrangement.

Prerequisite: IMM334Y1/335Y1

IMM430H1 The Immune Response [26L]

A study of the cells involved in the immune response, the nature of cellular and molecular interactions that govern immunity and self-tolerance, the nature of the effector cells in immunity and genetic control of immune responses.

IMM435H1 Practical Immunology [72P]

Application of basic principles acquired from IMM334Y1/335Y1; immunological procedures used in research and diagnostic laboratories; rudiments of etiology, pathogenesis, and laboratory diagnosis of diseases of immune system; principles of immunological diagnostic procedures in some infectious diseases; instruction through lectures, practical exercises, video tapes, student presentations.

IMM450Y1 Research Project in Immunology [154P]

An opportunity for specialized research in Immunology under the supervision of a member of the Faculty. There are no pre- or co-requisites, although preference is given to Immunology Specialist students.

MIJ485H1 Vaccines and Immunity [39L]

Analysis of infectious disease vaccines, and pathogens' strategies to evade specific immune response, with an emphasis on molecular and immunological aspects. Special topics include: molecular basis of pathogenicity and immune-evasion strategies; vaccination strategies; adverse effects of vaccines (given jointly by the Departments of Molecular Genetics and Immunology).

Prerequisite: IMM334Y1/IMM335Y1, MGY377H1, MGY378H1
Exclusion: MGY480H1, MGY485H1

The Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology provides a bridge between the basic sciences and medicine. Investigating the molecular mechanisms of disease is an important priority of the department. Faculty are concerned with the biochemical changes that may be associated with cell and tissue injury and with the etiology, pathogenesis and behaviour of disease. Research is carried out in such areas as cardiovascular disease, immunopathobiology, neuropathology, endocrinology and metabolism, neoplasia, bone and connective tissue disease, clinical and molecular epidemiology, antibiotic resistance, and molecular pathogenesis of infectious disease.

The Pathobiology Specialist program gives students a broad understanding of contemporary medical research and basic scientific insights that have revolutionized our understanding of disease in recent years. Aspects of biochemistry, chemistry, cellular and molecular biology, and genetics are brought to bear upon human pathology. Graduates from the program will frequently pursue graduate studies in medical research and eventual research careers in academic, industrial, pharmaceutical, or governmental laboratories. A knowledge of cellular and molecular mechanisms of disease processes is also useful in a wide variety of multidisciplinary careers in government, regulatory agencies, law, and environment.

Pathobiology (Science program)

---

Enrolment in this program is limited and selection is based on performance in First Year required courses. Students enrol at the end of their first year of studies. Apply via the Arts & Science web site from early April to mid-May. At later times, contact the undergraduate secretary.

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)

First Year:
BIO 150YI; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151YI; MAT 135YI/137YI;
PHY (131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)

Second Year:
BCH 210HI; BIO 250YI, 260HI/HMB265HI; CHM 220HI,
247HI/249HI; PSL 302YI

Third Year:
BCH 370HI; IMM 334YI/MGY (377HI, 378HI); BIO 349HI/
BCH 311HI; LMP 300YI, 365HI

Fourth Year:
At least 4 of LMP 402HI, 403HI, 404HI, 405YI, 406HI, 410HI,
412HI, 436HI

Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all LMP courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

LMP299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

LMP300YI Introduction to Pathobiology [52L, 6P]

Concepts in pathogenesis; cell injury and death; tissue structure, wound healing; repair and fibrosis. Molecular basis of major organ system pathology. The laboratory examines gross anatomical specimens and introduces histopathology. Enrolment is limited to students specializing in pathobiology who have completed the first and second year requirements of the program.

Exclusion: LMP301HI

LMP301HI Introduction to the Biochemistry of Human Disease [26L]

Introduces concepts and mechanisms of disease processes as they arise from disturbances of normal biochemical and physiological functions. The rational use of the clinical biochemistry laboratory in the diagnosis and management of disease is explained. Not intended for students in the Pathobiology Specialist program.

Exclusion: LMP300YI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242YI

Co-requisite: PSL302YI/JBO302YI

LMP363HI Principles of Pathobiology [26L]

Pathological changes brought on by foreign compounds; applications of pathology to the detection of toxic carcinogenic actions.

Prerequisite: BIO250YI, CHM247HI

LMP365HI Neoplasia [20L, 6P]

A general introduction to the cellular and molecular aspects of cancer and its etiology. The laboratory component presents the range of benign and malignant tumor types at the gross and histological levels. Pathophysiology of cancer, invasion and metastases, role of the immune system.

Co-requisite: LMP300YI or permission of department

LMP402HI Inflammation and Infection [26L]

Cellular and molecular components of the inflammatory response. Activation of the inflammatory response by viral and microbial pathogens. Tissue pathology resulting from the inflammatory response. Evolution of pathogens to avoid and exploit the response.

Prerequisite: IMM334YI/335YI/MGY(377HI, 378HI)

LMP403HI Immunopathology [26L]

The immune system in disease. Responses of the immune system to host invasion, injurious stimuli, and transplantation. Immunopathology of organ-specific diseases including pancreas, gut, liver, heart, kidney, and blood. Intended for students specializing in pathobiology or related programs.

Prerequisite: IMM334YI/335YI

LMP404HI Bone and Skeletal Disorders [26L]

Molecular and cellular architecture of connective tissue in health and in diseases, such as osteoporosis and arthritis. Cellular and endocrine signals necessary for formation and maintenance of the skeleton. Biomechanics and tissue engineering of bone and cartilage. Selected other connective tissue diseases, their genetic variability, and up-to-date treatment strategies.

LMP405YI Project in Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology [156P]

A self-contained research project to be completed under the supervision of a faculty member. The main areas of research are as listed in the description of the Department (above). The student will normally have completed three full years of study, and is expected to devote at least one full day per week to the project. Admission is by arrangement with the Department and with a particular supervisor. A list of potential supervisors is available from the Departmental Office and on our web site. Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242YI, LMP300YI/363HI/365HI and permission of department

LMP406HI Pathobiology of the Cardiovascular System [26L]

Pathobiology of the heart, blood vessels, and lymphatic system. Congenital diseases of the heart, ischemic injury, stroke. Treatments of vascular disease and cardiovascular biomaterials. Major focus on atherosclerosis and hypertension. The emphasis is on the underlying cell biology of these processes.

Prerequisite: PSL302YI

Life Sciences: Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology

LMP410HI Pathobiology of Neurodegenerative Disease [26L]

Molecular basis of neurodegenerative diseases of the central and peripheral nervous systems. Relevant neuroanatomy and molecular biology of the CNS. Current research topics in neurodegenerative diseases.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1/PSL302Y1

LMP412HI Pathobiology of the Lymphatic System [26L]

The lymphatic circulation plays an important role in the maintenance of tissue fluid balance, cancer metastases, and delivery of antigens to lymph nodes where immune responses are generated. This course examines the role of lymphatic vessel in disease and potential new molecular therapies to treat lymphatic pathology.

Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

LMP436HI Microbial Pathogenesis [39L]

Molecular mechanism involved in pathogenesis of infectious disease. Topics include recurrent themes in the establishment of infectious disease, such as adherence and spread of pathogenic bacteria as well as evasion of host defences. Emphasis is placed on genetic characterization and expression of virulence determinants and on interactions between bacterial pathogens and their hosts.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242Y1, IMM334Y1/MGY377HI

Molecular biology has revolutionized the fields of genetics and microbiology. The Department of Molecular Genetics offers a combined Specialist program in Molecular Genetics and Microbiology, which emphasizes the molecular aspects of both disciplines. Genetics, the science of heredity, and microbiology, the study of microorganisms (microbes), have long served as meeting grounds for a variety of biological disciplines. Developments in genetics and microbiology have contributed greatly to our basic understanding of the fundamental processes of life as well as to the treatment of genetic and infectious diseases.

Of particular significance in molecular genetics has been the development of techniques that permit the isolation, through cloning, of the genes responsible for specific traits, and the detailed analysis of their regulation, interactions, and products. Molecular techniques have increased our ability to diagnose and understand viral and bacterial disease, and the complex microbe/host interactions that are involved. The impact of these and other technological advances extend to such diverse fields as plant and animal developmental biology, virology, immunology, cancer biology, and biotechnology. Studies at a molecular level are essential to understanding the consequences to life when fundamental processes are altered by mutation, by infection, or by the environment.

The Molecular Genetics and Microbiology program is a research-intensive program and is designed to provide a strong background in science that is applicable to a variety of careers. Career opportunities for graduates include employment in research institutes, universities and other educational institutions, and industry. The program provides an excellent preparation for post-graduate research and professional programs.

The Molecular Genetics and Microbiology program consists of two streams, called Genetics and Microbiology. Students enter the program at the start of their second year, and choose a stream by the start of the third year. Each stream provides focused training, but there is considerable overlap between the programs, reflective of both the cross-disciplinary requirements of these two rapidly evolving disciplines and the impact of each on areas spanning modern biomedical science.

Second Year:

BCH242Y1; (BIO240HI, BIO241HI)/BIO250Y1, BIO260HI;
CHM220HI, CHM247HI

Third Year:

Genetics Stream:

1. BCH340HI, BCH371HI; MGY311Y1, MGY312HI
2. At least 0.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from BCH335HI, CHM347HI, MGY377HI, MGY378HI

Microbiology Stream

1. IMM335Y1; MGY311Y1, MGY376HI, MGY377HI,
MGY378HI

Fourth Year:

Genetics Stream:

1. MGY420HI, MGY432HI

plus 2.5 credits from Genetics Lists 1 and 2, distributed as follows:

2. At least 1.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from list 1:
CSB460HI, MGY425HI, MGY428HI, MGY451HI,
MGY452HI, MGY470HI
3. Up to 1.0 full-course equivalent may be taken from list 2:
BCH422HI, 440HI, 441HI; CSB328HI, 461HI, 472HI;
MGY434HI, 440HI, 445HI, 480Y1

Microbiology Stream:

1. MGY432HI plus 2.5 credits from Microbiology Lists 1 and 2, distributed as follows:
2. At least 1.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from list 1:
LMP436HI; MGY420HI, 428HI, 434HI, 440HI, 445HI;
MIJ485HI
3. Up to 1.0 full-course equivalent may be taken from list 2:

Molecular Genetics and Microbiology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all MGY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

MGY299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

MGY311Y1 Molecular Biology [78L]

DNA replication, DNA repair and mutation, recombination, transcription, RNA modification and processing, the genetic code and tRNA, translation, regulation of gene expression, development and differentiation, molecular evolution.

Exclusion: BCH311HI, CSB349HI, JBC372H5(UTM),

MGB311Y1, PSL350HI

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH242Y1

MGY312HI Principles of Genetic Analysis [78P]

Laboratory experiments in genetics of selected organisms. Topics studied include Mendelian genetics, linkage and recombination, complementation, analysis of chromosome rearrangements, mutant selection and analysis in plants and bacteria, and genetic crosses with plants, bacteria and bacteriophages.

Exclusion: MGB312HI

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO260HI

Co-requisite: MGY311Y1

MGY376HI Microbiology Laboratory [78P]

Fundamental laboratory techniques in bacteriology and virology. Valuable not only for students specializing in Microbiology but also for those in related disciplines which make use of bacteria and viruses as research tools. Open to students in related programs.

Exclusion: MGY376HI

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

Co-requisite: MGY377HI, MGY378HI

MGY377HI Microbiology I: Bacteria [39L]

Detailed study of bacteria in terms of structure, classification and replication. Basis for advanced study in various aspects of bacteriology including bacterial physiology, bacterial genetics, molecular pathogenesis of disease and environmental studies.

Exclusion: BIO370Y5 (UTM), MGY375Y1, MGY377HI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1

MGY378HI Microbiology II: Viruses [39L]

Detailed study of viruses in terms of structure, classification, replication and interaction with the host. Basis for advanced study in virology. Requires some familiarity with immunology. A concurrent course in immunology (IMM 334Y1/335Y1) is recommended.

Exclusion: BIO351Y1, CSB351Y1, MGY375Y1, MGY378HI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1; BIO 260HI/HMB 265HI

Co-requisite: CSB349HI/MGY311Y1

Recommended preparation: MGY377HI

MGY420HI Regulation of Gene Expression [26L]

This course describes regulatory mechanisms controlling gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes. The lectures are designed to promote discussion of various experimental approaches. Topics include: assembly of a transcription complex; initiation of transcription; role of sigma factors and transcription factors; role of regulators of transcription; regulation of SV40 transcription; lambda antitermination; antitermination in HIV-1.

Exclusion: BIO477H5 (UTM), MGB420HI

Prerequisite: BCH242Y1, BCH340HI, MGY311Y1

Life Sciences: Molecular Genetics and Microbiology

---

MGY425HI Signal Transduction and Cell Cycle Regulation [26L]

This course presents and integrates molecular aspects of signal transduction and cell cycle regulation in eukaryotic cells from yeast to humans. Emphasis is on recent advances in growth factor receptor signalling, modular protein domains, and the recurrent role of protein phosphorylation and protein-protein interactions in cell regulation.

Exclusion: MGB425HI

Prerequisite: BCH242YI, MGY311YI

MGY428HI Functional Genomics [26L]

A broad ranging course that covers many aspects of genomics, which is the discipline of defining and attributing function to all of the heritable material of an organism on a genome-wide scale, as applied to microbes, invertebrates and vertebrates. The primary and review literature will be the basis of all lectures.

Exclusion: MGY428HI

Prerequisites: BCH210HI/BCH242YI; BIO260HI/HMB265HI; MGY311YI/CSB349HI/BCH311HI

MGY432HI Laboratory in Molecular Genetics and Microbiology [78P]

Laboratory experiments demonstrating basic and advanced molecular biological methods applied to molecular genetics and microbiology.

Exclusion: CSB330HI, MGB430HI, MGY450HI

Prerequisite: MGY312HI/MGY376HI

MGY434HI Bacterial Signalling and Physiological Regulation [39L]

How bacteria sense their environment and signal to regulatory systems when to adapt to environmental stimuli. Topics discussed include the bacterial cell cycle, carbon/energy metabolism, catabolite repression, bacterial development, sporulation, stress responses, regulatory two-component systems and quorum sensing.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/BCH242YI, MGY377HI, BCH311HI/CSB349HI/ MGY311YI

MGY440HI Molecular Virology [39L]

Analysis of virus/host interactions at the molecular level with a view to understanding how viruses cause disease. Course material is based on recent research publications. Topics may include: virus entry and intracellular trafficking, activation of host cell signalling pathways, viral and host determinants of tissue tropism within the host and transmission between hosts.

Exclusion: MGY440HI

Prerequisite: BCH210HI/BCH242YI; BCH311HI/CSB349HI/ MGY311YI; MGY378HI. (Note: BIO351YI/CSB351YI is not an acceptable equivalent to MGY378HI)

Recommended preparation: IMM334YI/IMM335YI

MGY445HI Genetic Engineering for Prevention and Treatment of Disease [39L]

Current approaches to gene therapy including design of virus-based vectors for delivery and expression of effector genes. Emphasis on the use of retrovirus-based strategies for prevention and treatment of HIV infection.

Exclusion: MGY445HI

Prerequisite: MGY378HI/ MGY311YI

MGY451HI Genetic Analysis of Development I [26L]

Basic and advanced principles of genetic analysis applied to the study of three of the best-understood eukaryotic model organisms: the yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae, the nematode worm Caenorhabditis elegans, and the vinegar ("fruit") fly Drosophila melanogaster. We emphasize the use of genetic approaches to address problems in cell biology and development, such as the regulation of cell fate. Much of the knowledge gained from these simple organisms has proven broadly applicable, and the same principles of developmental genetic analysis underlie efforts to understand the development of more complex organisms.

Exclusion: MGB451HI

Prerequisite: BIO260HI, MGY311YI/CSB349HI/BCH311HI

MGY452HI Genetic Analysis of Development II [26L]

This is a companion course to MGY451HI. Advanced genetic principles and approaches used in the study of animal development are introduced. We begin with detailed analysis of fruit fly development and continue by extending these studies and principles to vertebrate and mammalian models, notably zebrafish and mouse. Emphasis is placed on developmental processes that are conserved among these major model organisms.

Exclusion: MGB452HI

Prerequisite: BIO260HI, MGY311YI/CSB349HI/BCH311HI

MGY470HI Human and Molecular Genetics [26L]

Current aspects of human and molecular genetics including: chromosome structure and function, inheritance of mutations and disease, the human genome and disease gene mapping, cancer genetics, mouse disease models and gene based diagnostics and therapies.

Exclusion: MGB470HI

Prerequisite: MGY311YI

MGY480YI Special Research Project [TBA]

An opportunity for specialized individual research in molecular genetics and microbiology by arrangement with the course coordinator.

Prerequisite : BCH371HI/MGY312HI/MGY376HI, MGY311YI

MIJ485HI Vaccines and Immunity (formerly MGY485HI) [39L]

Analysis of infectious disease vaccines, and pathogens' strategies to evade specific immune response, with an emphasis on molecular and immunological aspects. Special topics include: molecular basis of pathogenicity and immune-evasion strategies; vaccination strategies; adverse effects of vaccines (given jointly by the Departments of Molecular Genetics and Immunology).

Exclusion: MGY480HI, MGY485HI

Prerequisite: IMM334YI/IMM335YI, MGY377HI, MGY378HI

Note: MGY460HI (Plant Molecular Genetics) is now given as CSB460HI. Consult the Department of Cell and Systems Biology listing starting on page 259.

Nutritional Sciences represents an exciting and challenging area of study of a truly interdisciplinary nature. Understanding of the impact of nutrition on health and its role in disease is based upon a knowledge of the metabolic processes involved (nutrient requirements and utilization, food additive metabolism and safety), of the chemistry of foods (food preservation, food production) and of social and behavioural factors integrated in consideration of the national and international goals of achieving optimal health through proper nutrition.

Most career opportunities in Nutritional Sciences require training beyond the undergraduate level. The Major and Specialist Programs provide excellent preparation for entry into postgraduate studies in nutrition research or for a professional faculty such as Medicine and Dentistry.

Please note that this Department does not offer an undergraduate dietetics program. Students interested in this qualification should contact Dietitians of Canada for information (www.dietitians.ca).

Students interested in applying to the M.H.Sc. Comm. Nutr. Program, through the Graduate Department of Community Health, are advised to contact the program director during their second year of undergraduate studies.

Nutritional Sciences Program

Nutritional Sciences (Science program)

Major program:

Enrolment in the Major Program can begin at the end of first year, and admission is based on maintaining an overall GPA of at least 2.7.

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

Second Year:

NFS 284H1; BCH210H1; STA (220H1, 221H1)/JBS 229H1

Third Year:

NFS 382H1; NFS 386H1; PSL 302Y1; CSB 349H1/PSL350H1/
BCH311H1

Fourth Year:

Any three of: NFS 484H1, NFS 486H1, NFS 487H1, NFS 488H1,
NFS489H1, NFS 490H1, NFS 494Y1

Nutritional Sciences Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all NFS courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

NFS284H1 Basic Human Nutrition [39L, 13T]

An introductory course to provide the fundamentals of human nutrition to enable students to understand and think critically about the complex interrelationships between food, nutrition, health and the environment.

Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

NFS299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

NFS382H1 Vitamin and Mineral Metabolism Throughout the Life Cycle [39L, 13T]

Micronutrients are essential for health throughout the life cycle. This course examines the role of micronutrients during development and ageing with some emphasis on disease prevention and pathogenesis. Students develop critical appraisal skills, an understanding of the principles of study design and learn to write in a scientific style.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; NFS284H1

NFS386H1 Food Chemistry [39L]

Structure, composition and chemical and biochemical reactions in foods during postharvest/postmortem, processing, storage and utilisation. Implications for organoleptic properties, nutritional value, toxicity and human health.

Prerequisite: CHM 138H1

Recommended preparation: NFS284H1

Life Sciences: Nutritional Sciences

NFS484HI Advanced Nutrition [26L, 14T]

Physiological and biochemical features of nutrient needs. The roles of nutrients in the development and adaptability of the whole body, organs and cells. Interpretation of current research data.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, CSB349HI/PSL350HI/BCH311HI, NFS284HI, PSL302YI, STA(220HI, 221HI)/JBS229HI)

NFS486HI Nutrition and Human Disease [26L, 13T]

Role of dietary fat in normal development and in human diseases including cancer, diabetes and cardiovascular disease. Current issues relating to their prevention or treatment with diet will be discussed, illustrated with reference to general pathophysiological and biochemical principles and current literature.

NFS487HI Functional Foods and Nutrigenomics [26L, 14T]

Scientific principles and experimental approaches in the development and regulation of functional foods and nutraceuticals. The impact of the human genome on nutrition research. Experimental approaches to investigating gene-diet interactions. Understanding how genetic variability affects nutrient response, and how dietary factors regulate gene expression.

Prerequisites: NFS 284HI, CSB349HI/PSL350HI/BCH311HI

NFS488HI Nutritional Toxicology [26L, 13T]

Occurrence, mechanism of action, safety and health implications of chemicals naturally present in or added to foods. Interactions of nutrients and toxicants and the effects on their metabolism and utilization. Food safety evaluation and regulatory control.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, NFS284HI

NFS489HI Nutritional Neurosciences [26L, 14T]

This course provides an integrated approach to how brain function regulates and in turn is regulated by nutrition from a biochemical perspective.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, BCH311HI/CSB349HI/PSL350HI, NFS284HI, PSL302YI

NFS490HI International and Community Nutrition [26L, 13T]

This course focuses on current issues in international and community nutrition including global and domestic food security, micronutrient deficiencies and other forms of undernutrition, maternal and infant/child nutrition, dietary guidance, and food and nutrition policy. The course will consider the environmental, sociopolitical, cultural and biosocial contexts of nutrition.

Prerequisite: NFS284HI

Recommended preparation: GGRI07YI/POLI03YI/SOC101YI

NFS494YI Research Projects in Nutritional Sciences [156P]

Research experience under the supervision of a Departmental staff member. The course entails designing and carrying out a small research project and the preparation and presentation of both a research proposal and a final report. Note that the research project NFS 494YI requires the prior consent of a staff member who will supervise the project and departmental approval before enrolment. The student is responsible for locating a supervisor and must consult with the course instructor before the beginning of the term.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department and Project Supervisor

Life Sciences: Pharmaceutical Chemistry

Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy

Pharmaceutical Chemistry combines knowledge of the biological, medical, and physical sciences in the study of drug therapy. The emphasis is on the chemical nature of the reactions and interactions involved in drug therapy. The students will receive a solid background in the facets of chemistry the most relevant to drugs: physical, organic, and analytical chemistry. They will also learn the fundamental aspects of the synthesis, manufacture, use, and mode of action of drugs.

Pharmaceutical Chemistry Program

Pharmaceutical Chemistry (Science program)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with a 2.7 CGPA in the required courses described below. Visit the Pharmaceutical Chemistry Program web site for updated information about requirements, course offerings, and events: <http://www.pharmacy.utoronto.ca/pharmchem/>.

Specialist program:

(15.5 courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

NOTE: Some of the courses listed below may have prerequisites.

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; CHM 247H1/249H1

Third Year:

CHM 217H1; PCL 201H1; PHC 300Y1; PHC 320H1; PHC 330Y1; PHC 340Y1

Fourth Year:

1. CHM 317H1; PHC 489Y1

2. Two full course equivalents from:
CHM 347H1; CHM 379H1; CHM 410H1; CHM 414H1;
CHM 417H1; CHM 427H1; CHM 440H1; PCL362H1;
PHC401H1; PHC 331H1; PHC 430H1; PHC 431H1; PHC 451H1; PHC452H1; PHC 460H1; PSL 302Y1

Note that not all of the 400-series PHC courses are offered every academic year.

Pharmaceutical Chemistry Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PHC courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

PHC300Y1 Molecular Pharmacology [78L, 26T]

The molecular basis for the action of drugs is presented based upon the physicochemical nature of the drug and its target.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; BCH 210H1

PHC320H1 Medicinal Chemistry [39L]

Modern discovery and synthesis of antibiotics, antineoplastics, antiviral and other therapeutic agents.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; BCH 210H1

PHC330Y1 Pharmaceutics [78L, 24T]

The study of the science and technology underlying drug delivery are covered. The properties of different dosage forms and delivery routes are studied with an emphasis on oral and parenteral routes.

PHC331H1 Establishing the Bioequivalence of Pharmaceutical Products [32L]

Introduction to human clinical trial design for the demonstration of pharmaceutical bioequivalence of drug products. Students will learn the principles underlying the regulations and methods employed in bioequivalence studies.

Prerequisites: MAT135Y1, BCH210H1, CHM 247H1/249H1, Pre- or co-requisite : PHC330Y1/PHM224Y

PHC340Y1 Pharmaceutical Chemistry Laboratory [26L, 78P]

The scientific basis and practical techniques relevant to modern pharmaceutical development.

PHC401H1 Drug Transport across Biological Membranes [26L]

The goal of this course is to provide students with knowledge of the molecular processes involved in drug transport across biological cell membranes with emphasis on their physiological and clinical significance.

Prerequisite: PHC300Y1, Permission of the Program

PHC430H1 Recent Developments in Dosage Form Design [26L]

Introduction to controlled drug delivery: Mechanisms and kinetics of controlled drug release. Fundamental theories and mathematical tools for the design of modern dosage forms. Development and applications of controlled drug delivery dosage forms.

Recommended: (PHC330Y1, PHC340Y1)/PHM224Y1, Permission of the Program

PHC431H1 Selected Topics in Drug Development [26L]

In-depth discussion of implementation of pharmaceutical sciences in drug development strategies. Students will apply fundamental principles of pharmaceutics and drug delivery to current problems in the pharmaceutical industry.

PHC451H1 Radiopharmaceuticals in Diagnosis and Therapy [14L, 14P]

Presents use of radiopharmaceuticals in diagnosis and therapy, emphasizing those used in nuclear medicine procedures studying neurological, cardiovascular, pulmonary, gastrointestinal, haematologic, endocrine and bone pathology.

Prerequisite: (PHC330Y1, PHC340Y1)/PHM 224Y1, Permission of the Department

Life Sciences: Pharmaceutical Chemistry

PHC452HI Selected Topics in Radiopharmaceuticals [14L, 12P]

Introduces nuclear pharmacy through the discussion of problems that explain the design, production, analysis, and the clinical use of radiopharmaceuticals. Topics introduced using group discussions and laboratory exercises.

Prerequisites: (PHC330Y,PHC340Y)/PHM224Y, Permission of the Department

PHC460HI Fundamentals of Drug Discovery [26L]

Lectures by scientists from academia and industry, and student seminars based on journal articles dealing with strategies for discovering new drugs for therapy and diagnosis.

Prerequisites: BIO250YI, PHC300YI/PHM222YI, Permission of the Instructor

PHC489YI Pharmaceutical Chemistry Research [156P]

This course will provide research experience under the supervision of a Departmental staff member. The goal is to deepen the student's understanding of the scientific basis and practical techniques relevant to modern pharmaceutical development.

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department and the Project Supervisor

Pharmacology and Toxicology are broadly based and integrative disciplines of biology dealing with the properties of chemical compounds and their interactions with living systems. They provide the scientific basis for the study of chemical actions in the health sciences, the use of drugs as therapeutic agents or as tools in scientific research, the development and control of pharmaceuticals, the investigation and control of pollutants and poisons in natural and social environments, etc. The Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology offers four specialist and two major undergraduate programs of study:

1. Specialist Program in Pharmacology. Pharmacology is the study of the interactions of chemical substances with living systems, with a view to understanding the properties of drugs and their actions from the molecular level to whole body systems. The objectives of this program are to provide a structured introduction to the scientific aspects of the discipline with exposure to some investigational and research problems in preparation for advanced graduate study and research in pharmacology. Students are provided with opportunities to learn about pharmacology and related areas through lectures, tutorials, laboratories, and independent research projects. Pharmacology (and its application in clinical therapeutics) plays a prominent role in Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy. However, there is no equivalence between the professional Pharmacy degree offered in the Faculty of Pharmacy and this Arts & Science Specialist Program in Pharmacology.

Life Sciences: Pharmacology and Toxicology

2. Specialist Program in Toxicology. This specialist program deals with the study of the harmful effects of chemicals on the health and behaviour of individuals and society. This program focusses on the application of toxicological knowledge and data and not only serves as preparation for advanced graduate study and research in toxicology, but also for toxicological work in forensic science, nutrition and food science, governmental agencies, consulting agencies, industrial settings, etc. Students are exposed to modern experimental techniques utilized in toxicology and have opportunities for independent research under the supervision of a faculty member. Students interested in environmental toxicology should consider enrolling in the Specialist Program in Environment and Toxicology, jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology and the Centre for Environment.

3. Double Specialist in Pharmacology and Toxicology. This program combines the requirements of the two previous specialist programs. Many students choose to take an extra year to complete this program.

4. Specialist Program in Environment and Toxicology. This program is jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology and the Centre for Environment. For additional information see "Centre for Environment" or consult the website, www.environment.utoronto.ca.

5. Major Programs in Pharmacology and in Toxicology. These programs are intended for undergraduate students who want to have a solid knowledge in these disciplines, allowing students to combine different and complementary areas of expertise in Life Sciences. This approach contributes to a broader and multidisciplinary undergraduate training that is particularly relevant for students interested in pursuing further studies in professional health science programs.

Enrollment in all programs is limited. Minimum CGPAs are required for application to these programs (see below). For further information consult the A&S Registration Handbook and Timetable and our website: http://www.library.utoronto.ca/pharm\_tox/index.htm

Pharmacology and Toxicology Programs

Enrollment in these Programs is limited. To apply to these programs, you must have a minimum CGPA of 3.0 for the specialist and major programs in Pharmacology and in Toxicology. A minimum CGPA of 3.5 is required for application to the Double Specialist program. Applicants will only be considered if they have completed all of the first year required courses (as shown below). Please note that having the minimum CGPA for application does not guarantee acceptance into the program.

Pharmacology (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

Enrollment in this program is limited. A minimum CGPA of 3.0 is required.

First Year:

BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1) (PHY 131H1, 132H1 recommended)

Second Year:

BCH210H1; BIO240H1; BIO241H1; BIO260H1/HMB265H1; CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1; PCL201H1

Third Year:

BCH370H1; BCH311H1/CSB349H1; PCL302H1, PCL376H1 (see NOTE 1); PSL302Y1*, PSL372H1 (*NOTE: PSL201Y1 is not acceptable)

Fourth Year:

PCL470Y1, PCL471Y1 (see NOTE 2), PCL472Y1 (see NOTE 3); and one full-credit equivalent from: ANA300Y1/ZOO263Y1/BCH304H1/BCH445H1/ANA301H1/ZOO325H1/ZOO328H1/PCL477H1

NOTES

1. PCL376H1 may be taken either as a pre-requisite or a co-requisite to the research project course, PCL472Y1.
2. Enrollment in the Pharmacology Laboratory course (PCL471Y1) is restricted to students enrolled in the Pharmacology or Double Specialist programs.
3. Enrollment in the research project course (PCL472Y1) is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology. Students must receive prior consent of an approved supervisor according to departmental guidelines before the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology will register them in the course. It is the student's responsibility to initiate all necessary preparations before the session starts (see course description).

Major program in Pharmacology:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 300-series courses and one 400-series course)

Enrollment in this program is limited. Students may apply after completing 4 courses including all the First Year requirements with a minimum CGPA of 3.0.

First Year:

BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/151Y1

Second Year:

BCH210H1; BIO240H1; BIO241H1; PCL201H1; CHM217H1/220H1 (see NOTE 1); CHM247H1/249H1

Third Year:

PCL302H1; PSL302Y1; BCH311H1/370H1/CSB349H1 (see NOTE 2)

Fourth Year:

PCL470Y1

Life Sciences: Pharmacology and Toxicology

NOTES

1. CHM220HI requires MAT135YI/137YI/151YI as a prerequisite.
2. CSB349HI requires BIO260HI/HMB265HI as a prerequisite.
3. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Pharmacology and the Major Program in Toxicology.
4. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Pharmacology and a Specialist Program in Toxicology.

Toxicology (Science program)

Specialist program:

(15.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 2.5 400-series courses)

Enrollment in this program is limited. A minimum CGPA of 3.0 is required.

First Year:

BIO150YI; CHM138HI, CHM139HI/151YI; MAT135YI/137YI; PHY (131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI) (PHY131HI, 132HI recommended)

Second Year:

BCH210HI; BIO240HI; BIO241HI; BIO260HI/HMB265HI; CHM217HI/220HI, CHM247HI/249HI; PCL201HI

Third Year:

BCH370HI; LMP363HI; PCL302HI, PCL362HI, PCL365YI, PCL376HI (see NOTE 1); PSL302YI* (*NOTE: PSL201YI is not acceptable)

Fourth Year:

LMP301HI; PCL473YI, PCL474YI (see NOTE 2), PCL481HI; and one half-credit equivalent from: ANA301HI/CHM310HI/GGR409HI/NFS488HI/PCL477HI

NOTES

1. PCL376HI may be taken either as a pre-requisite or a co-requisite to the research project course, PCL474YI.
2. Enrollment in the research project course (PCL474YI) is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. Students must receive prior consent of an approved supervisor according to departmental guidelines before the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology will register them in the course. It is the student's responsibility to initiate all necessary preparations before the session starts (see course description).
3. Enrollment in the Toxicology Laboratory course (PCL365YI) is restricted to students enrolled in the Toxicology Specialist or Double Specialist programs.

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 300-series courses and one 400-series course).

Enrollment in this program is limited. Students may apply after completing 4 courses including all the First Year requirements with a minimum CGPA of 3.0.

First Year:

BIO150YI; CHM138HI, CHM139HI/151YI

Second Year:

BCH210HI; BIO240HI; BIO241HI; PCL201HI; CHM217HI/220HI (see NOTE 1); CHM247HI/249HI

Third Year:

PCL302HI; PSL302YI; PCL362HI (see NOTE 2)

Fourth Year:

PCL473YI

NOTES

1. CHM220HI requires MAT135YI/137YI/151YI as a pre-requisite.
2. Although LMP301HI (Introduction to the Biochemistry of Human Disease) and LMP363HI (Principles of Pathobiology) are not pre-requisites to enroll in PCL473YI, students are strongly recommended to enroll in at least one of these courses.
3. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Toxicology and the Major Program in Pharmacology.
4. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Toxicology and a Specialist Program in Pharmacology.

Double Specialist in Pharmacology and

Toxicology (Science program)

This program requires completion of both the Pharmacology and Toxicology Specialist courses and may require an extra year for completion. Enrollment in this program is limited and a minimum CGPA of 3.5 is required. Students are allowed to enroll in only one of the two project course (PCL472Y/PCL474Y) offered by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology.

Specialist program in Environment and

Toxicology (Science program)

This program is jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology and the Centre for Environment. For additional information see "Centre for Environment" or consult the website, www.environment.utoronto.ca.

Pharmacology and Toxicology

Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PCL courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

PCL299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

PCL201HI Introduction to Pharmacology: Pharmacokinetic Principles [39L, 13T]

A general introduction to pharmacology. Topics include absorption, distribution, biotransformation, elimination, calculation of dosages, variability in drug response, adverse drug reactions and special interest topics.

Recommended co-requisites: BIO240HI, BIO241HI, CHM217HI/220HI, CHM247HI/249HI

PCL302HI Introduction to Pharmacology: Pharmacodynamic Principles [39L, 13T]

Topics include biological action of drugs on membranes, enzymes, receptors, neural and hormonal systems, transmission and modulation.

Prerequisites: BIO240HI, BIO241HI, CHM217HI/220HI, CHM247HI/249HI, PCL201HI

Life Sciences: Pharmacology and Toxicology

---

PCL362HI Introductory Toxicology [26L]

Toxicological problems encountered in animals and humans; biochemical mechanisms and clinical factors of toxicological significance; models of drug-related diseases.
Prerequisites: BCH210HI, BIO240HI, BIO241HI, CHM217HI/220HI, CHM247HI/249HI, PCL201HI
Recommended Co-requisite: CSB349HI, PCL302HI

PCL365YI Toxicology Laboratory [20L, 72P]

A hands-on laboratory course exploring a wide variety of modern experimental techniques currently utilized in toxicology. This course will provide the experimental theory of how the techniques work and their advantages and disadvantages, while additionally allowing students to perform these techniques in the process of addressing toxicological problems. Enrollment in this course is restricted to students enrolled in the Toxicology Specialist and Double Specialist programs.
Prerequisites: PCL201HI
Co-requisites: PCL302HI, BCH370HI, PSL302YI

PCL376HI Experimental Design and Data Analysis for Pharmacology and Toxicology [26L]

A practically oriented course, focussed on experimental design and the analysis of pharmacological and toxicological data. Topics include: principles of experimental design, data analysis and statistical tests appropriate for each type, use of computing statistical packages, analysis of dose-response and time-response curves and analysis of receptor binding assays. PCL376HI can be taken either as a prerequisite or a co-requisite to the research project course PCL472YI/474YI.
Prerequisite: PCL201HI
Co-requisite: PCL302HI
Exclusion: PCL476HI

PCL470YI Systems Pharmacology [78L]

Concepts of the properties of drugs and chemicals and their interaction with living systems and their constituent parts. Mechanism of action and pharmacological properties of drugs acting on the autonomic and central nervous systems, cardiovascular, renal, respiratory, gastrointestinal, immunological and endocrine systems; endogenous compounds; antimicrobial and anti-inflammatory drugs, chemotherapy and special topics in pharmacology.
Prerequisites: BCH210HI, PCL201HI, PCL302HI, PSL302YI

PCL471YI Pharmacology Laboratory [104P]

Demonstrations, seminars, and laboratory exercises in selected areas of Pharmacology. Enrollment in this course is restricted to students enrolled in the Pharmacology Specialist and Double Specialist programs.
Prerequisites: BCH370HI, PSL372HI, PCL201HI, PCL302HI and permission of Department
Co-requisite: PCL470YI

PCL472YI Project in Pharmacology

This course affords students an opportunity for hands-on research experience in a laboratory or applied pharmacology setting. Students will work under the supervision of a staff member and will submit a final written report. Enrollment is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology. It is the student's responsibility to secure a placement with an approved supervisor before the course begins (a list of potential supervisors can be obtained from the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology). Students will be registered in the course once their ballot form (obtained from the Department of Pharmacology) is signed by an approved supervisor and approved by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology.

Prerequisites: PCL201HI, PCL302HI, PCL376HI (see NOTES above) and permission of Department
Co-requisite: PCL376HI (see NOTES above)
Exclusion: PCL474YI

PCL473YI Interdisciplinary Toxicology [52L]

A survey course examining traditional and contemporary problems in toxicology. The toxicities associated with a variety of toxins and toxicants are examined. General principles and the application of toxicological knowledge are discussed including clinical toxicology, forensic toxicology, and risk assessment.
Prerequisites: BCH210HI, PCL201HI, PCL302HI, PCL362HI
Recommended preparation: CBS349HI

PCL474YI Project in Toxicology

This course affords students an opportunity for hands-on research experience in a laboratory or applied toxicology setting. Students will work under the supervision of a staff member and will submit a final written report. Enrollment is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. It is the student's responsibility to secure a placement with an approved supervisor before the course begins (a list of potential supervisors can be obtained from the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology). Students will be registered in the course once their ballot form (obtained from the Department of Pharmacology) is signed by an approved supervisor and approved by the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology.
Exclusion: PCL472YI

PCL475YI Neuropsychopharmacology [78L, 26T]

Major neuro-psychiatric disease syndromes: clinical pathology and neuronal abnormalities; CNS drugs: theories and mechanisms of action.
Prerequisite: Enrollment is limited to students with a minimum CGPA of 3.0.

PCL477HI The DNA Damage Response in Pharmacology and Toxicology [26L]

Many anticancer drugs and environmental agents exert their cytotoxic effects through DNA damage. This course explores specific pharmacological and toxicological agents that damage DNA and discusses how mammalian cells respond to this DNA damage.
Prerequisite: BCH210HI/242YI
Recommended Preparation: PCL201HI, PCL302HI, CSB349HI/JLM349HI/MGY311YI/PSL350HI

PCL481HI The Molecular and Biochemical Basis of Toxicology [26L]

The biochemical principles and molecular mechanisms underlying the toxicity of drugs and foreign agents. The sequence of events at the molecular level leading to impairment of cell function and the factors which determine and affect toxicity.
Prerequisites: PCL201HI, PCL302HI, PCL362HI, BCH210HI, LMP363HI

Senior Lecturer

C. Perumalla, M Sc, D Phil

Physiology is the study of living matter in action. It explains body organ function in terms of physical and chemical principles. It is an integrating discipline dealing with controls, compensations, and interrelationships. Interaction with the environment is a major factor in Physiology. In addition, Physiology serves as a bridge between cellular biology, systems analysis, and behaviour.

Physiology provides a necessary background for the study of Pharmacology; a preparation for graduate work in Physiology and related areas; for the teaching of Biological Science in secondary schools; or for subsequent training in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, Physical and Occupational Therapy, and other health-related professions. Physiologists are needed also in hospitals and departments of medicine as teachers and research personnel. Other outlets would be in agriculture and veterinary schools, in military research establishments and in life science-based industry. The development of air and space travel, the exploration of the continental shelf, the development of Northern regions, and increased emphasis on exercise and fitness, all provide business and research opportunities for the person trained in Physiology.

Physiology at the research level covers a variety of specialties (e.g. Endocrinology, Cardiovascular Physiology, Neurophysiology, Respiratory Physiology, Reproductive Physiology, Sensory Physiology), each with very different technical and analytical methods. More information is available on the departmental web-site (www.uoftphysiology.com). Students in the Major program are encouraged to combine Physiology with a non-Life Science major, e.g. Computer Science, Chemistry, Physics or Mathematics.

Physiology (Science program)

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Selection is based on GPA in first year required courses.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series course)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 240H1, 241H1; CHM 247H1/ CHM 220H1; MAT 235Y1/PHY 238Y1; PSL 302Y1

Third Year:

1. BCH 370H1; BCH 311H1/PSL 350H1; PSL 303Y1, 372H1, 374H1
2. One full-course equivalent from: ANA 300Y1; BCH 304H1, 305H1; IMM 334Y1; PCL 201H1, 302H1; PSY 397H1; STA 250H1; CSB 325H1, 332H1, 343H1, 345H1/445H1, 346H1, 347H1

Fourth Year:

Two full-course equivalents from: PSL 400-series; HMB 472H1

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Students may apply after completing 4 courses including all the First Year requirements.

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1; MAT 135Y1/PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 240H1, 241H1; PSL 302Y1

Higher Years:

1. PSL 372H1
2. One full-course equivalent from: ANA 300Y1; BCH 304H1, 305H1, 311H1; IMM 334Y1; PCL 201H1, 302H1; PSY 397H1; CSB 330H1, 325H1, 332H1, 343H1, 345H1/445H1, 346H1, 347H1, 349H1
3. One full-course equivalent from: HMB 430H1, 472H1; PSL 303Y1, 374H1, 350H1, 378H1, 380H1, 400-level courses

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this Program requires the completion of 4 courses; no minimum GPA required. One 300-series course must be included in the program.

1. BIO 150Y1; PSL 201Y1/302Y1
2. Two full-course equivalents from: BIO 251Y1, 270H1, 271H1; EEB 328H1; HMB 204H1, 430H1, 470H1, 472H1; PSL 303Y1, 350H1, 378H1, 380H1, 400-series; PSY 290H1, 391H1; 394H1, 396H1, 397H1, 399H1; CSB, 325H1, 332H1, 343H1, 344H1, 345H1/445H1, 346H1, 347H1

Physiology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all PSL courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

PSL201Y1 Basic Human Physiology [52L]

A survey course intended for students who are not proceeding further in Physiology.

Exclusion: Any PSL course taken previously or concurrently

Prerequisite: 100-level course in BIO or equivalent

PSL299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

PSL300HI Human Physiology I [39L, 5T]

Principles of neurophysiology and endocrinology for students enrolled in the Neuroscience program.

Exclusion: PSL201Y1, PSY391HI

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHMI38HI; PHY100-series

PSL301HI Human Physiology II [39L, 4T]

Principles of respiratory, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, renal and reproductive physiology for students enrolled in the Neuroscience program.

Exclusion: PSL201Y1

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHMI38HI; PSL300HI

JBO302Y1 Human Physiology and Biophysics [78L, 12T]

Principles of Human Physiology with tutorials on the biophysical concepts applied to physiological processes. Restricted to students enrolled in the Biophysics program.

Exclusion: PSL201Y1, 302Y1

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHMI38HI; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

PSL302Y1 Human Physiology [78L, 9T]

Principles of Human Physiology for students enrolled in Basic Medical Science programs.

Exclusion: PSL201Y1

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, CHMI38HI; MAT100-series/PHY100-series

PSL303Y1 Topics in Cellular, Molecular and Organismic Physiology [78L, 26T]

Using homeostasis and feedback as a unifying theme, topics in control systems, cell signaling, rhythms, environmental adaptations and body weight regulations are examined. Tutorials use computer simulations and problem sets.

Prerequisite: JBO302Y1/PSL302Y1, MAT100-series, PHY100-series

Co-requisite: PSL372HI, 374HI or permission of Department

PSL350HI Mammalian Molecular Biology [20L, 6S]

Molecular biology is essential for understanding mammalian function. The knowledge from BIO250Y of DNA, RNA, and protein is extended to current, primary literature on mammalian molecular biology. Application of molecular biology to disease and to complex behaviors is followed by small group sessions on topics with a bioethics component.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

Exclusion: BIO349HI/CSB349HI/MGY311Y1

Pre- or Co-requisite: PSL300HI/301HI/302Y1/ JBO302Y1/ BCH210HI

PSL372HI Mammalian Physiology Laboratory [13L, 39P]

A laboratory course covering selected topics in physiology.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210HI, MAT100-series/PHY100-series

Pre- or Co-requisite: PSL302Y1, BCH370HI (recommended)

PSL374HI Advanced Physiology Laboratory [13L, 13S, 39P]

A problem-based laboratory course focused on the integration of organ systems to understand the control mechanisms of body function.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, PSL302Y1, PSL372HI

Co-requisite: BCH370HI

PSL378HI Field Physiology: Marine Mammal [13L, 39P, 26T]

An opportunity to go outside of the traditional university classroom and get some hands on experience of the diversity and adaptive nature of marine mammalian physiology/anatomy as it compares to human. The course is 2 weeks (in May or June), one week in the field hands on, and one week of group discussions of the findings and draft report preparation.

Prerequisite: EEB216HI/BIO252Y1/PSL201Y1/302Y1

PSL380HI Physiologic Adaptations to a Marine Environment [26L, 6T]

This course will compare and contrast the physiologic and anatomical adaptations exhibited by the different species of marine mammals in relationship to humans, with a focus on relevant aspects of diving.

Prerequisite: BIO252Y1/PSL201Y1/302Y1

PSL420HI Reproduction I: Development and Function [26L]

This course provides an in-depth review of the development and function of the male and female reproductive systems.

Topics include sex determination and differentiation, gametogenesis, hormonal control of the reproductive systems, the female ovulatory cycle, seasonal breeding, sexual behaviour, fertilization and implantation.

Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

PSL421HI Reproduction II: Pregnancy and Birth [26L]

General overview of the integrated physiologic events associated with pregnancy and birth. The approach emphasizes physiologic processes using insights gained from studies of humans, animals, cells and genes. Where appropriate the clinical consequences of aberrant development are reviewed.

Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

Recommended Preparation: PSL420HI

PSL425HI Integrative Metabolism and its Endocrine Regulation [26L]

This course integrates the newest findings and experimental approaches from cellular and molecular biology into metabolic function at the tissue, organ and whole body level.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, PSL302Y1

Recommended Preparation: PSL303Y1

PSL432HI Theoretical Physiology [26L]

Theoretical treatment of neurophysiology. Mathematical modeling and analysis of neurophysiological systems.

Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1; APM346HI/MAT244HI

Recommended Preparation: PHY200-series; PSL201Y1/302Y1/ BIO252Y1

Life Sciences: Physiology

PSL440YI Neuroscience I: Systems and Behaviour [78L]

Introduction to systems neuroscience. A review of basic neuroanatomy and physiology followed by in-depth study of selected sensory and motor systems. Students with an elementary neuroscience background progress to reading neuroscience literature on their own.

Prerequisite: PSL300HI/302YI/PSY290HI/CSB332HI or equivalent

PSL443HI Motor Control Systems [26L]

Control of body movement and posture by the nervous system in normal and pathological conditions. Topics include nonlinear dynamical systems, central pattern generators in the cerebral cortex, brainstem and spinal cord, reflexes, and basal ganglia-cerebellar function.

Prerequisite: PSL300HI/302YI

PSL444YI Neuroscience II: Cellular and Molecular [78L]

Overview of the fundamentals of cellular and molecular aspects of brain function. Course material is updated yearly to reflect the rapid evolution of ideas in Neuroscience.

Prerequisite: PSL300HI/302YI/CSB332HI

PSL 450HI Mechanisms of Neural and Endocrinal Secretion [26L]

Exocytosis and other aspects of secretion mainly in neurons and neuroendocrine cells, but also in pancreatic cells. Topics include synapse anatomy and physiology, synaptic plasma membrane and vesicle proteins, membrane fusion, genetic tools, endocrine secretion, plasticity in neurotransmitter release, diseases arising from secretion defects.

Prerequisite: BCH 210HI, PSL 302YI/BIO 252YI, PSL 350HI/CSB 349HI

PSL452HI Membrane Physiology [26L]

Biophysics and molecular biology of ion channels. Topics include equivalent circuits for cells, molecular structure of voltage-gated channels, distribution of channels, relationship between single-channel and whole-cell recording and regulation of channel function by voltage, phosphorylation, G-proteins and metabolites.

Prerequisite: PSL302YI

Recommended Preparation: PSL432HI

PSL454HI Physiological Instrumentation and Electronics [13L, 39P]

A practical approach to instrumentation as a preparation for using sophisticated measurement systems.

Prerequisite: PHY138YI or equivalent

PSL460HI Molecular Physiology [26L, 4S]

An overview of the ways in which techniques in molecular biology are being used to resolve current issues in physiology. The systems to be studied include individual cells, organ systems, integrated systems, and whole animal physiology and pathophysiology.

Prerequisite: BCH210HI, BIO250YI, CSB349HI/PSL350HI, PSL302YI

PSL462HI Molecular Aspects of Cardiovascular Function [26L]

Heart anatomy and development, ion channels and contractile proteins involved in cardiac and smooth muscle contraction are studied. Emphasis is on regulation of electrical and contractile function of kinases, metabolism, volume and ions.

Prerequisite: PSL302YI/303YI

PSL470HI Cardiovascular Physiology [26L, 13T]

Development of the cardiovascular system from conception to adulthood with particular emphasis on maturational changes, age-related differences and developmental problems from cellular/molecular to whole organ/system.

Prerequisite: PSL302YI

PSL472HI Sleep Physiology and Chronobiology [26L]

An in-depth analysis of the basic physiology underlying sleep and circadian rhythms, and of their impact on important physiological processes, of which effects on cardio-respiratory systems are emphasized.

Prerequisite: PSL302YI

PSL498YI Project in Physiology [156P]

PSL499HI Project in Physiology [78P]

Laboratory research project with reading assignments leading to a final report. By special arrangement with a Physiology staff member after admission to course. PSL498YI is recommended for students applying to the Physiology graduate program.

Prerequisite: PSL303YI, 372HI, 374HI, permission of Department

Psychology is that branch of science which focuses on the behaviour of human beings and animals, with particular emphasis on the individual rather than the group. Our courses span the various areas of psychology and introduce students to the methods used in psychological research. The basic tools of the research psychologist include experimentation in the laboratory and field, naturalistic observation, and the use of statistical methods in interpreting data.

Our faculty have highly diversified interests which are reflected in the number and variety of our undergraduate course offerings. These include courses in developmental psychology, social psychology, personality, abnormal psychology, human and animal learning, cognitive psychology, perception, and physiological psychology. We encourage students at all levels, and particularly those who are beginning a Major or Specialist program in Psychology, to consult the undergraduate section of the Psychology web site before selecting courses and to discuss their proposed programs with the Undergraduate Advisor.

Courses in the various areas within Psychology and the numbering system associated with these courses follow a definite pattern: PSY XXX. The first digit represents the year, and the second digit represents the area in which the course belongs. Social Psychology, for example, is identified by "2." Therefore, PSY 220 at the second year; PSY 320, 321, 322, and 323, etc. at the third year; and PSY 420 at the fourth year represent all the Social Psychology courses. Other areas within Psychology follow a similar pattern.

Psychology Programs

(See web site for further details)

Entry into all Psychology programs requires a senior-level high school Calculus course (a community college or university Calculus course is also acceptable). Please note that this requirement will not be waived, nor can it be substituted with another math course. There is, however, no Calculus prerequisite for PSY100HI. Students who completed PSY100YI in 1997 or earlier at the University of Toronto are exempt from the Calculus requirement.

Psychology Research (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(9.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 400-series full courses or equivalent, and no more than 10.0 full courses with a PSY-indicator)

This program is designed for students who have demonstrated particular interest and aptitude in research. Enrolment in the Research Specialist program is limited. Students apply in the spring term of their second year and begin the program in their third year. All students enrolling in or considering the Research Specialist program should enroll in a PSY lab course in the fall of their third year. Admission to the program is based on academic performance and expressed interest in research. To be admitted students must have completed a) a senior-level high school Calculus course; b) PSY 100HI/100YI; c) PSY 201HI and 202HI (or their equivalent); d) four 200-level PSY courses, with an average of at least 73% across all PSY courses. (Note that this does not mean 73% in each PSY course); and e) have a CGPA of at least 3.0. This is a highly competitive program and meeting the minimum requirements does not guarantee admission.

NOTE: The courses include 1.0 full course equivalent in Statistics and 8.0 full courses or equivalent in Psychology.

First Year:

PSY 100HI/100YI

After PSY 100:

1. Statistics: PSY (201HI, 202HI)/ECO 220YI/227YI/GGR 270YI/SOC (202HI, 300HI)/STA (220HI, 221HI)/250HI
2. Two of PSY 210HI, 220HI, 230HI, 240HI (Cluster A), and two of 260HI, 270HI, 280HI, 290HI (Cluster B)
3. Four half-courses at the 300-level from Group 1 below, with at least one half-course from each of Clusters A and B
4. One of PSY 319HI/329HI/339HI/379HI/ 389HI/399HI
5. PSY 309HI
6. PSY 400YI, 409HI
7. Two distinct courses (H or Y) at any level, taken from Groups 1 and/or 2 below

Psychology (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(9.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course or equivalent, and no more than 10.0 full courses with a PSY-indicator)

Enrolment in the Specialist program is limited. Students may enrol in their second or later years. To enrol in second year, students must have a) a senior-level high school Calculus course ; b) completed 4 full university courses; c) obtained at least 80% in PSY 100HI/100YI; d) a CGPA of at least 3.0. To enrol in third or fourth year, students must have completed a) the Calculus requirement; b) a 70% in PSY 100HI/100YI; c) PSY 201HI and 202HI (or their equivalent); d) four 200-level PSY courses, with an average of at least 73% across all PSY courses (Note that this does not mean 73% in each PSY course); and e) have a CGPA of at least 3.0.

NOTE: The courses include 1.0 courses in Statistics and 8.0 full courses or equivalent in Psychology.

First Year:

PSY 100HI/100YI

After PSY 100:

1. Statistics: PSY (201HI, 202HI)/ECO 220YI/227YI/GGR 270YI/SOC (202HI, 300HI)/STA (220HI, 221HI)/250HI
2. Two of PSY 210HI, 220HI, 230HI, 240HI (Cluster A), and two of 260HI, 270HI, 280HI, 290HI (Cluster B)
3. Five half-courses at the 300-level from Group 1 below, with at least one from each of Clusters A and B
4. One lab course taken from: PSY 319HI/329HI/339HI/ 379HI/389HI/399HI
5. Two 400-level seminars
6. Three distinct courses (H or Y) at any level taken from Groups 1 and/or 2 below

Major program:

(6.5 full courses or their equivalent, and no more than 7.5 full courses with a PSY-indicator)

Enrolment in the Major program is limited. To enrol, students must have a) a senior-level high school Calculus course ; b) completed 4 full university courses; c) at least 70% in PSY 100HI/100YI; and d) a CGPA of 2.5.

NOTE: The courses include 0.5 courses in Statistics and 6.0 full courses or equivalent in Psychology.

First Year:

PSY 100HI/100YI

After PSY 100:

1. Statistics: PSY 201HI/ECO 220YI/227YI/GGR 270HI/SOC 202HI/STA 220HI/250HI
2. Two of PSY 210HI, 220HI, 230HI, 240HI (Cluster A), and two of 260HI, 270HI, 280HI, 290HI (Cluster B)
3. Four half-courses at the 300-level from Group 1 below, with at least one from each of Clusters A and B
4. Three distinct courses (H or Y) at any level taken from Groups 1 and/or 2 below

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent, and no more than 5.0 full courses with a PSY-indicator)

Enrolment in the Minor program is limited. To enrol, students must have a) a senior-level high school Calculus course ; b) completed 4 full university courses; c) at least 70% in PSY 100HI/100YI; and d) a CGPA of 2.0.

NOTE: The courses include 0.5 courses in Statistics and 3.5 full courses or equivalent in Psychology.

First Year:

PSY 100HI/100YI

After PSY 100:

1. Statistics: PSY 201HI/ECO 220YI/227YI/GGR 270HI/SOC 202HI/STA 220HI/250HI
2. At least two of: PSY 210HI/220HI/230HI/240HI/260HI/ 270HI/280HI/290HI

3. At least two half-courses at the 300-level taken from Group 1 below, in any of Clusters A and B
4. At least two distinct courses (H or Y) at any level, taken from Groups 1 and/or 2 below

Group 1:

Cluster A:

JLP 315HI/PSY 210HI/220HI/230HI/240HI/300HI/303HI/304HI/311HI/312HI/313HI/314HI/316HI/317HI/319HI/320HI/321HI/322HI/323HI/324HI/325HI/326HI/327HI/328HI/329HI/330HI/331HI/332HI/333HI/334HI/335HI/336HI/339HI/341HI/342HI/343HI/402HI/403HI/404HI/410HI/420HI/430HI/440HI

Cluster B:

JLP 374HI/471HI/PSY 260HI/270HI/280HI/290HI/300HI/303HI/304HI/312HI/316HI/362HI/370HI/371HI/372HI/373HI/375HI/378HI/379HI/380HI/389HI/390HI/392HI/393HI/394HI/396HI/397HI (formerly JZP 326HI)/399HI/402HI/403HI/404HI/460HI/470HI/471HI/480HI/490HI/497HI (formerly JZP 428HI)

Note 1:

Some PSY courses are included in both of Clusters A and B and may count in either cluster, but not both, for program requirements. If either PSY303HI or 304HI (Individual Projects) is being used to fulfil a Cluster, the topic of the project must be in that Cluster's area of psychology.

Group 2:

BIO 150Y1/252Y1 (formerly ZOO 252Y1)/CSB 332HI (formerly ZOO 332HI)/ENG 290Y1/HIS 498HI/HMB 200HI/202HI (formerly NRS 201HI)/204HI/300HI/310HI (formerly NRS 302HI)/320HI (formerly NRS 202HI)/400Y1/420HI/JLS 474HI/LIN 100Y1/200HI/MGT 262HI/NEW 302Y1/303HI/333HI/432Y1/433HI/PCL 475Y1/PHL 240HI/243HI/340HI/POL 313Y1/PSL 300HI/301HI/302Y1/440Y1/444Y1/RLG 211Y1/301HI/302HI/421HI/TRN 320Y1/UNI 250Y1 (formerly JUP 250Y1/370HI/401HI (formerly JUP 450HI/402HI/470HI/WDW 260HI/360HI/365HI/WGS 372HI

*Please note that the courses in Group 2 are optional and that enrolment priority is not given to PSY program students.

Psychology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PSY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

NOTE:

Students in St. George campus PSY programs will be given first priority to admission for all PSY courses above the 100-level.

Please see the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

SC1199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SC1199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

PSY100HI Introductory Psychology [39L]

A brief introductory survey of psychology as both a biological and social science. Topics will include learning, perception, motivation, cognition, developmental, and social psychology.

Exclusion: PSY100Y1

Prerequisite: There is no prerequisite for PSY100HI, however a senior-level high school Calculus course is required to enrol in any Psychology program subsequent to taking PSY100HI.

200-SERIES COURSES

Note on Prerequisites:

For non-degree, visiting, and transfer students who have taken psychology courses at a university other than the University of Toronto, you must bring a photocopy of your transcript(s) to the Undergraduate Advisor to provide proof that you meet all of the prerequisites of the course(s) in which you are enrolled. We will not allow you to take any of our courses without the proper prerequisites. Furthermore, UTSC and UTM students must also have the proper prerequisites for St. George PSY courses, regardless if they are a Psychology program student at their own campus.

PSY201HI Statistics I [39L, 26T]

Fundamentals of descriptive and inferential statistics, including population and sampling distributions, simple association, probability, estimation, and hypothesis testing.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270HI/SOC202HI/300Y1/STA220HI/248HI/250HI

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100Y1/UNI 250Y1

Recommended Preparation: Grade 12 Calculus

PSY202HI Statistics II [39L, 26T]

Fundamentals of statistical analysis of experimental and observational data including linear models, the analysis of variance, a priori contrasts, post-hoc tests, power analysis and effect size calculations. Students are introduced to Minitab, a statistical computer program, with which they complete much of their course work.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/SOC300Y1/STA221HI/250HI/JBS229HI/SOC300HI

Prerequisite: PSY201HI or equivalent

PSY210HI Introduction to Development [39L]

The developmental approach to the study of behaviour with reference to sensorimotor skills, cognition, socialization, personality, and emotional behaviour.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100Y1/UNI 250Y1

PSY220HI Introduction to Social Psychology [39L]

Contemporary areas of research in social psychology: social perception, attitudes, inter-personal relations, and group processes.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100Y1/UNI 250Y1

PSY230HI Personality and Its Transformations [39L]

Theory and research in personality structure and dynamics: the interaction of cultural and biological factors in the development and expression of individual differences.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100Y1/UNI 250Y1

Life Sciences: Psychology

PSY240HI Introduction to Abnormal Psychology [39L]

A critical survey of concepts, theories, and the state of research in the area of emotionally disturbed persons and therapeutic methods.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100YI/UNI 250YI

PSY260HI Learning and Plasticity [39L]

Concepts, theories, and applications of classical and contemporary learning theories, including classical and operant conditioning. Current theories of the physiological and anatomical basis of learning and memory, including synaptic plasticity, the role of the hippocampus, amygdala, frontal cortex and other brain regions. Theories will be related to a practical understanding and applications such as drug addiction, phobias and other disorders.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100YI/UNI 250YI

PSY270HI Introduction to Cognitive Psychology [39L]

An introduction to research and theory on the neural and cognitive architecture of attention, memory, language, thinking and reasoning.

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100YI/UNI 250YI or registered in the Cognitive Science program

PSY280HI Introduction to Perception [39L]

An introduction to the physiological and psychological bases of vision and audition in humans and lower animals. Visual perception of shape and objects, colour, space, and motion. Auditory perception of simple and complex sounds, and location. Demonstrations supplement the lectures.

PSY290HI Physiological Psychology I [39L]

Provides students with a solid background into the biological basis of behaviour. Animal and human research topics including: functional neuroanatomy, neural signalling, sensory and motor control, motivational systems, and hormones, and emotions..

Exclusion: HMB204HI/210HI/NRS201HI

Prerequisite: PSY 100HI/100YI/UNI 250YI or enrolled in the Cognitive Science program

PSY299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

---

300-SERIES COURSES

Note about Statistics

Where a stated prerequisite is PSY201HI or 202HI, its equivalent/exclusion is also accepted.

PSY300HI History of Psychology [39L]

Philosophical predecessors and early development of modern psychology; schools of thought and shifting areas of theory and research. History and philosophy of science, in general. Current systems and theories.

Prerequisite: One full course or equivalent in the PSY200- or 300-series

PSY303HI/304HI Individual Projects [TBA]

An intensive laboratory or applied research project under the supervision of a staff member. Will be approved by the Department only when the student and staff member can show that the project is academically demanding and uniquely suitable for the individual student in terms of the rest of the student's program. Note: Projects spread out over the full academic year are still only worth a half credit.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI and appropriate background for the proposed work

PSY305HI The Treatment of Psychological Data [39L]

This course emphasizes advanced use of the SAS statistical computer program package for the treatment of psychological data collected in laboratory and field studies. Students analyze sets of data and interpret results. Various methods of ensuring the trustworthiness and accuracy of analysis are discussed.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI

PSY309HI Research Specialization: Practicum [39L]

Research specialists learn about the research opportunities within our department, and develop their skills in the areas of critical thinking, writing and oral presentation. Students also conduct a pre-thesis research project under the supervision of a faculty member. Restricted to Research Specialists.

Prerequisite: PSY 202HI, PSY 3*9HI (PSY lab course)

PSY311HI Social Development [39L]

Theory and research in social attachment, aggression, morality, imitation and identification, altruism, and parental discipline, with discussion of methodological issues.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 210HI/220HI

PSY312HI Cognitive Development [39L]

Examines the developmental of knowledge in fundamental domains such as spatial perception, navigation, object perception, number, language, and theory of mind. Emphasis is placed on current experimental findings, and on how they address centuries-old debates surrounding the origin and nature of human knowledge.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 210HI/270HI/UNI 250YI

PSY313HI Psychology of Aging [39L]

Age changes in sensory and perceptual processes, motor skill, learning, memory, and personality. Theory, methodological problems, social, cultural, and environmental influences which shape behaviour and attitudes to and by the elderly.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 210HI

PSY314HI Moral Development [39L]

Examination of cognitive-developmental, psychoanalytic, sociobiological, behaviouristic and cultural-anthropological approaches to moral development. Issues covered include definitions of morality, the relationship between moral judgement and action, gender differences and commonalities, and the role of culture in moral development.

JLP315HI Language Acquisition [39L]

Infants' abilities at birth, prelinguistic development, the first words, phonological, syntactic and semantic development. Social variables influencing development of language, bilingualism, models of development, language play. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: One full course equivalent at the 200-level in JAL/JUP/LIN/PSL/PSY/UNI Cognitive Science

PSY316HI Perceptual Development [39L]

The course examines human perceptual development during the first 2-3 years of life. Vision and audition are emphasized.

Some topics are: pattern and colour vision, depth perception, infant speech perception.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 280HI

Recommended preparation: PSY210HI

PSY317HI Aging and Social Cognition [39L]

Examines theory and research in the social cognitive aspect of aging. Topics range from impression formation and causal attributions to perceptions of control and emotions.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

PSY319HI Developmental Laboratory [39L]

Provides an overview of developmental psychology methods. The class conducts an original research project, including design, data collection and analysis, and a written report.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 210HI; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY320HI Social Psychology: Attitudes [39L]

Intensive study of social attitudes and opinions development, description, measurement, modification, and organization.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

PSY321HI Cross-Cultural Psychology [39L]

Human beings develop within local systems of meaning that define what is good and bad, true and false, sacred and profane, beautiful and ugly, significant and insignificant. These inherited systems of meaning - or cultures - define where we stand as persons in relation to others and provide the grounding for what we come to feel, think, and desire as individuals. This course examines the cultural determination of mindful behaviour.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI, 230HI/240HI

PSY322HI Intergroup Relations [39L]

An in-depth examination of theories and research in intergroup relations; includes topics like stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

PSY323HI Sex Roles and Behaviour [39L]

The effect of sex-role expectations on how men and women behave and perceive the world: theories of sex-role development, physiological and cultural determinants of sex differences, power relationships between men and women.

PSY324HI Social Psychology of Interpersonal Relationships [39L]

This course focuses on the social psychology of interpersonal relationships between and among individuals, especially romantic or close relationships and friendships. It surveys what social psychologists have learned about the development, maintenance, disruption or dissolution of personal relationships, as well as current social psychological theories of interpersonal relationships.

Exclusion: PSY420HI taken in 2002-2003 ONLY

PSY325HI Self-Consciousness [39L]

The distinguishing feature of our species is the reflexivity of our consciousness - the ability to conceive of and interpret ourselves and our experiences. All our higher symbolic capabilities rest upon this foundation. The aim of this multidisciplinary course is to trace out a variety of interpretive frames through which we may look at and better understand self-awareness.

PSY326HI Social Cognition [39L]

An examination of theory and research on how we make sense of ourselves and our social world. Topics covered include goals, mood, memory, hypothesis testing, counterfactual thinking, stereotypes, and culture.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

PSY327HI Psychology of the Mass Media [39L]

This multidisciplinary course examines how we come to know ourselves and our world, and to feel, judge, and act, through the simulative "mediation" of mass communication. The intent is to provide students with greater understanding of the highly commodified symbolic environment that surrounds them and to which they continually respond and react as audience.

Prerequisite: PSY 201HI, 220HI, 230HI/240HI

PSY328HI Psychology and the Law [39L]

This course deals with psychological issues in the law, with particular reference to criminal law. It focuses mainly on research that has been done on pretrial publicity, eyewitness testimony, rules of evidence, and other factors that might affect jury decisions.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

PSY329HI Social Psychology Laboratory [39L]

Illustrates major methodologies within social psychology, such as attitude measurement, observation of small groups, and experiments.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 220HI; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY330HI Psychometrics [39L]

Concepts and methods for the measurement of abilities, interests and personality: reliability, validity, interpretation of test scores, norms, observational methods, structured tests, interview, projective techniques. Ethical problems in assessment. Not a course in test administration.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 230HI/240HI Recommended preparation: PSY202HI

PSY331HI Social Psychology of Emotion [39L]

An in-depth review of the role of emotion in human psychology, with an emphasis on the links between emotion and cognition. Topics include theories of emotion, emotional regulation, expression and experience, the role of emotion in decision-making, and the relationship between emotion, motivation and behaviour.

PSY332HI Organizational Behaviour [39L]

An analysis of the individual, group, and institutional structures and processes that influence behaviour within organizations. Topics include motivation, leadership, communication, school of management theories, group processes and team work, supervision, and organizational culture.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI

Exclusion: MGT262HI, WDW260HI

PSY333HI Health Psychology [39L]

Examines research evidence concerning the impact of psychological factors on physical health and illness.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 230HI/240HI

PSY334HI Maps of Meaning: The Architecture of Belief [39L]

Culture appears to have a narrative structure. Animal learning and neuropsychological theory helps us understand how narratives might regulate emotion. Threat of broadscale emotional dysregulation motivates individuals to protect their cultures.

Life Sciences: Psychology

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 230HI/240HI

PSY335HI Environmental Psychology [39L]

An examination of the interrelationship of humans and their natural and built environments, focusing on psychological and sociocultural factors. Topics include: the self in relation to nature; the perception of environmental change; the effects of natural and built environments on stress and psychological health; understanding consumerism and environmentalism; and the relationship between individuals' experience (i.e., cognitions, emotions, and values) and action relating to environmental issues.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 220HI, or enrolled in the Environment and Behaviour Minor Program

PSY336HI Positive Psychology [39L]

A review of the field of positive psychology, which is the study of fulfillment and personal growth. The focus is on empirical research regarding the development of healthy, productive, and resilient individuals. Topics include: subjective well-being, optimism, flow experiences, self-control and emotional intelligence, social support and empathy.

PSY337HI Advanced Personality Psychology [39L]

This course covers major topics in personality psychology including prominent theories and current research in the area. Theoretical frameworks will be integrated with specific applications in primary sources. Specific topics may include personality structure, personality development, psychodynamic approaches, genetic methodology, and emotion regulation.

Prerequisite: PSY 201HI, PSY230HI

PSY339HI Individual Differences Laboratory [39P]

Introduction to methods involved in individual differences or personality research. Group and individual projects focus on assessment of individual difference characteristics and on experimentation including such characteristics.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 230HI/240HI; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY341HI Psychopathologies of Childhood [39L]

This course focuses on cognitive and neuropsychological aspects of neurodevelopmental and psychiatric disorders in children from clinical and theoretical perspectives.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 210HI/240HI, one further PSY200/300-series full course or equivalent

PSY342HI Cognition and Psychopathology [26S, 13T]

Work in psychological disorders has increasingly used the theories and methodologies of cognitive psychology to guide research. This course will examine accounts of clinical disorders informed by cognitive experimental psychology, with emphasis on recent work in affective disorders.

PSY343HI Theories of Psychopathology and Psychotherapy [39L]

Examines various theories of how personality functioning may become impaired and corresponding psychotherapeutic interventions. Emphasis on empirical assessment of personality dysfunction and therapy effectiveness.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 230HI/240HI

PSY362HI Animal Cognition [39L]

The study of memory, representation, concept learning, and other cognitive processes in non-human animals.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 260HI

PSY370HI Thinking and Reasoning [39L]

Problem-solving as a model of directed thinking; conceptual behaviour and mental representation; induction, deduction and learning; probabilistic reasoning; creative thinking and complex problem solving.

Prerequisite: PSY 270HI/UNI 250YI

PSY371HI Higher Cognitive Processes [39L]

This course covers selected topics pertaining to higher cognitive processes including expertise, consciousness, creativity, and human and artificial intelligence.

Prerequisite: PSY270HI/370HI/UNI 250YI

PSY372HI Human Memory [39L]

Current theories and data on human memory: processes involved in encoding, storage, and retrieval.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 270HI/UNI 250YI

PSY373HI Social Cognitive Neuroscience [39L]

Social cognitive neuroscience is an emerging interdisciplinary field that seeks to integrate theories of social psychology and cognitive neuroscience to understand behavior at three fundamentally interrelated levels of analysis (social, cognitive, and neural). Topics such as self-regulation, cooperation, attitudes, and prejudice will be examined.

Prerequisite: PSY 201HI, 220HI, 270HI/290HI

Recommended Preparation: PSY 326HI

JLP374HI Psychology of Language [39L]

Human and other animal communication, structure of human language, word meaning and semantic memory, psychological studies of syntax, bilingualism, language and thought, language errors and disorders. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: One 200-series full course or equivalent in JAL/JUP/LIN/PSY/PSL/UNI Cognitive Science

PSY375HI Attention and Performance [39L]

Visual attention; attentional selection for object recognition, feature integration, and action; movements of attention; eye-hand coordination, eye movements, limb movements. Models of attention and motor control.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 270HI/280HI/UNI 250YI

PSY378HI Engineering Psychology [39L]

The application of our knowledge of human information processing capabilities to improve human-machine systems design in a number of engineering environments including aviation, computer software, human-computer interaction, and nuclear power plants.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 270HI/280HI/UNI 250YI

Recommended preparation: PSY202HI

PSY379HI Memory and Learning Laboratory [39P]

Exercises and demonstrations, followed by experiments done jointly with other members of the class, and a final individual research project, in the broad area of human learning and memory.

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 270HI/UNI 250YI; PSY specialist or departmental approval

PSY380HI Vision Science [39L]

Integrates psychology, neuroscience, and computer science approaches to the study of vision science. Topics include:

spatial vision; perception of objects, function, and category; motion perception; visual attention, memory, and imagery; and consciousness. Demonstrations/in-class experiments supplement lectures and readings. Important class for psychology, cognitive science, and neuroscience students.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI/MAT135YI, PSY 280HI

PSY389HI Perception Laboratory [39L]

Examination of issues and methods in perception research. Students conduct supervised research projects, and read, critique, and write research articles.

PSY390HI Behavioural Genetics [39L]

An examination of how genes contribute to the production of behaviour, either as structural elements or direct participants in behavioural regulation. Covers molecular genetics, natural selection and genetic methods followed by specific examples of congenic disorders that affect behaviour and studies of "normal" behaviours in human and animal models.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 290HI/NRS201HI

PSY392HI Neurobiology of Learning and Memory [39L]

Understanding the complexities of how the mammalian nervous system acquires and stores information and how it transforms this information into appropriate behavior is fundamentally important to our understanding of both animal and human behavior. This course explores empirical and theoretical contributions to our understanding of the neural basis of learning and memory.

PSY393HI Cognitive Neuroscience [39L]

The use of higher cortical functions to study cognitive processes in humans and other primates. Some topics to be covered: hemispheric specialization, emotion and the cerebral hemispheres, organization of language after brain damage, amnesia, aging.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 270HI/290HI/NRS201HI

PSY394HI Physiology and Psychology of Emotion [39L]

The role of brain and body in expression and experience of emotion in humans, considered theoretically and through the experimental, physiological and clinical literatures.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 270HI/290HI/NRS201HI

PSY396HI Neurochemical Basis of Behaviour [39L]

The functional relevance of neurotransmitters, with particular emphasis on their role in mediating behaviour.

Prerequisite: PSY201HI, 290HI/NRS201HI

PSY397HI Biological Rhythms (formerly JZP326HI) [26L, 13T]

Daily, monthly, annual and other rhythms and methods of measuring them. Behavioural and physiological aspects of biological clocks. The importance of rhythms in experimental design, in research on brain function, in affective disorders, and the use animals make of rhythms in migration and other behaviours.

Prerequisite: BIO150YI/PSY100HIYI, one full or two 200-series half-courses in the Sciences

Exclusion: JZP326HI

PSY399HI Psychobiology Laboratory [39L]

An introduction to surgical and experimental methods and research issues in physiological psychology, including anatomical and neurobiological methods and behavioural and genetic analysis. Concentration on innate and learned mechanisms that influence the display of specific behaviours.

Exclusion: HMB310HI/NRS302HI

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 290HI; PSY specialist or departmental approval

---

400-Series Courses

PSY400YI Research Specialization: Thesis [TBA]

An individual project done under the direction of a staff member. Lecture and seminar presentations of proposals in the Fall Session.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in PSY Research Specialist program, PSY309HI, PSY3*9HI (PSY lab course)

PSY402HI Psychology Seminar [26S]

PSY403HI Psychology Seminar [26S]

PSY404HI Psychology Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of specific topics in psychology at the graduate level. These seminars vary from year to year in terms of the number given, the topics, and the restrictions on enrollment. Students must get prior consent from the instructor of the graduate seminar they are interested in taking and submit this consent in writing to the department at which time you will be enrolled for undergraduate credit. Consult the Undergraduate Advisor for more details.

PSY409HI Research Specialization: Theoretical Foundations [26S]

This seminar addresses the central theoretical issues that structure contemporary research in each of the major areas of psychology. The aim is to provide an informal overview of the field as a whole.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the PSY Research Specialist program, PSY 309HI

PSY410HI Developmental Psychology Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic within developmental psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 210HI; PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY420HI Social Psychology Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic within social psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 220HI; PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY430HI Personality Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic within the area of personality. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 230HI/240HI, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY440HI Abnormal Psychology Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic within abnormal psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Life Sciences: Psychology

---

Prerequisite: PSY202HI, 230HI/240HI, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY460HI Learning Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic in learning. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY260HI; an additional 300-level half-course in the 350-, 360-, or 370-series or permission of instructor; PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY470HI Memory Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of limited topics within the area of memory. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY270HI/UNI 250YI, PSY Specialist or permission of department

JLP471HI Advanced Psycholinguistics [26S]

Seminar in advanced topics in psycholinguistics. Content varies from year to year. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: JLP374HI, LIN322HI/331HI

PSY471HI Cognition Seminar [26S]

Examination in depth of a limited topic in cognition. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: (PSY270HI/280HI), (PSY371HI/375HI/380HI), PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY480HI Seminar in Vision Science [26S]

An in-depth examination of current issues in vision science (e.g. perceptual organization, object and face recognition, motion perception). Emphasis is on the psychological perspective, but integrates physiological and computational perspectives as well. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY270HI, PSY280HI, 37*H/38*H, PSY393HI, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY490HI Brain Activity & Behaviour Seminar [39S]

The relationship between behaviour and the activity of neurons; examples from sensory, motor, motivational, and higher cortical systems. Electrical stimulation and recording techniques.

PSY497HI Advanced Topics in Biological Rhythms (formerly JZP428HI) [26S]

Circadian rhythms with emphasis on non-photic entrainment and phase shifting of rhythms by behaviour (e.g., social interactions, or becoming active). Properties and physiological mechanisms for non-photic effects and comparisons with those for photic effects. Seminars and readings of original papers. Emphasis on basic principles, but possible applications will also be discussed.

Prerequisite: JZP326HI/PSY397HI

Exclusion: JZP428HI

Linguistics can trace its roots back to the ancient Sanskrit grammarians, and the study of language is probably as old as language itself. However, the twentieth century has produced an explosion in the scientific study of language. As our understanding of the nature and structure of human language develops, linguistics is becoming relevant to many other areas of research such as Cognitive Science, Artificial Intelligence, Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology, Psychology, and Philosophy.

On its own, linguistics represents an invaluable key to the nature of the mind and the diverse elements of human culture; as a tool, linguistics is unmatched in preparing one for the learning and teaching of languages and for integrating language with technology.

The Department offers programs in Linguistics, as well as combined programs with language departments and with Philosophy, as shown in the Programs of Study.

Part-time students should note that most of the summer and evening courses available to them are offered on a rotating basis only. Consequently, students wishing to take such courses should enroll in them at the earliest opportunity after completing the necessary prerequisites.

In addition to the undergraduate curriculum within the Department of Linguistics, there are courses relating to linguistics offered in other departments such as the language departments, Anthropology, Computer Science, and Philosophy, and in the Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence program.

Students seeking counselling and information should contact the Undergraduate Coordinator, TBA, (416-978-1760).

Linguistics Programs

Enrolment in the Linguistics programs requires the completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Linguistics (Arts program)

Specialist program:

(12 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

LIN 100Y1

Second Year:

LIN 228H1, 229H1, 241H1, 232H1

Second, Third and Fourth Years:

1. Two years of study or its equivalent of one non-Germanic, non-Romance language in courses using the spoken language (courses must be approved by the Undergraduate Co-ordinator)
2. LIN 322H1, 331H1, JAL 401H1
3. Further courses (excluding LIN 200H1, 265Y1, and 365Y1) to bring the total number of courses up to 12 FCE. These courses must be LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS courses except that up to one full course may be chosen from the following list (please consult the Department of Linguistics): ANT 329Y1, 425H1, 427H1; CSC 384H1, 485H1; FIN 220H1; FRE 272Y1, 273Y1, 376H1, 378H1, 384H1, 386H1, 387H1, 389H1, 471H1, 479H1, 489H1; GER 400H1, 426H1; GGR368H1; HPS 250H1; ITA 360H1, 361H1, 363H1, 364H1, 430H1; UNI 250Y1; PHL 210Y1, 245H1, 325H1, 326H1, 340H1; 342H1, 345H1, 351H1, 355H1, 451H1; SLA 430Y1, 438H1, 439H1, 452Y1, 456H1; SPA322H1, 421H1, 422H1, 425H1
4. Of the courses chosen in 3 above, at least 2.5 FCE must be at the 300+ level and 0.5 at the 400-level

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

LIN 100Y1

Second Year:

LIN 228H1, 229H1, 241H1, 232H1

Third and Fourth Years:

Four FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1) at least two of which must be at the 300+ level

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. LIN 100Y1
2. Three FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1) at least one of which must be at the 300+ level

Linguistics

---

Linguistics and Languages (Arts program)

Consult the Department of Linguistics and of the Language chosen.

Combined Specialist program:

(13 or 14 courses or their equivalent)

Linguistics

The Linguistics component of all these Programs is as follows:

First Year:

LIN 100Y1

Second Year:

LIN 228H1, 229H1, 241H1, 232H1

Third and Fourth Years:

Four FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1), at least 1 of which must be at the 400-level, and 2 at the 300+ level (LIN 362H1 specially recommended)

---

The Language component is six or seven courses or their equivalent in the language chosen as follows:

English

(7 courses)

For details, please see the Department of English program listings.

French

(7 courses or their equivalent)

Same as the Major program in French Language and French Linguistics. For details, please see the Department of French program listings.

German

(6 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

GER 100Y1/200Y1/(200H1, 201H1)

Second Year:

GER 200Y1/(200H1, 201H1); 300Y1/(300H1, 301H1)

Third and Fourth Years:

1. GER 300Y1/(300H1, 301H1, 400H1)
2. The remainder of the six courses or equivalent must have a GER designator.

Italian

(7 courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

ITA 100Y1/101Y1/102Y1/(133H1, 134H1)/152Y

Second Year:

ITA 250Y1/251Y1/252Y1/253Y1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. ITA 360H1, 430H1
2. 4.0 additional FCE ITA language and linguistics courses at the 300/400-levels

Spanish

(6.5 courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

SPA 100Y1/220Y1; SPA 319Y1 (for native/bilingual speakers of Spanish)

Second Year:

SPA 220Y1/320Y1; SPA 420H1 (for speakers who have taken SPA 319Y1 in first year)

Third and Fourth Years:

1. SPA 320Y1, 420H1
2. One half-course selected from SPA 450H1, SPA 452H1 or SPA 454H1
3. One 300/400-series half-course in literature
4. Two courses in Hispanic Linguistics from the 300/400-series from SPA321H1, SPA322H1, SPA324H1, SPA421H1S, SPA422H1, SPA423H1, SPA425H1, or SPA325H
5. Plus additional SPA courses to make the equivalent of 6.5 courses.

Slavic Languages

Slavic Languages may also be taken in this Program. Interested students should consult the Department.

Linguistics and Computing (Science program)

Specialist program:

(15.5 full courses or their equivalent with at least one full course at the 400-level)

Linguistics Component (7 FCE's)

First Year

LIN100Y1

Second Year

LIN 228H1, 229H1, 241H1, 232H1

Higher Years

1. 2.5 FCE's chosen from LIN322H1, 323H1, 331H1, 341H1, 481H1; JLP315H1, 374H1
2. 1.5 additional FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN200H1) at least 1.0 of which must be at the 300+ level

Recommended preparation: At least one year's study (or equivalent) at university level of a non-English language

Computing Component (7.5 FCE's)

First Year

CSC 165H1/240H1 (108H1, 148H1)/150H1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1

Second Year

CSC 207H1, 236H1/240H1, 263H1/265H1; MAT 223H1; STA 247H1/257H1

Higher Years

1. CSC 258H1, 324H1, 401H1, 485H1
2. 1.0 additional FCE's in CSC, chosen from: CSC 343H1, 363H1/365H1, 373H1/375H1, 384H1, 428H1, 486H1

NOTE: Students in this program must also qualify for, and be registered in the Major program in Computer Science

Linguistics and Philosophy (Arts program)

Consult Departments of Philosophy and Linguistics.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent with one full course at the 400-level)

Linguistics

(7 courses)

First Year:

LIN 100Y1

Second Year:

LIN 228H1, 229H1, 241H1, 232H1

Third and Fourth Years:

Four FCE's in LIN/JA/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1); at least 1 must be at the 400 level and 2 must be at the 300+ level (LIN 331H1, 481H1 specially recommended)

Philosophy

(7 courses)

1. PHL 210Y1, 245H1, 351H1
2. Five additional PHL courses, at least three at the 300-level. The following courses are particularly recommended: HPS 250H1; UNI 250Y1; PHL 325H1, 326H1, 340H1, 342H1, 345H1, 347H1, 351H1, 355H1, 451H1

Linguistics Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), LIN courses are classified as HUMANITIES or SOCIAL SCIENCE or SCIENCE courses; check individual course listings below.

HUM199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a Humanities course; see page 48..

LIN100YI Introduction to General Linguistics [52L, 26T]

Lectures on fundamental principles with illustrations from English and from a broad spectrum of other languages. Practice in elementary analytic techniques.

LIN200HI Introduction to Language [26L, 13T]

A general-interest course on language. Possible topics include: the structure of language; how language changes over time, the social and psychological aspects of language, language and culture, the origin of language, writing systems, and language acquisition. (This course cannot be used as an entrance to programs in linguistics, and cannot be used as a prerequisite to any linguistics courses unless otherwise indicated.)

Exclusion: LIN100YI

LIN201HI Canadian English [26L]

A study of English spoken in Canada. Topics include: vocabulary items, usage surveys, non-standard dialect enclaves, regional variation and historical development. Students will develop original research projects. (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: LIN 100Y1/200H1

LIN203HI English Words [26L]

English has a rich vocabulary. We will learn how it has developed over time, and investigate aspects of the meaning and pronunciation of words. Most of all, we will study how words are put together, so that students will be able to recognize and analyze unfamiliar words.

Exclusion: LIN202Y1

This is a Humanities course

LIN204HI English Grammar [26L]

How the English language works: students analyze a wide variety of English grammatical structures and learn how they vary across dialects and change through time.

Exclusion: LIN202Y1

LIN205HI East Asian Languages and English [26L]

The course is a linguistic exploration of issues that arise as English comes into contact with three major East Asian Languages (Chinese, Japanese, and Korean). Topics include a comparative introduction to the basic structures of the languages, writing systems, transformations English words undergo when borrowed into these Asian languages, and typical mistakes made by ESL speakers of East Asian linguistic background.

Exclusion: HUM199HI/Y1Y, L024I (2005-2006)

This is a Humanities course

LIN228HI Phonetics [26L, 13T]

Investigation of the sounds most commonly used in languages from an articulatory and acoustic point of view, with practice in their recognition and production.

Recommended preparation: LIN100Y1/200H1

This is a Humanities course

LIN229HI Sound Patterns in Language [26L, 13T]

The nature and organization of phonological systems, with practical work in analysis.

Prerequisite: LIN100Y1, 228HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN232HI Syntactic Patterns in Language [26L, 13T]

The nature and organization of syntactic systems; their relation to semantic systems and the linguistic organization of discourse; practical work in analysis.

Prerequisite: LIN100Y1

LIN241HI Introduction to Semantics [26L, 13T]

An introduction to meaning within linguistics and the interpretation of language in context. Topics include logical and semantic relations, pragmatic concepts such as presupposition and implicature, the nature of thematic roles, quantifiers and scope relations, the expressions of temporal and modal relations in natural language.

Prerequisite: LIN100Y1

This is a Humanities course

LIN299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

LIN305HI Quantitative Methods in Linguistics [39L]

Principles of research design, data collection, and a wide variety of statistical techniques for research in various subfields of linguistics.

Prerequisite: LIN100Y1 and one full course in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP

This is a Social Science course

LIN306HI Language Diversity and Language Universals [26L]

This course examines cross-linguistic typological features found in the languages of the world. Special attention is given to describing morphological and syntactic patterns found cross-linguistically. The goal of the course is to draw on the range of variation in order to uncover language universals. (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: 232HI

This is a Humanities course

JLP315HI Language Acquisition [39L]

Infants' abilities at birth, prelinguistic development, the first words, phonological, syntactic and semantic development. Social variables influencing development of language, bilingualism,

Linguistics

---

models of development, language play. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: One full course equivalent at the 200-level in LIN/JAL/JUP/PSL/PSY/UNI Cognitive Science

This is a Science course

LIN322HI Phonological Theory [39L]

Basic issues in current phonological theory. Problems focusing on analysis and theory. (Students who want to pursue graduate studies in linguistics are strongly advised to include this course in their program.)

Prerequisite: LIN229HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN323HI Acoustic Phonetics [26L]

Introduction to acoustics, with particular reference to the vocal tract; acoustic properties of speech; instrumental techniques for speech analysis.

Prerequisite: LIN228HI

This is a Science course

JAL328HI Writing Systems [26L]

Introduction to writing systems: their historical development, their relationship to language, and their role in culture and society. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: ANT100YI/LIN100YI/200HI

This is a Social Science course

LIN331HI Syntactic Theory [39L]

An introduction to the foundations and formal framework of current generative grammar, concentrating on Chomsky's Minimalist theory. (Students who want to pursue graduate studies in linguistics are strongly advised to include this course in their program.)

Prerequisite: LIN232HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN333HI Morphological Patterns in Language (formerly LIN231HI) [26L, 13T]

The nature and organization of morphological systems, with practical work in analysis.

Prerequisite: LIN229HI, 232HI

Exclusion: LIN231HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN341HI Semantic Theory [39L]

The study of natural language semantics and the relation between interpretation and syntactic structure. Topics include predication and quantification, scope and anaphora, problems of discourse analysis, the interpretation of different types of pronouns, and ellipsis.

Prerequisite: LIN241HI

LIN351HI Sociolinguistic Patterns in Language (formerly LIN256HI) [26L, 13T]

An introduction to linguistic variation and its social implications, especially the quantitative study of phonological and grammatical features and their correlations with age, sex, ethnicity, and other social variables.

Prerequisite: LIN100YI

Exclusion: LIN256HI

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

JAL355HI Language and Gender [26L]

Ways in which women and men differ in their use of language and in their behaviour in conversational interaction; ways in which language reflects cultural beliefs about women and men.

(Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: Two full course equivalents at the 200-level in LIN/ANT/JAL/SOC

Recommended preparation: ANT204YI/JAL253HI/254HI/NEW261YI/SOC200YI/ 202YI/214YI/215YI

LIN362HI Historical Linguistics [39L]

An introduction to diachronic linguistics. Theories of language change; the comparative method, internal reconstruction, linguistic geography, the origin of languages; language death. (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: LIN229HI

JLP374HI Psychology of Language [39L]

Experimental approaches to the comprehension and production of languages. Topics include perception of speech sounds, storage and retrieval of words from the mental lexicon, processing of grammatical information, discourse comprehension and memory, models of language production, and the role of cognitive and perceptual systems. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: One full course equivalent at the 200-level in LIN/JAL/JUP/PSY/PSL/UNI Cognitive Science

This is a Science course

LIN398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

LIN399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

JAL401HI Field Linguistics [52P]

Practice in language analysis based on elicited data from a native speaker of a foreign language, emphasizing procedures and techniques. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics) (Students who want to pursue graduate studies in linguistics are strongly advised to include this course in their program.)

Prerequisite: Completion of 322HI, 331HI, except for students in their final year where LIN331H/332HI is a corequisite.

This is a Social Science course

LIN409HI Structure of a Specific Language [26L]

Topics may include: the phonological, morphological, syntactic, and semantic systems; the writing system; a brief diachronic sketch; variation and sociolinguistic aspects. (Not offered every year).

Prerequisite: LIN228HI, 229HI, 232HI + 1 FCE at the 300+ level in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS

LIN423HI Phonetic Analysis [26L]

Theoretical discussion of the acoustic correlates of various types of sounds found in language. Practical experience in the acoustic analysis of speech. (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: LIN323HI

LIN432HI Advanced Morphology [39L]

Current research involving morphology, including the role of morphology in the grammar, the nature of inflectional paradigms, affixes affecting grammatical relations. Each year one topic will be a special focus and will be dealt with at length. (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: LIN333HI/231HI

Co-requisite: LIN331HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN451HI Urban Dialectology [26L]

Ways in which urban sub-cultures differ in their use of language. How speakers' dialects reflect their ethnicity, group affiliation, and other social categories. Practice in dialect analysis based on data from the speech community, emphasizing procedures and techniques.

Prerequisite: LIN351HI/256HI plus 2 FCE at the 200+ level in LIN/JAL/JLP

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

LIN456HI Language Variation and Change: Theory and Analysis (formerly LIN356HI) [39L]

The theory and practice of sociolinguistics. The inter-relationship between language and society from the perspective of collecting, organizing, and analyzing patterns in natural speech data, including field methods and quantitative methods for correlating linguistic and social variables.

Prerequisite: LIN351HI/ LIN256HI

Exclusion: LIN356HI

LIN458HI Revitalizing Languages [26L]

A study of language endangerment and language revitalization efforts, focusing on Aboriginal languages of Canada. Topics include language classification and a survey of major features of the languages, what it means for a language to be endangered, the factors that contribute to language shift, and efforts to reverse language shift, including discussion of literacy and dictionaries.

Prerequisites: LIN100Y1Y plus 2 FCE at the 200+ level in LIN/JAL

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

JLP471HI Advanced Psycholinguistics [39L]

Seminar in advanced topics in psycholinguistics. Content will vary from year to year. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology) (Not offered every year)

Prerequisite: JLP374HI, LIN322HI/331HI/333HI/341HI

This is a Science course

JLS474HI Disorders of Speech and Language [39L]

Normal and deviant development of speech and language; a survey of the disorders of human communication; an overview of intervention for disorders of speech, voice, language, swallowing and hearing; the effects of human communication handicaps on the individual, family, and community; theoretical and philosophical aspects of disordered communication. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Speech Pathology)

Prerequisite: JLP315HI/374HI

This is a Science course

JFL477HI Issues in French and Linguistics I [26S]

An advanced seminar on issues of current theoretical relevance in linguistics with special reference to French. This course is taught in English. (Not offered every year).

Prerequisite: Any 300+series FRE or LIN course

JFL478HI Issues in French and Linguistics II [26S]

An advanced seminar on issues of current theoretical relevance in linguistics with special reference to French. This course is taught in English. (Not offered every year).

Prerequisite: Any 300+series FRE or LIN course

LIN479HI Current Issues in Linguistics [26S]

An advanced seminar in current issues of theoretical relevance.

Prerequisite: LIN228HI, 229HI, 241HI, 232HI + 1 FCE at the 300+ level in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS

This is a Humanities course

LIN481HI Introduction to Analysis and Argumentation [39L]

Argumentation, practice in constructing and evaluating hypotheses, and critical evaluation of representative articles. Emphasis on the structure of arguments rather than on the analysis of a particular language.

Prerequisite: LIN322HI/331HI

This is a Humanities course

LIN495YI Individual Project [TBA]

LIN497YI Individual Project [TBA]

A research or reading project undertaken by the student under the supervision of a staff member. Open only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise.

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department

LIN496HI Individual Project [TBA]

LIN498HI Individual Project [TBA]

LIN499HI Individual Project [TBA]

A research or reading project undertaken by the student under the supervision of a staff member. Open only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise.

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department

Literary Studies: see Victoria College

Macedonian: See Slavic Languages and Literatures

Materials Science

A Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Faculty of Applied Science & Engineering

Materials science is the study of the structure, properties and applications of all types of materials including metals, ceramics, glasses and polymers. Currently many exciting scientific developments are in the materials field. Notable advances have been made recently in studies of amorphous metals, the quasicrystalline state, liquid crystals, semiconductors, nanostructured materials, high critical temperature superconductors, biomaterials, high strength polymers, materials processing techniques such as ion implantation and laser melting, and in new categories of engineered materials such as advanced industrial ceramics or composite materials.

Materials science is interdisciplinary, drawing on the basic sciences of chemistry and physics and on more applied subjects such as metallurgy, ceramics and polymer science. Its tools and techniques include electron microscopy, x-ray diffraction, surface analysis using Auger emission spectroscopy, x-ray photoelectron spectroscopy, etc.

Applied Science: Materials, MSE 101HI, is designed to appeal to a wide variety of student interests. Other materials science courses are available to students having the prescribed prerequisites and the approval of the Undergraduate Student Counsellor. The specialist program in Materials Science is coordinated jointly by the Departments of Chemistry and Materials Science and Engineering. For further information on the program, consult the coordinators listed in the Materials Science Program section below. For further information on materials courses from the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, consult the Undergraduate Student Counsellor.

Undergraduate Counsellor: Professor U. Erb, Department of Materials Science and Engineering Science, Wallberg Building, Room 140 (416-978-7308)

Materials Science Programs

---

Materials Science (Science program)

---

Consult Professor Eugenia Kumacheva, Department of Chemistry and Professor U. Erb, Department of Metallurgy and Materials Science.

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

This program draws both on the basic sciences of chemistry and physics, and on the more applied areas such as metallurgy or ceramics. Courses dealing with these latter fields are offered through the Department of Materials Science in the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering. This would be an appropriate program for students with career interests in solid state, polymer or composite materials industries, or for graduate work in either chemistry or materials science, with an appropriate choice of options. Students may follow the Materials Chemistry stream by taking research course CHM 499Y1 or the Materials Science and Engineering stream by taking research course MSE 498Y1.

Specialist program:

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1, CHM 151Y1/(138HI, 139HI); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1/(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI)

Second Year:

1. MSE 101HI
2. CHM (220HI, 221HI)/225Y1, 238Y1, 247HI/249HI
3. MSE 219HI, 235HI

Third and Fourth Years:

1. CHM 325HI, 327HI, 338HI, 343HI/348HI, 426HI, 434HI
2. At least two of the following: MSE 316HI, 318HI, (342HI, 343HI), 351HI
3. At least two of the following: MSE 430HI, 440HI, 459HI, 461HI, 550HI
4. Materials Chemistry Stream:

Materials Science Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all MSE courses are classified as Science courses.

Notes

1. The MSE courses below are administered by the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, and are subject to the rules and regulations of that Faculty, including those for term dates and examination periods.
2. The CHM courses listed for the Materials Science program are described in the Chemistry section of this Calendar.

MSE101HI Introduction to Materials Science [39L, 13P, 13T]

This is an introductory course in materials science examining the fundamentals of atomic structure, the nature of bonding in materials, crystal structure and defects, and phase equilibria. These basic principles provide the foundation for an exploration of structure-property relationships in metals, ceramics, and polymers, with emphasis on mechanical properties. The properties of materials then form the basis for an introduction to materials selection in design.

Prerequisite: OAC/Grade 12 U Chemistry, Physics, and Calculus

MSE219HI Structure and Characterization of Materials [39L, 20P, 13T]

Both the theoretical and experimental interpretation of the structure and chemistry of inorganic materials on various length scales will be examined. Crystalline and amorphous structure is discussed in terms of electronic structure of atoms, atomic bonding, atomic coordination and packing. Extended defects in crystalline solids will be covered. Experimental techniques for characterizing materials structure and chemistry will be described including: optical and electron microscopy, x-ray diffraction, scanning probe microscopy, Auger electron spectroscopy, x-ray photoelectron spectroscopy and secondary ion mass spectrometry.

MSE235HI Materials Physics [39L, 13T]

Application of solid state physics to describe properties of materials. Thermal properties of solids: lattice vibrations (phonons), heat capacity, thermal conductivity. Electrical properties of metals: simple circuits, resistivity of metals (classical and quantum descriptions), Seebeck, Peltier, and Thomson effects. Electrical properties of semiconductors: band structure and occupancy, conductivity, Hall effect, simple devices. Electrical properties of insulators: polarization, capacitance, optical properties, ferroelectric and piezoelectric materials. Magnetic properties: diamagnetism and paramagnetism, ferromagnetic and ferrimagnetic materials, magnetic domains, B-H curves.

MSE316HI Mechanical Behaviour of Materials [39L, 20P, 13T]

The mechanical behaviour of engineering materials including metals, alloys, ceramics and polymeric materials. The following topics will be discussed: macro- and micro-structural response of materials to external loads; load-displacement and stress-strain relationships, processes and mechanisms of elastic, visco-elastic, plastic and creep deformation, crystallographic aspects of plastic flow, effect of defects on mechanical behaviour, strain hardening theory, strengthening mechanisms and mechanical testing.

MSE318HI Phase Transformations [39L, 20P, 13T]

Thermodynamics and phase stability. Free energy diagrams. Phase transformations in unary systems: primary crystallization, amorphization, crystallization of amorphous materials, recrystallization. Phase transformations in binary systems: solidification, precipitation from solid solution, binary invariant reactions. Diffusional transformations, nucleation and growth, diffusionless or martensitic transformations. Second order transformations. Spinodal, massive and order-disorder transformations. Influence of phase transformations on microstructure and properties.

MSE342HI Nanomaterials [19L, 12T]

An introduction to nanostructured materials. Topics include: the different classes of nanomaterials, synthesis and characterization methods, changes in physical properties on the nanometer scale, areas of application of nanostructured materials and materials issues in nanotechnology. (Half term course taught during last 6 weeks of term, worth 0.25 credits).

MSE343HI Biomaterials [19L, 12T]

The course will provide an overview of the applications of materials (metals, polymers, ceramics, composites and modified tissue-based materials) for surgical implant fabrication. The important considerations in selection of materials for fabrication of these devices with an introduction to the biological responses expected with implantation will also be discussed. The concept of biocompatibility will be introduced as well as the essential elements of biology related to an understanding of this criterion for biomaterial selection and implant design. (Half term course taught during first 6 weeks of term, worth 0.25 credits).

MSE351HI Design and Simulation of Materials Processes [26L, 26P, 13T]

Various phenomena involved in materials processing and design will be modeled using a software package based on the finite element method. Examples will include aspects of solid state diffusion, structural stress, heat transfer, fluid flow and chemical reactions. The problems will involve unsteady state as well as 3 dimensional systems. Multi-physics phenomena such as heating of an electric component by an electric current, resulting in a change in physical properties affecting thermal properties will also be introduced. The main objective of this course is to introduce students to the use of a commercial software package to solve fairly common but complex physical and chemical phenomena related to the materials industry.

MSE430HI Electronic Materials [26L, 13T]

Materials parameters and electronic properties of semiconductors are discussed as basic factors in the engineering of semiconductor devices. Materials parameters are related to preparation and processing methods, and thus to the electronic properties. The implications of materials parameters and properties on selected simple devices are discussed.

MSE440HI Biomaterial Processing and Properties [39L, 13T]

Currently used biomaterials for formation of surgical implants and dental restorations include selected metals, polymers, ceramics, and composites. The selection and processing of these materials to satisfy biocompatibility and functional requirements for applications in selected areas will be presented. Materials used for forming scaffolds for tissue engineering, and strategies for repair, regeneration and augmentation of degenerated or traumatized tissues will be reviewed with a focus on biocompatibility issues and required functionality for the intended applications.

MSE459HI Synthesis of Nanostructured Materials [39L, 26P]

Various synthesis techniques to produce nanostructured materials will be introduced. These include methods involving the vapor phase (physical and chemical vapor deposition, organometallic chemical vapor deposition), the liquid phase (rapid solidification, spark erosion), the solid phase, (mechanical attrition, equal channel deformation) as well techniques producing these structures from solution (electrodeposition, electroless processing, precipitation). Secondary processing techniques to produce final products or devices will also be discussed.

MSE461HI Engineered Ceramics [39L, 26P]

A new class of engineering materials has been developed within the last twenty years - advanced structural ceramics. Due to the unique combinations of physical and thermomechanical properties exhibited by these materials, they are being increasingly employed for applications ranging from heat engine components to high speed machining tools to surgical implants. This course will cover the processes used in the fabrication of advanced ceramics and their low and high temperature mechanical performance. Emphasis will be placed on the relationships between processing microstructure, and the mechanical properties. The materials covered will include Al<sub>2</sub>O<sub>3</sub>, Si<sub>3</sub>N<sub>4</sub>, SiC, transformation toughened ZrO<sub>2</sub>, and whisker and fiber reinforced ceramic matrix composites.

MSE498YI Design and Research Project [156P]

An experimental research topic in materials science and engineering involving original work normally related closely to the current research of a departmental staff member. The final grade is based on two oral presentations, a progress report on the Fall Term work, a poster presentation and a written dissertation.

Exclusion: CHM499Y1/MSE490HI

Prerequisite: permission of the Department

MSE550H1 Advanced Physical Properties of Structural Nanomaterials [39L, 26P, 13T]

This course deals with the physical properties of bulk nanostructured materials. Included are mechanical properties (elastic behavior, tensile and compressive strength, creep, wear and fatigue properties) electrical properties (electrical transport phenomena, electrical resistivity) magnetic properties (paramagnetic, diamagnetic, soft and hard ferromagnetic, superparamagnetic and antiferromagnetic properties), thermodynamic properties (interfacial enthalpy, thermal stability, phase transformations, heat capacity). The considerable differences observed for nanocrystalline solids compared to conventional polycrystalline and amorphous solids will be discussed in terms of the microstructural differences for these materials (pre-requisite: MSE459H1F).

Mathematics

mathematics often have distinct advantages in other fields such as physics, computer science, economics, and finance.

The past century has been remarkable for discovery in mathematics. From space and number to stability and chaos, mathematical ideas evolve in the domain of pure thought. But the relationship between abstract thought and the real world is itself a source of mathematical inspiration. Problems in computer science, economics and physics have opened new fields of mathematical inquiry. And discoveries at the most abstract level lead to breakthroughs in applied areas, sometimes long afterwards.

The University of Toronto has the top mathematics department in Canada, and hosts the nearby Fields Institute (an international centre for research in mathematics). The Department offers students excellent opportunities to study the subject and glimpse current research frontiers. The Department offers three mathematical Specialist programs - Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, Mathematics and its Applications - as well as Major and Minor programs and several joint Specialist programs with other disciplines (for example, with Computer Science, Economics, Philosophy, Physics and Statistics).

The Specialist program in Mathematics is for students who want a deep knowledge of the subject. This program has been the main training-ground for Canadian mathematicians. A large proportion of our Mathematics Specialist graduates gain admission to the world's best graduate schools.

The Specialist program in Applied Mathematics is for students interested in the fundamental ideas in areas of mathematics that are directed towards applications. The mathematics course requirements in the first two years are the same as in the Mathematics Specialist program; a strong student can take the courses needed to get a degree in both Specialist programs.

These programs are challenging, but small classes with excellent professors and highly-motivated students provide a stimulating and friendly learning environment.

The Specialist program in Mathematics and its Applications is recommended to students with strong interests in mathematics and with career goals in areas such as teaching, computer science, the physical sciences and finance. The program is flexible; there is a core of courses in mathematics and related disciplines, but you can choose among several areas of concentration. The mathematics courses required for the program are essentially the same as those required for a Major in Mathematics. (They are less intense than the courses required for the Specialist programs above.) If you are interested in mathematics and are contemplating a double Major in Mathematics and in another discipline (let us take Computer Science, as an example), you should consider the advantages of fulfilling the requirements for a Specialist degree in Mathematics and its Applications with a computer science concentration. In this way, you can also get a Major in Computer Science; the difference in course requirements with a double major is that, among the courses you can choose for a Computer Science Major, you will be required to take some of a more mathematical nature. You might even consider choosing your options to fulfil the requirements for a double Specialist degree, in both Mathematics and its Applications and in the other discipline.

The Professional Experience Year program ("PEY": see index) is available to eligible, full-time Specialist students after their second year of study. The PEY program is an optional 16 month work term providing industrial experience; its length often allows students to have the rewarding experience of initiating and completing a major project.

The Department operates a non-credit summer course, PUMP, limited to students admitted to the University. It is designed for students who require additional pre-university mathematics background. Details can be found at www.math.utoronto.ca/pump

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 157Y1, 240H1, 247H1, CSC148H1/150H1

Second Year:

MAT257Y1, 267H1; CSC260H1; STA 257H1

Third and Fourth Years:

1. APM 351Y1; MAT 327H1, 354H1, 347Y1, 357H1, 363H1; STA347H1
2. At least 2 full courses chosen from: MAT344H1, 454H1, 457Y1, 464H1, 477H1; STA302H1, 352Y1, 438H1, 457H1; CSC350H1, 351H1, 446H1, 456H1
3. Three courses from: APM421H1, 426H1, 461H1, 462H1, 466H1

NOTE: The Department recommends that PHY 140Y1 be taken in First Year. If you do not have a year course in programming from high school, the Department strongly recommends that you take CSC107H1/108H1 before attempting CSC148H1/150H1.

Mathematics (Science program)

Consult Professor R. Jerrard, Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics

Specialist program:

(11.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 157Y1, 240HI, 247HI

Second Year:

MAT 257Y1, 267HI

Third and Fourth Years:

1. MAT 327HI, 347Y1, 354HI, 357HI, 477HI
2. One of: APM 351Y1, MAT 457Y1
3. Three of: APM 461HI, MAT 309HI, 363HI 415HI/417HI, 454HI
4. At least 2.5 APM/MAT including at least 1.5 at the 400-level (these may include options above not already chosen)

NOTE: The Department recommends that PHY 140Y1 be taken in First Year; that CSC 148HI/150HI/260HI and STA 257HI be taken during the program. If you do not have a year course in programming from high school, the Department strongly recommends that you take CSC107HI/108HI before attempting CSC148HI/150HI.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1, 223HI

Second Year:

MAT 224HI/247HI, 235Y1/237Y1, 246HI/(CSC 236HI/240HI, PHL 245HI), MAT 244HI

NOTE:

MAT 224HI may be taken in first year

Higher Years:

1. MAT 301HI, 334HI, PHL245HI
2. One half course or equivalent at the 200+level from: ACT, APM, MAT, STA
3. MAT401HI/402HI; one half course at 300+level from: at least APM, MAT, HPS390HI, 391HI, PSL431HI, 432HI, 433HI; PHL346HI, 349HI

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1, 235Y1/237Y1, 223HI, 224HI/244HI/APM236HI
2. One 300+-level full course or combination from: APM, MAT, including HPS 390HI, 391HI, PSL 431HI, 432HI, 433HI

Note: in all programs, higher levels courses within the same topic are acceptable substitutions.

Mathematics and Its Applications (Science program)

Specialist program:

(10.5 - 11.5 full courses or their equivalent, including one full course at 400-level)

The program requirements are the core courses below, together with the courses in one of the following areas of concentration. If you get a specialist degree in Mathematics and its Applications, your transcript and degree will indicate also your area of concentration. Please be careful to check course prerequisites in choosing your program.

Core Courses:

First Year:

CSC 107HI/108HI, MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 137Y1 strongly recommended), 223HI/240HI

Second Year:

MAT 224HI/247HI, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT 237Y1 strongly recommended), MAT 246HI (waived for students taking MAT 257Y1), MAT244HI/267HI, STA257HI

Higher Years:

MAT 301HI, 334HI

Areas of Concentration

Teaching Concentration:

It may be to students' advantage to keep in mind that OISE requires students to have a second teachable subject.

1. MAT329Y1, HPS/MAT390HI, HPS/MAT391HI, MAT401HI/402HI
2. Two of :MAT 309HI, 315HI, 335HI, 337HI, 344HI, 363HI
3. Two half courses at 300+ level from APM, STA

This program addresses an increasing need for highly qualified mathematics teachers. Students planning to apply for admission to a B.Ed. program are encouraged also to get practical teaching experience at a level of their interests. Students successfully completing the Teaching Concentration and having practical experience will be highly competitive for admission to initial teaching programs at OISE/UT.

Computer Science Concentration:

1. CSC207HI, 165HI, 258HI, 209HI; MAT344HI
2. Three of :APM 461HI; CSC 350HI, 351HI, 354HI, 363HI, 378HI, 438HI, 446HI, 456HI, 465HI, 487HI
3. Two CSC half courses at 300+level.

NOTE: In order to take the Computer Science concentration, you will be required to register also for a Computer Science Major. (The latter is a restricted enrolment program and has certain admission requirements; please see the Computer Science program description.)

Physical Sciences Concentration:

1. PHY 140Y1 (in first year); APM 346HI/351Y1; AST 221HI, 222HI
2. Two of PHY 251HI, 252HI, 255HI, 256HI
3. Two of APM 421HI, 436HI, 441HI, 446HI; AST 320HI, 325HI; MAT 337HI; PHY 307HI, 309HI, 315HI, 351HI, 352HI, 353HI, 355HI, 357HI, 358HI

Probability/Statistics Concentration:

1. CSC 260HI/207HI, 350HI; APM 346HI/351Y1/462HI; MAT 337HI; STA 302HI, 347HI, 352Y1
2. Two of: STA 422HI, 437HI, 438HI, 442HI, 447HI, 457HI

Design-Your-Own Concentration:

Nine half-courses of which at least six must be at the 300+level, to be approved by the Department no later than the beginning of your third year.

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all APM courses are classified as Science courses (see page 26).

APM236HI Applications of Linear [39L] Programming

Introduction to linear programming including a rapid review of linear algebra (row reduction, linear independence), the simplex method, the duality theorem, complementary slackness, and the dual simplex method. A selection of the following topics are covered: the revised simplex method, sensitivity analysis, integer programming, the transportation algorithm.

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI (Note: no waivers of prerequisites will be granted)

APM346HI Partial Differential Equations [39L]

Sturm-Liouville problems, Green's functions, special functions (Bessel, Legendre), partial differential equations of second order, separation of variables, integral equations, Fourier transform, stationary phase method.

Prerequisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI, 244HI

APM351YI Partial Differential Equations [78L]

Diffusion and wave equations. Separation of variables. Fourier series. Laplace's equation; Green's function. Schrödinger equations. Boundary problems in plane and space. General eigenvalue problems; minimum principle for eigenvalues. Distributions and Fourier transforms. Laplace transforms. Differential equations of physics (electromagnetism, fluids, acoustic waves, scattering). Introduction to nonlinear equations (shock waves, solitary waves).

Prerequisite: MAT267HI

Co-requisite: MAT334HI/354HI

---

400-SERIES COURSES

Note:

Some courses at the 400-level are cross-listed as graduate courses and may not be offered every year. Please see the Department's undergraduate brochure for more details.

APM421HI Mathematical Foundations [39L] of Quantum

The general formulation of non-relativistic quantum mechanics based on the theory of linear operators in a Hilbert space, self-adjoint operators, spectral measures and the statistical interpretation of quantum mechanics; functions of compatible observables. Schrödinger and Heisenberg pictures, complete sets of observables, representations of the canonical commutative relations; essential self-adjointness of Schrödinger operators, density operators, elements of scattering theory.

Prerequisite: (MAT224HI, 337HI)/357HI

APM426HI General Relativity [39L]

Einstein's theory of gravity. Special relativity and the geometry of Lorentz manifolds. Gravity as a manifestation of spacetime curvature. Einstein's equations. Cosmological implications: big bang and inflationary universe. Schwarzschild stars: bending of light and perihelion precession of Mercury. Topics from black hole dynamics and gravity waves.

Prerequisite: MAT363HI

APM436HI Fluid Mechanics [39L]

Boltzmann, Euler and Navier-Stokes equations. Viscous and non-viscous flow. Vorticity. Exact solutions. Boundary layers. Wave propagation. Analysis of one dimensional gas flow.

Prerequisite: APM351Y1

APM441HI Asymptotic and [39L] Perturbation Methods

Asymptotic series. Asymptotic methods for integrals: stationary phase and steepest descent. Regular perturbations for algebraic and differential equations. Singular perturbation methods for ordinary differential equations: W.K.B., strained co-ordinates, matched asymptotics, multiple scales. (Emphasizes techniques; problems drawn from physics and engineering)

Prerequisite: APM346HI/351Y1, MAT334HI

APM446HI Applied Nonlinear Equations [39L]

Nonlinear partial differential equations and their physical origin. Fourier transform; Green's function; variational methods; symmetries and conservation laws. Special solutions (steady states, solitary waves, travelling waves, self-similar solutions). Calculus of maps; bifurcations; stability, dynamics near equilibrium. Propagation of nonlinear waves; dispersion, modulation, optical bistability. Global behaviour solutions; asymptotics and blow-up.

Prerequisite: APM346HI/351Y1

APM461HI Combinatorial Methods [39L]

A selection of topics from such areas as graph theory, combinatorial algorithms, enumeration, construction of combinatorial identities.

Prerequisite: MAT224HI

Recommended preparation: MAT344HI

APM462HI Nonlinear Optimization [39L] (formerly APM362HI)

An introduction to first and second order conditions for finite and infinite dimensional optimization problems with mention of available software. Topics include Lagrange multipliers, Kuhn-Tucker conditions, convexity and calculus variations. Basic numerical search methods and software packages which implement them will be discussed.

Prerequisite: MAT223HI, 235Y1

APM466HI Mathematical Theory of Finance [39L]

Introduction to the basic mathematical techniques in pricing theory and risk management: Stochastic calculus, single-period finance, financial derivatives (tree-approximation and Black-Scholes model for equity derivatives, American derivatives, numerical methods, lattice models for interest-rate derivatives), value at risk, credit risk, portfolio theory.

Prerequisite: APM346HI, STA347HI

Co-requisite: STA457HI

APM496HI/ Readings in Applied Mathematics TBA 497HI/498Y1/499Y1

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.

Prerequisite: minimum GPA 3.5 for math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

Mathematics Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all MAT courses except MAT 123HI, 124HI and 133Y1 are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

High school prerequisites for students coming from outside the Ontario high school system:

MAT133Y1: high school level calculus and (algebra-geometry or finite math or discrete math)

MAT135Y1: high school level calculus

MAT137Y1: high school level calculus and algebra-geometry

MAT157Y1: high school level calculus and algebra-geometry

MAT223HI: high school level calculus and algebra-geometry

SCII99HI First Year Seminar 26S

SCII99YI First Year Seminar 52S

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

NOTE: Transfer students who have received MAT1**HI – Calculus with course exclusion to MAT133Y1/135Y1/136Y1 may take MAT137Y1/157Y1 without forfeiting the half credit in Calculus.

MAT123HI, 124HI

See below MAT 133Y1

MAT125HI, 126HI

See below MAT 135Y1

MAT133YI Calculus and Linear Algebra for Commerce [78L, 24T]

Mathematics of finance. Matrices and linear equations. Review of differential calculus; applications. Integration and fundamental theorem; applications. Introduction to partial differentiation; applications.

NOTE: please note prerequisites listed below. Students without the proper prerequisites for MAT133Y1 may be deregistered from this course.

Exclusion: MAT123HI, 124HI, 125HI, 126HI, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U/MDM4U

MAT133Y1 counts as a Social Science course

MAT123HI Calculus and Linear Algebra for Commerce (A) [39L]

First term of MAT133Y1. Students in academic difficulty in MAT133Y1 who have written two midterm examinations with a mark of at least 20% in the second may withdraw from MAT133Y1 and enrol in MAT123HI in the Spring Term. These students are informed of this option by the beginning of the Spring Term. Classes begin in the second week of the Spring Term; late enrolment is not permitted. Students not enrolled in MAT133Y1 in the Fall Term are not allowed to enrol in MAT123HI. MAT123HI together with MAT124HI is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT133Y1.

Exclusion: MAT125HI, 126HI, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Mathematics

---

NOTE: students who enrol in MAT133Y1 after completing MAT123HI but not MAT124HI do not receive degree credit for MAT133Y1; it is counted ONLY as an "Extra Course."

Prerequisite: Enrolment in MAT133Y1, and withdrawal from MAT133Y1 after two midterms, with a mark of at least 20% in the second midterm.

MAT123HI is a Social Science course

MAT124HI Calculus and Linear Algebra for Commerce (B) [39L, 13T]

Second Term content of MAT133Y1; the final examination includes topics covered in MAT123HI. Offered in the Summer Session only; students not enrolled in MAT123HI in the preceding Spring Term will NOT be allowed to enrol in MAT124HI. MAT123HI together with MAT124HI is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT133Y1.

Exclusion: MAT125HI, 126HI, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: MAT123HI successfully completed in the preceding Spring Term

MAT124HI is a Social Science course

MAT135Y1 Calculus I [78L, 24T]

Review of trigonometric functions; trigonometric identities and trigonometric limits. Review of differential calculus; applications. Integration and fundamental theorem; applications. Series. Introduction to differential equations.

Exclusion: MAT123HI, 124HI, 125HI, 126HI, 133Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: MCB4U

MAT125HI Calculus I (A) [39L]

First term of MAT135Y1. Students in academic difficulty in MAT135Y1 who have written two midterm examinations with a mark of at least 20% in the second may withdraw from MAT135Y1 and enrol in MAT125HI in the Spring Term. These students are informed of this option by the beginning of the Spring Term. Classes begin in the second week of the Spring Term; late enrolment is not permitted. Students not enrolled in MAT135Y1 in the Fall Term will not be allowed to enrol in MAT125HI. MAT125HI together with MAT126HI is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT135Y1.

Exclusion: MAT123HI, 124HI, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

NOTE: students who enrol in MAT135Y1 after completing MAT125HI but not MAT126HI do not receive degree credit for MAT135Y1; it is counted ONLY as an "Extra Course."

Prerequisite: Enrolment in MAT135Y1, and withdrawal from MAT135Y1 after two midterms, with a mark of at least 20% in the second midterm.

MAT126HI Calculus I (B) [39L, 13T]

Second Term content of MAT135Y1; the final examination includes topics covered in MAT125HI. Offered in the Summer Session only; students not enrolled in MAT125HI in the preceding Spring Term will NOT be allowed to enrol in MAT126HI. MAT125HI together with MAT126HI is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT135Y1.

Exclusion: MAT123HI, 124HI, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1

MAT136Y1 Calculus and its Foundations [104L, 52T]

Limited to out-of-province students interested in the biological, physical, or computer sciences, whose high school mathematics preparation is strong but does not include calculus. Develops the concepts of calculus at the level of MAT135Y1. May include background material on functions, analytic geometry, and trigonometry, as well as on calculus.

Exclusion: MAT123HI, 124HI, 125HI, 126HI, 133Y1, 135Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: Solid background in high school mathematics, up to and including Grade 11

MAT137Y1 Calculus! [78L, 26T]

A conceptual approach for students with a serious interest in mathematics. Geometric and physical intuition are emphasized but some attention is also given to the theoretical foundations of calculus. Material covers first a review of trigonometric functions followed by discussion of trigonometric identities. The basic concepts of calculus: limits and continuity, the mean value and inverse function theorems, the integral, the fundamental theorem, elementary transcendental functions, Taylor's theorem, sequence and series, uniform convergence and power series.

Exclusions: MAT126HI, 135Y1, 136Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

MAT157Y1 Analysis I [78L, 52T]

A theoretical course in calculus; emphasizing proofs and techniques, as well as geometric and physical understanding. Trigonometric identities. Limits and continuity; least upper bounds, intermediate and extreme value theorems. Derivatives, mean value and inverse function theorems. Integrals; fundamental theorem; elementary transcendental functions. Taylor's theorem; sequences and series; uniform convergence and power series.

Exclusion: MAT137Y1

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

JMB170Y1 Biology, Models, and Mathematics [52L, 26T]

Applications of mathematics to biological problems in physiology, biomechanics, genetics, evolution, growth, population dynamics, cell biology, ecology and behaviour.

Co-requisite: BIO150Y1

JUM202HI Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit (formerly JUM102HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM102HI

JUM202HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM203HI Mathematics as a Recreation (formerly JUM103HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM103HI

JUM203HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM205HI Mathematical Personalities (formerly JUM105HI) [26L, 13T]

An in-depth study of the life, times and work of several mathematicians who have been particularly influential. Examples may include Newton, Euler, Gauss, Kowalewski, Hilbert, Hardy, Ramanujan, Gödel, Erdős, Coxeter, Grothendieck. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM105HI

JUM205HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

MAT223HI Linear Algebra I [39L, 13T]

Matrix arithmetic and linear systems.  $\mathbb{R}^n$  subspaces, linear independence, bases, dimension; column spaces, null spaces, rank and dimension formula. Orthogonality orthonormal sets, Gram-Schmidt orthogonalization process; least square approximation. Linear transformations  $\mathbb{R}^n \rightarrow \mathbb{R}^m$ . The determinant, classical adjoint, Cramer's Rule. Eigenvalues, eigenvectors, eigenspaces, diagonalization. Function spaces and application to a system of linear differential equations.

Exclusion: MAT240HI

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

MAT224HI Linear Algebra II [39L, 13T]

Abstract vector spaces: subspaces, dimension theory. Linear mappings: kernel, image, dimension theorem, isomorphisms, matrix of linear transformation. Changes of basis, invariant spaces, direct sums, cyclic subspaces, Cayley-Hamilton theorem. Inner product spaces, orthogonal transformations, orthogonal diagonalization, quadratic forms, positive definite matrices. Complex operators: Hermitian, unitary and normal. Spectral theorem. Isometries of  $\mathbb{R}^2$  and  $\mathbb{R}^3$ .

Exclusion: MAT247HI

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI

MAT235YI Calculus II [78L]

Differential and integral calculus of functions of several variables. Line and surface integrals, the divergence theorem, Stokes' theorem. Sequences and series, including an introduction to Fourier series. Some partial differential equations of Physics.

Exclusion: MAT237YI, 257YI

Prerequisite: MAT135YI/136YI/137YI/157YI

MAT237YI Multivariable Calculus [78L]

Sequences and series. Uniform convergence. Convergence of integrals. Elements of topology in  $\mathbb{R}^2$  and  $\mathbb{R}^3$ . Differential and integral calculus of vector valued functions of a vector variable, with emphasis on vectors in two and three dimensional euclidean space. Extremal problems, Lagrange multipliers, line and surface integrals, vector analysis, Stokes' theorem, Fourier series, calculus of variations.

Exclusion: MAT235YI, 257YI

Prerequisite: MAT137YI/157YI/135YI (90%), 223HI/240HI

MAT240HI Algebra I [39L, 26T]

A theoretical approach to: vector spaces over arbitrary fields including  $\mathbb{C}, \mathbb{Z}_p$ . Subspaces, bases and dimension. Linear transformations, matrices, change of basis, similarity, determinants. Polynomials over a field (including unique factorization, resultants). Eigenvalues, eigenvectors, characteristic polynomial, diagonalization. Minimal polynomial, Cayley-Hamilton theorem.

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

Co-requisite: MAT157YI

MAT244HI Introduction to Ordinary Differential Equations [39L]

Ordinary differential equations of the first and second order; existence and uniqueness; solutions by series and integrals; linear systems of first order; non-linear equations; difference equations. Applications in life and physical sciences and economics.

Exclusion: MAT267HI

Prerequisite: MAT135YI/136YI/137YI/157YI, 223HI/240HI

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI

MAT246HI Concepts in Abstract Mathematics (formerly MAT246YI) [39L]

Designed to introduce students to mathematical proofs and abstract mathematical concepts. Topics may include modular arithmetic, sizes of infinite sets, and a proof that some angles cannot be trisected with straightedge and compass.

Exclusion: MAT157YI, 246YI

Prerequisite: MAT133YI/135YI/136YI/137YI, 223H

MAT247HI Algebra II [39L, 13T]

A theoretical approach to real and complex inner product spaces, isometries, orthogonal and unitary matrices and transformations. The adjoint. Hermitian and symmetric transformations. Spectral theorem for symmetric and normal transformations. Polar representation theorem. Primary decomposition theorem. Rational and Jordan canonical forms. Additional topics including dual spaces, quotient spaces, bilinear forms, quadratic surfaces, multilinear algebra. Examples of symmetry groups and linear groups, stochastic matrices, matrix functions.

Prerequisite: MAT240HI

Co-requisite: MAT157YI

MAT257YI Analysis II [78L, 52T]

Topology of  $\mathbb{R}^n$ ; compactness, functions and continuity, extreme value theorem. Derivatives; inverse and implicit function theorems, maxima and minima, Lagrange multipliers. Integrals; Fubini's theorem, partitions of unity, change of variables. Differential forms. Manifolds in  $\mathbb{R}^n$ ; integration on manifolds; Stokes' theorem for differential forms and classical versions.

Prerequisite: MAT157YI, 240HI, 247HI

MAT267HI Advanced Ordinary Differential Equations I [39L, 13T]

First-order equations. Linear equations and first-order systems. Non-linear first-order systems. Existence and uniqueness theorems for the Cauchy problem. Method of power series. Elementary qualitative theory; stability, phase plane, stationary points. Examples of applications in mechanics, physics, chemistry, biology and economics.

Exclusion: MAT244HI

Prerequisite: MAT157YI, 247HI

Co-requisite: MAT257YI

MAT299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

300-Series Courses

MAT301HI Groups and Symmetries [39L]

Congruences and fields. Permutations and permutation groups. Linear groups. Abstract groups, homomorphisms, subgroups. Symmetry groups of regular polygons and Platonic solids, wallpaper groups. Group actions, class formula. Cosets, Lagrange's theorem. Normal subgroups, quotient groups. Classification of finitely generated abelian groups. Emphasis on examples and calculations.

Exclusion: MAT347YI

Prerequisite: MAT224HI, 235YI/237YI

MAT309HI Introduction to Mathematical Logic [39L]

Predicate calculus. Relationship between truth and provability; Gödel's completeness theorem. First order arithmetic as an example of a first-order system. Gödel's incompleteness theorem; outline of its proof. Introduction to recursive functions.

Exclusion: CSC438HI

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI, 235YI/237YI/257YI

MAT315HI Introduction to Number Theory [39L]

Elementary topics in number theory: arithmetic functions; polynomials over the residue classes modulo  $m$ , characters on the residue classes modulo  $m$ ; quadratic reciprocity law, representation of numbers as sums of squares.

Prerequisite: MAT(235YI/237YI, 223HI/240HI)/257YI

MAT327HI Introduction to Topology [39L]

Metric spaces, topological spaces and continuous mappings; separation, compactness, connectedness. Topology of function spaces. Fundamental group and covering spaces. Cell complexes, topological and smooth manifolds, Brouwer fixed-point theorem.

Prerequisite: MAT257YI/(224HI, 237YI, 246HI and permission of the instructor)

MAT329YI Concepts in Elementary Mathematics [78L]

The formation of mathematical concepts and techniques, and their application to the everyday world. Nature of mathematics and mathematical understanding. Role of observation, conjecture, analysis, structure, critical thinking and logical argument. Numeration, arithmetic, geometry, counting techniques, recursion, algorithms. This course is specifically addressed to students intending to become elementary school teachers and is strongly recommended by the Faculty of Education. Previous experience working with children is useful. The course content is considered in the context of elementary school teaching. In particular, the course may include a practicum in school classrooms. The course has an enrolment limit of 40, and students are required to ballot.

Prerequisite: Any 7 full courses with a CGPA of at least 2.5

MAT334HI Complex Variables [39L]

Theory of functions of one complex variable, analytic and meromorphic functions. Cauchy's theorem, residue calculus, conformal mappings, introduction to analytic continuation and harmonic functions.

Exclusion: MAT354HI

Prerequisite: MAT223HI, 235YI/237YI

MAT335HI Chaos, Fractals and Dynamics [39L]

An elementary introduction to a modern and fast-developing area of mathematics. One-dimensional dynamics: iterations of quadratic polynomials. Dynamics of linear mappings, attractors.

Bifurcation, Henon map, Mandelbrot and Julia sets. History and applications.

Prerequisite: MAT137YI/200-level calculus, 223HI

MAT337HI Introduction to Real Analysis [39L]

Metric spaces; compactness and connectedness. Sequences and series of functions, power series; modes of convergence. Interchange of limiting processes; differentiation of integrals. Function spaces; Weierstrass approximation; Fourier series. Contraction mappings; existence and uniqueness of solutions of ordinary differential equations. Countability; Cantor set; Hausdorff dimension.

Exclusion: MAT357HI

Prerequisite: MAT224HI, 235YI/237YI, 246HI

MAT344HI Introduction to Combinatorics [39L]

Basic counting principles, generating functions, permutations with restrictions. Fundamentals of graph theory with algorithms; applications (including network flows). Combinatorial structures including block designs and finite geometries.

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI

MAT347YI Groups, Rings and Fields [78L, 26T]

Groups, subgroups, quotient groups, Sylow theorems, Jordan-Hölder theorem, finitely generated abelian groups, solvable groups. Rings, ideals, Chinese remainder theorem; Euclidean domains and principal ideal domains: unique factorization. Noetherian rings, Hilbert basis theorem. Finitely generated modules. Field extensions, algebraic closure, straight-edge and compass constructions. Galois theory, including insolubility of the quintic.

Prerequisite: MAT257YI

MAT354HI Complex Analysis I [39L]

Complex numbers, the complex plane and Riemann sphere, Möbius transformations, elementary functions and their mapping properties, conformal mapping, holomorphic functions, Cauchy's theorem and integral formula. Taylor and Laurent series, maximum modulus principle, Schwarz's lemma, residue theorem and residue calculus.

Prerequisite: MAT257YI

MAT357HI Real Analysis I [39L]

Function spaces; Arzela-Ascoli theorem, Weierstrass approximation theorem, Fourier series. Introduction to Banach and Hilbert spaces; contraction mapping principle, fundamental existence and uniqueness theorem for ordinary differential equations. Lebesgue integral; convergence theorems, comparison with Riemann integral,  $L_p$  spaces. Applications to probability.

Prerequisite: MAT257YI/(327HI and permission of instructor)

MAT363HI Introduction to Differential [39L] Geometry

Geometry of curves and surfaces in 3-spaces. Curvature and geodesics. Minimal surfaces. Gauss-Bonnet theorem for surfaces. Surfaces of constant curvature.

Prerequisite: MAT224HI, 237YI/257YI

MAT390HI History of Mathematics up to 1700 [39L]

A survey of ancient, medieval, and early modern mathematics with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: HPS309HI, 310YI, 390HI

Prerequisite: at least one full MAT 200-level course

MAT391HI History of Mathematics after 1700 [26L, 13T]

A survey of the development of mathematics from 1700 to the present with emphasis on technical development. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: HPS309HI, 310HI, 391HI

Prerequisite: At least one full 200-level MAT course

MAT393YI Independent Work in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT394YI Independent Work in Mathematics [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member.

Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.

Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.5 in math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

MAT395HI Independent Work in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT396HI Independent Work in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT397HI Independent Work in Mathematics [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member.

Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.

Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.5 in math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

MAT398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

MAT399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

400-Series Courses

Note

Some courses at the 400-level are cross-listed as graduate courses and may not be offered every year. Please see the Department's undergraduate brochure for more details.

MAT401HI Polynomial Equations and Fields (formerly MAT302HI) [39L]

Commutative rings; quotient rings. Construction of the rationals. Polynomial algebra. Fields and Galois theory: Field extensions, adjunction of roots of a polynomial. Constructibility, trisection of angles, construction of regular polygons. Galois groups of polynomials, in particular cubics, quartics. Insolvability of quintics by radicals.

Exclusion: MAT347YI

Prerequisite: MAT224HI, 235YI/237YI, 246HI/257YI

MAT402HI Classical Geometries (formerly MAT365HI) [39L]

Euclidean and non-euclidean plane and space geometries. Real and complex projective space. Models of the hyperbolic plane. Connections with the geometry of surfaces.

Prerequisite: MAT301HI

MAT409HI Set Theory [39L]

Set theory and its relations with other branches of mathematics. ZFC axioms. Ordinal and cardinal numbers. Reflection principle. Constructible sets and the continuum hypothesis. Introduction to independence proofs. Topics from large cardinals, infinitary combinatorics and descriptive set theory.

Prerequisite: MAT357HI

MAT415HI Topics in Algebraic Number Theory [39L]

A selection from the following: finite fields; global and local fields; valuation theory; ideals and divisors; differentials and discriminants; ramification and inertia; class numbers and units; cyclotomic fields; diophantine equations.

Prerequisite: MAT347YI or permission of instructor

MAT417HI Topics in Analytic Number Theory [39L]

A selection from the following: distribution of primes, especially in arithmetic progressions and short intervals; exponential sums; Hardy-Littlewood and dispersion methods; character sums and L-functions; the Riemann zeta-function; sieve methods, large and small; diophantine approximation, modular forms.

Prerequisite: MAT334HI/354HI/permission of instructor

MAT425HI Differential Topology [39L]

Smooth manifolds, Sard's theorem and transversality. Morse theory. Immersion and embedding theorems. Intersection theory. Borsuk-Ulam theorem. Vector fields and Euler characteristic. Hopf degree theorem. Additional topics may vary.

Prerequisite: MAT257YI, 327HI

MAT427HI Algebraic Topology [39L]

Introduction to homology theory: singular and simplicial homology; homotopy invariance, long exact sequence, excision, Mayer-Vietoris sequence; applications. Homology of CW complexes; Euler characteristic; examples. Singular cohomology; products; cohomology ring. Topological manifolds; orientation; Poincare duality.

Prerequisite: MAT327HI, 347YI

MAT443HI Computer Algebra [39L]

Introduction to algebraic algorithms used in computer science and computational mathematics. Topics may include: generating sequences of random numbers, fast arithmetic, Euclidean algorithm, factorization of integers and polynomials, primality tests, computation of Galois groups, Gröbner bases. Symbolic manipulators such as Maple and Mathematica are used.

Prerequisite: MAT347YI

MAT445HI Representation Theory [39L]

A selection of topics from: Representation theory of finite groups, topological groups and compact groups. Group algebras. Character theory and orthogonality relations. Weyl's character formula for compact semisimple Lie groups. Induced representations. Structure theory and representations of semisimple Lie algebras. Determination of the complex Lie algebras.

Prerequisite: MAT347YI

MAT448HI Introduction to Commutative Algebra and Algebraic Geometry [39L]

Basic notions of algebraic geometry, with emphasis on commutative algebra or geometry according to the interests of the instructor. Algebraic topics: localization, integral dependence and Hilbert's Nullstellensatz, valuation theory, power series rings and completion, dimension theory. Geometric topics: affine and projective varieties, dimension and intersection theory, curves and surfaces, varieties over the complex numbers.

Prerequisite: MAT347YI

MAT449HI Algebraic Curves [39L]

Projective geometry. Curves and Riemann surfaces. Algebraic methods. Intersection of curves; linear systems; Bezout's theorem. Cubics and elliptic curves. Riemann-Roch theorem. Newton polygon and Puiseux expansion; resolution of singularities.

Prerequisite: MAT347YI, 354HI

Mathematics

MAT454HI Complex Analysis II [39L]

Harmonic functions, Harnack's principle, Poisson's integral formula and Dirichlet's problem. Infinite products and the gamma function. Normal families and the Riemann mapping theorem. Analytic continuation, monodromy theorem and elementary Riemann surfaces. Elliptic functions, the modular function and the little Picard theorem.

Prerequisite: MAT354HI

MAT457YI Real Analysis II [78L]

Measure theory and Lebesgue integration; convergence theorems. Riesz representation theorem, Fubini's theorem, complex measures. Banach spaces;  $L_p$  spaces, density of continuous functions. Hilbert spaces; weak and strong topologies; self-adjoint, compact and projection operators. Hahn-Banach theorem, open mapping and closed graph theorems. Inequalities. Schwartz space; introduction to distributions; Fourier transforms on  $\mathbb{R}^n$  (Schwartz space and  $L^2$ ). Spectral theorem for bounded normal operators.

MAT464HI Differential Geometry [39L]

Riemannian metrics and connections. Geodesics. Exponential map. Complete manifolds. Hopf-Rinow theorem. Riemannian curvature. Ricci and scalar curvature. Tensors. Spaces of constant curvature. Isometric immersions. Second fundamental form. Topics from: Cut and conjugate loci. Variation energy. Cartan-Hadamard theorem. Vector bundles.

Prerequisite: MAT363HI

MAT468HI Ordinary Differential Equations II [39L]

Sturm-Liouville problem and oscillation theorems for second-order linear equations. Qualitative theory; integral invariants, limit cycles. Dynamical systems; invariant measures; bifurcations, chaos. Elements of the calculus of variations. Hamiltonian systems. Analytic theory; singular points and series solution. Laplace transform.

Prerequisite: MAT267HI, 354HI, 357HI

MAT477YI Seminar in Mathematics (formerly MAT477HI) [TBA]

Seminar in an advanced topic. Content will generally vary from year to year. (Student presentations will be required)

Exclusion: MAT477HI

Prerequisite: MAT347YI, 354HI, 357HI; or permission of instructor.

MAT495HI Readings in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT496HI Readings in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT497HI Readings in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT498YI Readings in Mathematics [TBA]

MAT499YI Readings in Mathematics [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.

Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.5 in math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

Modern Languages and Literatures

The Modern Languages and Literatures program is a number of sub-programs given by Faculty Language Departments. Upon graduation a student is certified as having completed a combined Specialist Program in the two languages chosen. Enrolment in this program requires the completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required. The normal combinations are listed below; for combinations NOT listed students should consult the departments concerned.

See also the Language Citation Program, page 20.

In the Faculty of Arts and Science, Music is approached as one of the liberal arts and taught as cultural history. This humanistic emphasis aims at a high degree of correlation with other disciplines such as Fine Art, Cultural Anthropology, Languages and Literatures, History, and Philosophy.

The courses with the prefix MUS are open to any student of the University. Even students with a strong music background should find them stimulating explorations of the world of music.

Students wishing to enter the Specialist /Major Program should examine the courses listed under HMU History of Music and TMU Theory of Music. First-year specialist/major courses are available to a small number of students, who are admitted to them by audition and interview during Registration week. Those interested in ethnomusicology and the study of world music may audition on the basis of their comparable accomplishments in a non-Western instrumental or vocal performing tradition. All students are required to have completed Grade 2 Rudiments and Grade 3 Harmony from the RCM or acceptable equivalents as prerequisites, prior to the audition-interview. Knowledge of Western music history and theory ensures that students are not disadvantaged when facing the curricular requirements of the program. In this program the humanistic and historical approach is supported by courses in music theory which provide craft and analytical tools. The Specialist Program provides excellent preparation for a variety of professional activities including music criticism, library science, positions in the publishing, broadcasting, and recording industries, as well as for graduate studies in musicology and ethnomusicology leading to careers in university teaching. The program leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (honours). For programs leading to the degree of Bachelor of Music, the student should consult the Calendar of the Faculty of Music.

Students are encouraged to attend events sponsored by the Faculty of Music such as the Thursday Noon and Faculty Artists' Series, opera productions and numerous concerts. For information refer to www.music.utoronto.ca or telephone 416-978-3744.

Music Programs

---

Enrolment in HMU and TMU courses, and, therefore, in the Specialist and Major programs, is limited to students who pass the audition-interview, held on Tuesday, September 2, 2008. Students are required to complete and submit the Student Profile available on-line at www.music.utoronto.ca prior to August 23, 2008. Hardcopies are available from the Faculty of Music Registrar's Office. You will then be assigned an audition time. Prospective candidates must perform at the Royal Conservatory of Music Grade Eight level, and demonstrate that they have Grade Two Rudiments and Grade Three Harmony or equivalents. Students interested in pursuing the major or specialist with the Ensemble option are required to pass an additional audition-interview for ensemble placement. Please refer to MUS 120Y. An information sheet is available at the Faculty of Music. (This is not required for the Music Minor program, see below.)

MUS300HI Music, Media and Technology [26L]

This course explores some of the ways in which music has been shaped through history, and particularly during the last 100 years, by technology and the media. Special attention will be paid to the record industry, broadcasting, and cinema. Examples from popular and art music traditions of the world will be used to illustrate the symbolic relationship between music and media. No prior background in music or ability to read music is required. Exclusion: HMU111HI.

MUS321HI The Beatles [26L]

In The Ultimate Encyclopedia Of Rock, it was written of The Beatles that "From three-minute pop classics to the psychedelic extravaganza of 'Sgt. Pepper', their songs soundtracked the Sixties. They were the greatest group in history. They probably always will be". In addition to a survey of the group's history, their recordings, and their films, this course aims to answer two basic questions: (1) what made the songs of The Beatles so successful? (2) in what ways did the band's artistic output "soundtrack" the 1960s? No prior background in music or ability to read music is required. Exclusion: HMU111HI

The Department of Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations is concerned with the interdisciplinary study of the civilizations and cultures of the Near and Middle East from neolithic times until the present, including their languages and literatures Akkadian (Assyro-Babylonian), Arabic, Aramaic and its closely related dialect Syriac, ancient Egyptian, (biblical, rabbinic, mediaeval and modern) Hebrew, (Hellenistic) Greek, Persian and Turkish, archaeology, history, art and architecture. Near East is generally understood to refer to the region at the eastern end of the Mediterranean and beyond, from ancient times up to the advent of Islam in the seventh century C.E. Middle East refers to a much broader geographical area whose predominant Islamic culture in mediaeval and modern times has stretched to North Africa and Spain in the west and to Central Asia, India and South Asia in the east. The Department's programs are conceived in the broad tradition of the humanities and provide an opportunity to study non-western complex societies and civilizations, an understanding of which will reveal the ultimate roots, and help to appreciate the historical development, of western civilization.

As it happens, three world religions originated in this geographical region. The Department offers courses on the origins and earliest phases of Judaism and, as a contributor to the Jewish Studies Program, on mediaeval and modern Jewish history, culture and thought, even though such pursuits sometimes lead to Europe and other places beyond the Middle East. Although the Department deals with eastern (Syriac) Christianity, the study of Christianity as a religion falls within the purview of the Department for the Study of Religion. The study of Islam as a religion and the development of Islamic thought, and their role in the creation of Islamic civilization, are major concerns of the Department.

NMC 101Y1 introduces students to the ancient Near East. NMC 201Y1 presents an historical and thematic survey of the civilizations and cultures of the mediaeval and modern Middle East and provides background necessary for comprehending the complex issues facing that region today. Students particularly interested in the world and/or religion of Islam should start with NMC 185H1.

Students wishing to follow a Specialist program should choose their courses with the advice of the Undergraduate Coordinator. Those intending to proceed to a graduate degree in a particular area will obviously want to concentrate their course choices in that area and would do well to acquire a reading knowledge of German and French as early as possible. Some knowledge of anthropology and a course or two in linguistics would be useful. The Department, however, welcomes students of all academic backgrounds who wish to learn about the Middle East, including those who do not intend to specialize or major. Many courses offered in the Department do not require any knowledge of the languages of the region. Students should consult the Department's website www.utoronto.ca/nmc for more detailed information about courses and programs.

Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations Programs

---

Enrolment in NMC programs is open to anyone who has completed four courses; no minimum GPA required. Specialized streams of study within the general programs can be recommended in consultation with the Undergraduate Coordinator.

Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations (Arts program)

---

Specialist Program:

11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+ series courses, one of which must be a 400-series course. At least 9 must be NMC and/or NML courses. Others may be taken only from a list of pre-approved courses offered by other departments. See departmental web site for details.

First Year:

NMC 101Y1/185H1 (formerly NMC185Y1)/201Y1. It is recommended that language instruction begin in first year, if possible.

Higher Years:

1. Four courses in Language (original language; not literature in translation – NML designator only)
2. Three courses in History and/or Religion and Philosophy
3. Two courses in Archaeology and/or Art and Material Culture
4. One additional course

Major program:

6 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses. At least 5 must be NMC and/or NML courses. Others may be taken only from a list of pre-approved courses offered by other departments. See departmental web site for details.

N.B. Admission to a Graduate Program in NMC requires the applicant to have acquired a background in languages.

Minor program:

4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course. All 4 must be NMC and/or NML courses.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Arabic, Persian, Ancient Egyptian, Ancient/Biblical Hebrew, and Modern Hebrew. The study of Ancient languages is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience that makes available to the modern student the rich resources of classical texts in the original languages. The "living" languages offered by NMC provide invaluable insights into the varieties of human culture and expression and offer myriad directions in which to take the study of a foreign language.

Successful study of these languages demonstrates intelligence, discipline, analytical sophistication, and an excellent memory. In each language the Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study with a high level of academic success.

The Citation in Ancient/Biblical Hebrew is available to students who complete NML150Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in NML250Y1 and any 2 FCEs of the following additional Biblical Hebrew courses: NML251Y1, NML350Y1, NML351H1, NML352H1, NML353H1, NML354H1, NML359H1, NML450Y1.

The Citation in Ancient Egyptian is available to students who complete NML240Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in NML340Y1 and any 2 FCEs of the following additional Ancient Egyptian courses: NML241Y1, NML440Y1, NML441Y1.

The Citation in Arabic is available to students who complete NML210Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in NML310Y1 and any 2 FCEs of the following additional Arabic courses: NML410Y1, NML411H1, NML412Y1, NML413H1, NML414H1.

The Citation in Persian is available to students who complete NML260Y1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in NML360Y1 and any 2 FCEs of the following additional Persian courses: NML460Y1, NML461H1, NML462H1. With the appointment of a Persian language and literature Lecturer commencing in July 2007, the departmental offerings will increase, adding a variety of electives.

The Citation in Modern Hebrew is available to students who complete NML155H1 and NML156H1 (or the equivalent prerequisite training) and earn a grade of at least B- in NML255Y1 and any 2 FCEs of the following additional Hebrew courses: NML355Y1, NML356Y1, NML357H1, NML358H1, NML451H1, NML452H1, NML455H1, NML465H1.

Students should note that, as explained on page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all NMC courses except NMC 465H1 and 462Y1 are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

HUM199H1 First Year Seminar [26S]

HUM199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course but not a program requirement; see page 48.

Introductory Courses

NMC101Y1 The Ancient Near East [78L]

Introduction to the archaeology, history and literature of the ancient Near East. The contributions made by the Egyptians, Babylonians and Assyrians to the development of civilization. Exclusion: NMC370Y1/343H1/344H1/346H1/347H1 may not be taken in the same year,

Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations

NMC201Y1 Islamic Culture and Civilization [52L]

This course acquaints students with the main features and legacies of the civilization that was formed in the Middle East in the 8th-10th centuries C.E. under the impetus of Islam, and marked by several highpoints before the early modern period. Continuity with the earlier civilizations of the ancient Near East are highlighted, and the diverse cultural traditions that contributed to the formation of Islamic civilization are described.

NMC202H1 Introduction to Coptic Studies [26L]

Overview of the history of the Copts from political, religious, social and economic perspectives. Literary and documentary sources will illustrate these different aspects of Coptic Civilization. The focus on Coptic Monasticism will underline the role of monasteries as conservers of the Coptic Orthodox Church tradition.

Prerequisite: NMC260Y and an upper-level course in Near Eastern archaeology

NMC464HI Mediaeval Middle Eastern Ceramics [13L, 26P]

An intense view of the basic corpus of pottery from the Middle East, ca. 700-1800 C.E. The identification of technology, form, and style of the main ceramic groups, enabling identification, dating and attribution of original provenance. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: NMC260YI

NMC465HI Ceramic Analysis (formerly NMC364HI) [26S]

A survey of methods of classification and analysis (form, fabric and style) involved in the study of archaeological ceramics, and the use of ceramics to infer patterns of production, distribution, and social organization; linking research questions with appropriate analytical techniques.

Exclusion: NMC364HI

Prerequisite: ARH312YI/NMC361YI/369HI/369YI

NMC466HI Near Eastern Ceramics (formerly NMC367HI) [26S]

An introduction to the basic corpus of Near Eastern ceramics, from the invention of pottery production in the Neolithic until the Persian period, utilizing existing collections at the University and in the Royal Ontario Museum.

Prerequisite: NMC260YI, 465HI

NMC467HI Archaeology of Ancient Egypt I: Predynastic Period to Middle Kingdom [26S]

The archaeology and material culture of ancient Egypt, with emphasis on the theoretical and methodological issues inherent in interpreting the archaeological record. Students will also work directly with artifactual material from the Egyptian collection of the ROM.

Prerequisite: NMC371YI/NMC343H and NMC344H

NMC468HI Archaeology of Ancient Egypt II: Second Intermediate Period to Greco-Roman Period [26S]

The archaeology and material culture of ancient Egypt, with emphasis on the theoretical and methodological issues inherent in interpreting the archaeological record. Students will also work directly with artifactual material from the Egyptian collection of the ROM.

NMC 469YI Contextualizing Medieval Middle Eastern and Islamic Pottery [26L]

This course will use ceramics as the central core to study the material culture of the medieval Middle East and the central Islamic lands. As such they will be the running narrative, to which other materials will be referred, or in turn used to refer to other materials. The same motifs found on ceramics may be found in the contemporary buildings, textiles or woodwork; the same forms are found in metalwork and glass; illustrations on ceramics will survive better than contemporary manuscript paintings, and there are more illustrations of, for instance, medieval swords to be found on pottery than there are actual swords. The course will rely heavily on the collections of the ROM, and provide a thorough grounding on the technical production and typological variability of the various types of materials attested within their archaeological and cultural context.

Prerequisite: NMC260YI, one other 300+ level course in archaeological materials

NMC348YI History of Iran from the Sasanians to the Safavids (formerly NMC375YI, 348HI, 349HI) [52L]

The political history and cultural legacy of the Sasanian empire before the Arab conquests of Iran in the 7th-8th centuries, with a focus on the transmission of Persian concepts of kingship, administration, and social organization into Islamic civilization. The rise of native Iranian dynasties in the eastern Islamic world and the creation of the Perso-Islamic cultural synthesis under the Samanids in the 10th century. The history of greater Iran (including Central Asia and Afghanistan) under the rule of Turkic and Turko-Mongolian dynasties, such as the Ghaznavids, Seljuqs, Ilkhanids, and Timurids, with special attention to the interaction between nomadic and sedentary cultures. The emergence of the Safavid state in the 16th century, a watershed in the political and religious history of Iran, to the early modern period in the 18th century.

Recommended Preparation: NMC273YI/274HI/274YI

Exclusion: NMC375YI/348HI/349HI

NMC355HI The Ottoman Empire in the Age of Reform, 1808-1918 [26L]

The last phase of the Ottoman empire has long been viewed by Orientalists and Middle East nationalists as a period of inevitable decline. More recently, cultural historians of the Middle East have framed the long 19th. century as a period of grand reforms - or Tanzimat. This course seeks to critically examine the notions of 'reform of the state' and 'reform of the individual' between Sultan Mahmud II's accession and the defeat of the Ottoman empire in World War I. Focusing largely on Istanbul and the Ottoman capital's political relations with the Arab provinces, we will relate economic, social and intellectual transformations to state laws and policies, Mediterranean capitalism and the rise of sectarianism and nationalism in the Middle East.

NMC357HI Communications Media of the Middle East (formerly NMC357YI) [26L]

The Middle East and Far East are the birthplace of the world's most important communication revolutions, writing and its mechanization, i.e., printing. However, the modern mass media including journalism, film, radio, and television as well as communication technologies such as telegraphy, telephony, photography, sound recording, photocopying, computers, satellites, facsimile and Internet originated in the West. These media are important actors in the social, cultural, and political life of the Middle East, and its diasporas in the West. This course deals with, among other topics, media, state and empire formation; the social and historical contexts of the rise of modern mass media; the formation of reading, listening and viewing publics; civil society, public spheres and democratisation; media and social movements; media, language and nation; satellite broadcasting; "high" and "popular" cultures; radio wars; the Internet; communication rights. Evaluation will be based on participation, weekly writing assignments, one major research paper or a final exam.

Exclusion: NMC357YI

Prerequisite: NMC 278H/278Y or permission of the instructor.

NMC 358HI Mass Media, the Middle East, and the West (formerly NMC357YI) [26L]

Mass media and popular culture play a prominent role in the ways in which Western societies understand the Middle East. This course examines a variety of academic approaches to the study of the world's changing media environments in the context of relations between the West and the Middle East.

Exclusion: NMC357YI

Prerequisite: NMC 278H/278YI or permission of the instructor political, social, economic and cultural change in the Middle East. (Offered in alternate years)

Recommended preparation: NMC276Y1/278H1/278Y1/377H1/377Y1/378H1/378Y1

Exclusion: NMC385Y1/NMC355H1 from 2005-06

NMC474H1 Contemporary Iraq [13S]

Although Iraq is the site of the earliest major revolutions in history (communication, agrarian and urban revolutions), this course is a survey of more recent history, i.e., the creation of the Iraqi state under British rule, its role in post-WWI colonial projects, the Cold War, and regional and international conflicts. Focus will be on the emergence of Iraqi nationalism, Kurdish nationalism, political Islam, social movements, as well as the Iraq-Iran war of 1980-88, the U.S. wars of 1991 and 2003, and the outcomes of these wars. Evaluation will be based on participation, weekly writing assignments, and one major research paper.

Prerequisites: NMC278H1/278Y or NMC276Y or permission of the instructor.

NMC475H1 Orientalism & Occidentalism [13S]

This course probes the contemporaneous formation of modern Oriental Studies in Europe and the emergence of discourses on Europe (Ifran/Farang) in the Middle East from the eighteenth century to the present. Special emphasis will be devoted to encounters between scholars in Western Europe, Iran, India, and the Ottoman Empire. This seminar-style course explains that Orientals gazed and returned the gaze, and in the process of "cultural looking," they, like their Occidental counterparts, exoticized and eroticized the Farangi-Other. In the interplay of looks between Orientals and Occidentals, there was no steady position of spectatorship, no objective observer, and no "aperspectival" position.

Prerequisites: permission of the instructor.

NMC476H1 Violence and Civil Society in the Middle East (formerly NMC477Y1) [13S]

While the ideas and practices of civil society in the Middle East date back to the late nineteenth century, the region has emerged as an enduring war zone of the world. This course examines the dynamics of conflict and coexistence in the heterogeneous societies of the region. Focus will be on Middle Eastern politics and practice of civil society, the nation-state system, and modernist forms of state and non-state violence such as massacre, genocide, crimes against humanity, ethnocide, ethnic cleansing, linguicide, racism, ethnocentrism, and xenophobia. Evaluation will be based on participation, weekly writing assignments, and one major research paper.

Exclusion: NMC477Y1

Prerequisite: NMC278H1/278Y or permission of the instructor.

NMC477H1 Nationalist Movements in the Middle East (formerly NMC477Y1) [13S]

Although the Middle East is often viewed, in the West, as an ethnically and religiously homogeneous region (Arab, Islamic), it is one of the world's diverse regions in language, culture, ethnicity, nationality, and religion. Nationalist movements, which emerged in the late nineteenth century, re-shaped the political, economic, linguistic and cultural make-up of the region. The course will focus on four state-nationalisms (Arab, Jewish, Persian, Turkish) and one non-state nationalism (Kurdish). Students are encouraged, in this seminar course, to study other nationalist movements. While course content is diverse, the approach to nationalism will be informed by the growing body of critical theories. Evaluation will be based on participation, weekly writing assignments, and one major research paper.

Exclusion: NMC477Y1

Prerequisite: NMC278H1/278Y or permission of the instructor.

NMC 478H1 Readings in the Modern History of Arab Societies [13S]

A seminar built around thematic readings of social and economic history of the modern Arab world. Offered every other year.

Prerequisite: NMC 378H1/378Y1

NMC479H1 Histories of Nationalism in the Arab World (formerly NMC479Y1) [52S]

A seminar organized around readings in selected topics. The topics are related to the instructor's research interests. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: NMC378H1/NMC378Y1 or permission of instructor

Exclusion: NMC479Y1

New College courses have in common a commitment to be explorative and inventive and to widen students' experience by critically examining relationships among academic disciplines. These courses take their place within our various Specialist, Major and Minor programs. These programs are open to all students in the University.

Integration of student experience is a major concern in a college with students from all faculties in the University. The Independent Studies courses provide an opportunity for students to design their own programs and to test their analytic, synthetic, and creative skills by writing a thesis.

The African Studies Program

(Specialist, Major, Minor) offers opportunities to study Africa through a selection of courses devoted to African history, society and culture. The core courses are drawn from anthropology, history, literature and political science.

The Buddhism, Psychology and Mental Health Program

(Minor) allows students to choose from a wide range of courses on mind, consciousness, cognitive science, psychology of religion, health psychology, and sociological analyses of physical and mental health to acquire an understanding of the contributions of Buddhism to the modern understanding of consciousness, mental health and illness, and determinants of physical health.

The Caribbean Studies Program

(Specialist, Major, Minor) consists of courses in Caribbean history, literature and thought that deal with issues including gender, religion, politics, culture, ethnicity, race, development, language, colonialism and regional common markets.

The Equity Studies Program

(Major) is an interdisciplinary program that examines various models - historically and culturally specific - for conceptualizing social inequities and for bringing about equity. It draws together discourses on equity from the humanities, social sciences and sciences.

The Human Biology Programs*

offer a broad education in life sciences with courses offered by departments in both the Faculties of Arts and Science, and Medicine.

*Specialist: (1) Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology; (2) Global Health; (3) Health and Disease; (4) Human Behavioural Biology; (5) Neuroscience; Major: Human Biology (See Life Sciences section of the Calendar.)

The Paradigms and Archetypes Program

(Minor) provides opportunities for undergraduates in discipline-based programs to access, through a comparative analysis of primary sources, the structure and dynamics of "paradigms": archetypal narratives, assumptions, myths, fantasies, analytical protocols and methodologies which govern the conduct of disciplines in every field and all cultures.

The South Asian Studies Program

(Specialist, Major, Minor) provides the opportunity for students to study traditional and modern South Asia. The history and culture of India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka are presented in courses offered by a number of departments.

The Women and Gender Studies Program

(Specialist, Major, Minor) provides an interdisciplinary and culturally inclusive approach to understanding gender. The curriculum addresses the meaning and importance of gender in a variety of individual, institutional and transnational contexts. It provides opportunities to learn about feminist activism and resistance in areas such as citizenship, globalization, religious fundamentalism, war, technoscience, environmentalism and women's health. The program fosters a strong student community through a wide range of workshops and events as well as academic and practical links to local, national and international organizations. Women and Gender Studies scholarship and organizational initiatives thus address the location of UofT within a culturally diverse, economically disparate and socially complex city and nation.

New College Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), most NEW courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses. NEW 240Y1, 241Y1 and NEW250Y1 count as SOCIAL SCIENCE or HUMANITIES courses, and NEW350Y1 counts as a SOCIAL SCIENCE course.

NEW471HI Interdisciplinary Special Topics [26S]

Topics vary from year to year depending on the instructor. This is a Humanities course

African Studies Courses

NEW150Y1 Introduction to African Studies [52L]

A multi-disciplinary study of Africa, emphasizing inquiry and critical analysis. Pre-colonial, colonial and contemporary African history, anthropology, politics, African humanism and society, religion, art, music, race, resistance, gender and Pan-Africanism.

NEW250Y1 Africa in the 21st Century: Challenges and Opportunities [52L], 26T

An introduction to the study of Africa as a living place rather than merely a site for intellectual speculation and study. This course explores the issues that engage the attention of ordinary Africans, ranging from the dramatic to the seemingly trivial but quotidian concerns that occupy our lives. Topics covered will include urban life, family networks, kinship and social capital, religion and belief systems, indigenous government, courts and judicial processes, migration, and land tenure. Materials studied will include the various African media in Toronto – radio, television, newspapers, literature, religion, politics, sports, music, film and food – as well as BBC World Service, allAfrica and Panapress and several African socio-cultural journals and texts. This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

NEW280Y1 Introductory Swahili [26L, 78T]

Introduction to grammar and basic vocabulary of Swahili. Emphasis on comprehension and oral practice. Reading of selected texts. Relation of the language to its East African cultural context. (Offered in alternate years)

NEW281Y1 Introductory Somali [104L]

Introduction to grammar and basic vocabulary of Somali. Emphasis on comprehension and oral practice. Reading of selected texts. Relation of the language to its cultural context in the Horn of Africa.

NEW296Y1 Black Freedom [52L, 26T]

People of African descent – from Olaudah Equiano to Angela Davis – have made profound contributions to the intellectual history and political practice of freedom in the Atlantic world.

Black writers and historical actors have been at the vanguard of re-conceiving, implementing, and realizing the Enlightenment project of freedom.

Exclusion: HIS296YI

NEW322YI The Contemporary African Novel [52S]

Novels written in the last forty years by English, French and Portuguese-speaking Africans. Ideological views concerning colonialism and neo-colonialism. Tradition, religious and secular; the use of African symbolism. A small number of historical and sociological texts are recommended as essential background reading. Works not written in English are read in translation. (Offered in alternate years)

NEW350HI Special Topics: AIDS in Africa: Challenges and Successes [26L]

Explores the pandemic of AIDS in Africa through a social science lens.

Recommended preparation: NEW150YI

NEW351YI African Systems of Thought (formerly NEW252YI) [52L]

The exploration of a range of African cosmologies, epistemologies, and theologies, as well as specific case studies on justice, the moral order, and gender relations. The influence of these richly diverse traditions is traced as well in the writings of African thinkers in the Diaspora.

Recommended preparation: NEW150YI

Exclusion: NEW252YI, JAP256HI/JAP356HI

NEW352YI Cinemas and African Expressive Culture (formerly JN1388YI) [26L, 78P]

A study of African cultures through films and production contexts. (Offered in alternate years)

Recommended preparation: INI115YI/NEW150YI

Exclusions: JN1388YI/INI483HI

NEW380YI Intermediate Swahili [26L, 78T]

Grammar and syntax. Conversation and written composition. Reading of texts: literary, journalistic. Relation of the language to its East African context. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: NEW280YI

NEW450HI Advanced Topics in African Studies [26S]

A required course for all Specialists and Majors in the African Studies Program, enrolment is restricted to students enrolled in the program in their final year of study. The seminar is taught by the core faculty in the African Studies Program and is designed to build upon the accumulated knowledge of students and the interdisciplinary nature of the program. Topics vary from year to year.

Independent Studies Courses

New College Independent Study courses are designed both to complement regular offerings in New College programs and to provide an opportunity for New College students in any program to enrich their studies. The normal expectation of a project course is that the student, aided and advised by the supervisor, will read relevant literature, and plan, execute, analyze and report on an original and independent investigation of an appropriate topic. Written applications (detailed proposal, reading list and a letter of support from a faculty member who is prepared to supervise) should be made through the Program Office for approval by the College's Committee for Academic Affairs by May 1 for the Summer Session or by the last Friday in August for the Winter Session. Students will be notified of the acceptance or rejection of an application. For more information and application forms, please see the Independent Studies website: <http://www.newcollege.utoronto.ca/academic-programs/independent-studies/>

Enquiries: New College, Room 132 (978-5404)

The Greek words from which "Philosophy" is formed mean "love of wisdom" and all great philosophers have been moved by an intense devotion to the search for wisdom. Philosophy takes no belief for granted, but examines the grounds for those beliefs which make up people's fundamental views of the world. Philosophers think about these beliefs as thoroughly and systematically as possible, using methods of conceptual analysis, reasoning, and detailed description.

What distinguishes Philosophy from the physical and social sciences is its concern not only with the truths which are discovered by means of specialized methods of investigation, but with the implications that such discoveries have for human beings in their relations with one another and the world. Moreover, Philosophy has an abiding interest in those basic assumptions about the nature of the physical and social world, and about the nature of enquiry itself, which underlie our scientific and practical endeavours.

The Philosophy Department at the University of Toronto offers courses in the main periods and areas of Philosophy, which are listed here with a typical question or the name of one or two central figures: Ancient Philosophy (Plato, Aristotle); Mediaeval Philosophy (Augustine, Aquinas); Early Modern Philosophy (Descartes, Hume, Kant); Nineteenth-Century Philosophy and Marxism (Hegel, Mill, Marx); Continental Philosophy and Phenomenology (Husserl, Heidegger, Sartre); Analytic Philosophy (Quine, Russell, Wittgenstein); Epistemology and Metaphysics (What can be known? What is the ultimate nature of reality?); Philosophy of Religion (Does God exist? How could one prove it?); Philosophy of Mind (What is mind? Is there free will?); Logic and Philosophy of Mathematics (What is sound reasoning? Do numbers exist?); Philosophy of Language (What is the meaning of "meaning"?); Philosophy of Natural Science (What is scientific method?); Philosophy of Social Science and History (Can there be a science of humans?); Social and Political Philosophy (What justifies the state?); Moral Philosophy (How should we argue rationally about right and wrong?); Aesthetics (What is art? Must it be beautiful?). In addition, the Department offers Seminars (numbered PHL 400HI-489HI) and Individual Studies courses (numbered PHL 490YI, PHL 495HI-499HI).

Counselling is available in the main departmental office, 170 St. George St., 4th floor. In addition, the Department publishes an annual Bulletin. It contains full and up-to-date information on programs and courses, including names of instructors and descriptions of particular course sections. The Bulletin is published in the spring (for the succeeding year) and is available on the Department's website and at 170 St. George Street, and from all College registrars.

PHL395HI Issues in Business Ethics [39L]

A focused examination of moral issues that arise in the conduct of business, in areas such as accounting and finance, corporate governance, human resources, environmental conduct, business lobbying and regulatory compliance.

Prerequisite: PHL295HI

PHL398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

PHL399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

400-SERIES COURSES

Notes

1. The general prerequisite for all 400-level courses is nine half-courses in philosophy. Most courses also have specific prerequisites. Students who do not meet the prerequisite for a particular course but believe that they have adequate preparation must obtain the permission of the instructor in order to gain entry to the course.
2. PHL 400HI-451HI are undergraduate-level courses. PHL 470HI-489HI are cross-listed graduate courses, available to undergraduates as well. Enrolment in these courses requires the permission of the instructor and the Department in addition to the completion of the prerequisites indicated below.
3. Individual Studies courses (PHL490YI, PHL495HI/496HI/497HI/498HI/499HI), which involve directed study and research, are available to advanced students. Arrangements must be made with a faculty supervisor, and approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator obtained before registration.
4. No more than one individual studies course can be counted towards any philosophy program. Normally, no more than one-half individual studies course can be counted towards the 400-level course requirement for any Specialist or Combined Specialist Philosophy program.

PHL400HI Seminar in Ancient/Medieval Philosophy [39S]

Advanced discussion of the principal figures and themes in ancient and/or medieval philosophy.

Prerequisite: PHL 200YI

PHL401HI Seminar in the History of Philosophy [39S]

Advanced study of some of the principal figures in a particular historical, philosophical tradition.

Prerequisite: PHL 200YI/210YI

UNI401HI Advanced Cognitive Science26S

See "University College Courses"

PHL402HI Seminar in Early Modern Philosophy [39S]

Advanced discussion of the principal figures and themes in the philosophy of the 17th and/or 18th centuries.

Prerequisite: PHL 210YI

PHL403HI Seminar in 19th-Century Philosophy [39S]

Advanced discussion of the principal figures and themes in 19th century philosophy.

Prerequisite: PHL 210YI/217HI/315HI/316HI

PHL404HI Seminar in Epistemology [39S]

Typical problems include the nature of knowledge and belief; perception; theories of truth and necessity; skepticism.

Prerequisite: PHL 232HI

PHL405HI Seminar in Philosophy of Mind [39S]

Advanced study of a problem in the philosophy of mind.

Prerequisite: PHL 240HI/342HI/UNI 250YI

PHL406HI Seminar in Metaphysics [39S]

Typical problems include causality and determinism; ontological categories; mind and body; the objectivity of space and time.

Prerequisite: PHL 232HI

PHL407HI Seminar in Ethics [39S]

Advanced discussion of issues in moral philosophy, including issues of applied ethics.

Prerequisite: PHL 275HI

PHL408HI Seminar in Philosophy [39S]

Topics vary but bridge two or more areas or traditions of philosophy.

PHL409HI New Books Seminar [39S]

Advanced study of key philosophical works published within the last five years.

PHL410HI Seminar in Continental Philosophy [39S]

Advanced study of recent philosophical discussions within the continental tradition.

Prerequisite: PHL 217HI/315HI/316HI/319HI/320HI/321HI/322HI

PHL411HI Seminar in Analytic Philosophy [39S]

Advanced study of some topic of current philosophical interest within the analytic tradition.

Prerequisite: PHL 245HI and one of PHL 232HI/240HI

PHL412HI Seminar in Political Philosophy [39S]

Advanced study of some topic in social or political philosophy.

Prerequisite: PHL 265HI/271HI

PHL413HI Seminar in Applied Ethics [39S]

Advanced study of some topic in an area of applied ethics, including bioethics, environmental ethics, and so on.

Prerequisite: PHL 271HI/273HI/275HI/281YI

PHL414HI Seminar in Philosophy of Religion [39S]

Advanced study of topics in the philosophy of religion.

Prerequisite: PHL 235HI/335HI

PHL415HI Seminar in Philosophy of Science [39S]

Advanced study of some area or problem in the philosophy of science.

Prerequisite: One of PHL 355HI – 357HI or HPS 250HI

PHL440HI Clinical Bioethics [39S]

Advanced study of topics in bioethics, taught in conjunction with clinical bioethicists associated with the health care organization partners of the University of Toronto Joint Centre for Bioethics.

Prerequisite: PHL281HI, and permission of the instructor and Department. Limited to students enrolled in the Bioethics Specialist program.

PHL451HI Seminar in Logic/Philosophy of Language [39S]

Advanced study of some topic in logic and/or the philosophy of language.

Prerequisite: PHL 245HI and one of PHL 232HI/240HI/246HI

PHL470HI Advanced Bioethics [39S]

Philosophical exploration of the foundations and methodology of bioethics. Offered jointly with PHL 2145H.

Prerequisite: PHL 281HI and one of PHL 380HI/381HI/382HI/383HI/384HI, and permission of the instructor and Department. Limited to students enrolled in the Bioethics Specialist program.

PHL471HI Advanced Topics in Greek Philosophy [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL200YI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL472HI Advanced Topics in Medieval Philosophy [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL 200YI/205HI/ 206HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL473HI Advanced Topics in Modern Philosophy [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL210YI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL475HI Advanced Topics in Moral Philosophy [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL275HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL476HI Advanced Topics in Epistemology [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL232HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL477HI Advanced Topics in Metaphysics [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL232HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL478HI Advanced Topics in Philosophy of Religion [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL235HI/335HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL479HI Advanced Topics in Philosophy of Mind [39S]

Prerequisite: UNI250YI/PHL240HI/340HI/ 341HI/342HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL480HI Advanced Topics in Logic [39S]

Prerequisite: Two of PHL344HI-349HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL481HI Advanced Topics in the Philosophy of Language [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL351HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL482HI Advanced Topics in Philosophy of Natural Science [39S]

Prerequisite: One of PHL355HI – 357HI or HPS 250HI, and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL483HI Advanced Topics in Social and Political Philosophy [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL265HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL484HI Advanced Topics in the Philosophy of Law [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL271HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL485HI Advanced Topics in Aesthetics [39S]

Prerequisite: PHL285HI/PHL385HI and permission of the instructor and Department

PHL486HI Advanced Topics in Philosophy of History [39S]

Physical Education and Health

---

Offered by the Faculty of Physical Education & Health

The Faculty of Physical Education & Health offers the following courses to all students in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

PHE110HI Active Healthy Living [26L, 13P]

This course increases student awareness of issues related to a healthy lifestyle and to the role of physical activity in promoting health across the lifespan. Important concepts in anatomy, physiology and nutrition are introduced, and the whole body benefits of physical activity are emphasized. Personal nutrition and lifestyle practices are examined and self-improvement plans developed. First class is mandatory. Full participation in physical activities including aquatics is required.

This course is particularly suitable as a Science Distribution course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences. Enrolment limit of 100 students.

† Cross-appointed or Research Scientist

Physics is the study of natural phenomena at the most fundamental level. Physicists investigate the properties of the states of matter and the structure and behaviour of the components of matter. The gravitational, electromagnetic and nuclear interactions are examined and different systems of mechanics including classical, relativistic, quantum and statistical, are developed to describe interactions between systems ranging from sub-atomic to galactic in size.

A program in physics has much to offer you. Besides traditional careers in teaching and research, knowledge of Physics is a powerful tool for a career in the Environmental or Life Sciences. An understanding of Physics is essential for those who are concerned about how society is affected by the impact of modern technology. The conceptual tools one acquires as a physicist can be applied with great success to many occupations.

The Specialist Program offers an intensive preparation for a career in Physics. By choosing courses from the wide variety offered, one can emphasize experimental, theoretical or even applied sides of physics. In fourth year, students intending to undertake graduate studies are encouraged to take advanced optional courses. Optional courses are offered in Sub-Atomic Physics, Quantum Optics and Condensed Matter Physics, or Geophysics and Atmospheric Physics, reflecting the research excellence of the faculty.

Programs in Biophysics and Molecular Biophysics are offered that combine the analytical problem solving skills of the physicist with sound backgrounds in relevant biology and chemistry. If you have an interest in biophysics please contact the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies.

The Applied Physics program focuses more on subject matter that will help one in an industrial career. As part of this program, students are encouraged to take advantage of the Professional Experience Year program.

A number of joint Physics Specialist programs are also offered in cooperation with the Departments of Astronomy, Chemistry, Computer Science, Environment, Geology, Mathematics, Philosophy, and Physiology.

The Professional Experience Year program ("PEY": see also page 19 and www.peyonline.com) is available to eligible, full-time Arts & Science Specialist students after their second year of study. Physics students are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to apply their scientific and mathematical skills in a 12-16 month professional internship.

Scientifically literate teachers are important for educating citizens in modern society. Students interested in a career as a teacher should contact the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies for advice on suitable programs and courses.

The Departmental website gives detailed information on programs and courses, and describes the operation of the Department and the counselling services available. All students, most particularly those entering first year, are strongly urged to consult the website before term begins.

Physics Programs

Enrolment in the Physics programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required. Students with a good grade in PHY 110Y1 may apply to the Physics Undergraduate Office for permission to enter a Physics Program requiring PHY (131H1, 132H1)/138Y1 or (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1.

Applied Physics (Science program)

---

Consult Professor D. Bailey, Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1, 223H1; PHY (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1

Second Year:

MAT 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

APM 346H1; MAT 334H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1

Fourth Year:

1. PHY 459H1, 478H1/426H1

2. In addition, students are required in their 3rd/4th year to take 2.0 courses in practical physics from:

PHY 305-308H1; 407-408H1; 326H1/426H1/428H1/429H1; 495H1/496H1; and

3. An equivalent of 1.5 courses selected from one of the following streams:

Condensed Matter Physics and Quantum Optics: PHY 353H1, 485H1, 487H1

Atmospheric Physics: PHY 315H1, 353H1, 498H1

Geophysics: JGP 438H1, PHY 359H1, 493H1, 494H1

Note:

Students intending to pursue a career in Industry are strongly urged to take advantage of the Professional Experience Year Program.

Biophysics (Science program)

Consult Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics or Physiology.

Specialist program:

(15.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/ (151H1, 152H1)/138Y1/140Y1 (PHY (151H1, 152H1) recommended)

First or Second Year:

MAT 223H1

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 247H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1; PHY 251H1

Third Year:

JBO 302Y1; PHY 225H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1, 346H1, 351H1

Fourth Year:

PSL 350H1/BIO 349H1; PHY 355H1, 407H1; PSL 303Y1, 432H1

NOTES: We strongly recommend you consider taking the research project PHY 478H1/PSL 499H1.

Molecular Biophysics (Science program)

Consult Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics, Biochemistry, or Chemistry.

Molecular Biophysics is the application of physics and physical chemistry to biological problems at the molecular level. Ideas, instrumentation and computational models of physics and chemistry are used to understand the molecules of life. What are the three-dimensional structures of these molecules? How do these structures change over time? How do molecules interact to relay information? What are the forces that govern biomolecular interactions? How can we manipulate these molecules for the benefit of humankind? These are some of the questions that molecular biophysicists attempt to address rigorously. Of course many of the answers to these questions will have profound implications for human health. The Molecular Biophysics Program combines mathematics, physics, chemistry and biochemistry in an unusual and exciting opportunity for undergraduates, including undergraduate research in some of the finest laboratories in the world.

Specialist program:

(16.0 full courses of their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year (3.0 FCE):

CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1; PHY 151H1/131H1, 152H1/132H1; (CHM 151Y1, PHY 151H1, 152H1 recommended)

First or second year (0.5 FCE):

MAT 223H1/240H1

Second Year (3.5 FCE):

BCH 210H1; CHM (220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1; PHY 251H1, 252H1

Second or Third Year (2.0 FCE):

MAT 244H1; PHY 225H1, 255H1; CHM 247H1/249H1

Third Year (3.0 FCE):

BCH 335H1/311H1, BCH 340H1; CHM 326H1/PHY 355H1, CHM 327H1, PHY 346H1, 352H1

Third or Fourth Year (0.5 FCE):

APM346H1

Fourth Year (3.5 FCE)

BCH 427H1; CHM 328H1, CHM423H1/PHY457H1; PHY307H1, 351H1/353H1, BCH473Y1/PHY479Y1/CHM499Y1

Physics (Science program)

Consult Professor D. Bailey, Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Specialist program:

(13.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full-course at the 400 level)

First Year:

MAT 137Y1/157Y1, 223H1; PHY (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1

Note: Students with a good grade in PHY 132H1/110Y1/138Y may ask the Physics Undergraduate Office for entry into this or other Physics Programs requiring PHY 152H /140Y.

Second Year:

MAT 237Y1, 244H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

APM 346H1; MAT 334H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1/358H1/359H1

Fourth Year:

PHY 457H1; two of 459H1/460H1/480H1

NOTE: Third/Fourth Year Laboratories:

All specialists must take a minimum of 1.5 courses in practical physics in third/fourth year. One half-course must be in the Advanced Physics Laboratory.

Advanced Physics Laboratory: PHY 326H1, 426H1, 428H1, 429H1

Electronics Laboratory: PHY 305H1

Computational Laboratory: PHY 307H1/308H1/309H1/407H1/408H1/409H1

Medical Imaging: PHY 445H1

Major programs:

A. 'Core' Major

(7.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 full-course equivalents at the 300+ level)

First Year:

MAT 137Y1, 223H1; PHY (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1

Second Year:

1. MAT 237Y1, PHY 225H1

2. Three of: PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

1. MAT 244H1; PHY 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1

2. Two of: PHY 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1, 358H1, 359H1

B. 'General' Major

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 full-course equivalents at the 300+ level)

NOTE: This program is intended for students in the Life Sciences

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/ (151H1, 152H1)/ 138Y1/140Y1

Physics

---

Second Year:

MAT 235Y1/237Y1; PHY 225H1, 238Y1/(251H1, 255H1)

Third Year:

1. MAT 244H1, PHY 256H1, 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1
2. One full course equivalent from: JPA 305H1, JPA 310H1, JGP 438H1, PHY 315H1, 346H1, 445H1

Minor programs:

A. 'Core' Minor

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

PHY (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1

Second Year:

1. PHY 225H1
2. Three of: PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

1. PHY 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1
2. One of PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1

B. 'Life, Environmental, and General' Minor

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY (131H1, 132H1)/(151H1, 152H1)/138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:

ENV 235Y1/ PHY 238Y1 or any other 1 full course equivalent from PHY courses at the 200+ level

Third Year:

One full course equivalent from: BIO 472H1, JPA 305H1, JPA 310H1; JGP 438H1; PHY 315H1, 346H1, 445H1 or any other PHY300+ course; PSL454H1; JBO302Y may count as a half-course credit to this requirement.

Specialist program:

(16.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 2 full-course equivalents at the 400 level)

First Year:

PHY (151H1, 152H1)/140Y1; MAT137Y1/157Y1; MAT223H1; PHL 100Y1

Second Year:

MAT237Y1; MAT244H1; PHY251H1; PHY255H1; PHY256H1; HPS 250H1

Third Year:

MAT334H1; PHY252H1; PHY351H1; PHY352H1; PHY355H1

Fourth Year:

PHY457H1; PHY480H1/483H1; PHY491H1

Any Year:

PHL 245H1; 345H1/347H1/348H1/349H1; 355H1; 356H1; 415H1/482H1

2.5 additional PHL courses, including at least 0.5 at the 300+ level

Physics Courses

---

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all PHY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

---

Note

Books listed in course descriptions will not necessarily be the texts for the course, but do indicate the level of presentation. More detailed and current information on courses is available through the Physics Department website. Pre- and co-requisites are recommendations which may be waived in special circumstances - students should consult the Department prior to the beginning of term.

SC1199H1 First Year Seminar [26S]

SC1199Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

PHY100H1 The Magic of Physics [26L, 13T]

In 1915 Einstein presented a quartet of papers that revolutionized our understanding of gravity. He commented: "Hardly anyone who has truly understood this theory will be able to resist being captivated by its magic." The General Theory of Relativity is not the only theory of physics that is magical, and Einstein was not physics' only magician. We uncover the wonders of the classical and the quantum world courtesy of Galileo, Newton, Maxwell, Einstein, Heisenberg and others. Topics include planetary motion, chaos, the nature of light, time travel, black holes, matter waves, Schrödinger's cat, and quarks. No mathematics is required, and any necessary elementary classical physics is reviewed.

Exclusion: PHY131H/132H/151H/152H / 110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently

PHY100H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY101H1 Emergence in Nature [26L, 13T]

The universe is not a rigid clockwork, but neither is it formless and random. Instead, it is filled with highly organized, evolved structures that have somehow emerged from simple rules of physics. Examples range from the structure of galaxies to the pattern of ripples on windblown sand, to biological and even social processes. These phenomena exist in spite of the universal tendency towards disorder. How is this possible?

Self-organization challenges the usual reductionistic scientific method, and begs the question of whether we can ever really understand or predict truly complex systems.

Exclusion: PHY131H/132H/151H/152H /10Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently

PHY101HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY131HI Introduction to Physics I [26L, 24P, 12T]

A first university physics course primarily for students not intending to pursue a Specialist or Major program in Physical or Mathematical Sciences. Topics include: momentum, energy, force, work, power, angular momentum, classical kinematics & dynamics, friction, thermal properties, gases, liquids, viscosity.

Exclusion: PHY151HI/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Prerequisite: MCV4U Calculus & Vectors / MCB4U Functions & Calculus

Recommended preparation: SPH4U Physics and SCH4U Chemistry

Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

PHY132HI Introduction to Physics II [26L, 24P, 12T]

The second university physics course primarily for students not intending to pursue a Specialist or Major program in Physical or Mathematical Sciences. Topics include: oscillations, waves, sound, light, electricity, magnetism, special relativity.

Exclusion: PHY152HI/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Prerequisite: PHY131HI/151HI

Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

PHY151HI Foundations of Physics I [39L, 18P, 12T]

The first physics course in many of the Specialist and Major Programs in Physical Sciences. It provides an introduction to the concepts, approaches and tools the physicist uses to describe the physical world while laying the foundation for classical and modern mechanics. Topics include: mathematics of physics, energy, momentum, conservation laws, kinematics, dynamics, and gravity.

Exclusion: PHY131HI/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Prerequisite: MCV4U Calculus & Vectors / MCB4U Functions & Calculus; SPH4U Physics

Co-requisite: MAT137Y1/157Y1

PHY152HI Foundations of Physics II [39L, 18P, 12T]

The second physics course in many of the Specialist and Major Programs in Physical Sciences. Topics include special relativity and electromagnetism.

Exclusion: PHY132HI/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Prerequisite: PHY131HI/151HI

Co-requisite: MAT137Y1/157Y1

PHY189HI Physics at the Cutting Edge [39L]

A limited enrollment seminar course for First Year Science students interested in current research in Physics. Students will meet active researchers studying the universe from the centre of the earth to the edge of the cosmos. Topics may range from string theory to experimental biological physics, from climate change to quantum computing, from superconductivity to earthquakes. The course may involve both individual and group work, essays and oral presentations.

Co-requisite: PHY132HI/132HI/152HI

Note

Exceptional first year students, for example those who have scored very high on the Canadian Association of Physics High School Exam, may be allowed direct enrollment in Physics Second Year Courses. Contact the Physics Undergraduate Office.

200-SERIES COURSES

Note

All 200-series PHY courses except PHY201HI and PHY205HI require MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1.

PHY201HI Concepts of Physics [26L, 13T]

A conceptual overview of some of the most interesting advances in physics and the intellectual background in which they occurred. The interrelationship of the actual practice of physics and its cultural and intellectual context is emphasized.

PHY201HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY205HI The Physics of Everyday Life [26L, 13T]

An introduction to the physics of everyday life. This conceptual course looks at everyday objects to learn about the basis for our modern technological world. Topics may include anything from automobiles to weather.

Exclusion: PHY131H/132H/151H/152H/110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 taken previously or concurrently

PHY205HI is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

JOP210HI Holography for 3D Visualization [26L, 58P]

An introduction to the theory and practice of holography. Human perception & 3D visualization; fundamentals of 3D modeling; ray and wave optics; interference, diffraction, coherence; transmission and reflection holograms; color perception; stereograms. Applications of holography in art, medicine, and technology. Computer simulation, design, and construction of holograms.

Prerequisite: PHY110Y1/138Y1/140Y1/132HI/152HI/180HI/ MIE100HI

PHY225HI Fundamental Physics Laboratory [26L, 78P]

The 2nd year Physics Laboratory. Topics including experimental techniques, instrumentation, and data analysis are introduced through experiments, complementary lectures, and library research to some of the great experiments of physics.

Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1/132HI/152HI

Co-requisite: PHY 238Y/251HI/252HI/255HI/256HI

ENV235YI Physics and Chemistry of the Evolving Earth [52L]

See "Centre for Environment"

The formation and evolution of Earth as a planet in the Solar System: origin of the elements, composition of planets, mantle-core differentiation, tectonics, geologic change and time scales. The biosphere: i.e., the Earth's atmosphere, oceans and crust: operation as a physicochemical system, atmospheric composition and roles of major and minor constituents, ocean/atmosphere energy budgets, circulations and couplings; climate, glaciation. The effects of human intervention and natural processes: e.g., groundwater quality, atmospheric change, volcanic activity. Given by the Departments of Physics and Chemistry.

Physics

Prerequisite: CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151YI; MAT135YI/137YI/157YI/JMB170YI; PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI or Permission of the Instructor.

PHY238YI Physics for the Life Sciences II [78L, 26T]

Electromagnetism; biological effects of radiation; physical optics; macroscopic phenomena; heat engines and metabolism. Examples are taken, where applicable, from the life sciences.

Exclusion: PHY251HI

Prerequisite: (PHY110YI, MAT135YI)/PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

Recommended preparation: BIO150YI/a CHM100-series course
Co-requisite: None, but students taking any higher level Physics course are expected to have at least MAT235YI

PHY251HI Electricity and Magnetism [26L, 13T]

Point charges; Coulomb's Law; electrostatic field and potential; Gauss' Law; conductors; electrostatic energy; magnetostatics; Ampere's Law; magnetostatic energy; Lorentz Force; Faraday's Law; dielectric and magnetic materials; Maxwell's equations.

Exclusion: PHY238YI

Prerequisite: PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI

PHY252HI Thermal Physics [26L, 13T]

The quantum statistical basis of macroscopic systems; definition of entropy in terms of the number of accessible states of a many particle system leading to simple expressions for absolute temperature, the canonical distribution, and the laws of thermodynamics. Specific effects of quantum statistics at high densities and low temperatures.

Prerequisite: PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI

PHY255HI Oscillations and Waves [26L, 13T]

Complex notation; free, damped and forced harmonic oscillations; resonance; AC circuits; coupled oscillators; normal modes; travelling waves; simple harmonic wave; wave equation; wave impedance; transverse and longitudinal waves; flow of energy in waves; reflection and transmission at interfaces; group and phase velocity; Fourier series and Fourier transforms.

Prerequisite: PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI (MAT244HI recommended)

PHY256HI Introduction to Quantum Physics [39L, 13T]

Failures of classical physics; the Quantum revolution; Stern-Gerlach effect; harmonic oscillator; uncertainty principle; interference packets; scattering and tunnelling in one-dimension.

Prerequisite: PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

Co-requisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI (MAT223HI/240HI recommended)

PHY299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

---

300-SERIES COURSES

Note

Students taking 300-series courses are invited to attend the Thursday afternoon Department colloquia.

JBO302YI Human Physiology and Biophysics [78L, 14T]

Principles of Human Physiology with tutorials on the biophysical concepts applied to physiological processes. Restricted to students enrolled in the Biophysics and Physiology (Theoretical) programs.

Exclusion: PSL201YI, 302YI

Prerequisite: BIO150YI; CHM138HI; MAT135YI/137YI; PHY138YI/140YI/132HI/152HI

JPA305HI Introduction to Archaeometry [26L, 13P]

Introduction to methods for remote sensing of buried archaeological remains, (magnetics, resistivity, electromagnetics), dating (Carbon 14, TL, ESR, etc.) and analysis (X-Ray, INAA) of ancient materials. Application of methods and interpretation of results in archaeological contexts. Issues of art and authenticity are also addressed. Course includes a laboratory component. (Not offered every year) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

JPA310HI Physics and Archaeometry [26L, 13P]

Introduction to the principles behind archaeometric methods for remote sensing, dating, and analysis of archaeological materials, and interpretation of results. Course includes both field and in-house laboratory components. Offered in conjunction with JPA305HI. (Not offered every year) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

Prerequisite: Any 1st-year Physics course or permission of instructor

Co-requisite: JPA305HI

PHY305HI Electronics Lab I [26L, 39P]

The laboratory functions as an integrated lecture course/ laboratory program. Passive linear circuits: theorems, networks, and equivalents; meters, transient and steady responses, power, transformers, transmission lines. Digital devices: gates logic, Boolean algebra, minimization, flip-flops, counters, delays. Op-amps: dependent sources, amplifiers, integrators, feedback, slew rate, filters. Diodes: peak detector, rectification, regulators. Noise: sources, grounding, shielding, ground loops. Transistors: characteristics, analysis, amplifier design.

Prerequisite: PHY225HI, 251HI, 255HI

Note

Computational Laboratory: Students may select one or more modules from PHY307HI/308HI/309HI below. The laboratory functions as an integrated lecture course/laboratory program. Students taking a second module can receive a 4th year credit (see listings for PHY407H/408H/409H).

PHY307HI Introduction to Computational Physics [13L, 39P]

Problem solving with computers, using both algebraic and numerical methods. After a brief introduction to the basic techniques, various physics problems are treated with increasingly more sophisticated techniques. Examples include the physical pendulum, heat equation, quantum mechanics, Monte Carlo simulation, differential equation, and graphical presentation of results.

Exclusion: PHY407HI

Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in Physics

PHY308HI Times Series Analysis [13L, 26P]

The analysis of digital sequences; filters; the Fourier Transform; windows; truncation effects; aliasing; auto and cross-correlation; stochastic processes, power spectra; least squares filtering; application to real data series and experimental design.

Exclusion: PHY408HI

Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in Physics

PHY309HI Quantum Methods Using Computer Algebra [26L, 26P]

Classic quantum mechanics problems are explored using Maple computer algebra and graphics. These include bound state and scattering problems in 1D, angular momentum and spin, commutator algebra, scattering in 3D and time dependent processes. General techniques for computer-aided problem solving are developed.

Exclusion: PHY409HI

Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in Physics

PHY315HI Radiation in Planetary Atmospheres [26L]

The role of radiation in the generation, maintenance and evolution of planetary atmospheres and climate: Radiation laws, absorption and emission. Simple radiative exchange processes and atmospheric models. Energy balance. Radiation and climatic change. Comparative radiation studies in planetary atmospheres. Pollution and man-made effects.

Prerequisite: PHY238YI/251HI; MAT235YI/237YI

PHY326HI Advanced Physics Laboratory [150P]

Experiments in this course are designed to form a bridge to current experimental research. A wide range of exciting experiments relevant to modern research in physics is available. The laboratory is open from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday to Friday. Prerequisite: PHY225HI, 251HI, 256HI

PHY341HI Physical Science in Contemporary Society [26L]

Complex nature of the scientific method; inter-connection between theory, concepts and experimental data; characteristics of premature, pathological and pseudo-science; public perception and misperception of the scientific method; the supposed end of the Golden Era of Science; the insufficiency of reductionism; trends in modern science. (Offered in alternate years with PHY 342HI)

Prerequisite: PHY225HI/238YI/251HI/252HI/255HI/256HI/ENV235YI

PHY342HI Current Questions in Mathematics and Science [26L]

Topics of current prominence in the physical sciences and mathematics are discussed. Topics change each year as the sciences evolve. Appropriate topics might include: high-temperature superconductivity, cosmology, chaos and non-linear dynamics. (Offered in alternate years with PHY 341HI)

PHY346HI Intermediate Biophysics [26L, 13T]

Molecular structure of biological systems: bonds, orbitals, molecular excitation and energy transfer; theory of absolute reaction rate, formation of biomacromolecules. Energetics and dynamics of biological systems: state functions, entropy and stability, thermodynamic basis of biochemical reactions, analysis of fluxes, electric fields in cells and organisms. The kinetics of biological systems: problems and approaches of system and compartmental analysis, models of biochemical reactions and some complex biological processes.

Prerequisite: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI; PHY238YI/251HI

PHY351HI Classical Mechanics [26L, 13T]

Symmetry and conservation laws, stability and instability, generalized co-ordinates, Hamilton's principle, Hamilton's equations, phase space, Liouville's theorem, canonical transformations, Poisson brackets, Noether's theorem.

Prerequisite: MAT244HI/267HI; PHY255HI

PHY352HI Electromagnetic Theory [26L, 13T]

Review of vector & tensor calculus, transformation properties of vectors & tensors, electrostatics, basic formulae of magnetostatics, electrodynamics (Maxwell's Equations), gauge transformations of scalar & vector potentials, retarded potentials, Liénard-Wiechert potentials, radiation, special theory of relativity, relativistic mechanics and relativistic electrodynamics.

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI/244HI; PHY251HI, 255HI

PHY353HI Electromagnetic Waves [26L, 13T]

Review of Maxwell's equations; electric fields in matter; magnetic fields in matter; electromotive force; electromagnetic induction; electromagnetic waves in vacuum; waves in dielectric and conductive materials, skin effect; waves in dispersive media: polarization phenomena; Fresnel equations; reflection and refraction from an interface; Brewster angle, total internal reflection; interference, coherence effects; interferometers; Fraunhofer and Fresnel diffraction; waveguides, optical fibres, radiation.

Prerequisite: PHY352HI

PHY355HI Quantum Mechanics I [26L, 13T]

The general structure of wave mechanics; eigenfunctions and eigenvalues; operators; orbital angular momentum; spherical harmonics; central potential; separation of variables; hydrogen atom; Dirac notation; operator methods; harmonic oscillator and spin.

Exclusion: CHM326HI

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI/244HI; PHY251HI, 256HI/CHM225Y

PHY357HI Nuclear and Particle Physics [26L, 13T]

The subatomic particles; nuclei, baryons and mesons, quarks, leptons and bosons; the structure of nuclei and hadronic matter; symmetries and conservation laws; fundamental forces and interactions, electromagnetic, weak, and strong; a selection of other topics, CP violation, nuclear models, standard model, proton decay, supergravity, nuclear and particle astrophysics. This course is not a prerequisite for any PHY 400-level course.

Prerequisite: PHY355HI

PHY358HI Atoms, Molecules and Solids [26L, 13T]

Quantum theory of atoms, molecules, and solids; variational principle and perturbation theory; hydrogen and helium atoms; exchange and correlation energies; multielectron atoms; simple molecules; bonding and antibonding orbitals; rotation and vibration of molecules; crystal binding; electron in a periodic potential; reciprocal lattice; Bloch's theorem; nearly-free electron model; Kronig-Penney model; energy bands; metals, semiconductors, and insulators; Fermi surfaces. This course is not a prerequisite for any PHY 400-level course.

Physics

Prerequisite: PHY355H1

PHY359H1 Physics of the Earth [26L, 13T]

Designed for students interested in the physics of the Earth and the planets. Study of the Earth as a unified dynamic system; determination of major internal divisions in the planet; development and evolution of the Earth's large scale surface features through plate tectonics; the age and thermal history of the planet; Earth's gravitational field and the concept of isostasy; mantle rheology and convection; Earth tides; geodetic measurement techniques, in particular modern space-based techniques.

Prerequisite: PHY 140Y1/152H1/255H1, MAT 235Y1/237Y1, MAT244 (Or permission of instructor)

PHY371Y1 Supervised Reading in Physics [TBA]

PHY372H1 Supervised Reading in Physics [TBA]

An individual study program chosen by the student with the advice of, and under the direction of, a staff member. A student may take advantage of this course either to specialize further in a field of interest or to explore interdisciplinary fields not available in the regular syllabus.

PHY398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

PHY399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

---

400-SERIES COURSES

Note

It is recommended that students consult the Physics Undergraduate Associate Chair before enrolling in any of of PHY 470-472, PHY 478-479, or PHY 481-499. Students taking 400-series courses are invited to attend Thursday afternoon Department colloquia.

---

PHY407H1 Introduction to Computational Physics [13L, 39P]

For course description see PHY307H1.

Exclusion: PHY307H1

Prerequisite: PHY 308H1/309H1 or enrollment in Biophysics program

PHY408H1 Times Series Analysis [13L, 26P]

For course description see PHY308H1.

Exclusion: PHY308H1

Prerequisite: PHY 307H1/309H1

PHY409H1 Quantum Methods Using Computer Algebra [26L, 26P]

For course description see PHY309H1.

Exclusion: PHY309H1

Prerequisite: PHY 307H1/308H1

PHY426H1 Advanced Physics Laboratory II [150P]

Prerequisite: PHY 326H1

PHY428H1 Advanced Physics Laboratory III [150P]

Prerequisite: PHY 426H1/325Y1

PHY429H1 Advanced Physics Laboratory IV [150P]

Experiments in these advanced laboratory courses are designed to form a bridge to current experimental research. A wide range of experiments relevant to modern research in physics is available. These courses are a continuation of PHY326, but students have more freedom to progressively focus on specific areas of physics or to do extended experiments or projects.

The lab is open from 9:00am. - 5:00pm, Monday to Friday.

Prerequisite: PHY 428H1

JGP438H1 Shallow Crust Geophysics [26L, 52P]

An introduction to the geophysical exploration of the subsurface. Topics covered include gravity, seismic, magnetic, electrical and electromagnetic surveying and their application in prospecting, hydrogeology, and environmental assessments. This course is intended primarily for geological engineering and geology students.

Exclusion: PHY496H1

Prerequisite: GLG306H1; MAT223H1/235Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1/132H1/152H1 or permission of instructor

PHY445H1 Medical Imaging [26L, 20P, 13T]

The mathematical, physical and engineering basis for medical imaging is introduced by combining the mathematical description of linear systems with the physics of imaging systems utilizing x-rays, ultrasound, and magnetic resonance techniques. The combination of mathematics and physics that has led to the development of modern medical imaging systems is emphasized. Data for problem sets and labs will be processed using MATLAB software. Students not in a physics specialist program should consult the lecturer about the recommended background

See Course Website at <http://www.ecf.utoronto.ca/apsc/courses/bme595f> for textbook and references

Prerequisite: MAT244H1/APM346H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1; PHY238Y1/251H1

Recommended preparation: PHY307H1/308H1

PHY457H1 Quantum Mechanics II [26L, 13T]

Quantum dynamics in Heisenberg and Schrödinger Pictures; WKB approximation; Variational Method; Time-Independent Perturbation Theory; Spin; Addition of Angular Momentum; Time-Dependent Perturbation Theory; Scattering.

Prerequisite: PHY355H1

PHY459H1 Macroscopic Physics [26L, 13T]

Thermal equilibrium and temperature; the three laws of thermodynamics; entropy and free energy, phases and phase transitions; Fluid dynamics; the Euler and Navier-Stokes equations; vorticity, waves; stability and instability; turbulence.

Prerequisite: PHY252H1, 351H1

PHY460H1 Nonlinear Physics [26L]

Nonlinear oscillator; nonlinear differential equations and fixed point analysis; stability and bifurcation; Fourier spectrum; Poincare sections; attractors and aperiodic attractors; KAM theorem; logistic maps and chaos; characterization of chaotic attractors; Benard-Rayleigh convection; Lorenz system.

Prerequisite: PHY351H1

PHY471Y1 Supervised Reading in Physics [TBA]

PHY472H1 Supervised Reading in Physics [TBA]

These self-study courses are similar to PHY371Y1/372H1, at a higher level.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

PHY478HI Undergraduate Research Project [TBA]

PHY479YI Undergraduate Research Project [TBA]

An introduction to research in Physics. For further information contact the Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

FOURTH-YEAR OPTIONAL ADVANCED PHYSICS COURSES

Note

The Department of Physics offers senior undergraduate students a set of specialized optional courses. NONE of these courses are required to complete a Specialist Program in Physics but taking several of these courses is recommended strongly to students wishing to pursue graduate studies.

Note

Most Advanced Courses are offered every year, but some are not. Please check the Physics Department website for current offerings. It is the student's responsibility to ensure they have adequate preparation for any of the Advanced courses. Please contact the course instructor or the Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies for more information.

PHY480HI Basic Statistical Mechanics [26L]

Classical and quantum statistical mechanics of noninteracting systems; the statistical basis of thermodynamics; ensembles, partition function; thermodynamic equilibrium; stability and fluctuations; formulation of quantum statistics; theory of simple gases; ideal Bose and Fermi systems.

PHY483HI Relativity Theory I [26L]

Basis to Einstein's theory: differential geometry, tensor analysis, gravitational physics leading to General Relativity. Theory starting from solutions of Schwarzschild, Kerr, etc.

PHY484HI Relativity Theory II [26L]

Applications of General Relativity to Astrophysics and Cosmology. Introduction to black holes, large-scale structure of the universe.

PHY485HI Modern Optics [26L]

Basic optics and imaging, manipulation of polarization, diffraction theory, Gaussian beams, laser resonators, semiclassical laser theory and ultrafast pulse generation. Selected reviews from the range of modern areas of research, e.g. laser cooling, photonic bandgap structures, extreme optics, quantum information, and other topics.

Prerequisite: PHY353HI, 355HI

PHY487HI Condensed Matter Physics [26L]

Introduction to the concepts used in the modern treatment of solids. The student is assumed to be familiar with elementary quantum mechanics. Topics include: crystal structure, the reciprocal lattice, crystal binding, the free electron model, electrons in periodic potential, lattice vibrations, electrons and holes, semiconductors, metals.

PHY489HI Introduction to High Energy Physics [26L]

This course surveys the experimental basis and theoretical framework of the "Standard Model" of Particle Physics and its possible extensions. Topics include the standard electroweak model, scattering and parton distributions, strong interactions and quantum chromodynamics.

PHY491HI Current Interpretations of Quantum Mechanics [26L, 13T]

Review of conventional, textbook quantum mechanics. Formal measurement theory and wave function collapse; quantum states and nonseparability, violation of local causality, Bell theorems, "quantum tricks", decoherence and the emergence of classical behaviour. Hidden variables, deBroglie-Bohm theory and generalizations, many-worlds interpretation and other theories of "beables". Consistent histories approach of Omnes and Gell-Mann and Hartle; nature of "True" and "Reliable" statements.
Prerequisite: PHY457HI

PHY493HI Geophysical Imaging I [26L]

This course covers wavefield and ray approximation methods for imaging the interior of the Earth (including hydrocarbon reservoirs and mineral deposits) using seismology.

PHY494HI Geophysical Imaging II [26L]

How to investigate Earth structure at depths ranging from metres to tens of kilometres using gravity, magnetic, electrical, electromagnetic and nuclear geophysical methods. Current methodologies and the theoretical basis for them are presented.

PHY495HI Experimental Global Geophysics [26L]

This course deals with the numerical analysis of data associated with space geodesy, earthquake seismology, geomagnetism and palaeomagnetism, isotope geochronology, as well as numerical simulations of a wide variety of geodynamic processes (e.g. mantle convection, post-glacial rebound, Earth tides).
Co-requisite: PHY359HI

PHY496HI Experimental Applied Geophysics [39P]

A laboratory course (with introductory lectures) dealing with physical methods for exploring Earth structure; i.e., seismic, gravity, magnetic, electrical, electromagnetic, and nuclear methods. It is designed to give "hands on" experience with the techniques of geophysical data analysis as well as data acquisition.

Exclusion: JGP438HI

Co-requisite: PHY493HI/494HI

PHY498HI Advanced Atmospheric Physics [26L]

A preparatory course for research in experimental and theoretical atmospheric physics. Content will vary from year to year. Themes may include techniques for remote sensing of the Earth's atmosphere and surface; theoretical atmosphere-ocean dynamics; the physics of clouds, precipitation, and convection in the Earth's atmosphere.

Sponsored by the Departments of Astronomy & Astrophysics, Chemistry, Geology and Physics

The Planetary Science Program is an interdisciplinary program sponsored by the Departments of Astronomy & Astrophysics, Chemistry, Geology and Physics. It focuses mainly on the study of the planets in our own solar system, but extrasolar planets are also discussed. The aim is to provide information about different techniques for studying the nature and origin of planets and planetary systems.

Students enrolled in this program must consult the undergraduate secretary of one of the participating departments for advice on the selection of courses. Students interested in pursuing graduate studies in one of these disciplines should include core courses from the appropriate department(s) in their course selection.

Specialist Program:

(14 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

Enrolment in the Planetary Science Specialist program is open to students who have completed four full course equivalents.

First Year:

(CHM 138HI, 139HI)/151YI; MAT 135YI/137YI; PHY(131HI, 132HI)/(151HI, 152HI) (MAT 137YI and PHY 151HI, 152HI preferred)

First or Second Year:

MAT 223HI/240HI

Second or Third Year:

AST 221HI; CHM 225YI/(PHY252HI, 256HI); CHM 238YI; GLG 206HI, 216HI/207HI; MAT 235YI/237YI (MAT 237YI preferred); MAT 244HI; PHY 251HI, 255HI

Third and/or Fourth Years:

1. PHY 315HI, 359HI
2. At least three of AST 325HI; CHM 327HI, 338HI; GLG 318HI, 440HI, 465HI; PHY 351HI, 407HI, 408HI, 499HI
3. One additional 300+series course; consult with appropriate Undergraduate Secretary for course selection

Fourth Year:

PLN 420HI, 425HI

Planetary Science Courses

---

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PLN courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

PLN420HI Interdisciplinary Seminar in Planetary Science [26S]

Discussion of topics of current interest in planetary science with emphasis on papers published in scientific journals. This course is intended for students in the final year of the Planetary Science specialist program. Students must enrol with the course coordinator.

PLN425HI Research in Planetary Science [130P]

Research report by student in consultation with individual staff member in Astronomy, Chemistry, Geology or Physics. This course is intended for students in the final year of the Planetary Science specialist program. Students must enrol with the course coordinator.

The study of Political Science at the University of Toronto is wide-ranging and diverse. Courses are offered in political theory, Canadian government, international relations, and the politics of societies that are industrialized, developing, and in transition. Many courses deal with issues (such as environmental politics, diversity, peace and conflict, globalization) that cut across fields. Course offerings are designed to introduce students to Political Science at the first year level, provide the foundations for further study at the second year level, and provide specialized lecture and seminar courses at the intermediate and advanced levels. Studies in Political Science provide students with a good grounding in one of the chief social science disciplines and an opportunity to explore the issues that confront us as individuals, groups, societies and on the international level as we prepare for the twenty-first century. In addition to the materials covered, Political Science courses are set up to offer students an opportunity to learn writing and analytical skills to support a challenging and diverse career.

Courses in Political Science dovetail with programs in many other disciplines of the social sciences and the humanities: Economics, Sociology, History, Philosophy, and Psychology. A student interested in Canadian studies or urban problems, for example, would be well advised to choose courses from all these disciplines, as would someone interested in international affairs or foreign area studies. A student planning graduate work in the social sciences should seek to obtain a basic understanding of each of these disciplines.

The Department publishes a Handbook for undergraduate students that provides detailed information on our programs, extended descriptions of courses, and background information on the interests of our instructors, and advice on how to put together a program. Copies may be obtained from the Department Office on the third floor of Sidney Smith Hall, or from the offices of College Registrars. The Association of Political Science Students, the students' organization for Political Science undergraduates, has an office in Room 1091, Sidney Smith Hall.

Political Science (Arts program)

---

Enrolment in the Political Science Specialist, Major, and Joint Specialist Programs is limited. Students enrolling at the end of first year (or four full courses or their equivalent) must obtain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0 and a mark of at least 67% in one full Political Science course or the equivalent in half courses. Students applying to enrol after second year (or eight full courses or their equivalent) must obtain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.3 and a mark of at least 70% in each of two full Political Science courses or the equivalent in half courses.

Specialist program:

(10 POL full courses or their equivalent including two 300+ series courses and two 400-series courses)

Notes:

1. At least one course in Canadian politics must be completed. The Canadian politics requirement will be satisfied by only POL103Y1/214Y1.
2. Students must complete courses in at least four fields: Canadian politics, political theory, and two of international relations, comparative politics (industrial), comparative politics (developing).

First Year:

POL103Y1/105Y1/108Y1

Higher Years:

1. POL200Y1, 242Y1, 320Y1
2. Two full courses from the following: POL201Y1/(203Y1/207Y1)/208Y1/214Y1/215Y1
3. Four additional POL courses

Major program:

(7 POL full courses or their equivalent including at least two 300+series courses)

Note:

At least one course in Canadian politics must be completed. The Canadian politics requirement will be satisfied by only POL103Y1/214Y1.

First Year:

POL103Y1/105Y1/108Y1

Higher Years:

1. POL200Y1
2. Two full courses from the following: POL201Y1/(203Y1/207Y1)/208Y1/214Y1/215Y1
3. Three additional POL courses

Minor program:

(4 POL full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with a minimum grade of 65% in a POL course; and all students need to have completed 4 full course equivalents toward a degree.

Note:

The four POL full courses or their equivalent to include at least one 300+series course and no more than one at the 100-level.

Political Science Courses

SSCI99H1/Y1 First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

---

PLEASE NOTE:

Not all courses are offered every year.

Almost all upper-level POL courses have prerequisites. Students without course prerequisites will be removed at any time they are discovered.

---

100-Series Courses

Note:

Students may enrol in only one of the following courses: POL103Y, 105Y, 108Y. All 100-series POL courses are mutually exclusive. Students enrolled in more than one of these courses (or completed one of these courses or a previous POL 100-series course with a mark of at least 50%) will be removed at any time they are discovered.

POL103Y1 Canada in Comparative Perspective [52L, 26T]

This course introduces students to politics using a comparative approach; it examines the variety of political regimes that exist around the world, with particular attention to Canada. Emphasis is placed on how distinctive regimes reflect the different past and present social and economic settings of countries.
Exclusion: POL100Y, 102Y, 105Y, 108Y, 180H, 181H

POL105Y1 Ethics and the Public Sphere [52L, 26T]

An introduction to fundamental questions about the relation between ethics and politics. Do the constraints of political life entail a different set of ethical standards for individuals and groups than in other domains of life? How do various kinds of ethical issues become political ones? How should ethical disagreements be handled politically?
Exclusion: POL100Y, 102Y, 103Y, 108Y, 180H, 181H

POL108Y1 Global Networks [52L, 26T]

This course introduces students to the theory and practice of global networks and how networks differ from states and markets. The course begins with an overview of the differences between states, markets and networks in global politics. It then turns to several cases of contemporary networks, including terrorist, civil society, ethnic, and financial networks. The course concludes with an examination of the many challenges of regulating, hacking and holding accountable global networks in the 21st century.
Exclusion: POL100Y, 102Y, 103Y, 105Y, 180H, 181H, A83H/A84H

200-Series Courses

POL200YI Political Theory: Visions of the Just/Good Society [52L, 26T]

A selective presentation of critical encounters between philosophy and politics, dedicated to the quest for articulation and founding of the just/good society. Among the theorists examined are Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Hobbes and Locke.

POL201YI Politics of Development: Issues and Controversies [52L, 13T]

A survey of the developmental challenges facing societies in Latin America, the Caribbean, Asia and Africa, and the efficacy of various development strategies and policies in meeting these challenges.

Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science

POL203YI U.S. Government and Politics [52L, 26T]

An introduction to U.S. government and politics within an analytical framework that helps us understand how institutions structure incentives and decisions in the U.S. system. This class examines the political forces that forged contemporary American institutions to understand how these political institutions continue to provide stability while allowing opportunities for political change. We investigate whether these forces make American institutions different and why. Special attention is paid to current events and contemporary policy dilemmas.

Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science/permission of the instructor.

POL207YI Politics in Europe (formerly POL302Y) [52L, 26T]

An introduction to comparative politics with a focus on Western Europe: types of democracy, changing economic and social governance, organized interests in Europe, party landscape, social movements. Special attention to Germany, Britain, France, Italy, and the European Union.

Exclusion: POL302Y

Prerequisite: A course in POL/EUR200Y

Recommended preparation: General history of Europe

POL208YI Introduction to International Relations [52L, 26T]

The course analyzes the impact of the individual, the nation-state, and the international and transnational systems on international conflict and conflict resolution, and examines the major problems the international community confronts in a rapidly changing international environment.

Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science/permission of the instructor.

Recommended preparation: Prior reading or study of modern history

POL214YI Canadian Government and Politics [52L, 26T]

Canada's political system including the Constitution and institutional pillars of governance: cabinet and parliament, federalism, the Charter of Rights. Topics include: political parties, the electoral system, policymaking and public administration. Issues include identity, citizenship, ideology and political culture, regionalism, language politics, aboriginals, multiculturalism, gender, media, and interest groups.

Exclusion: POL 100Y, 102Y

POL215YI Politics and Transformation of Asia-Pacific [52L, 26T]

This course provides a comparative analysis of selected countries of East and Southeast Asia, with an emphasis on changing views of citizenship as they have been shaped by political, socio-economic and cultural transformations in the region. The first term deals with the idea of the developmental state, inequality, democratization and nationalism. The second term takes up questions related to governance and corruption, culture, demographic changes and nascent forms of regionalism and globalization.

Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science

POL242YI Introduction to Research Methods [52L, 26T]

This course is aimed at helping Political Science students to understand and use the quantitative methods and research designs now widely employed throughout the discipline.

Prerequisite: A course in POL

POL299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

---

300-Series Courses

Note:

Enrolment in POL 300-series courses is limited. See Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

POL300HI Topics in Comparative Politics [26L]

POL300YI Topics in Comparative Politics [52L]

An introduction to the field of comparative politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: A course in POL

JMC301YI State and Society in 20th Century China [52L]

This course explores China's efforts to construct a modern and effective political order in the face of powerful demographic and revolutionary challenges. The clash between competing ideologies, political and social movements and institutional alternatives in the context of rapid social and economic change are analyzed. (Given by the Departments of East Asian Studies and Political Science)

Prerequisite: EAS102Y/POL215Y/permission of the instructor
This is a Humanities and Social Science course

POL301YI Government and Politics in Africa [52L]

The continuing relevance of pre-colonial Africa; the nature and legacy of colonial rule; African nationalism and the consolidation of power in the newly-independent states; government, party and the people; the role of the military; national integration; dependency and neo-colonialism; socialism and development; democracy and human rights.

Prerequisite: A course in POL

JHP304YI Ukraine: Politics, Economy and Society (formerly JHP 204Y) [52L]

The history of Ukraine from earliest times to the present. Economic, political, and cultural movements; Kievan Rus', Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth, Cossack state, national revival, twentieth century statehood, and unification. As this course is designed as an introductory course, the professor welcomes first- and second-year students to enroll, as well as upper-level students. (Given by the Departments of History and Political Science)

Exclusion: JHP204Y

POL304HI Ethnicity and Politics in Canada (formerly POL304YI) [26L]

Development of political institutions / policies to manage ethnic relations; political strategies and resources available to ethnic and national minorities for achieving goals. Case studies: self-government and First Nations; renewed federalism/sovereignty association and Quebecois; multiculturalism and minority rights.

Exclusion: POL304Y/SOC210Y

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y

POL305YI Politics and Society in Latin America [52L]

The colonial heritage, the failure of nation-states to develop as integrated and autonomous power structures, dependent capitalism and political order, contrasting types of domination, rigid monopolization and the flexible use of the state by the ruling sectors, national revolution and the socialist alternative.

Prerequisite: A course in POL

POL311YI Ideas and Ideologies in Canadian Politics [52L]

A study of the ideas that underlie Canadian politics emphasizing the similarities and differences between political parties. The sources and nature of liberalism, conservatism, socialism, nationalism, and multiculturalism in Canada.

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y

POL312YI Canadian Foreign Policy [52L]

Canada's response to the challenges of globalization and the post-cold war world. The major alternative theoretical approaches, the changing doctrines and patterns of Canadian foreign policy from 1945 to the present, the making of Canadian foreign policy, relations with the United States, within NAFTA, and with other global regions.

Prerequisite: POL108Y/208Y

POL313YI Politics and Psychology [52L]

Psychological implications of political theories. Attention to alternative approaches to research and theorizing. The bearing of psychological perspectives on political issues.

Prerequisite: A course in POL/PSY

Prerequisite: POL207Y/324Y/354H/354Y/HIS344Y/353Y/a course in Soviet, post-Soviet or European politics

JHP454YI Twentieth Century Ukraine [52S]

World War I and the Russian Revolution: the Ukrainian independence movement; the Soviet Ukraine and west Ukrainian lands during the interwar period; World War II and the German occupation; the Soviet Ukraine before and after the death of Stalin. Socio-economic, cultural, and political developments. (Given by the Departments of History and Political Science) (Offered every three years)

Prerequisite: A course in Modern European, East European, or Russian history or politics

JPF455YI Cities [52L/S]

Examines disciplinary and developmental boundaries relating to cities. By bringing together a cross-disciplinary faculty who focus on cities within Political Science, History, Philosophy, Literature, Design, Environment and Health, Geography or Social Work, the course explores inter-disciplinary city issues: global change; environment; economic adjustment; state reform and city politics; citizenship; community development; economic development; physical form, territory and political-economy of cities. (Given by the Departments of Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Urban Studies, Faculty of Social Work and Faculty of Architecture, Landscape and Design)

Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs/permission of instructor

POL455YI Craft of Political Research [52S]

Political Science is defined by the content of its investigations, not its methods. In this class, we will explore the conceptual, analytic and practical issues arising in the conduct of research in Political Science. With illustrations provided by guest speakers sharing their own research, the class contrasts and compares the diverse approaches taken by Political Scientists when they conduct their research to understand common dilemmas faced by researchers. The class culminates with a research design proposal incorporating knowledge of the approaches covered during the class.

Recommended preparation: This class is designed to help prepare students for graduate school in Political Science or those students interested in a "capstone" class at the culmination of their studies. No prior knowledge of qualitative or quantitative methods is assumed.

Prerequisite: Two POL 200-level or higher courses/permission of the instructor

POL458HI The Political Economy of International Trade [26S]

The course explains why countries trade by looking at historical and contemporary trends in international trade. The course places particular emphasis on the interaction between political and economic processes in advancing trade. An important theme throughout the course is how the distribution of gains is connected to system stability.

Exclusion: POLC95H3

Prerequisite: ECO100Y and POL208Y and HIS344Y/permission of the instructor

POL459YI The Military Instrument of Foreign Policy [52S]

The relationship of military force to politics: Nuclear war and deterrence, conventional war, revolutionary war, terrorism and counter-insurgency are examined from the perspectives of the U.S., Russia and other contemporary military powers.

Prerequisite: POL208Y

JUP460HI Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict [26S]

JUP460YI Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict [52S]

A colloquium (fall term) and research seminar (spring term, JUP460Y only) on security ontology and various meanings of security. Topics to be considered include planetary, ecospheric, state, societal, and human security. (Offered by the Department of Political Science and University College)

Exclusion: Students are not allowed to take both H and Y courses

Prerequisite: POL208Y and UNI360Y/permission of the instructor

POL460HI Studies in Modern Political Theory [26S]

Studies on a modern political thinker or thinkers since Machiavelli.

Exclusion: POL460Y

Prerequisite: POL320Y/323H/323Y/330H/330Y

POL462YI Comparative Political Parties and Elections [52S]

Political parties and party systems in Canada, United States and selected European countries. Electoral systems, problems of representation, voting and elections and processes of political change in western democracies.

Exclusion: POL462H

Prerequisite: POL103Y/207Y/356Y

POL463YI The Political Philosophy of Political Economy [26L,26S]

Lectures relate economic organization to philosophical interpretations of community and citizenship. Philosophers include Plato, Aristotle, Calvin, Smith, Kant, Hegel, Marx, Habermas, Rawls and Hayek. Seminars interpret critical moments of 20th century economic history from the standpoint of philosophy. Does philosophy clarify or obscure the meaning of economic history?

Exclusion: POL478Y5

Prerequisite: POL320Y/ECO302Y/ECO342Y

Recommended preparation: POL320Y/a course in 20th century economic history

POL464HI G8 and Global Governance I [26S]

In the post-cold war, globalizing international system, the institutions of the G8 are emerging as an effective centre of global governance. Alternative conceptions of global governance and theories of international cooperation are used to explain G8 performance. National approaches to G8 diplomacy are assessed.

Prerequisite: POL108Y/208Y

Recommended preparation: POL312Y/324Y/326Y/341H/342H/342Y/343Y

POL465HI G8 and Global Governance II [26S]

The performance of the G8 and other international institutions in securing cooperation and compliance, and shaping international order in major contemporary issues of political economy (finance, trade, employment, development), security (arms control, regional security, democracy and human rights) and transnational global issues (environmental protection, drugs, crime, infectious disease).

Prerequisite: POL108Y/208Y

Recommended preparation: POL312Y/324Y/326Y/341H/342H/342Y/343Y

POL466HI Topics in International Politics III [26S]

For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL468HI Conflict and Conflict Management [26S]

This seminar examines the source of conflict and various methods of conflict management. It focuses on organized conflict, and the manner in which such conflicts appear in character or scope in the contemporary international system.

Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs

Recommended preparation: POL208Y

POL469HI Ethics and International Relations [26S]

The course aims to explore the requirements of justice and fairness in international affairs. It is common to theorize international relations in terms of interests and power. But even the most cursory look at what important actors actually do in their international interactions reveals that they use normative language all the time. This has not gone unnoticed, with investigations of ethics in the international arena multiplying in recent years. Drawing on readings from political philosophy, legal theory, and normative international relations theory, the course will take up practical ethical dilemmas encountered in world affairs. The main focus of the course will be on institutions. Examples will be drawn from the issue areas of trade, health, and the environment, among others.

Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL470YI Contemporary Issues in Foreign Policy [52S]

This senior seminar involves a critical assessment of current foreign policy issues and contemporary world problems. Issues and case studies to be analyzed include: 1. International military interventions to respond to imminent threats or humanitarian crises, issues of legitimacy and effectiveness. e.g., Iraq, Afghanistan, Kosovo, Haiti. 2. Canada-US relations in international crisis management, the track record and the way ahead. 3. Globalization, international terrorism, and their effects on sovereignty, diplomacy and international institutions. Prerequisite: POL208Y

JPJ471HI Constitutional Politics [26S]

Explores fundamental issues in the design and amendment of constitutions, with particular reference to divided societies such as Canada, Belgium, Spain and South Africa. Includes both the processes and outcomes of constitutional politics, and their implications for conflict management, democracy, and effective governance. (Given by the Faculty of Law and the Department of Political Science)

Exclusion: POL471H

Prerequisite: Two 200+ courses in comparative or Canadian politics

POL471HI The Political Thought of George Grant [26S]

George Grant's political, philosophical, and religious thought as found in his six short books and some supplementary readings. Liberalism, modernity, and technology from the stand point of political philosophy and Christian revelation.

Recommended Preparation: POL 200Y and 320Y

Prerequisite: POL 200Y/320Y

POL472HI The Comparative Political Economy of Industrial Societies [26S]

Topics discussed in this seminar course will include the historical origins of advanced capitalist political economies, the 'Varieties of Capitalism' debate, current trajectories of different political economies, labour politics and regulation, the politics of macro-economic policy, the political economy of growth, and Canada's political economy.

POL474HI Politics and Policy Analysis [26S]

Major theories of public policy-making and related approaches to policy analysis are examined from the perspective of political science. Key contributions to the theoretical literature pertaining to leading models are read and discussed. Models of public policy-making are successively applied to analysis of cases of Canadian and comparative policy development.

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y/317Y/352H

POL475HI Experiencing Public Policy-Making [26S]

Examines how policies are developed and implemented, and seeks to improve students' analytic, writing and presentational skills. Through readings and role-playing sessions, exposes students to key challenges confronting policy-makers: preparing for government transitions, undertaking environmental scanning and scenario planning, evaluating alternative instruments for delivery programs, establishing consultation processes, restructuring government bureaucracies, and ensuring accountability.

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y; one POL 300-level course in Canadian politics

POL477HI Advanced Topics in International Political Economy [26S]

This course is designed for advanced students with serious interests in the subfield of international political economy. Specific topics covered will vary, but all involve the deep interplay between politics and economics in the contemporary world.

Political Science

Exclusion: POL454Y

Prerequisite: POL208Y; ECO100Y

POL479HI Topics in Middle East Politics [26S]

This course examines the contemporary politics of the Middle East and North Africa. It seeks to examine the relative importance of political, socio-economic and ideological factors in the context of such issues as the resilience of authoritarianism, the rise of civil society, and the resurgence of Islamic activism. Theoretical discussion is followed by case studies.

Prerequisite: POL201Y/NMC217Y; minimum 14 FCEs

POL480YI Pluralism, Justice, and Equality (formerly POL480HI) [52S]

Historically, liberalism has coped with the fact of social difference through doctrines of colour - or difference - blindness. Recent feminist and other critics of liberalism have argued that liberal conceptions of justice and impartiality fail to treat members of marginalized groups as equals. This course explores both sides of these debates.

Exclusion: POL480HI

Prerequisite: POL200Y/320Y/JPP343Y

POL482HI The Politics of Disease and Epidemic [26S]

Considers how disease and epidemics intersect with broader processes of development. Introduces health issues in the developing world. Traces major advances - and setbacks - in improving the health of developing country populations; comparatively considers a number of modern-day and historic epidemics including HIV/AIDS and the Black Death.

Prerequisite: POL201Y or equivalent; minimum 14 FCEs.

POL483HI Cosmopolitanism [26S]

This course covers growing debates in political theory on the issue of cosmopolitanism. Themes include the basis of universal obligation, its compatibility with nationalism and its implications for global justice. These themes will be explored historically, transculturally and through the lens of post-colonial theory.

Prerequisite: POL200Y

POL484HI Topics in Political Thought I [26S]

POL484YI Topics in Political Thought I [52S]

A seminar on a central problem in political thought. It proceeds through the reading of a small number of major texts. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: POL320Y/permission of instructor

POL485HI Topics in Political Thought II [26S]

POL485YI Topics in Political Thought II [52S]

A seminar on a central problem in political thought. It proceeds through the reading of a small number of major texts. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: POL320Y/permission of instructor

POL486HI Topics in International Politics I [26S]

POL486YI Topics in International Politics I [52S]

For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL487HI Topics in International Politics II [26S]

POL487YI Topics in International Politics II [52S]

For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor.

Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL488HI Topics in African Politics I [26S]

POL488YI Topics in African Politics I [52S]

In depth examination of specific themes relating to contemporary African politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: HIS395Y/POL201Y/301Y; minimum 14 FCEs

POL489HI Topics in African Politics II [26S]

POL489YI Topics in African Politics II [52S]

In depth examination of specific themes relating to contemporary African politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: HIS395Y/POL201Y/301Y; minimum 14 FCEs

POL490HI Topics in Canadian Politics I [26S]

POL490YI Topics in Canadian Politics I [52S]

Examines in depth enduring and emerging issues in Canadian politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y, one other POL course in Canadian politics or permission of instructor

POL491HI Topics in Canadian Politics II [26S]

POL491YI Topics in Canadian Politics II [52S]

Examines in depth enduring and emerging issues in Canadian politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y, one other POL course in Canadian politics or permission of instructor

POL492HI Topics in Comparative Politics IV [26S]

POL492YI Topics in Comparative Politics IV [52S]

Selected issues in comparative politics. Varies from year to year.

Prerequisite: Two POL courses in comparative politics or permission of the instructor

JPJ494HI Innovation and Knowledge Transfer in City Regions [26S]

This course surveys two of the key themes related to the process of innovation in a knowledge-based economy: the process by which new knowledge is generated and effectively transferred to those organizations with the potential to commercialize it; and secondly, the paradoxical relationship between knowledge creation and proximity in a modern global economy. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: LAW 453HS

Prerequisite: CSC300H/ECO360Y/GGR431H/ HPS 202H/431H/ POL218Y5/ a 300 or 400 level course in comparative politics (industrial countries)/POL409H/SOC356Y

POL495YI Independent Studies [TBA]

Open only when a Political Science full-time faculty member is willing and available to supervise. Students must find an appropriate supervisor in the Department of Political Science and obtain the approval of the Director of Undergraduate Studies before enrolling. Obtain details and an application form from the Department Undergraduate Office.

Exclusion: POL496H/497H

POL496HI Independent Studies [TBA]

POL498HI Intensive Course [TBA]

POL498YI Intensive Course [TBA]

Content in any given year depends on instructor. Intensive courses are offered by distinguished visitors from around the world. Students in their 4th year are strongly encouraged to take advantage of this unique opportunity to study with one or more outstanding visiting international scholars that the Department brings from time to time. The intensive course usually runs for approximately 3-4 weeks.

POL499YI Senior Thesis and Thesis Seminar [TBA]

A 40 to 60 page (15,000 to 20,000 word) research paper (75% of final mark) written under the supervision of one faculty member and a companion thesis seminar (25% of final mark). The seminar provides a forum for students to periodically present and discuss their on-going research and to examine issues and approaches related to the structure, organization and presentation of the thesis.

Exclusion: POL 495/496/497 (taken in the same year)

Prerequisite: 4th year status in Specialist or Joint Specialist programs in Political Science; 3.0 GPA in Political Science courses; supervisor's approval; an approved thesis proposal.

Portuguese is spoken by more than one hundred and seventy million people on four continents: Europe, Africa, Asia, and America. Twenty percent of all residents of the Western Hemisphere are Brazilians, who attest to the truth that one out of every five Americans - North, Central, South - speaks Portuguese as his or her native language.

The literature of Portugal has a tradition that goes back as far as the twelfth century, and the country's discoveries in the Renaissance led it to all corners of the globe. In the last two decades Portugal has given to Canada many thousands of new citizens, and Brazil is attracting the attention of Canadians through its vast potential as a land of culture, of natural resources, and of industry.

In addition to a full range of courses in language, Portuguese studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the major trends and issues of Luso-Brazilian literature and culture and serve the programs in Latin-American Studies, European Studies and in African Studies.

The Department encourages students to consider completing part of their course work at a university in Portugal or Brazil.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Portuguese.

To complete the language citation in Portuguese students will normally complete the two language-sequence courses that follow the introductory level:

PRT220Y1

PRT320Y1

Students should note that, as explained on the page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Notes

1. All courses taught in Portuguese unless otherwise specified.
  2. The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course best suited to their linguistic preparation.

PRT100YI Beginners Portuguese [52L, 26P]

An introduction to the main elements of the language with emphasis on oral and written practice. (May not be taken by students who, in the judgement of the Department, qualify for entry into PRT110YI)

Exclusion: OAC Portuguese or equivalent

PRT110YI Elementary Portuguese [52L, 26P]

An introduction to Portuguese for students who speak or understand Portuguese but have not formally studied it. (May not be taken by students who, in the judgement of the Department, qualify for entry into PRT220YI)

Exclusion: OAC Portuguese or equivalent

Prerequisite: A familiarity with Portuguese

PRT217HI Language Practice [26L]

Communication practice in small groups, with an emphasis on skills in speaking, listening, and reading. Selective review of grammatical structures and active vocabulary, with readings from Portuguese authors.

Prerequisite: PRT100Y/110Y or permission of the Department

PRT220YI Intermediate Portuguese [52L]

Students enlarge their vocabulary and improve their oral and writing skills through reading, composition and translation.

Prerequisite: OAC Portuguese or equivalent/PRT100Y/110Y

PRT250HI Portuguese Culture & Civilization [26L]

A survey of historical and cultural trends in Portugal from the Middle Ages to the present. Art and music are studied in addition to historical/cultural movements to gain a perspective of the uniqueness of Portugal both within Iberia and in Europe in general. (Offered in alternate years)

PRT252HI Portuguese Island Culture [26L]

Study of Portuguese literature, art, and culture in the context of colonization and immigration, with a specific emphasis on the islands of the Portuguese Atlantic. Readings in the cultural heritage of island settlements, and in diasporic movements to other countries. (Offered in alternate years)

PRT255HI The Brazilian Puzzle: Culture and Identity [26L]

Taught in English, this course examines the historical and cultural contexts of Brazilian identity. The impact of colonial history on issues such as race, religion and regionalism is explored. The course focuses on the 19th and 20th Centuries: Positivism, Modernism, the Anthropophagous Movement, music and Cinema Novo are discussed. (Offered in alternate years)

PRT258HI Introduction to Luso-Brazilian Studies (formerly PRT258YI) [26L]

The introductory study of literary texts and consideration of the various ways authors express and situate themselves in culture. Semiotics, gender, the literary canon, advertising, the nature of literary language, and cinema.

Exclusion: PRT258YI

Co-requisite: PRT220YI

PRT299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

PRT320YI Composition and Oral Practice [52L]

Intensive practice in written and oral Portuguese for the advanced student. Reading and discussion of contemporary literature.

Prerequisite: PRT220YI

PRT342HI Machado de Assis: The Creation of the Modern Self (formerly PRT455YI) [26L]

Beginning with Memorias Postumas de Bras Cubas, Machado de Assis developed the art of creating characters who prefigure the 20th century self: contradictory, often delusional. His novels destroy whatever certainties the late 19th century offered. The course examines the transformation of Machado through readings of his novels. (Taught in English)

Exclusion: PRT 455YI

PRT351HI Discovery and Conquest: Literature and Nationhood (formerly PRT351YI) [26L]

A study of the driving ideologies behind the "Age of Discoveries." Close scrutiny of key texts reveals how the ideas of displacement, sex, violence, gender, and colonization play crucial roles in the establishment and maintenance of nationhood and nationality in Renaissance Portugal. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: PRT351YI

Prerequisite: PRT210Y/220YI, 258HI

PRT355HI Topics in Brazilian Studies [26L]

In years when this course is offered, topics are described in the departmental brochure.

Prerequisite: PRT258HI

PRT357HI Modern and Contemporary Brazilian Literature (formerly PRT457YI) [52L]

Focus on modern and contemporary Brazilian literature and its social contexts, and examination of the relationship between literary movements and Brazilian cinema, music and art.

(Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: PRT457YI

Prerequisite: PRT220YI, 258HI

PRT359HI From Pessoa to Saramago (formerly PRT456YI) [52L]

An examination of Portuguese literature as it confronts the changing social, political, and aesthetic currents of the twentieth century. The Orpheu movement of Fernando and Sa-Carneiro, Presenca and Neo-Realism as well as contemporary authors such as Lydia Jorge and Jose Saramago are studied. (Offered in alternate years)

Exclusion: PRT456YI

Prerequisite: PRT220YI, 258HI

PRT365HI The Rise of Modern Identity [52L]

Studies Portuguese and Brazilian Romanticism tracing the development of a new sense of personal and national identity in those countries as reflected in novels, poems and essays.

(Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: PRT258H or permission of instructor

PRT398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

PRT399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

PRT420YI Advanced Portuguese [52L]

A study of the more advanced areas of Portuguese grammar and language use. Discussion of issues relating to syntax, vocabulary and style as they arise in essays and readings of literary texts. The expressive resources of the language.

Introduction to the stylistic analysis of literary texts. Intensive written and oral practice. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: PRT320YI

PRT442HI Eça de Queiroz: Portugal in the Crosshairs [26L]

Whether writing about the adulterous and incestuous relationship between cousins, or the downfall of a great family, or later the transformation of a Parisian dandy into a robust Portuguese countryman, Eça had one great subject: Portugal. The course examines the shifting perspective of the country through close readings of novels.

Prerequisite: PRT 220YI, PRT 258HI

Exclusion: PRT 356YI and PRT455YI

PRT452HI Camões (formerly PRT352H) [26L]

A study of the works of Camões, including the entirety of Os Lusíadas, and a substantial portion of the lyrics and theatre.

(Offered in alternate years) (Taught in English)

Exclusion: PRT352H

Prerequisite: PRT220YI, 258HI

PRT454YI The Luso-Brazilian Novel [52L]

Fiction in Portugal and Brazil from the 19th century to the present. Naturalism, realism, the experimental novels of the 1920's, the novel of social protest. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: PRT220YI, 258HI

PRT458HI The Luso-Brazilian Short Story [26S]

The development of the Luso-Brazilian short story. Examination of theories of the genre as they relate to short stories of Machado de Assis, Eça de Queiroz, Graciliano Ramos, João

Guimaraes Rosa, Clarice Lispector and Miguel Torga. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: PRT220YI, 258HI

PRT490HI Independent Study [TBA]

Individual study with a member of staff on a topic of common interest including readings, discussion and written assignments.

Prerequisite: PRT320YI and written approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator

As an intellectual inquiry into an important dimension of human experience, the exploration of religion is intrinsically valuable and constitutes a rich resource for reflection on meaning in life and on personal growth. It also prepares students for a wide range of careers (e.g. social work, law, politics from the local to the international level, teaching, medicine, leadership in religious organizations). The academic study of religion, combined with appropriate language preparation, can also open out into graduate work leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. in the growing number of universities offering advanced graduate degrees in the field, and in the University's own Graduate Centre.

Historically, the academic study of religion has taken a variety of forms, each with its own rationale. The Department identifies itself with a model in which the major religious traditions (e.g. Buddhism, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism) are studied within a comparative frame. We employ and encourage a variety of approaches (e.g. historical, textual, social scientific) without sacrificing specialized skills and training. The diversity which characterizes this model is reflected in the variety of courses offered or cross-listed by the Department, and by the wide range of training and expertise of our faculty.

Programs are described in detail in the Departmental Handbook; it also includes a limited number of cross-listed courses offered by Colleges or departments such as East Asian Studies, History, Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations, Philosophy, and Sociology. Students aiming to complete any RLG program should consult the Undergraduate Administrator at least once a year for assistance in selecting courses that address the student's interests and fulfill the program's requirements.

RLG471HI Advanced Topics South Asian Studies [26L]

Content varies from year to year.

RLG472HI Religion and Aesthetics in South Asia [26S]

'Religion' and 'aesthetics' are sometimes constructed as separate categories, but in South Asia religion is not often conceptually distinct from an autonomous sphere of aesthetic reflection. In conversation with recent sociological, anthropological, and philosophical writings, we will explore this issue through careful study of a variety of Sanskrit sources: the epics, Abhinavagupta's commentary on the Natya Sastra, Vaisnava, Saiva, and Jaina appropriations of Sanskrit aesthetics and courtly poetry, and the works of Rabindranath Tagore. Students are encouraged to work with sources in the primary languages, although materials will also be provided in translation.

RLG482HI The Taking of Human Life [26S]

Frequently today in discussions in bioethics dealing with life and death, even secular thinkers invoke the concept of the "sanctity of human life." Yet that concept is clearly religious in origin. What do the three great monotheistic traditions have to say about this concept and its ethical significance?

RLG483HI Christian Political Philosophy [26S]

The writings of Simon Weil will be studied within the context of political theory and contemporary Christian philosophy. The basis for Weil's critique of the technological society will be examined.

RLG484HI Religion and the Environment [26S]

This course examines how religious concerns within various religious traditions interface with contemporary environmental issues. Particular attention is paid to the challenge posed to the human and religious values of these traditions by the present ecological crisis and some salient ethical and religious responses to this challenge.

RLG486HI Critiques of the Technological Society [26S]

Major twentieth-century critiques of the technological society through an examination of the philosophical and theological writings of George Grant, Jacques Ellul and Simone Weil. Their seminal critiques will be contrasted with the ethical analyses of Ursula Franklin, Albert Borgmann, Hans Jonas, and Zygmunt Bauman.

RLG487HI Liberation Theology [26S]

This course explores the work of these two seminal contemporary Christian thinkers, Gustavo Gutiérrez, founder of the liberation theology, and U.S. "geologist" Thomas Berry, a cultural historian and prime architect of "the new cosmology". The two thinkers highlight the conflict and convergence of social justice and ecological invitations within Christianity.

RLG490YI Individual Studies [52S]

RLG491YI Individual Studies [52S]

RLG492HI Individual Studies [26S]

RLG493HI Individual Studies [26S]

RLG494HI Individual Studies [26S]

Student-initiated projects supervised by members of the Department. The student must obtain both a supervisor's agreement and the Department's approval in order to register. The maximum number of Individual Studies one may take is two full course equivalents. Deadline for submitting applications to Department including supervisor's approval is the first week of classes of the session.

St. Michael's College offers a number of programs which emerge from its academic strength in various scholarly fields and reflect its centuries-old Christian intellectual traditions. Please consult the relevant brochures for more complete information on each program.

Book and Media Studies:

An interdisciplinary and historical investigation of the role of printing, books and reading in cultures past and present. Topics explored include: manuscript and book production, internet publishing, book illustrations, censorship, advertising, readership and electronic media.

Celtic Studies:

Examines the literature, languages, history, music, folklore and archaeology of the peoples of Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Investigates Celtic identities in the ancient and modern worlds, and explores the transmission of Irish, Scottish and Welsh traditions to Canada and the United States.

Christianity and Culture:

A multidisciplinary exploration of Christian traditions from artistic, literary, philosophical, theological, scientific, social and historical perspectives.

Christianity and Culture: Major program in Religious Education

This Major program is part of the Concurrent Teacher Education Program (CTEP) offered in partnership with the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE/UT) and is for those students preparing to become secondary school teachers of Religious Education in the Separate School Boards in Ontario. CTEP offers the students the opportunity to complete the HBA/HBSc degree and the BEd. The program is offered in partnership with OISE/UT. Complete description of the program may be found on the OISE website. Admission in CTEP is by application normally at the end of first year (or on completion of 4FCEs), when the Arts and Science subject POSTs are selected. All applicants must have a minimum CGPA of 2.0.

Mediaeval Studies:

An interdisciplinary treatment of the history, art, literature and thought of the Middle Ages.

St. Michael's also offers a number of courses, listed below, which form part of the above programs, or of the programs of other colleges and departments, or are a reflection of staff and student academic interests not always available in departmental course offerings.

Christianity and Culture Courses

SMC103Y1 Catholicism [52L, 26T]

An introduction to Catholic Christianity, to its history, institutions, and theology. The second part of the course examines the renewal effort of Vatican II and offers a contemporary Catholic reading of the Creed.

SMC200Y1 The Christian Imagination [52L, 26T]

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the depth and breadth of the imagination in the western Christian tradition. We shall explore components of the distinctively Christian imagination, as well as its expression in various media, including the visual and plastic arts, literature, film, and music.

SMC201HI Christianity and Literature (formerly Christian Classics) [26L, 13T]

An exploration of major Christian themes, such as redemption and sacrifice, in works of ancient and modern literature. Includes an examination of different genres (the novel, poetry, drama), written for differing times and cultures.

SMC203Y1 Christianity Encounters the Secular World [52L, 26T]

Issues raised by Christianity's encounter with secular culture, and solutions proposed by the tradition: involvement in political structures, social movements, ethnic communities, and changing world views.

SMC204HI Christianity and Asia [26L, 13T]

A study of key elements in the encounter of Christianity and Asia: e.g. the controversy over Chinese rites; Korea's conversion by lay philosophers; the development of Filipino folk Catholicism and its impact on politics; the influence of Indian thought on recent Western theologians.

SMC205HI Varieties of Christian Experience [26L, 13T]

Exploration of the variety of forms which Christian personal experience has taken in the course of history (martyrdom, mysticism, monasticism, sanctification of ordinary life, etc.) in order to appreciate their variety, complexity, and deep unity.

SMC206HI Christianity and Music [26L, 13T]

The various roles given music in Christian tradition and the impact of Christianity on Western music. Case studies from Gregorian chant to the present illustrate major issues (sacred vs. profane, acceptable styles or instruments, text and music, emotion and rationalism) to provide a critical vocabulary applicable to present works. Some background in music is required.

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1/203Y1

SMC207HI Christianity in Latin America [26L, 13T]

The development of Christian communities in Latin America with an emphasis on such themes as the Spanish Conquista, missions, church-state relations, popular religious culture, and the emergence of Liberation Theology.

Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1

SMC208Y1 Major Christian Thinkers [52L, 26T]

An introduction to the Christian intellectual tradition through a study of key figures representing a variety of historical periods, from the patristic through the medieval to the modern and contemporary. The selected authors discuss a range of religious, intellectual and human issues from basic Christian beliefs to the challenges of modern and postmodern cultures.

SMC209HI Christianity in Africa [26L, 13T]

The social, theological, and institutional development of Christian communities in Africa, including the birth of early churches in North Africa, missionary activity, popular religion, and the emergence of new Christian movements in the post-colonial period.

Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1

SMC215HI Varieties of Christian Community [26S]

Christian history has been characterized by an enduring and fruitful search for forms of religious community. This course surveys some communal attempts to express Christianity, monasticism, forms of common life for clerics, the Mendicants, lay confraternities, religious orders, and contemporary lay movements.

SMC216Y1 Ritual and Worship [52L, 26T]

An introduction to Christian ritual and worship, in cross-cultural and ecumenical perspective. Biblical roots and historical development of the Christian sacraments, especially baptism and the Eucharist. Contemporary Catholic perspectives on worship in a secular and multicultural world.

SMC217HI Literature and the Christian Child [26L, 13T]

An exploration of connections between a child's moral development and literature in Christian traditions. We examine literary, historical and philosophical developments appropriate to the child's imagination. The course will include the study of poems, catechetical materials, novels and other texts written for children.

SMC218Y1 Interreligious Dialogue and Practice [52L]

An introduction to religious diversity as a feature of contemporary Christian life, thought and practice. Toronto offers a unique opportunity for students to engage questions of interreligious dialogue and practice in living, dynamic environments. This is a service-learning course: required placements will be arranged through the Centre for Community Partnerships.

Prerequisite: Four full courses

Recommended preparation: SMC103Y1; SMC203Y1; RLG100Y1

SMC230Y1 Christianity and Science [52L, 26T]

The course examines the emergence of the physical sciences within Christian culture. It also traces broad historical developments, such as the rise of technology and the acceptance of empirical observation as a method of inquiry, and their impact on Christian faith.

Exclusion: RLG231Y1

SMC302HI Christianity and Symbols [26L, 13T]

The originality of Christian symbolism is explored through texts, images, and other media. We examine theories of symbolism, then explore the use of Christian symbolism and symbolic patterns in ancient and medieval art, architecture and literature.

SMC304HI Christianity, Law and Society [26L/S]

An examination of Canon Law; the process by which it came into being, and its impact on contemporary culture. Premises and techniques of ecclesial law-making are compared to those of other systems of legislation. Specific sections of the Code of Canon Law are examined.

SMC305HI Christianity and Popular Culture [39L]

An examination of both overt and covert representations of Christian ideas in contemporary popular media. We examine the ways in which Christian themes have been appropriated and subverted in mass media, while also examining the innovative ways these themes, such as redemption, sacrifice, vocation, and hope, are presented anew.

SMC306HI Christianity and New Technologies [26L, 13S]

Technology represents a significant challenge to Christian traditions. This course will explore Christian responses to technologies such as genetic engineering, cyberspace, and life extension. Students will examine the metaphysical perspectives and metaphorical images that the Christian tradition presents to respond to the claims of unbridled technology.

Exclusion: RLG 338Y1

Recommended preparation: SMC 230Y1

SMC307YI Scripture in Christian Tradition [52L, 26T]

An introduction to the place and meaning of the Bible within the Christian tradition; the practice of biblical interpretation in the patristic, medieval and modern periods; a contemporary reading of one of the Gospels and of a letter of Paul.

SMC308HI Marriage and the Family in the Catholic Tradition (formerly Marriage and the Family in Canon Law) [26L/S]

A close reading of the Code of Canon Law touching on the themes of marriage and the family; relationship to other fundamental Church statements (e.g. Familiaris Consortio); examination of issues raised by opposition between church teaching and other views.

Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1/304HI

SMC309HI Christianity and Politics [26L, 13T]

This course explores developments in the relations between the Catholic Church and the states of Western Europe and America from the Enlightenment to the present. Of particular concern is Catholicism's response to the political theories of the Enlightenment, the secularization of the state and social justice issues.

Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1/HIS241HI

SMC310HI The Catechism of the Catholic Church [26S]

Introduces students to the Catechism of the Catholic Church (1994) and its antecedents. After an historical survey of religious instruction in the Church, the students will engage in a close reading of selected sections of the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

SMC311HI Why the Church [26S]

The Catholic Church claims to be the continuation of the event of Christ in history, the guarantor of the authenticity of each person's encounter with Christ, and the means by which His memory may be cultivated. The course examines the reasons for these claims and the forms they have taken.

Recommended preparation: SMC103Y1/200Y1/201HI, 205HI/216Y1

SMC312HI Catholicism and Education [26S]

The Catholic Church has developed a distinctive approach to the pedagogical enterprise. This course explores aspects of this approach by an examination of canonical legislation and other texts published by ecclesiastical authorities and their application in Canada.

SMC313HI Catholic Education in Ontario [26L]

An historical appraisal of the evolution of Catholic schools, universities, and catechetical education in Ontario. Special emphasis is placed on the evolution of Ontario's separate school system.

SMC320HI The Catholic Church in Canada (formerly SMC 420HI) [26L]

An exploration of the historical development of Catholic communities and institutions in all regions of Canada since the 16th century. Emphasis placed on themes of mission, church-state relations, ethnicity, belief and practice, social justice, gender, and secularization.

Exclusion: SMC 420HI

SMC321HI The Catholic Church and Canadian Law [26S]

The Church's self-understanding generates interesting problems in her relations with the civil societies in which she lives. These problems are often fruitful and leaves marks in the legislation of each of these societies. The proposed course will assess the extent to which this has been true in Canada, from the earliest days of European expansion until the present. After an historical introduction regarding the legal status of the Church in French and post-conquest Canada, the proposed course will study the current legal treatment of Church activity, institutions, and property. The legal treatment of criminous clerics will also be examined.

SMC330YI Christ in Christian Tradition [52L, 26T]

Faith in Christ is central to Christianity. This course examines both classical formulations of that faith and Enlightenment critiques of them. It introduces students to contemporary rethinking of christology in the light of modern science and philosophy, comparative religion, feminism, and liberation movements.

SMC332HI Apocalypse and Millennium (formerly SMC 402HI) [26L]

The study of past outbursts of Christian interest in the millennium theme, and the end of the world, modern manifestations of this trend, and the implications of its contemporary revitalization at the dawn of the third millennium.

SMC362YI Intercordia [26S] 26P

Service learning course in social justice and international development. Seminars in the Winter term and international service with Intercordia Canada between May and July. There will be additional costs to students associated with this program. Duration is January to August; all add/cancel/refunds deadlines as per a regular S course.

Prerequisite: interview process prior to enrolment

Recommended preparation: SMC103Y1/SMC203Y1/SMC205HI

SMC363HI Music and Liturgy [26L]

An exploration of the place of music in Christian worship, with a focus on contemporary Eucharist. Examination of the development of liturgico-musical principles and their practical implementation. Topics may include: styles and repertoires, singing liturgical texts, hymnody and other forms of congregational singing, choirs and cantors, the use of instruments.

Prerequisite: Completion of ten courses; two courses in Christianity and Culture

Recommended preparation: SMC206HI/SMC216Y1

SMC364HI The Christian Book [26L]

An interdisciplinary examination of the Bible as artifact and as an index of culture, art, and language. Topics include: the mediaeval giant Bibles, illuminated and illustrated Bibles, the Gutenberg Bible, The King James Bible, the Bible industry, the Bible online, the Bible as sacred object, sacred language and vernacular.

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1/SMC228HI/229HI

SMC371HI Faith and Physics [26L/S]

The complex interplay between religious belief, culture, and the emergence of modern physical theory: rise and fall of mechanistic theories, relativity, particle physics and models of the Universe, Big Bang theory and Black Holes, etc.

Prerequisite: Four university courses

SMC390YI Independent Studies in Christianity and Culture [TBA]

A concluding course in Christianity and Culture, providing an opportunity to synthesize insights acquired during the course of the program (enrolment subject to availability of a supervisor).

Prerequisite: Written approval of Program Director

SMC391HI Independent Studies in Christianity and Culture [TBA]

SMC400HI Advanced Topics in Christianity and Culture I [TBA]

Prerequisite: Two courses in Christianity and Culture

SMC401HI Advanced Topics in Christianity and Culture II [TBA]

Prerequisite: Two courses in Christianity and Culture

SMC417HI Methods in Biblical Studies OT [26L, 13T]

A survey of the religious traditions of ancient Israel as they are reflected in the diverse types of literature found in the First Testament, with emphasis on their historical development and their relevance for contemporary scholarship. Topics to be considered include: Israelite origins, settlement in the land, social structures, the monarchy, prophecy, the exile and return.

Prerequisite: SMC307Y1

SMC418HI Methods in Biblical Studies NT [26L, 13T]

Introduction to the major methods and issues in New Testament interpretation: textual criticism; the world of the New Testament; the composition, structure and theologies of the Synoptic Gospels; the Jesus of History and the Christ of Faith.

Prerequisite: SMC307Y1

SMC419HI Religious Pluralism and the Church [26S]

This course will examine Christian responses to religious pluralism, focusing particularly upon twentieth-century developments in comparative theology, theology of religions, and inter-religious dialogue. Although the course will focus on examples from the context of post-Vatican II Catholicism, students will have opportunities to study comparable developments outside this tradition.

Prerequisite: Completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC103Y1/SMC330Y1

SMC421HI Jews and Judaism in Christian Traditions [26S]

A seminar devoted to examining the changing representation of Jews and Judaism within Christian traditions over the past two thousand years.

Prerequisite: Completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1

SMC422HI Sacred Space in the Christian Tradition [26S]

An examination of the development of sacred space in the early Church, reflection upon its place in the imaginative landscape of the European Middle Ages, and discussion of its implications for the understanding of space and place in our own culture.

Prerequisite: One course in the History of Christianity; completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1

SMC423HI Topics in the Theology of Culture I [26S]

A seminar course engaging in theological reflection on and response to the shifting cultural realities of the twenty-first century. Topics for close examination may include: post-modernity, home and homelessness, and mass popular culture.

Prerequisite: Completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1/208Y1/305HI/330Y1/426HI

SMC424HI Topics in the Theology of Culture II [26S]

A seminar course engaging in theological reflection on and response to the shifting cultural realities of the twenty-first century. Topics for close examination may include: post-modernity, home and homelessness, and mass popular culture.

Prerequisite: completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1/208Y1/305HI/330Y1/426HI

SMC425HI Uses of the Bible in the Middle Ages [26S]

An examination of the use of the Bible in the mediaeval period (500-1500) as source of motifs in art and architecture, provider of stories for poetry and drama, authority in legal and political debate, and tool for teaching and preaching.

Prerequisite: One course in mediaeval history, art or literature; knowledge of the biblical text; completion of 10 full-course credits

SMC426HI The Social Justice Seminar [26S]

A research seminar to explore the foundational principles and historical applications of Catholic social teaching since Rerum novarum. Special emphasis placed on scriptural texts, magisterial documents, and contemporary case studies. Integral to the course is a major paper based on primary source research.

Prerequisite: SMC203Y1/103Y1; completion of 10 full-course credits

Recommended preparation: SMC309HI/RLG336HI

SMC428HI The Spiritual in Modern Art [26L]

An examination of key moments and figures in the recent history of the visual arts in Western culture and especially in Canada in which religious and spiritual themes surface in new and surprising ways. The course includes a study of works in the Donovan Collection at St. Michael's College.

SMC429HI Topics in Comparative Theology [26S]

In the 20th and 21st centuries, religious thinkers increasingly cross religious boundaries in theological reflection. Each year, this seminar will focus on one topic, studied in confessional and comparative perspective, or on two or three major figures in the discipline of comparative theology. Sample topics include: salvation, mission, God, incarnation.

SMC432HI Christianity and Science on Human Sexuality [26S]

A seminar addressing diverse and sometimes conflicting scientific, philosophical, and theological approaches to human sexuality, with a special focus on Habermas and compatibilism. Includes a systematic exploration of the ontology of the sexed human body and transsexuality, the metaphysics of human sexuality, and issues related to a science of orgasm.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor

Recommended preparation: PHL243HI; SMC230YI

SMC433YI Independent Studies in Christianity and Culture*SMC434HI Independent Studies in Christianity and Culture

An independent research project to be proposed by the student and supervised by a Christianity and Culture faculty member. The student, in consultation with the faculty member, may choose either a one-term (H) or a two-term (Y) project.

Lecturer in Russian, Language Program

Coordinator

Julia Mikhailova, MA, Ph D

For over one thousand years the countries of the Slavic world have played a prominent role in international life, and have provided our civilization with numerous writers, musicians, philosophers, religious and political thinkers, and scientists of note. The richness of the Slavic cultures has a special significance for Canada, since the vast influx of Slavs, which began in the last century, has contributed greatly to the Canadian cultural mosaic.

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures offers an extensive range of courses in Russian, Polish, Ukrainian, Czech and Slovak, Croatian, Serbian, and Macedonian languages and literatures, as well as in Slavic linguistics. Within this range there are courses suitable for inclusion in a wide variety of programs of study, whether or not the student has studied any Slavic language previously. Some students may specialize in Slavic Languages and Literatures, i.e. Russian, Polish or Ukrainian (see Programs of Study). Others may simply wish to gain a working knowledge of Russian or another Slavic language to aid their reading of important material in another field. Language study emphasizes small instructional groups, with some laboratory or conversational practice, and the use of literary materials.

Courses in the literatures and cultures of various Slavic countries explore the artistic, intellectual, and social currents of their civilizations, trace the literary history of each country, and examine the works of major authors. To encourage an awareness of the significance and pertinence of Slavic literatures and cultures, many of our courses are offered in translation.

The growing importance of Eastern Europe in contemporary affairs has had the effect of making academic study of this area especially lively and relevant. The student whose interest in the Russian or East European world is political, historical, or sociological can specialize in Russian and East European Studies, or pursue a course in Political Science, History, or Sociology, and at the same time take language courses, and perhaps selected courses in literature, in this Department. Students planning to specialize in Economics, Psychology, Mathematics, or any number of other fields, who have a special interest in the Russian or East European area, will find an advanced knowledge of Russian or of another Slavic language an important intellectual and professional asset.

Students intending to take a Program offered by the Department are asked to study carefully the Programs of Study and are urged to begin their language training as soon as possible. A Departmental brochure is available on request.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative. Students may achieve this Citation in Croatian, Czech, Polish, Russian, Serbian, and Ukrainian. Students interested in completing the Language Citation in languages taught in the Slavic Department but not listed here should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator of the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures.

Language study is a demanding and intellectually rewarding educational experience. Our students learn to communicate both orally and in writing in other languages and are thus able to experience other parts of the world in more intimate ways. Their access to other cultures opens doors for further study and employment. Students in our department also have the opportunity to read a vast array of world-renowned authors in the original languages, as well as works – normally not available in English – in other areas of study, for example, cinema studies, drama, folklore, history, intellectual history, philosophy, mathematics, and political science.

The Language Citation recognizes a significant level of achievement in language study. For course selection students should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator as early as possible since not every language course is offered each year. Students who begin language study at the Intermediate level should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator for approval of advanced literature and culture courses that may satisfy the requirements for the Language Citation.

The Language Citation in Croatian or Serbian is available to students who complete either SLA307Y1 or SLA316Y1 plus an additional FCE, approved by the department, in South Slavic literature or culture with readings and discussion in the target language with a grade of at least B-.

The Language Citation in Czech is available to students who complete SLA204Y1 and 305Y1 with a grade of at least B-.

Slavic Languages and Literatures

---

The Language Citation in Polish is available to students who complete SLA206YI, SLA306HI and SLA336HI with a grade of at least B-.

The Language Citation in Russian is available to students who complete, with a grade of at least B-, two FCEs: SLA220YI, SLA320YI, or SLA420YI.

The Language Citation in Ukrainian is available to students who complete SLA208YI

Students should note that, as explained on the page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Sociological investigation ranges from the analysis of small groups to large social systems. Using a variety of methods and skills, Sociology explores how our individual and collective ways of thinking, feeling and acting are shaped by our social experience. Sociological perspectives and methods are now an essential feature of modern culture, public debate and policy in governmental, commercial, and non-profit organizations. The basic sociological hypothesis that "the social matters" is a guiding source of new intellectual and research agendas in disciplines and professional schools throughout the university.

Sociological perspectives and research skills can also provide helpful preparation for many careers, including: government, politics, industry, education and journalism. Medical, legal, and environment fields report an increasing need for sociologists. Municipal governments hire specialists in urban sociology, community relations, policy and planning. In private business sociologists work in management consulting firms and public polling organizations, as well as in labour relations and human resources. A professional career in sociology, however, requires training beyond the undergraduate level.

Much of the undergraduate and graduate teaching and research in the department reflect areas of strength that include: crime, law and deviance, gender and family, health and mental health, law, immigration and ethnic relations, labour markets and work, and political sociology. Additional strengths follow from developing areas in the discipline, including globalization, the life course and aging, social policy, and the sociology of culture.

Some SOC courses are restricted (see Note 1 below). Other SOC courses are not restricted but preference is given to students in Sociology programs. Almost all 200-, 300-, and 400-level courses have prerequisites.

Sociology Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all SOC courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses (see page 26).

Note I.

Enrolment in SOC 200HI, 202HI, 204HI, 300HI, 376HI, 377HI, 401YI is restricted as stated in the course descriptions below. Ineligible students will be removed even if the course appears on their timetable.

SSC199HI First Year Seminar [52S]

SSC199YI First Year Seminar [26S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

SOC101YI Introduction to Sociology [52L, 26T]

The basic principles and methods of sociology applied to the study of human societies; social sources of differing values and conceptions of reality, and the influences of these on the behaviour of individuals, patterns of relations among groups, and social stability and change.

Note

Obtaining 65% or more in SOC101YI is a requirement for entry into all SOC programs. SOC101YI is also a requirement for completing all SOC programs. Credit for higher-level SOC course will not waive this requirement.

200-Series Courses

Note

Almost all upper-level SOC courses have prerequisites. Students without course prerequisites will be removed at any time they are discovered.

SOC200HI Logic of Social Inquiry (formerly SOC200YI) [26, 26T]

This course reviews the basic issues that concern all types of data collection methods used by social scientists to test theory. Key topics include selection, sampling, and measurement. The course explores how error affects the data gathered in experiments and non-experimental studies, and in qualitative and quantitative research. The course emphasizes critical thinking about the empirical research presented in everyday life, as well as preparation for more advanced research courses. SOC200HI is a restricted course. Enrolment is limited to sociology Majors (see Note I above)
Exclusion: SOC200YI, JBS229HI, POL242YI, UNI200YI, WDW350YI

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC202HI Quantitative Analysis in Social Science Research (formerly SOC300YI) [26L]

Introduction in quantitative social science research – from descriptive statistics to hypothesis testing using various strategies for the analysis of bivariate relationships.

Enrolment is limited to students admitted to the sociology major program.

Exclusion: SOC200YI, SOC300YI, ECO220YI, GGR270HI,

PSY201HI, STA220HI, STA248HI, POL242YI, WDW350YI

Prerequisite: SOC101YI, SOC200HI.

SOC203YI History of Social Theory [52L]

Development of sociological theory in the 19th and 20th centuries; history of ideas; formal analysis; relationship between theory and empirical inquiry.

Exclusion: SOC314YI

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC204HI Qualitative Analysis in [26L] Social Science Research (formerly SOC387YI)

Introduction to the methods and issues of qualitative social science research – the theories, methods for data collection and analysis, and the personal and ethical issues relating to qualitative research. Enrollment is limited to students admitted to the sociology major program.

Exclusion: SOC200YI, SOC387YI

Prerequisite: SOC101YI, SOC200HI

SOC205YI Urban Sociology [52L]

Complementary perspectives of the city: as an evolving entity historically (urbanization); as a way of life and adaptation, reflecting cultures and subcultures (urbanism); as territorial parts reflecting and contributing to social processes (ecological perspective); as a unit managed by formal and informal parties (structural perspective).

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC207YI Sociology of Work & Occupations [52L]

The nature and meaning of work in relation to changes in the position of the professions, unions and government, of women and minority groups, and in industrial societies more generally. Career choice and strategies, occupational mobility, and individual satisfaction at work.

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC210YI Ethnicity in Social Organization [52L]

Impact of racial, ethnic, and linguistic heterogeneity and of various patterns of immigration on economic, political, and cultural institutions, and on individual identity, self-conceptions, social attitudes, and relations.

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC212YI Deviance and Control [52L]

Sociological analysis of deviance (acts or persons that violate the normative structures of society) and social control (societal responses that attempt to reduce, treat, or transform deviance). What is deviance? What are different ways societies respond to deviance? What are the consequences of efforts to regulate, prevent, and punish deviance?

Prerequisite: SOC101YI

SOC213YI Law and Society [52L]

An introduction to social scientific perspectives and research on the nature, sources, dimensions, and impact of law; conceptual issues and methodological strategies in establishing and interpreting linkages between legal and other social structures and processes.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC214Y1 Sociology of the Family [52L, 26T]

An examination of cross-cultural variations and social-historical changes in the organization of family life, followed by a critical look at the key activities in family life today. Emphasis is on gender relations.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC215Y1 Socialization [52L]

The acquisition and reproduction of personality, culture, and social structure. The social construction of everyday life and secondary socialization is emphasized, with focus on work and family.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC218Y1 Asian Communities in Canada (formerly SOC342Y1) [52L]

The course will explore the structures and processes of Asian communities in Canada. Historical development of various Asian communities will be explored. Other topics include ethnic economy, ethnic media, ethnic churches, and ethnic voluntary organizations in Asian communities. Experts in related topics are invited to present their research findings. Non-sociology students may seek departmental permission to enrol.

Exclusion: SOC 342Y1/394Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1 or permission of Department (see Department before enrolling in course)

SOC220Y1 Social Inequality in Canada [52L]

An analysis of historical and contemporary empirical patterns of inequality in Canada. The focus is on income, power, ethnic, regional, and gender inequalities.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC243HI Sociology of Health and Illness [26L]

Provides overview of how social factors influence behaviours related to health and illness, definitions of illness and social responses to illness. Addresses questions such as why rates of illness and responses to illnesses vary with historical and biographic conditions or how behaviours related to health and illness affect social relations.

Exclusion: SOC242Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC244HI Sociology of Health Care [26L]

Examines factors that influence the organizational structure of health care systems, how these organizations develop, how they are maintained, and how they can be change. Topics also include the social forces that influence the relationship between healthcare providers and consumers.

Exclusion: SOC242Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC246HI The Sociology of Aging [39L]

Social gerontology deals with many social aspects of advanced age, e.g. problems of retirement, post-retirement life, living arrangements and family, changes in identity, and new roles for later life, in Canada and in a cross-cultural perspective. Focus is on individual aspects of aging.

Exclusion: SOC245Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC247HI The Sociology of Aging II [39L]

Social gerontology deals with many social aspects of advanced age. Focus is on institutional level analysis of the programs that assist with aging problems.

Exclusion: SOC245Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC250Y1 Sociology of Religion [52L]

This course will examine religious beliefs, practices, and experiences from a historical-sociological and comparative perspective. Classical and contemporary theories will be reviewed and applied to investigate such topics as: the social origins of religions; the formation of religious communities; heresies, schisms and the making of orthodoxies; secularization and fundamentalism; cults and new religious movements; religious regulation of the body and person; and the variable linkages of religion to politics, war, art and science.

Exclusion: RLG210Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC256HI Lives and Societies [26L]

Characteristics of very different kinds of societies, from hunters and gatherers to modern postindustrial countries, and how these affect features of individual lives including: life stages, their status, and transitions between them; the variety of possible life courses; rates of birth and death, and their implications for people, their kin, and their societies.

Exclusion: SOC255Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC257HI Lives in Canada [26L]

The life course in Canada, in the twentieth century and today, with some comparisons to other first world countries. How lives have changed over the past century; how lives are affected by history and social location; the impact of the life trajectories on health and crime.

Exclusion: SOC255Y1

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC260Y1 Power and Policy in Canadian Society [52L]

Examination of the forces and factors that drive and shape policy in Canadian society. The policy areas examined may include: education, labour force and employment, employment equity, ethnocultural relations, and the environment. Exploration of the applications of sociology in the formulation and evaluation of policy choices.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC263HI The Quality of Social Life (formerly SOC262Y1) [26L]

This course focuses on macro-micro connections between qualities of social aggregates (ranging from families to nations) and the subjective experiences of members of those aggregates (ranging from happiness/satisfaction to social isolation and stigma).

Prerequisite: PSY100HI/SOC101Y1

SOC270HI Comparative Social Inequality [26L]

This course offers an introduction to the study of processes of social stratification and structures of inequality with an emphasis on comparative, cross-national studies that include Canada as point of reference.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC278Y1 Introduction to Social Policy [52L]

1) Introduces students to the theoretical foundations of social policy; and 2) examines some of the key social policy issues. The

Sociology

This course explores emerging issues in health and social policies. Using the framework of social determinants of health, this course examines: 1) the implications of social factors such as socio-economic inequity, gender, race, homelessness, age, and citizenship status on individual health, and 2) policy options to address these issues

Prerequisite: SOC352HI

Exclusion: SOC351Y1, UNI300Y1

SOC355YI Structural Analysis [52L]

The structure of social relationships, including both personal networks and the overall organization of whole social settings. The role of social structure in social support, access to scarce resources, power conflict, mobilization, diffusion, and beliefs.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC356YI Technology and Society [52L]

This course analyzes the interplay between new communication technologies and society. It will consider how technological developments affect social systems, and conversely, how social systems affect the nature and use of technology. Much of the course will be devoted to studying the impact of computerization and the advent of the information highway.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC358HI Cities and Social Pathology [26L]

Focuses on relationship between urbanization and crime. Urbanization and the size of cities are examined as correlates, and perhaps causes, of crime, delinquency, the development of "deviant service centers", mental illness, and suicide. Does housing level show a link between housing design, crowding, floor level, etc. and crime, delinquency, depression?

Sociology

---

Prerequisite: SOC205Y1 or SOC212Y1

SOC360Y1 Sociology of Cultural Studies [52L]

Examination of cultural process practices through which culture is constituted (ordered) and reproduced. A dominant cultural order is created and reproduced through the process of selective tradition, which is treated as natural and "taken for granted." The cultural processes involve the interaction of economic, political, ideological and cultural practices.

SOC363HI Sociology of Mental Health and Mental Disorders (formerly SOC262Y1, 264HI) [26L]

An overview of the link between social inequality and emotional inequality, focusing on differences in mental health across social groups and the role of stress and coping resources in explaining group differences.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course, PSY101HI or a 200+ level PSY course

SOC364HI Urban Health [26L]

Cities are home to particular populations (the poor, the homeless, racial and ethnic minorities, immigrants, and the young and old) and have distinct risks and protections relevant to health. Patterns of health in cities, historical developments, and emerging literature and methodology are used to uncover how everyday settings influence health.

Exclusion: SOC396HI in 02-03 and 04-05

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC365Y1 Gender Relations [52L]

Examination of historical and contemporary sources of gender inequity, and the many dimensions of gender difference and inequality today.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC366HI Sociology of Women and Work [26L]

Women's paid and unpaid work and the relationship between the two. Questions about gender gap in earnings, sexual segregation of the labour force, restructuring of paid work, sexual harassment, paid domestic work, and the division of housework and child care.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC367HI Race, Class, and Gender [26L]

In this class, we analyze the ways in which race, class, gender and sexuality interact and shape communities, life opportunities, perspectives and politics. We will read contemporary ethnographies concerning work, socialization, and urban life against current sociological theories about inequality and intersectionality, and identity.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC369Y1 The Canadian Community [52L]

Attention focused on case studies which investigate the social organization of Canadian communities. The case study approach emphasizes theory and methods. The major course requirement is an ethnographic study of a "community."

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC370Y1 Sociology of Labour [78L]

The role and development of labour and the labour movement in Canada, its differential success in various industries and regions, and its impact on other aspects of society.

Prerequisite: 200+ level SOC course

SOC373HI Sociology of Disability I (formerly SOC273HI) [26L]

The experience of disability and the social definition of the experience for self and others. Combination seminar and lecture format.

Exclusion: SOC273HI

SOC374HI Sociology of Disability II [13L/13S]

The experience of disability and the social definition of the experience for self and others. Combination seminar and lecture format. continuation of Disability I.

Exclusion: offered as SOC297HI in 2001 I session

Internal structure of formal and informal organizations; bureaucracies; patterns of interorganizational relations; impact of organizations on social structure and social classes of different societies.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC376HI Theories of Private and Public Life (formerly SOC389Y1) [26L]

A selective introduction to major thinkers (such as De Beauvoir and Habermas) and approaches in contemporary sociology. Enrolment is limited to students in the sociology specialist program.

Prerequisite: SOC203Y1

Exclusion: SOC389Y1

SOC377HI Micro and Macro Theory (formerly SOC389Y1) [26L]

A selective introduction to major thinkers (such as Fanon, Blau, and Collins) and approaches in contemporary sociology. (adjunct to Theories of Private and Public Life). Topics include the structure-agency debate, methodological individualism, and anticolonialism. Enrolment is limited to students in the sociology specialist program.

Prerequisite: SOC203Y1

Exclusion: SOC389Y1

SOC380HI Sociology of Everyday Life 2: Institutional Context [26L]

The study of social institutions at the macro and meso- levels, through every day experiences. These broader structures are examined through people's personal experiences. A related course, Soc 388H, focuses on the structures of social interaction at the micro level. Soc 380HI compliments that course, but can be taken independently.

SOC381Y1 Culture and Social Structure (formerly SOC393Y1) [52L]

Our society includes many varieties of cultural tastes and practices. How are these related to inequality? How do cultural repertoires shape people's lives, including school success, careers, romance, marriage and friendship? How is culture produced in art worlds and industries, transmitted more or less successfully and creatively received?

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC382Y1 Social Issues (formerly SOC399Y1) [52L]

Many on-going changes - in education, crime, family life, population, and the environment, among others - give rise to troubling social problems. This course uses sociological analysis and the findings of sociological research to examine public discussions and policies proposed to deal with both new and enduring social problems.

Exclusion: SOC399Y1

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC383HI The Sociology of Women and International Migration [26L]

Examines the international migration of women in post-industrial economies with emphasis on Canada. Topics include: theories of female migration; the impacts of immigration policies; migration trends and entry status; integration issues pertaining to family, language knowledge, citizenship and economic status; labour market barriers and public policy consideration.

Prerequisite: SOC101Y1

SOC385HI Social Ecology [26L]

Provides a framework for the empirical analysis and practical solution of problems dealing with human well-being which have contextual dimensions. Topics dealt with cover both built and natural environments, as well as aspects of technology. Each student examines a particular problem in detail.

Prerequisite: A 200-level SOC course; or an Environmental Science course focusing on urban and/or natural environments (see Department before enrolling in this course)

SOC386YI Urbanization [52L]

Examines explanation, theory construction, measurement procedures, and the logic of quantitative analysis within urban sociology and social demography.

Prerequisite: A 200+ level SOC course

SOC387HI Qualitative Analysis (formerly SOC387YI) [26L]

This course gives students the opportunity to apply their understanding of the research process to the design and implementation of an original research project.

Enrollment is limited to students admitted to the sociology specialist program

Prerequisite: SOC204H

Exclusion: SOC387Y1

Hispanic culture offers a variety probably unrivalled by any other modern Western culture. In the Middle Ages, Spain was the vital point of contact of the Christian, Jewish, and Islamic civilizations. In the early modern period it led the way in the exploration and settlement of the New World, contributing significantly to the evolution of a flourishing Ibero-American culture. Today it is estimated that Spanish is one of three most widely-spoken languages in the world.

Spanish studies at the University of Toronto are mainly, but by no means exclusively, concerned with the language and literature of the Spanish-speaking peoples. Courses in Hispanic linguistics, in business Spanish, in the history and structure of the Spanish language and literature are complemented by studies of the social, artistic, and intellectual history of both Spain and Spanish-America. Spanish and Portuguese form part of the interdisciplinary programs in European Studies and Latin-American Studies.

The progression of courses in the language sequence is designed to accommodate a wide range of previous preparation in the spoken and written language. In their first year, beginners receive an intensive course, SPA 100Y1; those with OAC/Grade 12 standing begin their University studies in SPA 220Y1; students who on entry are already well qualified in Spanish and demonstrate both oral and written fluency are expected to proceed directly to more advanced levels of study. Throughout the language stream, stress is laid both on the cultural component of language acquisition and on the range of practical applications to which both the spoken and the written language may be put. Courses in phonetics, in business Spanish, and in the history and structure of the Spanish language provide an array of possible options for students in the upper years.

Following an introduction to the methodologies of critical analysis as applied to Hispanic texts, students have a wide selection of courses on the literatures of Spain and Spanish America: medieval Spanish literature; early modern prose, verse and drama; the modern novel, short story, poetry, drama and film. In all years, the works are read and discussed not only in terms of their individual artistic value but also as illustrations of the outlook and the intellectual climate of their age.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the department makes SPA courses available during the summer at the University of Guadalajara. Interested students should contact the Professional and International Programs, Woodsworth College (summer.abroad@utoronto.ca)

For the Portuguese component, see under Portuguese Program in this Calendar.

Faculty of Arts & Science Language Citation

---

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese participates in the Faculty of Arts and Science's Language Citation initiative for Spanish.

To complete the language citation in Spanish students will normally complete the two language-sequence courses that follow the introductory level:

SPA220Y1

SPA320Y1

Native and bilingual speakers should complete SPA319Y1 and two additional half-courses in Spanish in the 300- or 400-series.

Students should note that, as explained on the page 21 of this Calendar, the Language Citation is not equivalent to an academic program and that enrolment in a program is not necessary in order to earn the recognition bestowed by the Citation.

Spanish: see also European Studies, Latin American Studies, Modern Languages And Literatures, Linguistics And Languages

Statistical methods have applications in almost all areas of science, engineering, business, government, and industry. The practising statistician is involved in such diverse projects as designing clinical trials to test a new drug, economic model-building to evaluate the costs of a guaranteed-income scheme, predicting the outcome of a national election, planning a survey of television viewing habits, and estimating animal populations.

Today's consumer is bombarded with the results of so many quantitative studies using statistical methodology that it is necessary to know something about statistics in order to be properly critical. A basic knowledge of statistics should be an integral part of everyone's general education.

Probability theory is used to analyse the changing balance among the age-groups in a population as the birth rate changes, the control force needed to keep an aircraft on course through gusts of wind, the chance that the demand for electricity by all the customers served by a substation will exceed its capacity. These are just three of many phenomena that can be analysed in terms of randomness and probability.

The course offerings are intended not only for specialists in the theory of the subject but also to serve the needs of the many other disciplines that use statistical methods, e.g. in sample survey design and experimental design. Students following the Specialist Program are encouraged to include courses in major fields of application in their overall program. The Major Program can be profitably combined with specialization in another discipline. Students in these programs may also qualify for the A.Stat. designation from the Statistical Society of Canada.

Both applied and theoretical courses are offered in Statistics and Probability. The foundation courses STA 220HI, 221HI, 250HI, 255HI, 257HI, and 261HI are distinguished primarily by their mathematical demands, as indicated by the prerequisites. Students interested in the Biological or Social Sciences will generally find the most relevant courses of the more advanced courses to be STA 302HI, 322HI, 332HI, and 429HI. Furthermore, the probability course STA 347HI will be of interest to those whose field of application includes stochastic models.

Statistics Programs

---

Enrolment in these programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Statistics (Science program)

---

Specialist program:

(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

CSC 148HI/260HI (may be taken in 2nd year); MAT 137Y1/157Y1

Second Year:

MAT 223HI/240HI, 224HI/247HI; MAT 237Y1/235Y1/257Y1; STA (257HI, 261HI) (MAT 223HI/240HI recommended in First Year)

Higher Years:

1. STA 302HI, 347HI, 352Y1
2. 1.5 courses from Group A (MAT 237Y1 required) or 1.5 courses from Group B:
3. 1.0 course from: APM 346HI/351Y1, MAT 334HI/354HI, 337HI/357HI, 301HI/347Y1
4. 2.0 full courses from: ACT 300+ level courses; CSC 336HI/350HI, 354HI, 384HI; STA 300+ level courses

Group A:

STA 410HI/442HI, 414HI/422HI/438HI, 447HI

Group B:

STA 410HI, 442HI, 414HI/437HI/457HI

Note

Substitutions of other Science/Social Science 300+ level courses for up to 1.0 courses in 4. above are possible with approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator

Major program:

(6.5 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:

CSC 108HI/148HI/260HI (may be taken in 2nd year); MAT 135YI/137YI/157YI

Second Year:

MAT 223HI/240HI, 235YI/237YI/257YI; STA (257HI, 261HI)/(250HI, 255HI)/(247HI, 248HI)

(MAT 223HI/240HI recommended in First Year)

Higher Years:

1. STA 302HI
2. A selection of four STA half-courses from STA 322HI, 332HI, 347HI, 352YI, 410HI, 414HI, 422HI, 437HI, 438HI, 442HI, 457HI, 447HI, 450HI

Note

Suggested combinations for the four STA half courses are as follows:

1. Four of: STA 347HI, 352YI, 447HI
2. Four of: STA 322HI, 332HI, 410HI, 437HI, 442HI, 457HI
3. Four of: STA 332HI, 347HI, 410HI/437HI, 442HI/422HI

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. MAT 135YI/137YI
2. MAT 223HI/240HI; STA (250HI/(220HI, 221HI), 255HI)/STA (247HI, 248HI)/STA (257HI, 261HI)
3. STA (302HI, 352YI)/three STA half-courses at the 300/400-level

Statistics and Computer Science - See Computer Science

Statistics and Economics - See Economics

Statistics and Mathematics (Science program)

Consult Professor J.S. Rosenthal, Department of Statistics.

Specialist program:

(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 157YI, 240HI

Second Year:

MAT 247HI, 257YI, 267HI, STA 257HI, 261HI

Third and Fourth Years:

1. MAT 327HI, 354HI, 357HI; STA 352YI, 347HI, 447HI
2. At least 2 half-courses from STA 302HI, 332HI, 410HI, 414HI, 437HI, 442HI, 450HI
3. At least 2 half-courses from STA 422HI, 438HI, 457HI
4. At least one 300+ level f.c.e. from APM, CSC, MAT

Note

The Department recommends that PHY 151HI, 152HI be taken in first year, and that CSC 148HI/260HI be taken during the program

Statistics Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26) STA 220HI, 221HI, 250HI, 255HI, and 257HI have NO distribution requirement status; STA 429HI is a SCIENCE or SOCIAL SCIENCE course; all other STA courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

SC1199HI First Year Seminar [26S]

SC1199YI First Year Seminar [52S]

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 48.

STA107HI An Introduction to Probability and Modelling [39L, 13T]

Introduction to the theory of probability, with emphasis on the construction of discrete probability models for applications. After this course, students are expected to understand the concept of randomness and aspects of its mathematical representation. Topics include random variables, Venn diagrams, discrete probability distributions, expectation and variance, independence, conditional probability, the central limit theorem, applications to the analysis of algorithms and simulating systems such as queues.

Exclusion: ECO220YI, ECO227YI/STA247HI/STA255HI/257HI/ Co-requisite: MAT135YI/137YI/157YI (MAT137YI/157YI is strongly recommended; MAT133YI is not acceptable)

STA220HI The Practice of Statistics I [39L, 13T]

An introductory course in statistical concepts and methods, emphasizing exploratory data analysis for univariate and bivariate data, sampling and experimental designs, basic probability models, estimation and tests of hypothesis in one-sample and comparative two-sample studies. A statistical computing package is used but no prior computing experience is assumed.

Exclusion: ECO220YI/227YI/GGR270HI/PSY201HI/ SOC300YI/STA250HI/261HI/248HI

Prerequisite: Grade 12 Mathematics and one University course in the physical, social, or life sciences
STA220HI does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA221HI The Practice of Statistics II [39L, 13T]

Continuation of STA220HI, emphasizing major methods of data analysis such as analysis of variance for one factor and multiple factor designs, regression models, categorical and non-parametric methods.

Exclusion: ECO220YI/227YI/GGR270YI /PSY202HI/ SOC300YI/STA261HI/250HI/248HI

Prerequisite: STA220HI

STA221HI does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA247HI Probability with Computer Applications [39L, 13T]

Introduction to the theory of probability, with emphasis on applications in computer science. The topics covered include random variables, discrete and continuous probability distributions, expectation and variance, independence, conditional probability, normal, exponential, binomial, and Poisson distributions, the central limit theorem, sampling

Statistics

distributions, estimation and testing, applications to the analysis of algorithms, and simulating systems such as queues.

Prerequisite: MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1; CSC 108H1/148H1

Exclusion: ECO 227Y1/STA 255H1/257H1

STA248H1 Statistics for Computer Scientists [39L, 13T]

A survey of statistical methodology with emphasis on data analysis and applications. The topics covered include descriptive statistics, data collection and the design of experiments, univariate and multivariate design, tests of significance and confidence intervals, power, multiple regressions and the analysis of variance, and count data. Students learn to use a statistical computer package as part of the course.

Prerequisite: STA 247H1/255H1/257H1; CSC 108H1/148H1

Exclusion: ECO 220Y1/227Y1/GGR 270Y1/PSY 201H1/SOC 300Y1/STA220H1/221H1/250H1/261H1

STA250H1 Statistical Concepts [39L, 13T]

A survey of statistical methodology with emphasis on data analysis and applications. The topics covered include descriptive statistics, basic probability, simulation, data collection and the design of experiments, tests of significance and confidence intervals, power, multiple regression and the analysis of variance, and count data. Students learn to use a statistical computer package as part of the course.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/PSY201H1/

SOC300Y1/STA220H1/261H1/221H1/248H1

Prerequisite: MAT 133Y1/135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

STA250H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course

STA255H1 Statistical Theory [39L, 13T]

This course deals with the mathematical aspects of some of the topics discussed in STA250H1. Topics include discrete and continuous probability distributions, conditional probability, expectation, sampling distributions, estimation and testing, the linear model.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/STA257H1/261H1/247H1/248H1

Prerequisite: STA250H1/221H1, MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

STA255H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA257H1 Probability and Statistics I [39L, 13T]

This course covers probability including its role in statistical modelling. Topics include probability distributions, expectation, continuous and discrete random variables and vectors, distribution functions. Basic limiting results and the normal distribution presented with a view to their applications in statistics.

Exclusion: ECO227Y1/STA255H1/247H1

Prerequisite: MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 137Y1/157Y1 is strongly recommended)

Co-requisite: MAT 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT 237Y1/257Y1 is strongly recommended)

STA257H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA261H1 Probability and Statistics II [39L, 13T]

A sequel to STA257H1 giving an introduction to current statistical theory and methods. Topics include: estimation, testing, and confidence intervals; unbiasedness, sufficiency, likelihood; simple linear and generalized linear models.

Exclusion: ECO227Y1/STA248H1/255H1

Prerequisite: STA257H1

STA299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

STA302H1 Regression Analysis [39L]

Analysis of the multiple regression model by least squares; statistical properties of least squares analysis, estimate of error; residual and regression sums of squares; distribution theory under normality of the observations; confidence regions and intervals; tests for normality; variance stabilizing transformations, multicollinearity, variable search method.

Exclusion: ECO327Y1/357Y1

Prerequisite: STA255H1/248H1/261H1/ECO220Y1 (70%)/227Y1/(STA257H1, MAT224H1)

STA322H1 Design of Sample Surveys [39L]

Designing samples for valid inferences about populations at reasonable cost: stratification, cluster/multi-stage sampling, unequal probability selection, ratio estimation, control of non-sampling errors (e.g. non-response, sensitive questions, interviewer bias).

Prerequisite: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270H1 / PSY202H1 / SOC300Y1/STA221H1/255H1/261H1/248H1

STA332H1 Experimental Design (formerly STA402H1) [39L]

Design and analysis of experiments: randomization; analysis of variance; block designs; orthogonal polynomials; factorial designs; response surface methodology; designs for quality control.

Prerequisite: STA302H1/352Y1/ECO327Y1/357Y1

Exclusion: STA402H1

STA347H1 Probability [39L]

An overview of probability from a non-measure theoretic point of view. Random variables/vectors; independence, conditional expectation/probability and consequences. Various types of convergence leading to proofs of the major theorems in basic probability. An introduction to simple stochastic processes such as Poisson and branching processes.

Prerequisite: STA247H1/255H1/257H1/(ECO227, MAT237Y1/257Y1), MAT223H1/240H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1

Note: STA257H1 and MAT237Y1/257Y1; MAT (223H1, 224H1)/240H1 are very strongly recommended)

STA352Y1 Introduction to Mathematical Statistics [78L]

Introduction to statistical theory and its application. Basic inference concepts. Likelihood function, Likelihood statistic. Simple large sample theory. Least squares and generalizations, survey of estimation methods. Testing hypotheses, p-values and confidence intervals. Bayesian-frequentist interface. Analysis of Variance from a vector-geometric viewpoint. Conditional inference.

Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/MAT237Y1/MAT257Y1; STA261H1/(STA257H1, MAT224H1)/(ECO227Y1, MAT237Y1/MAT257Y1) (MAT237Y1/MAT257Y1 very strongly recommended).

STA398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project

STA399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 48 for details.

STA410H1 Statistical Computation [39L]

Programming in an interactive statistical environment.

Generating random variates and evaluating statistical methods by simulation. Algorithms for linear models, maximum likelihood estimation, and Bayesian inference. Statistical algorithms such as the Kalman filter and the EM algorithm. Graphical display of data.

Prerequisite: STA302HI, CSC108HI

STA412HI Methods of Nonparametric Inference [52L, 26P]

Modern methods of nonparametric inference, with special emphasis on bootstrap methods, and including density estimation, kernel regression, smoothing methods and functional data analysis.

Prerequisite: STA302HI, 352YI

STA414HI Statistical Methods for Data Mining and Machine Learning [52L, 26P]

Statistical aspects of supervised learning: regression with spline bases, regularization methods, parametric and nonparametric classification methods, nearest neighbours, cross-validation and model selection, generalized additive models, trees, model averaging, clustering and nearest neighbour methods for unsupervised learning.

Prerequisite: STA302HI/CSC411HI

STA422HI Theory of Statistical Inference [39L]

The course discusses foundational aspects of various theories of statistics. Specific topics covered include: likelihood based inference, decision theory, fiducial and structural inference, Bayesian inference.

Prerequisite: STA352YI

STA429HI Advanced Statistics for the Life and Social Sciences [39L]

The course discusses many advanced statistical methods used in the life and social sciences. Emphasis is on learning how to become a critical interpreter of these methodologies while keeping mathematical requirements low. Topics covered include multiple regression, logistic regression, discriminant and cluster analysis, principal components and factor analysis.

Exclusion: All 300+ level STA courses except STA322HI

Prerequisite: ECO220YI/227YI/GGR270YI /PSY202HI /SOC300YI/STA221HI/250HI

STA429HI does not count towards any STA programs

STA437HI Methods for Multivariate Data [26L, 13P]

Practical techniques for the analysis of multivariate data; fundamental methods of data reduction with an introduction to underlying distribution theory; basic estimation and hypothesis testing for multivariate means and variances; regression coefficients; principal components and partial, multiple and canonical correlations; multivariate analysis of variance; profile analysis and curve fitting for repeated measurements; classification and the linear discriminant function.

Prerequisite: ECO327YI/357YI/STA302HI/352YI

Recommended preparation: APM233YI/MAT223HI/240HI

STA438HI Theoretical Multivariate Statistics [39L]

An introductory survey of current multivariate analysis, multivariate normal distributions, distribution of multiple and partial correlations, Wishart distributions, distribution of Hotelling's T<sup>2</sup>, testing and estimation of regression parameters, classification and discrimination.

Prerequisite: MAT223HI/240HI, STA352YI/437HI (STA352YI strongly recommended)

STA442HI Methods of Applied Statistics [39L]

Advanced topics in statistics and data analysis with emphasis on applications. Diagnostics and residuals in linear models, introductions to generalized linear models, graphical methods, additional topics such as random effects models, split plot designs, analysis of censored data, introduced as needed in the context of case studies.

Prerequisite: ECO327YI/357YI/STA302HI ; STA332HI

STA447HI Stochastic Processes (formerly STA348HI) [39L]

Discrete and continuous time processes with an emphasis on Markov, Gaussian and renewal processes. Martingales and further limit theorems. A variety of applications taken from some of the following areas are discussed in the context of stochastic modeling: Information Theory, Quantum Mechanics, Statistical Analyses of Stochastic Processes, Population Growth Models, Reliability, Queuing Models, Stochastic Calculus, Simulation (Monte Carlo Methods).

Exclusion: STA348HI

Prerequisite: STA347HI

STA450HI Topics in Statistics [39L]

Topics of current research interest are covered. Topics change from year to year, and students should consult the department for information on material presented in a given year.

STA457HI Time Series Analysis [39L]

An overview of methods and problems in the analysis of time series data. Topics include: descriptive methods, filtering and smoothing time series, theory of stationary processes, identification and estimation of time series models, forecasting, seasonal adjustment, spectral estimation, bivariate time series models.

Prerequisite: ECO327YI/357YI/STA302HI

Recommended preparation: MAT235YI/237YI/257YI

STA496HI Readings in Statistics [TBA]

STA497HI Readings in Statistics [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

STA498YI Readings in Statistics [TBA]

STA499YI Readings in Statistics [TBA]

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

Trinity College

Trinity College offers Trinity One, a set of first-year courses, an independent studies program, and three inter-disciplinary programs: Ethics, Society, and Law; Immunology; International Relations. The Major Program in Ethics, Society, and Law assembles courses offered by a variety of Departments and Colleges, including History, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology, and Woodsworth College. The Specialist Program in Immunology is assembled from offerings by the Departments of Biochemistry, Immunology, Microbiology, and Molecular Genetics and Molecular Biology. The International Relations Program encompasses courses offered by the Departments of History, Political Science, and Economics.

Trinity One

Trinity One provides first-year students with the opportunity to explore together significant issues and ideas pertaining to the conduct of human life and world affairs. There are two streams in Trinity One, each linked to a prominent aspect of the College's intellectual identity. One of the streams focuses on international relations, the other on ethics. Each stream includes two seminar courses limited to 25 students. These courses foster small-group discussion and emphasize the development of critical-thinking, oral-presentation, writing and research skills. Cocurricular events, drawing upon the resources of the Munk Centre for International Studies at Trinity College and the University of Toronto's Centre for Ethics (located at Trinity), enable students in both streams of Trinity One to hear guest speakers and to engage in informal conversation with one another and with their professors.

Ethics, Society, and Law (Arts program)

Consult: Prof. John Duncan, Room 216, Larkin Building, Trinity College, 416-978-2165.

Enrolment is limited to students with a CGPA of 2.80 who have completed four courses.

Major program

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

The following requirements apply to students who enrol in the program after September 23, 2007. The requirements in the 2006-07 Calendar apply to students who enrolled in the program prior to 2007-08.

1. PHL 271HI (recommended to be taken in the first year of registration in the program)
2. POL 200Y1/PHL 265HI/PHL 275HI (to be taken in any year of registration in the program)
3. TRN 303HI (to be taken in the second year of registration in the program)
4. TRN 412HI (to be taken in the final year of registration in the program)
5. If POL 200Y1 is taken in satisfaction of requirement 2 above, then 4.5 full courses or the equivalent must be taken from Groups A-D, including at least one from each of Groups A-C and at least two at the 300+ level. If PHL 265HI/PHL 275HI is taken in satisfaction of requirement 2 above, then five full courses or the equivalent must be taken from Groups A-D, including at least one from each of Groups A-C and at least two at the 300+ level.

Group A (Ethics)

PHL273HI,275HI, 281Y1, 295HI, 341HI, 373HI, 375HI, 378HI,380HI, 381HI, 382HI, 383HI, 384HI, 394HI, 407HI; POL330HI; PSY314HI; RLG221HI,, 228HI;TRN311HI

Group B (Society)

ANT 204Y1; CSC 300HI; ECO 313HI, 332HI, 336Y1, 340HI; ENV 447HI, GGR 233Y1, 331HI, 393HI; HIS 332HI, 355HI; HPS 324HI; JGE 221Y1; PHL 265HI, 365HI; POL 200Y1, 214Y1, 320Y1, 404HI, 405Y1, 412HI, 432HI; PSY 311HI, 321HI; SOC 203Y1, 212Y1, 215Y1, 301Y1, 306Y1;WDDW 200Y1, 300HI, 320HI, 335HI, 340HI, 380HI, 385HI;WGS 373HI

Group C (Law)

CLA 336HI; ECO 320HI; ENV 422HI; NMC 484HI; PHL 370HI, 484HI; POL 319Y1, 332Y1, 337Y1, 340Y1; SMC 304HI, 361HI; SOC 213Y1; TRN 305Y1, 425Y1;WDDW220Y1, 365HI, 420HI;WGS 365HI

Group D (Further Courses)

RLG 309Y1; TRN 200Y1, 300HI, 301Y1, 302Y1, 400HI, 404Y1, 405Y1, 406HI/407Y1

N.B. The above WDDW courses are only available to students enrolled in the double major program Ethics, Society, and Law/ Criminology

Immunology Studies:

Consult Prof. J.C. Zúñiga-Pflücker (416-978-0926)

For more information please see the entry under Life Sciences - Immunology

Independent Studies

Consult Professor C. Kanaganayakam, Room 305, Larkin Building, Trinity College (416-978-8250).

The College's Independent Studies Program affords students the opportunity of investigating in depth topics of their own choice that are not directly part of the present curriculum. These topics normally involve interdisciplinary study, though under some circumstances they may require concentrated work in a single discipline. The scope of acceptable topics embraces the natural and social sciences as well as the humanities. Participation in the program is restricted to students who have completed at least ten courses. The maximum number of independent studies half courses for which a student may receive credit is one, and the maximum number of independent studies full courses for which a student may receive credit is two. Thus the maximum number of independent studies full course equivalents for which a student may receive credit is 2.5. Normally the work done is to be the equivalent of two full courses. Permission to register in an independent studies half course, or in an independent studies full course, will normally be granted only to students with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.50. Permission to undertake an independent studies project for the equivalent of two full courses will normally be granted only to students with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.70.

All proposals are subject to the approval of the Coordinator.

Students must submit to the Coordinator before the beginning of the academic year a copy of their academic transcript and an outline of their topic (signed by the supervisor) and a suggested bibliography. For evaluation of the work done in the program a short thesis or equivalent is required, prepared and submitted by the last day of classes in the fall or winter session as appropriate. The supervisor and a second reader (nominated by the supervisor and approved by the Coordinator before the end of September) are responsible for the evaluation. The Coordinator will require regular progress reports throughout the year.

Either the supervisor or the second reader must be a tenured University of Toronto faculty member. A supervisor who is not a tenured University of Toronto faculty member will normally be required to be a full-time faculty member of the University.

Students enrolling for the first time register for one or more of TRN 300HI, 301YI, 302YI, or for one or more of TRN 400HI, 404YI, and 405YI, as appropriate. Those enrolling for a second time register in one or more of TRN 400HI, 404YI, and 405YI, as appropriate.

International Relations (Arts program)

Consult the Office of the International Relations Program, Room 310N, Munk Centre for International Studies, 416-946-8950.

Enrolment in the Specialist Program is limited to students with a CGPA of 3.00, and a combined average of at least 67% in required first-year courses. A personal interview completes admission to the program.

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)

First Year:

University College offers a number of programs and courses outside the areas traditionally covered by departments. These include programs and courses in Aboriginal Studies, Canadian Studies, Cognitive Science, Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence, Drama, Health Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, and Sexual Diversity Studies, in addition to 199Y1 Seminars, and introductory courses for non-specialists in mathematics and physics. The overall aims of the College Programs are to foster interdisciplinary work in significant areas of study and to encourage intellectual breadth. Many program courses are open to students not enrolled in the programs themselves.

The Aboriginal Studies Program (Major, Minor)

is described elsewhere in this Calendar, under Aboriginal Studies.

The Canadian Studies Program (Specialist, Major, Minor)

offers opportunities to study Canadian culture and society in an interdisciplinary manner and to explore cultural, social, economical and political developments in this diverse country. Students in the Specialist and Major programs select courses from the Humanities or Social Sciences. They are encouraged to consider additional courses in Aboriginal Studies in completing the requirements of the Program.

The Cognitive Science Program (Specialist, Major)

is an interdisciplinary exploration of the nature of cognition, drawing on the perspectives of Philosophy, Psychology, and Linguistics.

The Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence Program (Specialist, Major)

is an interdisciplinary exploration of the nature of cognition, drawing mainly on the perspectives of Computer Science and two of Linguistics, Philosophy, and Psychology.

The Drama Program (Specialist, Major, Minor)

is described elsewhere in this Calendar, under Drama.

The Health Studies Program (Specialist, Major)

focuses the many areas of study that surround, interact with and support bio-medical research and clinical activity in regard to health, including health policy, practices, research methods, and sociocultural expression. The Major serves as a general introduction; the Specialist provides a more intense research focus with more methodological emphasis.

The Peace and Conflict Studies Program (Specialist, Major)

provides undergraduates with an interdisciplinary education in the causes of human conflict and strategies for its resolution; topics of study include war, revolution, rebellion, ethnic strife, international law, and negotiation theory.

The Sexual Diversity Studies Program (Specialist, Major, Minor)

allows students to focus on questions of sexual identity, difference, and dissidence across disciplinary lines and cultural frameworks.

UNI, DRM and ABS courses are staffed by a combination of specific program staff members and members of various University departments, and are open to all students of the University. Further information on University College programs is available from the College.

Specialist program

(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrolment in the Specialist Program is limited; selection is based on a personal statement, interview and GPA. To apply students must have completed four full credits or their equivalent. For further details on the application process please visit the Health Studies website at <http://www.uc.utoronto.ca/healthstudies/>

First Year: No specific courses required. (Students are advised to take introductory courses that will serve as prerequisites for optional courses of interest to them later in the program, e.g. ANT100YI, POL 102YI/POL103YI, PSY100HI, SOC101YI.) A course in biology or physiology is also recommended.

Second Year: STA220HI, 221HI, UNI200HI, 209HI, 211HI,
237HI

Third Year: UNI310HI, 330HI, 350YI, 373HI plus HMB303HI or ABS350YI

Fourth Year: UNI411Y1, 450Y1, 464HI plus STA429HI or UNI440HI

Remaining credits should be fulfilled by choosing one of the following streams:

Anthropology stream: ABS350Y1, ANT348Y1, 469HI, 455Y1

Political Science stream: POL201Y1, ANT349HI, POL 447Y1

Major Program

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in the Major Program is limited. Students must have completed four full credits or their equivalent and have a competitive GPA. For further details on the application process please visit the Health Studies website at <http://www.utoronto.ca/healthstudies/>

First Year: No specific courses required. (Students are advised to take introductory courses that will serve as prerequisites for optional courses of interest to them later in the program, e.g. ANT100Y1, POL 102Y1/POL103Y1, PSY100HI, SOC101Y1.) A course in biology or physiology is also recommended.

Second Year: STA220HI, 221H, UNI200HI, 209HI, 211HI, 237HI

Third Year: UNI310HI, 330HI, 373HI plus HMB303HI or ABS350Y1

Fourth Year: UNI411Y1, 464HI plus STA429HI or UNI440HI

Major Program can be supplemented/enhanced by choosing courses in one of the following streams:

Anthropology stream: ABS350Y, ANT348Y, 469H, 455Y

Political Science stream: POL201Y, ANT349H, POL 447Y

Peace and Conflict Studies (Arts program)

Consult Program Assistant, Room H11, University College, 416-978-2485.

Enrolment in the Specialist and Major programs is limited; selection is based on a personal interview and GPA. To apply, students must have completed ANY four full courses, or their equivalent. The Director approves each student's proposed program of study based on its relevance, coherence and focus.

Specialist program:

(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. HIS 103Y1/ECO 100Y1/105Y1 (PSY 100HI + PSY 220H)/SOC 101Y1; POL 208Y1
2. UNI 260Y1, 360Y1, JUP 460Y1
3. Three courses from one of Groups A, B, C, D, E or F (below); at least one course must be at the 300+ series level
4. Three complementary courses with either a disciplinary, regional, or thematic focus relevant to Peace and Conflict Studies (on approval of the Director); at least one must be at the 300+ level

Disciplinary focus:

3 courses from one of ANT, ECO, GGR and Environmental Studies (combined), HIS, HPS, PHL, POL, PSY, RLG, SOC. (Note: HIS is excluded for students who have taken 3 HIS courses in 3. above; POL is excluded for students who have taken 3 POL courses in 3. above.)

Regional Studies focus:

3 courses on, for example, Canada, Southern Africa, the Middle East, or Latin America.

Thematic focus:

3 courses on a topic such as negotiation and conflict resolution, diplomatic history, gender and conflict, morality of war, quantitative analysis, group-identity conflict, economic development and conflict, or environmental change and conflict.

UNI201HI Aspects of Québec Society [26S]

Contemporary Québec from social, economic and political perspectives.

This is a Social Science course

UNI202HI Aspects of Québec Culture [26S]

An exploration of modern Québec culture as expressed in literature and the performing arts. Through a selection of internationally-known entertainers, we examine form, artistic innovation, communication of information and knowledge and spectatorship. Novels and plays provide key elements such as tradition and historical context.

UNI205HI Topics in Canadian Studies I [26L]

A focused introduction to specific issues in Canadian culture and society. Content will vary from year to year. Specific course information will be available on the Canadian Studies web site at www.utoronto.ca/canstudies.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

SOC218YI Asian Communities in Canada (formerly SOC342YI) [52L]

The course will explore the structures and processes of Asian communities in Canada. Historical development of various Asian communities will be explored. Other topics include ethnic economy, ethnic media, ethnic churches, and ethnic voluntary organizations in Asian communities. Experts in related topics are invited to present their research findings. Non-sociology students may seek departmental permission to enrol.

Exclusion: SOC 342YI/394YI

This is a Social Science course

UNI218HI Voices in Canadian Writing [26S]

A study of the variety of voices in Canadian fiction. Issues such as marginalization and the formulation of the Canadian canon are discussed.

This is a Humanities course

UNI220YI Understanding Canada Today: Re-Imagining the Nation [52L, 26T]

An introduction to key events and issues in contemporary Canada. This course provides a multi-disciplinary perspective on a wide range of topics such as constitutional reform; multiculturalism and immigration; social welfare; environmentalism; globalization; economic policy; gender and sexuality; arts and culture.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course

UNI221HI Culture and the Media in Canada [26L]

An exploration of the encounter between culture and mass communication in Canadian society. The course includes a consideration of the major institutions affecting culture such as the CBC, the NFB, and the granting bodies, and largely focuses on particular instances and case studies in the arts and media. Emphasis is placed on the changing role of nationalism, and the relationship between political concerns and Canadian culture.

This is a Social Science course

UNI280HI Canadian Jewish History [26L]

This course focuses on initial settlement patterns of Jewish people in Toronto and elsewhere, community growth including suburbanization, and contemporary challenges such as anti-Semitism and assimilation.

This is a Humanities and Social Science course.

UNI304HI Beyond Multiculturalism: Ethnicity and Race in Canada [26S]

A multidisciplinary examination of the emergence of new approaches to identity and community that go beyond official bilingualism and multiculturalism. To include cultural/literary works as well as historical and social scientific analyses illuminating relations between cultural and racial communities in post-1960's Canada, with an emphasis on Toronto.

Prerequisite: UNI 220YI or two courses on the study of Canada

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course

UNI305HI Topics in Canadian Studies II [26L]

An in-depth study of selected questions in contemporary Canadian culture and society. Content will vary from year to year. Specific course information will be available on the Canadian Studies web site at www.utoronto.ca/canstudies. This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

UNI307YI Asian Cultures in Canada [52L]

An exploration of the cultural histories and creative production specific to a wide range of Asian communities in Canada. Content will present humanities perspectives according to the instructor's specialty. Experts in specific areas—literature, dance, drama, film—will be invited to present their work. Recommended Preparation: UNI 220YI

UNI317YI Politics of Aboriginal Self-Government [52L]

UNI317HI Politics of Aboriginal Self-Government [26L]

A survey of some of the main issues surrounding the politics of Aboriginal self-government in Canada. Proceeding historically, the course examines the legal and political conditions that have fuelled the call for self-government. (Offered in alternate years) Prerequisite: ABS201YI/POL102YI/I03YI/UNI220YI or permission of the instructor

This is a Social Science course

JUG320HI The Canadian Wilderness [26L]

The idea of wilderness permeates narratives of Canadian national identity, while policy-makers seek to manage and contain natural areas. This course compares and contrasts historical and contemporary wilderness narratives in literature, painting and film with policies in areas such as conservation, urban planning, land claims and tourism. (Offered by University College and the Geography Department.)

This is a Social Science course

UNI320YI Canadian Questions: Issues and Debates [52L]

An in-depth study of selected questions facing contemporary Canada. Students are encouraged to examine topics from multiple disciplinary perspectives drawn from the Social Sciences and Humanities. Issues addressed in recent years include: multiculturalism in contemporary film; residential schools; African Canadian culture; North American integration; citizenship and global cities; genetics and cloning.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course

UNI325HI Queerly Canadian [26L]

This course focuses on Canadian literary and artistic productions that challenge prevailing notions of nationality and sexuality, exploring not only how artists struggle with that ongoing Canadian thematic of being and belonging, but also celebrate pleasure and desire as a way of imagining and articulating an alternative national politics.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI/UNI256HI or UNI220YI or permission of instructor

Exclusion: UNI375HI Special Topics: Queerly Canadian This is a Humanities course

UNI380HI Socio-Cultural Perspective of the Canadian Jewish Community [26L]

This course examines the relationship between prominent Canadians who happen to be Jews and those whose work is founded in the identity as Jews; the diversity of the community on the basis of religion, language, class, ideology etc.; contributions to the arts and scholarship; and the role of Jewish women.

This is a Humanities and Social Science course.

UNI420YI Senior Essay [52S]

Students select an appropriate research topic and, in consultation with the Program Director, make arrangements with a suitable supervisor. Research projects must be approved by the supervisor preferably and by the Director of the Canadian Studies Program, by April of the preceding academic year. Students meet periodically during the year in seminar to participate in peer evaluations of: statement of research, literature review, methods of analysis, and to share reports of progress in research.

Prerequisite: Open only to Majors and Specialists in the Canadian Studies program

UNI430HI Senior Seminar: Special Topics in Canadian Studies [26S]

An upper level seminar. Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor.

Prerequisite: UNI220YI or two courses on the study of Canada

Cognitive Science & Artificial Intelligence Course

UNI250Y1 Introduction to Cognitive Science (formerly JUP250Y1) [78L]

An introduction to the problems, theories and research [strategies central to the interdisciplinary field focussing on the nature and organization of the human mind and other cognitive systems. Interrelations among the philosophical, psychological, linguistic and computer science aspects of the field are emphasized. (Offered by University College and the Department of Philosophy)

Exclusion: JUP250Y1

UNI301HI Exploring Artificial Intelligence Models & Programs (formerly JUP301HI) [13L, 26P]

A hands-on course for students with some programming background to enable direct understandings of programs in traditional AI, neural networks, genetic algorithms, artificial life, dynamic systems, and robotics. Simple and classical algorithms are demonstrated, and students will learn to operate and extend them. This course gives second- and third-year students experience of working models that they have read about, and can also serve as an introduction to programming in artificial intelligence and cognitive science.

Prerequisite: CSC107HI/108HI or Instructor's permission

Co-requisite: UNI250Y1

Exclusion: JUP301HI

This is a Science course.

UNI302HI Bases of Cognition (formerly JUP302HI) [39L]

Extending the depth of understanding of conceptual issues in cognitive science, including intentionality, semantics, mechanism, and consciousness. Students study primary literature, including, Descartes, Turing, Chomsky, Brooks, Dennett, Searle, et al. and they elaborate their own conceptual frameworks in cognitive science. Co-requisite: UNI250Y1

Exclusion: JUP302HI

This is a Humanities course.

UNI401HI Advanced Cognitive Science (formerly JUP450HI) [26S]

A seminar on the following questions: "What is consciousness? What does it take for a creature to be conscious? What is objectivity? How may a creature be objective?" Students bring to bear on these questions their diverse background in analytic philosophy, anthropology, artificial intelligence, connectionism, linguistics, neuroscience, phenomenology, or psychology. Readings cover visual perception, spatial navigation, attention, working memory, reference, object permanence, evolution of language, the frame problem, the binding problem, and the qualia problem.

Prerequisite: UNI302HI or permission on the instructor

Exclusion: JUP450HI

UNI402HI Theoretical Psychology [52L, 26P]

An introduction to the techniques of theory simplification, amplification, integration, and generation, which provide a bridge between psychology and the philosophy of science. Emphasis is placed on the skills of critical thinking and theory analysis needed to support these techniques and to build a methodology for cognitive science.

Prerequisite: UNI 250Y1

This is a Science course

UNI403HI Introduction to Cognitive Robotics [13L, 26P]

A hands-on course to advance practical skills and theoretical understanding through challenging students to a series of cognitively significant robotics tasks in realistic settings. Students bring to bear on robot construction their prior study in artificial intelligence, psychology, and philosophy and develop a strong background for thinking about embeddedness and embodiment issues that have been at the centre of recent cognitive science.

Prerequisite: UNI301HI or permission from instructor

---

Health Studies Courses

Students enrolled in the Health Studies program are given the first opportunity to enroll in these courses.

UNI200HI Introduction to Research Methods in Health Studies (formerly UNI200Y1) [39L]

This course will offer students in Health Studies a basic understanding of research design and data collection on health topics and the usefulness of data collection in the formation of health policy.

Exclusion: POL 242Y1, SOC 200HI, UNI200Y1, WDW 350Y1

This is a Social Science course

UNI210HI Introduction to Statistical Analysis in Health Studies (formerly UNI200Y1) [39L]

This course will offer students in Health Studies a basic understanding of statistical data analysis, data interpretation, and the use of such data in the formation of health policy.

Exclusion: POL 242Y1, SOC 202HI, UNI200Y1, WDW 350Y1

This is a Social Science course

UNI209HI Introduction to Health: Determinants of Health & Health Care [26L]

A multidisciplinary approach to understanding perspectives in health, health equity, and primary health care. Themes include critical discussion of the measurements of health outcomes and the socioeconomic and political factors that affect health, including among neglected and marginalized populations in Canada and globally.

Exclusion: HMB203

This is a Social Science course.

UNI237HI Introduction to HIV/AIDS: Health, Sexuality and Gender [26L]

A critical examination of the HIV/AIDS global pandemic from a multidisciplinary perspective and with an emphasis on sexuality. The course examines the basic biology of HIV/AIDS and then covers social, historical, political, cultural, gender, and public health aspects of HIV/AIDS. Attention is given to the distinct features of vulnerable and marginalized populations, prevention, treatment, drug development, and access to medicines.

UNI237HI is particularly intended for students in the Health Studies and Sexual Diversity Studies Programs.

This is a Social Science course.

UNI300HI Canadian Health Care Policy (formerly UNI300Y) [26L]

This course introduces students to development and issues related to Canadian health care policy. The course examines basic policy making process; policy making process in Canadian context; development of Canadian health care policy; and current health care reform debates and issues. Health care is increasingly contentious with aging population, advancements in medical technology, government fiscal restraints. How to achieve best health care given limited resources, and ensure fair, equal, accessible health care. Overview of current policy issues and its relationship to social inequality, gender, and race, provide analytical tools for understanding.

Exclusion: SOC 351Y1, 352H1, UNI300Y

Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1

This is a Social Science course

UNI309H1 Special Topics in Health Studies [26L]

Study of a particular topic in Health Studies. The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular health researchers and scholars. In a given year, the course may focus on HIV/AIDS, tobacco addiction, nutritional issues, or gerontology and health problems related to the aging process.

UNI310H1 Emerging issues in Health and Social Policies (formerly UNI300Y) [26L]

This course explores emerging issues in health and social policies. Using the framework of social determinants of health, this course examines the implications of social factors such as socio-economic inequity, gender, race, homelessness, age, and citizenship status on individual health; and policy options to address these issues.

Exclusion: UNI300Y1

UNI330H1 Health and Pharmaceuticals [26L]

A critical examination of drug development, including the role of health professionals and the pharmaceutical industry in researching, testing, marketing, licensing, and evaluating pharmaceutical drugs. Topics include the differing needs for drug development in different societies, evaluation and dispensing in lower income countries, and potential conflicts of interest in drug development.

Prerequisite: UNI200H1, HMB303H1

This is a Social Science course.

UNI350Y1 Undergraduate Research Project I [52L]

The research course required for Health Studies students in the Specialist stream. Students engage in a specific research project within the program. The course includes sessions on the development of a project, data analysis and presentation, formulation of a grant proposal and writing of "peer-reviewed papers."

Prerequisite: UNI200H1, STA221H1

This is a Social Science course.

UNI370H1 Psychology of Physical Activity and Sport [39L]

This course develops the students' understanding of individual behaviour towards physical activity, sport and play. While the focus is on the individual participant, the course also examines the basic psychological theories underlying behaviour.

Exclusion: PHE 300H1

Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1

This is a Social Science course

UNI371H1 Physical Activity and Social Inequality [26L, 13T]

Opportunities for physical activity are profoundly affected by the social structures of Canadian society and persistent inequalities. This course enables students to study the effects of class, gender, race, and sexuality upon opportunities, programs and practices and the means by which social equity might be more effectively pursued.

Exclusion: PHE 301H1

Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1

This is a Social Science course

UNI373H1 Population Health [39L]

This issue-oriented course will extend students' understanding of the broad definitions of health and its determinants, and population-based strategies of health promotion in Canada. Topics include: variations in health status as affected by population patterns, class, gender, ethnicity, employment, and family composition; the major causes of morbidity and mortality; the concept of "community health", and the opportunities and constraints facing public policy.

Exclusion: PHE 312H1

Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1

This is a Social Science course

Note

Students enrolled in the Health Studies program are given the first opportunity to enroll in these courses.

UNI400Y1 Practicum in Health Studies [TBA]

Individual field placement with a health research or administration professional, in which the student applies theory and skills to a specific project. Culminates in an oral and written report.

This is a Social Science course

UNI409H1 Special Topics on Health Research [26S]

The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular health researchers and scholars. In a given year, the course may focus on AIDS, tobacco addiction, nutritional issues in low-income countries, and the persistence of infant health problems in poor Canadian communities.

This is a Social Science course.

UNI410H1 Communities and Community Health [26S]

This course is about the formation and growth of communities—about their social organization and the problems that small and vulnerable communities often face. There will be a focus on problems of poverty, social marginality, and powerlessness, and the health consequences of these for community members.

Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1

This is a Social Science course.

UNI411Y1 Health, Biology & Determinants of Diseases in Neglected Populations 52L

A critical examination of diseases such as malaria, HIV, cholera, tuberculosis as well as the determinants of health that affect marginalized populations. The course discusses the prevalence, etiology, and biology of diseases, the socioeconomic, medical and other factors that create vulnerable populations, and the challenges involved in improving access to treatments and prevention. (note: this course will be given for the first time in 2009-2010)

Prerequisite: UNI310H, HMB303

Recommended Preparation: An undergraduate biology course

This is a Social Science course.

UNI440HI Epidemiology [26S]

This course aims to provide an introductory understanding of the basic concepts and methods in epidemiology. The emphasis will be on descriptive methods and study design. Computational techniques, measurement problems, and issues that surround the drawing of inferences from area-level or other aggregate data will be discussed.

Prerequisite: UNI 200HI, 210HI

Recommended preparation: UNI 373HI

This is a Social Science course.

UNI450YI Undergraduate Research Project 2 [52L]

The second research course required for Health Studies students in the Specialist stream. Students engage in a specific research project during their last two years within the program.

This course is a continuation of UNI350Y and will further develop the skills addressed in that course. Student will prepare an "undergraduate thesis" by the end of this academic year.

Prerequisite: UNI200H, STA221HI, UNI350Y

This is a Social Science course.

UNI464HI International Health [26L]

A course intended to widen the horizons and learning opportunities of future health system managers through international and intercultural learning, and to provide a learning environment for understanding different ways of approaching issues and problems related to health sciences management.

This is a Social Science course

UNI451YI Independent Research in Health Studies [TBA]

This two-semester course designation will permit students to gain academic credit for health studies pursued independently under the supervision of a University of Toronto faculty member; or to participate in an ongoing health research project under the joint supervision of the project's Principal Investigator and the Director of the Health Studies Program.

Prerequisite: UNI 200HI, 210HI

This is a Social Science course.

UNI470HI Health Psychology: Physical Education & Health [39L]

This course provides students with an overview of contemporary topics in health psychology: psychological theory, research and skills relevant to the promotion and maintenance of optimal health and the prevention and treatment of illness and physical injury. The first half of the course will cover theoretical frameworks for understanding health behaviour, motivation, and psycho-social factors that influence health attitudes and behaviour. In the second half, topics germane to clinical health psychology and multi-disciplinary settings will be explored. Emphasis on the role of health psychology and exercise wellness behaviour, and on professional issues and ethical practices for physical and health education students.

UNI471HI Physical Activity, Health and the Media [26L, 13T]

This course draws upon communications theory, political economy, semiology and sociology to examine the ways in which meanings about physical activity are produced, distributed, and consumed through the media. Topics include: the social marketing of health, advertising and the "body politic", media advocacy, sports and fitness marketing, and the production of sport as a media event.

Prerequisite: PHE 301HI/UNI 371HI

Exclusion: PHE 402HI

This is a Social Science course

UNI472HI Body, Health and Culture [26L, 13T]

This course examines the body as a terrain of complex cultural politics. Drawing upon a variety of sources, especially post-modern theory, cultural anthropology, and philosophy, it will consider the ways in which the "body" has been conceptualized and the ways in which discourses on bodies have led to important political struggles, particularly in the social construction of health and sickness.

Exclusion: PHE 403HI

This is a Social Science course

UNI473HI Physical Activity in the Ancient and Early Modern World [26L]

The ancient Greeks and Romans were intensely interested in sport, physical education, and the maintenance of physical strength and health. The Renaissance revived this interest and transformed physical pursuits from marginal activities into structured components of the social system. Our contemporary concepts of sport, health, and physical culture were first formulated at that time. The readings (in English translation) will be taken from original ancient and early-modern documents.

Exclusion: PHE 423HI

This is a Social Science course

UNI476HI Historical Approaches to Health [26S]

The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular historians to offer the course. In a given year, the course may focus on the Black Death epidemic in Europe, problems of sanitation in ancient Rome, nutritional issues in pre-industrial China, and so on.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

UNI480HI Independent Research in Health Studies [TBA]

This one-semester course will permit students to gain academic credit for health studies pursued independently under the supervision of a University of Toronto faculty member; or to participate in an ongoing health research project under the joint supervision of the project's Principal Investigator and the Director of the Health Studies Program

Prerequisite: UNI200HI, 210HI

This is a Social Science course.

---

Peace and Conflict Studies Courses

UNI260YI Introduction to Peace and Conflict Studies (formerly UNII10YI) [78L]

A review of the full range of theories explaining the nature and causes of conflict and possibilities for its resolution; provides students with a set of theoretical tools for effective analysis of interpersonal, civil, and international conflict.

Exclusion: UNII10YI

This is a Social Science course

UNI360YI Topics in Peace and Conflict [52L]

An in-depth exploration of selected issues introduced in UNI260YI. Topics may include: negotiation theory; ethnic and group-identity conflict; feminist perspectives on peace and war; mathematical modeling of arms races and war; decision-making theory and conflict; environmental change and conflict; and traditional perspectives on statecraft.

Prerequisite: UNI260YI or permission of the instructor

Recommended preparation: POL208YI

This is a Social Science course

UNI361HI Special Topics in Peace and Conflict Studies [26S]

UNI361YI Special Topics in Peace and Conflict Studies [52S]

An exploration of selected issues in the field of Peace and Conflict Studies involving an overseas and/or practicum component

Prerequisite: permission from the Instructor.

Recommended Preparation: POL 208YI, UNI 260YI

JUP460HI Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict [26S]

JUP460YI Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict [52S]

A colloquium (fall term) and research seminar (spring term, JUP460Y only) on security ontology and various meanings of security. Topics to be considered include planetary, ecospheric, state, societal, and human security. (Offered by the Department of Political Science and University College)

Exclusion: Students are not allowed to take both H and Y courses

Prerequisite: POL208Y and UNI360Y/permission of the instructor

This is a Social Science course

Sexual Diversity Studies Courses

UNI237HI Introduction to HIV/AIDS: Health, Sexuality and Gender [26L]

A critical examination of the HIV/AIDS global pandemic from a multidisciplinary perspective and with an emphasis on sexuality. The course examines the basic biology of HIV/AIDS and then covers social, historical, political, cultural, gender, and public health aspects of HIV/AIDS. Attention is given to the distinct features of vulnerable and marginalized populations, prevention, treatment, drug development, and access to medicines. UNI237HI is particularly intended for students in the Health Studies and Sexual Diversity Studies Programs.

This is a Humanities and Social Science course

This course is cross listed with Health Studies

UNI255HI History and Perspectives in Sexual Diversity [26L, 13T]

An interdisciplinary examination of sexuality across cultures and periods. How are sexualities represented? How are they suppressed or celebrated? How and why are they labeled as straight, gay, lesbian, bisexual, queer, or perverse? How do sexualities change with ethnicity, class, and gender?

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI 256HI Sexualities: Social, Organizational, and Legal Contexts [26L, 13T]

A social sciences approach to sexual diversity across societies, and of the increased visibility of that diversity in such settings as the family, the workplace, and the law, as well as the role that such contexts play in shaping sexual identity.

This is a Social Science course.

UNI325HI Queerly Canadian [26L]

This course focuses on Canadian literary and artistic productions that challenge prevailing notions of nationality and sexuality, exploring not only how artists struggle with that ongoing Canadian thematic of being and belonging, but also celebrate pleasure and desire as a way of imagining and articulating an alternative national politics.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI/UNI256HI or UNI220YI or permission of instructor

Exclusion: UNI375HI Special Topics: Queerly Canadian

This is a Humanities course

UNI354HI Theories of Sexuality I: The Foundations [26L]

A survey of classic western theories of sexuality; each theory is examined in terms of the practices it allows and prohibits. Under consideration are not only the descriptive and/or prescriptive aspects of a particular framework but its epistemic grounds, and implications for understanding identity, body, community, and state.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI355HI Theories of Sexuality II: Contemporary Perspectives [26L]

An integrated survey of some ways in which sexuality has been theorized recently. How have desire and its identities been conceptualized and deployed? What are the implications for psychoanalysis, feminism, and cultural production? What interconnections are yet to be made between sexuality and the markers of gender, race, and class?

Prerequisite: UNI255HI or permission of instructor

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI365HI Sexuality and Law [26L/S]

An overview of the points where sexuality and law intersect, through surveying ways of thinking about how law interprets, regulates and defines sexuality, and how communities and groups oppressed on the basis of sexuality fare under the law in Canada and elsewhere.

Prerequisite: POL315HI/UNI255HI/UNI256HI or permission of instructor

This is a Humanities course

UNI375HI Special Topics in Sexual Diversity Studies [26L/S]

Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor. This seminar is intended to expose students in the Sexual Diversity Studies program to topics that may not be covered by permanent university courses. See www.utoronto.ca/sexualdiversity/special.html for descriptions of current topics.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI/UNI256HI or permission of instructor

UNI377HI Lesbian Studies [26L]

This multidisciplinary course will examine multiple lesbian identities that have varied in time and place. The course will pose such questions as: What does "lesbian" mean? Why have changes occurred in meaning? How has the identity of lesbian been culturally represented and politically expressed in various social and political contexts? It will also take up contemporary theoretical, cultural, and political understandings of lesbianism.

Prerequisite: UNI255H or UNI256

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

UNI455HI Special Topics in Sexual Diversity Studies [26S]

Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor. This seminar is intended to expose students in the Sexual Diversity Studies program to topics that may not be covered by permanent university courses. See www.utoronto.ca/sexualdiversity/special.html for descriptions of current topics.

Prerequisite: UNI 255HI/UNI256HI

University College

---

Recommended preparation: POL 315H1/UNI 354H1/UNI355H1

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI458HI Research Essay in Sexual Diversity [26S]

A research essay under the supervision of a faculty member with knowledge of sexual diversity, the proposal and supervisor subject to the approval of the SDS Program Director.

Prerequisite: UNI 255H, UNI 256H

This is a Humanities course.

UNI459YI Honours Essay in Sexual Diversity [52S]

A major research essay prepared over the course of two academic terms (one year), under the supervision of a faculty member with knowledge of sexual diversity, the proposal and supervisor subject to the approval of the SDS Program Director.

Prerequisite: UNI 255H, UNI 256H

This is a Humanities course.

UNI475HI The New Queer Visibility [26S]

This interdisciplinary course critically examines the socio-political cultural context that has produced a new queer visibility. The course assesses many of the post-Stonewall changes in the North American public sphere and the interrelationship between the new queer visibility and the North American public sphere.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI and UNI355HI or permission of the instructor

This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI477HI Transgender Studies [26S]

This course introduces students to Trans Studies as an emerging interdisciplinary field of scholarship from various angles: academic, activist, socio-historical, and clinical. Students will develop their abilities to assess representations of trans and intersexed people and social issues, taking into account how race, citizenship, gender, sexuality, culture and dis/ability are materially and socially constructed together to give meaning to the category "trans."

Prerequisite: UNI255H or UNI256H

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

---

Other University College Courses

JUM202HI Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit (formerly JUM102HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM102HI

JUM202HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM203HI Mathematics as Recreation (formerly JUM103HI) [26L, 13T]

A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM103HI

JUM203HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM204HI Mathematics and Poetry [39L]

An interdisciplinary exploration of creativity and imagination as they arise in the study of mathematics and poetry. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JEM204HI

JUM204HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM205HI Mathematical Personalities (formerly JUM105HI) [26L, 13T]

An in-depth study of the life, times and work of several mathematicians who have been particularly influential. Examples may include Newton, Euler, Gauss, Kowalewski, Hilbert, Hardy, Ramanujan, Gödel, Erdős, Coxeter, Grothendieck. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM105HI

JUM205HI is particularly suited as a Science Distribution

Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

UNI299YI Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 48 for details.

UNI393YI University College Independent Studies [TBA]

UNI394HI University College Independent Studies [TBA]

An opportunity to pursue at the 300-level an independent course of study not otherwise available within the Faculty. A written proposal, co-signed by the instructor, must be submitted on the appropriate proposal form for approval by the Vice-Principal of University College prior to registration.

Prerequisite: Permission of University College Vice-Principal

UNI495YI University College Independent Studies [TBA]

UNI496HI University College Independent Studies [TBA]

An opportunity to pursue at the 400-level an independent course of study not otherwise available within the Faculty. A written proposal, co-signed by the instructor, must be submitted on the appropriate proposal form for approval by the Vice-Principal of University College prior to registration.

Prerequisite: Permission of University College Vice-Principal

Victoria College offers Vic One, a first year sequence of courses, and interdisciplinary programs and courses listed below so that students have an opportunity to examine important themes and problems of our culture from a variety of points of view. Most of the courses introduce ideas and methods from various disciplines; in this way students can explore areas of interest they otherwise might overlook, and also gain insight into comparative studies.

Several of the courses have a place in the established programs of study indicated below. In addition, the courses are designed to serve the interests of those who, whatever their intended field of specialization, wish to introduce variety into their program, or who have not decided on a discipline, and wish to examine different approaches to humane studies.

Vic One

Victoria College offers first-year Arts and Science students an opportunity for a unique educational experience that draws upon the college's history and identity. Four streams with differing emphasis are available in this foundation year program, known as Vic One. They are named in honour of four respected Canadian leaders, all Victoria College alumni. The Frye stream, named after former Victoria College professor and renowned literary critic Northrop Frye, focuses on the humanities. The Pearson stream, named after former Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson is concerned with the social sciences. The Augusta Stowe-Gullen stream, named after the first woman to graduate from a Canadian medical school, is of interest to students wishing to pursue studies in the life sciences. The Egerton Ryerson stream, named after the first Principal of the College who was a pioneer in Canadian education, is an opportunity to introduce first year students to issues in education and teaching.

The four streams feature seminars, lectures, small tutorials and informal conversation, and are enriched by guest professors, visiting artists, writers, ambassadors and other public figures.

Each Vic One stream comprises three first-year courses out of the five courses taken by most first year students. Two courses in each stream are seminar courses given by Victoria College. They have a limited enrolment of 25 students in each class. The third course is selected, in the Pearson stream, from the first-year offerings in history or political science; in the Frye stream, it is JEF 100Y: The Western Tradition; in the Stowe-Gullen stream, it is BIO 150Y: Organisms in their Environment, and in the Egerton Ryerson stream, it is PSY 100H1, Introductory Psychology.

Vic One enrolment is limited to 150 students. It requires an application that is found on the Vic One web site (<http://www.vicu.utoronto.ca/vic/one.htm>). All first-year students in the Faculty of Arts and Science (St. George campus), regardless of college membership, are eligible for admission to Vic One. Admission decisions are made based on extra-curricular activities, a short original essay and the student's entering grades.

Vic First Pathways: Studies for First Year

Vic First Pathways is a Victoria College initiative that offers you the opportunity to experience a small class environment in your first year. Students enroll in two linked courses: one, a large enrolment class offered by the Faculty of Arts and Science; the other, a small enrolment companion Vic-sponsored course. Taking these two related courses will provide you with the opportunity to have contact with distinguished teaching faculty and also provide you with an excellent gateway to, and foundation for, subsequent studies.

Vic First Pathways offers you a chance to share a common avenue of academic learning and adds extra value in out-of-class activities. Priority will be given to Victoria College students at the beginning of registration. Thereafter, Vic First Pathways will be open to all first-year students in the Faculty of Arts and Science.

PLEASE NOTE: These courses are open to students NOT enrolled in Vic One, Trin One or a first-year seminar (199Y).

The Literary Studies Program

(Specialist, Major and Minor) will be attractive to students who wish to read works drawn from a variety of languages and cultural contexts. The program combines close attention to literary texts with theoretical reflection on relations between literary and non-literary works (for example, philosophy, art, film, history). Contemporary debates in literary and cultural theory will play a key role.

Victoria College

Students may enroll in one of two streams, Comparative Literature (Specialist and Major) or Interdisciplinary Studies (Specialist and Major). Students may also enroll in the Minor program, or in the joint Specialist with Philosophy.

Students who enrolled in one of the Literary Studies programs prior to July 2007 may, if they wish, follow the requirements in place in 2006. (VIC 309HI and VIC310HI will be considered equivalent to VIC310YI.)

The Renaissance Studies Program

(Specialist, Major and Minor) studies one of the critical periods in European and world history. The Renaissance witnessed changes in art and literature, in social and political development, and in technology and science that were to transform our concept of the world. This interdisciplinary program is particularly attractive to students of history, politics, literature, fine art, history of science, music and theatre, because it assembles aspects of all these studies to focus on one seminal period in Western civilization.

The Semiotics and Communication Theory Program

(Major and Minor) investigates the science of communication and sign systems, the ways people understand phenomena and organize them mentally, the ways in which they devise means for transmitting that understanding and for sharing it with others. It covers all non-verbal signalling and extends to domains whose communicative dimension is perceived only unconsciously or subliminally. Knowledge, meaning, intention and action are thus fundamental concepts in the semiotic investigation of phenomena.

Concurrent Teacher Education Program

(Joint BA/BSc/BEd) prepares students for a career in teaching as well as encourages students to follow an Arts and Science program of study focussed on the urban environment. Program begins in 2008 with entry in second year. Students in first year should consider the Ryerson Stream of Vic One as preparation. Enrolment is limited to 30 students.

Victoria College Programs

---

Concurrent Teacher Education Program (CTEP)***

*CTEP will be offered beginning September 2008. First year students interested in the program should consider enrolling in the Ryerson Stream of Vic One.

CTEP offers students the opportunity to complete the B.A./B.Sc degree and the B.Ed. The program is offered in partnership with O.I.S.E. Complete description of the program may be found on the OISE web site. Admission into the CTEP is by application at the end of first year when the Arts and Science subject POSTs are selected. To apply to this program students must have a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Please note that having the minimum CPGA for application does not guarantee acceptance into the program. The application process includes the completion of a personal profile. All applicants must have completed PSY 100H. Recommended preparation is the Ryerson stream of Vic One.

Requirement of CTEP for BA/B.Sc./B.Ed Students

All students admitted to the Victoria College CTEP are required to enroll in the Education and Society minor program. It is also recommended, in addition to the B.Ed. courses and associated requirements, that students select a major or minor in the general area of urban studies.

CTEP students may fulfill the remaining major or minor for the B.A./B.Ed. degree as they wish. CTEP students may not enroll in specialist programs in order to have sufficient space in their program to complete the concurrent B.Ed requirements.

Major and Minor Programs in the Urban Environment

Students are recommended to enroll in either a major or minor in any of the Faculty's programs concerning the urban environment.

Minor Program Education and Society (CTEP)

---

The minor in Education and Society is open only to students registered in the Concurrent Teacher Education Program who must take the minor.

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course)

1. PSY100H
2. An additional half-year or full year/first year course selected from ANT 100Y, SOC 100Y or GGR 124Y. Vic One Ryerson students may satisfy this requirement with either VIC 150Y or VIC 151Y.
3. VIC 260H Equity and Diversity in Education
VIC 261H Child and Adolescent Development in Education
JSV 262H Communication and Conflict Resolution
4. VIC 360H CTEP Internship
5. One other course related to Education and Society at the 300 level or higher selected from the offerings in Sociology, Anthropology or Geography (Arts). Courses in other departments, including those in the Department of Theory and Policy Studies at OISE require approval of the CTEP Vic Coordinator.

Literary Studies (Arts program)

Program Coordinators Professor E. Cazdyn and Professor R. Comay

Enrolment in the Literary Studies program is open to students upon completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required. The program will begin in second year. However, JEF100Y1 or VIC201Y1 are recommended introductory courses for first year students.

All students following a major or specialist program will be required to study a second language, and should consider beginning such course work in their first year.

Specialist program in the Comparative Literature stream:

(13-14 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Complete major in the Comparative Literature stream (see requirements below)
2. Complete a major in a literature other than English
3. Normally VIC490Y1. Please consult the program coordinator for further instruction.

Major program in the Comparative Literature stream:

(7 full courses or their equivalent)

1. VIC 201Y1, 210Y1 and one of 309H1/310H1/310Y1/311H1

- 1.0 FCE from VIC 300HI/YI, VIC 301HI/YI, VIC 309HI/VIC 310HI/310YI, VIC 401HI/YI, VIC 410HI/YI, VIC 411HI/YI, JNV 300HI. In exceptional circumstances, and with the permission of the program coordinator, students may choose another course.
- 3.0 FCE's in literature in the original language (not English). 1.0 FCE may be at the 200 level. At least 2.0 FCE's must be at the 300+ level.

Specialist program in the Interdisciplinary stream:

(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.0 400 level course)

- VIC 201YI, 210YI and one of 309HI/310HI/310YI/311HI
- 2.0 FCE's from VIC 300HI/YI, 301HI/YI, 309HI/310HI/310YI, 401HI/YI, 410YI, 411HI/YI, JNV 300HI
- 4.0 FCE's in another discipline chosen in consultation with the program coordinator.
- 2.0 FCE's in a language other than English, at least 1.0 at the 300+ level
- Normally VIC 490YI. Please consult the program coordinator for further instruction.

This is either a Humanities or a Social Science course.

VIC104HI Common Vices and Neglected Virtues: Intro to Ethics of Character [26S, 26P]

Vice is popular: a prestigious university press has brought out a series of seven books on the Seven Deadly Sins. This course examines such questions as the following. Are greed, lust and gluttony just bad names for necessary and otherwise acceptable instincts? What is the place, in a good human life, of such qualities as honesty, trust, civility and the like? Are vices and virtues culturally determined or a matter of individual preference? Can character be taught, or is it rather a matter of genes and luck?

Co-requisite: PHL 100YI/RLG 100YI

VIC105HI Odysseys: The Search for Meaning [26S, 26P]

Metaphors and motivations of journeying have long intrigued human beings as they have attempted to understand the meaning of their existence: the setting out, the seeking for a desired object, the pilgrimage of religious observance, and the longing to return home. Through texts, art, music and film, this course will explore some of the shaping journey-myths of our culture from classical, Hebrew, medieval and modern sources.

Co-requisite: PHL 100YI/MUS 110HI

This is a Humanities course.

VIC106HI Topics in the History of Mind, Brain and Behavioural Science [26S]

This course explores central developments and ongoing controversies in the scientific study of the human mind, brain and behavior. It examines topics such as: psychoanalysis, behaviourism, humanistic psychology, evolutionary psychology, intelligence testing, and feminist perspectives. Goals include understanding the historical evolution and social relevance of scientific psychology.

Co-requisite: PSY100HI

This is either a Humanities or Social Science course.

VIC107HI Topics in the History of Evolution, Heredity, and Behaviour [26S]

In this course we examine major episodes in the history of evolution and genetics in the XX century. Topics include Darwinian evolution, sociobiology and evolutionary psychology, eugenics, and genetic screening and therapy. We will examine different views about the control of evolution and genetic manipulation in their socio-cultural-economic context and discuss the ethical and social implications of those views.

Co-requisite: BIO150YI

This is either a Humanities or Social Science course.

VIC108HI Belonging, Imagination and the Uses of History in the Shaping of National Identity [26S]

VIC108YI Belonging, Imagination and the Uses of History in the Shaping of National Identity [52S]

This course will examine a number of questions related to the origins of national identities and the sustainability of nation-states. Topics covered will include: language, ethnicity, religion, politics, war, symbols, the arts, sport and public spectacle, and cuisine.

Co-requisite: HIS 106YI/SOC 101YI

This is either a Humanities or Social Science course.

VIC111YI Introduction to Material Culture [52S, 26P]

This course is about things – the everyday objects of past and present cultures. It examines the meanings people have invested in objects and how those meanings have changed over time. Using interdisciplinary approaches, students investigate objects found in homes, retail spaces, cities, art galleries and museums in order to develop new understandings of the objects that structure daily lives and their material world.

Co-requisite: ANT 100YI/FAH 101HI

This is either a Humanities or a Social Science course.

VIC112YI Puzzles, Discovery and the Human Imagination [52S, 26P]

There has never been a period of time, nor has there ever been a culture, without some kind of puzzle tradition. Are puzzles just playful artifacts, intended merely to entertain? Or are they mirrors of something much more fundamental in human life?

The course will take a close look at what puzzles tell us about the human mind and human culture.

Co-requisite: One of ANT 100YI/BIO 150YI/HPS 100HI.

This is either a Humanities or a Social Science course.

VIC114YI Renaissance in Popular Culture [52S, 26P]

This course explores the depiction of the Renaissance in a wide range of plays, films and novels. The focus is on the exchange between film, fiction, and 'fact', and on how the values and concerns of the present shape creative recreations of the past in popular culture.

Co-requisite: HIS 109YI/INI 115YI

This is a Humanities course.

VIC115YI Imagined Power: Literature and Film [52S, 26P]

In this course we will study a number of literary and cinematic works that take up questions of power, duty, rights, responsibility, and freedom. Our texts will be drawn from a long history, and from many parts of the world. The sequence however will not be chronological.

Co-requisite: A 100 series Political Science course.

This is either a Humanities or Social Science course.

VIC116YI Narrative Medical Ethics [52S, 26P]

A philosophical consideration through literature, articles and film as well as medical case studies to consider ethical elements of medical decision-making.

Co-requisite: BIO150YI/PSY100HI

This is a Humanities course.

VIC117HI Understanding the Performing Arts: Interpretation and Expression [52S, 26P]

This course examines two key issues about the performing arts that concern both artists and theorists: the nature of interpretation and of expression. What might we mean when we say that a work, a piece of music or a dance for example expresses something? What is it to express? And what is the nature of interpretation? Are there any constraints or boundaries on interpretation? We will draw on both philosophers and non-philosophers to explore these sorts of questions.

Co-requisites: DRM100YI/MUS110HI/FAH101HI/FAH102HI/VIS120HI/VIS130HI or a first-year language course.

---

Women and Gender Studies provides an interdisciplinary and culturally inclusive approach to understanding gender. The curriculum addresses the meaning and importance of gender in a variety of individual, institutional and transnational contexts. It provides opportunities to learn about feminist activism and resistance in areas such as citizenship, globalization, religious fundamentalism, war, technoscience, environmentalism and women's health. The program fosters a strong student community through a wide range of workshops and events as well as academic and practical links to local, national and international organizations. Women and Gender Studies scholarship and organizational initiatives thus address the location of the University of Toronto within a culturally diverse, economically disparate and socially complex city and nation.

Undergraduate Coordinator: Professor J. Taylor, New College, Room 2029 (416-978-5238).

Undergraduate Administrator: Marian Reed, New College, Room 2036 (416-978-3668).

Woodsworth College sponsors programs in two areas - Criminology and Employment Relations. The specialist and major programs in Criminology provide students with a foundation to begin the study of crime and the administration of the Canadian criminal justice system. The programs in Criminology may be combined with programs in Political Science, Psychology or Sociology.

The specialist and major programs in Employment Relations provide students with the opportunity to study the employment relationship in a Canadian context, from the perspectives of a number of disciplines such as economics, history, law, management, political science, and sociology. Students enrolled in the Criminology and Employment Relations programs are given priority when registering in WDW courses.

Enquiries: Program Office, Woodsworth College, Room 236 (416-978-5783), or at www.wdw.utoronto.ca.

Woodsworth College Programs

---

Criminology (Arts program)

---

Consult Program Office, Woodsworth College.

Enrolment in the specialist program is limited. Students apply during the spring term of the year in which they complete either eight full credit courses or twelve full credit courses. Students applying after eight full credit courses must have obtained an average of at least 80% in WDW 200Y1 and 220Y1 combined, and have a CGPA of at least 3.0.

Students applying after twelve full credit courses must have obtained an average of at least 80% in WDW 200Y1 and 220Y1 and two additional full WDW Criminology credits, and have a CGPA of at least 3.0. Meeting the minimum requirements may not guarantee admission.

Woodsworth College Courses

See page 32 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 26), all WDW courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

Criminology Courses

For all WDW Criminology courses, students must be enrolled in the Specialist or Major Program in Criminology.

WDW200YI Introduction to Criminology [52L, 26T]

The nature of crime and the Canadian system designed to control it. Introduction to major approaches to understanding crime and the development of criminal law, significant research on crime and the criminal justice system, laws and procedures related to crime and crime control in Canada. Not open to first year students.

Prerequisites: Four full credits including one full credit in ECO/ HIS/ PHL/POL/SOC, and a CGPA of 2.5

WDW220YI Introduction to Criminal Law and Procedure [52L, 26T]

An introduction to criminal law and the criminal process. The essential elements of criminal liability, including defences to criminal charges, the general characteristics of offences against the person, sexual offences, regulatory offences, and 'victimless offences.' The criminal process, from investigation to sentencing, and the implications of the Charter of Rights for both substantive criminal law and criminal procedure.

Co- or Prerequisite: WDW200YI

WDW300HI Crime: Theory and Policy [39L]

Major social and political theories of crime, law and justice, and their implications for policy development in the criminal justice system. The origins of central ideas that influence criminological theory and policy, seen in an historical context. Students are encouraged to develop the analytical skills needed to think critically about criminal justice policy.

Prerequisite: An average of at least 70% in WDW200YI and 220YI combined, and a CGPA of 2.5.

WDW310HI Crime and Society in Canadian History [39L]

Criminal justice history in the context of Canada's social, political and economic development from the 18th to the 20th centuries. Topics covered include: colonization and resistance, gender and sexuality, policing and punishment, and the development of criminal law.

Prerequisite: WDW200YI, 220YI

WDW320HI The Prosecution Process [39L]

A critical examination of the process by which certain conduct is identified, prosecuted and punished as "crime", and the process by which individuals become "criminals". The evolution of the modern prosecution system, including the exercise of prosecutorial discretion, rules of evidence, socially constructed defences, disparity in sentencing, and wrongful convictions.

Prerequisite: WDW200YI, 220YI

WDW335HI Policing [39L]

A theoretical framework is developed to examine the nature of policing, its structure and function. Attention is given to the history of policing and to its public and private forms. An examination of the objectives and domain, as well as the strategies, powers, and authority of contemporary policing; including decision-making, wrong-doing, accountability, and the decentralization of policing.

Prerequisite: WDW200YI, 220YI

WDW340HI Penology [39L]

The study of punishment from historical and philosophical perspectives, with a focus on contemporary Canadian policy issues. Topics covered include penal theory, prisons and non-carceral forms of punishment, and the goals of penal reform.

Prerequisite: WDW200YI, 220YI

WDW350HI Research Methods in Criminology (formerly WDW350YI) [39L]

An introduction to social science research methods used by criminologists. An understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of published criminological research is developed. Specific technical issues such as sampling and measurement are taught in the context of examining alternative ways of answering research questions.

Prerequisites: An average of at least 70% in WDW 200Y & 220Y combined, and a CGPA of 2.50.

Exclusions: SOC 200YI, SOC 200H, WDW 350YI

WDW355HI Data Analysis in Criminology [39L]

By learning how to use quantitative data to answer research questions, students develop the ability to apply basic descriptive and inferential statistical techniques to improve their comprehension of criminological data. Each student carries out a research project using publicly available data, and develops an understanding of the manner in which data are analyzed in published criminological research.

Prerequisite: WDW 350HI

Exclusion: ECO 220YI, GGR 270HI, PSY 201HI, POL 242YI, STA 220HI, STA 248HI, WDW 350YI

WDW360HI Law and Psychiatry [39L]

The increasing involvement of psychiatrists and other mental health professionals in the criminal justice system over the past 150 years, including contemporary Canadian practices. Emphasis is placed on understanding and evaluating competing interpretations of this phenomenon.

Prerequisite: WDW200YI, 220YI

WDW365HI Crime and Mind [39L]

Legal, psychological and sociological understandings of issues in the criminal justice system, through a consideration of topics including: criminal intent, the insanity defence, the concept of 'psychopathy', the use of 'battered woman syndrome' as part of a self-defence, issues of transcultural psychiatry, and jury screening for bias.

Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW370HI Youth Justice [39L]

Administration of the youth justice system in Canada. The Youth Criminal Justice Act provides a legal framework for considering individual rights, the protection of society, and the welfare of young people. An analysis of legal principles and practices at various stages in the youth justice process. Policy issues and proposals for reform.

Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW375HI Young Offenders [39L]

Historical and contemporary definitions of illegal conduct by young persons. The nature and extent of youth crime, and an analysis of theories which attempt to explain it. Assessment of the effectiveness of treatment and other strategies for preventing and responding to youth crime.

Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW380HI Crime and Gender [39L]

Theory, research and policy related to the ways in which gender shapes criminal behaviour, the administration of criminal justice, and the criminal law. How notions of different types of masculinity and femininity are embedded in and influence both the operation of the criminal justice system as well as criminal behaviours. The regulation of gender and sexuality through the criminal law and through crime.

Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW385HI Representing Crime & Authority [39L]

Cultural constructions of crime, disorder, dangerousness and risk are integral parts of the criminal justice system. A critical analysis of how police, crown attorneys, judges and the media construct their authority through symbols and images, in order to "explain" and manage crime, and how these representations are regarded in public discourse.

Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW387HI Legal Regulation of Morality [39L]

Regimes for prohibiting and regulating consensual activities such as drug use, pornography, prostitution, abortion, and gambling. Historical evolution of the law, current substantive elements required for conviction, philosophical and criminological perspectives on the decriminalization or legalization of these activities, and an examination of how other countries regulate them.

Prerequisite: UNI255HI/256HI/WDW 200Y1, 220Y1

Exclusion: WDW 391HI in 2002

WDW388HI Drugs, Crime & Control [39L]

Drugs, drug use and addiction from a criminological perspective. The history and social construction of addiction, licit and illicit drugs, criminal and disease models of drug use, drug control laws, drugs in the media, legal and constitutional issues related to drug control, policy reform, and implications for social control.

Prerequisite: WDW 200Y1, 220Y1

Exclusion: WDW 390HI in 2005

Writing in Arts and Science

---

Writing in Arts and Science

---

(Note: For courses in creative writing, see entries under “English” (ENG), “Innis College” (INI) and “Victoria” (VIC) in this Calendar.)

The ability to think critically and to write well-organized, clear, grammatical prose is important to your work in many courses. It will improve your chances if you apply to graduate or professional schools and will also give you an advantage in the workplace. To help you develop your writing skills, Arts and Science provides a range of instructional resources.

Courses

---

Departments and programs integrate instruction on writing into their courses, and some offer courses that concentrate on communication in their disciplines. Check the course listings by department. In any course, your instructors will provide guidelines for course assignments, and you may ask them to discuss written work that has been graded and returned to you.

In addition, the university offers a number of courses in writing non-fiction prose:

ENG100H1 (Effective Writing) is listed under “English” in this Calendar

TRN190Y1 (Critical Reading and Critical Writing) is listed under “Trinity College”

Innis College now offers a minor program called Writing and Rhetoric. See the program website at www.utoronto.ca/innis/wr/. Its offerings include the following courses, all listed under “Innis College”: INI103H1 (Writing Essays), INI104H1 (Writing Reports), INI203Y1 (Foundations of Written Discourse), INI204Y1 (The Academic Writing Process), INI300Y1 (Strategic Writing in Business and the Professions: Theory and Practice), INI301H1 (Contemporary Issues and Written Discourse: Rhetoric and the Print Media), INI304H1 (Critical Thinking and Inquiry in Written Communication), INI305H1 (Word and Image in Modern Writing), INI311Y1 (Seminar in Creative Writing), and INI412Y1 (Prose Style across Genres).

The University of Toronto at Mississauga (UTM) offers a major and minor program in Professional Writing and Communication. For more information, see the UTM timetable at www.utm.utoronto.ca/~utmor/student/timetable/. Consult with your college registrar about taking courses at UTM. These are among the courses offered: WRI203H5 (Expressive Writing), WRI303H5 (Specialized Prose), WRI307H5 (Science and Writing), WRI310H5 (Social and Professional Languages), WRI320H5 (History and Writing), WRI325H5 (Community and Writing), WRI330H5 (Oral Rhetoric), WRI340H5 (Critical Reading and Listening), WRI392H5 (Research and Writing), WRI395H5 (Re-linguaging: Writing across Cultures and Languages), and WRT420H5 (Making a Book).

WRT Courses provide opportunities for senior students to develop advanced writing skills in their disciplines. These courses count for degree credit but are evaluated on a CREDIT / NO CREDIT basis. No grades are awarded or calculated in the GPA. Regular tuition is charged. These courses cannot be taken to fulfill the distribution requirement.

WRT306H1 Writing for Scientists [26L]

Intensive practice and instruction for senior science students. Teaches the essentials of writing in science courses and scientific research. Examines individual and collaborative activities in academic and professional life, focusing on such genres as the abstract, research report, poster, proposal, and product documentation. Readings introduce themes applicable to written communication in the sciences.

Prerequisite: 9.0 courses completed; major or specialist enrolment in science program

Exclusion: CSC290H1, HMB397H1, PSY309H1, PSL497H1, WRT307H1

WRT306H1 has NO distribution requirement status

WRT307H1 Writing for Social Scientists [26L]

Intensive practice and instruction for senior social-science students. Teaches the essentials of social-science writing in academic and professional life, with attention to individual and collaborative projects. Focuses on genres such as the abstract, proposal, research report, and position paper. Readings introduce themes applicable to written communication in the social sciences.

Prerequisite: 9.0 courses completed; major or specialist enrolment in social science program

Exclusion: INI204Y1, INI300Y1, WRT306H1

WRT307H1 has NO distribution requirement status.

Writing Centres

The Writing Centres provided free of charge at undergraduate colleges will help you develop the writing skills needed throughout your university studies. They offer both individual and group instruction. See the webpage www.utoronto.ca/writing/news.html for announcements about group workshops and non-credit courses.

In individual consultations, trained writing instructors help you improve your ability to plan, write, and revise, using your assignments from any subject as examples. Some instructors specialize in the needs of students using English as a second language. You are entitled to use the writing centre of the college where you are registered or living in residence, or of the department where you are taking a course. All the college writing centres now use an online booking system for which you need a UTORid. To make an appointment with your writing centre, use the contact information given below or start from the common login page at awc2.wdw.utoronto.ca/awc-login/. Here is a list of Arts and Science writing centres, including contact information.

Self-Help Material

Campus libraries stock many reference guides on academic writing. Besides general handbooks on style and format, you will find books that specialize in the ways to write for specific disciplines. You can also consult the website "Writing at the University of Toronto" at www.utoronto.ca/writing. It offers over 60 specialized files giving advice on university writing, along with links to other useful online and print resources, and it gives current information on writing instruction at U of T.

Rules & Regulations

The undergraduate academic Calendar of the Faculty of Arts & Science is published in both online and printed editions. Every effort has been made to ensure the compatibility of both versions. In the case of any discrepancy, the online version shall apply. Any post-publication corrections and/or updates to the print edition of this Calendar will be posted on the Faculty Registrar's web site at <http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current>. Students are strongly advised to check back regularly to keep informed of changes.

While Departmental counsellors and the Registrars of the Colleges are always available to give advice and guidance, it must be clearly understood that THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with prerequisite, co-requisite requirements, etc., for completion of Program details, for proper observance of the Distribution Requirement and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc.

Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt; misunderstanding, or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, program or degree requirement.

Degrees Offered on the St. George Campus

Effective for students registering in a degree program in the Faculty for the first time in the 2001 summer session or later, the St. George Campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science has discontinued the 15-course (three-year) B.A. and B.Sc. degrees; ONLY 20-course (four-year) Honours B.A., B.Sc. and B.Com degrees will be available. Students registered in a degree program in the Faculty before the 2001 summer session may still choose a 15-course (three-year) degree.

Changes in Programs of Study and/or Courses

The programs of study that our Calendar lists and describes are available for the year(s) to which the calendar applies. They may not necessarily be available in later years. If the University or the Faculty must change the content of programs of study or withdraw them, all reasonable possible advance notice and alternative instruction will be given. The University will not, however, be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such changes might cause.

For each program of study offered by the University through the Faculty, the courses necessary to complete the minimum requirements of the program will be made available annually. We must, however, reserve the right otherwise to change the content of courses, instructors and instructional assignments, enrolment limitations, pre-requisites and co-requisites, grading policies, requirements for promotion and timetables without prior notice.

Regulations and Policies

As members of the University of Toronto community, students assume certain responsibilities and are guaranteed certain rights and freedoms.

The University has several policies that are approved by the Governing Council and that apply to all students. Each student must become familiar with the policies. The University will assume that he or she has done so. The rules and regulations of the Faculty are listed in this calendar. In applying to the Faculty, the student assumes certain responsibilities to the University and the Faculty and, if admitted and registered, shall be subject to all rules, regulations and policies cited in the Calendar, as amended from time to time.

All University policies can be found at www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies.htm. Some policies or portions of policies are published in the "Rules and Regulations" section of this Calendar. Those which are of particular importance to students are: the Policy on Access to Student Academic Records; the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters; the Code of Student Conduct; the Grading Practices Policy; and the Policy on Official Correspondence with Students.

More information about students' rights and responsibilities can be found at www.students.utoronto.ca/The\_Basics/Rights\_and\_Rules.htm.

Enrolment Limitations

The University makes every reasonable effort to plan and control enrolment to ensure that all of our students are qualified to complete the programs to which they are admitted, and to strike a practicable balance between enrolment and available instructional resources. Sometimes such a balance cannot be struck and the number of qualified students exceeds the instructional resources that we can reasonably make available while at the same time maintaining the quality of instruction. In such cases, we must reserve the right to limit enrolment in the programs, courses, or sections listed in the calendar, and to withdraw courses or sections for which enrolment or resources are insufficient. The University will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such limitations or withdrawals might cause.

Copyright in Instructional Settings

If a student wishes to tape-record, photograph, video-record or otherwise reproduce lecture presentations, course notes or other similar materials provided by instructors, he or she must obtain the instructor's written consent beforehand. Otherwise all such reproduction is an infringement of copyright and is absolutely prohibited. In the case of private use by students with disabilities, the instructor's consent will not be unreasonably withheld.

Person I.D. (Student Number)

Each student at the University is assigned a unique identification number. The number is confidential. The University, through the Policy on Access to Student Academic Records, strictly controls access to Person I.D. numbers. The University assumes and expects that students will protect the confidentiality of their Person I.D.'s.

Fees and Other Charges

The University reserves the right to alter the fees and other charges described in the Calendar.

Notice of Collection concerning Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

The University of Toronto respects your privacy. Personal information that you provide to the University is collected pursuant to section 2(14) of the University of Toronto Act, 1971. It is collected for the purpose of administering admission, registration, academic programs, university-related student activities, activities of student societies, financial assistance and awards, graduation and university advancement, and for the purpose of statistical reporting to government agencies. At all times it will be protected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

Rules & Regulations

---

If you have questions, please refer to www.utoronto.ca/privacy or contact the University Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Coordinator at 416 946-7303, McMurrich Building, room 201, 12 Queen's Park Crescent West, Toronto, ON, M5S 1A8.

An expanded version of this Notice can be found at www.fippa.utoronto.ca/policy/nocx.htm.

Registration

---

Details of the procedures by which students of the Faculty of Arts and Science register and enrol in courses for which they are eligible, and pay or make arrangements to pay fees, are found in the Registration Handbook and Timetable, which students receive from their college. (Any student allowed to register one day after the end of the first week of classes is charged a late fee.

Passed Courses May Not Be Repeated

---

Students may not repeat any course in which they have already obtained a mark of 50% or higher. The only exceptions occur when students require a course with a specific grade for entry to a limited-enrolment Program. Students may repeat such a course only once as an "extra" course, which will have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average. There are no supplemental examinations or provisions to "upgrade" a mark. All courses taken, except those officially cancelled, remain on the record.

Degree Courses and "Extra" Courses: Chronological Principle

---

Courses are credited towards a degree chronologically. For example, if a student has already passed six 100-series courses and then enrolls in further 100-series courses, the more recent courses are counted as "Extra" courses. An exception occurs when a student who has completed 5.5 100-series courses enrolls in a full course at the 100-level in a subsequent session; the most recently taken half-course becomes "extra."

Taking Courses Outside the Faculty

Courses at University of Toronto Scarborough and University of Toronto Mississauga

Students registered on the St. George campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science may enrol in most courses offered by University of Toronto Mississauga and University of Toronto Scarborough, provided that they meet the enrolment controls and prerequisites established by those divisions. These courses count towards the 20 credits required for a St. George degree and are included in the CGPA. These courses may also count towards St. George program requirements; students should check with their program office before enrolling.

Courses of Other Divisions

Students should select their courses from those offered in the Faculty of Arts and Science. If, however, they identify a course(s) offered in another division, faculty or school of the University that may be appropriate for inclusion in their degree program, they may petition for permission to register in the course for degree credit. In the petition, students must establish that the content and aims of the course(s) are valid for a specific Arts and Science program and cannot not be met by courses offered within the Faculty of Arts and Science. The students should initiate the procedure well in advance of the beginning of classes, so that they may choose alternate courses should the request is denied. The Faculty will not accept as reasons for taking courses in other divisions the wish to satisfy requirements to qualify for programs and organisations outside the Faculty or to prepare for non-academic or professional purposes.

Graduate Courses: Acceptance of petitions to take graduate courses is further subject to the requirements of the School of Graduate Studies (CGPA of 3.0).

Non-degree students may enrol through this Faculty in courses given by this Faculty or the University of Toronto Mississauga or the University of Toronto Scarborough only.

See the section on petitions and appeals starting on page 497 for more information.

Courses of Other Universities (Letters of Permission and Transfer Credit)

Degree students with a cumulative grade point average of at least 1.50 before studying elsewhere may take a maximum of 5.0 full-course equivalents elsewhere for transfer credit. Students admitted with transfer credit may be limited in the number of courses that they may transfer after admission and should consult the chart available on the web at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/tc. Prior to taking courses at another university, students are advised to request a Letter of Permission to confirm acceptability of those courses for transfer credit. Otherwise, students may submit a request for transfer credit after completing courses elsewhere. Permission obtained from an instructor or from a department for program purposes, however, does not obligate the Faculty to grant transfer credit. There is a $25.00 non-refundable charge for each request. Assessments of transfer credit may take several weeks to process depending on the time of year and the nature of the request. Applicants are responsible for submitting requests well in advance of any deadlines they must meet and for obtaining the appropriate counselling concerning the Letter of Permission and/or Transfer Credit process.

Note:

Only one transfer credit may be used to satisfy the requirement of 300+ series courses for the degree. Please refer to the Letters of Permission and Transfer Credit (Post-Admission) Guidelines on the Registrar's Office web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/tc.

Cancelled Courses or Registration

Cancelled Courses

Students who do not intend to complete a course or courses must use the Student Web Service to cancel the course before the final date to cancel courses from the academic record (see Sessional Dates, page 7). Students still enrolled in a course after the final date to cancel the course will receive a grade for that course. Not attending classes or ceasing to complete further course work or not writing the examination do not constitute grounds for cancellation without academic penalty from a course; the course remains on the record with the grade earned, including "0" for incomplete work.

Students are not permitted to cancel or withdraw from a course in which an allegation of academic misconduct is pending from the time of the alleged offence until the final disposition of the accusation.

Cancelled Registration

Students who wish to cancel all their current courses, and do not intend to enrol in any other courses for the rest of the session (Fall, Winter or Summer) must cancel their registration by using the Student Web Service at www.rosi.utoronto.ca or in writing by notifying their College Registrar. The cancellation of registration must be completed by the appropriate deadline in order for the student not to incur an academic penalty. Before any refund is authorized, they must:

1. Pay any outstanding fees;
2. return any books to the Library and pay any outstanding fines;
3. vacate any laboratory or athletic lockers and return any equipment in their possession.

Corrections to the Academic Record

The Faculty will accept requests for corrections to an academic record of the Fall-Winter Session up to the following 15

November, and corrections to their record of the Summer Session up to the following 28/29 February.

Note:

Students are responsible for ensuring that they provide a valid mailing address to assure that they receive a Statement of Results at the end of the Fall-Winter and Summer Sessions. The mailing address must be kept up-to-date on the Student Web Service at www.rosi.utoronto.ca. Students who cease attending a course without officially cancelling or after the cancellation deadline will be considered to be enrolled in that course. It will be included in their official Statement of Results.

Fees

Fees are subject to change at any time by approval of the Governing Council. Tuition fees normally consist of academic fees (including instruction and library) and incidental/ancillary fees (including Hart House, Health Services, Athletics and student organizations). Additional ancillary fees may also be assessed for enrolment in some specific courses. Consult the Student Accounts web site at www.fees.utoronto.ca or the Bursars of St. Michael's and Trinity Colleges.

Fees Invoice and Payment

Students receive an invoice by mail or in person at Students Accounts or their college bursar's office (St. Michael's and Trinity students) detailing fees for their specific program and selection of courses. Payment is made at a financial institution — consult the instructions sent with the invoice. You can also pay your fees using telephone or online banking if your bank offers this service. Refer to the Registration Handbook & Timetable for further details.

Payment Deadlines

Deadlines are available from the Student Accounts Office or from the college bursar's offices (St. Michael's and Trinity students).

To avoid delays, students are advised to pay fees early.

All fees and charges posted to your account are payable. If not paid in full, any outstanding account balance is subject to a monthly service charge of 1.5% per month compounded (19.56% per annum). Outstanding charges on your account from prior sessions are subject to a service charge as of the 15th of every month until paid in full."

Students with outstanding accounts may not receive official transcripts and may not re-register at the University until these accounts are paid.

Fees for International Students

In accordance with the recommendation of the Government of Ontario, certain categories of students who are neither Canadian citizens nor permanent residents of Canada are charged higher academic fees. Refer to the Student Accounts web site at www.fees.utoronto.ca for details.

Further information on fees may be obtained by students of Innis, New, University, Victoria and Woodsworth Colleges from the Student Accounts Office, University of Toronto, 215 Huron St., Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A2; 416-978-2142. Students of St.

Michael's and Trinity Colleges should consult their College Bursar.

Financial Assistance

A limited number of in-course bursaries, scholarships and awards is available to students who need financial assistance or who qualify for them on the basis of academic merit. Information on these, and the Ontario Student Assistance Program, is available on the following web sites:

Faculty of Arts & Science web site: www.artsci.utoronto.ca

Admissions and Awards web site: www.adm.utoronto.ca/fa/ or the College Registrars' offices and web sites.

Sanctions on Account of Outstanding Obligations

The following are recognized University obligations:

- (a) tuition fees;
- (b) academic and other incidental fees;
- (c) residence fees and charges;
- (d) library fines;
- (e) loans made by Colleges, the Faculty or the University;
- (f) Health Service accounts;
- (g) unreturned or damaged instruments, materials and equipment;
- (h) orders for the restitution, rectification or the payment of damages, fines, bonds for good behaviour, and requirement of public service work imposed under the authority of the Code of Student Conduct.

The following academic sanctions are imposed on Arts and Science students with outstanding University obligations:

1. Official transcripts of record will not be issued;
2. Registration will be refused to continuing or returning students.

Payments made by continuing or returning students will first be applied to outstanding University debts and then to current fees.

Course Marks

Term Work and Term Test Regulations

The following regulations summarize the Faculty's implementation of the University's Grading Practices Policy, Parts I and II of which are reprinted in full starting on page 502 (Part III is an administrative appendix and is available upon request from the Office of the Vice-President and Provost; however grade scales may be seen on page 495 of this Calendar).

Marking Schemes

Both essays (or equivalent work) and examinations (including term tests) are normally required for standing in courses. In courses where only one form of evaluation is used, a single piece of work cannot count for all of the final mark.

Self-evaluation by individual students or by groups of students is not permissible unless the specific consent of the Arts and Science Faculty Council is received.

As early as possible in each course, and no later than the last date to enrol in courses, the instructor must announce in a regularly-scheduled class the methods by which student performance will be evaluated, their relative weight in the final mark, including any discretionary factor, and the due dates. These methods must be in accord with applicable University and Faculty policies (See TERM WORK and TERM TEST below, especially bold-faced items.) Instructors must file a copy of their marking scheme for each course with the Departmental or Program Office at the beginning of the term.

Once the weight of each component of the course work is given, it may not be changed unless approved by a majority of the students present and voting at a regularly-scheduled meeting of the class.

After the last date to cancel the course without academic penalty, no change in marks weighting may take place unless there is unanimous consent of all students present and voting, and notice must be given at the regularly-scheduled class meeting previous to that at which the issue is to be raised.

Students may petition for deletion of the course from their record and receive an appropriate fees refund, should an infraction of the Grading Practices Policy occur. Petitions must be filed by the last day of classes, before all course work has been completed.

Term Work

Instructors shall return by the deadline one or more marked assignments worth a combined total of at least 10% of the total course mark for H courses and 20% for Y courses.

The deadline for returning such marked work shall be the last regularly scheduled class meeting prior to the deadline to cancel without academic penalty, with one exception: for courses that run the entire Fall/Winter Session (Y1Y or H1Y courses), the deadline shall be the last regularly-scheduled class meeting of the first week of classes in January.

All term work must be submitted on or before the last day of classes in the course concerned, unless an earlier date is specified by the instructor. Students who for reasons beyond their control are unable to submit an assignment by its deadline must obtain approval from their instructor for an extension of the deadline. This extension may be for no longer than the end of the Final Examination period. If additional time beyond this period is required, students must petition through their College Registrar before the end of the examination period for a further extension of the deadline.

Students are strongly advised to keep rough and draft work and copies of their essays and assignments, as these may be required by the instructor.

All written work that has been evaluated should be returned with such detailed comment as the instructor deems appropriate, and time made available for discussion of it. Any enquiries about a graded piece of work must be made within one month of the date the work was returned to the class. Instructors must keep unclaimed term work for at least six months beyond the end of the course.

Term Tests

No term test or combination of term tests held in the last two weeks of classes at the end of any term may have a total weight greater than 25% of the final mark.

All term tests must be held on or before the last day of classes. No term test may be held during the "Reading Week" in February, during the "Study Week" in April, or during Faculty Examination Periods, except for those in F or Y-courses scheduled by the Faculty in December.

Missed Term Tests

Students who miss a term test will be assigned a mark of zero for that test unless they satisfy the following conditions:

1. Students who miss a term test for reasons entirely beyond their control may, within one week of the missed test, submit to the instructor or department/program a written request for special consideration explaining the reason for missing the test, and attaching appropriate documentation, such as a medical certificate.
2. If a written request with documentation cannot be submitted within one week, the department may consider a request to extend the time limit.
3. A student whose explanation is accepted by the department will be entitled to one of the following considerations:
  - a) In courses where there is no other term work as part of the evaluation scheme, a makeup test must be given.
  - b) In other courses, the department/program may either give a makeup test OR increase the weighting of other graded work by the amount of the missed test. In no case may the weighting of the final examination in a 100-level course be increased beyond 2/3 of the total course mark.
4. If the student is granted permission to take a makeup test and misses it, then he or she is assigned a mark of zero for the test unless the department/program is satisfied that missing the makeup test was unavoidable. No student is automatically entitled to a second makeup test.*
5. A student who misses a term test cannot subsequently petition for late withdrawal from the course without academic penalty on the grounds that he or she has had no term work returned before the drop date.

* Note

This means that if a department is persuaded of the student's grounds for missing the makeup test, it may decide to compensate for the missed test in whatever way it chooses, which could be by giving another makeup test; the student cannot demand another makeup test.

Faculty Final Examinations

A Faculty final examination common to all sections of the course and counting for between one-third and two-thirds of the final mark must be held in each 100-series course, unless exemption has been granted by the Arts and Science Faculty Council. In 200-, 300- and 400-series courses, the Departments will decide whether or not an examination is appropriate, and report to the Committee. The ratio of term work to examination mark will be the same for all sections of multi-section courses that have final examinations. The relative value of each part of a written examination must be indicated on the question paper.

Final examinations are held at the end of each session or subsection. Students taking courses during the day may be required to write evening examinations, and students taking evening courses may be required to write examinations during the day. Examinations may be held on Saturdays. Students who make personal commitments during the examination period do so at their own risk. No special consideration is given and no special arrangements are made in the event of conflicts.

Students who are unable to write their examinations due to illness, domestic affliction, etc., should contact their College Registrar (see "Petitions Regarding Examinations", page 497). Students who have two Faculty final examinations at the same time, or three consecutive Faculty final examinations (e.g., morning, afternoon, evening; or afternoon, evening, next morning) should contact the Office of the Faculty Registrar well before the examination period begins. Information regarding dates, times and locations of examinations will not be given by telephone or email; for the most up to date examination timetable consult the Faculty's current students web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current.

Rules for the Conduct of Examinations

1. No person will be allowed in an examination room during an examination except the candidates concerned and those supervising the examination.
2. Candidates must appear at the examination room at least twenty minutes before the commencement of the examination.
3. Candidates shall bring their student photo identification cards and place them in a conspicuous place on their desks.
4. Bags and books are to be deposited in areas designated by the Chief Presiding Officer and are not to be taken to the examination desk or table. Students may place their purses on the floor under their chairs.
5. The Chief Presiding Officer has authority to assign seats to candidates.
6. Candidates shall not communicate with one another in any manner whatsoever during the examination.
7. No materials or electronic devices shall be brought into the room or used at an examination except those authorized by the Chief Presiding Officer or Examiner. Unauthorized materials include, but are not limited to: books, class notes, or aid sheets. Unauthorized electronic devices include, but are not limited to: cellular telephones, laptop computers, calculators, MP3 players (such as an iPod), Personal Digital Assistants ("PDA" such as Palm Pilot or Blackberry), pagers, electronic dictionaries, Compact Disc Players, and Mini Disc Players..

Rules & Regulations

8. Candidates who bring any unauthorized materials or electronic devices into an examination room or who assist or obtain assistance from other candidates or from any unauthorized source are liable to penalties under the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters, including the loss of academic credit and expulsion.
9. In general, candidates will not be permitted to enter an examination room later than fifteen minutes after the commencement of the examination, nor to leave except under supervision until at least half an hour after the examination has commenced.
10. Candidates shall remain seated at their desks during the final ten minutes of each examination.
11. At the conclusion of an examination, all writing shall cease. The Chief Presiding Officer may seize the papers of candidates who fail to observe this requirement, and a penalty may be imposed.
12. Examination books and other material issued for the examination shall not be removed from the examination room except by authority of the Chief Presiding Officer.

Special Accommodations Fee

Students who request permission to write an examination outside the normal examination arrangements must submit a petition making their request at least three weeks prior to the beginning of the examination period. Late requests cannot be accommodated. A non-refundable fee of $30.00 for each examination is charged at the time of application. Students who have been granted permission to write a deferred examination will pay this fee in addition to the deferred examination fee of $70.00 per examination.

If permission has been granted for the examination to be written at an "Outside Centre", students are also responsible for all costs for invigilation, postage, etc. charged by the centres involved. These costs can reach as high as $100.00 per examination; students are advised to determine the total cost before petitioning. Such permission is granted only in the most extreme circumstances.

Credit/No Credit

Effective beginning the 2008-09 Fall-Winter Session, degree students in the Faculty of Arts & Science may select up to 1.0 full-course equivalents of their degree credits to be assessed on a Credit/ No Credit basis. Students must choose this mode of assessment no later than the last day to enrol in the relevant course. Once the deadline has passed, students may not under any circumstances reverse this decision.

To achieve a status of CR (Credit), a student must achieve a final mark of at least 60%. Marks below that will be assessed as NCR (No Credit). Courses with a final status of CR will count as degree credits but will have no effect on the student's GPA. They will count as Distribution Requirements and degree credits, but cannot be used to satisfy subject POST requirements.

Courses with a final status of NCR will not count as degree credits but will not count as failures, and will also not be included in the GPA calculation.

Students may exercise this option to a total of 1.0 full-course equivalents within the total number of credits required for a degree. The choice is not restricted as to year or level of course. This option is not available to Arts & Science non-degree students or to students from other faculties/divisions of the University of Toronto.

Repeating a Courses as an "Extra"

---

A student may repeat 1.0 full-course equivalent in which he or she has received a passing mark for reasons other than to gain a required mark above passing to qualify for entry into a Subject POST or a course required for a prerequisite. Such a repeated course will be designated an "Extra" course: it will appear on the academic record, but will be marked "Extra" and will not be included in GPA calculations or in the degree credit count.

Students requesting to repeat a course in this way must do so at their college registrar's office, where they will receive appropriate advising and will be enrolled, provided there is space available, only after other degree students have had an opportunity to enroll.

Grading Regulations

Grading Scale

---

Percentage	Letter Grade	Grade Point Value *	Grade Definition
90-100	A+	4.0	Excellent → Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization; capacity to analyze and synthesize; superior grasp of subject matter with sound critical evaluations; evidence of extensive knowledge base.
85-89	A	4.0
80-84	A-	3.7
77-79	B+	3.3	Good → Evidence of grasp of subject matter; some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of relevant issues; evidence of familiarity with literature.
73-76	B	3.0
70-72	B-	2.7
67-69	C+	2.3	Adequate → Student who is profiting from his/her university experience; understanding of the subject matter; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material.
63-66	C	2.0
60-62	C-	1.7
57-59	D+	1.3	Marginal → Some evidence of familiarity with subject matter and some evidence that critical and analytic skills have been developed.
53-56	D	1.0
50-52	D-	0.7
0-49	F	0.0	Inadequate → Little evidence of even superficial understanding of subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; with limited or irrelevant use of literature.

* The grade point values above apply to marks earned in individual courses; grade point averages are weighted sums of the grade points earned (see below), and thus do not necessarily correspond exactly to the scale above. For example, a B+ average would include grade point averages from 3.20 to 3.49, while the lowest B- average would be 2.50.

Note:

In order to “obtain standing” in a course, a student must receive at least a passing grade (50%) in that course. A Grade of “F” is a failure. There are no supplemental examination privileges in the Faculty.

Other notations, which have no grade point values, and which may be authorized only by petition, are:

AEG

Aegrotat Standing on the basis of term work and medical evidence

CR/NCR

Credit/No Credit; is not in general use in the Faculty

NGA

No Grade Available

GWR

Grade withheld pending Review

IPR

(Course) In Progress

SDF

Standing Deferred granted by petition

WDR

Late Withdrawal without academic penalty after the relevant deadline. Removal of a grade for incomplete work when withdrawal before the end of the course has been caused by circumstances beyond the student's control, arising after the last date for course cancellation. Changes to the record will be authorized by petition only in exceptional circumstances.

EXT or XTR or X

Extra Course not for degree credit; course has no effect on status or grade point average.

Grade Point Average

The Grade Point Average is the weighted sum (a full course is weighted as 2, a half-course as 1) of the grade points earned, divided by the number of courses in which grade points were earned.

However, courses noted "AEG" are not included in the average, nor are transfer credits, courses taken elsewhere on a Letter of Permission, nor courses designated as "extra." Courses taken as Non-degree students and Non-degree visiting students are included in the CGPA.

Three types of grade point averages are used:

1. The Sessional GPA is based on courses taken in a single session (Fall, Winter or Summer);
2. The Annual GPA is based on courses taken in the Fall-Winter Sessions;
3. The Cumulative GPA takes into account all courses not marked "extra" in the Faculty.

A Sessional, Annual, and Cumulative GPA is also calculated for all Non-degree and Non-degree visiting students. For Non-degree students who have completed a degree in the Faculty, the Cumulative GPA includes all courses taken both as a degree student and as a non-degree student.

Academic Standing

---

There are four kinds of academic standing which apply to students who have attempted at least four courses in the Faculty: In Good Standing; On Probation; On Suspension; Refused Further Registration

Academic standing is assessed twice a year:

1. At the end of the Winter Session; the GPAs used for this status assessment are the annual and the cumulative GPAs.
2. At the end of the Summer Session; the GPAs used for this status assessment are the sessional and the cumulative GPAs.

In Good Standing:

---

Students are described as In Good Standing if they are neither On Probation, Suspended nor Refused Further Registration; these terms are explained below. For students with particularly noteworthy academic results, there are three specific forms of recognition, which are described in the "Student Services & Resources" section starting on page 14.

Probation; Suspension; Refused Further Registration

---

The following regulations apply to students who have attempted at least four courses* in the Faculty.

1. A student shall be on academic probation who
  - a) has a cumulative GPA of less than 1.50 or
  - b) returns from suspension.
2. A student who, at the end of the Winter or Summer Session during which he or she is on probation
  - a) has a cumulative GPA of 1.50 or more shall be in good standing

- b) has a cumulative GPA of less than 1.50 but an annual GPA of 1.70 or more (Winter Session)/sessional GPA of 1.70 or more (Summer Session) shall continue on probation.
  - c) has a cumulative GPA of less than 1.50 and an annual GPA of less than 1.70 (Winter Session)/sessional GPA of less than 1.70 (Summer Session) shall be suspended for one calendar year unless he or she has been so suspended previously, in which case he or she shall be suspended for three years.
3. A student who, having been suspended for three years, is again liable for suspension shall be refused further registration in the Faculty.

* Courses attempted are those in which a student remains formally enrolled on the last date for cancellation, unless the academic penalty normally attached to a later cancellation is removed by petition.

NOTE: Students “On Academic Probation” may take no more than five courses in each of the Fall and Winter Sessions.

Grades Review Procedure

The Arts and Science Faculty Council administers the Grading Regulations, and reviews course grades submitted by Departments. The Faculty, through this Committee, is responsible for assigning the official course grades, which are communicated to the students by the Faculty Registrar.

Each Chair appoints a departmental review committee to review grades submitted by instructors. The committee may ask for clarification of any anomalous results or distributions, or disparity between sections of the same courses. Both the departmental review committee, through the Chair, and the Faculty review committee, through the Dean, have the right, in consultation with the instructor of the course, to adjust marks where there is an obvious and unexplained discrepancy between the marks submitted and the perceived standards of the Faculty. Final marks are official, and may be communicated to the students only after the review procedure has taken place. Grades, as an expression of the instructor's best judgment of each student's overall performance, will not be determined by any system of quotas.

Appeals and Petitions

Students are responsible for observing sessional dates, course prerequisites, and exclusion, satisfying the degree requirements and following the rules and regulations in the Calendar and the Registration Handbook and Timetable; failure to inform themselves of the preceding information may result in academic and/or financial penalties. Students should always consult their College Registrar immediately for guidance if anything happens that interferes with continuing or completing their courses, or that appears to be contrary to rules, regulations and deadlines.

Departmental Appeals

Issues arising within a course that concern the pedagogical relationship of the instructor and the student, such as the organization of a course, grading practices, or conduct of instructors, fall within the authority of the department or college sponsoring the course. Students are encouraged to discuss any issues regarding the academic aspects of a course with the instructor. It is recommended that if appropriate an issue should be documented in writing. The successive stages of appeal after the course instructor are as follows: the Undergraduate Secretary; the Chair of the Department or the College Program Director; then the Dean of the Faculty. An appeal must have been reviewed at the departmental level before referral to the Dean; appeals to the Dean MUST be in writing.

Petitions to the Faculty

Issues relating to degree requirements and administrative regulations may be petitioned to the Faculty within specific time limitations. The Faculty considers petitions to have regulations waived or varied, if a student presents compelling reasons; however, students must convince the Faculty that they have acted responsibly and with good judgment in observing Faculty regulations. The Committee on Standing routinely denies petitions that in its view do not present a valid reason for an exemption from the regulations. Students are encouraged to seek counselling and, if necessary, to initiate a petition through the office of their College Registrar.

Petitions must 1) state the student's request; 2) the reasons for the request in a clear and concise manner; and 3) be accompanied by relevant supporting documentation. The petition is considered in confidence by the Committee on Standing, which is charged with interpreting and administering the regulations of the Faculty. The Committee has the authority to grant exceptions and to attach conditions to its decisions.

It is the responsibility of the student to provide an accurate mailing and email (UTORmail) address to which a petition decision may be sent. Non-receipt of a decision due to incorrect address/email address is not grounds for reconsideration.

Rules & Regulations

---

Deadlines to File Petitions

Term Work

The last day of the examination period

Examinations

Within one week of the end of the examination period; end of first week of classes in January for the December examination period

Withdrawal

Fall-Winter Session courses: the following 15 November
Summer Session courses: the following 28/29 February

All supporting documentation must be submitted within three weeks of the date of initiating the petition. Late petitions and petitions with late documentation will not be considered.

Documentation in Support of Petitions

The Faculty seeks documentation that provides pertinent evidence for decisions determining whether or not an exception should be made to regulations that are designed to ensure equitable treatment for all students.

Medical Documentation:

The University of Toronto Student Medical Certificate must be submitted in support of a request for an exemption from Faculty regulations, if illness is being used as the reason for the request. The claim of illness, however, is not sufficient grounds in itself to guarantee approval of the request. This certificate is available online at www.utoronto.ca/health, or at the Health Services (Medical and Psychiatric Services), the Office of the Faculty Registrar, College Registrar's Offices, departments and other offices of the University as well as in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. The certificate is titled as follows:

University of Toronto Medical Certificate

Other medical notes will not be accepted. Note that the physician's report must establish that the patient was examined and diagnosed at the time of illness, not after the fact. The Faculty will not accept a statement that merely confirms a report of illness made by the student and documented by the physician.

Petitions Regarding Courses in Other Divisions—see page 490.

Petitions Regarding Term Work (see also page 492)

Matters concerning term work normally fall within the authority of the instructor. Students unable to comply with given deadlines must contact their instructor prior to the deadline if an extension to the deadline is requested. All term work must be submitted by the last day of classes, unless an earlier date has been specified. Instructors may grant extensions beyond their own deadlines or beyond the last day of classes up to the last day of the examination period provided that a student presents reasons of illness, etc., with appropriate documentation. Extensions beyond the last day of the examination period interfere with the Faculty's schedule for the submission of final grades and must therefore be approved by petition. These petitions for an extension of time for term work must be initiated by the last day of the relevant examination period. Late requests will not be accepted. Students must file the petition after consultation with the instructor regarding a suitable extension date. The Committee on Standing consults the department concerned for information about the status of the course work, and the steps, if any, that must be taken to complete the course. Students seeking an extension of time for term work are expected to continue their course work while they await a decision. They will not be granted additional time after the petition decision has been issued.

Petitions Regarding Examinations (see also page 493)

Students are expected to write examinations as scheduled. Only in cases of documented debilitating illness or legitimate conflict should a student request a deferral of a final examination. Students who are too ill and/or incapacitated at the time of the examinations should petition to defer the examination they are unable to attend due to their medical condition. Petitions based on travel, employment, or personal plans will not be considered.

A deferred special examination at a subsequent examination period or the regular offering of the examination when next taught may be granted at the discretion of the Faculty. Satisfactory evidence in the form of the University of Toronto Student Medical Certificate* (see above) must be provided to corroborate the illness. Students with chronic illnesses must provide medical documentation for the specific date on which the illness was acute. Students must submit a petition within one week of the end of the examination period through their college registrar. There is a fee of $70.00 per deferred examination (maximum $140.00). In the petition decision students are notified of the examination period in which the deferred examination will take place, and if the examination will be a regular or special examination. They must register and pay the fee by a given deadline, in order that arrangements can be made, an examination requested, etc. The Faculty will notify those who do not register by the deadline that they have lost their privilege of a deferred examination and will revert the grade to one that includes a "0" for the final examination. No further consideration will be given. The Faculty posts personal deferred examination schedules online for students who have paid the deferred examination fee, as soon after the regular examinations have been scheduled as possible. Those who do not pay the deferred examination fee lose the privilege of a deferred examination and their grade reverts to one that includes a "0" for the final examination.

Final Examination	Deferred Examination
April/May	June examination period, if course is offered in Summer Session May to June; August examination period for all others
June	August examination period, if course offered in Summer Session May/July - August December examination period, if course offered in Fall Session August examination periods for all others
August	December examination period
December	April/May examination period, if course offered in Winter Session Reading Week for all others

Students who must write a deferred examination in a course that serves as a prerequisite for subsequent courses may enrol in those courses with the approval of the department concerned and provided that the term mark in the prerequisite (deferred) course is at least 60%.

Notes:

N.B. Students who are granted Deferred Standing (i.e., the notation of "SDF", for an extension of time for term work or for a deferred examination) and who have earned a Cumulative Grade Point Average of less than 1.50, will not be permitted to enrol in further courses until the outstanding course work has been completed and final cumulative and sessional GPAs and status for the session have been assessed.

If students decide to write an examination which does not go well, they MAY NOT PETITION FOR A REWRITE. Post hoc arguments claiming an inability to function at full potential or to exhibit full knowledge of the subject matter will not be accepted as grounds for consideration of a petition concerning performance on an examination. Furthermore, students who choose to write an examination against medical recommendation should do so knowing that they will not be given consideration after the examination has been written. Students must not only take responsibility for making appropriate judgements about their fitness to attend examinations, but also must accept the outcome of their choices.

Students who miss a deferred examination receive a grade of "0" for the examination in the calculation of the final grade. If the Faculty accepts the student's reasons for missing a deferred examination as legitimate, a further deferred examination may be permitted; however, the "SDF" notation will be replaced by the original grade. Students are charged a further fee for each subsequent deferred examination. Note that in such situations of further deferrals the Committee on Standing regularly prohibits registration in further sessions until the outstanding course work has been completed.

Appeals Against Petition Decisions

Appeals against petition decisions progress as follows:

1. First petition to the Committee on Standing by appropriate deadline submitted through College Registrar (see Deadlines to File Petitions);
2. Appeal to the Committee on Standing within ninety days of the first decision; second petition submitted through the College Registrar;
3. Appeal to the Faculty Academic Appeals Board within ninety days of the second decision; written request for a hearing submitted through the College Registrar;
4. Appeal to the Academic Appeals Committee of Governing Council within ninety days of the decision of the Faculty Academic Appeals Board; written request for a hearing submitted directly to the Governing Council Office in Simcoe Hall, to the attention of Mr. A. Gray.

Reassessment of Marks

Reread of Final Examination

---

If a student believes that a final examination has been incorrectly marked in its substance, he/she may request a

"reread." The student must first purchase a photocopy of the final examination from the Office of the Faculty Registrar, for a fee of $13.00 per course. The student must then fill out a "Request for Reread of Final Examination" form, which is available at the Office of the Faculty Registrar and on the Faculty Registrar's web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/exams. The student must demonstrate that his/her answers are substantially correct by citing specific instances of disagreement, supported by such documentary evidence as course handouts, textbooks, lecture notes, etc. The student must do more than simply assert that "I disagree with the marking," or that "I believe I deserve more marks." The Department concerned will reread the examination in light of the arguments presented. There is a $35.00 fee for this procedure, which is in addition to the fee of $13.00 charged for the photocopy of the final examination. The fee must be submitted, with the completed form, to the Office of the Faculty Registrar within six months of the final examination period. If the mark is changed as a result of this review both the photocopy and reread fees will be refunded. It should be noted that when a course is failed, the examination must be reread before the mark is reported.

Recheck of Course Mark

If a student believes that there has been an arithmetical error in calculating the course mark, he/she may request a "recheck." This can be done with or without purchasing a photocopy of the final examination. The student must fill out a "Request for Recheck of Course Mark" form, which is available at the Office of the Faculty Registrar and on the Faculty Registrar's web site at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/exams. The student must indicate precisely where he/she thinks the error has occurred. The Department concerned will check that all answers have been marked, and that the marks have been added correctly; the examination will not be reread. The Department will also check that all term work marks have been correctly calculated. There is no charge for this procedure. The completed form must be submitted to the Office of the Faculty Registrar within six months of the final examination period. If the mark is changed as a result of this review, the photocopy fee will be refunded.

Note:

A reread or recheck may result in a raised mark, a lowered mark, or no change.

Deadlines for requesting a photocopy of a final examination, a reread or a recheck:

February examinations: the following August 31
April/May examinations: the following November 15
June examinations: the following January 15
August examinations: the following February 28/29
December examinations: the following June 30

Rules & Regulations

---

Student Records

---

The “official student academic record” is maintained by the Faculty, which shall designate the document, form or medium containing the official version and how official copies of such information will be identified.

Student academic records refer to information concerning admission to, and academic performance at, this University. The “official student academic record” contains:

1. personal information which is required in the administration of official student academic records such as name, student number, citizenship, social insurance number;
2. registration and enrolment information;
3. results for each course and academic period;
4. narrative evaluations of a student’s academic performance, used to judge his or her progress;
5. basis for a student’s admission such as the application for admission and supporting documents;
6. results of petitions and appeals;
7. medical information relevant to a student’s academic performance, furnished at the request or with the consent of the student;
8. letters of reference, whether or not they have been provided on the understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence;
9. personal and biographical information such as address, and telephone number.

Access to Student Records

I. Access by a student.

- (i) Students may examine and have copies made of their academic record as defined above, with the exception of those portions of the record which comprise letters of reference which have been provided or obtained on the expressed or implied understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence. A student may however, be advised of the identity of the authors of any confidential letters contained in his or her official academic record.
- (ii) Students’ requests to examine any part of their “official student academic record” shall be made in writing and shall be complied with within thirty days of receipt.
- (iii) Students may challenge the accuracy of their academic record with the exception of the materials specifically excluded above and may have their record supplemented with comments so long as the sources of such comments are identified and the official student academic record remains securely within the custody of the academic division. Reference to such comments would not necessarily appear on official academic reports such as the transcript or the Statement of Results. (Note that access to medical information shall only be granted to members of the teaching and administrative staff with the prior expressed or implied consent of the student and, if applicable, in the case of a medical assessment, the originator (physician, etc.) of such.)
- (iv) It is assumed that all documents relating to petitions and appeals and not provided on the understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence will be retained within the division, and when needed by the student, will be made freely available. In addition, The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, 1971 of Ontario requires that where the good character, propriety of conduct or competence of a party is in issue in any proceedings in a tribunal to which the Act applies (such as the Academic Appeals Board of the Governing Council), the part is entitled to be furnished prior to the hearing with “reasonable information” of any allegations with respect hereto.

2. Access by University Staff.

Members of the teaching and administrative staff of the University shall have access to relevant portions of a student’s academic record in the performance of their duties.

3. Access by U of T campus organizations.

Student organizations in the U. of T. may have access to all information available freely to persons outside the university and to the residence address and telephone number of the student, for the legitimate internal use of that organization.

4. Access by Others

- a) By the act of registration, a student gives implicit consent for a minimal amount of information to be made freely available to all inquirers:
  - the academic divisions(s) and the session(s) in which a student is or has been registered,
  - degree(s) received and date(s) of convocation.
- b) Any other information shall be released to other persons and agencies only with the student’s prior expressed written consent, or on the presentation of a court order, or in accordance with the requirements of professional licensing or certification bodies or the Ministry of Colleges and Universities for an annual enrolment audit, or otherwise under compulsion of law. A record shall be kept of permissions granted to any persons or agencies outside the university for access to a student’s academic record.
- c) General statistical material drawn from academic records not disclosing the identities of students may be released for research and informational purposes.

Refusal of Access

The University reserves the right to withhold transcripts of students who have outstanding debts.

Custody of Student Academic Records

Academic records are normally under the custodial responsibility of the academic divisions. Seventy-five years after a student has ceased to be registered, all such records become the responsibility of the University Archivist and become open to researchers authorized by the University of Toronto.

Personal Information

Personal information is a vital part of the student’s official University record and is used to issue statements of results, transcripts, graduation information, diplomas and other official documents. The University is also required by law to collect certain information for the Federal and Provincial Governments; this is reported only in aggregate form and is considered confidential by the University.

Any change in the following must therefore be reported immediately to the College Registrar:

Rules & Regulations

---

1. legal name;
2. Social Insurance Number;
3. citizenship status in Canada;

Mailing Address

---

Address information (mailing and permanent) must be viewed and changed on the Student Web Service (at www.rosi.utoronto.ca) or in your College Registrar's Office. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that the mailing address is kept up-to-date on the SWVS.

E-Mail Address

---

As a student at the University of Toronto, you have automatic access to the Information Commons, which is your passport to e-mail, the library and the Internet. Once you have your TCard, you must activate your University of Toronto e-mail account. Setting up a UTOEmail account is mandatory; see "University Policy on Official Correspondence with Students" in the next column.

T-Card

The T Card is a wallet-sized card bearing the student's photograph, and serves as evidence of registration in the Faculty and as a library card. It is used for identification purposes within the University, such as Faculty examinations, student activities, and Athletic Association privileges. The loss of the card must be reported promptly to the College Registrar, and the card must be surrendered if a student withdraws from the University or transfers to another College or Faculty. There is a fee for the replacement of lost cards.

Statement of Results

---

Beginning with the 2008 Summer Session, the Faculty of Arts & Science will no longer be mailing Statements of Results to students in good standing. Students will be able to check their course results, grade point averages and academic status by accessing their academic record online through the Student Web Service. Final course results will be available for viewing on the Student Web Service as soon as they are approved while academic status and grade point averages will be available approximately two weeks after the end of the examination period. Note that academic status and cumulative grade point averages are only assessed in June (for the Fall/Winter Sessions) and in August (for the Summer Session).

Students not in good standing, those with amended grades and those with graduation requests will receive notification in writing by surface mail.

Transcripts

---

The transcript of a student's record reports their complete registration history at the university including courses in progress and the standing in all courses attempted along with course average, information about the student's academic status including records of suspension and refusal of further registration, current academic sanctions, and completion of degree requirements and of subject POS(s).

Final course results are added to each student's record at the end of each session and Summer sub-session. GPAs are calculated at the end of each session. Individual courses that a student cancels within the normal time limit are not shown.

Copies of the transcript are issued at the student's request. In accordance with the University's policy on access to student records, the student's signature is required for the release of the record when ordered in person, by fax, or by mail.

The University of Toronto issues only consolidated transcripts, including a student's total academic record at the University. Students may request consolidated transcripts online at www.rosi.utoronto.ca. Requests may also be made in person, by fax, or by mail, to:

University of Toronto Transcript Centre
Room 1006, Sidney Smith Hall
100 St. George Street
Toronto, ON M5S 3G3
FAX: 416-978-2487

Request forms can be obtained online at www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/undergraduate/transcripts.

A fee of $10.00 (subject to change), which includes GST., is charged for each transcript. Cheques and money orders should be made payable to the University of Toronto.

The University of Toronto cannot be responsible for transcripts lost or delayed in the mail. Transcripts are not issued for students who have outstanding financial obligations with the University.

University Policy on Official Correspondence with Students

---

The University and its divisions may use the postal mail system and/or electronic message services (e.g., electronic mail and other computer-based on-line correspondence systems) as mechanisms for delivering official correspondence to students.

Official correspondence may include, but is not limited to, matters related to students' participation in their academic programs, important information concerning University and program scheduling, fees information, and other matters concerning the administration and governance of the University.

Postal Addresses and Electronic Mail Accounts

Students are responsible for maintaining and advising the University, on the University's student information system (currently ROSI), of a current and valid postal address as well as the address for a University-issued electronic mail account that meets a standard of service set by the Vice-President and Provost.

Failure to do so may result in a student missing important information and will not be considered an acceptable rationale for failing to receive official correspondence from the University.

University rights and responsibilities regarding official correspondence

The University provides centrally supported technical services and the infrastructure to make electronic mail and/or on-line communications systems available to students. University correspondence delivered by electronic mail is subject to the same public information, privacy and records retention requirements and policies as are other university correspondence and student records. The University's expectations concerning use of information and communication technology are articulated in the guidelines on Appropriate Use of Information and Communication Technology (available on the web site of the Office of the Vice-President and Provost: <http://www.provost.utoronto.ca/English/Appropriate-Use-of-Information-and-Communication-Technology.html>.)

Rules & Regulations

Students' rights and responsibilities regarding retrieval of official correspondence

Students are expected to monitor and retrieve their mail, including electronic messaging account[s] issued to them by the University, on a frequent and consistent basis. Students have the responsibility to recognize that certain communications may be time-critical. Students have the right to forward their University-issued electronic mail account to another electronic mail service provider address but remain responsible for ensuring that all University electronic message communication sent to the official University-issued account is received and read.

University Grading Practices Policy

---

Purpose

The purpose of the University Grading Practices Policy is to ensure:

- a) that grading practices throughout the University reflect appropriate academic standards;
- b) that the evaluation of student performance is made in a fair and objective manner against these academic standards;
- c) that the academic standing of every student can be accurately assessed even when courses have been taken in different divisions of the University and evaluated according to different grade scales.

Application of Policy

The Policy applies to all individuals and committees taking part in the evaluation of student performance in degree, diploma, and certificate credit courses (hereafter referred to as courses).

Amendment to Policy

Amendments to the Policy shall be recommended to the Academic Board. Changes to the divisional regulations on grading practices shall be forwarded to the Committee on Academic Policy and Programs.

Distribution of Policy

A copy of the Grading Practices Policy as well as the description of the grade scales and the substance of divisional regulations indicated in Part II of this Policy shall be published in the Calendar of the division. Similarly a copy shall be given to all students upon initial registration and to all instructors and others, including teaching assistants, involved in the evaluation of student performance. The Policy is in three parts: Part I deals with grades, Part II outlines grading procedures to be adhered to in divisional regulations adopted as part of this Policy, and Part III is an administrative appendix that is available on the Governing Council website: www.utoronto.ca/govcncl/pap/policies/grading.pdf.

Part I: Grades

---

Meaning of Grades

Grades are a measure of the performance of a student in individual courses. Each student shall be judged on the basis of how well he or she has command of the course materials.

- I.1 A grade assigned in a course is not an assessment of standing within a program of studies. To determine the requirements for credit and standing in a program of studies, the academic regulations of the division in which the program is offered should be consulted.
- I.2 Grades for each course shall be assigned with reference to the following meanings (which may be expanded in the divisional regulations under Part II): Excellent, Good, Adequate, Marginal, Inadequate.

Grade Scales

- I.3 Once a judgment on the performance of the student has been made, the following grade scales are to be used:
  - a) the refined letter grade scale: A+, A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, D-, F;
  - b) the numerical scale of marks, consisting of all integers from 0 - 100; and/or
  - c) for graduate divisions only, a truncated refined letter grade scale in which FZ replaces the C, D and F grades in (a) above.
  - d) the scales Honours/Pass/Fail and Credit/No Credit.

Grades vs. Scores

- I.4 Grades should always be based on the approved grade scales. However, students may find that on any one evaluation they may receive a numerical or letter mark that reflects the score achieved on the test or essay. The cumulative scores may not be directly identified with the final grade. Grades are final only after review by the divisional review committee described below. (NOTE: A table of correspondence and a translation table are defined (under "Grading Regulations" on page 495) for each of the letter grade scales referred to in I.3(a) in order to allow the conversion, when necessary, of a grade assigned from one scale to the corresponding grade in another. It should be noted that these tables are not to be used to translate a score to a grade directly.)

Grade Reporting

- I.5 Grades will be assigned according to the numerical scale of marks referred to in I.3 (b) above, and converted to the refined letter grade scale of I.3(a) above. The H/P/FL and CR/NCR scales of I.3(d) above may also be used. However, the grades assigned in a course must all be from the same scale.
- I.6 All non-grade designators used in reporting course results must correspond to the University-wide standard. A list of the currently approved designators and their meanings is given in the Appendix A.2
- I.7 The information in grade reports and transcripts must be communicated to the user, whether within or outside the University, in a clear and meaningful way. To that end, transcripts must include:
  - a) an enrolment history, which traces chronologically the student's entire participation at the University;

- b) a "grade point average" based on a 4-point scale for all undergraduate divisions (Note: grade point average values will be assigned as follows A+/A = 4.0; A- = 3.7, B+ = 3.3, B = 3.0, B- = 2.7, C+ = 2.3, C = 2.0, C- = 1.7, D+ = 1.3, D = 1.0, D- = 0.7, F = 0.0),
- c) an average grade for each course expressed using the refined letter grade scale (Note: these calculations should be restricted to courses of a specific size),
- d) both numeric mark and its letter grade equivalent, where possible, for all courses,
- e) course weight values, expressed using a uniform system of values allowing for the relative values needed by each division,
- f) transfer credits granted,
- g) academic honours, scholarships and awards sanctioned by the University,
- h) a comprehensive guide explaining all grades and symbols used on the transcript.

Part II: Grading Procedures

Approval of Grades

Grades shall be recommended by the instructor to the chair or division head. The grades shall then be reviewed and approved following the divisional review procedure. Grades shall not be reported or released to students as official until the divisional review procedure has been carried out. The divisional review constitutes final approval of grades except when grades are changed on appeal.

Divisional Review Committee

II.1 In each division, a committee chaired by the divisional head or designate, and where appropriate, an additional committee structure, with the chairs (or their designates) of departments or other academic units of divisions serving as chairs, shall:

- a) administer the implementation of the University Grading Practices Policy at the divisional level and oversee the general consistency of grading procedures with the division;
- b) approve and administer the University's specific regulations concerning the grade scale or scales to be used, the assignment of non-grade designators for course work, classroom procedures and approval methods of evaluation;
- c) review, adjust and approve course grades recommended by instructors. The grades recommended for any individual student in the professional faculties may be adjusted according to his or her performance in the course or program as determined by the committee. The divisional committee has the final responsibility for assigning the official course grade.

Classroom Procedures

II.2 To ensure that the method of evaluation in every course reflects appropriate academic standards and fairness to students, divisional regulations governing classroom procedures must be consistent with the practices below.

- a) As early as possible in each course (and no later than the division's last date for course enrolment) the instructor shall make available to the class, and shall file with the division or department, the methods by which student performance shall be evaluated. This should include whether the methods of evaluation shall be essays, tests, examinations, etc., the relative weight of these methods in relation to the overall score, and the timing of each major evaluation.

- b) After the methods of evaluation have been known, the instructor may not change them or their relative weight without the consent of at least a simple majority of the students enrolled in the course. Any changes shall be reported to the division or the department.
- c) Student performance in a course shall be assessed on more than one occasion. No one essay, test, examination, etc. should have a value of more than 80% of the grade. Criteria for exemption may be determined by the division.
- d) In courses that meet regularly as a class there shall be an examination (or examinations) conducted formally under divisional auspices and worth (alone or in the aggregate) at least one-third of the final grade. Criteria for exemption may be determined by the division. The relative value of each part of an examination shall be indicated to the student. In the case of a written examination, the value shall be indicated on the examination paper.
- e) Commentary on assessed term work and time for discussion of it shall be made available to students.
- f) At least one piece of term work which is a part of the evaluation of a student performance, whether essay, lab report, review, etc., shall be returned to the student prior to the last date for cancelling the course without academic penalty.
- g) Grades shall be recommended by the instructor in reference to the approved grades scales on the basis of each student's overall performance.

In formulating their own regulations divisions may add to items (a) to (g) and may adopt fuller or more specific provisions, for example in place of such terms as "a simple majority" (b), "one-third of the final grade" (d), or in particularizing the evaluation methods referred to in (a) and (b).

Procedures in the Event of Disruptions

II.3 The following principles shall apply in the event of disruption of the academic program:

- (i) The academic integrity of academic programs must be honoured; and
- (ii) Students must be treated in a fair manner recognizing their freedom of choice to attend class or not without penalty.

Procedures:

- a) The Vice-President and Provost, or the Academic Board, shall declare when a disruption of the academic program has occurred. The Provost shall take steps to inform the University community at large of the changes to be implemented, and will report to the Committee on Academic Policy and Programs regarding the implementation of the procedures and changes to the status of the academic programs.
- b) Individual instructors or multi-section co-ordinators responsible for courses that are disrupted shall determine, as the disruption proceeds, whether any changes to classroom procedures are needed to complete the course.

Rules & Regulations

- c) Changes to the classroom procedures should, where possible, first be discussed with students prior to the class in which a vote of the students present on the proposed changes is to be taken. Changes agreed upon by consensus should be forwarded to the department or division with a report on the attendance at the class where the vote was taken.
- d) Where consensus on changes has not been arrived at, or where a vote is not feasible, the instructor, after class discussion, will provide the division head or chair of the department in multi-departmental faculties, with his or her recommendation, along with the results of the classroom votes. The chair or division head shall then make a decision.
- e) Where classes are not able to convene, the instructor, with the prior approval of the chair in multi-departmental faculties or the division head, shall make changes deemed necessary to the classroom procedures. In the absence of the instructor such changes will be made by the divisional head and require the approval of the Provost. Where courses are to be cancelled, approval of the divisional council is required. If the divisional council cannot meet, approval of the division head, or in the absence of the division head, the approval of the Provost is required.
- f) Students must be informed of changes to classroom procedures. This may be done by circulating the changes in writing to the class, posting in the departmental and faculty offices, reporting to the divisional council, as well as listing in the campus press. Should classes resume students must be informed, at class, of any changes made during the disruption.
- g) Where a declared disruption occurs in a specific course after the last date to drop courses for the academic term or session, students who do not wish to complete the course(s) during that term or session may, prior to the last day of classes, withdraw without academic penalty. Students who cancel a course prior to the last day of classes as a result of declared disruption in that course shall receive a full refund of the course tuition fee.
- h) Where students have not attended classes that are meeting, they nonetheless remain responsible for the course work and meeting course requirements. However, where possible, reasonable extension of deadlines for the course requirements, or provision of make-up tests shall be made and reasonable alternative access to material covered should be provided.
- i) A student who considers that disruption has unreasonably affected his or her grade in a course may appeal the grade following the procedures as set out in each division. If the petition is approved, the student's original grade will be replaced by either an assessed grade or by a grade of CR/NCR, or as deemed appropriate in the particular circumstances.

Assessment in Clinical and Field Settings

---

- II.4 Divisions may make reasonable exemptions to the classroom procedures described above in circumstances such as field or clinical courses where adherence to these procedures is not possible. Nevertheless, it is obligatory that the assessment of the performance of students in clinical or field settings should be fair, humane, valid, reliable and in accordance with the principles enunciated in the University Grading Practices Policy. Accordingly, where a student's performance in a clinical or field setting is to be assessed for credit, the evaluation must encompass as a minimum:

- a) a formal statement describing the evaluation process, including the criteria to be used in assessing the performance of students and the appeal mechanisms available. This statement should be available to all students before or at the beginning of the clinical or field experience;
- b) a mid-way performance evaluation with feedback to the student;
- c) written documentation of the final assessment.

In addition, for such clinical and field experiences, divisions must ensure that:

- d) clinical and field assessors are fully informed regarding University, divisional and course policies concerning evaluation procedures, including the specific assessment procedures to be applied in any particular field or clinical setting.

Any exception from the above would require a divisional request with explanation for approval by the Governing Council.

Grade Review and Approval Process

---

- II.5 The following principles and procedures shall govern the grade review and approval process.
- a) The distribution of grades in any course shall not be predetermined by any system of quotas that specifies the number or percentage of grades allowable at any grade level.
  - b) However, a division may provide broad limits to instructors setting out a reasonable distribution of grades in the division or department. Such broad limits shall recognize that considerable variance in class grades is not unusual. The division may request an explanation of any grades for a course that exceed the limits and hence appear not to be based on the approved grade scales or otherwise appear anomalous in reference to the Policy. It is understood that this section shall only be used when the class size is thirty students or greater. Each division shall make known in the divisional Calendar the existence of any such limits.
  - c) The criterion that the Divisional Review Committee shall employ in its evaluation is whether the instructor has followed the University Grading Practices Policy. The Review committee shall not normally adjust grades unless the consequences of allowing the grades to stand would be injurious to the standards of the University, or the class in general.
  - d) Membership on the Divisional Review Committee may include students but should not include members of the divisional appeals committee(s).
  - e) Where grades have been adjusted by a divisional committee, the students as well as the instructor shall be informed. On request, the students or the instructor shall be given the reason for the adjustment of grades, a description of the methodology used to adjust the grades, and a description of the divisional appeal procedure.
  - f) Where a departmental review committee changes course grades, the faculty office shall be so informed. Having done so, the faculty office shall relay this information, upon request, to the students or the instructor with a description as to the reason for the change and the methodology used.

- g) Past statistical data, including drop-out rates, mean arithmetic average, etc., should be provided to the Divisional Review Committee as background information where available. The committee will not use this information exclusively to judge whether a specific grades distribution is anomalous. Rather, the information should provide part of the basis for an overall review of grades in a division.
- h) Where class grades have been changed, or when the Divisional Review Committee had reservations about the grades, the issue will be taken up with the instructor by the division or department head, with a view to ensuring that the Grading Practices Policy is followed in future.

Appeal Procedure

II.6 Every division shall establish divisional appeal procedures. Students may appeal grades according to the procedures established for that purpose in the division. The appeal may be made whether marks have been altered by the review process or not. These procedures shall be outlined in the divisional Calendar, and available upon request at the faculty or registrar's office.

Student Access to Examination Papers

II.7

- a) All divisions should provide access to copies of the previous year's final examination papers and other years' papers where feasible. Exemptions may be granted by an appropriate committee of the division or department.
- b) All divisions should provide students with the opportunity within a reasonable time to review their examination paper where feasible. A recovery fee should be set to cover administrative costs including photocopying.
- c) All divisions should provide, in addition to the customary re-reading of papers and the re-checking of marks, the opportunity for students to petition for the re-reading of their examination where feasible. A cost recovery fee should be set and returned where appropriate.

Conflict of Interest

II.8

Where the instructor or a student has a conflict of interest, or is in a situation where a fair and objective assessment may not be possible, this should be disclosed to the chair or division head who shall take steps to ensure fairness and objectivity.

Discipline: Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters

The Governing Council of the University of Toronto has approved a Code of Behaviour, which sets out clearly the standard of conduct in academic matters expected of members of the University community. The Code is enforced by the Provost and the Disciplinary Tribunal. Below are extracts from the Code, covering offences, sanctions and procedures as they apply to students. The full text is available from the Office of the Dean, and the Offices of College Registrars.

The University and its members have a responsibility to ensure that a climate that might encourage, or conditions that might enable, cheating, misrepresentation or unfairness not be tolerated. To this end all must acknowledge that seeking credit or other advantages by fraud or misrepresentation, or seeking to disadvantage others by disruptive behaviour is unacceptable, as is any dishonesty or unfairness in dealing with the work or record of a student.

Wherever in the Code an offence is described as depending on "knowing", the offence shall likewise be deemed to have committed if the person ought reasonably to have known.

B.I. Offences

1. It shall be an offence for a student knowingly:
  - a) to forge or in any other way alter or falsify any document or evidence required for admission to the University, or to utter, circulate or make use of any such forged, altered or falsified document, whether the record be in print or electronic form;
  - b) to use or possess an unauthorized aid or aids or obtain unauthorized assistance in any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work;
  - c) to impersonate another person, or to have another person impersonate, at any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work;
  - d) to represent as one's own any idea or expression of an idea or work of another in any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work, i.e. to commit plagiarism;
  - e) to submit, without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course or program of study in the University or elsewhere;
  - f) to submit for credit any academic work containing a purported statement of fact or reference to a source which has been concocted.
2. It shall be an offence for a faculty member knowingly:
  - a) to approve any of the previously described offences;
  - b) to evaluate an application for admission or transfer to a course or program of study by other than duly established and published criteria;
  - c) to evaluate academic work by a student by reference to any criterion that does not relate to its merit, to the time within which it is to be submitted or to the manner in which it is to be performed.
3. It shall be an offence for a faculty member and student alike knowingly:
  - a) to forge or in any other way alter or falsify any academic record, or to utter, circulate or make use of any such forged, altered or falsified record, whether the record be in print or electronic form.
  - b) to engage in any form of cheating, academic dishonesty or misconduct, fraud or misrepresentation not herein otherwise described, in order to obtain academic credit or other academic advantage of any kind.
4. A graduate of the University may be charged with any of the above offences committed intentionally while he or she was an active student, when, in the opinion of the Provost,

Rules & Regulations

---

the offence, if detected, would have resulted in a sanction sufficiently severe that the degree would not have been granted at the time it was.

B.II. Parties to Offences

---

- I.
  - a) Every member is a party to an offence under this Code who knowingly:
    - i) actually commits it;
    - ii) does or omits to do anything for the purpose of aiding or assisting another member to commit the offence;
    - (iii) does or omits to do anything for the purpose of aiding or assisting any other person who, if that person were a member, would have committed the offence;
    - (iv) abets, counsels, procures or conspires with another member to commit or be a party to an offence; or
    - (v) abets, counsels, procures or conspires with any other person who, if that person were a member, would have committed or have been a part to the offence.
  - b) Every party to an offence under this Code is liable upon admission of the commission thereof, or upon conviction, as the case may be, to the sanctions applicable to that offence.
2. Every member who, having an intent to commit an offence under this Code, does or omits to do anything for the purpose of carrying out that intention (other than mere preparation to commit the offence) is guilty of an attempt to commit the offence and liable upon conviction to the same sanctions as if he or she had committed the offence.
3. When a group is found guilty of an offence under this Code, every officer, director or agent of the group, being a member of the University, who directed, authorized or participated in the commission of the offence is a party to and guilty of the offence and is liable upon conviction to the sanctions provided for the offence.

C.I.(a) Divisional Procedures

---

NOTE: Where a student commits an offence, the faculty in which the student is registered has responsibility over the student in the matter. In the case of Scarborough and Erindale colleges, the college is deemed to be the faculty.

1. No hearing within the meaning of Section 2 of the Statutory Powers of Procedures Act is required for the purposes of, or in connection with, any of the discussions, meetings and determinations referred to in Section C.I.(a), and such discussions, meetings and determinations are not proceedings of the Tribunal.
2. Where an instructor has reasonable grounds to believe that an academic offence has been committed by a student, the instructor shall so inform the student immediately after learning of the act or conduct complained of, giving reasons, and invite the student to discuss the matter. Nothing the student says in such a discussion may be used or receivable in evidence against the student.
3. If after such discussion, the instructor is satisfied that no academic offence has been committed, he or she shall so inform the student and no further action shall be taken in the matter by the instructor; unless fresh evidence comes to the attention of the instructor, in which case he or she may again proceed in accordance with subsection 2.

4. If after such discussion, the instructor believes that an academic offence has been committed by the student, or if the student fails or neglects to respond to the invitation for discussion, the instructor shall make a report of the matter to the department chair or through the department chair to the dean. (See also Section C.I.(B)1.)
5. When the dean or the department chair, as the case may be, has been so informed, he or she shall notify the student in writing accordingly, provide him or her with a copy of the Code, and subsequently afford the student an opportunity for discussion of the matter. In the case of the dean being informed, the chair of the department and the instructor shall be invited by the dean to be present at the meeting with the student. The dean shall conduct the interview.
6. Before proceeding with the meeting, the dean shall inform the student that he or she is entitled to seek advice, or to be accompanied by counsel at the meeting, before making, and is not obliged to make, any statement or admission, but shall warn that if he or she makes any statement or admission in the meeting, it may be used or receivable in evidence against the student in the hearing of any charge with respect to the offence or alleged offence in question. The dean shall also advise the student, without further comment or discussion, of the sanctions that may be imposed under Section C.I.(B), and that the dean is not obliged to impose a sanction but may instead request that the Provost lay a charge against the student. Where such advice and warning have been given, the statements and admissions, if any, made in such a meeting may be used or received in evidence against the student in any such hearing.
7. If the dean, on the advice of the department chair and the instructor, or if the department chair, on the advice of the instructor, subsequently decides that no academic offence has been committed and that no further action in the matter is required, the student shall be so informed in writing and the student's work shall be accepted for normal evaluation or, if the student was prevented from withdrawing from the course by the withdrawal date, he or she shall be allowed to do so. Thereafter, the matter shall not be introduced into evidence at a Tribunal hearing for another offence.
8. If the student admits the alleged offence, the dean or the department chair may either impose the sanction that he or she considers appropriate under Section C.I.(B) or refer the matter to the dean or Provost, as the case may be, and in either event shall inform the student in writing accordingly. No further action in the matter shall be taken by the instructor, the department chair or the dean if the dean imposes a sanction.
9. If the student is dissatisfied with a sanction imposed by the department chair or the dean, as the case may be, the student may refer the matter to the dean or Provost, as the case may be, for consideration.
10. If the student does not admit the alleged offence, the dean may, after consultation with the instructor and the department chair, requires that the Provost lay a charge against the student. If the Provost agrees to lay a charge, the case shall then proceed to the Trial Division of the Tribunal.
11. Normally, decanal procedures will not be examined in a hearing before the Tribunal. A failure to carry out the procedures referred to in this Section, or any defect or irregularity in such procedures, shall not invalidate any subsequent proceedings of or before the Tribunal, unless the chair of the hearing considers that such failure, defect or irregularity resulted in a substantial wrong, detriment or prejudice to the accused. The chair will determine at the opening of the hearing whether there is going to be any objection to defect, failure or irregularity.

12. No degree, diploma or certificate of the University shall be conferred or awarded, nor shall a student be allowed to withdraw from a course from the time of the alleged offence until the final disposition of the accusation. However, a student shall be permitted to use University facilities while a decision is pending, unless there are valid reasons for the dean to bar him or her from a facility. When or at any time after an accusation has been reported to the dean, he or she may cause a notation to be recorded on the student's academic record and transcript in a course and/or the student's academic status is under review. A student upon whom a sanction has been imposed by the dean or the department chair under Section C.I.(B) or who has been convicted by the Tribunal shall not be allowed to withdraw from a course so as to avoid the sanction imposed.
13. A record of cases disposed of under Section C.I.(A) and of the sanctions imposed shall be kept in the academic unit concerned and may be referred to by the dean in connection with a decision to prosecute, or by the prosecution in making representations as to the sanction or sanctions to be imposed by the Tribunal, for any subsequent offence committed by the student. Information on such cases shall be available to other academic units upon request and such cases shall be reported by the dean to the Secretary of the Tribunal for use in the Provost's annual report to the Academic Board. The dean may contact the Secretary of the Tribunal for advice or for information on cases disposed of under Section C.II. hereof.
14. Where a proctor or invigilator, who is not a faculty member, has reason to believe that an academic offence has been committed by a student at an examination or test, the proctor or invigilator shall so inform the student's dean or department chair, as the case may be, who shall proceed as if he or she were an instructor, by analogy to the other provisions of this section.
15. In the case of alleged offences not covered by the above and not involving the submission of academic work, such as those concerning forgery or uttering, library or computer material or library or computer resources, and in cases involving cancellation, recall or suspension of a degree, diploma or certificate, the procedure shall be regulated by analogy to the other procedures of this section.

C.I.(b) Divisional Sanctions

1. In an assignment worth 10 percent or less of the final grade, the department chair may handle the matter if:
  - a) the student admits guilt; and
  - b) the assignment of a penalty is limited to at most a mark of zero for the piece of work.

If the student does not admit guilt, or if the department chair chooses, the matter shall be brought before the dean.

2. One or more of the following sanctions may be imposed by the dean where a student admits to the commission of an offence:

- a) an oral and/or written reprimand;
  - b) an oral and/or written reprimand and, with the permission of the instructor, the resubmission of the piece of academic work, in respect of which the offence was committed, for evaluation. Such a sanction shall be imposed only for minor offences and where the student has committed no previous offence;
  - c) assignment of a grade of zero or a failure for the piece of academic work in respect of which the offence was committed;
  - d) assignment of a penalty in the form of a reduction of the final grade in the course in respect of which the offence was committed;
  - e) denial of privileges to use any facility of the University, including library and computer facilities;
  - f) a monetary fine to cover the costs of replacing damaged property or misused supplies in respect of which the offence was committed;
  - g) assignment of a grade of zero or a failure for the course in respect of which the offence was committed;
  - h) suspension from attendance in a course or courses, a program, an academic division or unit, or the University for a period of not more than twelve months. Where a student has not completed a course or courses in respect of which an offence has not been committed, withdrawal from the course or courses without academic penalty shall be allowed.
3. The dean shall have the power to record any sanction imposed on the student's academic record and transcript for such length of time as he or she considers appropriate. However, the sanctions of suspension or a notation specifying academic misconduct as the reason for a grade of zero for a course shall normally be recorded for a period of five years.
  4. The Provost shall, from time to time, indicate appropriate sanctions for certain offences. These guidelines shall be sent for information to the Academic Board and attached to the Code as Appendix "C".

Conduct: Code of Student Conduct

Summary of Code of Student Conduct

Non-academic offences are defined in the University's Code of Student Conduct (2002), the full text of which may be obtained from the Office of the Assistant Vice-President, Student Affairs. A summary of the Code is provided below.

Extracts from the Code are printed here in ordinary type, and additional comments etc., are in italics. References in square brackets are to original section numbering in the Code.

[B.] Offences

The following offences constitute conduct that shall be deemed to be offences under this Code, when committed by a student of the University of Toronto, provided that such conduct:

- (i) has not been dealt with as failure to meet standards of professional conduct as required by a college, faculty or school; and
- (ii) is not specifically assigned to the jurisdiction of the University Tribunal, as in the case of offences described in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters, or to another disciplinary body within the University of Toronto, as in the case of sexual harassment as described in the Policy and Procedures: Sexual Harassment; or to a divisional disciplinary body, such as a residence council or a recreational athletics disciplinary body; or is covered under these policies but which is deemed by the head of the division to be more appropriately handled by the Code of Student Conduct; and

Rules & Regulations

---

- (iii) except as otherwise provided herein, occurs on premises of the University of Toronto or elsewhere in the course of activities sponsored by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions; and
- (iv) has not been dealt with under provisions for the discipline of students with respect to University offices and services whose procedures apply to students in several academic divisions, such as University residences, libraries or athletic and recreational facilities.

I. Offences Against Persons

- a) No person shall assault another person sexually or threaten any other person with sexual assault.
- b) No person shall otherwise assault another person, threaten any other person with bodily harm, or knowingly cause any other person to fear bodily harm.
- c) No person shall knowingly create a condition that unnecessarily endangers the health or safety of other persons.
- d) No person shall threaten any other person with damage to such person's property, or knowingly cause any other person to fear damage to her or his property.
- e) No person shall engage in a course of vexatious conduct that is directed at one or more specific individuals, and that is based on the race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, creed, age, marital status, family status, handicap, receipt of public assistance or record of offences of that individual or those individuals, and that is known to be unwelcome, and that exceeds the bounds of freedom of expression or academic freedom as these are understood in University policies and accepted practices, including but not restricted to, those explicitly adopted.

(Note: terms in this section are to be understood as they are defined or used in the Ontario Human Rights Code. Vexatious conduct that is based on sex or sexual orientation is considered an offence under the University's Policy and Procedures: Sexual Harassment. If the Sexual Harassment Officer believes, after consultation with relevant parties, that a complaint based on sex or sexual orientation would be better handled under the Code of Student Conduct, the Officer may refer the matter to the appropriate head of division.)

- f) (i) No person shall, by engaging in the conduct described in subsection (ii) below, whether on the premises of the University or away from the premises of the University, cause another person or persons to fear for their safety or the safety of another person known to them while on the premises of the University of Toronto or in the course of activities sponsored by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions, or cause another person or persons to be impeded in exercising the freedom to participate reasonably in the programs of the University and in activities in or on the University premises, knowing that their conduct will cause such fear, or recklessly as to whether their conduct causes such fear.

(ii) The conduct mentioned in subsection (i) consists of:

- a) repeatedly following from place to place the other person or anyone known to them;
- b) repeatedly and persistently communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;
- c) besetting or repeatedly watching the dwelling-house, or place where the other person, or anyone known to them, resides, works, carries on business or happens to be; or
- d) engaging in threatening conduct directed at the other person or any member of the family, friends or colleagues of the other person.

2. Disruption

No person shall cause by action, threat or otherwise, a disturbance that the member knows obstructs any activity organized by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions, or the right of another member or members to carry on their legitimate activities, to speak or to associate with others.

For example, peaceful picketing or other activity outside a class or meeting that does not substantially interfere with the communication inside, or impede access to the meeting, is an acceptable expression of dissent. And silent or symbolic protest is not to be considered disruption under this Code. But noise that obstructs the conduct of a meeting or forcible blocking of access to an activity constitutes disruption.

3. Offences Involving Property

- a) No person shall knowingly take, destroy or damage premises of the University of Toronto.
- b) No person shall knowingly take, destroy or damage any physical property that is not her or his own.
- c) No person shall knowingly destroy or damage information or intellectual property belonging to the University of Toronto or to any of its members.
- d) No person, in any manner whatsoever, shall knowingly deface the inside or outside of any building of the University of Toronto.
- e) No person, knowing the effects or property to have been appropriated without authorization, shall possess effects or property of the University of Toronto.
- f) No person, knowing the effects or property to have been appropriated without authorization, shall possess any property that is not her or his own.
- g) No person shall knowingly create a condition that unnecessarily endangers or threatens destruction of the property of the University of Toronto or of any of its members.

4. Unauthorized Entry or Presence

No person shall, contrary to the expressed instruction of a person or persons authorized to give such instruction, or with intent to damage or destroy the premises of the University of Toronto or damage, destroy or steal any property on the premises of the University of Toronto that is not her or his own, or without just cause knowingly enter or remain in or on any such premises.

5. Unauthorized Use of University Facilities, Equipment or Services

- a) No person shall knowingly use any facility, equipment or service of the University of Toronto contrary to the expressed instruction of a person or persons authorized to give such instruction, or without just cause.
- b) No person shall knowingly gain access to or use any University computing or internal or external communications facility to which legitimate authorization has not been granted. No person shall use any such facility for any commercial, disruptive or unauthorized purpose.
- c) No person shall knowingly mutilate, misplace, misfile, or render inoperable any stored information such as books, film, data files or programs from a library, computer or other such information storage, processing or retrieval system.

6. False Charges

No person shall knowingly or maliciously bring a false charge against any member of the University of Toronto under this Code.

7. Aiding in the Commission of an Offence

No person shall counsel, procure, conspire with or aid a person in the commission of an offence defined in this Code.

8. Refusal to Comply with Sanctions

No person found to have committed an offence under this Code shall refuse to comply with a sanction or sanctions imposed under the procedures of this Code.

9. Unauthorized Possession or Use of Firearms or Ammunition

No person other than a peace officer or a member of the Canadian Forces acting in the course of duty shall possess or use any firearm or ammunition on the premises of the University of Toronto without the permission of the officer of the University having authority to grant such permission.

[C.] Procedures

I. General

- a) The University shall establish a centrally appointed pool of trained Investigating and Hearing Officers, who shall be available to the divisions, at the discretion of the head of the division, if that is considered appropriate or preferable for any reason.
- b) Each division shall appoint an Investigating Officer and a Hearing Officer, who may be a student, staff or faculty member from that division.
- c) Whether the incident is investigated locally or centrally, every effort shall be made to conclude the case through to delivery of a final decision within the University within one year from the alleged incident or misconduct.
- d) Pursuant to the provisions of Section D., interim conditions may be imposed by the head of the division.
- e) For purposes of confidential and central record keeping, a one-page summary of the outcome of all investigations, whether or not they have proceeded to a Hearing, shall be copied to the Judicial Affairs Officer in the Office of Governing Council.

- f) Whenever possible and appropriate, informal resolution and mediation shall be used to resolve issues of individual behaviour before resort is made to formal disciplinary procedures.

2. Specific

- a) An Investigating Officer shall be appointed for a term of up to three years by the principal, dean or director (hereinafter called "head") of each faculty, college or school in which students are registered (hereinafter called "division"), after consultation with the elected student leader or leaders of the division, to investigate complaints made against student members of that division. Investigating Officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed.
- b) A Hearing Officer shall be appointed for a term of up to three years by the council of each division to decide on complaints under this Code made against student members of that division. Hearing Officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed.
- c) If the Investigating Officer is unable to conduct an investigation, or the Hearing Officer is unable to conduct a hearing, or where the head of the division believes on reasonable grounds that the appointed officer is inappropriate to conduct the particular investigation or chair a particular hearing, then the head of the division shall seek an appointment from the central pool for that particular case. If the head of the division intends to request either suspension from registration or expulsion from the University as a sanction in a particular case, or if the case appears to the head of the division to require a Hearing Officer with legal qualifications, then the Senior Chair of the University Tribunal may, on the application of the head of the division, appoint a legally qualified person as Hearing Officer for that particular case.
- d) Where the head of the division has reason to believe that a non-academic offence as defined in this Code may have been committed by a student member or members of the division, the Investigating Officer will conduct an investigation into the case. After having completed the investigation, the Investigating Officer shall report on the investigation to the head of the division. If the head of the division concludes, on the basis of this report, that the student or students may have committed an offence under the Code of Student Conduct, the head of the division shall have the discretion to request that a hearing take place to determine whether the student or students have committed the offence alleged.
- e) The hearing will be chaired by the Hearing Officer. The case will be presented by the Investigating Officer, who may be assisted and represented by legal counsel. If the right to a hearing is waived, or after a hearing, the Hearing Officer will rule on whether the student or students have committed the offence alleged and may impose one or more sanctions as listed below. The accused student or students may be assisted and represented by another person, who may be legal counsel.
- f) Appeals against decisions of bodies acting under authority from the council of a division to hear cases arising out of residence codes of behaviour may be made to the Hearing Officer of the division, where provision therefor has been made by the council of that division.

Rules & Regulations

---

- g) Appeals against the decision of the Hearing Officer may be made to the Discipline Appeals Board of the Governing Council.
- h) Where the head of a division has reason to believe that a non-academic offence may have been committed by a group of students including students from that division and from another division or divisions, the head may consult with the head of the other division or divisions involved and may then agree that some or all of the cases will be investigated jointly by the Investigating Officers of the divisions of the students involved and that some or all of the cases will be heard together by the Hearing Officer of one of the divisions agreed upon by the head and presented by one of the Investigating Officers agreed upon by the heads.

[D.] interim conditions and measures

1. Interim Conditions: Ongoing Personal Safety

In those cases where the allegations of behaviour are serious and, if proven, could constitute a significant personal safety threat to other students or members of the University community, the head of the division is authorized to impose interim conditions that balance the need of complainants for safety with the requirement of fairness to the respondent student. The interim conditions are in no way to be construed as indicative of guilt, and shall remain in place until the charges are disposed of under the Code's procedures.

2. Interim Measures: Urgent Situations

In some circumstances, such as those involving serious threats or violent behaviour, it may be necessary to remove a student from the University. Where the head of the division has requested an investigation by the Investigating Officer and the investigation is pending, the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) may, on the advice of the head of the division, suspend the student or students temporarily for up to three working days if, in the opinion of the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate), there is reasonable apprehension that the safety of others is endangered, damage to University property is likely to occur, or the continued presence of the student(s) would be disruptive to the legitimate operations of the University. The student(s) shall be informed immediately in writing of the reasons for the suspension and shall be afforded the opportunity to respond. Any such temporary suspension may be reviewed by the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) within the three-day temporary suspension period, following a preliminary investigation, and either revoked or continued. If the suspension is continued, the student(s) may appeal to the Senior Chair (or delegate), or the Associate Chair (or delegate) of the University Tribunal, who shall hear and decide on the appeal within five days.

[E.] Sanctions

The following sanctions or combinations of them may be imposed upon students found to have committed an offence under this Code. In addition, students found to have committed an offence may be placed on conduct probation for a period not to exceed one year, with the provision that one or more of the following sanctions will be applied if the conduct probation is violated.

1. Formal written reprimand.
2. Order for restitution, rectification or the payment of damages.
3. A fine or bond for good behaviour not to exceed $500.
4. Requirement of public service work not to exceed 25 hours.

5. Denial of access to specified services, activities or facilities of the University for a period of up to one year.

The following two sanctions, which would directly affect a student's registration in a program, may be imposed only where it has been determined that the offence committed is of such a serious nature that the student's continued registration threatens the academic function of the University of Toronto or any of its divisions or the ability of other students to continue their programs of study. Where the sanction of suspension and/or expulsion has been imposed on a student, the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) shall have the power to record that sanction on the student's academic record and transcript for such length of time as he or she considers appropriate.

A sanction of suspension shall be recorded on the student's academic record and transcript up to five years. The following wording shall be used: "Suspended from the University of Toronto for reasons of non-academic misconduct for a period of [length of suspension], [date]."

A sanction of expulsion shall be permanently recorded on a student's academic record and transcript. The following wording shall be used: "Expelled from the University of Toronto for reasons of non-academic misconduct, [date]."

6. Suspension from registration in any course or program of a division or divisions for a period of up to one year.
7. Recommendation of expulsion from the University.

Governing Structure of the Faculty

The Arts and Science Council

The Arts and Science Council is the governing body in the Faculty of Arts and Science. The Council is composed of elected members from the Faculty's undergraduate and graduate students, teaching staff, administrative and technical staff, and normally meets eight times per year. It approves policy for the Faculty in the areas of admissions, curriculum development, evaluation and academic standing, among others, and determines the Faculty's rules and regulations. Budgetary and administrative matters are not within the purview of Council; those responsibilities lie with the Dean of the Faculty.

The Council has a number of Standing Committees charged with specific responsibilities to formulate policy and to apply it in specific cases. Those committees are: Undergraduate Curriculum Committees, Committee on Standing (petitions), Academic Appeals Board, and the Committee on Admissions. Approval of graduate curriculum in the Faculty is delegated to a Three Campus Curriculum Committee and reported to Council for information only.

Details on the Council and its sub-committees, along with the Constitution and By-Laws, rules for elections, meeting dates and agendas can be found on the Faculty's Governance web site at <http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/main/facultygovernance>.

Elections to Council and its Committees

Elections to fill the positions on the Arts and Science Council and its committees are held in the Spring for the following year's Council and committees. The exception is the election of First-Year representatives, held early in the Fall Term. Notification of the nomination and election dates, as well as nomination forms, will be available on the Faculty's Governance web site and from the Office of the Faculty Registrar. Students will be notified by email sent to their UTOReil account.

Innis College offers its 1,700 students high academic standards, a dedicated faculty and staff, and a vibrant undergraduate community within the University of Toronto. Innis contributes four interdisciplinary programs to the Faculty of Arts and Science, listed under “Innis College” in the calendar: Cinema Studies; Urban Studies; and Writing, Rhetoric and Critical Analysis. College academic services include the library, the writing centre, and the math/stats centre and are designed to ease the transition to university and support Innis students throughout their university careers.

Founded in 1964 and named in honour of the late Harold Innis, political economist and pioneer in communication studies, Innis College is housed in a unique three-story building that blends old and new styles by incorporating a substantial Victorian home into a functional modern structure. At the core is the Town Hall, a forum-style auditorium. Classrooms and offices for the 25 professors associated with the College and its programs occupy the second and third floors. A library, a café with an outdoor patio, a rooftop garden, and study, lounge and student union space complete the facilities. Across the street, the Innis Residence is a modern apartment-style complex featuring 327 single rooms in four- or five-bedroom suites. The residence houses a diverse community of Innis students and students from professional faculties.

Innis is the only undergraduate college at U of T that ensures equal representation of faculty and staff and students in its decision-making process. With its parity governance structure, innovative academic programming, independent community living, civic outreach, and informed activism, Innis College has created a community in which students can flourish academically and socially.

New College, established in 1962, is open to students of all Faculties and Schools in the University. Approximately 4,500 of its students are in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and 400 in other divisions. Members of the College, whether in humanities, social science, science or professional programs, may broaden their university experience by meeting others from different fields and subject areas.

Arts and Science students have the full range of the Faculty curriculum open to them. The College takes part in their instruction through University courses taught by cross-appointed staff; and also through interdisciplinary courses (listed with the prefix “NEW” in the Calendar) designed to interest students in all Faculties. Individual tutoring is offered in Mathematics and Statistics, and the Writing Centre gives help with written assignments and reports. The College Registrar’s Office provides academic, financial, and personal counselling.

The College’s three modern, conveniently-located buildings provide academic, library, computing, dining and social facilities for all members, and also house the College residences. This creates an atmosphere of community, promoting contacts among students and staff and encouraging non-residents to become involved in college life. The residences accommodate approximately 860 students and welcome applicants from the Toronto area as well as from out- of-town. Residence application is made through the University Office of Admissions and Awards; further information about residence may be

St. Michael's College was founded in 1852 and is situated on the historic east side of campus in the heart of Toronto. St. Michael's provides an oasis within the University of Toronto and the city itself. St. Michael's is located just minutes from public transit, libraries, Bloor & Yonge Street shopping, museums and theatres. St. Michael's is rich in tradition and has some of the most spectacular architecture on the University of Toronto campus.

Building on its distinguished tradition of academic excellence, the College is committed to enhancing and enriching the academic and personal growth of all of its students. There are approximately 4000 full-time and 500 part-time students registered in a variety of programs leading to a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Commerce degree.

St. Michael's College is rooted in an intellectual Catholic tradition. At the same time, it welcomes students, staff and faculty from every faith and background. The College actively seeks to build a community in which cultural and other differences are appreciated and celebrated.

St. Michael's students have access to all of the facilities located at the University of Toronto; however, the facilities and programs within St. Michael's College are second to none. Facilities such as the John M. Kelly Library with its 400,000 volumes and over 1000 periodicals, the student centre, Chaplaincy program, the various clubs and sports, Mathematics Aid and Writing Centre, Debating Union and Theatre groups are just a few examples. Programs offered at St. Michael's College are Book and Media Studies, Christianity and Culture, Mediaeval Studies and Celtic Studies. In 2008, and in partnership with the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE/UT), St. Michael's College will begin admitting second-year students into a Concurrent Teacher Education Program (CTEP) which will train teachers of Religious Education for the Catholic high schools in Ontario. This program will combine a Bachelor of Arts degree, built around a specially-designed major in Christianity and Culture, with a Bachelor of Education degree. The program will be completed over five years.

Residence accommodations are available for both men and women. Applicants interested in visiting the residences should contact the Dean of Students, St. Michael's College Residence at smc.residence@utoronto.ca OR Dean of Women, Loretto College at loretto.college@utoronto.ca.

All prospective students are encouraged to see the Associate Registrar for information, counselling and a visit. You may contact the office at stmichaels.registrar@utoronto.ca. The Registrar's office is in Room 207, Alumni Hall, 121 St. Joseph Street. College mailing address is 81 St. Mary Street, Toronto, ON M5S 1J4.

Divinity; in 1904 it federated with the University of Toronto, building a near-replica of its original building when it opened on this campus. The College enrolls approximately 1,700 students in Arts, Science, and Commerce. It has established interdisciplinary programs in Ethics, Society, and Law; Immunology; and International Relations. The College maintains particular library strengths in these areas as well as in English, History and Philosophy.

The College's limited enrolment fosters a sense of community among faculty and students. Its resident Academic Dons, (senior graduate students who offer tutoring assistance in the Humanities, Life Sciences, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences and Commerce), along with the Registrarial staff facilitate informal contact for students with College Fellows who are faculty members drawn from many Arts and Science departments as well as from other Faculties. The College also provides the services of a Writing Centre (978-3530), and a Math Aid Centre (978-8454). In the College's campus are its Library which includes reference collections, several small reading rooms and reservable rooms for group-study, Chapel, cafeteria, dining halls, common rooms, theatre, and sports facilities. Student debating, athletic and drama societies anchor a very active student ethos and 25% of the College students live in residence. Both residences, at St. Hilda's and around the Trinity Quadrangle, house women and men, usually allocated by floor. The Gerald Larkin Academic Building, on Devonshire Place, includes the Buttery, theatre, the Centre for Ethics, lecture rooms and offices of many of the teaching staff, together with the Math Aid and Writing Centre. The International Relations Programme and its faculty members are housed in the north building of the Munk Centre for International Studies. The Buttery provides eating, lounge, and study space that is ideal for group discussions and computer use, as well as offices for "non-resident" students and the adjacent theatre. For further information about the College and for residence applications write the Registrar, Trinity College, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1H8. The Registrar will see prospective students by appointment.

University College was established in 1853 as the Provincial Arts College (the successor to King's College, founded in 1827); it still occupies its original building near the centre of the St. George Campus. The College's students may enrol in any of the courses offered by the Faculty of Arts and Science. In addition, University College offers six interdisciplinary programs, including Canadian Studies, Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence, Drama, Health Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, and Sexual Diversity Studies. College courses in these and other areas are listed in the Calendar under Drama and University College.

University College offers residence accommodation for 700 undergraduates in both single and double rooms in its three co-educational residences, the Sir Daniel Wilson Residence, Whitney Hall, and Morrison Hall. Enquiries should be addressed to the Residence Office, 79 St. George Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 2E7. University College also offers study and social space for off-campus students at the University College Commuter Centre. University College offers the services of a Computing Centre, a Math Aid Centre and a Writing Workshop. Other amenities include the University College Library, which comprises a circulating collection supporting UC programs and a spacious reading room; the U.C. Union with its dining hall and common rooms; the Playhouse, a theatre for student productions; the Junior Common Room; and the University College Literary and Athletic Society, Canada's oldest student government, which sponsors a great variety of athletic, intellectual and social activities.

Victoria College, founded in 1836 as Upper Canada Academy, was granted a university charter in 1841 and federated with the University of Toronto in 1892.

The college is located on a 15-acre site at the north-east corner of Queen's Park opposite the Royal Ontario Museum. It offers many facilities to its students, including the E.J. Pratt Library with its 220,000 volumes, the Wymilwood Student Union, and a playing field. The Victoria College building, opened in 1892, contains classrooms, some faculty and administrative offices, Chapel and Alumni Hall. Northrop Frye Hall, completed in 1966, also provides office space for most of the administrative and teaching staff and contains classrooms and a large auditorium theatre. The Isabel Bader Theatre opened in 2001 offering a 500-seat state-of-the-art lecture hall with excellent facilities for the performing arts. Academic advising and support is provided by the Registrar's Office. In addition, the College has a Math Aid Centre, a Writing Workshop, and tutorial services in a wide range of subjects.

Residence accommodation for approximately 800 students is available on campus. Annesley Hall, Margaret Addison Hall and Burwash Hall provide accommodation in single and double rooms for chiefly undergraduate students. The Lower Houses of Burwash Hall and Rowell Jackman Hall, an apartment style residence, house upper-year undergraduate and graduate students. All residence students take their meals in Burwash Dining Hall. Non-residence students may purchase meal tickets for Burwash or take light meals at the Wymilwood Cafe (Ned's). Further information about residences may be obtained by writing to the Dean of Students, Victoria College, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1K7.

Woodsworth College is named in honour of James Shaver Woodsworth (1874-1942), minister, pacifist, social activist and Member of Parliament who was strongly committed to broadening educational opportunities for all. The College traces its roots to 1905 when a part-time program leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree was established at the University of Toronto. In 1920 the Department of University Extension was organized to offer credit and non-credit courses.

Woodsworth College was formally constituted in 1974 to offer credit courses primarily for part-time students in a number of faculties. In 1999 the College opened its doors to students proceeding directly from high school to full time studies. Woodsworth College is now home to over 3500 full time students and 2500 part-time students, who enrol in the full range of Arts and Science courses and programs - day and evening, summer and winter. The College also offers undergraduate degree programs in Criminology and Employment Relations; the Academic Bridging Program; international summer programs in Australia, Central Europe, China, Ecuador, England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Mexico and Russia; and postgraduate certificates in Human Resource Management and Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

A special feature of Woodsworth College is the academic support program which includes academic counselling, financial aid, study skills seminars, the Academic Writing Centre, and the Mathematics Lab. In co-operation with the Commerce Program, the recently expanded Computer Lab has thirty work stations with web access, word editing software and printing facilities. The Computer Lab is available to students enrolled in the Commerce Program or Woodsworth College, and is open extended hours. For further details e-mail wdwregistrar@utoronto.ca or check www.wdw.utoronto.ca.

Our new residence at the corner of Bloor Street West and St. George Street accommodates 371 students in air-conditioned suites with private single bedrooms. Each suite accommodates four to six students, with a shared living area, a full kitchen and two washrooms. There is twenty-four hour security, high speed internet access, common areas and laundry facilities. In addition, we offer a Residence Life Program of social and educational activities. The Woodsworth College Residence provides students with an exceptional residential experience in a modern building that is conveniently located, close to classrooms, libraries, athletic facilities and the subway. More information about the residence can be obtained at www.wdw.utoronto.ca/residence.
